ARMERS who antic lpate difficulty in obtaining locally the additional labour required for the harvest are advised by the Department of Agriculture; to call or write AT ONCE to the local Employment Exchange or Branch Employment Office of the Department of Industry and Corumerce, giving the following particulars:

(a) The number and type of additional workers required:

(b) The period for which the additional workers will be required;

(c) The wages offered;

(d) The arrangements for board and lodging of workers not resident locally.

(d) The arrangements for board and lodging of workers not resident locally.

The address of the nearest Employment Exchange or Branch Employment Office can be ascertained at any Post Office or Garda Station.

On receipt of these particulars, the Employment Exchange or Branch Employment Office will take immediate steps to put farmers in touch with such workers, either in nearly districts or other parts of the country, as may be available for the work and willing to accept the terms offered by the employers. Early notification is essential to enable the most satisfactory arrangements to be made. A personal call at the local Employment Exchange would be desirable. Issued by the Department of Agriculture.

West Waterford Div. G.A.A. Notes.

At Dungarvan.-On Sunday next a most attractive programme is listed for Dungarvan. Kilgobinet meet Durrow and Faha meet the Nire in junior football second rounds. Kilgobinet are favourites having put out Stradbally in the first round. Durrow are very little behind them having also put out a first-class Kilrosanty team. Faha have won out in the first contest, in fact they won twice, having defeated the Coher Ramblers in the first game and also in the replay. The Nire got a bye in the first round. Though they are an unknown quantity I have it that Faha will be lucky if they survive on Sunday.
