STRADBALLY UNDER WAY FOR FIFTH CHAMPIONSHIP.

Thrilling exchanges and flashes of first-class footballing were features of the Waterford County Senior Football Championship (which is being run on the League system this year) between Stradbally (county champions since 1940) and the 3rd Battalion (Army) at Stradbally on Sunday last. As a result of a heavy shower of rain which fell immediately before the match the ball was greasy in play. A stiff south wind held sway throughout the evening. Despite these impediments the bout was one of the best seen at the venue for a long time and was witnessed by a fairly large attendance. The honour of refereeing the mix was bestowed on Mr. Willie Barron, Dungarvan H. and F. Club, who, without a shade of partiality, saw full fair play for the opposing fifteens. The teams lined out as under—

Stradbally (in crimson jerseys)—James Corbett
J. O'Meara, J. Power, J. Kiely, N. Connors, T. Veale, A. Fleming, P. Kirwan and P. Kieran.
3rd Battalion (Blue)—J. Veale, K. Phelan, J. Orpen, J. Cummins, J. Crotty, M. Connors, Third Battalion (Blue)—Malachy Cormac.

The Army, with the wind in their backs, were away from the throw-in, but N. Connors, besting Stenson, cleared. J. Orpen, J. Veale and P. Kirwan shone in a Stradbally assault which ended in the leather being narrowly wided. The Army kept up the pressure and a rasper by K. Phelan caused Cormac to concede a 50. This was cleared by O'Connor, but was returned by P. Kirwan. O'Connor and Murphy, following a sparkling save by the goalie the Army, helped by a free, took the leather into Stradbally territory, where J. O'Meara, T. Veale, A. Fleming and J. Kiely were to the fore defending. Play eventually swung back to the Army defenders. A free to Stradbally was wided. The ball was kept about mid-field for some time and both sides had a brace of frees before O'Brien sent the Army attacking. Fleming, dispossessed Fitzpatrick, but O'Keefe returned and J. Kiely crossing in front of Corbett saved Sullivan's low rasping drive at the expense of a 50 which Fanning took and Crotty tapped. J. Cummings who cleverly levelled the scoring. From goal to goal the sphere was sent with bewildering rapidity, till J. Cummings, who was playing the game of his life, notched a great goal, his drive at close range giving Cormac no chance of stopping. Fanning followed up the kick-out and the Army spear-heads were seen to advantage before Stenson crowned the rush by hoisting the white flag. Stradbally had two frees before K. Phelan forced a 50 which, taken by T. Veale went wide by inches. The pace was terrific. M. Connors was fouled and P. Kirwan pointed off the free. Play in neutral ground now occupied some short time and the Army again advanced. J. Kiely was injured but was able to resume after treatment. The Stradbally defenders cleared their lines and the forwards of the side had a "rushed" goal which was disallowed for an infringement of the "square." The sets had a series of wides before K. Phelan pointed. Soon the interval blast went, leaving the scores: Stradbally, 1-3; Third Batt., 0-2.

On the change over Stradbally sent wide, but in the subsequent efforts to increase their score, and off a free close in, Sullivan landed a minor. Play remained in the Stradbally region. The Army forced a 50. Fanning took it and centred well. The marksmen of the side strove their utmost to score but were blocked by N. Connors and his brother defenders every time. The activity of the "Reds" now made itself felt as they were successful in adding another point (per Cummins) to their tally. Following some fast and furious mid-field play, P. Sullivan once more secured and the white flag was again unfurled. The respective ends were frequently and fruitlessly visited in turn and full-time saw some play in centre, leaving the men of Stradbally victorious by 1 goal 1 point, the final score being: Stradbally, 1-5; Third Batt., 0-4.

Amongst the onlookers we noticed: Very Rev. P. D. Cummins, O.S.A. (Priest) Cork, who is Hon. President of the Stradbally Club; Rev. T. Draper, C.C., Stradbally; Mr. Dec. Good, Secretary, Waterford County

MULCAHYS, DUNGARVAN

WEST DIV. G.A.A. MEETING.

Mr. M. Connors, Chairman, presided at a meeting of the West Waterford G.A.A. Divisional Board at Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan, on last Thursday night. The following officials of the Board were also present: Mr. O'Sullivan (vice-chairman); T. A. Kyne, Secretary; T. Mahony, Treasurer; Mr. P. Ryan, County Board member, was also present. The following clubs were represented: Dungarvan, Four-mile-water, Modeligo, Villers-ton, Abbeyside, Cappoquin, Ballinacorney, Stradbally, Aglish, Tallow, Ballycoe, Slilabh gCua, Kilgobinet, St. Michaels, Camphire, Ring, Fisker, Rovers, Kilmacshos, O'Connell, Knockanore, St. Mochuda, Lismore, Cathal Brughas, Clashmore, Blackwater-Rovers.

Objection by Four-mile-water Club.—The Four-mile-water Club had an objection against the Collins (Army) Club. The objection was a sequel to the Green Cross Final (J.H.) between the Collins Club and Collins played on April 16. The grounds of the objection were that the list of the Collins Club team included four names not on the Register of that club. The representative of the Collins Club said that the objection did not specify any particular man or men. The players objected to should have been named; this had not been done. For that reason the delegate held that the objection was void.

The Chairman said that he would agree that it was rather vague but held that it was in order. The representative of the Collins Club said that the point he was bringing forward was that this objection was too general. It should have specified a particular name or names. A Four-mile-water delegate said that all the documentary evidence was before the Board. The Army Club's representative said that the information they got did not state who was being objected to. He contended that the exact grounds of the objection should have been set out. The first they heard about these men who were being objected to was at the meeting that night. The Chairman said that the Army Club could have looked up the Rule under which the objection had been made and could then have looked up their team to see if it was not in order. He was satisfied, however, that the objection was in order.

