main faithful followers of Jesus Christ, Whose way was the true way and without Whom no lasting solution to world problems could be found. The Pope appealed to rulers and statesmen to endeavour to secure a just and lasting peace in a world where both rich and poor would have an equal chance of earning a decent living. An unjust peace, the Rope said, could only result in further turmoil, and even greater injustice and conflict. The present world upheaval had come because the people had not followed the precepts of Our Saviour and had allowed themselves to be led astray.

and had allowed themselves to be led astray.

The Holy Father expressed his deep sympathy with the suffering people, and especially with those who had lost their loved ones in the war. He extended his blessing to the prisoners of war in prison camps all over the world. The Pope also sympathised with those bearing responsibilities, and with the clergy who had in some cases seen their churches bombed. Even though the churches might be destroyed, the faith would still be preserved in the hearts of the people.

His Holiness expressed the hope that the faithful would resort to prayer so that the spiritual light from the Stable at Bethlehem should pervade the world.

The Holy Father concluded by imparting the Apostolic Benediction to all, especially to those who are suffering because of the present war.

Vol. 33. No. 1,582.

Christmas.—The festive season passed off quietly in these parts. As usual there was brisk buying of seasonable goods during the previous week and Post Office staffs handled a big mail in their usual competent and expeditious manner. As in past years there were several family reunions and big numbers came home on holidays. The Masses of Christmas Day were atended by large congregations, big numbers of people receiving Holy Communion and there was a constant stream of worshippers to pray before the Crib. On the night of St. Stephen's Day big crowds patronised indoor entertainments.

West Waterford Hunt Meet.—The annual big meet of the West Waterford Hunt took place on Monday in Clashmore. From an early hour there was a constant stream of enthusiasts to the historic village, inanticipation of a pleasant day's cuting. Prior to the move off the village street presented an animated and gay sight, being thronged with horses and people while the local shops did a brisk trade. In addition to the regular followers of the hunt, members of the Dungarvan Blazers and Aglish Harriers Clubs also turned out in strength and there was a field of about 100 horsemen in addition to hundreds on cycle and foot. Conditions were favourable and the big crowd enjoyed a good days sport.

Clashmore Red Cross Branch.—On Sunday last (St. Stephen's Day) the lady members of Clashmore Branch of the Irish Red Cross Society were examined for certificates in home nursing. All the members presented passed

G.A.A.—At present all interest centres on the forthcoming Divisional Convention. It is hoped that in the interests of the Association the best possible officers and officials will be elected for the coming year and that the motions submitted will receive careful consideration.

Ballinameela Ploughing Competition.—This important event, which is an innovation in these parts, is arousing the greatest interest amongst agriculturalists and its success is already assured. Now that tillage is playing such a vital part in the life of the nation, good ploughing is of primary importance and competitions are an effective way of encouraging this art. The organisers of the Ballinameela competition are to be congratulated on their initiative and we join in wishing their efforts every success. It is to be hoped that the social function which they are holding for the purpose of raising some necessary funds will receive a generous measure of public patronage.

- LISMORE NOTES.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1944

Death of Mr. C. F. Jolley, Church Street.—Much regret has been oc-casioned throughout the entire dis-trict by the death on Christmas Day of Mr. Cyril F. Jolley, Church Street, following a very brief illness. A native of Cork, the deceased came some years ago to Lismore to set up a hairdressing establishment and during his association with the a hairdressing establishment and during his association with the townspeople had by his kind and courteous manner won the respect and esteem of all. The late Mr. Jolley was an enthusiastic member of the L.D.F. since its inception and at the removal of the remains to the Protestant Cathedral on Sunday, the pall-bearers were members of the L.D.F. Coy., while another party under Asst. Platoon Leader J. Power, formed a guard of honour. The funeral to the Co. Council Cemetery took place on Monday evening, when the L.D.F. again turned out as a mark of respect to deceased's memory. There was a large attendance of the general public. The chief mourners were: Mrs. C. Jolley (wife), and Master F. Jolley (son).

Christmas at Lismore.—The Christmas season was spent very quietly by the people of Lismore. Four public Masses were celebrated in St. Carthage's Church on Christmas Day, large numbers receiting Holy Communion at the early Masses.

Successful Ceilidhe.—Under the auspices of the local L.D.F. Coy. a most successful and enjoyable ceilidhe was held at the Courthouse on St. Stephen's Night. The function well patronised and, with a delightful programme of music provided, the night's enjoyment left nothing to be desired.

LATE MR. MAURICE POWER LYRE, BALLYMACARBERY.

LYRE, BALLYMACAERERY.

The death took place on Sunday last (St. Stephen's Day) at his residence, Lyre, Ballymacarbery, of Mr. Maurice Power. Deceased, a large and practical farmer, who had reached the age of 81 years, was a well-known figure in the public life of the county in years gone by, being the representative for his area on the Rural District Council and Board of Guardians over a very long period, in which capacity he always discharged his duty in the best interests of the community. He was well versed in all matters pertaining to local government administration. A member of a widely connected and highly respected family, there was a very large and representative attendance at the removal of the remains, after the celebration of Requiem Masses, to the Parish Church, Touraneena, on Monday, where interment took place in the family plot adjoining the Church. A large number of spiritual bouquets were received by the family.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Power (widow); Rev. Fr. Declan, O.Cist., Roscrea; William, James, John and Maurice (sons); Mrs. Gribberty, Mrs. Queally, Mfs. Gribberty, Mrs. Queally, Mfs. Gribberty, Mrs. Queally, Mfs. Gribberty, Mrs. Queally, Mfs. Gribberty, Ballyknock (son-in-law),

