WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL STRADBALLY DEFEAT KILROSSANTY

A PPLICATIONS from Agricultural Labourers (as defined by the Labourers Acts, 1935) are invited for the tenancy of the following Cot-The highest previous gate was taken at the 1940 final when the same teams were engaged, £92. No hurling final has yet reached the £70 mark. Both teams fielded out confident and the game of the year was the outcome. Stradbally were the better footballers and deserved a few more scores on the run of play. However, the Kilrossanty goalman was only called on once or twice in the whole hour, which was due to the defence put up by the Kilrossanty fullbacks. Kilrossanty lost the services of Sean Crotty after 10 minutes, who had not fully recovered from a recent foot injury. This player had scored all their goals this year and would probably have at least got the equaliser on Sunday. Stradbally would be considered very unlucky had the game been a draw. The teams were played to centrefield by the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band. Stradbally made a bril-liant start and following some spectacular play had a wide. Dick Mc-Guire was seen to advantage when P Kiely sent in two long drives to the goalmouth. The Kilrossanty backs came out C. Moylan (who had come out to mid-field) sent in a long shot, J. Crotty tapped to M. Whelan who had a point for Kilrossanty. Kevin Whelan equalised at the other end. At this stage Stradbally were far superior to their opponents but were unable to make any impression on the McGuire bros. P. Kirwan put Stradbally ahead with a point and *BETTY DAVIS, GEORGE BRENT.

During this tired and was replaced by M. Veale. On resuming Stradbally had a point per M. Connors and a point per J. Orpen giving them a four-point lead. Entering the last quarter Kilrossanty eemed to improve immensely and when P. Lynch sent in a hard shot J. Colbert fisted clear, but C. Moylan came charging in and Mick Whelan goaled. D.