The names of the players, who were the subject of the objection, were then read, following which the Army delegate stated that the names were on the Register but the christian names had been confused when the list was made out. Following further discussion on matter, the Chairman said the Army representative had been honest in his evidence. He believed that his evidence was correct but at the same time the rule had been violated by error or otherwise and he would uphold the objection.

Another Four-mile-water delegate then went on to state that on the list of players they got were names which he contended were illegal as they had played with other clubs and had not been transferred. He was prepared to submit proof of this. Following a short discussion, the Chairman said that he was allowing the matter to be discussed in case of an appeal. They would agree the Army players had proved good sports in all the matches they played. It was unfortunate that this list was not in order.

Mr. J. Moloney (Four-mile-water) said that the Army men had certainly been a credit to the Association. Mr. P. Ryan said as the referee of the match he would like to pay a tribute to the Army men also. The Army delegate returned thanks for the remarks and said he was sure that no one could say that they had

GAELIC NOTES: SENIOR CLUBS

The defeat of our senior hurlers at the hands of Tipperary at Clonmel on Sunday week last completely upset all expectations, and I suppose I am only like the many thousands who "biked" it to Clonmel to view our hurlers defeat, disappointed and disheartened by the unimpressive display of our team against a by-no-means great Tipperary fifteen. It was evident from the start of the game that we were "up against it" and four of our defenders and goalman could not be expected to keep out the fast-moving Tipperary attacking department, who already had bewildered Creed and Fitzgerald in the half-line of defence. Goalman and full backs covered up fairly well under the whirlwind assaults of the Tipperary men, but the Mount Sion stalwart, Paddy Dowling, was left fighting a lone battle against superior odds, and were it not for the brilliance of the Portlaw man, Mick Hickey, the total against us at half time would have been more substantial. Scidom have I seen Hickey in such form; he was here, there and everywhere, and he was easily, in my opinion, the best player on the field. In Easton failed to reproduce last year's form, and his trip from Galway to Dublin on Thursday, hard Army championship game on Friday, travel to Clonmel on Saturday and field out on Sunday, surely had an adverse effect on his display. Willie Barron never recovered from a shaky start and he was disappointing to himself as well as to our many supporters. E. Daly got plenty of chances to make the game safe, but he allowed some golden opportunities flitter away. D. Power was the pick of the half line and justified his selection. M. Feeney (full forward) worked hard but got little or no support from the two corner men. P. Wade was not at home in the right corner, and J. Good was not a success in the left full position.

Out in the first round leaves us with very little enthusiasm, and we must now only await the four-county hurling league competition, which will be restarted immediately after the Munster championships are completed. Under adverse weather conditions, Stradbally defeated the 3rd Battalion (Army) at Stradbally on Sunday last in the senior football championship. The game was by no means brilliant, but a tough hard hour's football was witnessed by a small attendance. Stradbally were taking no chances and fielded out at full strength, and Andy Fleming made the journey from Waterford to play a sound game for the "Reds".

Owing to the annual procession at Dungarvan on Sunday next, the senior football game between Dungarvan and the Nire, at Modeligo, is postponed. The game, I am informed, will take place in the near future. I regret to note the transfer to Dublin from Dungarvan of D. O.B. He was one of our keenest supporters and I wish him, along with his many Gaelic friends, God-speed. Happy Landings, Ga.

Dungarvan Club are losing a very promising young player in Eddie O'Brien, but I hope his transfer to the capital will help to give him the required experience and that he will some day wear his native county colours on the football field. John Keane is up and around again and his many friends will be glad to learn that he may be seen in action on Sunday next against the Army at Waterford in the senior hurling championship. This game is creating great interest and a record crowd is expected to turn up at the Sportfield on Sunday evening next.

Read Improvements.—Several welcome road improvements have been carried out in these parts during recent months. One of the most necessary works effected was the removal of the sharp bend on the Youghal road adjacent to Clashmore village. J.P.'s Visit.—Mrs. B. M. Redmond, T.D., visited Clashmore on Sunday last.

Noxious Weeds Act, 1936.—This Act is in force in every county and occupiers, owners and other responsible persons are required to keep their lands clear of the scheduled noxious weeds, viz. thistle, ragwort and dock. The Minister for Agriculture wishes to impress on all occupiers of land the immense loss caused by the spread of noxious weeds, especially in present circumstances when conservation of the productivity of land is of such vital importance. Any occupier whose lands are infested by noxious weeds will be liable to prosecution without previous notice, Ragwort may be exterminated by cutting the plants at the flowering stage; or, if circumstances permit, by pulling the plants, preferably after heavy rain. If the former method be employed, two cuttings should be made, the first early in July and the second six weeks later. When the plants are cut or pulled, as indicated above, it is no circumstances should be left lying on the pasture. They should be immediately collected and burned, as they may be dangerous to animals if eaten, and, moreover, if the seed heads have formed, living seeds may be produced. Thistle should be cut at least twice in the season on badly infested pastures. Read the Department's leaflet (No. 97) on Weeds.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

Inspection of Cattle.—On Tuesday last Mr. John Beatty, Inspector of the Department of Agriculture, judged cattle the property of the members of the Clashmore Cow-Testing Association. The following awards were made under the County Committee of Agriculture prize scheme—Cow—1st, Mr. E. McGrath's "Kneeshaw"; 2nd, Mr. John Troy's "Daisy"; 3rd, Mr. W. Dower's "Rose" (C.H.M. Y.7) was awarded first prize. Mr. Beatty, who was accompanied by Mr. D. Hurley, county agricultural instructor, also inspected cattle the property of Grange C.T.A., and prizes were awarded to the cattle the property of Messrs. C. O'Connor, A. Walsh, M. Keane, and Miss K. Ryan.

