GAELIC NOTES (SENIOR CLUBS)

By "T. O'Donnell"

Kilrossanty and the Briceys hold pride of place from this date, Sunday, May 3rd, when they meet at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, in the first round of the senior football county championship. Kilrossanty are taking this matter seriously and judging by their display on Sunday last against their neighbours, Faha, in a challenge match at Leamybrien, they are strong contenders for this year's championship. Although sport the services of Paddy Lynch, Day, Wally, Marling, Fitzgerald, Milk, Whelan, Paddy, Wade and Kirwan 49, they defeated a good Faha junior team. Although suffering from injuries "Plus" Dalton turned out and played in goal, and even though he left in a soft one, he made some very fine clearances. I cannot, however, understand why, last year, "Duke" Yeats failed to get his place on the Kilrossanty-Pike team. I came away from Leamybrien on Sunday, fully convinced that he is a real "sweet" player. His handling and fielding were superb and his opportunism around goal was really lovely to watch. His brother, Paddy, turned out on Sunday last, and another brother, Tom, they made a fine combination. Thomas McKeown came home especially for a try out against Faha and I must certainly say the army has agreed with him. He is in a grand way and what he showed up at full-back, and a feature of the game was his lengthy clearances. When under pressure...

Stradbally was just wonderful in the match against Slahilly. He was in a grand way and what he showed up at full-back, and a feature of the game was his lengthy clearances. When under pressure...

WEST DIV. G.A.A. NOTES.

(By AN RUNAIDHE)

Visit Clashmore on Sunday.—Gaelic football fans will have an attractive fixture at Clashmore on Sunday, April 20th, when they meet the local team in the home venue. Aglish selectors were not too happy with the display given by their trial team at Modeligo on Sunday last and as a result they have been on the look out for some new talent to fill some key positions. I would not be surprised if some of the disbanded Cappoquin football team were seen in the Aglish colours on the 20th. The Aglish Committee are unable to play Kilrossanty as they are determined on having a win. The Clashmore Club have, I am told, plenty of material to pick from. The fact that some of their club troubles find it hard to decide on the final fixture. Last year, Clashmore were the only team who played in the championships and with an improved side they are confident they will make a good showing this year. It would be hard to pick the winner on Sunday.

Knockmore Unable to Field Out.
Those who intended going to Fourin on Sunday will be disappointed to learn that Knockmore are unable to field out. The reason given by the Knockmore secretary is that several of their players are ill and as the club have a bare 11 players, it is impossible for them to play. The match has been called off by the Divisional Secretary and will be discussed at the next Board meeting.

Tallow's Attraction.—Moorehill and Balyleuff travel to Tallow on Sunday to play off the junior hurling fixture. Last year they met again and several months later after objections, counter-objections, investigations and appeals were replied, the game. I hope Sunday will see the result of it on the field. Both sides are determined to settle it one way or another this year and "Bill" Sheehan will be in charge of the whistle to their fair play.

Stradbally Goals Get a Change.
The Stradbally football public will have a change of game on Sunday when Faha and St. Augustine meet in hurling in the village field. A by-side were on both sides in the week, but they have got the team together and have high hopes of victory. I am told that several of the minor players, including Sean O'Brien will be on the selection. There is enough material in the village if properly used to win out. Faha have got a very useful string together and the fact that the Easterns have been allowed to transfer of Sean O'Keefe and Sean Balpin will help them out. Stradbally Club will be in charge and have a fair field for the players. Jackie O'Riordan, N.T. will act as referee.

With The Gallies.—One thing that the Gallies Club has done to bring the country venues into their own, Jamie Moloney, the secretary of Fourinwater Club, is a great believer in only Moloney travelling and his Club agreed to play the "Rockies" at their home venue, Crough, Colliery. Anyhow the local club should appreciate the fact by having everything in order. Sean Callaghan will have a busy day with the team and will attend to see the game. The local lads with home advantage should make Fourinwater go all out to win.

At Dungarvan.—Cathal Brugha minor footballers take on the Blues in the second round of the championships. The "Blues" beat the Briceys Rangers and Dungarvan put out Abbeyside in a rather poor game. Judging on the previous display Cathal Brugha should have a win but things don't always turn out as expected. I know Dungarvan officials who would not mind having a small bet on their team.

