Ailtiri Na h-Aiseirghe. Candidate Under a Misapprehension.

A BIG CROWD of residents from Dunganvar and the surrounding districts listened to speakers advocating the policies of Ailtiri Na h-Aiseirghe and Fine Gael in the Square, Dunganvar, on Sunday night last. Many in this crowd are, perhaps, still wondering what crime against Irish Nationality the 'Dunganvar Observer' had been guilty of when Mr. O. Dochartaigh, Aiseirghe candidate, in the course of his speech, delivered a vitriolic attack...

DEATH OF MRS. M. CURRAN, GLENMORE, DUNGARVAN

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Mary Curran, Glenmore, Dunganvar, which occurred on Sunday morning, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church. The deceased enjoyed widespread esteem in the locality where she was very popular with all classes. Member of a well-known and highly respected family, she made many friends by her kind and amiable disposition, her good humour and goodness of heart. She was a true-hearted Irish woman, and during the years of Ireland's struggle for freedom her home was always open to the 'boys on the run' while she, herself, never failed to give them a hearty and cordial welcome and to provide them with all the comforts possible. Three of her sons, Paddy, James and Eddie, took active part in both wars in independence.

The General Election. HOW THE COUNTY POLLED.

Elected:— Mr. F. J. Little, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs; Mrs. B. M. Redmond; Mr. Michael Morrissey; Mr. Denis Heskin.

Polling for election of members to the Eleventh Dail took place on Tuesday last, June 22nd, throughout the 26 Counties. The day was fine and dry, and the poll on the whole was pretty heavy. In this county the best of order and good humour prevailed. There was a marked absence of transport service. At the close of the poll at 9.30 p.m. the boxes for West Waterford and J. Butler, Dungarvan Courthouse, and later conveyed to Waterford.

There were ten candidates for the four Waterford seats, made up as follows:—Fianna Fail: Messrs. M. Morrissey, L. J. Morrissey, Fine Gael: Mrs. Redmond and J. Butler; Farmers: Messrs. Heskin and Norris; Labour: Messrs. Guiry and O'Connor; Aitiri Na h-Aiseirge: Mr. T. O'Dochartaigh.

Mr. T. A. Colbert, Returning Officer, supervised the count, which opened in the City Hall, Waterford, on Wednesday morning. Several hours were occupied in checking the boxes and it was not until late afternoon that the count began.

The total electorate of the county is 52,164; number of seats, 4; valid votes, 39,649; quota, 7,930; spoiled votes, 434. First Count. Mrs. B. M. Redmond, I.D. 7,824 (F.G.) 7,765; M. Morrissey, I.D. 6,196; Senator S. Goulding (F.P.) 4,274; J. O'Connor (Lab.) 2,920; D. Heskin (Farmer) 2,875; J. Guiry (Lab.) 2,362; Senator J. Butler (F.G.) 2,354; W. Norris (Farmer) 2,153; Mr. T. O'Dochartaigh (A. & H.A.) 928. When the above figures were announced by Mr. T. A. Colbert, Returning Officer, Mr. C. S. Quinlan, agent for the Fine Gael candidates, demanded a recount owing to the fact that so few votes divided Mrs. Redmond and Mr. Little. Mr. O'Dochartaigh was eliminated, and his votes having been distributed the second count figures were:— Mrs. Redmond, 4,381; Little, 7,974 (elected); Morrissey, 6,409; Norris, 2,191; O'Connor, 3,063; Redmond, 8,017 (elected).

Mr. Norris was then eliminated, and the result of the third count was:— Butler, 2,628; Goulding, 4,433; Guiry, 2,458; Heskin, 4,523; Morrissey, 6,524; O'Connor, 3,102; Redmond, 8,017 (elected). Mr. Butler was eliminated after the 6th count; Mr. Goulding after the 7th count. When Mr. Goulding's papers were distributed the position was:— Heskin, 6,092; Morrissey, 10,873 (elected); O'Connor, 5,320. Mr. Morrissey's surplus of 2,944 were then distributed and without receiving the quota Mr. Heskin was elected with 6,912 votes.

