EMMET PLACE

The drowsy twitter of awakened birds—Pale sleep has gone, and let the dawn be here. And music from the feathered world ascends To greet the sun and charm the listening ear.

And at the coming of the day—the songs Soar high, above the noise of milkman's cart. And schoolboys' hurried tramp, the post-man's step. As life begins to hum a-neighbor and far.

A cool retreat of song is Emmet Place In spring and summer time, a fairy scene—And for the homely crowd and singing birds. A home, the giant trees aloft, velvet, green.

Sometimes at eve the lonely plover's call Tugs at the memory and brings back again A childhood scene of silent, sodden moor. And sportsmen homeward bound, through mist and rain.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

G.A.A. At Kinsalebeg venue Clashmore met a Youghal Military team in a friendly contest on Sunday last, and a good game ensued. The evening was fine and there was a good attendance. In the first half the game was fairly even but during the second period Clashmore monopolised the play and won on the score 5-5 to nil.

The Clashmore team was as follows:—T. Lennon, P. O'Rourke, J. Curran, R. Lonnan, J. Ronayne, T. Bage, A. Power, D. Fitzgerald, J. Tobin, P. Ormonde, T. Cantwell, J. Barron, S. Ronayne, J. Doocey, J. J. Fitzgerald, Mr. J. O'Rourke, Clashmore, referred to.

The good display of the Clashmore team surprised even their most enthusiastic supporters. As a result of practice this young fifteen have improved 100 per cent, and with training and experience should develop into a first class combination.

The Clashmore Club are grateful to Lieut. Liam Collins and the Youghal military team for making this practice match possible, also to Mr. M. Conroy for local supply; Private House Installation; Bells, Telephones, Batteries.

THE LATE "WAT" WALL An Appreciation from Australia.

To the Editor, "Dungarvan Observer." May we encroach upon your valuable space to publish the following appreciation to the memory of our dearly-beloved president, the late Walter Wall, which has just been received.—Yours faithfully, PRESIDENT, National and Commercial Club.

"Glenora, 250, St. Paul's Terrace, Valley, Brisbane, Queensland." "Dear Sir—You will excuse this letter. While reading the "Dungarvan Observer" I read an account of the death and burial of the late Wat. Wall. I always spend my holidays at Egan's Hotel, and was introduced to "Wat" some years ago. How well I can picture him now, sitting on that long wooden stool outside your club door. I often joined him there, and found great pleasure in exchanging views of our experience of life under the Southern Cross in those far-off days, over fifty years ago.

At that time cattle ranching, goldmining and public works were the only source of employment, 500 or 1,000 miles from the small towns on the coast. There were no roads or railways, and you can imagine the hardship which young inexperienced Irish emigrant boys endured fighting their way through rough bush timbered country, with only the stars to guide them, trudging along with all their possessions on their backs, sleeping on the bare ground, cooking their own food, washing their clothes, and going without water for days, and all the while exposed to attacks from savage natives or poisonous reptiles. How many a dear old Irish mother is lamenting the continued silence of, perhaps, her favourite or only boy. But, alas! in many cases the silence will continue, for her boy may have died by the wayside clutching in his hands the rosary beads, a mother or sister—a last farewell gift of a mother or sister—a last farewell utterance of a prayer book. His body remained where he fell until it was found by another traveller, who gently rolled it in the blanket he carried and consigned it to mother earth. But, thank God, all our young Irish boys who try their fortune in foreign lands do not fall by the wayside in their enterprise. The great majority succeed and live like Wat Wall to be credit to their nationality, their religion, their parents, and last but not least, their native land, dear old Ireland. May God have mercy on him.

I hope these few remarks will be interesting to yourself and members of your club. Please give my sincere sympathy to Miss Wall, to whom I was introduced during one of my visits home.—Yours faithfully, PATRICK FOLEY, To the President, National and Commercial Club, Dungarvan."

WATERFORD PROTEST. The people of Waterford are small in stature, declared Alderman W. Jones, when the Waterford Mental Hospital Committee of Management protested against the Department fixing the minimum height of attendants at 5 ft. 4 ins. for women and 5 ft. 8 ins. for men. Councillor T. Lynch, chairman described the standard as unreasonable, and said that even Napoleon would not be eligible. It was agreed to ask the Department to reconsider the decision.

