> A Bright, Clean House is just what every good housewife is proud to own. Consider the beautiful designs you can effect with some of the new paints and distempers manufactured to-day. You know the beauty that goes with silk, satin and velvet, the dignity in certain situations of marble and plaster, and the seremity of wood pannelling. All these effects are ob-tainable in the new paints and distempers stocked by us. Imagine, if you can, the opportunities that await those who understand the properties of paint and distempers. Not only is it possible to transform the appeartransform the appearance of the whole house if you purchase your materials with care and discretion, but every room in your house will be exquisite in design and colourings, and above all, if you do not devote care and attention to your house.

LATE MASTER PATRICK KIELY. LISLEAGH, BALLINAMULT.

The most sincere sympathy is ex-tended to the highly respectable and respected parents, brothers and sisters, and other immediate relatives of the late Master Patrick Kiely, on the untimely demise of that charm-ingly mannered, truly talented son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kiely (far-mer), Lisleagh, Ballinamult, which sad event occurred at his natal rooftree on Monday of last week (March 6th), after an illness of some months and while yet in his mid teens. At school he warmly en-deared himself both to his teachers and his fellow-pupils by his assi-duity to and success in his studies and by his clubbability in the play-ground. The remains, followed by a large concourse of people, were conveyed to the Parish Church, Touraneena, on Tuesday evening week, and laid before the High Altar, where Requiem Masses were cele-brated for the repose of his soul the next morning. Burial subsequently took place in the adjoining cemetery, and it would be well-nigh impossible to give a list of the intimate friends and members of the intimate friends and members of the public attendannce. Very Rev. M. J. Phelan, P.P., Touraneena; Rev. B. McGrath, C.C., do., and Rev. J. J. Power, C.C., Fourmilewater (cousin of the deceased) officiated at the graveside. A number of beautiful floral wreaths were placed on the grave. The chief mourners were: James and Mrs. Kiely (parents); Mrs. J. Kirwan and Sister M. CORFLESPONDENCE.

The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer."

In a recent edition of your paper, my attention was attracted by a letter headed "Football in the County." In this I found some very striking facts about Gaelic Football in Waterford and I must compliment the writer's brilliant suggestion as how to arrive at the best senior foot-ball XV for 1934. But my notice was particularly drawn to a suggestion about playing outside treams. Everyone will agree that the loest county team is not always picked from club matches. And, indeed, it is often very unfair to blame the selection committee for making blunders. The main reason is, in my estimation, that good club platers may often be very disappointing when they are called on to represent their county. This can be said of Waterford more than other counties since the best footballers, are found within a fifteen-mile radius of Dungarvan and every player knows his opponent just as well as his club mate. Well, I suggest that Water-ford play Wexford in Waterford City early in April. This would have a two-fold advantage. First the expense would be very low and the gate receipts should cover all the costs: second, it would give our men very valuable experience. With such a match early in April, Wexford would have the help of Rackard (Vet. Coll.). Culletin (U.C.I).), Furling and Lynch, all inter-provincial footballers. I would like our Co Board to take example from their neighbour, the "Rebel County." Cork are already working hard to third the already working hard to find the best talent for 1944. Already they have played the Army (Ich Div.) and matches with Roscommor and Kerry will be played in April. Why not our Gaelic players got he same chance? Our football finds have always made great gates. Why not give the boys a better chance? Before I conclude I world like to suggest that the Cc. Board ask through the daily papers all non-resident : footballers to declare for this county as there are at least six outstanding men, who I am sure it asked, wou'd

I will conclude now as "h Gael" did—"Stradbilly, you may not have another chance." Firove to the county that you can do as wel if not better than the "Old Blorg," Glashmort or Kilrossanty, who is their hey-day brought glory to their native county. "C'UL BAIRE!"

A Chara.—T he for ning of a biraich of the Green Cross in Dungariai as reported in a recent issue of the "Observer," sets an example which other districts would de well a follow. The noble object of the organisation—the act of political prisoners' dependants in the Six Counties. OF SUPREME IMPORTANCE

- POTATOES are an ideal food both for man and beast and, as the import of essential foodstuffs has almost ceased, it is of supreme importance that more and more potatoes should be cultivated.
- NO other tillage crop is more successfully grown in this country and no tillage crop produces as much food per acre.
- THE maintenance of our poultry and pig industries depends largely upon the supplies of potatoes available for feeding.
- A big increase over the 1943 acreage is necessary if our needs are to be met in full. This increase can be attained if every farmer plants at least half an acre or an acre more than he planted last year.

N.B.

To avoid risk of failure use whole seed as far as possible, but if you must cut do so immediately before planting. If you cannot plant all certified seed, grow (in isolation) at least as much as will provide seed for your entire crop next

KILMACTHOMAS NOTES.

