McDermotts, who were short some of their usual players, were outclassed in practically all departments, and failed to 'stay' in the second half.

Cappoquin, on the other hand, showed a marked improvement since their previous game and had matters their own way in the later stages of the house Hall on Friday night, Feb. 26. The hall was packed to capacity and eager eyes watched the exhibition— the first of its kind ever held here.

The contestants in most cases were evenly matched, and narrow point victories resulted. Trooper Mulli-gan, the undisputed champion of the squadron went through a hard four rounds with Tpr. Kitson. Kitson, who was substituted for Cpl. Ryan, time and again resisted Mulligan's repeated onslaughts and at one stage looked a winner. Mulligan, who possessed more stamina eventually possessed more standing eventually won en point. In the Craiserweight class, Tpr. Delaney had a fairly easy victory over Tpr. Walsh, whilst in the Welterweight contest, Tpr. Wade defeated Tpr.