WELL-KNOWN WEST WATERFORD FARMER'S DEATH. Late Mr. Thomas Beston. IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL TRIBUTE. The death last week-end of Mr. Thomas Beston, Dromore, Villierstown, removed one of the best known and popular residents of West Waterford. A member of a well-known and highly respected family, deceased was a general favourite, possessed of a most striking disposition, and his demise, following a brief illness and at a comparatively early age, has occasioned widespread regret while deep sympathy is extended to his bereaved widow, family and relatives. The late Mr. Beston was brother of Very Rev. Fr. Albert, O.Cist., New Mellary Abbey, Iowa, U.S.A.; Rev. Fr. E. Beston, Mexico; Mr. M. Beston, Aghish; Mrs. Power, late of Clashmore, while another sister (now deceased) was a member of a religious order. He had a most varied and interesting career. Having joined the British Army he saw service in the South African War and also spent a number of years in the U.S.A. where he was attached to the Engineering business. Despite the many attractions in these foreign lands, however, the lure for home predominated and he returned home to take up farming. He proved a most successful agriculturalist and was known for his many excellent neighbourly qualities and generous traits of character. His death leaves a void that is hard to fill and all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance regret his passing and fervently pray for the eternal repose of his soul. At the removal of the remains to Aghish Parish Church and at the subsequent interment in the adjoining cemetery there was a large and representative attendance of the general public testifying to the general sorrow occasioned by the death of such a popular figure and to the widespread sympathy extended to his most respected family. The chief mourners were—Mrs. M. Beston (widow); Thomas, John and Ed. Beston (sons); Margaret, Mary and Hannah Beston (daughters); Michael Beston (brother); Mrs. J. Hynes (sister); Thomas Beston (nephew); Misses A. and K. Beston (nieces); Miss J. McCarthy; Ph. McCarthy; A. Power, P. Spratt, E. Spratt, W. McCarthy, Mrs. M. Beston, Mrs. McCarthy, J. Hynes, Mrs. Spratt, Dr. N. Curran, Miss J. Curran, Mrs. Curran, J. Harty, E. McCarthy, R. Tobin, Ballingown; E. O'Keefe and Mrs. O'Keefe and family; R. Tobin, Kilnafarna; L. Hallihan and Mrs. Hallihan (cousins). Very Rev. Fr. Gleeson, P.P.; Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Murphy, C.C. officiated. A large number of Mass cards were handed in and numerous messages of sympathy were received.—R.I.P.

A CUP OF TEA 'Tis often in the days of old You'd hear the welcome call: "Come in and have a cup of tea; You're welcome, one and all." And then the wheel is turned round. The dancing flames leap up Around the old black kettle To make the welcome cup. A snowy cloth and home-made cake (For which to-day we sigh). The cups of tea would vanish then—Oh! grand old days gone by. We'd drink it hot, we'd drink it strong. With just a dash of cream. And sure the flavour would be right—'Tis like a far-off dream. For now amidst the wars' alarms We drink our watery cup. So weak it is that you would think You couldn't hold it up. Good-bye, old days, oh! may it be That you will come once more. And we will have the welcome call Through many an open door: "Come in and have a cup of tea. You're welcome, one and all. And to our weary hearts 'twill be A grand and welcome call."

FIRST COMMUNION.

The parents and teachers of the children from Ballylonean and Ballinard N.S., respectively, who made their first Communion in St. Anne's Church on Thursday (Festival of Corpus Christi) are to be congratulated on the training the little ones received in preparation for the sacrament. They were all very prettily attired for the auspicious occasion and approached the altar rails with the utmost piety and devotion—thereby presenting a truly charming and highly edifying picture.

QUARANT ORE.

The beautiful ceremony of the Forty Hours' Adoration was begun at St. Anne's Church, Ballylonean, on this (Friday) morning. Following the celebration of Holy Mass at 8.30, by the Rev. P. F. Walsh, C.C., Stradbally, the Sacred Host was borne in procession over the Church grounds, in which the altar boys, the church choir, the schoolchildren, and the members of the Sacred Heart Sodality took part. On the return of the processions to the church, Benediction was imparted. The exposition of the Blessed Sacrament will be continued until Sunday when the Quarant Ore will be brought to a close with Benediction after the 11 a.m. Mass. The sacristan, Mr. P. Galvin, has the altar tastefully decorated for the august function.

Widespread sympathy is extended to

Mr. Maurice Power, signalman, Kilmac... (an outstanding Ballyduff-Kil... hurler and footballer of some years ago), in his recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of his good mother, all that was mortal of whom was reverently laid to rest in Ballyduff Churchyard on Wednesday. The reverend P.F. recited the last prayers at the graveside—(Peace to her gentle soul).

