IT PAYS YOU TO SAVE IN MEMORIAM

Father Anthony Gough, O.S.A.

KILLED IN AIR-RAID, LONDON, APRIL 17th, 1941.

(We clip the following from the current issue of "Good Counsel," the quarterly magazine of the Augustinian Order.)

"The next-of-kin of casualties have been informed." After nearly two years' constant repetition of that phrase daily in the newspapers, and almost hourly over the radio, we have become quite accustomed to it.

Beyond, at times a quickening of the heart-beat when certain places were mentioned, where the casualties had occurred, the phrase remained impersonal.

Its full significance was brought home to the members of the Province when on Thursday, April 17th, news was received of the death of Father Anthony Gough, O.S.A., at St. Monica's Priory, Hoxton, London.

The sudden shock at hearing of the death caused by the war of one of our Fathers in England at first overshadowed the feeling of personal loss.

Then when the realization that what had been declared in the beginning of the war had at length happened to the many who had known and loved Father Gough, the pangs of sorrow at this sudden parting were intensified.

Twenty-eight years of age at the beginning of his priestly life—he had returned from Rome in the summer of 1913—Father Gough was just beginning to see the fruits of his zeal and devotion to duty.

During the time which he spent in Hoxton, nearly two and a half years, he placed himself unreservedly at the call of his people, named Declan Donovan, 37 years of age. The following was the jury sworn to: Messrs. Michael Curran, Bailiacoire (foreman), Michael Foley, Wm. Lennane, James Curran, Patrick Curran, Patrick McKenna, J. Lennane, Supt. Walsh, Dungarvan, conducted the proceedings on behalf of the authorities.

The first witness called was Mrs. Mary Donovan, mother of the deceased, who stated, in reply to Supt. Walsh, that she was a farmer, aged 72 years. Her deceased son, Declan, resided with her here. Declan was aged 37. Since the time of her husband's death, seven years ago, she had discontinued her work on the farm.

On the 11th of August she retired to bed about 11 o'clock. Some time after Declan came into the bedroom and slipped on the key of the kitchen door. Witness told him he could not lock it. Witness told grand jury that she saw Declan with his head with a flashlamp and saw him waste time against the wall. I set up the bed and he caught me by the hair and pulled me out of the bed. He was excited at the time. He was the quality of the grand jury. Witness gave instructions to her solicitor to bring a summons against her son. The summons was served on him. Yesterday (Thursday) he did not get up until 12.30, and went to one of the out-letting. He brought back the donkey's tacking, and witness, passing through the kitchen he said every day, "Yes, if he had a right to get it." He went to his own room and came out with a stick. Witness ran to the door after he had said "I'll go for the gun and let it through you." Witness called the grand jury to report to the Guards. About ten minutes later she heard the report of a shot. Her husband was shot. Witness returned to the room and saw a shot and saw the grand jury. Witness called the grand jury to report to the Guards. Higher Prices For Eggs in England.

The British Minister of Food has made an Order, which comes into force immediately, fixing the prices which producers will receive for their eggs during the winter period of production.

These higher prices will be paid only for eggs collected from producers on and from August 15th.

The price for hen eggs when sold by weight is 2s. 2d. per lb. Where by mutual agreement between the producer and licensed buyer or licensed packer they are sold by count, the price is at the rate of 3s. 6d. per 120 eggs or 2s. 8d. per dozen.

Duck eggs may now only be sold by count, and their price will be at the rate of 3s. 6d. per 120 eggs or 2s. 8d. per dozen.

For hen or duck eggs sold by a licensed buyer to a licensed packer, the prices quoted above may be increased by 5d. per 120.

The Order permits deductions to be made from these prices at the rate of 1d. per egg for dirty eggs or eggs of inferior quality, and at a rate not exceeding 3s. per dozen for duck eggs and 2s. 6d. per dozen for hen eggs in respect of eggs which are found to be unfit for human consumption.

Why Young Men Should Join THE L.D.F. An Taoiseach's Call.

There seems to persist in the minds of many young men the idea that they are answering the call of duty by joining one of the various organisations of defence.

This may be due to a misunderstanding of the relative functions of these organisations. The first and most important of voluntary defence organisations is the Local Defence Force, for on it will fall the major task of physical resistance to attack. It is in the front line. All other forms of service are subsidiary and supplementary to the L.D.F.