Newly Ordained.—Amongst the young priests raised to the dignity of the priesthood by Most Rev. Dr. Staunton, D.D., Bishop of Ferns, at St. Peter's College, Wexford, on Sunday last were Rev. Father Supple (Youghal), son of Mr. W. Supple, N.T., principal teacher, Clashmore National Schools. His many friends in these parts join in wishing Father Supple many years of health and happiness in his sacred ministry. Garda Transfers.—The following Garda transfers have been announced: Garda O'Keefe, Ballymacarthy, to Cappagh; Garda O'Mahony, Cappagh, to Leamybrien; Garda Moriarty, Leamybrien, to Ring.

L.D.F.—During the past week the L.D.F. units in these parts carried out their annual practice on the miniature range under the supervision of A.D.V. M. Shalloe and D.P. and O/O R. Keating. On Monday night last Lieut. E. Furness, A.T.O., inspected the Ring L.D.F. Platoon. Aglish v. Gletlicky Rangers.—On Sunday next Aglish play Gletlicky Rangers in the second round of the junior football championship, when a good game is expected. The match will be played at the former club's venue. Gletlicky Rangers, who have got a strong, capable team, are favourites, but their opponents have also a useful fifteen and are optimistic as to the outcome. The winners enter the group final.

The Big Replay.—Gaelic enthusiasts are now eagerly looking forward to the meeting of Ring and Blackwater Rovers in the replay of their first match in the initial round of the junior football championship. On their first encounter Blackwater Rovers won by a small margin following a great game. The replay promises to be a hectic encounter and is sure to attract a great crowd to the popular Villierstown venue. Both sides will probably have some changes but whoever wins a great struggle for supremacy is assured. The Fishing Season.—The salmon fishing season, now well advanced, has been one of the worst in living memory and some crops have hardly paid overhead expenses much less reaped a profit for their arduous labours. Even the most experienced fishermen can advance no definite reason for the unprecedented scarcity of fish. Prior to the war the scarcity was attributed to the depredations of foreign trawlers but as this cause no longer exists it is hard to advance any practical reason.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Pretty Wedding at Cappoquin.—A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cappoquin, on Tuesday morning, 6th June, the contracting parties being Mr. Jas. McGrath, son of the late Mr. and Ed. McGrath, Newcastle, Co. Tipperary, and Miss Mary Duggan, younger daughter of the late Mr. John Duggan, Tour, Cappoquin, and sister of Capt. M. Duggan. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C. The bride was given away by her brother. She looked charming in navy blue, whilst the bridesmaid, Miss Kitty McGrath, Boherboyra, Mount Mellery, also looked very attractive. The best man was Mr. J. Houlihan, Tour, cousin of the bridegroom. After the ceremony the entire wedding party left for the bride's home where the wedding breakfast was served. Later the happy couple departed for their honeymoon in Cork amidst the congratulations and best wishes of all for a long and prosperous life of conjugal bliss.

Successful Dance.—The all-night dance held in the Posthouse Hall, Sunday night last in aid of the Rowing Club proved a most enjoyable and social function and a great financial success. All arrangements were splendidly carried out by the energetic committee of the Club. Prizes for the Scratch Races were presented to the winners during the dance. A splendid programme of music was provided by the Brideside Serenaders' Band (Tallow) while a splendid sit-down supper was provided by Miss B. Colbert, Knockalara, the well-known caterer.

Garden Fete in aid of West Waterford Hunt.—A grand Garden Fete, in aid of the West Waterford Hunt, will be held in the grounds of Belleville Park on Thursday, June 29th (Festus of St. Peter and Paul), by kind permission of Mr. R. L. Keane, hon. sec. of the West Waterford Hunt and Mr. Keane. A most attractive and varied programme of amusements is being prepared for the event, and this function should be generously supported by all.

Corpus Christi.—The usual ceremonies in connection with the Feast of Corpus Christi were carried out in the Parish Church on the Festival. After Second Mass, a procession in honour of the Blessed Sacrament was held around the grounds of the Church and back to the High Altar.

Red Cross.—The public meeting held on Sunday to open the Red Cross "Half a Million Drive," was attended by a small but representative crowd. Owing to unpleasant climatic conditions, the meeting, which was to have been held in the open air, was held in the Library. Rev. Fr. Dunphy (in the unavoidable absence of Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P.) presided and in a short speech, introducing the speakers, stressed the necessity for helping in the good cause which the speakers came to support. Mr. S. J. Moynihan, Co. Manager, was the first speaker, and gave details of the manner in which the drive was being organized. The target for Co. Waterford was £13,000, and for Cappoquin district, £350. These figures seem high, said the speaker, but surely it is a small amount to ask from people who have been spared through God's mercy from the horrors of war with which so many countries have been afflicted. Mr. Moynihan said he felt sure that Cappoquin with its tradition for generosity would not only collect the sum mentioned but surpass it. Mr. Gallagher, Waterford, spoke at length on the work done by the Irish Red Cross Organisation and gave details of the splendid help given by the Society to all belligerent countries. Dealing with the ravages of Tuberculosis, he said, that statistics collected by medical men showed that sixty per cent of the deaths of young people between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five, were due to the dread disease. He outlined the steps being taken by the

I.R.C. to fight the scourge and stated that already the Society had established sanatoria at a cost of £60,000. Urging his hearers to do their utmost to help the good cause he gave as an example the magnificent work done by the Portlaoigh Branch who in a week had collected £300 in sums ranging from 3d. to £10. The speakers were listened to with great attention and Fr. Dunphy, in a few well-chosen words expressed the thanks of the meeting. When the speakers had left the members of the local branch of the I.R.C. discussed ways and means for proceeding with the collection. It was decided to send a copy of the Society's leaflet dealing with the "drive" to each person in the district and to follow this with a personal call by some of the members of the Branch. The co-operation of the L.D.F., L.S.F., G.A.A., and kindred bodies is to be sought in order to ensure that there will be a sufficient number of collectors.