Postponement.—Due to illness among Durrus players they are unable to play Kilrossanty as they are determined on having a win. The Clashmore Club have, I am told, plenty of material to pick from. The fact that some of their club troubles find it hard to decide on the final fixture. Last year, Clashmore were the only team who played in the championships and with an improved side they are confident they will make a good showing this year. It would be hard to pick the winner on Sunday.

Sunday's Results (Co. Championship).—At Dungarvan, M.F. St. Abigail's, 2-4; Stradbally, 0-1. M.H. Dungarvan, 8-8; St. Augustine's, 0-0. At Fourin, J.H. 2-5; Tallow, 0-0. At Modeligo, J.P. Slahilly, 0-0; Briceys, 0-2.

Sunday's Fixtures.—At Dungarvan, M.F. Cathal Brugha vs. Dungarvan at 4 p.m., ref. O'Sullivan. At Fourin, J.H. Fourinwater vs. Fourin at 4 p.m., ref. D. Kelly. At Tallow, J.H. Moorehill vs. Balyleuff at 4 p.m., ref. W. Sheehan. At Clashmore, J.P. Clashmore vs. Abbeyside at 4 p.m., ref. D. Kelly. Challenge game, J.F. At Dungarvan, Kilrossanty vs. Dungarvan, 4.15, in place of championship game.

MILOR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Minor Football—St. Abigail's, 2-4; Stradbally, 0-1.
Minor Hurling—Dungarvan, 8-7; St. Augustine's, 0-0.

Two championship games were played at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan on Sunday, when St. Abigail's (Kilgobnet) defeated Stradbally in minor football (first round) and Dungarvan had an easy victory over St. Augustine's in their minor hurling group final. St. Abigail's now meet Faha Rangers in the group final.

The minor football was more closely contested than the scores indicate and for 50 minutes was either side's game. Kilgobnet, however, in a strong finish piled up a nine-point lead. The winning team, which was drawn from Kilgobnet, Slahilly G.A.A. and Faha Rangers, were best steered by S. Condon, A. Barron, P. Duddy, M. Desford, S. Callahan and R. McArthur. The Stradbally side were much lighter than their opponents but played a very clever game. Lucy, F. Whelan, R. Skehan, C. Coffey and J. Murphy were prominent on the field.

Kilgobnet, meanwhile, against the breeze had a 2-point lead at the interval. In the 2nd half, on resuming Stradbally had the better of the exchanges for the first quarter but failed to score. St. Abigail's got full share up in the 2nd half and scored 1 goal and five points. Final score: St. Abigail's, 2-4; Stradbally, 0-1.

Mr. Dec. Sullivan refereed.
St. Abigail's—R. Condon, S. Condon, P. Duddy, S. Callahan, P. Barron, W. Tobin, A. McCarthy, S. Callahan, M. Desford, J. Ryan, E. Ryan, J. Callahan, M. Kieley, S. Callahan and J. McGrath.
Stradbally—J. Hogan, P. Lucy, M. Power, J. White, M. Flynn, T. Daly, M. Coffey, M. Salmon, E. Morrissey, F. Plean, J. Murphy and J. Harris.

In the minor hurling Dungarvan played with the breeze had 4 goals and 6 points in the first half, while St. Augustine's failed to score. On resuming, Dungarvan added 2-1 to their half time lead and held their opponents scoreless. Final score: Dungarvan, 8-7; St. Augustine's, 0-0.
Mr. Wm. Barron refereed.

J. Goode, B. Moloney, T. Cashin, P. Walsh, P. Stack and J. Norris were best of the winners, while Sean O'Brien, Twoby, Foley, Seatty and M. O'Gr. the pick of the St. Augustine's team.

VALUATION APPEALS.

The Commissioner of Valuations wrote acknowledging appeals lodged by Messrs. J. F. Moloney, Quay St.; Patrick Neale, 37, O'Connell St.; J. Crotty, 25, Mary Street, and Matthew Schmitt, 21, Mary St.

DEFECTIVE RANGE.

Mr. Bowen, B.S., wrote—Your letter of 2nd inst. relative to range in No. 66 Loughmore. In this case a range was fixed some time ago, the tenant party paying half the cost, it appears the range was never satisfactory and will not function properly.

DEFECTIVE SEWER.

Mr. Bowen further wrote with reference to a complaint of the Augustinian College that the main sewer may be blocked stating he is in doubt as to this. The trouble has, at any rate, disappeared for the present, and if further trouble appears he will have this sewer opened. This is an old masonry sewer of short length and a new piped sewer would be desirable.