Modern warfare demands the very highest degree of physical fitness. It is pre-eminently the business of the young. They are the fittest members of the community. It is, of course, true that the members of all organisations must be fit enough for service, but there are degrees of fitness suited to particular kinds of service, and it would be an evasion of duty for those young and fit enough for the fighting service to undertake less onerous duties.

A clear lead in this direction was given recently by the head of the State, the Taoiseach, when speaking at a public meeting. He asserted:—

"Our military forces are not too strong. Those who do not join the L.D.F. but, except under exceptional circumstances, young men should not attach themselves to the L.S.F., which should be reserved for the older men."

There is no ambiguity about this declaration. The Local Defence Force, after the Army, comes first in the order of national service. Into it must go all young men who are fit to bear arms but who for serious reasons cannot serve in their time to regular service. There are plenty of others available for other services.

Harvesting and Disposal of Grain Crops.

BROADCAST BY THE MINISTER FOR AGRICULTURE.

Speaking from Radio Eireann on Tuesday night on harvesting and disposal of grain crops, Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture said:—First of all I want to say that the farmers have done a magnificent job. In these 26 counties they have given us the largest crop of wheat since 1846. I believe we can now assume an average yield for cereal and root crops. If we get this average yield we shall this year have produced through tillage the largest amount of food on record. Having made those two very definite and positive assertions, I think I am justified in saying that no class in the community has served the community better than the farmers. We asked for food and they gave it to us.

While there have been the usual cases here and there of lodging crops, I think that on the whole the harvest is promising. A fair yield may be expected from the 491,000 acres sown under wheat, but the condition of the grain will depend on the weather of the next few weeks. Even if all the wheat is well saved, we shall not have enough to provide us with a year's bread and the seed required for next year's crop. Getting enough wheat from abroad to make good the deficiency may not be possible and it will, therefore, be necessary to hold as a reserve for human food, a considerable proportion of the produce of the 169,000 acres under barley. This reserve, together with the barley bought for malting, will, I am afraid, absorb nearly all that comes on the market, and for this reason the price for the purchase of barley from growers will have to be restricted to the malsters and other merchants who have been engaged extensively in the purchase of barley in previous seasons. Feeders of live stock will be dependent mainly on oats in the next twelve months. While some 778,000 acres of oats have been grown, there will be a heavy demand on the proportion of the crop that is marketed. It is necessary to ensure first that the oatmeal millers will obtain their requirements for the production of oatmeal for human food and then that there will be an equitable distribution of oats at reasonable prices to feeders of live stock, including owners of horses in towns.

The Emergency Powers (Cereals) Order which I signed on the 15th August will, I hope, ensure that the produce of this year's grain crop will be utilised to the best advantage for the benefit of the whole community. To prevent speculation in grain, such as occurred last season, the Order restricts dealing in grain to licensed dealers and fixes the prices which these buyers must pay to the growers and those at which they may resell the grain. I want to make it clear that the licensed buyers may not dispose of the grain as they wish, either by selling it or by grinding it in their own mills. In the case of wheat, the licensed millers will be authorised to mill their home-grown wheat quotas into flour or wheat meal and dealers will be required to sell only to licensed millers and, as far as practicable, only to these millers whose premises are nearest to them. As I have mentioned already, barley will be purchased, dried and stored by those who have been accustomed to handle this grain in the past. Licences to purchase oats from growers are being issued to merchants who have suitable storage accommodation, and those merchants will also be required to hold this grain until they receive directions as to its disposal. To advise and assist me in arranging for the distribution of barley and oats, a Committee called the Cereals Distribution Committee, representative of the various interests concerned, has been appointed, and this Committee will direct authorised buyers when and where to dispose of barley and oats.

