DEATH OF MR. M. J. McHUGH, SARSFIELD ST., ABBEYSIDE.

The death took place on Friday night, November 3rd, of Mr. M. J. McHugh, after a very brief illness. The late Mr. McHugh was a quiet and inoffensive gentleman who made many friends since his arrival in Dungarvan a good many years ago to take over charge of the Brass and Reed Band as Bandmaster. He was a first-class musician and under his careful guidance the Band rapidly developed into one of the best in Munster. An ex-soldier of the British Army, as Bandmaster of a Connaught Rangers Battalion he travelled extensively with this travelled extensively with this regi-ment and his reminiscences of his travels through various countries lishment of the Dickens Leather Factory in Dungarvan he was appointed to the position of timekeeper. where, due to his courtesy and tact, he was extremely popular with employers and employees alike. At the beginning of the Emergency he was one of the first to join the L.D.F. in which he held the rank of Section Leader.

The remains were removed to the Parish Church, Dungarvan, on Satur-day evening, the coffin being accompanied by the guard of honour of his comrades of the L.D.F. and preceded by the Brass and Reed Band playing funeral marches which he took such pains to teach them. On arrival at the Church gates the coffin was re-ceived by the Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., assisted by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C. On Sunday, after the celebration of the 11.30 Mass, interment was made in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of another large gathering of mourners and sympathisers. A large number of Mass cards were

Bailey from the Kingdom. It looks to me that he would be a likely player for Dungar-van next season. Garda O'Neill plays with the famous Tullaroan Hurling Club and is anxious to wield the ash for Dungarvan. Stranger things than their wishes coming true have happened, as both these boys stand a good chance of becoming brothers-in-law to a number of the famous Old Boro' stars. All the best,

CORRESPONDENCE THE STRIKE

The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer."

It is high time that somebody should intervene in the unfortunate strike at the Dickens Leather Factory. In the absence of a Concili-ation Board I would suggest that ation Board I would suggest that concerted action on the part of our six Local Representatives in the Dail and Senate be given a trial. Let the parties to the dispute submit the points at issue to the considered judgement of these Representatives, and I have no doubt that they, on their part, will be quite willing to lend a helping hand in a matter that must vitally concern the community at large if allowed to drag on much at large if allowed to drag on much onger. MINOR HURLING COUNTY

Dungarvan, 6-2; Mount Sion, 3-0. At the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last, the local minors outclassed Mount Sion in the County Hurling final. It was a classic display of fast clean hurling by both sides and although Dungarvan led at sides and although Dungarvan led at half-time by 5-1 to 2-0 for Mount Sion, interest was maintained to the end. In the closing stages the Dungarvan goalman brought off some great saves. Young Hogan, Dungarvan, was undoubtedly the best player or silest with D. Barron Wade player on view with D. Barron, Wade van, 5-1; Mount Sion, 2-0.

The Game.—Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue, Co. Board Chairman, set the ball rolling sharp on time. Mount Sion went into attack immediately to send went into attack immediately to send wide. Dungarvan transferred and had the ball in the goalmouth but defence prevailed, an over resulting. Dungarvan having again wided, Mount Sion returned and getting a free 30 yards out finished to the net. The puck-out was taken all the way by Dungarvan to have Phelan send receiving at centre-field sent to Barron who shot a grand goal for the locals. Dungarvan Circuit Court

His Lordship, Mr. Justice Sealy, opened the business of the Dungarvan Circuit Court at the Courthouse on Tuesday last. SALE OF FARM. Mulcahy v. Norris.

Mr. McGuire, BL. (instructed by

Mr. McGuire, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. O'Shee, Murphy and Co., Solrs., Clonmel) for plaintiff. The defendant, Thomas Norris (Thomas) was not professionally represented.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., said this was a civil bill for £300 damages for breach of contract by the defendant in the sale of a farm of 33 acres of the lands of Sillaheen, Ballymacarbery, purchased by Patrick J. Mulcahy, Glasha, Ballymacarbery, for £450 at a public auction and on which plaintiff had paid a deposit to the auctioneer, Mr. Carri, Clonmel, of £135. Defendant refused to complete the sale stating he had an offer of £5 more.

Mr. Williams, solr., said he was originally in the case for the de-fendant and one of the conditions of sale was to the effect that defendant was to remain living in the house and keep it repaired. Defendant refused to agree to this.

Defendant, replying to his Lordship, said the bargain made with Mr.

