Mr. J. I. McGuire (instructed by Mr. L. Skinner, solr., Clonmel), who appeared for the defence, made a powerful plea for clemency for the accused. It was a most unfortunate hing, he said, to have five respectable men like them in the dock before his Lordship. The facts of the case, said counsel, so far as its criminal spect was concerned, were before his Lordship on the depositions.

very unpleasant case, too.

Mr. McGulre, continuing, said that none of the defendants had ever been in any sort of trouble before. He did not think any one of them had ever | P.P., Touraneena, wrote :with criminal or civil proceedings. It was unfortunate that there should have been this assembly outside the Catholic Church of the Nire in which They were only five of a very large number of people who had extended their sympathy in the district to a lady named Mary Coffey. Mary Coffey, counsel said, lived on a farm of 62 acres of land with her brother in the Nire Valley Unfortunately, in 1916, they had to apply to the London and General Insurance Co for a loan of £70. They got the loan and by way of security mortgaged the farm. The interest charged. and which they agreed to pay, was at the rate of 10 per cent. They actually got into their hands £63. They were we would have complete harmony in in dire circumstances at the time and adly required the money. During the next ten or fifteen years they paid £45 back to the insurance company. In 1944, when the matter finally raised its head again, they owed a sum of £135, composed of accumula-ted arrears and interest. There was, said Mr. McGuire, great ympathy all over the whole district for this unfortunate Mary Coffey, sympathy which was intensified by reason of the fact that her brother, who was an imbecile, had died in the County Home. The Coffeys were well known as people who were popular among their neighbours at all times,

Co., Mr. McGuire said his Lordship might recall that in his own court at Dungarvan, in February, 1944, a motion was brought forward in connection with the sale of the Coffey farm. Hundreds of people of the Nire Valley came together and subscribed with a view to having the holding secured for her. Mr. Tobin, for reasons best known to himself, went ahead with his bid and the purchase price went to £250, it being understood that the arm had been purchased for Mary Coffey at this figure. At that particular stage of the court auction proreedings, the solicitor who represented Mr. Tobin left the court through some misunderstanding, and the per-sons in court who represented the subscribers also left thinking that Mary Coffey was the successful bid-They went out and gave that glad news to the district and there vere great celebrations as a result. Mr. Tobin's solicitor, however, came back to court later and raised the bid instruct the solicitor who was acting through the subscribers for Mary Coffey, and the sale was accordingly

Counsel went on to relate how Mr. and offered the £260 to restore the farm to Mary Coffey. He, however, persisted in his attitude and said As a result, a great agitation tegan in the district and the whole Tobin in order to show that they were

The prosecution was a sequel to a sel, the matter was taken up by the sel, the matter was taken up by the local clergy, as the parish priest was very anxious to restore peace to the Nire Valley where people spoke about nothing else but the case about Mary Coffey. Finally the matter was taken up by the Dean of Clonmel, who established contact between Mr. Tobin and himself through Mr. Shannon, solr., and also personal contact who were a sort of committee, all in the district as a satisfactory way out. He got Mr. Tobin to agree that if he received £260 he would leave the farm and allow Mary Coffey in, and a deed to this effect had been

Dean Byrne, D.D., P.P., V.G., not the actual purchaser, who was assaulted.

Mr. D'Arcy revealed that the purchaser of the farm had offered the residence to Mrs. Coffey, as well as a small garden, in which he said she could live for the rest of her life. That acted in a reasonable way and the ordinary law and court sales would the people know that the better."

