

YOUR NIGHT-CAP

VELVET CAP

Dungarvan Observer

AND

MUNSTER INDUSTRIAL ADVOCATE

Vol. 33. No. 1,633.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1944.

Registered at the G.P.O. as a newspaper.

PRICE 2d.

AUTUMN MACHINERY
Now in stock.
PLOWES,
SPRING HARROWS,
ETC.
and fittings for all makes.

Michl. Moloney AND CO.
Bridge St. & Square, DUNGARVAN.

Make your Xmas Holiday a Complete Success

BY ATTENDING

THE BIG DANCE

IN THE TOWN HALL, DUNGARVAN, ON ST. STEPHEN'S NIGHT.

DANCING 9 TO 3.

MUSIC BY THE RHYTHM BAND (and Steve Sheehan).

BAR STOCKED BY THOMAS POWER & CO. :: CYCLE PARK.

ADMISSION - - - 3/6 (inc. Tax).

ENJOY A D.L.C. WORKERS' DANCE.

CO. WATERFORD COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

Mr. P. R. Power (Chairman) presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Saturday last. Officers in attendance were Messrs. M. Hart, M.C.C.; M. McGrath, M.C.C.; W. Dwyer, M.C.C.; D. Heskin, T.D.; M.C.C.; M. Keating, M.C.C.; J. Fives, M.C.C.; M. Keating, M.C.C.; J. Fives, M.C.C.

Concidence.—Resolutions extending sincere sympathy to the relatives of the late Mr. J. K. Bowen, Surveyor, and the late Mr. C. P. Hynes, V.S., were, on the proposal of Mr. P. R. Power, seconded by Mr. M. McGrath, passed in silence.

Deals.—Mr. D. Heskin, T.D., J. Kiersey, hon. sec. of the Newtown Ploughing Committee, wrote stating that the Committee had provisionally fixed January 24th as the date of their annual county championship fixture, and asking if this arrangement will suit the County Committee of Agriculture.

Co-operation and Agrib. Ploughing.—The Committee approved the date selected.

Co-operation and Agrib. Ploughing.—The Committee approved the date selected.

Line Subsidy Scheme.—A letter from the Ministry of Agriculture stated that the Ministry will be prepared to recoup the Committee in the year 1945/46 their actual expenditure (exclusive of administrative expenses) in excess of a sum of £200, which will require to be defrayed from the Committee's ordinary funds, on a scheme for subsidizing, in 1944/45 and previous years, the purchase of line for application to the land between 1st February, 1945, and 31st December, 1945.

Both letters were marked "Noted."

Increase of Id. Granted by County Council.—Mr. T. B. Boyle, acting secretary, wrote to the County Council's request for an increase of id. in the £ for livestock and agricultural schemes, and stating that the County Council at their meeting had agreed to the request.

Increase for Scholarship Holders.—A notice of the Committee's recommendation to increase the value of girls' scholarships to meet the increase of £4 in the fees payable by pupils attending day schools of rural domestic economy, the Department wrote approving of a supplementary allocation of £14 to cover the increased cost of three scholarships awarded by the Committee in 1944, which are held by girls attending Ransangan School of Rural Domestic Economy.

All-Ireland Ploughing Championship.—A letter from Mr. J. J. Bergin, secretary, National Ploughing Association, informed the members that the All-Ireland championships are fixed for Tipperary town on Wednesday, February 17th, and advising counties to fix their county matches not later than Tuesday, Jan. 30th.

Loans for Premium Bulls.—A letter from the Department stated that in the case of applicants for loans for the purchase of premium bulls, selected applicants who intend to apply for loans should communicate with the Department at the earliest possible moment, but not later than 31st January.

Apple Trees.—A letter read from Messrs Wm. Watson & Sons, Killiney, Co. Dublin, notified their inability to continue supplies of either bush or half-standard apple trees in the dessert varieties, and stocks of most of the cooking sorts is now very low.

Congratulations.—The Committee extended congratulations to Miss O'Donovan on the achievement of her poultry in the recent tests, and to Miss M. M. Mullins and Miss M. E. Heagney, instructresses.

LATE MRS. BRIDGET FOLEY, EMMETT ST., DUNGARVAN.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Bridget Foley, whose regretted death was briefly announced in our previous issue, took place at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, on Thursday evening, Dec. 14th, accompanied by a very large and representative assembly of friends and the general public. The coffin was received by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C.

