DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT

DALTON v. CO-OP. CREAMERY.

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court, before Judge Sealy, Mrs. Catherine Dalton, St. Bridget's Terrace, Dungarvan, claimed £50 damages against the Dungarvan Co-op. Society, in respect of personal injuries sustained at the premises of the defendants, the Square, Dungarvan.

Mr. Kenny (E. A. Ryan & Co. solrs.) for the plaintiff, and Mr. Molloy, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell & Morrissey, solrs.) for the defendants.

The plaintiff alleged that the injuries sustained were due to (1) the negligence of the defendants in failing to keep certain steps in the creamery yard at the Square in a condition of safety; (2) failing to keep the surface of the said steps in a safe and proper condition; and (3) failing to provide a handrail or protection on the said steps.

A denial of negligence was entered by the defendants.

Mr. Kenny said that the plaintiff, whose husband was ill, was a dressmaker by occupation. On September 4th, 1942, she came to the Co-operative Creamery, on the Square, to get cream. In order to get the cream she had, first of all, to get a ticket at the office. She then had to mount a flight of steps to a platform and go into the creamery for the cream. As she was returning she slipped on the first step and fell to the ground, sustaining injuries to her back.

Mr. M. Hassett, engineer, produced a map of the creamery premises, the steps led to a platform which was 3ft. 6in. above the ground. The steps were 9in. high, with a smaller step on top. When witness examined the steps they were dry and smooth. In his opinion a handrail was not necessary because the steps were wide and low, and the condition of the steps was not dangerous to anyone taking ordinary precautions.

To Judge Sealy, witness said that the steps would be safer if roughened on top.

Mrs. Catherine Dalton, plaintiff, said she was a married woman with three children. Her husband was ill for some time. Her occupation was dressmaking and she earned from £1 to £1 3s. weekly. On September 4, 1942, witness went to the Co-operative Creamery to get 3d. worth of cream. The day was fine. She went to the office for a ticket, then through the yard to the steps. She went up the steps to the platform, crossed the platform, and went down some other steps and got the cream. There were other people there at the time getting cream. Coming back, she crossed the platform, and proceeded to go down the steps from the platform to the ground. She slipped and fell from the platform. She could not prevent herself from falling. She did not remember anything after that until she came to herself and got up. She fainted and someone brought her a glass of water. A girl saw her home, as she (witness) was scarcely able to walk. She complained of pain in her back. After four days she saw Dr. Casey, who ordered her to bed for six weeks. Witness did not stay in bed, as she had to do the housework. Her shoulder still ached and she had been unable to do any sewing for nearly three months. She still got a pain in her shoulder if she continued working the sewing machine for any considerable length of time.

Lisimore Circuit Court.

At the Lisimore Circuit Court, held at Dungarvan Courthouse before Judge Sealy, on Friday last, William O'Brien, South Mall, Lisimore, had two civil bill actions against Michael O'Donovan, Coosise, Lisimore. Mr. McGuire, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell & Morrissey, solrs.), for William O'Brien, and Mr. Molloy, B.L. (instructed by A. Carroll & Co. solrs., Fermoy), for M. O'Donovan.

In the first action the plaintiff claimed £124 for, it was alleged, the conversion of certain stock which the plaintiff claimed he owned, by the defendant for his own use. In the second action the plaintiff claimed £205 10s. alleging that this sum was due in respect of moneys lent by the plaintiff to the defendant, and which were lent by the plaintiff to the defendant, and for certain goods.

There was a counter-claim by O'Donovan claiming £26 in respect of a balance of money due by William O'Brien to Michael O'Donovan. The three issues were tried together.

William O'Brien was described as a cattle dealer, aged 73, who had been carrying on the business of cattle-dealing all his life. Michael O'Donovan was stated to be a farmer, residing on his farm, about 11 miles from Lisimore.

William O'Brien, plaintiff, said he knew Michael O'Donovan for about five or six years. Witness then went on to give particulars of his claim and said that he bought three cattle from the defendant in July, 1941, and put in defendant's lands. One heifer was sold, and the remaining two should be still there. Witness tried to take them away in December, 1942, but the defendant refused to let witness take them. Witness also had a milking cow and three other cattle. In May, 1942, witness sold the milch cow to defendant for £25. Defendant paid £1, and that was all. There were also four sheep valued at £18 in respect of which witness was claiming. Witness's full claim was: 4 sheep her ordinary work in three weeks' time.