F.F. Victory Celebrations.—On last Saturday night great celebrations were held in Cappoquin in honour of the victory of Flanna Fail. Bonfire fires were lighted on the Square and the flag was raised, while several well-known followers of Flanna Fail gave speeches, including M. T. Lincoln, N.T., Mr. T. Kelleher, and Senator Chairman Sean Goulding. Huge crowds were gathered and great enthusiasm was experienced. The National Anthem brought a most exciting night to an end. G.A.A.—On Sunday last, an interesting hurling match (challenge) was played in the Sportsfield between Cappoquin and Lismore. The game attracted a very fine gathering of spectators and they certainly had good value for their money. The game, for a long time proved very close and exciting and kept the spectators on their toes. However, Cappoquin was pitted against a strong Lismore team and were gallant losers.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mission at Parish Church.—The two weeks' mission conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers was brought to a close on Sunday night last when Rev. Fr. Walsh delivered the closing sermon to a congregation, the numbers of which must have constituted a record in attendance. The Mission from the opening to the close was an unprecedented success and must have been a source of great joy to the Rev. Missioners and to the clergy of the Parish. Hundreds received Holy Communion daily during the course of the two weeks, whilst both general Communion on Sunday last and Sunday week were most impressive and edifying. The sacred music at the various devotions was under the direction Miss H. Boyle, organist.

Corpus Christi Procession of the Blessed Sacrament.—The annual Procession will take place on Sunday next. The route will be as in former years. Benediction will be given in the Square and at the Church gates. In the order the procession will be: 1. Presentation Convent School Children; 2. Mercy Convent School Children; 3. Christian Brothers' Boys; 4. Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band; 5. Children of Mary wearing their Cloaks and veils; 6. Mercy Convent Girls; 7. The Women's Sacred Heart Confraternity wearing their ribbons and medals; 8. Red Cross Divisions; 9. Dungarvan Boy Scouts; 10. Local Defence Force in uniform; 11. Dungarvan Fire Brigade; 12. The Men's Sacred Heart Confraternity wearing their sashes and medals; 13. Members of the Urban Council; 14. The Choir; 15. Cross-bearer, Altar Boys, Clergy; 16. Canopy. The children will first assemble at their respective schools and then march to Presentation Convent gates. The Children of Mary meet in Emmet Street. The Women's Confraternity meet in Mary Street; the Red Cross Divisions and Dungarvan Boy Scouts in Grattan Square; Local Defence Force in Friary Street; Men's Confraternity in Church Grounds. All processions must be in their places at 2.30 p.m. so that the Procession may begin promptly at 3 o'clock. The Abbeyside processions will assemble at the Schoolhouse at 2.15 p.m. The marshals of the Procession are to be strictly obeyed. No one is allowed to join the children under 8 years are not allowed to walk, nor women in charge of children. All who possibly can should assist in the procession.

Transfer of Garda D.O. Thomas Barry.—The many friends in these parts of Detective Officer Tom Barry, will learn with regret of his impending departure from the County. He is due to leave for the Capital on Monday next. Garda Barry who has been stationed here for a number of years has been a most successful and efficient officer. His ability in the detection of offences against the law and his many friends here although sorry to lose such an efficient officer will feel glad that his splendid service is recognised by his superiors resulting in his promotion in the Force. In the struggle for Ireland, Garda Barry was a man's part in his native County Cork. We join with his many friends in wishing him all the best in Atha Cliath.

Children's Ceilidhe.—A very successful Children's Ceilidhe was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Sunday evening. The ceilidhe, which was organised by Mrs. Hallahan, dance teacher, was attended by children from her classes in Dungarvan and district. A long and varied programme, consisting of long dances, step dances and choruses, was gone through during the evening and it was a treat to watch the children performing their respective parts without a hitch. It also revealed some of the work that is being done for the cultural side of Irish life and for the future of our children, giving them the young lives on the road which they should follow to become the men and women of the coming generation. There was a large attendance which included pupils from Mrs. Hallahan's local classes, also pupils from Ballinacree and Kilsheel National Schools. It was also patronised by a large number of prominent people from the town and district. The boys from the C.B.S. under Rev. Brother Hanratty, took a prominent part, both in the singing and in the dancing. Great credit is due to Brother Hanratty for the good work he is doing for Irish culture. The singing and dancing of the boys were a credit to him. A special word of praise is also due to Mrs. Condon, Kilcheal, and to Mr. Whelan, Ballinacree, for the interest they are taking in their pupils and for bringing them in to take part in this very praiseworthy and national entertainment. It is to be hoped that this ceilidhe is but the beginning of the good work that many others will follow, because, at a time like this, when foreign influences are at work all around us, it is necessary that something should be done to keep

LISMORE NOTES.

Annual Procession.—Preparations for the Annual Procession of the Blessed Sacrament are nearing completion and by Sunday the town will have taken on a festive appearance. The order and route of the procession are as last year. Processionists assemble at 2.30 in Chapel Street and move off at 3 p.m. via South Mall, Main Street and Galloway Hill, to the altar erected outside the Christian Brothers' Monastery, where Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be given. From there via Upper New Street, Station Road, and Chapel Street, the procession will return to Cahage's Church where the ceremonies will conclude with final Benediction.

Our Junior Hurlers in Action.—The Lismore junior hurling team had a try-out against Cappoquin in a challenge game at the Cappoquin Sportsfield on Sunday last and ran out easy winners. But we would warn against over-confidence and say that they will have to play an entirely different game when they meet Ballyduff at Tallow on next Sunday week if hopes of reaching the county final are entertained. Sunday's game was scrappy to make the most of it and our boys seemed over-eager and never settled down. Of course we must admit that weather conditions militated against good hurling as a strong wind was blowing and, in addition, the pitch was greasy from the rain which fell early in the afternoon, rendering ball control and accurate shooting most difficult. But still, it would be creating false confidence to lay the blame entirely to the elements; there were many weak spots on Sunday and Lismore will have to put all they have into the next fortnight's training if they are to dispose of the victors of Tourin.