TALLOW NOTES. COUNTY BOARD G.A.A.

G.A.A.—At the local playing pitch on Sunday last, before a magnificent attendance, two first-class matches were staged. The much-talked-of contest between Camphire and Ballyduff held pride of place. Due to the presence of the Camphire combination, they were looked upon as fast favourites, but they failed to justify expectations. The younger and speedier Ballyduff team went into action early on and playing with the wind they took the lead in the first quarter and never looked back, leading at half-time by 4-2 to nil. On resuming Camphire threw all they knew into the game and started to pile up score by score, which action led the spectators to believe that they would still come out on top. Ballyduff, however, were not to be denied and added further scores and ran out deserving winners, the final scores being 5-3 to 3-3, giving them the right to contest the third round of the West Division. The winners were best served by Clancy, Beecher, Feeney, Daly and Paddy Flynn, while Camphire got splendid assistance from P. Ahearne, Bob McGrath, Mick Landers, Revis and Donohue. Mr. W. Sheehan, Tallow proved an impartial referee.

Curtain Raiser.—As a curtain raiser to the championship game, the local Club put on the field two teams in a trial game, from which it was intended to make a final selection to form senior team to contest the second round of the Senior Co. Championship. One team was composed of veterans (1933), the second was drawn from the 1943 selection. The weather conditions were most unfavourable but despite the fact the play reached a very high standard. On several occasions during the hour the scores were level but eventually the vigour and speed of youth told and the veterans had to admit defeat at the hands of their youthful rivals to the tune of 4-2 to 2-2. Harry Ryan, Paddy McCarthy, Paddy Malone, Willie McGrath had scores to their credit while young Murphy in goal kept his net intact. Rev. Fr. Sheehan, C.C. had charge of the whistle. Record Fall.—Despite lack of transport facilities a record poll was registered by the electorate of Tallow and adjoining districts who polled over 81 per cent of the total register. A continuous stream of voters kept the officials in two booths busy all through the day and there were no late voters.

KILMACHTHOMAS COURT

(Before Mr. E. J. McCabe, D.J.). At a special sitting, held before the ordinary monthly court, Mrs. Bridget Sarfield, Ballinaciscail, Bonmahon, and her daughter, Bridget Sarfield, junior, do., were returned for trial on bail to the Waterford Circuit Court, next month. Both were charged with having, at Knockmahon, Bonmahon, on divers dates between Dec. 1941, and May, 1943, broken into an unoccupied house the property of Mrs. Elizabeth Cahill, Clonmel, with intent to commit a felony, and with having stolen therefrom delph, household utensils, furniture, etc., to the value of £43 10s.

A charge against Peter Scitfield, of the same address, alleging that he had in his possession delph, utensils and furniture, value £22 11s, which might reasonably be suspected of having been stolen or unlawfully obtained, and a like charge against his son-in-law, also of the same address, relating to articles, value £3, were adjourned to the September Court here.

Dr. D. R. Coughlan, State Solicitor, prosecuted, and Mr. T. Kiersey, solicitor, defended. The ordinary court opened with a big crop of undefended civil bills, which were disposed of in the usual way.

Fines ranging from 2/- to 10/- were imposed in a long list of Gardai prosecutions—breaches of the School Attendance, the Lights, and the Dog Licensing Acts, respectively—in which the local guardians of the peace and their messengers of the Kill, Stradbally and Leamybrien stations figured as complainants.

Wm. Keane, The Smithy, Clonaspower, his wife Ellen, and their 17-year-old son John, were each bound over in a sum of £5 to come up for conviction and sentence if called upon within a period of two years.

Supt. Creane, Tramore, prosecuted, and Mr. T. Kiersey, solicitor, defended. Wm. Keane was charged with having in his possession a quantity of iron, owned by the Marchioness of Waterford, which he might reasonably suspect to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, and the other two defendants were charged with having at Whitestown, Clonaspower, stolen a quantity of iron, also the property of Lady Waterford, and value for £2 10s.