Mr. E. Maher, manager, Dungarvan Co-operative Society, said he carried out the general supervision of the creamery, and any accidents were reported to him. This was the first accident of this kind reported to him. One hundred persons per day was a fair average of those who used the steps to get cream or butter. Children of 2 years to people of 80 years used the steps. In witness's opinion there was nothing on the steps to render them unsafe. The steps were smooth but not dangerous. A handrail on the steps was not necessary. There were only three steps and they were wide and low, and were not dangerous to anybody exercising reasonable care in using them.

Replying in cross-examination by Mr. Kenny, witness said that a handrail would interfere with the lorries, backing into the platform, as there was always the danger of a crash. Mr. Kenny—If a protection were bolted to the wall inside the steps, would you consider it prudent to do that?

Giving evidence of his second claim, witness said that in July '42, he withdrew moneys from the Muster & Leinster and the National Banks in Lisimore, and loaned £180 to the defendant. Witness kept £80 odd himself. When witness asked for some of the money back he only got £19. This sum was the only actual cash witness got from the defendant. The defendant also owed witness £9 in respect of 2 sheep and 4 lambs. Witness also said that on one occasion he loaned the defendant £20 to buy a cow. The defendant did not pay it back. Witness also claimed £1 5s. being for balance of price of bed and bedding sold by witness to the defendant. Witness also claimed 5/ which he said he paid for separator oil for the defendant.

Continuing, witness said that on December 7th, 1942, he went to a bank to get his money. Witness went back to get his money, and while the money was being shot, witness went back to defendant's farm, and while working in the yard saw the defendant in his witness's room. Next morning witness discovered the lock of a trunk in which he kept £34 broken and the money gone. Witness reported the matter to the Civic Guards.

Cross-examined by Mr. Molloy, witness denied that he had a "ragged" or well-known figure in court actions. Mr. Molloy (reading from the report of O'Brien's action at the Circuit Court, June, 1942, as published in the "Dungarvan Observer")—Do you remember hearing His Lordship describe you in this Court last June as being a "ragged" or "well-known" figure in court actions?

that he knew O'Brien since about 1938. Witness was not anxious to bring him into his house. There was no truth that witness was watching to "get him into his net." Witness had dealings with O'Brien regarding the deposit for which he was still owed £26. In May, 1942, O'Brien gave witness three sheep value £9 in lieu of payment of this debt, which was then £35. Witness agreed with his wife's evidence regarding the £180 and giving it to his wife. The money was counted in the bank on the next day and put on deposit in witness's name. The receipt was given to O'Brien. A few days afterwards O'Brien asked witness to make a withdrawal of £30, as he owed money for rent and rates. O'Brien gave witness the deposit receipt and witness got the money. The next withdrawal was £50, and after that £70. The final withdrawal was £40. These amounts were all given to O'Brien. Witness denied O'Brien saying that the moneys were to pay Mr. Farrell for expenses at the court and also to pay the sheriff. Witness denied that he tampered with O'Brien's trunk or took the money alleged to be in it. O'Brien never made any suggestion that witness took it.

James Coady, who said he lived with the O'Donovans, stated that he remembered O'Brien on one occasion coming to witness and saying he could not open his box. O'Brien said a hammer and tongs to open it. James Moloney said that on the occasion he saw O'Brien breaking into O'Donovan gave the money to O'Brien, who gave it to witness.

Sergeant Valentine gave evidence of investigating the alleged breaking into O'Brien's trunk and the taking of money, stated by O'Brien to be £34. His Lordship said there were three contingencies to explain these actions. They were: (1) that O'Brien was either a great rogue or a great liar; (2) that O'Brien was suffering from a kind of mania that he was being robbed on account of his actions in Court last June. He (his Lordship) was inclined to believe this second contingency. It was alleged by O'Brien that O'Brien was a man of "distorted mind" and that O'Donovan was a rogue and a ruffian who should be sent to a convict jail for a term of penal servitude. He (his Lordship) was not prepared on the evidence before him to accept this. He could not come to the conclusion that O'Donovan was that kind of man. Regarding O'Brien's evidence of his claims, there was no corroborative evidence of these claims, and he would therefore dismiss these two actions by O'Brien. In the counter-claim O'Donovan had satisfied his Lordship in his evidence of his claim, and he would give him a decree for £26, and allow him costs.

