ALLEGED OVERCHARGING FOR TEA AT NEW ROSS.—I regard this case as very serious," said District Judge Barry at New Ross on Wednesday, when Edward Colfer, a prospector of South Street, New Ross, was charged: (1) With selling tea at 4/- per lb. (2) supplying more tea than was allowed by the Rationing Order, and (3) failing to keep a register of his sugar stocks. Defendant said he bought two chests of tea at 3/6 per lb. and one chest at 3/- per lb. He wrote the Department saying the tea was of extra quality and was expected to sell at 3/4 per lb. A sentence of one month was imposed on the first summons, a fine of £10 on the second, and a fine of £5 on the third. A stay of one week, pending an appeal, was granted.

RED CROSS WASTE PAPER COLLECTION.—Householders are reminded that their waste paper, rags, etc., will be collected on Monday next, the 30th March.

RED CROSS DIVISIONS.—We hear that there was a very encouraging attendance at the Technical School last Wednesday night, and that the strength of the Ladies Division is now almost fifty. On the other hand few men were present and the male division is very far from adequate. In a town the size of Dungarvan there is no reason why the numbers in both divisions should not be considerably augmented and it is hoped that next Wednesday night will see many new.

WEST DIV. G.A.A. NOTES.

(By AN RINAIDHE) SPLENDID MINOR FOOTBALLERS—Those who had the good luck to be present at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday afternoon, witnessed the exhibition of Gaelic football. The minors from Cuthal Brugha's and Brickey Rangers' clubs are certainly to be congratulated on their display. The fielding and kicking of the thirty players, the minor football selectors believe Fitzie himself in that regard, could have got at least half a dozen names of local players between both teams. Cuthal Brugha's deserved their win but the Rangers could count themselves unlucky that one of the goals scored against them was scored. The ball seemed to be going well outside the posts but it swerved at the last moment and left the goals standing. Declan O'Sullivan made a perfect referee for the game and kept the playing action at a good pace throughout. The challenge hurling game between Dungarvan and Brickey was somewhat of a surprise. I lose a lot of pleasure in the game if the players come out with long trousers. It should be a point of honour with teams to be properly tugged for all games. The Rangers won by two points in a fairly even game.

DUNGARVAN MINOR HURLERS IN FINE FETTER.—At Tournaneena on Sunday, Dungarvan defeated Four-Mile-Water minor hurlers by a fairly big score. Dungarvan struck a great day and everything went right for them. The new team from Ballymac are not to be discouraged by their display. Many teams will suffer a greater defeat if Dungarvan strike that form for the rest of the championships. I was impressed by the size and speed of those Four-Mile-Water lads who started the last whistle. A lot of them are green at hurling but this can be overcome. Plenty of challenge games will change all that and if they hold together they will bring honour to their parish and help perhaps to their county. All the congratulations James, on a great effort.

MINORS CLASH AT DUNGARVAN.—Fitzie, flushed with Sunday's victory, is all out to beat St. Augustine's minor hurlers on Sunday next. He has plenty players on his list and he knows how to get as many more. The village boys are not worried about this game they say. They believe in the beating of the "Brughas" in the village any day. From what I have heard of it, I am inclined to think they will surprise Cuthal Brugha on Sunday. Hurling is a big game in the village and there is a vrn for the St. Augustine's team.

AT MODELIGO.—The Fingis Rovers footballers meet the boys in the first round contest. Both teams are new and any side can win. There will be keen rivalry to make the game worth going to see. G.A.A. games have come on in this district within the past few years, and if Sunday is any way fine, a good crowd is expected. The Modeligo-Affane combination will be a tough handful for Fingis Rovers. They, however, have hope of having some new players in action for this game. James Moloney will be in charge.