Listeners will probably all have seen the notice published in the daily press on Tuesday of last week, setting out in detail the prices at which licensed buyers must purchase and sell wheat, barley and oats. Prices for wheat, barley and oats. The minimum price of good wheat is 40/- a miller or dealer purchasing from the grower is at liberty to pay more than 40/-, I understand that the flour millers have, in fact, agreed to supply free sacks and to pay 40/- on the farm, while farmers who deliver their wheat will receive prices from 40/6 to 41/-, according to the distance of the miller's premises from the farm. For wheat delivered after the 31st of December 1/- per barrel will be paid in addition to those just mentioned. I hope I shall not hear again either through malice or ignorance the statement that the Government broke faith with the farmers by depriving them of 6d. per barrel or the cost of delivering their wheat to purchasers' premises. I would like to remind wheat growers that every available barrel of wheat will be needed for human food and that it is an offence to use wheat for the feeding of animals. A farmer, therefore, should keep back any of his wheat for this purpose. He should sell all his millable wheat apart from what he requires for seed or for the use of himself and his family.

The price to be paid to growers for barley purchased for malting is 30/- and for all other barley of good average quality 28/- per barrel. The price for oats is 19/6d. per barrel. In the case of barley and oats, the prices fixed, not minimum, and are for grain delivered to buyers' store or railway station. These prices are for grain sold up to the end of this year, after which somewhat higher prices will be payable, as set out in the Order, but neither growers nor dealers will be able to sell grain late in the season at disproportionately high prices, such as those ruling during the past few months.

The Order provides that farmers may buy grain from one another for sowing on their own land. Farmers, owners of horses and persons in charge of horses or other animals, such as managers of racing establishments, may also purchase oats directly from the growers. Shopkeepers who buy small quantities of oats from growers, not exceeding 50wt. at any one time, and who sell the oats retail to poultry keepers, horse owners, etc., may also carry on their business without a licence but all other classes of persons are prohibited from purchasing grain from growers unless they have received a licence or a permit from the Minister for Agriculture. The Emergency Powers Act provides for severe penalties, including heavy fines and imprisonment, for breaches of the Order, and it is my intention to press for heavy penalties in any case in which it will be necessary to institute proceedings under the Order. As soon as possible ex-mill prices for feeding stuffs will be announced.

By this time licences should be in the hands of all those persons who have made application and whom it has been decided to authorise to purchase grain from growers. These licences apply only to grain intended for resale. Special arrangements are being made for the assembly of stocks of wheat, barley and oats for seed, and persons desiring to assemble such stocks should apply at once, if they have not already done so, to the Department of Agriculture for the necessary permits, for which no fee is payable.

There has been considerable discussion recently regarding the lack of coal for threshing. I can hold out no hope that any coal will be available for this purpose beyond the small supply which, it is hoped, threshing owners can obtain from starting purposes and movement from farm to farm. Farmers intending to employ steam threshing sets should, therefore, immediately provide themselves with good black turf or with timber, preferably hard wood such as beech or ash. I think that those fuels have been used before. It is obvious, therefore that they can be used again. They must be used this year. Much time and sympathy has been given to this question by the Minister for Supplies and myself and, indeed, every member of the Government. I know the farmers have produced the grain that is badly needed and that the present weather will make threshing difficult even with a good engine using efficient fuel. We all agree that an ample supply of good coal would be preferable but that supply is not available. There is no use in creating a Jock's paradise by tilting producers that they will get coal. It is better for them to face the hard and unpleasant fact: Let us not waste further time and energy in talking of the danger and inefficiency of turf or wood for this purpose but immediately get a supply ready for threshing day. The suggestion that the Army should help in harvesting operations has come from more than one quarter. For various reasons this cannot be arranged. Farmers must this year depend on themselves, their families and employees as they have done in the past.

At the last word, I would mention farmers that, owing to the shortage of manure, we cannot hope to obtain as good a yield of cereal crops in 1942 as we have been accustomed to in recent years. It is, therefore, of the greatest importance that every farmer should grow more wheat in the coming season. No time should be lost in preparing the land for the sowing of winter wheat at the greatest possible extent. Early sown winter wheat is certain to succeed and will yield better than the later sown crops. I hope to announce a maximum price for seed wheat in the near future. In these times of stress especially the farmer cannot afford to rest on his oars. Before he has disposed of this year's crop he must prepare for next year.

N.A.C.A.—WATERFORD COUNTY BOARD.

It is gratifying to learn that the County Championships will be held this year as usual. Owing to transport difficulties it was thought that the events would have to be abandoned but thanks to the Athletes of Portlaur, where a new club has been formed, the members have with great courage accepted the responsibility of running of the championships, and the venue for this year's competitions will be Portlaur. The date is fixed for Sunday 21st September and all athletes are requested to note this and look out for advertisement appearing in a later issue.