MCCARTHY v. O'DRISCOLL AND MCCARTHY.
In this action, which came before his Lordship last February, Patrick McCarthy, Barrack St., Cappoquin, had a claim for £382 10s. in respect of the support and maintenance of the late Thomas Curran, Barrack Street, Cappoquin. The defendants were Ellen O'Driscoll and Thos. McCarthy, both of Barrack St., Cappoquin, sister and brother, respectively, of the late Thomas Curran. The claim was made against the estate of Thos. Curran.

Mr. McGuire, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell & Morrissey, solrs.), for Patrick Curran, and Mr. Molloy, B.L. (instructed by A. Carroll & Co. solrs.), for Ellen O'Driscoll and Thos. McCarthy. Richard McCarthy was also represented by Messrs. Farrell & Morrissey, who instructed Mr. Molloy.

At the last Circuit Court Judge Sealy made an order for the administration of the estate of the late Thos. Curran by the Court and directed that Richard McCarthy, grand-nephew of the late Thomas Curran, and son of Patrick McCarthy, who claimed that a deposit receipt for £600 plus interest in the name of Richard McCarthy and Thomas Curran, de-

BALLYHANE MURDER CHARGE

ACCUSED RETURNED FOR TRIAL

The preliminary hearing of the charges in the murder case was concluded in Fermoy, on Friday 16th April, when the two accused were returned for trial by District Justice J. S. Troy, to the Central Criminal Court.

The two accused are Wm. O'Shea (24), and Thomas Patrick White (17), both of Alfane, Ballyhane, Cappoquin, and are charged with conspiracy to murder and the murder of Mrs. Maureen O'Shea, wife of the accused, Wm. O'Shea.

Close on fifty witnesses have been examined.

At Friday's hearing, Chief Supt. O'Reilly, Waterford, prosecuted in the absence of Dr. Counihan, State Solr.

Mr. Byrne, junior, 15 years, Ballyhane, Cappoquin, said he was a step-brother of the accused, Wm. O'Shea. On the last Sunday in March this year he was going to Penders, Ballyhane, at about 2 o'clock (P.M.) with his two brothers, Thomas and Frank, when he found the case of a cartridge by the ditch near O'Shea's. It was alongside the gap on the house end of the boren leading to O'Meara's house. Only the brass end of the case remained, and on going home he gave it to his father.

Mr. Byrne, senior, father of the last witness, was recalled and said that on Sunday, March 28th, his son gave him the brass end of a cartridge case. It was rusty and old looking. On the same day witness was going to Dungarvan on other business and when he was passing the Cappagh Garda Barracks he handed the cartridge end in there.

Det. Sgt. T. Murphy, Waterford, was recalled and said that subsequent to making his deposition of April 9th, he went to Cappoquin barracks and got there a single-barrel shot gun, No. 5943 from Garda O'Leary. The gun was the property of the accused, Thomas White. Witness also fired a shot from the gun belonging Edmond Durey, and handed the empty cartridge case to Garda O'Leary.

Garda John O'Leary was recalled and said he wished to amend an item in a list of exhibits previously tendered in evidence by him. This should read, "cartridge paid received from Sergt. Browne on 14/4/43." He wished to put in the list of exhibits a cap which he now produced and which he had received from Det. Garda Minister. On March 16th, witness sent by registered post to Det.-Supt. Stapleton of the Technical Bureau, Dublin, an empty cartridge fired by Det. Sergt. Murphy together with cartridge cap.

Edmond Durey, Ballyhane, recalled and said he had last fired from the shot gun he handed to Sergeant Browne in November or December, 1941. He fired some shots in the vicinity of his own home, and one he fired into O'Meara's field from the road and about fifty yards, more or less, from the boren leading to O'Meara's. He remembered that he had opened the gun and pitched the cartridge away on the road where he was standing.

Chief Supt. O'Reilly—Did you lend your gun to anyone else since the end of 1941, except to the accused, William O'Shea, as you have already deposed?

Witness—No, sir.

Chief Supt. O'Reilly said this completed the evidence he proposed to tender. Logically, to completely finish, the prosecution should call Detective Supt. Stapleton, who examined the cartridges, but he did not think he would be justified in asking for a further adjournment for his attendance. He did not think the accused would be in any way prejudiced, as the defence would be served with a copy of the evidence he intended to give. This evidence would be to the effect that the old cartridge cap found had been fired from Edmond Durey's gun, and while he could not say definitely how long previously it had been fired it was possibly some months. He wished the defence to know this at the earliest. On this evidence, and on that given during the four days' hearing, the Chief Superintendent said he would ask that the accused be returned for trial to the Central Criminal Court.

