LABOUR MEETING AT DUNGARVAL

A largely attended meeting for the purpose of forming a branch of the Irish Labour Party was held on Sunday last in the Town Hall, Dun-garvan. Mr. P. Lynch presided. The speakers were ex-Alderman Pattison, T.D., Kilkenny; Messrs. Jerome Guiry, James Mansfield and

T. A. Kyne, acting secretary. Opening the proceedings the Chairman said the object of the meeting was to form a branch of the Labour Party in Dungarvan. council and Co. Council elections.

Ex-Alderman Pattison, T.D., said he was pleased to get the opportunity to speak to the workers in Dungarvan. He had heard much about the wonderful organisation of the workers of Dungarvan in the past. The object of this meeting was, he said, to reorganise the Labour Party, which, too long, had been compelled to take a back seat. The principles and objects of the Labour party to-day were those laid down by James Connolly. During the past ten years there have been very difficult times and the workers and community in general have seen that nothing has been done to save our little island from sinking. To-day there is a nation-wide demand for Labour to give a lead in the right direction. He hoped that after Sunday, Dungarvan would have one of the strongest units in the organisation. "Your trade union," he said, "is your industrial organisation." The political ring was the most impolitical ring was the most important ring. people from this country will see that the exodus to-day is as great as that of the black forties when Clanrickard and Ashbourne drove our people away in coffin ships. He referred to the "London Times," the newspaper of the ascendancy gang, which was anti-Irish and anti-labour and which shouted then that the Irish were going with a vengance and that a Celt would soon be as scarce. East of the Shannon, as a Red Indian on the shores of Manhattan. This prophesy was not fulfilled but, if this exodus is not stopped it is likely to be fulfilled in our day. The flower of Ireland's manhood, character and courses are leaving our country. No courage are leaving our country. No steps were taken by Mr. Cosgrave's nor Mr. de Valera's governments to tap the resources of this country which could maintain not a population of these and a half millions 2,000,000 acres of this country he said, were good for nothing else but afforestation. 15,000 acres of wood pulp would supply all the newsprint we want. There were £200,000,000 lying in their Banks to-day and that was the money of the people of this country. This wealth was created by the workers of Ireland. £300,000,000 is invested across channel and if the £ follows the mark this can be written have the money to develop the Speaking of the fishing industry he said there were people in this town who remembered the in this town who remember harbour here full of fishing boats and he referred to the Irish harforests of masts. "Though our coastal waters are teaming with fish (and if not, why did the Dutchman, Frenchman and German fish there). Irishmen are serving on mention of the Pope's Encyclical, "Quadragesimo Anno." Concluding, he said, the workers were entitled to social justice and a living wage when they stand together and fight together. Some people say fight together. Some people say our views are utopia. They accuse us of hitching our wagon to a star. "We, of the Labour Party," he concluded, "hitch our wagon to the star and progress, the the star of prosperity."

Credible but almost certainly true. In corroboration of the claim for the pro-Patrician Apostolate of Declan attention may be called to the fact that St. Patrick never entered or at least never evangelised the important territory of the Decies. Neither is he recorded to have sent missionaries into the latter nor to have committed it to any disciples. The previous teaching of Declan authorities lists of sheep-owners in the various Gardai districts in each county.

The previous teaching of Declan authorities lists of sheep-owners in the various Gardai districts in each county.