GAELIC GARNERINGS.

Faha junior football team had Dunhill as visitors on Sunday last. The sides served up a nice exhibition before a fairly large crowd. Mr. Jack Harris (Chairman of the Faha Club) refereed right rulefully and well, and the tussle terminated with honours easy at 7 points each. The match was in aid of a local injured player—Mr. Thomas Coleman (of the Faha J.H. team).

At Ballyduff-Kilmacdon on Sunday,

a big gathering witnessed an enjoyable two-part programme. Portlaw opposed St. Otteran's (Butlers' team) in the first round of this year's minor hurling championship of the East Waterford Divisional area. Mr. Thomas Nolan (Ballyduff-Kilmacdon H. & F.C.) held the trumpet. This was a lovely set-to all the way. Portlaw led by 2-1 to 1-2 at the interval. The Tannery Town boys maintained the upper-hand of their worthy rivals and emerged winners on the scores—Portlaw, 5-2; St. Otteran's, 3-2.

Briceys Defeat Nire at Modeligo.

Bricey Rangers, 2-3; Nire, 0-1.

On Sunday last the Bricey Rangers and Nire junior football teams met at Modeligo, in the second round of the current year's championships, before a very large crowd. The weather conditions were ideal and all the arrangements in the hands of the local club were excellent. The game was well up to senior standard and for three-quarters of the hour there was very little between the teams. The Bricey Rangers, however, in a great finish piled up a big score and ran out winners on an 8-point margin. By defeating the Nire on Sunday they gain the right to enter the group final against Stradbally or Kilgobnet. They are also in the group hurling final when they will oppose either Dungarvan or Kilsassany-Pike.

The Nire attacked from the throw-in and although facing a strong breeze brought play into their opponents end. The Nire had the better of the exchanges for the first 5 minutes when they had a point. The Nire men looked as if all out and held play within their opponents' area but the Bricey Rangers' back line held out well. M. Curran and Nicholas McGrath sent the Briceys on to attack but they were unable to make any impression on a strong defence, in which "Bill" Ryan was outstanding. The Briceys made desperate efforts to break through but had to content wide wides. Hackett was prominent for the Bricey Rangers on several occasions. Shortly after half-time N. McGrath delivered to the Nire goal-mouth where Paddy Joe McGrath fisted to the net to give the Briceys the lead. The Briceys had play confined to the Nire end for the remainder of this moiety but there was no further scores before the short whistle when the teams stood: Bricey Rangers, 1-0; Nire, 0-1.

On the change of sides the Nire played with a strong breeze and their chances of victory were rosy. On resuming both sides had a number of positional changes and the Nire had changed their best men into the forward division. From the throw-in the Nire went on to attack but M. Curran, E. Power, S. Hickey, Cotter and McCarthy (who had replaced O'Brien) started for the next ten minutes when play ranged around their posts. On a few occasions the Nire men were almost through when a back saved at the critical moment. Excitement ran high when Bill Ryan got possession close to the posts but the ball went wide. Hackett and P. McGrath sent the Briceys away and racing down the field the forwards lashed in a goal. The Nire fought back from the kick out but the Briceys were now settling down to their game and for the remainder of the hour had matters their own way when they scored three further points.

Sudden Death of Nurse Margaret Walsh.

The death occurred unexpectedly at the County Hospital, Waterford, on Friday last, 6th inst., of Miss Margaret Walsh, Grans-town, Waterford, for 34 years Nurses' Instructress at the Hospital.

The news of the sudden passing of the late Miss Walsh came as a profound shock to the citizens in general, and more especially to those with whom she was more personally associated. A lady of surpassing personal qualities, it is no exaggeration to say that she was beloved by all who knew her intimately, and was held in the highest respect and esteem. Since her appointment to the staff of the Waterford County Hospital as Nurses' Instructress in 1907, she carried out her duties in a manner not only capable and efficient but at the same time gentle and kind.

Miss Walsh, who was aged about 65, seemed to be in her usual health on retiring on Thursday night at about 11 o'clock. Earlier in the evening she had been out for a walk with a nurse friend, and appeared to be normal in every way. She died unexpectedly on Friday morning. She is survived by her sister, Miss Bridget Walsh, who is a nurse in England, and by a brother and sister in Dublin.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION.