DESLAND WATER WORKS.

Acknowledging the Council's letter of the 25th ult. regarding the exploratory works at the above, the Department wrote stating the Minister is desirous of assisting as far as possible, but it would not be open to him to insert any conditions in a specification of the proposed works such as the Council suggests.

It is understood that the Council's Consulting Engineers submitted to the Council on the 13th May last a memorandum setting out, in connection with the exploratory works, a statement of the ascertained circumstances in which the contractor would be considered responsible for defects.

The Council should, therefore, consider the matter further on the basis of that memorandum, the terms of which, it is understood, the contractor has agreed to. If the exploratory works show that no responsibility for the defects rests upon the contractors, the Consulting Engineers would have to advise the Council as to their position.

Chairman—This is a reply to our resolution of some weeks ago protesting against certain items in the specification for the exploratory works, viz., £24 for contractor's supervision; contractor's profit at 25 per cent, including over time works, £33 15s.; clerk-of-works, 4 weeks at £8 6s.; and general travelling expenses, £45 4s.; consultants fees and expenses, £42.

Mr. McCarthy—We are still no further. Clerk—No. Mr. Crotty—We are back again where we were six months ago. Chairman—It is clear that we will have to go on with the exploratory work or scrap the scheme. If we decided to go on with it, we should make a start while we are waiting for the Council's decision.

Mr. Crotty—The No. 1 estimate will take six months. Chairman—The test will only take some three weeks.

PAYSHEETS. J. Bowen, B.S., wrote—If I am in receipt of your letter of 11th inst with copy of resolution relative of paysheets.

"I think the Council is not aware of the facts and the difficulties involved. In October last the Council, agreed with the Borough Surveyor's approval, that the Council's men should be paid weekly, the week to end on Saturday, and that the payments be passed by the Council at their next meeting held on the following Friday. This must in itself be considered as going very far to meet the requirements of a few people, instead of having the usual fortnightly payments as is usual with public bodies.

The next step was at the commencement of the "Marsh" Scheme (Relief Work) early in December, when at the Council's wish the paysheet for relief workers was prepared over the week end, and handed to the Clerk early on the following Monday, to enable the Council to pass the payments on Monday evening. This was agreed to by the Borough Surveyor, and no complaint was made of the inconvenience or time involved.

The preparation of these sheets takes some considerable time, on the foreman in charge, and on the Clerk of Works. The checking and certification involves several hours' work on the Borough Surveyor and his personal staff.

"With relief works the regulations provide for numerous farms to be filled up both before, during, and after the work in hand. All these farms are based on the week ending on Saturday, and include for particulars of time and earnings, and dates for each man employed. Returns of expenditure each week under headings for wages and all other items, and statements as to the detailed operation of rotation for the men.

In addition, the insurance cards are based on a week ending on Saturday, and the checking of this item alone would be a very troublesome operation for a week ending on any other day than Saturday, and more particularly with the type of employment concerned.

The Borough Surveyor is employed for part time only, and the extent of supervision on the Council's work has been enormously more than would be accorded by any Engineer in private practice, as your Council must fully appreciate, while the fees for this work are only about one-half of the standard fees. The Borough Surveyor is generally not available for work in Dungarvan on Friday.

"If the Council are prepared to pay the increased costs, an arrangement might be made to meet any wishes to an extent. This would involve a double paysheet for each week, one to end on Saturday, and the other on Wednesday, and the sheets of the first period be returned to the Borough Surveyor for checking the foreman and Clerk of Works should prepare the sheets on Wednesday afternoon, so that work should be suspended for 4 1/2 days, and the maximum time for fusion in the first sheet would be 7 days. These sheets would be dealt with here on Thursday. The time required for the Borough Surveyor, and his staff. The remuneration for this will be 7 1/2 per cent on the cost of the work. The whole arrangement will be subject to the concurrence of the Minister for Local Government and Public Health.

"I would point out that I consider this arrangement totally unnecessary and undesirable. The other Public Bodies here pay fortnightly, even on relief works. The arrangements which prevailed at the Marsh Scheme worked very well, and there should be no need to depart from them. Furthermore, the raising of questions of this nature has an adverse effect on the execution of the works, as no one in the Council's interest and might easily lead to the discontinuation of the work or militate against the receipt of further grants. The simplest solution would be for the Council to hold its ordinary meeting earlier each week.