Farmers' Meeting.—Mr. Denis Heskin, T.D., visited a tremendous ovation when he addressed a large gathering at Lismore on Monday last. Having thanked the people for their support, Mr. Heskin went on to say that he would continue to do his utmost endeavours to improve the conditions of every section of the community. An agricultural country such as ours should be capable of supporting a far greater population with ease, and, as an Independent Farmer he would do his best to get increased the butter and sugar ration and other home products.

Red Cross Public Meeting.—The Courthouse was thronged on Sunday evening last on the occasion of the first public meeting held in the locality in connection with the £500,000 drive, which has been launched by the Irish Red Cross Society. The Very Rev. M. Canon Walsh, P.P., V.F., Lismore, presided and the principal speakers were: Mr. Simon J. Moynihan, Co. Manager, and Mr. Ronald Gallagher, Hon. Co. Secretary. Other speakers were: Mrs. Redmond, T.D.; Mr. Sean Goulding, Senate Chairman, and Mr. Denis Heskin, T.D. Opening the proceedings, Canon Walsh explained that the meeting had been called for the purpose of putting before the people of the town and district, the reason, the facts and the figures for the present drive. The Co. Manager was then introduced. In the course of his address Mr. Moynihan said that he felt sure that no inducement or appeal should be required to make Irish men and women flock to this Society if they but knew of its work. No one should regard it as a compliment to become a member or supporter but rather as a privilege to share even in some small degree in the great work that is being done if the necessary financial help were forthcoming. The target for the Parish of Lismore was £400, which would be raised by house to house collections. Many small parishes had already subscribed large sums and he was confident that the people of Lismore would not be outdone in generosity. Mr. R. Gallagher then addressed the meeting. The Hon. Secretary first outlined the objective of the £500,000 drive—the campaign against Tuberculosis and the relief of starving and disease stricken populations in Europe as well as in other parts of the world. Having given detailed figures of money devoted to Red Cross purposes in other countries, Mr. Gallagher declared that the real measure of our stature as a nation was the extent to which we were ready to go to the help of other nations in trouble. The moment the war was over such a sad picture of desolation would be revealed that they would all stand appalled and this Society would feel some of the burdens of rehabilitation of some of the people of Europe and other parts of the world. Speaking of tuberculosis, Mr. Gallagher said that this dread disease is both preventable and curable if enough money were available to spend upon it. Figures obtained by the Society showed that there was in this country at the moment, taking into consideration the accommodation available in

CARE OF YOUNG TURKEYS

At this season of the year reports come in almost every day of mortality in turkeys. The deaths occur generally during the first few weeks of life. From observations noted at post-mortem examination the cause of death is attributed generally to nephritis of dietic origin and pneumonia and rickets. To control any disease or to effect a cure one must first discover the cause. Nephritis and rickets are caused by feeding too rich and unsuitable food. During the first ten days turkeys require food every three or four hours; the maximum should be "a little and often." This should consist of egg custard and breadcrumbs, one egg to half pint of new milk, including the shell finely crushed. One egg is sufficient for 12 turkeys per day; too many eggs will bring about digestive troubles and rickets. Give finely chopped greens such as lettuce, dandelions, or young nettles from the beginning. Green food must be fed until the birds are three months old, even though they are on free range. Turkeys are naturally graziers and require an abundance of greens to keep them in health. Hard-boiled eggs are very indigestible and injurious to young turkeys.

After the first three weeks curds may be substituted for the eggs; when the turkeys have reached this age they should be completely weaned off the egg food. They should be gradually put on a mixture of oatmeal and barley meal porridge made on milk and dried off at feeding time with pollard, bran or stale bread-crumbs. Potatoes mashed freely may be added. Pneumonia is caused by overcrowding, badly ventilated houses, and wettings. If the birds show signs of chill they should be confined to a well ventilated sunny house for a few days. Given nourishing food often, a little Epsom salts and a drop of cod-liver oil per bird is helpful. Black-head is a disease caused by a parasite generally found on the legs. It is spread by turkeys and sometimes by wild birds such as pigeons and crows. Ordinary fowl are susceptible to the disease to a lesser extent than turkeys and mortality is slight. Nevertheless they may act as carriers and are the means of spreading infection. If there is an outbreak of this disease on a farm it is advisable to abandon raising turkeys for some years and in the meantime have the land well limed and tiled. The disease can be got under control if taken in time, but even though the birds recover they are still carriers and daily causing contamination of the land through the droppings. Should a continuance of mortality from any unknown cause occur in turkeys, a dead specimen should be sent for post-mortem examination to The Pathological Department, Veterinary College, Ballsbridge, Dublin. A note should be enclosed with name and address and a statement giving observations noted.

If there is an outbreak of black-head amongst turkeys under eight weeks old, a drug in tablet form, known as Maltidine, may be administered according to directions. Turkeys affected from two months to killing stage should be given injections of the same drug in liquid form, known as Maltidine. These injections should be given by an experienced person such as a veterinary surgeon, a nurse or the poultry instructor.

ATTEMPTED MURDER CHARGE

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., Thea Chawke of Corragur, Michelstown, was charged that on the 10th May, 1944, at the above address, he did attempt to murder his father, Thos. Chawke, by stabbing him with a pike and inflicting a dangerous wound. Sergt. Thos. O'Rourke, Michelstown, asked that accused be remanded in custody to Michelstown Court on the 13th June. The District Justice asked for a medical report from the prison doctor. Accused declined to cross-examine or make any statement. Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, represented the State.

the existing sanatoria, a bed shortage of 4,000 beds. The Secretary concluded by saying that unless that they had large sums of money at their disposal they could not guarantee with any certainty that their plans would be brought to fruition. If the drive did realise the money they were seeking for the purposes outlined they would have done something to bring credit to their people and to make the name of Ireland loved throughout the world. The close of each speaker's remarks was greeted with prolonged applause.