The programme in addition to championships will include many confined events and a "champion" evening's entertainment is assured to all patrons.

The tug-of-war event is open to Portlaur and surrounding parishes and this event alone will draw big competition.

The whole programme is varied and interesting and to the Rev. Chairman Fr. Slattery, C.C., Fenor, and the Hon. Sec. Mr. L. Dunne, word of thanks is due for their keenness in having the championship competitions brought about this year.

SENIOR FOOTBALLERS.

A meeting of the Dungarvan Senior Footballers will take place in the Town Hall, on Saturday night next, August 30th at 8.45 p.m. Training for County Final with Strabally will be discussed. All members are requested to attend.

BANK OF IRELAND—Dungarvan Branch.

We publish in this issue an advertisement for the Bank of Ireland, notifying their customers and the public generally of the change over from their temporary business premises in O'Connell St., to the newly erected premises at Granian Square. The new premises, which are of the most spacious and up-to-date kind, are designed with a view to the comfort and convenience of Bank's clientele, and staff, and are certainly a credit to all concerned with its erection, particularly the youthful townsmen, Mr. Thomas McGrath, Building Contractor, who was responsible for its erection.

CHANGE OF PROGRAMME.

Cinema patrons are advised that owing to the present transport difficulties a change of programme had to be effected for Thursday and Friday August 28th and 29th. As the original booking would not arrive in time for exhibition at a matinee performance, the film now being screened, and which comes direct from a successful first run at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, is "Two Gun Cupid," a grand outdoor drama, starring Wallace Beery and Laraine Day.

SUCCESSFUL SESSION AT RING.

The summer session at Ring Irish College, which has just ended, has been most successful. All available space at the residential college was occupied and over 100 students lived in houses in the district.

WATERFORD PORT.

At a joint meeting of the representatives of the Waterford Chamber of Commerce, Waterford Harbour Commissioners and Waterford Farmers and Cattle Dealers' Association, held at Granville Hotel, Waterford, it was decided to ask the Minister for Agriculture to receive the deputation appointed by that meeting to discuss the possibility of reopening Waterford Port for the export of cattle.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL'S TRIBUTE.

The Munster Council, N.A. and the later sown crops. I hope to announce a maximum price for seed wheat in the near future. In these times of stress especially the farmer cannot afford to rest on his oars. Before he has disposed of this year's crop he must prepare for next year.

DEATH.

C.A. paid tribute to the late Chief Supt. O'Duffy, Waterford, for his fostering of athletics, and sympathy was voted to his family.

THE MRS. S. H. PATTERSON. The death occurred on Sunday last at his residence "Auburn," Burgery, Abbesside, Dungarvan, of Samuel H. Patterson. Deceased was formerly a member of the R.I.C. and is survived by his wife and family. There was a large and representative cortege at the funeral which took place on Tuesday evening at St. Mary's Protestant Church where interment was made.

STREET LEAGUE RESUMED.

On Sunday next, 31st inst., Abbesside meet Shandon Rovers in following Town Hurling League. Seeing that most of this year's senior county hurling champions, together with many of our star junior and minor hurlers, are taking part in this match, hurling fans will not be slow to realise that this match should be up to all-Ireland hurling standard. Hurling has never been at such a high standard in Dungarvan as it is at the moment. One championship won and 7½ teams still in the running. Dungarvan hurlers have played nine championship matches this year, and won six of nine. It is the most successful year Dungarvan has ever enjoyed. So come along on Thursday and Friday the game played by the 1942 All-Ireland champions. Admission fee.

EMIGRANTS MUST REGISTER.

It was learned in Dublin on Monday that in future Irish workers emigrating to Great Britain will find it necessary to register for employment at the employment exchanges. Instead of, as heretofore, getting work through English agents in Dublin.

The number leaving the country to find work in England and Scotland has been causing grave concern throughout the country. Some weeks ago Mr. de Valera said in the Dail that it might be necessary to take steps to control such emigration, and since then many notable people have called for such action.

Thousands of men and women have left this country since war broke out; as many as 500 travelling on one boat. A train from Amiens Street Station, Dublin on Tuesday, carried about 200 men on their way to Scotland to work.

Death of Mr. L. Dalton, Bohadoun.