Carri was that he was to have the house free and it was to be thatched Mr. McGuire, B.L., said that his lient would be willing to keep the house roof in repair.

His Lordship suggested that the parties might be able to arrive at a settlement and pointed out to defendant that he was in a rather serious position if they failed to settle the matter. He allowed the case to stand ending a consultation between the

O'Connell, do.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., said the words complained of were: "What did you want going in and taking a billhook and other articles out of Mce Stack's house," thereby implying that the plaintiff had stolen a billhook and other articles. The slander was published to plaintiff's nephew.

Ml. Keating, sworn, said he was a farmer of 52 acres at Briskey. He gave this farm to his nephew about I would make a bet this record will never be broken except they oreak it themselves. The game was worthy of the minors of the County. Mount Sion, although beaten, played beautiful hurling and they are a coming minor team. Dungarvan gave such a display of hurling that it brought applause from supporters of both teams. Congratulations to Mount Sion on a game display and to Dungarvan on a great victory.

On the Track.—A certain father of one of the Mount Sion hurlers who must sion be the Mount Sion hurlers who must sion be the Mount Sion hurlers who must sion be the Mount Sion hurlers who must staken all the way by Dungarvan to have Phelan send to mit the way and on the descoring. The puck-out was taken all the way by Dungarvan winded twice before for they again on the desired wided twice before for sing a 70 which Kiely wided. Mount Sion sent the puck-out all the way and had a green flag. They again to which was a taken all the way by Dungarvan winded twice before for sing a 70 which Kiely wided. Mount Sion sent the puck-out all the way and had a green fla came on his nephew and John O'Connell arguing about the right-of-way.
When witness arrived the defendant used the words complained of and when witness asked him if he was going to make a robber of him, defendant said "I don't mean you but ye." Witness's nephew said are you making a robber of me now. His nephew said he was not in the district when Stack died.

The witness was cross-examined at length by Mr. D'Arcy, B.L., and £3. said when defendant used the words, DAMAGE TO OAT CROP. witness asked him can he prove that and he said he was told it and added: "I didn't mean you but ye." Witness had a row some years ago with Mr. Stack who was a relative of his by defendant's cattle trespassing over the right-of-way. He was not annoyed when Stack did not leave turf through that way. Witness did not give O'Connell a shove when the argument was on.

Patrick Keating, nephew of Plaintiff, said on this day he was explaining to O'Connell that he would want to use the right of way for the turn and defendant said "You can hell, you won't get it; you want everything since you came up here. Witness's uncle came along then and the words complained of were then used. Witness saw his grand uncle using the right-of-way 13 or 14 years ago.

and on the 20th June last (Sunday) at 9 a.m. he found four cattle trespassing in a field on which he had five acres of oats and six acres under a mustard crop. He turned them into Mr. McGrath's land and went to Mr. McGrath said he would go to see it. Witness found three-quarters of an acre trampled and torn from the words complained of were then used. Witness saw his grand uncle using the right-of-way 13 or 14 years ago.

John O'Connell, defendant, said his farm adjons plaintiff's. He never heard of or saw the Keatings having or using a right-of-way. In June last he met Paddy Keating who said witness should clear away the LATE MRS. MARY FLAVIN.

The death took place on Sunday morning last, Nov. 5th, at her residence, 16, Fitzgerald Tee., Dungardence, 16, Fitzger poquin said he visited the field of June 20. He estimated the damp at £10. To Mr. Williams witness said the crop was at that time about one foot high and would soon be coming out of the double.

James McGrath said this particular field is a bad boggy one. He saw this oat crop later and it had recovered. He would estimate the damage at 5/-.

Walter Terry, a neighbouring farmer, said he examined this field on July 2nd. The crop was then just coming into ear. It was a very light crop. He honestly could not see any damage at all. He is on his oath and has no partiality for any side. He could see no justification for a claim of £12.

Ml. McGrath, Modeligo, said he examined the oats at the request of Jas. McGrath on July 2nd and could find no damage. He walked the crop from north to south, up and down, at a distance of about 25 yards. He saw some withered thistles and he took it that the trampling he saw was done by men pulling thistles.

To Mr. Farrell—It was a very light crop. It was he who made the suggestion to defendant that he and Mr. Terry and another would meet three more farmers to visit the field (Continued on column 5, page 6).

GAELIC NOTES : SENIOR CLUBS By "TAOBHLINE."