KILMACHTHOMAS NOTES.

Spring Valley Hall, Bonmahon.—Sunday night last marked the commencement of the weekly dance (9-12) here, and the all round success registered on the occasion augurs well for the similar functions fixed for Sunday the 11th and Sunday, 25th, of the present month, respectively.

The Flax Hall.—The grand dance (9 to 3) under the auspices of the local Amusement Club, held here on Thursday night of this week, attracted a merry multitude of lovers of the "light fantastic art" and it panned out a pronouncedly pleasurable affair, excellent music being rendered by the captivating Moonlight Serenaders' Dance Band.

Felicitations are cordially extended to Miss Kathleen Kennedy, eldest daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. W. Cleary, of Carrigahilla, Stradbally, and Mr. Francis Cummings on their marriage, which happy event took place recently in London. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings received numerous wedding gifts. Good luck and success to both.

Death of Miss E. Kennedy.—Very deep and sincere regret has been caused by the death of Miss Eileen Kennedy, Ivy House, Annewstown, which had occurred at her residence on Friday last week. Deceased was sixth daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Kilmachthomas, Annewstown, and she was sister of Mr. Thomas Kennedy, The Bungalow, Leamybrien, Kildare.

Wedding.—St. Patrick's Church, Waterford, was the centre of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning last, when Mr. Michael O'Donovan, Ramsgrove, Co. Wick, and Miss Nan Casey, S.R.N., Kilmachthomas, were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony. The ceremony (with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing) was performed by the Rt. Rev. Mr. R. J. Casey, Head Chaplain to the National Army (coarse of the bride), assisted by Rev. Rev. T. B. Walsh, B.A., P.P., St. Patrick's, and Rev. J. Hall, C.C., Kilmachthomas. The best man, Mr. J. O'Donovan, Castlemary, Co. Cork, (brother of the bridegroom), and the bride, who looked charming, was attended by her cousin, Miss Hannah Lakin, of Dungarvan, as bridesmaid. A reception was held subsequently at the Adelphi Hotel, Waterford, at which, in addition to the happy couple, the bridesmaid and best man, and the priests already named, there were fifty guests present.

The (Shelbourne), written by a sterling Stradbally sportsman will be of interest to our Gaelic readers.—Stradbally senior football team, which has been county champions for four consecutive years, made a good start for the 5th year on Sunday by beating the 3rd Batt. (Army) team by four points in a fiercely contested match. The game was played in Stradbally and thereby hangs a story of true sportsmanship and love of the game. When the draw decided that the match should meet Stradbally, the Army were again given the choice of venue and picked Dungarvan. A week before the match the Army decided that they did not want to go to Dungarvan but Stradbally objected that at the Army had chosen the venue in the first place, they should now meet there or not at all. Still, the Army refused, and a walk-over was offered to Stradbally. But the Waterford Co. Champions disliked such an easy victory and instructed their Secretary to phone the Army principals and try to come to an agreement. The Stradbally Secretary offered the Army every inducement to come to Dungarvan including an offer of half the Stradbally percentage from the gate but all in vain. Finally on being asked if they would play in Stradbally the Army agreed and the County Board permitted the change of venue from Dungarvan to Stradbally. There were many ready to sneer at the Stradbally boys for their presumption in not accepting a walk-over from such a formidable team as the 3rd Batt., which had already soundly beaten the Dungarvan team in Stradbally and had gone as far as the final this year in the Curragh (Command) Army football championships. But the confidence of the champions was not misplaced and in any case they were keen to play football whatever the outcome. Further publicity was given to the match when it was refused that Andy Fleming, the well-known hurler and footballer, who is one of the full-backs of his native parish team, had not arrived having been prevented from cycling the twenty miles from Waterford to Stradbally by the high wind and driving rain. The Stradbally Secretary, Kevin Phelan, acted with the same decision that he displays in his centre half forward position on the field; he immediately chartered a car with instructions to collect Andy dead or alive and bring him in time for the match. Andy arrived in good time and very much alive as the Army forwards know to their cost.

TALLOW NOTES.

Obituary.—We regret to announce the death which took place at her residence after a rather prolonged illness of Mrs. Ellen Dunlea, Kilcalf, and to the members of her bereaved family and relatives is extended the sincere sympathy of their many neighbours and friends. Relict of the late Mr. John Dunlea whose demise occurred approximately six months ago, deceased's passing evoked widespread expressions of regret but particularly amongst those who had intimate association with her. Evidence of the regret felt at her passing was illustrated by the large concourse of mourners and sympathisers present at the removal of deceased's remains to the Parish Church and at the subsequent interment at which took place in the new cemetery adjoining the Church prior to which Requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul, the celebrant being Rev. Fr. Meehan, C.C. who also officiated at the graveside. Chief mourners were: Mr. P. Dunlea (son); Miss K. Dunlea (daughter); Messrs. James Dunlea and Thomas Dunlea of Ballinacorney, Glendine; Mr. John Dunlea, Ballymacoda (relatives).

Congratulations are extended on behalf of all local Gaelic and supporters to our local senior XV on their success at Buttevant on Sunday where they met a selected team from the other parishes of the district. In the first half the homesters had the wind in their favour and registered two goals to nil. In the second half our local players got going briskly and scored the final whistle when the scoreboard read: Tallow, 6-3; Buttevant, 2-1. We sincerely hope that this "away" success will prove the forerunner of similar results in the near future. Incidentally we take this opportunity to direct our thanks to those who assisted in the collection which will be taken, prior to both Masses at the Church gates on Sunday next, the proceeds of which are to augment the depleted funds of the local Hurling Club. It is hoped that a generous response will be forthcoming.