Keane, junior, said he was a blacksmith and he was given the iron as "waste" iron by a man named Condon who was employed at Curraghmore.

To the D.J.—The seven bars involved would not be worth more than £1.

John Daly, an employee of the Curraghmore estate, said his Worship that the total value of the iron railings missing from the kennels would be rather small. The iron recovered by the Guards (and which he, witness, saw and identified as part of the missing quantity) would be worth £2 10s.

Supt. Creane said the iron in question was part of a railings around the kennels at Curraghmore estate. There was a caretaker there at the time who, didn't seem to pay much attention to his business and a large quantity of iron was missing. When enquiries were instituted the other defendants (Ellen and John Keane) admitted that they took iron.

Mr. Kiersey said his instructions were that Mrs. Keane took the iron to support her husband who was unable to procure any iron to carry on his business, which was down and out, and this was her reason for taking the iron, and she took full responsibility for it.

Mr. Daly, recalled, told his Worship that Lady Waterford did not seek any compensation.

Supt. Creane intimated that there was a previous charge against the man of stealing a Guard's bicycle from outside the Guard's house, and which had been dealt with at the Carrick-on-Suir Court.

D.J. (to Mr. Kiersey)—It seems to me that your clients are blaming the mother, because they think the mother is the least likely person to be sent to jail, and because the son has a bit of a black record already.

Supt. O'Brien, Fermoy, said he would ask the Justice to be lenient with the son on this occasion, and to give him another chance, because it was generally felt locally that he was somewhat abnormal and did not realise what he was doing.

The father has been a very honest man up to the present charge, added the Sergeant.

The D.J. said that even though Keane, senior, was a blacksmith and short of iron, he had no right to do what he had done. To put it at its plainest, went on his Worship, the mother and father, with a boy who had already been in trouble, committed these offences. He had, he said, made up his mind to send the boy to jail, and he was in two minds as to whether or not he should send the mother and father to jail. They were extraordinarily lucky, however, that the Sergeant had spoken up for them and that the Marchioness of Waterford did not require any compensation. He did not think the criminal code should be used for the purpose of collecting debts, but this was not a debt, and whether Lady Waterford required it or not, they were bound to make good to her the loss she had sustained. He would, he said, bind the three of them over for two years.

Michael Reilly, Ballinaciscail, Bonmahon, and his wife, Mary Reilly, do., were sentenced to two months and one month's imprisonment, respectively, but on the application of Mr. Kiersey, solicitor (defending), his Worship suspended the issue of the warrants for seven days in the event of an appeal.

Peter Sarfield, of the same address, father-in-law and father, respectively, of Michael and Mary Reilly, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment, which declaration, too, was subsequently made suspensory, when Mr. Kiersey, again defending, pleaded for leniency in view of the accused's age.

Michael Reilly was charged with having in his possession timber value 1/-, which he might reasonably suspect to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained; his wife was charged with having in her possession timber value 1/-, which he might reasonably suspect to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained.

Rev. Mr. R. N. Elmerhassett, Rector (ex officio), stated that the Knockmahon School was the property of the representatives of the Church of Ireland, and when he inspected it he found the interior "practically in ruins."

Mr. Reilly pleaded guilty to entering the school, and added that she only took one bag of sticks. The other two defendants denied that they knew the timber was stolen. Michael Reilly stated that his wife told him she got the timber which was in the house from the school.

D.J.—This is a case which absolutely demands from me that I should do something to protect the property of the people like the Church of Ireland. The country is studied all over with buildings of that kind, and they have to be protected.

Informing the Sergeant that he was making the sentence a suspensory one, and that he would bind him over to be of good behaviour for a month, his Worship said he was adopting that course in view of the defendant's age. It seems that from what was in the defendant's house, he added, that it was rather a thief's house, when the theft transpired.