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Successful Dance. — St. Stephen's Night dance has come and gone and left behind memories—happy memories of one of the most enjoyable and merriest nights spent in Cappoquon for some time. It was certainly a bumper night and although the spacious hall was considerably crowded, still, perfect order was maintained throughout the dance, with the result that everyone had an enjoyable time and once again voted if the merriest and most carefree night of the year. The dance was a huge success from every point of view and all arrangements for this brilliant function were carried out by the capable and energetic committee of the Rowing Clab, who deserve the greatest credit for the pains they took to ensure a grand night's entertainment for all. The floor was in splendid order which was very much appreciated by the large crowd present. Sparkling night, being the beginning of the New Year when everyone about turn over a fresh leaf and com-mence the coming year by having an enjoyable time.

MOOREHILL NOTES.

Christmastide.—The Feast of the Nativity was celebrated at Kriwstermdy with customary dignity and solemnity. There Masses were celebrated beginning at 9 o'clock, and were attended by very large congregations, numbers of which approached the Holy Table to receive Holy Communion. The officiating clergyman, in a short discourse, wished the faithful a happy, holy and perceful Christmass.

St. Stephen's Day.—St. Stephen's morning saw the usual number of "vren-boys" on parade and from an early hour the roads resounded to the voices of the youngsters singing the virtues of king of all birds. A meet of the hounds was held in the vicinity on that day and the beautifully mild weather brought out young and old, so that a record crowd was present. A good fox was soon found and some excellent sport was witnessed in the adjacent country-side during the afternoon. At night large numbers from those parts attended the dances at the various centres.

The Kliwatermoy Players.—On Sunday night next, the above players will present a grand variety entertainment at Glendine School, when a record crowd is expected.

our shores. The certain shortage and inconveniences we endure are a nothing in comparison to the shat tering sorrows of most other European nations. It would, however be sheer folly on our part to become complacent because of our fortunate position. To this we have largely attained through our brave seamer risking life and limb or even paying the supreme price, to bring vita raw material to our ports. Our farmers also have had to content with shortage of fertilisers, machiner and man-power in their effort to increase the output deemed essential to stave off hunger in our cities and towns. Our industrialists and workers are straining brains, nerver and towns. Our industrialists and workers are straining brains, nerves and sinews in employing substitutes or extending their inadequate supplies of raw materials. Hence, it behoves us to turn again to the Christchild for strength and courage to confront the dangers and difficulties possibly concealed from us in the womb of time before the borning of the next New Year. Empassant, we express fervently the hope that peace Church, to which she was ever devotedly attached. Mrs. Butler's demise, even though at a ripe age, caused general and deep regret, not only by her immediate relatives, but also on the part of her neighbours and many friends. Her bereaved ones are consoled with the knowledge that she died as she lived, pattent and resigned to the Will of her Creator, though leaving a void which cannot be filled. The remains were removed to the Parish Church, Newtown, on Wednesday evening week, accompanied by a cortege of imposing proportions, showing the regret at the demise and sympathy feit with those whom she left behind. Requiem Office and High Mass were celebrated in the sacred edifice on the following morning. Rev. J. Hally, C.C. Kilmacthomas, was celebrant of the Mass, and the clergy assisting in the choir were: Very Rev. M. F. Hearne, P.P., Ballyduff-Portlaw, Rev. M. Power, C.C., Kill: Rev. T. Power, C.C., Kill: Rev. T. ## TALLOW NOTES.

Christmas.—The Feast of the Nativity was observed with all due solemnity and religious fervour by the parishioners. The sacred ceremonies in the Church began with celebration of Holy Mass by Very Rev. Fr. Kehoe, P.P. A capacity congregation filled the sacred edifice, practically all of whom approached the Altar rails to receive Holy Communion, following which the Rev. celebrant preached a short sermon on the feast of the day. Two further Masses at 8 and 8.30 o'clock followed at which large congregations attended, a good proportion of whom also received Holy Communion. The school children's rendering of appropriate hymns was most edifying and impressive. The Holy Sacrifice was again celebrated at 11 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Mehan, C.C., at which there was an exceedingly at 11 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Mehan, C.C., at which there was an exceedingly large congregation. At the conclusion of Mass, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Fr. Meehan, The rendering of the sacred music by the choir, particularly the "Adeste Fideles," was most impressive. Midnight Mass was also celebrated by Rev. Fr. Meehan, C.C., at St. Joseph's Carmelite Cchvent, for the Community. During the afternoon and evening there was a continual round of visits to the Crib and the attendwisits to the Crib and the attendance of the children was strikingly evident, their demeanour being exceptionally reverent and devotional.

St. Stephen's Night Dance.—Judging from the numbers who attended the St. Stephen's Night dance, held at the Cinema Hall the normality.

Him in a manger. Nora then went on to describe the scenes at the stable—the visit of the shepherds, stable—the visit of the shepherds, the heavenly choir singing "Gloria in Excelsis," and the adoration of the Magi. She then remarked that this war-weary world had a lesson of Peace and Goodwill to learn from Xmas, and in conclusion she prayed that God would soon bring this war to an end and that the peace of which the Christmas Angels sang would reign supreme Angels sang would reign supreme