The annual Corpus Christi Procession will be held in Dungarvan on Sunday next, June 15th, and will, we know, as in former years be a wonderful display of public worship. The priests of the Parish assisted by many willing marshals have all arrangements complete. The decoration of the streets and houses en route will be as usual profuse. MATERIALS FOR POTATO SPRAYING.

The spraying season is almost at hand and it is understood that considerable stocks of spraying materials—copper sulphate and washing-soda are available. In view, however, of the increased acreage under potatoes, there is a possibility that stocks of materials may prove insufficient for later sprays. Potato growers would therefore, be well advised to place their orders now. If orders are placed now it will be possible to estimate the total stocks required and so enable arrangements so far as practicable, to be made to obtain additional supplies before it is too late.

RED CROSS NOTES

The magnificent support accorded to Red Cross Sunday in Dungarvan marks the 8th June as a red letter day in the annals of the Branch, not alone because of the substantial addition to the funds of the society as a result but because of the spirit that underlay every penny contributed. Collectors everywhere reported that each and everyone supported the collection with a generosity and appreciation of the object that rendered their task a pleasure and spoke volumes for the understanding and sympathy of the general public with the work of the society. This spirit of goodwill which attended every contribution no matter how small is deeply appreciated by the committee and Red Cross Sunday will long be remembered by them on that account.

In the afternoon the Golf Links in Ballinacourty was the scene of a very enjoyable flag competition in aid of the society. There was a record entry of fifty members and again the spirit of goodwill was the prevailing note. The winner of the competition, which was open to both sexes, was Mr. Sean Delaney, N.T., with Mr. Jack Lynch as runner up. Both very generously forfeited their prize in the interests of the society. The ladies who got farthest round the course were Mrs. C. J. Murphy, Miss A. Lawlor and Miss W. Bennet.

The Golf Club benefit day for the society closed with a thoroughly enjoyable Ciderella dance in the Pavilion. All present enjoyed themselves to the full and many considered it one of the best functions of the year. The feature of the night was the pervading atmosphere of sociability and good humour that is so often the chief characteristic of Socials in Ballinacourty and renders them so popular. Everything went with a swing due in a very large measure to the untiring efforts of the capable and popular M.C. Mr. Jack Bulfin and the other members of the Dance Band, Mrs. J. Bulfin, Miss S. Crawley, Miss M. Delaney, Mr. J. Cartwright and Mr. S. Norris, who so generously gave their services for the night free of charge. Towards the close of the evening the President of the Club, Mr. S. J. Moynihan, in the course of a short speech thanked all who had in any way helped to make the Golf Benefit Day a success and stated that on behalf of the Dungarvan Golf Club he had much respect and esteem in handing over the sum of £13-0-0 to the local Branch of the Irish Red Cross Society.

Red Cross Sunday in Dungarvan

is now part of the irrefragable past but the pleasant memories of camaraderie and goodwill associated with it will live on for many a day.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION.

As it is felt that many of our members will prefer to walk with their respective Societies and Confraternities in the procession on Sunday next it has been decided that the Red Cross will not take part as a unit.

HOME NURSING CLASS.

The home nursing class will be held as usual at 8.30 p.m. in the Technical School to-night. The home nursing notes which the nurses associated with the Branch have very kindly consented to write will commence next week.

The Committee of the Dungarvan Branch of the Irish Red Cross Society desire to gratefully acknowledge the magnificent response to their appeal on Sunday last from which a total of £71-13-2 was realised. In particular they wish to thank—the members of the general public who so generously contributed to the collection and flag day from which a sum of £52-15-2 was realised; the ladies and gentlemen who gave their much appreciated services as collectors; the Dungarvan Golf Club who on Sunday night presented the Branch with the sum of £13 realised from their benefit day, the fifty members who took part in the competition in the afternoon and all who supported the Cinderella dance that night; the Dance Band composed of Mrs. J. Bulfin, Miss S. Crawley, Miss M. Delaney, Mr. J. Bulfin, Mr. J. Cartwright, and Mr. S. Norris, who gave their valued services for the Cinderella dance free of charge; O'Dea Productions Ltd. who on Friday night presented the Branch with the sum of £5-14-0, being amount realised from their raffie in aid of the Society, and all who supported the raffie.