Dr. Coughlan, State Solicitor, represented the Minister for Lands against Arthur Hunt, Rockmount, Kilmachthomas, and Frank Campbell, Stradbally, who were charged with cutting down eight trees without giving the necessary notice.

After hearing the evidence, the Justice imposed a fine of 5/- per tree and said there was no deliberate breaking of the regulations but there was undoubtedly a certain amount of slackness about what trees ought to be cut, and that slackness was by people from whom he would expect the highest standard of care in a matter of this kind.

For the defence it was mentioned that a permit was got from the Minister to cut eight trees, but the defendant Campbell (who was described as steward of the Woodhouse estate), and that Mr. Hunt is in charge of the Woodhouse estate.

Maurice Ryan, Ballinaciscail, Kilmachthomas, was fined 5/- for driving a motor car without lights and £1 for dangerous driving, the conviction not to be recorded on his driver's licence.

Cornelius O'Connor, an employee of Mr. Roger Shanahan, Ashdown, Kilmachthomas, said that on the evening in question he was leading three horses along the road from Mahonbridge towards Fews Church when a car driven by the defendant and without any light came along and struck one of the horses, which was not badly injured. He had to jump on to the fence "for his life," he added.

Mr. Kiersey, solicitor (defending), said his client, who had eight years' experience as a driver, admitted the lesser charge. The battery of the car

WEST WATERFORD NEWS. Election Campaign Concludes.—The election campaign in these parts concluded on Saturday and Sunday last, when public meetings under the auspices of Fine Gael and Ailtnri Na h-Aisíníre were held at Ardmore and Clashmore. On Saturday night last Messrs. T. O. Dochartaigh (candidate) and E. O. Murchada addressed well attended meetings at the two centres named, when they outlined the policy of Aisíníre. On Sunday morning Mrs. M. Redmond, T.D. (candidate) and Senator Desmond Fitzgerald spoke at Ardmore meetings in support of Fine Gael. All the meetings were held at Ardmore and Clashmore. On Saturday night last Messrs. T. O. Dochartaigh (candidate) and E. O. Murchada addressed well attended meetings at the two centres named, when they outlined the policy of Aisíníre. On Sunday morning Mrs. M. Redmond, T.D. (candidate) and Senator Desmond Fitzgerald spoke at Ardmore meetings in support of Fine Gael. All the meetings were held at Ardmore and Clashmore.

Defendant told the Court it was a mistake in the filling in of the form, which was done by a neighbour of hers. The D.J. imposed a fine of 10/-, which he said, might seem small to others, but which in the present circumstances would make a considerable difference to defendant's budget.

A fine of £1, plus 3/- costs, was inflicted on Mary Walsh, Railway Quay, farmer, Knockmahon, Bonmahon, who was charged with being a trespasser on the property of Richard Casey, farmer, Fews, Kilmachthomas, in whose employment he was when the theft transpired.

Charged with the larceny of a pair of trousers, the property of Richard Casey, farmer, Knockmahon, Bonmahon, Matthew O'Rourke, labourer, Carrigcastle, Bonmahon, was given the benefit of the P.O.A. by the Justice.

Thomas Mullins and Mark McDonald, of no fixed abode, were charged with damaging the Pound at Kilmachthomas to the extent of 10/- and two other charges—(1) stealing from the Pound two horses value £9 10s, which were seized under an execution order by the sheriff's officer while they were grazing on another man's land, in respect of which the annuities were due, and (2) resulting in the death of the animals contrary to the Enforcement of Court Orders Act, 1926, and of conspiring to commit the said crime—were withdrawn by Supt. Creane, who prosecuted.

Outlining the facts, the Supt. said the defendants held a show near Kilmachthomas, and, unfortunately, they grazed the horses on land in respect of which there was a large amount of annuities due. The sheriff's officer duly arrived and seized the horses, which were impounded. The defendants tried to get in touch with the County Registrar, but it was Saturday night and they failed to do so. They then broke into the Pound and took away the two animals. The debt, concluded the Supt., was subsequently satisfied by the person who owned the lands.