Judge Sealy, proceeding, said he had been disposed, on reading the depositions, to pass very heavy sent-ences indeed on the accused, because what they had done had affected his mind very much—the way they attacked this man outside the church. They could have done all that with-out any violence at all. No doubt, according to what Mr. McGuire had said, there was some misadventure as regards buying that land, at the sale in Dungarvan. But even if there was a misadventure there, and something happened on account of their representative not being in court, there was a peaceful way of doing the thing. They, however, discarded the peaceable way, took the law into their own hands and thought they would terrorise Tobin into handing the farm over to them. over to them. The best hauls have been very popular young priests left Cappoquin for the far-away Con-tinent of Australia. Both are natives taken along the coast and in the stretch of the Blackwater around Youghal Bridge. Fish have not been so plentiful in the upper reaches of the river. The prevailing reaches of the river. The prevailing price is also satisfactory. Prior to the opening, Very Rev. P. Murphy, P.P., Clashmore, celebrated Mass for the success of the season and later Cappoquin for the far-away Continent of Australia. Both are natives of Cappoquin and rarely have any two young men been so well-beloved by all classes. Rev. Fr. M. Foley, a native of Affane, Cappoquin, has, since his ordination at Waterford three years age, acted as C.C. at Chippenham, Wiltshire, England. Always popular amongst his own people, he was equally popular with his English parishioners, who, presented him with many valuable gifts when he was called by his bishop for the Australian Mission last September. Shortly after, he arrived in Ireland for a holiday in his native Cappoquin. The time for his departure to Australia being indefinite he had been amongst us for five months during which time he renewed his popularity even if possible to a greater measure. Rev. Fr. Foley is second son of Mr. Jack and Mrs. Foley Affane, Cappoquin, and nephew of Mr. Ml. Foley, Lismore, and Mr. Declan Foley, Cappoquin.

The Harriers' Club is and has since remained at home. A one of the most progressive sporting well-known and beloved figure with everyone, it can easily be said that seldom in Cappoquin had anyone been so popular as Fr. Brennan. Apart from his disposition which made him so popular, he was also a keen sportsman—being a first-class hurler himself he always maintained the deepest interest in his local teams. Last year he was a member of the junior team which broug such laurels to the town by winni the county final, and it can be said that Fr. Brennan was one of its most

Fr. Foley's and Fr. Brennan's popul-arity was proved during the past week by the numerous gifts and preentations they received from the people of the town and districts. Fr. FARMERS SENTENCED AT WATERFORD CIRCUIT COURT.

At the Waterford County Criminal Circuit Court on Monday, Jas. Grady, John O'Donnell, James Coffey, John Coffey, and Edmund Coffey, all repectable farmers from the Nire alley district of Co. Mr. J. I. McGuire (instructed by Mr. L. Skinner, solr., Clonmel), who appeared for the defence, made a powerful plea for clemency for the accused. They got the loan and by way of security mortgaged the farm. The interest charged. and which they agreed to pay, was at the rate of 10 per cent. They actually got into their hands £63. They were n dire circumstances at the time and adly required the money. During the next ten or fifteen years they paid £45 back to the insurance company. In 1944, when the matter finally raised its head again, they owed a sum of £135, composed of accumula-ted arrears and interest. There was, said Mr. McGuire, great ympathy all over the whole district for this unfortunate Mary Coffey, sympathy which was intensified by cason of the fact that her brother, who was an imbecile, had died in the County Home. The Coffeys were well known as people who were popular among their neighbours at all times. and the latter were always ready to lend assistance when they were in

Mr. Tobin, for reasons best known to himself, went ahead with his bid and the purchase price went to £250, it being understood that the arm had been purchased for Mary Coffey at this figure. At that parlicular stage of the court auction proceedings, the solicitor who represent ted Mr. Tobin left the court through some misunderstanding, and the per-sons in court who represented the subscribers also left thinking that Mary Coffey was the successful bid-They went out and gave that glad news to the district and there were great celebrations as a result. apprehension of an outbreak of hoswere great celebrations as a result. Mr. Tobin's solicitor, however, came sack to court later and raised the bid 2260. There was nobody there to instruct the solicitor who was acting arough the subscribers for Mary Colley, and the sale was accordingly losed in Mr. Tobin's favour.

Counsel went on to relate how Mr. Tohin was subsequently approached and offered the £260 to restore the farm to Mary Coffey. When this was all over, said Counel, the matter was taken up by the local clergy, as the parish priest was very anxious to restore peace to the last, and in the course of which, it was alleged, that a man named John Tobin, who had purchased the farm of a woman in the Nire district, was seriously assaulted.