The two accused were, at the request of the Justice, brought from the dock into the body of the Court. With their heads bowed down they heard the Justice read the charges over separately and caution them.

When asked if he wished to make any statement O'Shea replied: "No, except not guilty, your Worship." While, similarly questioned, replied "No, sir, except not guilty."

Both accused were returned for trial in custody to the Central Criminal Court on the charges preferred.

Waterford Co. Board of Public Assistance.

Mr. David Coghlan, Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the Board held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Monday last. Other members in attendance were: Messrs. M. McGrath, Jas. P. Cosgrave, Ald. P. Caulfield (mayor of Waterford) and Senator J. Butler.

Board's Address to Bishop.—The Chairman (Mr. Coghlan) referred to the address presented by the Board on the occasion of the consecration of Most Rev. Dr. Coghlan, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore and said it was perhaps the most artistic address presented. The Secretary agreed and said the address was prepared by the Nuns of the Mercy Convent, Dungarvan.

Wages and Bonus.—Senator Butler said he understood that an application was made some time ago by the attendants in the Co. Hospital, Waterford, for an increase of pay and may be also for a bonus. TALLOW NOTES.

Obituary.—We regret to announce the death of Mrs. B. McCarthy, which sad event took place recently at her son's residence, Parkdolia, Tallow, after a somewhat protracted illness, and to the bereaved children and relatives the sincere sympathy of their many friends is tendered. Relief of the late Patrick McCarthy, deceased was the last surviving sister of the late John and Patrick Butler who, for well over half a century, were identified with the tallow industry for which Parkdolia district has been noted for centuries past. Evidence of the popularity of deceased was illustrated by the representative attendance at the removal of her remains to the Parish Church and at the subsequent interment which took place in the adjoining cemetery, very Rev. Fr. Kehoe, P.P., officiated at the graveside. Chief mourners present were: Mrs. Power, Killosera, Dungarvan; Mrs. Nevin, Tallow (daughters); Mr. John McCarthy, Tallow (son); Mr. M. Power (son-in-law); Mrs. Bridget and Patrick Nevin; James and Patrick McCarthy (grand-children), R.I.P.

Dangerous Footpath.—Your correspondent has been asked by many of the residents of the eastern side of Convent Street to bring to the attention of the Co. Manager and through him to the members of the Co. Council, the dangerous condition of the footpath which is certainly in a deplorable state of repair. None of the residents can remember the laying out of the path, but some twenty years ago, an effort was made towards widening it and for some reason which is unexplainable, approximately one and a half feet, on the inside which was composed of paving stones was left undisturbed and the later residents at their own expense cleaned the pavings and grouted in cement mortar and flouted over same with a view to relieving them of periodically cleaning the recurrent growth of grass and other growths. Furthermore, this is the footpath which leads to the Carmelite Convent and Girls National School, and which the pupils have to use twice a day going to and coming from school, very much to the detriment of the footpaths which, in these days of scarcity create for the parents the added problems of supplying and repairing it. It is hoped that the reference will meet with the consideration it deserves and that this much needed reconstruction will follow at an early date.

Good Wishes.—While regretting the departure of Rev. Fr. Connett, to the important appointment as senior C.C. at Dungarvan, his many friends in the parish of Tallow extend him their congratulations and best wishes for further success in his sacred calling. On behalf of the parishioners a hearty good wish is extended to Rev. Fr. Meenan, C.C., who has come to take up duty amongst us.

G.A.A.—On Sunday last, a local fifteen trolley to Conna to cross canals in a long promised friendly with the representatives of Castle Lyons. The game, while not being up to a very high standard, was at times, keenly interesting and some snappy play was witnessed. The locals, who comprised of seniors, juniors and minors showed considerable combination and fieldcraft, and ran out winners on the score of 7-3 to 2-2 for the losers, who are to be complimented on the fine display they gave and more should be had of them during the present season.

Market Prices.—At last week's market the following prices were paid: farmers' butter, 1 1/2 lb. chickens, 1 3/4 lb. eggs, 1/4 doz. old fowl, 1 1/2; spring cabbages, 2d. and 3d. per head; broccoli, 3/- per doz.; leeks, 6d. per lb.; potatoes, 1/- per stone; rhubarb, 6d. per bundle.