For the defence, Mr. M. M. Halley, solicitor, Waterford, said that when his clients arrived in Kilmachthomas they allowed the horses to graze on the roadside, and the animals strayed into a field on which annuities were due and were seized and impounded. They searched the countryside for them, and the next thing they were told was that the horses were in the Pound. They went to Waterford to try and get in touch with the County Registrar, but it was a Saturday evening and nothing could be done about it. They then decided to break into the Pound and take the horses. The defendants were in poor circumstances, and they were very unfortunate in that the horses were also seized in Limerick under similar circumstances.

D.J.—It is a misfortune really and I have sympathy for them. On ascertaining that the defendants would compensate for the damage to the Pound, his Worship applied the Probation Act.

Before rising, the Justice paid a gracious tribute to Sergt. O'Sullivan, G.S. Stradbally, whose area of supervision embraces Bonmahon, and who had given evidence in the evidence of damage caused to Knockmahon Protestant School. His Worship said it was his first experience of Sergt. O'Sullivan and not only did he impress him, but it showed that he was a very satisfactory sergeant indeed.

MOOREHILL NOTES. Turf Production.—For some time past numbers of men have been very busy cutting turf in this district, and the residents are very fortunate in having a turf bog so convenient. Up to the present the weather has been very unfavourable for saving it but an improvement is hoped for at an early date. No effort should be spared in having as much turf as possible cut and saved, and with coal no longer available we are lucky to have a native fuel which, when properly saved, is equal to the best coal, and much more economical. Turf is also not as lasting as the bog turf, it being largely availed of. From reports to hand, we understand that a large supply of first-class bog turf will be for sale in the district in the near future, and all who want first-class winter fuel should order at once.

Colling Day.—Tuesday last passed off very quietly. At Kiltwatermoy School and the Courthouse, Tallor, the Moorehill residents recorded their votes. As usual, during the early hours of the day things were very quiet in the booths, but towards evening voters came in large numbers, and by closing time the majority of the electorate had recorded their votes.

The Beet Crop.—From all sides we have heard very promising reports of the beet crop, despite the very cold weather, and in most cases the crop has been thinned out and is doing very well. A very large acreage has been planted this year in the Moorehill district.

Outage Repairs.—For some weeks past the local County Council workmen, under Mr. P. Ryan, gangers, have been engaged improving and repairing the Board of Health cottages in the district. Those reports were badly needed, as some of the houses were in very bad condition. We have heard very favourable reports from the tenants that the work done is very satisfactory, and we congratulate Mr. Ryan and his staff on their efficiency.

The Sports.—Sunday, July 25th, is now only a month away, and already preparations are well in hand for the sports meeting. A permit for stunts has been obtained, and a very interesting programme has been prepared which will cater for all classes, young and old, so look out for a bumper day in Moorehill on July 25.

G.A.A.—A big surprise was created in Gaelic circles on Sunday last by the defeat of Camphire junior hurlers by Ballyduff. It was a good game, closely contested, and from the run of the play Ballyduff were the better team. Congratulations to winners and losers on a fine sporting display.

Senior Hurling Selection. A meeting of the Waterford senior hurling selection committee will be held in the Metropolitan Hotel, Waterford, on to-night (Friday). Team to meet Limerick in the Munster semi-final at Cork, on July 4th, will be selected.

Polling Day.—The poll in the mid-Waterford was estimated at between 75 and 80 per cent. Polling was extremely quiet and reports from all booths in the area recorded a complete lack of incident.

UDDER MILLS. And here's the way to cure them—use Curud—proved by thousands of practical farmers as the magic drench that reduces bawls to normal, and makes milk fit for use. Prompt relief and cure of swollen and hard udder—lumps in udder—tarry and inflammation in udder and udder. From all good chemists and agricultural stores. 3/- and 5/- a bottle. Use Curud Udder Salve for hard and inflamed udder, sore teats, etc. 2/- and 4/-.