LATE HATCHES. Small groups of chicks that are still being produced on farms would in normal times be classed as late-hatched. As a rule these late broods grow well, but there is always an element of risk. Most of us try to get them along in time for the stubble land, where they can fend for themselves. I know from experience that late-hatched chicks are very susceptible to coccidiosis and lice infestation, and losses from one or other of these troubles may be heavy. Although there is no known cure for the disease, preventive measures can be taken with good effect. If one is lucky enough to notice the early symptoms and take immediate action, losses can be kept down. While the trouble is not restricted entirely to late-hatched broods, we invariably find that late-hatched chicks are more liable to attack than early hatches. Weather condition mean much to the coccidia, for they flourish in warm showery spells. Heavy infections frequently follow a wet period. Symptoms are loss of appetite, general dullness and inability to take exercise, sleepiness and diarrhoea. All these symp-

THE CROPS. The recent break in the weather has proved very beneficial to all crops, within the past week a wonderful improvement is noticeable. The continual drought of April and part of May combined with hard cold easterly winds, retarded growth very much and the usual "wise ones" were prophesying all kinds of gloomy things regarding the year's prospects, but God looks after all things. Overtight the outlook has been transferred, welcome rain came, and today as if by magic the whole countryside presents a delightful green, fresh appearance, even the "gloomy ones" are changed. They say "perhaps things won't be so bad after all."

CLASSES. A cooking and sewing class, under the auspices of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee, opened at the L.D.F. Hall, Moorehill, on May 28th, and is being conducted by Miss M. M. Kelleher, County Instructress. The classes are held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings each week, from 7.30 p.m. to 9.30 p.m. and will continue for a number of weeks. Up to the present time the class is not as well attended as it should be. After all classes are very instructive and helpful and seeing this is the first of its kind to be held in Moorehill, a better response should be forthcoming. A special appeal is made to all the young ladies to join the class immediately. Everyone has something to learn and who knows but in later years when "hubby" will pat you on the back and say "what a lovely cake Elleen," you'll smile at him and proudly say "I learned how to make it at the Moorehill Cookery class."

VILLAGE COSSIP. Passing through the village the other evening, two of the local ladies were having a little chat, and the writer couldn't help overhearing them. "Well, there's no doubt Kate 'em lads that are rising up nowadays are gone to the bad. Nothing for 'em now only hurling. Ask Paddy now to bring ye a bucket of water, oh he hasn't time hardly at his supper. The minute ye've back's turned the hurley is got under the dresser and that's the last ye see of 'em. Bad soiling to them hurleys, when I'll be bolting to-morrow's dinner I won't be short of a fire and then they can go and look for 'em. Every second night they come home with a broken nose or a broken head and so on. Oh Kate, it's a terrible game! Sure they go up in the field trying to kill one another. God knows if there isn't enough of 'em falling in London without more of 'em here. But just wait 'till I catch hold of Paddy to-night. I'll work that hurley on him, but sure it's no good, he's like his old father, the stick would chop off him. Sure 'tis I know it, but I suppose them children going nowadays is a scourge from God. The Lord save us and guard us, between hurling and war, where will we end. Just then she sighted me and thinking discretion the best part of valour, I hopped on my bike and was gone.

THE RED CROSS. Last Sunday was Red Cross Fund day all over Ireland and various entertainments were organised all over the country to help to swell the funds of the organisation, and as usual the public responded very generously. In those parts old and young helped in every way possible, and rightly so, for it is a charitable and Christian cause, and deserves the support of every Irish man and woman of the world over.

TWO BOTTLE LOVERS. "Baby is just like his father." "I can't see the likeness." "Just see how he howls if the bottle is taken from him."

An important meeting of the West Waterford Div. Board G.A. will be held in Cappoquin N.S. on to-night (Friday) at 8.15 p.m. The agenda includes two objections postponed from last meeting.

"CHURCHILL MUST HAVE BETTER TEAM," SAYS M.P. Sir, Herbert Williams, Conservative M.P. for South Craydon, stated at a meeting of his division: "I admire Mr. Churchill, and I have defended him in debates, but I think he must get a better team around him than he has got if the country is to be better served than it is."

"Had the Ministers of the Crown? would not have been in business at £300 a year," said Sir Herbert Williams. "Furthermore I would not have half the War Cabinet at £500 a year."

LISMORE NOTES

DEATH OF POPULAR LISMORE LADY.

