LISMORE NOTES

The National Holiday.—The National Holiday was celebrated with fitting solemnity at Lismore. Large crowds received Holy Communion at the early Mass and the Shamrock was everywhere in evidence. The sponsored by the L.D.F. took place in the afternoon. The first man past post in the cross-country race was Mr. "Sonny" Murray, Moorehill, and the winner of the walking race was Mr. D. Fennessy, Ballysaggart, A ceilidhe under same auspices was held at the Courthouse and although the function did not receive the support it deserved, those present enjoyed themselves immensely dancing to the strains of Tom Keating's fine ceilidhe band.

On St. Patrick's Night before one of the largest audiences ever to throng the Courthouse, the Lismore Dramatic Society present Charles Kickham's "Knocknagow," supported by an excellent variety programme. This was duction to date and was voted by all to be the best amateur performance ever seen in Lismore. This great story of Irish rural life gave these versatile players full scope for their talent and the result was a de-

CORRESPONDENCE.

Now that the stage is set for 1944

The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer." FOOTBALL IN THE COUNTY.

I must first compliment the Co. Board on their choice of a selection committee, while the sporting ges-ture of the Stradbally Club in foregoing a member for an Eastern delegate is just what one expects from those unselfish Gaels. With the Co. so well covered by those experts in charge, no useful footballer can possibly escape notice. But the best AV will not survive Tipp's challenge on May 14 at Waterford, unless they be trained, fit and inspired with a door-die determination that we lacked last year or ever before-to lower the colours of this great team, scarcely less formidable than the Munster champions. Year after year we went under to Tipp, last year on a big score due to half-hearted team work. This year the tables will be turned-men of the Decies, plunge into training and in six weeks qualify for the semi-final? Is there any reason why we shouldn't?-we are not inferior in Looking back on recent year's one might easily give an accurate foreeast of the team early on-men were sure of their places months before-hand, from the previous season's games, hence lack of competition for places—our team flopped and fell in the public estimation. In 1936, with that famous Kerry and All-Ireland footballer, Sergt. Paul Russell at the helm, the last great effort that year, we lost to their juntor string in the Munster final at the same venue. Had we survived, the football history for the past seven years would be changed. In that year the team was drawn from Dungarvan, De La Salle, and Fenor, with two from Stradbally and one from Kilrossanty. The City men were all (Dungarvan) (S'bally) (Kilrossanty)

Subs.—J. Crotty (S.), E. Power (Brickies), P. Gough (Fenor), P. (Brickies), P. (Bri Note.—Two more teams will be published next week including one from "Supporter," Stradbally. All ration of butter available per person practically disappeared off the map. while Dungarvan has the same old stars, just as bright as ever, in Moylan, Barron and Goode, but I think one or two young lads are just about due. In 1939, with Kilrossanty the prime mover, a lesser effort was made but with the sad memories of the '36 junior final still fresh in mind the most optimistic of us cou not anticipate the downfall of the Kerry senior team. However, the boys made a great show and although Kerry eventually won, they were three points in arrears at the interthey find our net. This was their hardest game to the final which they won. With a trained forward division Waterford might have been the 1939

To survive the first game this year we must make a flying start as the six weeks to get fit. The Selection Committee should sort out at least 35 train. Local trial games would reduce this number to 25 and from a the team until he has satisfied the selectors in the final tryout. Those who were on previous inter-county teams and "were found wanting" on field for the Green Cross games are at Dungarvan ion Easter Sunday: Ring v. Kilgobinet; Dungarvan v. Kilrossanty. At Villierstown: Black-Cork for each team. Again, junior teams should not be ignored—some of Munster's finest footballers play with junior teams in their home championships, in fact two members Things I have heard.—That Ballycoe have elected Hugh Folcy. #### WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE without Calomei — and you'll jump out of bed in the morning full of vim and vigour The liver should pour out two plats of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, stink, and the world look? punk.

Laxatives help a little, but a mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carters Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmiess, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carters Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything else, 1/3 and 3/-.

WHEAT

Our entire bread requirements must come from our own soil. We cannot rely on imports. There is yet time to sow spring wheat; use it to the utmost Sufficient quantities of seed are available.

POTATOES

The importance of potatoes cannot be too strongly emphasised. There can be no want while potatoes are plentiful. If you have not as much prepared ground as you would like to sow with potatoes, then plough more lea and plant in beds or on the flat. BARLEY

Barley may be required to supplement wheat for bread purposes and will certainly be needed for the brewing and distilling industries. It is also a most valuable feeding stuff for young animals.

Greatly increased quantities of oats are necessary to maintain adequate stocks of cattle, pigs and poultry.

AILTIRI NA HAISEIRGHE.

The securing of complete independence of the Island of Eire is the first point in the Aiseirighe programme. Seeing that this is essential for nation, are to make the maximum contribution to the welfare of mankind we can do so as a free and any nation to deprive or seek to deprive Eire of that sovereignity is an unforgivable crime against justice as it prevents her from fulfilling the destiny which God ordained she should fulfil. The slave does not should fulfil. The slave does not initiative or give of his best. He is initiative or give of his best. He is only a fawn who serves the selfish not on this basis alone then a moral right to ask of all who seek our endestiny and to seek to remove all obstacles placed in our way. Therefore, when we of Aiseirighe speak of freedom we do not merely mean the return of stolen territory but the cessation of all measures by any slavement the right to shape our own return of stolen territory but the cessation of all measures by any power whether of a military, economic, political or cultural nature,

There are two means of conquering a people:—(1) Brute force which has been used by imperialists from the earliest times to crush a weaker nation. But this method has its faults, for except on rare occasions, it only partially succeeds and even it only partially succeeds and even that partial success can only last for and slightly to his own side, on the a time. CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Cappoquin Rowing Club .-- Prior to the annual general meeting of the Rowing Club there was an interesting ceremony when Mrs. R. L. Keane of Belleville Park unveiled memorial portraits of the late Mrs. Villiers-stuart and the late Mr. R. J. Curran. M. J. Sargent in formally asking Mrs. Keane to unveil the portraits warm tributes to the late lamented Mrs. Stuart who had so often graced Club functions with her presence and was such a generous supporter of the Club. He referred to the late Mr. Curran as a man who as coach and trainer had been responsible for placing the Club in the position it held in Irish Rowing circles. A tribute to Mr. B. F. Doyle. former Hon, Sec. of the Club, was also paid when a portrait of him was unveiled. Mr. Doyle, now residing in Cork, was responsible for the erection of the present Club House, said Mr. Sargent, and in view of all he had done for the Club it was only fitting this tribute should be paid him. The portraits having been unveiled, Mr. John Curran thanked the members for their memorial to his father and also thanked Mrs. Keane for her kindness in coming to unveil the portraits. A hearty vote of thanks to Mrs Keane to which she replied in a graceful speech, was passed with acclamation. Annual General Meeting.-Mr. M.

Hon. Treas. were read and adopted. In the course of his report the Hon. Secretary (Mr. R. J. Curran) said, that owing to the emergency, travelling to regattas was next to impossible and consequently rowing suffered. So, because of circumstances beyond their control, there was no rowing during the year. But, the social life of the Club was very active and many successful functions were promoted during the year. He paid a warm tribute to Mr. J. Regan (senr.) for assistance given during the year. The report of the Hon. Treas. showed the financial position to be poor. The vice-captain reported that all boats and rowing gear were in good condition. The velling to regattas was next to imgear were in good condition. The resignation of Mr. R. J.