The Council's order of 10th April, 1942, as included in your letter of 11th inst., is entirely ultra vires having regard to the terms of the Borough Surveyor's appointment.

Mr. McCarthy—I don't agree at all with that, it gives me the impression that he is not able to deal with the work of the Council and if so, he should give some other one a chance. The paysheet should be passed on Friday and the men should be paid on Saturdays.

Mr. Crotty—Mr. Bowen says the insurance week ends on Saturday, it means there should be double insurance if the paysheet was made up on Thursday.

Mr. McCarthy—The men on the Marsh Scheme, Council Home, and the men when under Mr. McGrath, were all paid on the Saturday.

Mr. Crotty—Mr. Bowen is also prepared to do so at increased remuneration. Mr. McCarthy—He wants jam on it. Chairman—It is for the Council to decide. Mr. McCarthy—We should write and tell him we want the paysheets for Friday night. Any man will want his wages on a Saturday.

Mr. Crotty—Mr. Bowen is prepared to do so at 7 1/2 per cent. Mr. McCarthy—Are you prepared to do that? There are many men, even men belonging to the town who might be glad to come back and take up this job. Mr. McCarthy—We are still no further. Clerk—No. Mr. Crotty—We are back again where we were six months ago. Chairman—It is clear that we will have to go on with the exploratory work or scrap the scheme. If we decided to go on with it, we should make a start while we are waiting for the Council's decision.

KILMACHTOMAS NOTES

R.I.P. One of that fine old type of Irish Catholic womanhood, a fluent speaker of her native language, and an intelligent narrator of the folklore of the district, Mrs. Hanora Veale, widow, died on Sunday last at the residence of her cousin, Mrs. O'Meara, Templevrick, Bonmahon, after a somewhat protracted illness and at an advanced age. Deceased had numerous relatives and connections who will miss her kindly humorous manner, and her interesting narratives of the olden days, of historic and genealogical interest. Respected and esteemed by all who knew her, a practical time was paid to her memory in the very large procession that accompanied the remains to St. Anne's Church, Ballynaneen, on Monday evening, and who attended the interment (following the celebration of Requiem Mass) at the adjoining cemetery on Tuesday. The prayers at the graveside were read by the Rev. P. F. Walsh, C.C., Stradally. (American papers please copy).

Gaelic Gatherings. The summer-like sun-warmth of Sunday last was tempered by a playful breeze and the day must be voted well-nigh ideal for Gaelic games. At Leamington the kindly led by Mr. Tenyson Boyle), sterling County Board Secretary, Dec. Goode, was the masterly arbiter of the Killrossney v. Faha junior football friendly. A good local gathering witnessed and right well enjoyed the test, which was in the favour of Killrossney by 1-3 to 1-0.

At Darrow (in field kindly lent by Mr. Laurence Walsh), P. O. "Aerobics" Kiehl had charge of the return match between the Coher Ramblers (Ballynaneen) and Darrow. The Ramblers, who were without the services of five or six of their usual players, put up a stout show for some forty minutes, after which they faded out and were worsted by a wide margin. At Ballyduff-Kilmacduff, Paddy Donnelly, on the local H. & F. Club) refereed two matches with wonted ability. The attendance was in keeping with the fine gates always registered at this admirably kept venue. The Eastern Divisional junior football league match between Newtown and Dunhill was won in convincing fashion by Newtown. Dunhill played their customary support game, but their marksmen were unable to cope with Newtown's doughty defenders. In the initial moiety Richie O'Connell guided for Newtown, and for the remainder of the second half Larry Veale (capt.) pointed from, off a free, and James O'Connell, the best goal. Result: Newtown, 2-1; Dunhill, nil.

The hardest fought and most exciting junior hurling clash seen of late was followed—the meeting of Erin's Hope (Kilcanave) and Butterlin in the Infirmity cup competition. The contest, which went the honours even mark—Erin's Hope, 3-3; Butterlin, 2-3.

The Kilmacduff and Darrow junior football teams will have big followings at Frater Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday (Saturday) when they oppose in the opening round of this year's Western Divisional Championship competition. The Coher Ramblers combination are fast favourites, of course, but fans can count on Dick Kiehl, Mick Halpin and Co. to make it a ding-dong struggle for supremacy.