We regret to announce the death of Miss Mary Ryan, Church Street, which occurred at her residence on the morning of Tuesday, 3rd inst. The deceased lady was an exemplary Catholic and despite her advancing years was up to a short time ago a familiar figure at daily Mass. She was a member of an old and highly respected family in Lismore, and the cheerful and kindly disposition which characterised her throughout her life won her hosts of friends who deeply regret her passing. Her remains were removed to St. Carthage's Cathedral on Wednesday evening and were followed by a large and representative cortege. The interment took place in the old churchyard at 2 p.m. on Thursday, and proof of the high esteem which the deceased lady enjoyed was shown by the large gathering of people who assembled to pay their last tribute of respect at the graveside. The Rev. T. O'Flynn, Adm., assisted by Rev. J. Hennebery, officiated. The chief mourners were Miss M. McGrogan (niece); Mr. Seamus Ryan, Mr. P. Ryan, Mr. J. Ryan, and Miss B. Ryan (cousins).

RED CROSS CELEBRITY CONCERT.

The people of Lismore will remember for a long time the great night's entertainment provided for them on Wednesday last by an array of Ireland's most famous artists. Seldom has such an opportunity been given them of seeing and hearing the very best, and they showed their appreciation of it by filling the Palladium Cinema to overflowing, thus giving solid support to the most praiseworthy organisation of the present day—the Red Cross. The curtain was raised on the Youghal Military Band, under the able and talented conductor, Cpt. Hennessy; they played a rousing selection of Irish marches, which drew hearty and well-deserved applause from the audience. Mr. R. Cragh, Lismore, followed with a clever impersonation of Mrs. Mulligan and gave a rendering of the well-known song, which put the audience in the right spirit for the humorous vein which was to characterise practically the whole concert. Next came Master Jack Healy, who recited with great feeling "Pearse's Farewell," and "The Green Eye of the Little Yellow God." A variation was then introduced by Mr. Bransfield, of Youghal, an artist who is rapidly becoming known by his successful appearances at concerts all over the South of Ireland. His crystal-clear tenor voice did full justice to the well-known song, "I'll Walk Beside You," and he was encored several times. There was thunderous applause as the long-awaited dance by Mr. Bransfield, of Youghal, an artist who is rapidly becoming known by his successful appearances at concerts all over the South of Ireland. who had contributed to make the concert such a huge success. He thanked in particular Dr. and Mrs. Healy, who had so generously given the use of the Cinema for the occasion and had so thoroughly made all the arrangements. G.A.A. NEWS. All Gaelic in Lismore and district are very pleased at the news that two important matches—which are expected to be thrilling clashes—are fixed for Lismore for a date in the near future. Having been lucky regarding the Lismore objection, Tallow have qualified to meet Dungarvan in the second round of the senior hurling championship. Both these teams are worthy wielders of the caman, and an exciting game is assured. The reputation of Lismore junior footballers will be at stake when they meet Tourin in the second round.

of the county championship. Though this is their first year out, Tourin have already, by their initial successes, made themselves feared by many teams who covet the county honours. Lismore are training hard, and the clash is anxiously awaited by the supporters of both sides. LISMORE DRAMATIC SOCIETY. Following their recent outstanding success at home, the above society travelled to Ballyduff on Sunday last to produce the comedy, "The New Gossamer," in aid of the Red Cross (Ballyduff branch). The attendance was excellent and reflected the high reputation which the society enjoys among the public. Rev. Father McCarthy, C.C., gave an address expressing warm appreciation of the players and said that the production far exceeded that of any amateur dramatic society he had seen.

TALLOW NOTES

RED CROSS COLLECTION.

On Sunday last, in union with all other districts, the members of the local branch of the Irish Red Cross were early at their allotted posts with their boxes and flags and it is a pleasure to record that the success which attended their efforts has proved highly satisfactory, and through the medium of these columns the local committee extend their sincere appreciation of the support accorded to their appeal for funds. We might add, however, that the majority of the residents are not fully alive to their responsibilities in this direction, otherwise the support would have been more whole-hearted, and one has only to visualise the amount of assistance rendered to the afflicted people of the North Strand area of Dublin to realise how necessary funds are needed to carry on this all-important and deserving work. To those who have not yet done so, please hand your subscription to the hon. secretary or any member of the committee.

FORTNIGHTLY PIG MARKET.