Waterford hurlers, fresh from their victory over the All-Ireland champions, will get a chance to avenge a championship defeat when they meet Tipperary at Dungarvan on Sunday, December 3rd. Candidly, with one or two changes I would like to see the sarne team field out who defeated Cork in the Ignatius Rice memorial final. If we are to maintain our present position in the hurltain our present position in the nulling arena we must certainly take this four-county league in earnest mood, and now is the time to prepare for the rocky road to Dublin in the 1945 campaign. Like all Deise supporters I look forward to the meeting of the Stradbally (the county champions) take on Dungarvan on Sunday next at Dungarvan, in the senior football at Dungarvan, in the senior football county championship, and judging from local reports this game should be a needle affair. The champions are quietly confident of making it "free in a row." But nevertheless of late they have a healthy respect for the "blues," who are heraided by keen judges as the coming team. Stradbally for three games are up six points, and a win on Sunday next would give them their fifth county championship in an unbroken row. Stradbally for three games are up six points, and a win on Sunday next would give them their fifth county championship in an unbroken row. To date they have accounted for the Army, Nire and Kilressanty, whilst Dungarvan are four points down to the Army and Kilrossanty. Should the locals win on Sunday next the champions will depend on the outcome of the Army v. Kilrossanty game on Nov. 19th, and Kilrossanty would want to win for the right to play off the decider against Strad-bally. For the benefit of those not conversant with the league system I give the League Table to date :-

Kilrossanty Dungarvan

If the Army defeat Kilrossanty and Dungarvan beat Stradbally, this would leave the Nire v. Army game Army men would see them contest the county decider against Stradbally.

On Sunday last I was an interested spectator at the Mooncoin v. Tullaroan game at Waterford, for a set of hurleys, and the drawn game was a fitting result of typical Kilkenny turling. The secretary of the Eastern Board (Mick McCarthy) was conspicuous by his absence, but I was into take a prominent part. "The Royal Jester" is, I believe, a comic Congratulations to the Dungarvan minor hurling team on last Sunday's win over Mount Sion in the county final. This is their fifth county title in succession-a proud record which no other team in the county or in the whole of Ireland can boast of. My travels during the week-end taak me to Portlaw, where I saw the beautiful silver cup which was presented to the Waterford County Board for senior hurling inter-county competition by Irish Tanners, Ltd., Portlaw.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

Red Cross Officers' Visit.—On Sunday last Dr. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H.; Mr. R. Gallagher, Secretary, Waterford County Red Cross Committee, and Divisional Officer O'Grady visited the Red Cross units in this area and consulted with the officers area and consulted with the officers and officials. Amongst the matters discussed was an intensification of the drive to raise funds for that very laudable object, the anti-tuberculosis crusade. It is hoped that the general public will assist the Red Cross officials in making the campaign a success. There is no greater charitable or humanitarian object than the antituberculosis crusade.

I look forward to the meeting of the Waterford senior selectors who will select our feam to meet Tipperary at the Old Boro' on Dec. 3rd.

tain our present position in the hurling arena we must certainly take this four-county league in accounty le four-county league in earnest mood, and now is the time to prepare for the rocky road to Dublin in the 1945 campaign. Like all Deise supporters
I look forward to the meeting of the Waterford senior selectors who will select our team to meet Tipperary at the Old Boro' on Dec, 3rd.

Stradbally (the county champions) take on Dungarvan on Sunday next at Dungarvan, in the senior football county championship, and judging from local reports this game should are quietly confident of making it "five in a row." But nevertheless of late they have a healthy respect for the "blues," who are heralded by keen judges as the coming team.
Stradbally for three games are up six points, and a win on Sunday next d give them their fifth county To date they have accounted for the Army, Nire and Kilrossanty, whilst Dungaryan are four points down to the Army and Kilrossanty. Should the locals win on Sunday next the champions will depend on the outcome of the Army v. Kilrossanty game on Nov. 19th, and Kilrossanty would want to win for the right to play off the decider against Strad-bally. For the benefit of those not conversant with the league system give the League Table to date :-

Dungarvan Dungarvan beat Stradbally, this would leave the Nire v. Army game to be played, and a victory for the Army men would see them contest the county decider against Stradbally.

Dromore Man's Death.—The death occurred recently of Mr John Whelan (senr.), Dromore, Aglish. Deceased was most popular, and his demise has occasioned deep regret, while much sympathy is extended to his bereaved family. The funeral to Aglish Parish Church was of large and representative proportions. Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish, and Rev. D. Power, C.C., do., officiated. R.I.P.