Two jurors were fined £3 each for failing to answer to their names at the Waterford Circuit Court.

KILMACKTHOMAS NOTES.

Billiards.—A match between members of the Waterford Y.M.C.A. and members of the local Temperance Hall Club, played at Kilmacthomas on Wednesday night week, was won by the homesters—by four games to one. G. Nicholson, Y.M.C.A. (100) beat W. Scary (58); J. Young, do. (84) lost to P. Kirwan (100); E. Jephson, do. (60) lost to C. Flynn (100); W. Kelly, do. (48) lost to P. O'Reilly (100); W. Finnegan, do. (37), lost to N. Flynn (100). Mr. S. Moore (Provincial Bank), the non-playing captain of the Mahon-side set, congratulated the Y.M.C.A. on the fine sporting spirit which they displayed in traveling under the present arduous conditions. Mr. H. Palmer suitably replied for the visitors and both teams afterwards repaired to Maher's where they partook of a sumptuous repast.

Holidaying.—Yesterday-end, well and popularly known Mr. J. J. Maher returned to his Kilmac home on a holiday from the cross-Channel centre where he occupies an important position. His troops of friends and well-wishers here are delighted to be renewing happy acquaintance with jovial "J.J." and to find him in radiant health and spirits.

Sympathy.—An exceedingly well-liked member of a most respectable family, who was a member of the parish of St. James, was killed in a great wave of sympathy goes out in his bereavement occasioned by the death of his wife, Mrs. Catherine Brett (nee Baldwin), which sad event happened on Sunday last. Deceased, who was only in her 31st year, had warmly endeavored herself to every member of the community who shared her acquaintance. Her good husband is left with one child to mourn her demise. The remains were removed to the Catholic Church, Portlaw, on Monday evening, and burial took place in the adjoining cemetery following the celebration of Requiem Masses for her soul on Tuesday morning. Innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers were present on both occasions. A number of beautiful floral wreaths were laid on her coffin. With her bereaved ones sympathy is universal. A cortege of imposing dimensions accompanied the removal of the remains from the residence on Monday evening to St. Brigid's Parish Church, Killyrossny. Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Masses next morning, the remains were reverently laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery, very Rev. Fr. Croft, P.P., Killyrossny, and Rev. P. Walsh, C.C., do. officiated at the graveside. It would be impossible to give a complete list of the mourners and sympathisers in attendance.—Peace to her soul.

Fianna Fall.—Mr. T. J. Power, P.C. (Chairman) presided at a meeting of the mid-Waterford Comhairle Cumann held in the Courthouse, Kilmacthomas, on Sunday evening last. There was a large attendance of delegates, and enthusiasm was the keynote of the entire proceedings. The heavy agenda discussed by the energetic and efficient Hon. Secretary, Mr. Wm. Lenthain, was mainly concerned with the making of all necessary arrangements for the forthcoming General Election. Mr. John Kerr (vice-Chairman) was unanimously appointed Director of Elections for the area. The Hon. Sec. was selected a voice to act as Director of Transport. Mr. M. Morrissey, Senior T.D. of the constituency, who was present, received a rousing reception on responding to the Chairman's request for him to address the meeting. At the outset he mentioned that his colleague, Mr. P. H. Little, T.D., Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, was absent through an indisposition, which, happily, was only temporary. He said that on the cessation of hostilities major issues would be involved and there was no man in Ireland more capable of gaining the maximum benefits for the country than the present peerless leader, Eamon de Valera. The farmer has a guaranteed market price for his produce now, Mr. Morrissey stated, and is in a safe position compared with his status under the Cosgravan regime. In a condition of the worker has immensely improved, and the Government fully intends to continue this good work when re-elected. A vote of thanks to Mr. Morrissey was passed with acclamation, to which he suitably replied, and the meeting ended.

Gaelic Garnerings.—In ideal weather and before a good-sized gathering at Faha, on Sunday last, Cobher Ramblers and Durrus decided their tie in the initial round of this year's Western Divisional I.F.E. championship competition. The bout was brimful of thrill; both teams put in all they knew and the finer points of the code were well in evidence up to the interval and from the resumption. Half-time saw Durrus failed to notch in the second quarter for the occasion. Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., imparted Benediction each evening.