Imposing the sentences, Judge up by the Dean of Clonmel, who established contact between Mr. Tobin and himself through Mr. Shannon, solr., and also personal contact with Mr. Tobin and with the people Coney's interest. Dean Byrne effected what he thought was a settlement of the case and what was regarded by of the case and what was regarded by all in the district as a satisfactory way out. He got Mr. Tobin to agree that if he received £260 he would leave the farm and allow Mary Coffey in, and a deed to this effect had been drawn up.

Mr. McGuire, at this stage, said he understood that letters on the subject had been received from the parish priest (Very Rev. Father Phelan) and Dean Byrne by Dr. Counihan, and he would ask that these be handed to

I believe the contributions up to the present amount to nearly £200. The entire trouble in the whole neighbourhood will be completely removed. Now, I would feel greatly perturbed if the court proceedings resulted in any notable punishment of ility and disorder in the district. The district is rather isolated and remote, would be very intense among a number of the inhabitants, and I would have real fear of an outbreak of disorder and of lasting rancour among neighbours. I vould then most respectfully submit for consideration that the law , proceedings should, in the interest of the peace of the dis-

the people know that the better."

Judge Sealy, proceeding, said he had been disposed, on reading the depositions, to pass very heavy sentences indeed on the accused, because what they had done had affected his mind very much—the way they attacked this man outside the church. They could have done all that with out any violence at all. No doubt, according to what Mr. McGuire had said, there was some misadventure as regards buying that land, at the sale in Dungarvan. But even if there was a misadventure there, and something happened on account of their representative not being in court, there was a peaceful way of doing the thing. They, however, discarded the peaceable way, took the law into their own hands and thought they would ter-rorise Tobin into handing the farm over to them. CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Departure of Two Popular Priests.

Last Monday morning, amid touching scenes of good-will, two
Cappoquin for the far-away Continent of Australia. Both are natives years. The best hauls have been taken along the coast and in the stretch of the Blackwater around Youghal Bridge. Fish have not been so plentiful in the upper reaches of the river. The prevailing price is also satisfactory. Prior to the opening, Very Rev. P. Murphy, P.P., Clashmore, celebrated Mass for the success of the season and later officiated at the ceremony of bless. three years ago, acted as C.C. at Chippenham, Wiltshire, England. Always popular amongst his own people, he was equally popular with his English parishioners, who, presented him with many valuable gifts when he was called by his bishop for the Australian Mission last Septem-ber. Shortly after, he arrived in Ireland for a holiday in his native Cappoquin. The time for his de-parture to Australia being indefinite pected death of Mrs. Holroyd-Smyth, Ballinatray, is a great loss, not only to her bereaved family but to the poor whom she was ever ready to help in the most unselfish and generous manner. To her husband and family deep sympathy is extended. The deceased lady was a general favourite and her demise has occasioned widespread regret.

parture to Australia being indefinite he had been amongst us for five months during which time he remewd his popularity even if possible to a greater measure. Rev. Fr. Foley is second son of Mr. Jack and Mrs. Foley. Affane, Cappoquin, and nephew of Mr. Ml. Foley, Lismore, and Mr. Declan Foley, Cappoquin.