Death of Mr. M. F. Sheehan .- The death of Mr. Ml. F. Sheehan, farmer,] Waterford, occasioned deep regret thetic manner and many amiable traits of character. He was a cultured neighbour of high intellect, tive powers of the many eventful hap-penings in the course of his long and morrow (St. Patrick's) night, honourable career. He figured prominently in the Sinn Fein movement and acted as a Republican court Judge at Kilmacthomas. Since 1922 he was a staunch and consistent pro-Treatyite. An eloquent public speaker, and a gifted writer of peetry and prose, the late Mr. Sheehan was sincere in decades of years ago. He was uncle of Professor J. Power, Lady Lane Academy, Waterford, and cousin of Messrs, James and Patrick Kelly, of Ballyhussa. Sympathy with the bereaved ones is universal. A cortege of imposing dimensions accompanied the removal of the remains to the Parish Church, Newtown, where they rested overnight before the high

Death of Mr. T. Phelan.—The news of the death of Mr. Thomas Phelan, Kilnagrange, Kilmacthomas, which sad event took place at his residence, lowing an illness of some months' duration, and at a comparatively early age, was received with regret out mid-Waterford, where he and his family are well konwn and deservedly popular. A most exemp-lary Catholic and a devoted husband and father, the late Mr. Phelan's refined and gentle nature, coupled with a generous and charitable disposition endeared him to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. A great wave of sympathy goes out to his estimable wife (nee Power) and family in their bereavement and loss. On Saturday evening a large gathering of relatives, friends and sympa sers accompanied the remains to the Parish Church, Newtown, where they were received by Rev. Fr. Gal-vin, P.P., do., who recited the prayers for the dead. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery after 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday, Rev. Fr. Hally, C.C., Kilmaethomas, pronounced the final absolution at the graveside. A number of beautiful floral wreaths were placed on the grave, and numerous spiritual ouquets and messages of sympathy were received. The immediate chief mourners were Mrs. Phelan, Kilnagrange (widow); Messrs. Mce., Thos., and John Phelan, do., and James Phelan, England (sons); Mrs. Mary Fultcher, do., and Miss Bridget Phean, Kilnagrange (daughters); Mr. E. Phelan, do. ARTERIAL DRAINAGE BILL,

During the second reading of the Arterial Drainage Bill in the Dail on 29th February, Mr. D. Heskin, T.D., I welcome this Drainage Bill. No doubt it is very essential for the country in general, but I would suggest that such a gigantic scheme as this should not be undertaken unti such time as conditions are restored to normal after the emergency. In the first place, you cannot get labour. Mand from the people of the town At different meetings designed to encourage the production of food for the nation, we find that labour is the problem, and if such a Bill as this is to be put into force in the near | was the Shandon Road. Prepare the schemes to the full; be ready for the period after the an increase of 2d. in the Urban rate. emergency, when many men will be

With regard to the cost of maintenance, I entirely disagree with the idea that the cost should be borne by the local authority. Local authorities already have burdens heavy enough without having to bear the maintenance cost of a huge drainage scheme. Everybody will agree that many farmers and poor people in the towns cannot and ought not be asked to pay a county rate to meet a county-atlarge charge in respect of a gigantic drainage scheme. He has heavy burdens to bear; he has a family to maintain, and his land is much less fertile; and it is very unjust to suggest that he and others like him—the worker in the cottage, for example should be asked to contribute to the maintenance of this scheme, which possibly will benefit the big land owner. If the land is to benefit from a national scheme such as this, the nation as a whole should be asked to contribute to it. Local authorities will have more to contend with after this war than many of us can realise to-day. > Another section of the Bill deals with embankments, old drainage schemes, and so on. Many of the old embankments were maintained by the Land Commission in days gone by, and even up to now they are their responsibility. If that is so, why should a local authority have to accept the responsibility of the Land Commission? Breaches in river embankments due to high tides in a flood will cost thousands in a night. How could a county ratepayer be asked to bear the cost of the repair of such damage? I think it should be borne by the State. Old Age Pensioner Patients.—Mr. Harty referred to old age pensioners who were patients in hospitals, and said it was very hard on them to have to give up their pension money while

Mr. O'Flynn, Secretary, Board of Assistance, said that these patients got back 2/6 out of their pensions. They were much better off in the hospital, where they were fed and cared for, than in their homes where they would spend all their money. The Chairman asked how would it affect two pensioners, such as husband and wife. Mr. O'Flynn said that special cases like this got special consideration.

Tallow and Cappoquin Lighting.

Mr. Heskin asked the Co. Manager if it was possible to increase the lighting in Tallow. A similar request was made by Mr. M. F. Walsh, on behalf of Cappoquin.

The Co. Manager said that he would look into the matter.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, mink, and the world looks punk.

Laxatives help a little, but a mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carters Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carters Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything cise, 1/3 and 3/-.