The supply of fat pigs at Tuesday's market wasn't quite up to former averages, and while this was so, the demand was anything but brisk, and sellers had to accept lower prices than was anticipated. Surely this is a most discouraging state of affairs from the producers' point of view and does not redound to the credit of the powers that be, whose officials should institute enquiries periodically as to the state of affairs existing, and where evidence of price-cutting was found to exist, then to have the necessary adjustments made in the sellers' interests. General expressions of dissatisfaction were heard on all sides from sellers at Tuesday's market.

FISHING.

Never in the long history of the river Bride was the fishing so bad as it has been since the opening of the fishing season. It was hoped that the recent beneficial rainfall, which was so welcome to the sellers of the sea, would have helped the anglers also, but from reports to hand no improvement has come. From this it must be inferred that netting operations are being carried so close to the junction of the Bride and Blackwater that it isn't possible for any fish to make the upper reaches of the Bride.

L.D.F. NOTES

For some weeks past we found it impossible owing to the pressure of organisation work to give the usual weekly notes on L.D.F. activities but we hope to continue in future the work of recording each week the various items of interest for the information of our members.

Group Officers in each area have had frequent conversations with Staff Officers regarding the co-ordination of the several services and matters have been put in a high state of perfection in the provision of first class fighting units in all group areas within the district.

After a recent inspection the District O. C. (Mr. J. Mansfield) expressed himself as confident that the standard of training throughout his district is as high as elsewhere which goes to show that the officers and men of each group have not been sparing in their enthusiastic endeavours by availing of the many facilities now offered for their training.

Recruits are still coming into the ranks of practically every group and with the example of their trained comrades they have been exceptional in their aptitude for picking up so quickly the many little intricacies in the training of the modern soldier.

This week we offer our congratulations to Mr. P. Walsh, Sanitary Inspector, on his appointment as Section Leader of No. 1 Section of Dungarvan No. 1 Group and we feel sure his appointment is not only a popular but a fortunate one as Paddy has never missed an opportunity from the very inception of the Force of perfecting his knowledge of all matters appertaining to the training of the local force.

We also wish to offer the heartiest congratulations to Sergt. McCarthy, District Officer, on his recent promotion. His second red bar looks "swell" in position and with "chin in and chest out", he now looks the picture of the typical Sergt. Major. Let us hope his further promotion will not be long forthcoming.

Within the coming two weeks men from the local group will be selected to attend a week's special course of training at Collins Barracks, Cork, and it is hoped that these selected will be at liberty to avail of this important course. We feel sure that our local employers will facilitate the men selected by letting them off their work for the short period required. They will thus be co-operating in the work of not only National but local Defence.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL PARADE.
All members of Dungarvan No. 1 and 2 Groups L.D.F. as well as members of outlying Sections who find it convenient to do so are requested to assemble in uniform and without arms at Rotary St., Dungarvan, at 1.30 p.m. (S.T.) sharp on Sunday next, the 15th June, 1941, to participate in the Corpus Christi procession from Parish Church—1, Mansfield, District O.C.

Of recent weeks it has been noticed with much satisfaction that steps are being taken to make the all-important transport section an efficient component of the L.D.F. services. Lectures and demonstrations have been carried out so that each man may be in a position to give his helpful help with promptitude and accuracy. Lieut. Mackesy, Military Barracks, Yougal, is taking on the special care of training this section and judging from his initial endeavours we feel sure the men concerned appreciate that nothing will be left undone to perfect their training. It is arranged that the Lieut. again visit the section on Sunday and every man allocated to transport is expected to be present in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, without fail at 8.30 p.m. (S.T.) so that full advantage may be taken of every opportunity offered to avail of the transport authority.

On tonight also the District Leader will visit the Grange Section of Armore Group and judging from reports already to hand the local men are a highly trained fighting force eager and ready to do their bit when required. Mr. J. Fremberg, Grange, is the Group Leader.
Dr. M. Casey, Dungarvan, District O.C., First Aid L.D.F., is at present a very busy man training our local groups in first aid. On Tuesday night he has his usual lectures to the men he dealt most capably with this all-important subject and we feel sure that when his series of lectures are completed he will have left nothing unsaid towards the intelligent training of first aid personnel. Judging from the appreciation of his audience when he completed last Tuesday night we can envisage packed houses for his remaining lectures.

Late Mrs. Hannah Power, Fair Lane.

The death of the above esteemed and highly respected young woman which took place on Thursday morning, 5th inst. evoked feelings of widespread regret among his very wide circle of relatives and friends and the deepest sympathy is extended to her bereaved husband in his loss. The late Mrs. Power was since her school days, associated with Croft's Garage and Cinema and her unfailing kindness and courtesy to the tens of thousands of cinema goers as well as to the motoring fraternity endeared her to all.