Owing to the death of Mr. Whelan, the meet of the Aglish Harrier Club arranged for Sunday last, was postponed as a mark of respect.

On Holidays.—Home on holidays at present is Mr. Jeremiah Doocey, Kilgabriel, Clashmore, who is in the employment of the Department of Agricaton is one which his Lordship would grant.

Dr. Counihan, State Solicitor, said the only objection is the standard one, viz., that there are already enough publichouses there to supply the requirements of the population.

Sergt. T. Browne, Ballyduff, said the premises are on the Main Street on the Lismore-Fermoy road, and are already fitted up and contain bar, lounge and snug. There is room for a good class bar in the village.

To Dr. Counihan-Witness agreed that the population of the surround-in localities declined in recent years. In addition to the three licensed pre-mises in Ballyduff there is another at Glencairn, three miles away. He agreed with Dr. Counihan that if granted it might withdraw trade from the other publichouses.

Mrs. S. Barry, applicant, said she bought the premises in 1937 for £400. There was a license attached which she allowed to lapse as at the time her health was not good and the children were young. She intends to put an experienced barsmaid in charge.

Mr. Thomas Barry gave evidence of the progressiveness of Ballyduff Dr. Counihan said that the applicant and the premsies were most suitable, the only objection is as to to the present sufficiency of public-houses in the area. Mr. McGuire gave figures showing that the number of people to each publichouse would be 500 odd, and will be supplied by Dick O'Rourke and his Band (Youghal), and a great night is assured to patrons. (See back by the High Court on Circuit, although there was at the time one public house to every 120 of the

His Lordship said that one thing clear to him is that applicant and her husband are most respectable people and that the premises are splendid for a publichouse. The only difficulty is the number of people the present publicans have to serve. His recollection was that the figure was 600 to every publichouse,, but that is gravely shaken by the decision given in Clonmel where there was only 120 to every publishouse, therefore he thought this a proper case in which to grant a new license. RIP.—Fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church, to which she was ever devotedly attached, Mrs. Flynn, relict of the late Mr. J. Flynn, farmer, Ballygowan, South Kilkenny (who died on Christmas Day, 1943), answered the great call last week, following a short illness and at a moderately advanced age. She was a member of a most respected family of the parish of Clonea-Power and Rathgormack. The burial took place at Tullaghocht after Office and High Mass, and the immediate chief mourners amongst the vast gathering assembled at the graveside were Mr. R. P. D. Breen—We were thinking of asking Cork and Leix but this would entail travelling on a larger scale.

After a discussion the meeting decided to run the League between Tipperary, Kilkenny, Wexford and Waterford.

The following draws and finters.

April 2nd, ref., Phil Purcell.

The meeting passed a vote of sympathy to the relatives of the late Eddie Byrne, Kilkenny, All-Ireland player, who died recently; also to Liam Cody, Kilkenny Co. Secretary, on the death of his sister.

Waterford, whose spectacular overhead play and solo runs are accomplished with perfect ball control, reminds one immediately of a great Waterford hurler—John Keane—and John himself could hardly do better than Biddy did when in the Munster final see scored a grand goal from far player on the pitch.

Maureen Curran, sister of Eileen, and the girl who deputised for her in the Munster final, and the blame for Waterford's failure then was not the fault of Maureen, as this small, light stylist played more than her part on that day. Her overhead play is magnificent, and at times Maureen moves back to relieve the pressure on the backs.

Top of the right is Edie O'Hara, fast and elusive, and a great trier and opportunist who improves with every outing, and one of the best forwards Top of the left is Nellie Phelan, tall and strong, and a thorn in the side of any defence. When the sod is heavy Nellie is at her best, but it will take more than the sod to stop her getting goals. She was selected for Waterford against Tipperary this year.

To fill the remaining forward posi-tion and any vacancies which may occur, Dungarvan have 4 potential inter-county players—Mary Keohan, accurate, hard-hitting, and with an accurate hard-hitting, and with an with uncanny sense of direction; young left-handed Eileen Donovan, who is very inexperienced but who should be good after a time; Aggie Flynn, who is fast and who has playing should some pivot has been a paying proposition very good games for her native club; played well against Clashmore in the semi-final, but had to retire injured been brought about through the in the second half; and Nuala Dalton, efforts of Bridgie. strong and sturdy, and one to whom experience can lend a hand; next season should see her much improved. Kilnafrehan.