Considerable interest is centred in the Faha v. Abbeydale junior hurling test (also a first round Western Divisional Championship game) to be played at Stradally to-morrow. With the sets equally keen on, and confident of victory, a rousing battle seems assured. The Coher Ramblers will serve as a curtain raiser to the main contest. Mr. Sean O'Malley, M.T. Kilmachthomas (hon. treas. to the Co. Board), will referee the two tussles. The first round of the Gaelic Cup (which was postponed from the 3rd inst. owing to unforeseen circumstances) was held at the club's training ground on Friday night of last week. Rev. P. F. Walsh (hon. pres. of the Club), presided at the function, and there was a very large attendance of ticket-holders. The results were as follows: 1st prize (21), Mr. Peter Burton, Glasatooka; Clones-Power; 2nd prize, (200 cigars), Miss Kitty Ryan, c/o Mrs. K. O'Donoghue (merchant) Main Street; 3rd prize, (100 cigars), Mr. William Lenihan, Newtown, do. A special prize of 50 cigars to the first prize winner was given by Mr. Thomas Dunne, Robertstown, do. The event panned out an unqualified success and at the close of the draw, Mr. Walsh, speaking on behalf of the club, warmly congratulated the winners and thanked all who had purchased tickets.

LUCK. Although no mid-Waterfordian benefited by the latest Sweep, not a few of the usually well-informed punters of these parts profited on the result of Wednesday's big race at the Curragh.

A LOVABLE YOUNG PRIZE. Here's earnestly wishing length of fruitful years in holy priesthood to the Rev. Patrick O'Reilly, who has just taken up an appointment in the Arch-Diocese of Liverpool (from whence he will be recalled in due time to minister in his native diocese. TALLOW NOTES

G.A.A. At the home venue on Sunday, Tourin defeated Tallow juniors in the first round of the county championship after a well-contested game. The final score was 2-5 to 2-2. Tallow forced the pace from the throw-in but were unlucky in not finding the net. From a 70 Tourin opened the scoring by securing a goal. Tallow shortly equalised for Mulcahy. Tourin then got into their stride and at half-time led by 2-4 to 1-0. On resumption Tallow came with a great dash and soon raised the green flag. Further efforts, however, went un-awarded, and Tourin ran out winners on the above score. For Tourin, M. Fives, O'Donoghue, McCarthy, Mehan and Lewis were seen to advantage, while for the locals Bill Sheehan, Pad Malone, Norris, Cashman Cronin and McGrath were the best on view; young Mulcahy who played minor for Waterford last year kept a good goal. M. Regan, Limerick, refereed.

At Tallow on Sunday next Ballyduff and Moorehill will cross canons in the first round of the county championships. Last year these teams incidentally came out of the draw, as did the venue, Moorehill won the game and Ballyduff protested. At Tallow on Sunday the game should prove a spectacular one. All Moorehill Gaelic and those from the adjoining districts are billed to attend to cheer the green and gold, while Ballyduff, the more numerous, are turning up in full strength to encourage the reds to repeat last year's victory. Both teams have been hard training and will be at their best. So granted a fine day a record attendance will be rewarded by an enthusiastic and well-attended secure victory.

MEETING OF PARISH COUNCIL. Very Rev. Fr. Kehoe, P.P., presided at a recent meeting of the Parish Council held at the Temperance Hall. The members present were: Dr. O'Mahoney, D. Sheehan, M.P.S.I., T. Reynolds, J. F. O'Keefe, T. J. Keniry, W. Sheehan, P. F. Walsh, hon. sec., representatives of clonodiers, D. Davis, P. Sheehan, J. Cunningham. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and approved, the hon. secretary read correspondence arising out of the latter. He was instructed to invite the parish to be invited to supply of seeds; tenders to be sent on receipt to the Secretary of Department for approval. The plot-holders were appointed to meet the plot-holders for the purpose of completing the arrangements for the allocation of seeds etc. The plot-holders' representatives informed the meeting that all the plots had been ploughed and harrowed and planting had commenced in progress in the course of the coming weeks.

At last week's market the following prices were realised: farmers' butter, 1/2, 1/3 pre lb; creamery do., 1/7; chickens, 1/3 old hen, 1/2 eggs, 3/6; potatoes, 1/- per stone; broccolis, 2/- 3/4 doz; shubarb, 4d and 6d; bundles, onions, 6/-; 7/6 per stone, cabbages, a small supply met a brisk demand.