On Friday morning Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass were offered for the happy repose of her soul. The celebrant was Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F.; deacon, Rev. P. Farrell, C.C.; Four-Mile-Water; master of ceremonies, Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C. in the choir were Very Rev. Fr. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish; Very Rev. Fr. Roche, P.P., Abbeystead; Very Rev. Wm. Flynn, P.P., Knocknaree; Very Rev. P. F. McGrath, P.P., Ring; Very Rev. F. Heasman, P.P., Ballinacorney; Rev. Fr. Conway, P.P., Kilgobnet; Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Ballinacorney; Rev. M. Power, C.C., Abbeystead; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., Abbeystead; Rev. W. Meenan, C.C., Talrow; Rev. P. J. Walsh, C.C., Kilrossney; Rev. Fr. Hennessy, Chaplain, Carrigrohane; Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., Kilgobnet; Rev. Fr. Donegan, O.S.A.; Rev. Fr. Grenan, O.S.A.; Rev. Fr. Dwyane, C.C.

The chief mourners were Michael Foley (son); Miss Mary Foley, Mrs. J. Hurley, Mrs. M. O'Connell, Mrs. Ursuline Convent, Blackrock (daughters); Mrs. M. Foley (daughter-in-law); Frank Hurley, John Noble, Mrs. Joe Mulcahy (relatives); etc.

Mass cards were received from: Her loving family and grandson Frank; Nell, Jack and the children; her grandsons, Billy, Lar and Joe; Michael, Nora and Jim; Michael and Lena Foley; Joe, Annie and Billy; P. and E. Foley and P. Walsh, Squares; Phean family, Main Street; Mrs. M. F. Clancy and family, do.; Tom and Mary Crotty, Clons; Elsie Garrett, John and Eddie, The Delany family; Fleming, Pat and K. Hallahan, The Square; Lizzie and Nan Dwyer; M. C. Curran, The Quay; the Lynch family, Ballyduff; the Walsh family, Garrycloyne; Annie M. Fennesse; Dr. and Mrs. McCarthy; P. and Annie O'Connell; Michael and Mary Flynn, St. Helena; Mrs. L. and M. Benahan; Rev. Mother and Community, Mercy Convent, Dungarvan; M. and Cathryn Keane, Woodview; Clonacraige; Quailly family, O'Connell Street; Mary Foley and family, Mitchel Tee; Nicholas and Mary Beresford; B. Crene, Burgery; the Delany family; Elizabeth M. Fleming; the Norris family; the Sweeney family, Stradbally; M. C. Hilliard, Friary Street; Miss Fitzgerald, Lower Main Street; Eugene and Eileen Flanagan; Sergt. and Mrs. Breen.

Letters were received from Mother Catherine's Presentation Convent, Dungarvan; Rev. Mother, Ursuline Convent, Cork; Rev. Mother, St. Angela's College, Cork; Mother M. Brendan, Ursuline Convent, Cork; Mother Peter, do.; Mother Benignus, do.; Mother Aquinas, do.; Mother Monica, do.; Mother M. Xavier, do.; Very Rev. T. B. Walsh, P.P., St. Patrick's, Waterford; Supt. M. Walsh, Waterford; T. C. Williams, Toura-mere; Mrs. Leo, M. & L. Bank, Dungarvan; Nicholas and Mary Beresford, Coolagour; Geraldine Deasy, Shandon House; M. Power, Postmaster, Dungarvan; Kathleen and Jack Healy, Cork; Ciss Moylan, Harbour View, do.

Telegrams from: Rev. J. Lavin, C.C., Clons; Michael and Margaret Sweeney, Stradbally; Phil and Josie, Dublin.

very exceptional—an increased demand and when supplies were lower than before the war. Naturally we regret to find it necessary to give this notice, but in present conditions it cannot be avoided. We may, however, say that we are now planting increased quantities of stock for future supplies.

The letter was marked "Noted."

Congratulations.—The Committee extended congratulations to Miss O'Donovan on the achievement of her poultry in the recent tests, and to Miss M. M. Mullins and Miss M. E. Heagney, instructresses.