KILLED IN AIR RAID.—Miss Norah M. Nagle (30), whose people came from near Lisnare, Co. Wick, was killed in a recent raid on a south English coast town.

KILOSERA RACE MEETING

The splendid racetrack at Killosera, where in days gone by two-day meetings were held annually by the local Race Committee, presented an animated appearance on Sunday evening last, when a series of challenge races were run off. A big crowd attended and viewed the events without interruption from the natural grand stand at this fine course, which was kindly placed at the disposal of the riders' free of charge, by that great sportsman, Mr. J. J. Morrissey, Dungarvan. It is about 35 years since the last race meeting was held in Killosera.

No less than five events were run off on Sunday evening last, and some exciting finishes were witnessed. One popular rider, Mr. P. O'Donnell, Youghal, Dungarvan, received a shoulder injury when two runners collided. Mr. Joseph Rordan acted as starter, and Mr. J. J. Morrissey was judge; Mr. Willie Curran, clerk of course.

DISEASES OF ANIMALS COMMITTEE.

Mr. P. R. Power presided at a meeting of the above on Wednesday last.

A letter was read from the Department suspending the operation of the Warble Fly (Treatment of Cattle) Order, 1939 and 1939 owing to the scarcity of Derris Powder and other raw materials required. Mr. Byrne, V.S.—There is enough dressing for all that's being used of it. Mr. O'Ryan suggested bringing the cattle to common centres to have them dressed under supervision. Mr. Byrne, V.S. said it would be a most effective way if cattle were brought to common centres and given their gear good dressings. It would be the best way of eradicating this disease. He suggested that proper pens should be erected. Mr. Walsh—You'd want several centres. The matter was then dropped as the order does not apply this year. It was decided to ask the County Surveyor to submit an estimate for the erection of concrete walls enclosing the sheep-dipping station at Ross Rathgarrick. Mr. Hynes, V.S., reported that the contractor for the sheep-dipping station at Bishopstown had withdrawn, owing to the scarcity of raw materials. Mr. O'Ryan said it was better to get the contract carried out by the County Surveyor and his assistants; it would be done with and would last for all time. The Department wrote approving of the regulations for the compulsory dipping of all sheep in the County under supervision for the dipping period, 1943. On the suggestion of Mr. Coughlan it was decided to advertise re sheep-dipping contractors for lowland areas. It was also decided to advertise re sheep-dipping contractors for lowland areas. The supply of sheep dip required for public dipping for 1943 season will be advertised for. DISEASES OF ANIMALS COMMITTEE.
Mr. P. R. Power presided at a meeting of the above on Wednesday last.

A letter was read from the Department suspending the operation of the Warble Fly (Treatment of Cattle) Order, 1939 and 1939 owing to the scarcity of Derris Powder and other raw materials required. Mr. Byrne, V.S.—There is enough dressing for all that's being used of it. Mr. O'Ryan suggested bringing the cattle to common centres to have them dressed under supervision. Mr. Byrne, V.S. said it would be a most effective way if cattle were brought to common centres and given their gear good dressings. It would be the best way of eradicating this disease. He suggested that proper pens should be erected. Mr. Walsh—You'd want several centres. The matter was then dropped as the order does not apply this year. It was decided to ask the County Surveyor to submit an estimate for the erection of concrete walls enclosing the sheep-dipping station at Ross Rathgarrick. Mr. Hynes, V.S., reported that the contractor for the sheep-dipping station at Bishopstown had withdrawn, owing to the scarcity of raw materials. Mr. O'Ryan said it was better to get the contract carried out by the County Surveyor and his assistants; it would be done with and would last for all time. The Department wrote approving of the regulations for the compulsory dipping of all sheep in the County under supervision for the dipping period, 1943. On the suggestion of Mr. Coughlan it was decided to advertise re sheep-dipping contractors for lowland areas. It was also decided to advertise re sheep-dipping contractors for lowland areas. CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Before a very fine attendance of spectators Dungarvan defeated Lisamore in their senior hurling league game at Cappoquin on Sunday last. Both teams were in some of their most prominent players of last year and consequently the standard of the game was, at times, rather poor. Whilst some of the new 'caps' did not come up to expectations, the majority acquitted themselves admirably. Dungarvan fielded a very youthful team and ran out easy winners on the score 12-3 to 3-3.