Gaelic Concert at Half-Way Hall.

Sunday night last witnessed another successful Gaelic function at Halla Droim Ghaire (as we will call it in future). The hall was packed to capacity when Padraig O'Fiannghusa rose to deliver the opening address in Irish and in English. Having extended a cordial welcome to all, artists and audience, he went on to refer to the long and noble history of the language movement yet in the parishes covered by Craobh Aodh O'Donnahill. He said that the facilities for learning the language were there if they wanted to avail of them, "but," he said, "we must have courage and patience, and a will to persevere to the end." There were some, he said, who would not become Gaelic but were endeavouring to postpone the day of a Gaelicised Ireland. They were attempting the impossible, striving to stem the current of Irish history, a thing which no generation could succeed in doing. Reminding his hearers of the proximity of the anniversary of the 1619 rising, he said, "our thoughts go out to those of our fellow-Gaels who are enslaved beyond the imaginary border, and who even to this day are doing man's work and are to become Gaelic in speech and manners and customs. "We can only hope to present," he concluded, "this day to persevere to the end." On Sunday night next a grand social will be held at the Moorehill hall. A very successful ceilidhe was held on Sunday night last under the auspices of the Tourin G.A.A. Club, and was attended by a very large crowd from all the surrounding districts, who one and all voted it a most enjoyable night. Splendid Irish dance music was supplied by the Lismore Ceilidhe Band.

On Sunday night the annual drawing of prizes in aid of the hurling club will be held at Moorehill hall, and all those who have counterfoils are requested to return same by Saturday next. If you have not secured a ticket, do so before it is too late, and you may win a valuable prize. The drawing will be held at 8 p.m. on Sunday next. The prizes are: 1st prize, a grand tour; 2nd prize, a grand tour; 3rd prize, a grand tour; 4th prize, a grand tour; 5th prize, a grand tour; 6th prize, a grand tour; 7th prize, a grand tour; 8th prize, a grand tour; 9th prize, a grand tour; 10th prize, a grand tour.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT

Three millers and fifteen farmers were before Mr. G. P. Farrell, District Court Justice at Youghal on Friday morning when he dealt with breaches of Emergency Powers Orders, 1941, and the Agricultural Produce (Cereals) Act, 1933, in connection with the milling of wheat to animals.

The defendants were: Robert K. Ronayne, Ardara, Youghal, and James H. Hogan, millers, who were charged with manufacturing foodstuffs containing wheat, and selling wheat without a licence; John Dunne, Ladiesbridge, Castlemary, milling wheat without a licence; Patrick Connolly, Killybeggs, manufacturing animal foodstuffs containing wheat, and the following who were charged with selling wheat to animals: Margaret Coleman; Jeremiah Coleman; Bridget Coleman and Stephen Mannix, all of Lismacrua, Killybeggs; John Hanlon, Ballynakibole, Knockadon, Ballymacoda; Thomas Treacy, Knocknashagh, Killybeggs; Mrs. Catherine Aherne, do.; Edmond Dunne, Drishane, Killybeggs; Matthew Godsil, Ballintotig, Killybeggs; Robert Kennedy, Castlemary; Dungarvey; David O'Keefe, do.; John Hayes, Ballyhonock, Castlemary; Robert Hennessy, Castlemary; Dungarvey; Richard Foley, Knockmote, Youghal.

Mr. F. V. Buckley, B.L., who instructed by Mr. D. Casey, State Solr., appeared for the State, said the offences were committed in the months of October, November and December last. Ronayne and Hogan were the owners of two mills in Killybeggs.

In most of the cases certain mixtures containing wheat, oats and barley were taken by the farmers to their mills where they were ground and returned to the farmers, who in turn fed the products to their animals and poultry. Largely the wheat and barley the farmers were contained in their own admissions to the Garda.

Three of the farmers (Joimaha) were members of one family who admitted having fed whole wheat mixed with oats and barley to pigs. Proof will consist generally of the books of the millers who kept records of the transactions notwithstanding the fact that they were not authorized to mill the cereals mentioned in the charge. It might be suggested that the defendants were acting in mitigation of their offences but if the court decided to convict, that course could not be accepted for the two substantial reasons, namely, that it must have been known to each of the defendants that his action was illegal and that persons must be taught that all available wheat was now required for human consumption.

It is added that the safety of the nation is to be maintained, and having regard to the present bread shortage, the feeding of wheat and oats to animals must be regarded as a heinous offence involving the maximum penalty.