Election Day.—From the opening to the closing of the two booths in the town there was a continuous and steady stream of voters. Through the day with the result that practically 87 per cent. of the valid register had recorded their votes. At 9 p.m. the earliest having tendered the ballot paper at 9.3 a.m. while the actual last one was put in the box at 9.22 p.m. A record was thus established, there being no last minute rush of voters. During the day some of the candidates visited the booths and expressed their pleasure at the smoothness of which the good work was proceeding and paid tribute to the efficiency of the personnel of the staffs and representatives engaged.

Public Meeting.—On Sunday afternoon last Mass a meeting was held at the Square under the auspices of the Waterford Farmers' Association at which Mr. Denis Hesklin, T.D., presided. His sincere thanks to all those who supported his candidature at the recent Election. In the course of his address he referred to his recent efforts in the Dail, which would be continued with the same determination and with the hope of greater success in the coming year. He further assured his listeners that irrespective of party affiliations there was one of the county's representatives and as such he was prepared at all times to render what assistance he could to every member of the electorate in need of support.

Red Cross.—There was a moderately good attendance of the general public present at the meeting sponsored by the local Branch of the Red Cross Society which was held at the Carnegie Library on Sunday afternoon at which Rev. Fr. Meehan, C.C., presided. Also present were Mr. S. J. Moynihan, County Manager; Mr. D. Gallagher, Co. Secretary of the Red Cross Society; Mr. Bryan, Rector; Mr. T. P. Reynolds, M. and L. Bank; Dr. J. O'Mahoney, M.O.; Mr. D. Hesklin, T.D.; Mr. F. T. O'Leary, N.T., Div. Secretary. Introducing the County officials, the Rev. Chairman said that the object of the meeting was to promote the drive now being organised throughout the county for funds to aid in the campaign against Tuberculosis in our own country and to help the starving peoples of Europe. Mr. Moynihan appealed to all those present to unite with the local Branch members and co-operate fully with the programme prepared for the county, and he felt sure that with such co-operation the target allocated to Tallow would be reached in good time. Mr. Gallagher, Hon. Sec., in his address illustrated from statistics what had been accomplished in the county up to date and he felt sure that the existence of the drive in Tallow would not be found wanting. Mr. D. Hesklin, T.D., in a well-chosen words stressed the necessity for the campaign and appealed to all present to enlist others and help in the good work that was being done at home and abroad by the Irish Red Cross Society. On the motion of Mr. F. T. O'Leary, N.T., seconded by Mr. T. P. Reynolds, a cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the visiting representatives.

CAPOQUIN SPORTS. The Munster Championship Sports, which were to have been held on June 14th, have now been postponed till July 9th. Splendid arrangements are being made for this great day and the local officers and very much of the Cycling and Athletic Club Full details will appear in later issues.

500 Mr. Flynn from his last visit to the town had but 2 to make, and Mr. Scurry, coming after, wanted 3. The latter then made a break of 73 and was applauded to the echo for his fine feat.

The (Shelbourne), written by a sterling Stradbally sportsman will be of interest to our Gaelic readers.—Stradbally senior football team, which has been county champions for four consecutive years, made a good start for the 5th year on Sunday by beating the 3rd Batt. (Army) team by four points in a fiercely contested match. The game was played in Stradbally and thereby hangs a story of true sportsmanship and love of the game. When the draw decided that the match should meet Stradbally, the Army were again given the choice of venue and picked Dungarvan. A week before the match the Army decided that they did not want to go to Dungarvan but Stradbally objected that at the Army had chosen the venue in the first place, they should now meet there or not at all. Still, the Army refused, and a walk-over was offered to Stradbally. But the Waterford Co. Champions disliked such an easy victory and instructed their Secretary to phone the Army principals and try to come to an agreement. The Stradbally Secretary offered the Army every inducement to come to Dungarvan including an offer of half the Stradbally percentage from the gate but all in vain. Finally on being asked if they would play in Stradbally the Army agreed and the County Board permitted the change of venue from Dungarvan to Stradbally. There were many ready to sneer at the Stradbally boys for their presumption in not accepting a walk-over from such a formidable team as the 3rd Batt., which had already soundly beaten the Dungarvan team in Stradbally and had gone as far as the final this year in the Curragh (Command) Army football championships. But the confidence of the champions was not misplaced and in any case they were keen to play football whatever the outcome. Further publicity was given to the match when it was refused that Andy Fleming, the well-known hurler and footballer, who is one of the full-backs of his native parish team, had not arrived having been prevented from cycling the twenty miles from Waterford to Stradbally by the high wind and driving rain. The Stradbally Secretary, Kevin Phelan, acted with the same decision that he displays in his centre half forward position on the field; he immediately chartered a car with instructions to collect Andy dead or alive and bring him in time for the match. Andy arrived in good time and very much alive as the Army forwards know to their cost.

MOOREHILL NOTES.

Outbreak of Fire.—A very serious outbreak of fire occurred on the Knockan mountain on Friday last and for a time it looked as if serious damage would be done, because backed by a strong north west wind it crossed the old road and it looked as if nothing could save the residence of Mr. J. Bennett, Close, the fire had taken on such alarming proportions. However, a number of neighbours, ably helped by members of the Tallow Gardaí fought the flames for several hours and in the end succeeded in cutting off the flames and thus saving the residence. Much damage was done to oaten fences, boundary fences, etc., and were it not for the timely help of the Gardaí and neighbours the result would have been disastrous, and to them a special word of praise is due.

The Turf Season.—For several weeks past the turf season has been in full swing in this district, as the weather has proved ideal for the purpose. It is noted that a large proportion of turf is cut and saved. People in this parish are very fortunate to have turf so convenient and plentiful as is not available in a few extra tons should be cut, and so help their fortunate neighbours in country and town.