LISMORE DEBIT BALLYDUFF.—In a one-sided game at Lismore on Sunday, Lismore easily defeated Ballyduff in a first round football game. Lismore took an early lead and never lost it. Ballyduff never seemed to get going and there was no question of the result from the start. There was one thing I noticed about the fixture and that was the number of 'would be' spectators who had not even a "hanner" to pay at the gate. Some of these gentlemen might be better than they are to see a G.A.A. game. They are not ashamed to come along with their money and broke" story to the gate collectors on a Sunday afternoon, but later that evening they are "talkies." You can easily recognize these gentlemen on a Sunday afternoon when a G.A.A. fixture is held in the local field, by the "back-door" entrance method. They will be seen cutting around the back way to try and slip in by some unwatched gap. Watch out for them on the next day of a match at Lismore. They usually wear the very latest styles from London.

TALLOW MEET TOURIN.—Tourin started out last year with every hope of winning a junior football championship. They finished up by winning a junior hurling one. Still I think they have hopes of proving last year's football form all wrong. Since they became a senior club they have been finding their way in Tourin. Nothing succeeds like success" is an old saying and Tourin are finding the O'Sunday, when they meet Tallow in junior football, they should be by no means a better team than last year. Ask what of the local lads? Tallow were never a great football club; the hurling came first always. Still, the "fiddlers" Tallow putting some in the "field sense" got from playing under the name of Tallow. They are now a better team than last year. Ask what of the local lads? JUNIOR FOOTBALL CHALLENGE.—Before the minor hurling match, Cuthal Brugha v. St. Augustine's at Dungarvan on Sunday next, Kilgobnet will have a "Kingdom" friendly football challenge. The game starts at 2.15 p.m. sharp (S.T.), and Willie Barron has got a fine string of footballers ready from the "Blues" to give "Bobbles" team a really hard game. I hear that Kilgobnet will have a "Kingdom" player on their line-out. This should prove a nice curtain raiser to the minor hurling game.

To Mr. Farrell—He knew what a check reins is for, he would use one if a horse was going too quick. They ploughed for 20 rods but the horse was stopping and backing.

Mr. G. Quinn, defendant, in reply to Mr. Farrell, described the sale of the horse at the Fair. He had not known Mulcahy before that. He said he would give whatever trial he was required but he would be there himself. When he went out to Mulcahy's, he told Mulcahy that he had the horse ruined and also give him the horse ploughing the day before he sold him.

To Mr. Williams—Mulcahy did not mention ploughing, but asked would he pull a swing. Witness told Mulcahy that the horse ploughed, harrowed and carted. He did not know the horse was wearing a good plough horse, but this was a good plough horse. It was the bad handling and bad tacking that ruined the horse. Witness too well bred.

To the Justice—Witness told Mulcahy he was a good horse to plough and harrow. Thomas Fitzgerald said he saw this animal ploughing for Quinn a fortnight before he sold him. He was a good plough horse. Declan Morrissey having corroborated the previous witness.

The Justice said in his opinion Mulcahy got every opportunity to have the horse tried. He was tried to harness and ploughed. He could have the horse tried at ploughing. When the horse was in Quinn's hands he ploughed and ploughed well.

The case was adjourned to work on the land. They coaxed him but it was no good. Witness went to Quinn's house and saw the horse following Saturday with his own horse. He refused to plough with Quinn's horse. Quinn said the horse was spoiled. Witness had the horse since but did not trouble with him.

To Mr. Farrell—It was a hilly field the horse was being ploughed but they started at the lower end which is level. They ploughed, the hilly part of the field. On a trial day witness did not ask for Quinn's horse. Quinn said the horse was spoiled. Witness had the horse since but did not trouble with him.

Mr. Williams, solr.—We admit the animal will do everything but plough. To Mr. Farrell—When Quinn came to witness' place he objected to the horse being ploughed. When he put his hand on the collar the horse backed away. Quinn did not object to the size of the sod being turned and he did not say you have ruined the horse and you can now give him to the tinkers. Denis O'Meara said he is a ploughman for 40 years and now worked for Mulcahy. He had heard Mulcahy's evidence which is correct. He remembers trying the horse to the plough on Monday but he would not pull; they tried him every way, as regards the collar, a working horse will work for any collar. Where they were ploughing was downhill, what a pony would do. It was a shabby land. There was never a