SEQUEL TO NIRE INCIDENT

At Clonmel Court, last week, District Justice Troy received information and returned the accused for trial when depositions were taken in a case in which men from the Ballymacarby area were charged with on Sept. 24th, at Knockaunbrandon, unlawfully and maliciously wounding John Tobin with intent to do him grievous bodily harm; with at the same time and place with other persons riotously assembling to the chase and assaulting John Tobin and unlawfully and maliciously wounding John Tobin.

The defendants—James Grady (farmer); John O'Donnell, Knocknaree (farmer); James Coffey, Glendalough (farmer); Tom, shop (farmer); Edmond Coffey, Shanballymore (farm labourer).

Dr. Conahan, State Solr., Waterford, prosecuted, and Mr. L. Skinner, Solr., defended.

Detective-Guard Patrick Joseph Gordon, Dungarvan, deposed that on Sunday, 24th September, he attended Mass at the Nire Church on duty. Mass had begun when he arrived. When entering the church he noticed about 20 men standing together some distance from the Church gate—10 or 15 yards down. They included the defendant, James Grady. Witness left the church about 12.20 (S.T.) after Mass and Benediction. The crowd were coming out from the chapel and walking with the people. Immediately he came outside the chapel door to the chapel yard he saw a rush of men down along the road and heard shouts. The first he heard was "kill him, the grabber." There was a scuffle taking place on the roadway. Witness tried to force his way into where the scuffle was taking place. He was pushed about and he saw through the melee a man being beaten and knocked down. He now knew the man to be John Tobin of Glendalough. They were shouting in a crowd from different angles "kill him," "give it to him, the grabber," "finish him off," etc.

Witness saw James Grady and Jack Coffey and John O'Donnell surrounding John Tobin. After having shouted a couple of times, "Kill him," witness over the heads of the crowd.

Asked what was the attitude of the crowd, witness said he saw the crowd shouting and jumping and using these words and saw this man being beaten. There would be well over 100 people in a continuous line on the roadway at this time. Witness was very apprehensive of the very dangerous looking. The shot seemed to put a sudden stop to the activities of the crowd for the moment. They seemed to stand up and wonder what was going to happen next. Witness got in front of the crowd and got Tobin going back to the shop. He was responsible for this man's protection, that he did nothing out of the way and to leave him go home. He (witness) was not responsible for his revolver in his hand. He ran about four or five steps with Tobin and then witness to where Tobin was a number of yards. Witness was inclined to come along because James Grady was jumping about. O'Grady ran past witness to where Tobin was a few yards ahead of him. Witness retreated along the road with Tobin until they came to the shop. James Grady also rushed into the shop. The crowd gathered up close to the doorway into the yard. All the defendants were there in the front row of the crowd except Grady, who was in the kitchen. As witness was in the doorway of the shop he held his revolver in his hand, holding his revolver in the other. He was not close to it as Grady got into the doorway. Witness then appealed to the crowd to have sense and go away home and he remained a few minutes in the door trying to reason with them. He told them that he would put his gun in his pocket and that all he wanted was that they would allow him to take Tobin away. As soon as witness put his gun in his pocket the crowd that were outside the door rushed into the shop and witness could not see what happened for a few moments. He saw Grady kick Tobin on the ground. The kick was on the hip. Tobin was bleeding heavily on the side he fell coming down the road. After the second assault he had a severe wound on the left cheek bone and around the eye. He noticed that Tobin hadn't this wound before he entered the kitchen. Josie Tobin, a sister of John Tobin, came into the kitchen. At this time a few of the men eased out of the kitchen. John Coffey made a rush and drew his arm to strike her and witness held Coffey's arm. Josie Tobin told witness the trap was outside. Witness went out with her and put her brother into the trap. When they got into the trap Grady got hold of the horse by the head and hit it a couple of blows on the nose. Witness pulled Grady away and the pony drove to John Tobin. Glendaloughly said he lived with his mother, Bridget, his brother, William, and his sister, Josie Tobin. On Sunday, 4th September he attended 12.30 Mass at Clons Church (The Nire Church). After Mass and Benediction he left the church by the main door. When coming on to the road he saw a crowd of people standing across the road. James Grady left the crowd and rushed across at him and went to assault him. He warded off Grady's blows at first and then the crowd closed round witness and called on Jas. Grady to hit him. Then John O'Donnell ran up to witness and hit him and he lost his balance. The blow was on the chest. Jas. Grady then rushed and hit witness in the side of the face and he fell. He got up immediately and ran along the roadway towards home. At that time there were about 25 people in the crowd, but when the congregation came out it was bigger—there were then about 50. The defendants were in the crowd. Some of the defendants said "hit him," "kill him, the grabber." As witness ran James Grady followed him and when he was about 100 yards down the road, James Grady and Jack Coffey got before him and held him up and would not let him pass. The crowd collected round him again. He heard a shot and Del. Gordon came towards him. The crowd were trying to strike him. The defendants were in this crowd. The detective appealed to the crowd to leave witness and called on witness to go home but the crowd became more agitated. Witness was terrified. The detective got witness behind him and they moved towards O'Reilly's shop which they reached. The crowd followed. Witness went into O'Reilly's kitchen and fell. James Grady then kicked him in the head and stomach. Jim Coffey and Jack Coffey also kicked him in the right leg and foot. Edmond Coffey also kicked him in the right leg. His sister, Josie Tobin arrived and he managed to get into his mother's trap. James Grady got on top of the pony and would not let the pony pass. Witness was attended by Doctor Lyden, Ballymacarby, that afternoon.