Diocesan Inspector's Visit.—On Monday last the Diocesan Inspector, Rev. Fr. Law, visited the schools of the united Parishes of Knockanore, Glenties and Kiltwattin for his annual examination, and expressed himself very pleased at the answering of the children and congratulated teachers, parents and pupils on the good work.

Lecture on Africa.—On Sunday evening, Rev. Fr. T. F. Hughes, of the African Missions, delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture on the continent of Africa, at Knockanore and Moorehill Halls, a very large crowd being present at each hall. The lecture was closely followed by the large and interesting discussion which much appreciated. Before the end, Rev. Fr. Hughes sincerely thanked all present for their kind attention and for their support in any way to make it a success.

AILTIRI NA HAISEIRGE.

To all our fellow Ailtirí friends and well-wishers in the Deise.—Now that the Election rush is over we can review the results from the point of view of the Aiseirge Organisation. We could hardly have hoped to gain a seat with only a year to prepare for a serious contest and seeing that most of our time is not given to preparations for elections but rather to expounding a new order of society and forward a culture which others have forsaken. That we lost a few hundred votes on the sweet-shops is no great cause for regret. Our defeat can be traced to the following causes: (a) That many who believe in our policy hesitated to give us No. 1 voted Fianna Fáil rather than see the nation thrown into chaos by contesting the election. (b) That many leaving the country a prey to the invader as in 1169, Fianna Fáil having clearly indicated that they would co-operate with nobody and desired a clear majority. Therefore, many voted Fianna Fáil this time, because of their love for Fianna Fáil, but not because they believed in any of the party politicians. Had Aiseirge been able to put forward a sufficient number of candidates to form a government the result would be much different. (c) That a few who voted Aiseirge last year are now tolling the sweet-shops of England. (d) Many in this Election who should have voted for us were denied their vote because they had never heard the gospel of true nationality and personal sacrifice preached from a political platform until the advent of the Ailtirí and this is a gospel which does not catch on. (e) That many who adopted some of the methods by which party politicians win elections. We need say nothing of them. They are known to all. (f) That though we have speakers in Aiseirge who can be compared with any speakers in any political party not one word of their speeches appeared in the press. The only meeting of which the "Irish Press" could record a few lines was an Aiseirge meeting in Carrig na Saire which follows of the politicians attempted to break up.

When we sum up all the odds against which we had to fight and remembering that we are a very new movement with no funds at our disposal we cannot feel disappointed with the results. On the other hand we were the only party to increase our total poll by 25 per cent. through the existence of some of the constituencies contested less than nine months. There is every cause for hope, none for despair.

P. O. FIANNHUSHA.

Tribute to An Taoiseach.—The Taoiseach was not only the greatest leader which Ireland had ever produced; he was a man who was able to stand up to the greatest statesmen of the new world and the old, and when a decision had to be made, his answers were very definite.—"No Surrender"—to anyone as far as the rights of the Irish people to govern their own land were concerned. So declared Thomas O'Flaherty, O.S., when he spoke in Irish and English at a Fianna Féil victory rally at Tralee on Sunday night.

WEST DIVISION G.A.A. NOTES.

Quiet Date.—The annual Procession on Sunday next makes the date almost a closed one. In Tallow, Lismore, Cappoquin and Dungarvan, and in most districts around these centres all games are off. The senior game billed for Modraigh will, I expect, be cancelled by the time this is in print but I am not to be taken as giving this officially.

Beware of the Bear.—The Div. Board meeting on Thursday drew a good attendance of delegates from all over the Division. May I congratulate those hardy lads who travelled by bike to Tallow, Knockanore, Kilmachthomas and Stradbally, after a long meeting of delegates from all over the Division. May I congratulate those hardy lads who travelled by bike to Tallow, Knockanore, Kilmachthomas and Stradbally, after a long meeting of delegates from all over the Division. May I congratulate those hardy lads who travelled by bike to Tallow, Knockanore, Kilmachthomas and Stradbally, after a long meeting of delegates from all over the Division.

Objections.—Ring "clinch" their objection against the Blackwater Rovers in such a fashion that Paddy Morrissey was very wise in agreeing to a replay. The Army (Collias) junior hurlers are I hear not quite satisfied at the ruling given, awarding the Green Cross tournament final to Four-mile-water and intend to appeal. The hearing was difficult to follow but I believe the main point will hinge on whether or not the objection was in order. If it was in order the ruling given is correct; if not, of course, the objection must go. The Co. Board will decide at its next meeting if the appeal is in order.

At Aglish.—Glenties Rangers meet Aglish at Aglish on Sunday in the sole championship game on that date in the West. The teams are quite friendly and agreed between themselves as to the venue. I hope they can agree on a referee also as I understand that there was not any one appointed to referee the game. It is difficult to forecast the winner as Aglish are more or less an unknown quantity, not having played any round so far. The result will be of interest to the first game impression and will be favoured but with home advantage Aglish may do the trick.

Interesting Information.—It is not exactly news to-day that a product can be sold faster that it can be turned out by the manufacturers, for that condition exists throughout practically all manufacturing industries these times of unprecedented demand for merchandise of every description. Therefore, in order to protect our customers we are extending our inquiries to neutral countries and we hope in the very near future to be in a position to offer Goods which cannot be procured now and in addition, the quality will be much superior and the prices very much reduced. THIS INVASION OF FRANCE

The long-threatened invasion of the Continent took place on Tuesday morning in a critical battle by many Allied divisions both by sea and from the air. The landings followed a terrific air bombardment from midnight to 8 a.m. on Tuesday morning, in which 10,000 tons of bombs were dropped. Some 4,000 ships and thousands of small craft participated in the landings. Bitter fighting is taking place on the beach-heads occupied by the Allies and in some places it is stated that advances of up to 10 miles inland have been made.

CARNIVAL SIDESHOWS