There was a very large attendance present at the removal of the remains to the Parish Church, Dungarvan, on Thursday evening where on arrival the coffin was received at the Church gates and escorted into the Church by the Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., who read the prayers for the dead.

MAGGOTS ON SHEEP

A shepherd can scarcely take a day off in the summer without finding a maggoty sheep when he looks them over next day. This sudden appearance of maggots has led to the belief among some shepherds that the fly actually deposits maggots in the sheep's wool.

Clusters of eggs, however, are actually laid by the fly and can plainly be seen if the wool is closely examined. Eggs have been known to hatch out in as short a period as eight hours, and the maggots grow to a fair size in a day. In two to fourteen days they reach full size and then drop to the ground.

Given favourable weather, the maggots pupate and produce fresh broods of flies, but the last broods of maggots remain in the soil until spring. In early March they gradually work their way up to the surface of the soil, pass into a resting stage, and finally appear as adult flies in late April or May.

Some interesting facts about the sheep maggot fly and its behaviour which suggest practical ways of reducing the incidence of "strike" have recently come to light.

Only one fly, namely, the Lesser Green Bottle Fly (Lucilia sericata), is capable of damaging sheep.

Blue Bottle Flies, although often seen on sheep and near sheep pens, will not deposit their eggs on living sheep. Close sheep are rarely struck; there must be something foul and attractive about the fleece to attract the fly, such as soiling of the wool with droppings, urine, or pus from a wound. A scouring sheep acts like a magnet to a maggot fly, and the more frequent the scourings, the greater the incidence of "strike". Far too little is known about the cause of scouring. We know that worms can cause scouring, but a remedy has been found for them. A sudden flush of wild white clover or any sudden change in the diet will also scour sheep, but some shepherds know the corrective by frequently changing their sheep to less lucious herbage or bringing them gradually on to the changed diet.

Other factors, however, such as the quality and quantity of the mother's milk, irritant plants in the pasture, or bacterial diseases, bring on losses. Anyone who can master the problems of scouring will have rendered great service to the sheep industry.

When precautions have been taken to keep the fleeces as clean as possible, it is necessary to dip the flock with a "Fly Dip." Only a recognised fly dip should be used, and it is imperative that the manufacturer's directions should be strictly adhered to.

Provided the dipping has been well done, the maggot fly will be kept off for a fortnight, but then the effects of the dip gradually wear off. Hence, to prevent strike throughout the summer, it is necessary to dip every three weeks.

Although this may seem too laborious and expensive, until a dip with a more lasting effect is discovered frequent dipping is necessary. An alternative to dipping is spraying.

Spraying is quicker, less harmful to the sheep and much less expensive than dipping. Moreover, each sheep receives clean, fresh dip, a very important point, as the dipping bath may foul the sheep unless frequently cleaned out. Although still in the experimental stage, I believe that spraying is the correct answer to the maggot pest.

Sheep are gathered in the pens and the dip sprayed on to the animals, particular attention being paid to the vital parts such as the breech, underside of chest, and the shoulders. The spraying can be done with an ordinary strump pump.

A sheep already maggotted demands immediate attention. No time must be lost in getting rid of the maggots, and let me say at once that the old method of pouring sheep dip over them is wrong. Dip will not kill all the maggots, but it may kill the sheep, or, at least, make them unprofitable for the rest of their lives. A dressing which will both kill the maggots and heal the wound, as well as repel further attacks from the fly, is formulated (thus:—Water-white mineral oil 71 parts, creosole acid (98 per cent purity) 4 parts, wool grease 10 parts, paradi-chlorobenzene 5 parts, pine tar oil 10 parts.)

Make a ring of the liquid first round the maggotted area. Then, move liquid is applied to the centre and rubbed in with the hand. One dressing is sufficient, but in the case of badly cut sheep daily dressings should be given until the skin forms on the surface.

Various methods have been suggested for reducing the numbers of maggot flies: hanging up carrion over streams, buckets of water, etc., and the use of fly traps. I have no faith in any of these methods, for I have proved that they are worthless.

Maggot fly is not interested in dead flesh, whether it is hanging up over a stream or enclosed in the most ingenious fly trap ever invented. Trap flies they will, but most of the flies are nature's scavengers. I have shown that only four out of every hundred are sheep maggot flies, and have no use for the living sheep.