Mr. Skinner—You are all good friends out there again, Tobin, aren't you? You friendly to your neighbours?

Witness answered "yes" and added something to the effect that the majority of them were friendly with him.

Mr. Skinner—Except the defendants?—Well, there are a few other.

You don't believe the defendants have any more animosity towards you?—I wouldn't believe that, Mr. Skinner.

Dr. Lyden, Ballymacarby, said he examined John Tobin on 24th September about 3.30. He found he had a cut on the forehead just over Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

The play which consists of several acts centred round the residence of old Mr. Hardcastle (M. Cullinan) and known as Liberty Hall, to which young Mr. Marlow (William Quinn) was invited with the consent of his father, Sir Charles (Noel Potter), the object being a union between Mr. Marlow and Miss Hardcastle (Betty O'Neill) and the fun opens when young Marlow, accompanied by his friend Geo. Hastings (Jas. O'Keefe) who was secretly in love with Miss Neville (Eileen Power) a ward of Mrs.

Hardcastle's, called at an inn on the way to Liberty Hall, where they met Tony Lumpkin (Colm Moloney), step-son of Mr. Hardcastle to whom the scheming Mrs. Hardcastle sought to wed Miss Neville. Under the misguiding directions received from Tony, the travellers arrived at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS and Best Wishes for 1945 To Old Friends and Neighbours

AND DON'T FORGET— "POWER'S" Stout will be just as good after Xmas.

THOMAS POWER & CO.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS in great variety at HADDEN'S

If in doubt, or if you find selection difficult, you can purchase GIFT VOUCHERS FOR YOUR FRIENDS. These can be exchanged for articles selected in our Warehouse.

W. & G. HADDEN LTD.

"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER"

SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION BY DUNGARVAN DRAMATIC CLASS.

The members of the Dungarvan Dramatic Class upheld their already well-established reputation when in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday and Saturday last they staged the above farcical comedy by Oliver Goldsmith. The characters in the cast were: Mr. Hardcastle, Michael Foley; Tony Lumpkin, Colm Moloney; Miss Hardcastle, Betty O'Neill; Miss Neville, Eileen Power; Young Marlow, William Quinn; Sir Charles Marlow, Noel Potter; George Hastings, James Simms; Servant, Tom Walsh; Servant, Donal Moloney; Stage Manager, Harvey Eagar; Assistant Stage Manager, William Ryan; Electrician, Michael Terry; Make-up, N. A. Nettie. Hall Superintendent, George O'Riordan. The furniture was kindly supplied by W. S. Miller, Esq.

Margarine Supplies

LICENSED BUTTER RETAILERS ARE REQUESTED TO NOTE THAT THEY CAN OBTAIN THEIR SUPPLY OF MARGARINE FROM A. MOLONEY & SONS Ltd. WHOLESALÉ MERCHANTS DUNGARVAN

DEATH OF MR. M. CUMMINS, THE SQUARE, DUNGARVAN.

The unexpected death of Mr. Matthew Cummins, The Square, Dungarvan, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon, caused a painful sensation throughout the county, as being only a few days ill, his death was most unexpected. The deceased, who carried on a large and progressive hardware and grocery business establishment at The Square, Dungarvan, was one of the most popular men in the town. He was a keen business man, and his integrity and straightforwardness won for him a very high place in the opinion of all with whom he came in contact, whether in the course of business or in a private capacity. A native of Stradbally, he was a member of one of the most widely connected families in the county. To his bereaved brothers and sisters we tender our very deepest sympathy in their great loss.