His Lordship said that turf rights are more important now than ever, but were always important for people living near the mountain. In this case the right is difficult to ascertain, as nothing has been put in writing. Mrs. Connors has proved ownership satisfactorily, and the onus now falls on Quarry to prove his right to cut turf. In the old days of landlords very often a right to turbary existed. There is no such right apparently attached to Quarry's holding; if there was it would be mentioned in the folio. It strikes me as very strange,

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court before Mr. Justice Sealy, on Thursday,

Mr. J. Lynch, South Tee, Dungarvan, sued the G.S. Railways for £25 for damages arising from a collision between a lorry, the property of the plaintiff and a lorry the property of the defendants.

The collision occurred near the junction of the Square and St. Mary Street, on or about Nov. 16th, 1943, as a result of which, it was stated that plaintiff's lorry was damaged.

In his statement of claim the plaintiff stated, inter alia, that the collision was due to the alleged negligence of the defendants and that the lorry was driven at an excessive speed and on the wrong side of the road. It was further alleged that the driver of the defendant's lorry did not give sufficient warning of approach and failed to keep a proper look-out, and that the driver failed to exercise due care and skill on the management and driving of defendant's lorry.

The statement then went on to give the particulars of damage to the

OLD PARISH FARMER'S THREE WILLS.

HURLEY v. HUBBARD.

Ballytrissnane, Old Parish, ho died on May 4th, 1944. The de-ndant was Mcc. Hubbard, labourer, me address, who, it was stated, had ntered a Caveat and was a beneficiary under the will. The will was made on April 24th, 1944.

Mee. Hubbard had a cross-claim seeking to have the will condemned on the three usual statutory grounds and sought to have a will dated April 3rd, made by Wm. Brown established.

The plaintiff was appointed executor of the will of April 24th.

Mr. J. McGuire, B.L. (instructed

The farm was about 52 acres. The deceased then went to live on the farm. The deceased had some children but they all died at birth with the exception of Norah. Everything appeared to go smoothly along up to 1937 when Norah, the daughter, died. The de-Norah, the daughter, died. The de-ceased's wife had died some time before that. Before his daughter died the deceased made a will in favour of his daughter and appointed her sole executrix. The defendant was a workman and had been for over 25 years working for the de-ceased. He undoubtedly gave good service while he was working for Wm. Brown, and while the old man Wm. Brown) was ill, he appeared o have tended him very well. Wm. Brown appeared to have been in good health up to March 8th, but on the day following he got a stroke while in bed and from that day on he never got up again. On March 9th, Dr. Cusack was sent for and Dr. Cusack, accompanied by Mr. Tobin, Clerk, in Mr. Williams' office, went out to Mr. Brown and a will was drawn up by Mr. Tobin. In that ill the deceased left everything to aintiff, with the exception of £200

it appeared that on April 3rd that Mr. Kenny, Solr., and Mr. Donovan were asked to go out and make out a new will for Wm. Brown. They Dr. Cusack was also present on that occasion. The new will left the farm and all he was possessed of with the exception of some small be did that he wanted him (winess) to told that he wanted him (winess) to treat 'nim but that he was afraid of the wanted him (winess) to went to Ring Station and saw Guard O'Malley who told witness that one ted sole executor. Witness then read the will out to Mr. Brown, who put his mark to it. The will was witnessed by Dr Cusack. Three wills made by an 81 years old farmer of Ballytrisnane, Old Parish, during the months of March and April 1944, led to two actions at the Circut Court, before Judge Sealy on last Wednesday. Exceptional interest was taken in the proceedings and the cases occupied the whole of the day.

In the first action Patk, Hurley, Killishal, Cappagh, applied to have admitted to probate in solemn form the last will and testament of Wm. Brown, Ballytrissnane, Old Parish, room, and he went out. Witness then took instructions from the deceased about the new will.

Mr. McGuire—Did he mention to you that he had made a will on April 3rd?

Continuing, witness said that in the new will the deceased left the farm and stock to Martin Hurley, and after a discussion by witness with the deceased about the wages due to Hubbard a figure of £250 was agreed upon and was put in the will. In the previous will the deceased left a sum to Mrs. Butler, but said he would not leave her anything in the new will. A sum of £10 was left to whom witby Messrs. J. F.