In the case against Robert K. Ronayne, Sergeant C. Eddie, swore the defendant, when asked if he had a permit to mill wheat, that he did not think he required it as he was a registered miller and that he was not aware that wheat was milled at his place. Defendants' accounts books (produced) show the quantities of wheat and oats which had been ground at the mill.

In reply to Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., for the defendant, witness said that the charge for milling as shown by the books was one penny per stone, which was, witness admitted, the price charged for grinding the cereals for animal feeding. The price charged for human consumption was two pence per stone.

The books contained entries showing that nine stone of wheat and twenty-one stone of barley were milled for Thomas Treacy and twenty stone of wheat and forty-five stone of oats for Mrs. Coleman.

Guard J. Meloy swore that in a statement, defendant said that, as a licensed miller, he was under the impression that he was entitled to mill all kinds of grain brought to him and to make whole meal flour for any person. Flourmilling was carried on at his mill for some time.

Miss Marie Murphy, Dept. of Industry and Commerce, and Stephen Murphy, Department of Supplies, Dublin, gave evidence that defendant was not a licensed miller and did not hold a permit under the Emergency Powers Order to carry on milling.

George G. Kirby, Milling Inspector, Department of Agriculture, swore that barley was ground in a mill which was required for animal feeding only and nothing else.

In the charge against Patrick Connolly, who it was stated, was a charge hand at Mr. Ronayne's Mills, Walshe, defendant produced a statement by defendant in which he admitted he ground for Jeremiah Coleman, forty-five stone of oats and one barrel of wheat from five barrels of wheat he had already in the mill. Both cereals were milled together to grind flour. In evidence, defendant admitted grinding wheat for the Coleman but he did not think it was any harm. The cereals ground for Treacy were ground for human consumption. His employer, Mr. Ronayne, who was in the mill, attended the mill only periodically and was unaware that witness had done the grinding.

Mr. Buckley, witness said he did not know of the existence of the Order of 1941, and he did not take the trouble to learn anything about the various Orders relating to milling. He admitted mixing wheat and oats for the Colemans and Dunne only.

Mr. Keane submitted that the Act under which the Emergency Powers Order, 1941, had been made was due to expire on September 2nd, 1941, and that the Act had been renewed and existed longer than the Act. Although the Act had been renewed there was no provision in it extending the Order.

Mr. Buckley replied that as the original Act had been extended by a continuing Act, all Orders made under it continued to be in force.

The District Justice over-ruled Mr. Keane's point but said that he would state a case on it if asked to do so.

Mr. Keane replied that he would consider that matter.

In the case of James H. Hogan, Sergeant Eddie produced a statement in which the defendant admitted not having a permit to grind wheat, but said he did not think that he required one as he had been given his business was chiefly that of a miller. Of his 16 employees only Foley was engaged at the grinding business.

Evidence was given by the farmers that the grain supplied by them to the millers was unfit for human consumption.

In the case of Jeremiah Cronin, Guard Maurice Keane, Killybeggs, produced a statement of defendant in which he said that on the 11th of November this year he brought 8 stone of wheat screenings to Hogan's to be milled for feeding chickens and food.

The District Justice said there was no evidence that the produce was fed to animals, and dismissed the case.

Mr. W. J. Barry, solicitor, for defendant, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

The charges against three mill owners, a mill manager, and fourteen farmers for illegal breaches of the Agricultural Produce (Cereals) Act, 1933, and Emergency Powers Order (No. 52) 1941, were heard at the District Court, Youghal, on Friday.

The defendants were Robert K. Ronayne, Ardara, Youghal, and James H. Hogan, Killybeggs, who were charged with the manufacture of animal foodstuffs containing wheat and oats, and with selling wheat and oats to animals without a licence.

Patrick Connolly, Ballyglassin, Killybeggs, mill manager, charged with manufacturing animal foodstuffs containing wheat and oats, and the following who were charged with feeding wheat to animals: Bridget Coleman, her husband Margaret and her son, John, all of Lismacrua, Killybeggs; Stephen Manning, same address; John Hanlon, Ballynakibole, Knockadon, Ballymacoda; Thos. Treacy, Knocknashagh, do.; Mrs. Catherine Aherne, same address; Edmond Dunne, Drishane, do.; Matthew Godsil, Ballintotig, Killybeggs; Robt. Buckley, Gurnacappal, Killybeggs; D. O'Keefe, same address; John Hayes, Ballyhonock, Castlemary; Rd. Hennessy, Castlemary, Dungarvey.

