HARPUR BROS., Seedsmen, WATERFORD

The Rainbow Cinema.—The pic-ture-goers of these parts will not miss the most attractive bill of fare ar-A Grand and Gala Dance, held at Baldwin's Hall, Kill, on Sunday night last, was voted the best ever by a record gathering of devotees from parts near and far, who experienced not a dull moment from commence-ment to close. Dick Walsh's Premier Dance Band (Waterford) rendered the music with wonted ability.

Billiards.—There was a full house of the members in the Temperance Hall, Kilmacthomas, on Sunday night ast to witness the concluding round of their initial billiards tournam of the current year. Messrs, Nicholas Flynn and Michael Dunford figured in the final. Sterling sportsmen and capital cueists both, their clash was eagerly looked forward to by their confreres, who confidently anticipated a needle game. To the credit of the principals, the match was well up to expectations, being a veritable neck-to-neck struggle for supremacy all the way. In fact it was reckoned one of the best tests on the local billiards tables over the past two de-cades of years. At the end of the hectic tussle, in which Mr. Flynn nar-rowly out-notched his opponent, win-ner and loser were worthily applau-ded to the echo. We are delighted to learn that the doyen of our Temper-ance Hall club, Mr. Percy Kirwan, egistered the best break in the entire ourney-42 points. And he also was ecorded a big hand at the close of the closing contest on Sunday night. Excellent Entertainment—A packed ouse at Leamybrien Hall on Sunday ight last witnessed the Kilrossanty Dramatic Society in their presention of "Troubled Bachelors," mirth-provoking 3-act comedy, and the manner in which this cleverly structed piece of work was per-ned left no doubt in the minds of the enthusiastic audience as to the artistic abilities of this talented team The play was exceland lighting effects left nothing to be desired, but these advantages were but adjuncts to the fine standard of acting that was evident throughou the entire play. So brilliant, indeed were the portrayals of the various characters, and so natural was the acting, that one forgot it was acting, and as the story unfolded the audi-ence were taking as keen an interest in the fortunes and misfortunes of the characters as if they themselves were personally affected by the progress of events. It would be invidito select any one character for equally high in all the ten parts. Each player's diction and appearance and ats on the stage all combine vincing one, and the lines provided each with plenty of scope to display a dry humour which at times kept the house in a paroxysm of laughter. ere are the names of the players their capable coach (genial Garda M. Moloney, Leamybrien): The Misses ayllis Kirwan, Kitty Power, Mary ely, and Mary Kett, and Messrs. Drohan, Joseph Blevins, James hy, Mce. Landers, Ml. Walsh, and Ml. Power. The play was suprted by a very attractive and amsuccess of the whole show. The singers were: Messrs. John Drohan, Ml. Walsh, Ml. Veale, Ml. Power, J. Kirwan and Jos. Hayes, Master Ml. Dee, and the Misses Phyllis Kirwan and Josephine Tierney. Step-dancing by Miss Mary Kiely and Messrs. Rourke (2). Mr. J. Power (violinist) was heard in several of his most captivating selections. Messrs Norris (2), the noted local accordeonists dered a series of charming num-produced in the Pike Hall on to-mor-row (Sunday) night, and in Kilmac-thomas at an early date. The pro-ceeds will be devoted to a laudable Kilrossanty parochial purpose. Card Drive.—Messrs. Thos. Maher, Bonmahon, and David O'Meara, do., won the "30" card drive (under the acgis and in aid of the local branch of the Irish Red Cross Society), decided in the New Hall, Bonmahon, on Sunday night last. The well organised event panned out an unqualified success, on which score we warmly congratulate Miss L. Fitzgerald (hon. secretary) and her colleagues of the properties hody.

Inumber of Kilrossanty people. Interment was made in the adjoining and said that he was quite sure their decisions were pleasing to the general public. Mr. James Gough, seconding the vote, said that nobody could dispute the vote, said that nobody decisions were pleasing to the expectators.

BLAZERS' HUNT DANCE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

"I wish to refer again to my reports of April 14 and March 23, 1943, on this question. No effective action has yet taken place to check waste in the town, or to enable more water to be delivered by the mains, and in consequence to improve the pressure available for fire-fighting. The position now is becoming serious. The year 1943 to date has been exception-ally wet. Notwithstanding this the river flow fell below the demand in June and July, and the town had too draw from the reservoir. The result was always approximately equal to the day flow to town, pointing clearly to a substantial waste of water. In spite of this large supply there is a very low pressure in the main, and the supply to many sections of the town is far from satisfactory; in fact it will not reach a satisfactory; in fact they had to not the supply to many sections of the town is far from satisfactory; in fact it will not reach a satisfactory; in fact they had to not the satisfactory. it will not reach certain houses at all until specially turned for a period at night. B.S. said—not officially—that the leaks in the dam had been stopped at present. It was as water-tight as possible. There was a lot of leakage in the filtration and storage tanks and these were also stopped. Preparations were being made to keep the chemical treatment going. Turf Complaint.—Mr. O'Meara said an official of the Turf Development was that in a few weeks the reservoir fell very rapidly and proved conciusively that the river flow and reservoir could not nearly supply the demand in even a normally dry year. As already pointed out, the night flow was always approximately equal to co-operate in every way with the merchants to secure supplies and to allocate waggons.