A very large and representative cortege accompanied the remains to the Parish Church, Dungarvan, on Wednesday evening, where the coffin was received by Rev. D. Power, C.C., assisted by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and Rev. J. Corbett, C.C. On Thursday morning Solemn Requiem Office was sung and High Mass celebrated for the happy repose of his soul.

The funeral, which took place later to his native Stradbally, was one of the largest seen locally for some time, testifying to the respect and esteem entertained for the deceased with members of his family. Very Rev. Fr. English officiated at the graveside.

The immediate chief mourners present were: Patrick and James (brothers); Minnie, Katie, Bridie and Mrs. N. Scanlan (sisters); Mr. M. Scanlan (brother-in-law), etc., etc.

Mass cards were received from: Katie and Patsie; Bridie and James; Neil and Matt; the Walslens; Bridie and Pat; Katie and family; George Cummins; Minnie; Francis and Nellie Templeton; Bill and Annie; Rita and Jack Cummins; M. K. Barry; Ned and Pats Fleming; The Squares; A. Dunne; Devonshire Arms Hotel; Devonshire Arms Staff; Perna family; Clons; Richard Kieley; Ballingroom; Maurice and Alice O'Flynn; The Square; Miss Cleary; Jack and Kitty; Ballymacmague; the Committee and Members of the Literary Club; William and Mrs. Murphy; Glenasmole; very Rev. Dr. P. J. Walsh, C.C.; Rev. Fr. Corbett; Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C.; Dungarvan.

DUNGARVAN STRIKE

With a view to arriving at an amicable settlement of the strike at the Dicks and Kelly's Factory since October 12th last, the following local committee was, on the initiative of Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., formed: Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D.; D. Heskin, T.D.; T. McCarthy, Chairman, do.; J. A. Vane, Vice-Chairman, do.; Robert and James (brothers and sons); and E. Maher (Manager, Dungarvan Co-Operative Creameries). Canon O'Brien presided at a meeting of the committee on Sunday last and it was unanimously decided to interview both the directors and employees of the Factory. These meetings were held on Monday and later that evening a meeting between representatives of both sides was held, at which certain proposals were made by the directors, same to be submitted to a vote of the men on Thursday. As we go to press we learn that the vote taken on Sunday last and against the acceptance of the terms submitted by the Factory Directors. We trust that this newly formed local committee will still try to find a solution of this unfortunate dispute which will be acceptable to both sides.

LATE MISS ELSIE BRENNAN

The late Miss Elsie Brennan, whose remains were interred in St. Mary's Cemetery, Dungarvan, on December 17th, was daughter of the late R. T. Brennan, who was Postmaster of Dungarvan over a long period of years. He was first to introduce the bicycle to Dungarvan in the shape of the bicycle known as the "Penny Farthing" machine. He also edited and published a newspaper. The deceased lady was sister of Sr. M. Agnes, Dominican Convent, Dun Laoghaire, and of Mrs. Whitty, Edinburgh, and the late D. Brennan who was manager of the local Labour Exchange.

There was a large attendance at the funeral and interment, which included members of the Post Office staff who had worked with the deceased lady before her retirement.

"Castlereagh Express"

Black. 76 lbs.

Creamery Border—Rebel Music Made (Oaks Winner)

First class Tracker. Recent matings include Kibreevy Collins, Morning Snow, Elton Anne, Carnival Queen, Square Olive, Maid of Lott, Look-out Street, Roast Cullet, Boris Light, Clougarragh Lass, etc.

FEES, 7 GUINEAS (approved Bitches)

Four days' notice required.

JOE FOLEY

St. Augustine Street, DUNGARVAN.

DUNGARVAN COURSIING CLUB

First Annual Meeting at Clonsa, Dungarvan

Thursday, Dec. 28, 1944

First Brace in Stags at 11 a.m. (S.T.)

WILL BE FOLLOWED BY Grand Coursing Dance

Ocean View Hotel.

Music by Dungarvan Rhythm Band with Steve Sheehan.

Admission - - - 3/9 (including Tax).

DANCING 9 P.M. TO 3 A.M.

TRIALS (weather permitting), on Sunday, 10th December, at 1 p.m. (S.T.).