It is with regret we announce the death of the above respected farmer which took place on Thursday last, 21st inst., at his residence. The deceased was a most popular and highly respected man and a good and kind neighbour, and the deepest sympathy is extended to his bereaved widow and family in their sorrow. The funeral which took place to Kilgobinet on Friday evening was very large and proved a wonderful tribute to the popularity of the deceased and the members of his family. The coffin was received at the Church by Very Rev. Fr. Roche, P.P., assisted by Rev. J. Hickey, C.C. After the celebration of Masses of Requiem on Saturday morning by Fathers Roche and Hickey, interment was made in the family plot adjoining the church. The above named clergymen officiating at the graveside.

THE CHIEF MOURNERS WERE: Mrs. Dalton (widow), Gabriel and M. (sons), Margaret, Alice and Biddy (daughters), Mrs. G. Foley, Crough (sister).

EAST CORK TRACTOR OWNERS' MEETING.

Mr. G. McCarthy (Chairman) presided at a meeting of the East Cork Tractor Thresher Owners' Association, held in Middleton. In the course of a report, the hon. secretary stated that one of the members had made a registered application to the Department of Supplies on the basis of allowance of oil, but he had not received an acknowledgment to the application. It was decided to protest on the point that the member in question had only received two-thirds of the allowance given to owners who had one tractor, while the aggrieved party had three. Other matters of a routine nature formed the remainder of the business.

LIVE STOCK. Cattle were maintained in good health, apart from foot and mouth disease which still persisted in parts of Counties Kilkenny, South Tipperary and Carlow. All classes of stock improved considerably in condition, though many farmers were still overstocked. With the resumption of shipping on a limited scale in the early part of the month, a somewhat improved demand was experienced for fat cattle, particularly the heavier classes of bullocks. Prices showed little change from June, but tended to be easier at the end of the month due to lower fixed prices in Great Britain. Strong stores were in limited demand. Demand and prices were disappointing for thin cattle and young stock. The trade in springers and cows was limited and prices irregular. Heifers suitable for breeding were in quiet request. Sheep.—The general health of flocks was satisfactory and the condition was up to normal for the season. The demand for fat sheep and lambs continued steady around previous rates, but prices tended to be easier towards the close of the month. Fat sheep realized from 5s. 6d. to 6s. 6d., and fat lambs 2s. 6d. to 4s. each. Trade in store sheep showed little change. Wool.—Prices improved slightly, long wool making up to 3s. 6d. per lb. Galway wool 1s. 6d.; Down 1s. 4d. to 1s. 6d.; Cheviot 1s. 3d. to 1s. 4d.; and Mountain up to 1s. 3d. Prices rates were subject to the usual deductions for unwashed fleeces. Flies on offer at fairs and markets in July were in more limited numbers than during the preceding month and sales of finished lots showed a big reduction compared with July, 1940. Prices for bacon were from 107s. to 108s. per cwt., dead weight, or from 80s. to 82s. approximately on the live weight basis. Rates for porkers ranged from 91/6 to 93/- per cwt. dead weight. Bonhams were in plentiful supply and generally met a good trade but were occasionally disposed of only at low prices. Lady Saves Two Men From Drowning.

Miss Elizabeth Moore, Tramore, was the central figure in a thrilling drama enacted at the Co. Waterford seaside resort on Sunday morning last.

BROTHER TO RESCUE.

The sea was strong at the time, which rendered Miss Moore's task all the more complicated, but, fortunately, her brother, Mr. Sam Moore, who is attached to the Provincial Bank, from Enniscorthy, arrived on the scene, and enabled Miss Moore to complete her courageous and exciting double rescue.

New Traffic Regulations.

Waterford and Kilkenny are to have one-way streets. Both cities will have a number of regular bus stopping places and car-parking banks, but in several streets no waiting period will be permitted, while in others motor vehicles may not be left unattended in the daytime for longer than 30 minutes.

SERIOUS FIRE AT DEERPARK.

A further unfortunate happening was added to the list of fire-outbreaks which occurred at Lismore recently, when a very serious conflagration broke out on the farm of Mr. Patrick Ducey, at Deerpark, Sunday last. The outbreak was discovered late in the morning. Help was immediately summoned, and military, L.D.F. and Gardaí were quickly on the scene.