The cases against John Dunne, Ladiesbridge, Castlemary, and Jeremiah Cronin, Rath, Killybeggs, were disposed of on Friday.

The evidence on Saturday was concerned with the charges against the farmers.

In the charges against the Colemans it was admitted that approximately 40 stone of wheat, oats and barley were milled to their order in Ronayne's and Hogan's mills, and that the product was subsequently fed to pigs.

Mr. T. K. Keane, solicitor, on their behalf, admitted the offence. In the case of Maurice Hanlon it was stated that a quantity of wheat screenings, oats and barley had been milled and fed to animals.

Thomas Treacy admitted that the screenings left after threshing was sent to the mill and had been milled and used by him for animal feeding as well as for conversion into human food.

Similar evidence was submitted in the cases of Edmond Dunne, Matthew Godsil, Robert Buckley, Catherine Aherne, David O'Keefe, John Hayes, Rd. Hennessy, and Rd. Foley.

The charge against Stephen Manning was withdrawn when it was stated that he had merely given his sister, Mrs. Catherine Aherne, a bag of barley screenings, and that he himself had not got any cereals milled. The charges against Rd. Foley were dismissed as no evidence was tendered in support.

All the other cases the defence tendered was that the commodity milled and subsequently fed to animals by them was wheat which was known in the area as the screenings after threshing and considered unfit for human consumption.

On that Mr. George G. Kirby, milling inspector under the Department of Agriculture, gave evidence that those screenings contained a certain proportion of small wheat suitable for conversion into flour for human use. Machinery suitable for dealing with such small produce was in use in a number of mills. Anything that contained wheat was considered capable of being made into flour, and hence there was a grave discrepancy between the estimated yield and the returns of the wheat crop.

Thomas K. Steele, owner of a threshing set, called for the defence, said he was of opinion flour could not be made from wheat screenings, but mixed with barley or oats it was fit for animals. That was the general conception of it throughout the country.

Samples of screenings produced a certain proportion of wheat capable of conversion into flour. Mr. Keane said at the time at which the offences were committed there was no scare as to a wheat shortage, and the general opinion was that the yield would be sufficient to meet the country's needs.

On Mr. Keane's decision, the Justice said they were the first charges under the Order that came before him, and being under the Emergency Regulations were of a very important character, and very difficult questions of fact and of a technical nature were involved, so it was not easy to do full justice to all questions arising on a first hearing. In the matter of penalties it was not a simple matter to do justice fairly to the country at large on the one hand and to the defendants on the other. Generally speaking, there were some outstanding cases which were not dealt with first that at the time of these occurrences the position of the food situation was not so well appreciated as it is now. Secondly that the evidence was branded by the defendants themselves in their own evidence to the Garda and without which the cases could not have proceeded with. Thirdly, the question of the charges on the milling of wheat for animal consumption, and there was, however, only one case of fine wheat having been so used that concerned the defendant family, in which it had been admitted they had mixed fine wheat with grain for animal food. In all the other cases the wheat used for animal consumption was manufactured from the screenings of the threshings, but the quantities involved were small. Such wheat contained in these screenings that but for the expert evidence of Mr. Kirby, the Justice said he would have been disposed to acquiesce in the fact that as many of the defendants had done so; but Mr. Kirby had convinced him that there was sufficient evidence to establish a technical offence in all the cases. It has been shown also by Mr. Kirby that the quantity of screenings called, was now of much greater importance than before the Emergency Regulations were made. Imposing the following fines: The Justice said he regarded the cases against the millers as the most important—Robert K. Ronayne, 240 marks, and 15 for not having a licence; and James H. Hogan, 220 and 120 on similar charges; Mrs. Bridget Coleman, 15; Ed. Dunne, 45; and the rest of the defendants 20 each. The cases against Jeremiah and Margaret Coleman—Robert Coleman, incorporated with that against Mrs. Bridget Coleman, and the charge against Patrick Connolly, were marked proved. The Justice complimented Supt. Kelly and the Garda of the area for the manner in which the cases had been investigated.

Mr. F. V. Buckley, B.L., who instructed by Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, produced evidence that the greatest vigilance was now being exercised by the Garda in all parts of the country in the detection of these offences.