Rev. Fr. Stephen Brennan, a native of the town, is only son of the late Mr. Jas. Brennan and Mrs. Brennan, and grand-nephew of the the late Rev. Fr. Louis, Mount Melleray, who was well-known all over Ireland for his saintliness and generosity. Fr. Steve was ordained at All Hallows, Dublin, in June, 1944, and has since remained at home. A well-known and beloved figure with everyone, it can easily be said that seldom in Cappoquin had anyone been so popular as Fr. Brennan. Apart from his disposition which made him so popular, he was also a keen sportsman—being a first-class hurler himself he always maintained the deepest interest in his local leams. Last year he was a member of the junior team which brough such laurels to the town by winn he county final, and it can be said that Fr. Brennan was one of its most brilliant players and partly responsible for its wonderful success. Both Fr. Foley's and Fr. Brennan's popularity was proved during the past week by the numerous gifts and presentations they received from the people of the town and districts. Fr. Brennan received a special presentation from the G.A.A. Another proof of their popularity was the immense crowd present at the station on the morning of their departure when nearly every house in Cappo-quin and district was represented. Rarely has there been witnessed in Cappoquin such touching scenes of the best wishes of the people the two young priests departed for their noble mission in a far away land. Departure.—During the week popular young townsman, Mr. Ned Brady (jr.), who had been home on holidays for the past three weeks left Cappoquin for the land of his adoption. He is looking fit and well. Resignation.—It was with feelings of regret that the townspeople learned of the resignation of the local Jubilee Nurse, Miss Buckley. Miss Buckley had rendered the services of her noble profession to the people of Cappoquin and district for many years and has proved hersel a most capable and sympathetic young woman. Miss Buckley, who is to be maried shortly, receives the best wishes of all. To the new nurse, Miss O'Donovan, of Clona-kilty, a hearty welcome is extended. Potato Appeal.—A fairly satisfactory response was given to this appeal and we hope to despatch a substantial quantity to the people of war stricken countries.

Waste Paper Campaign.—Waste paper is collected regularly for the good of the paper shortage and our funds.

Division Organisation—The Branch Committee continues in every way to and ladies' division. The ladies of the division added considerably our funds by their toy-making, as well as giving pleasure to the child-ren in the district with the lovely dolls, etc., made, Chairman's Address.—Dr. Lahiff tressed the need of the Branch to lp in every way possible the anti-T.B. campaign, particularly in edu-cating people in their attitude to-wards T.B. Firstly, there is no need to be ashamed of having T.B. and it is not hereditary. Secondly, propaganda interests everyone in the campaign, and thirdly, after care of patients, seeing they are properl cared for in their own homes; th

Death of Mr. E. Cummins.—The eath of Mr. Edmond Cummins, trenan, Bonmahon, occurred last week-end after a protracted illness and at a comparatively early age, and is much regretted in his native district and by all who knew him. Deceased, who was an esteemed member of the farming community, was a grand type of citizen, affable gentle and kind, and his joviality made him a favourite with everyone who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was a loving and devoted husband and parent, sincere friendly and obliging neighbour. As an agriculturalist he farmed on a large and successful scale, and his entire career was one of continued and energetic industrial activity, in which the fruits of his untiring abour were always in evidence. He possessed a very bright and keen sense of humour and to this was added a personality which abounded with an ever-ready willingness to help the less fortunate people of the district in which he resided. His was a popular disposition, that made no enemies, for his light-hearted our never hurt. He was brother of Sr. M. Agatha, Convent of Mercy, Callan, Co. Kilkenny. Many sincere sions of regret were tendered amiable widow and daughter deceased. On Sunday evenng a very large and representative meral procession accompanied the emoval of the remains from the reremoval of the remains from the residence to the Parish Church, Stradbally, where they were received by the respected local Pastor, Very Rev. E. English, P.P., who recited the prayers for the dead. Next morning, Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass were offered up for the happy repose of the departed soul. Rev. T. Draper, C.C., Stradbally, was celebrant of the Mass, and the clergy assisting in the choir were clergy assisting in the choir were: Very Rev. E. English, P.P., do.; Very Rev. D. Power, P.P., Kilrossanty; Rev. J. P. Walsh, C.C., do., and Rev. P. F. Walsh, C.C., Stradbally. The urial subsequently took place in the djoining cemetery, in the presence f another very large assembly of re-atives, friends and sympathisers, ind amid every manifestation of prond sorrow. All of the priests allready named again officiated at the graveside. A number of beautiful rave (which, by the way, is beside hat of his only son, John Joe, who lied five years ago), and sheaves of bouquets and messages of ace were received. The imliate chief mourners; were : Mrs. unphy, do. (daughter); Mr. James unphy, do. (son-in-law); Mrs. fallahan, Tinniscart, Aglish (sister); fr. R.I.P.—Deep and widespread re-ret was evinced in Bonmahori and in Stradbally when it became known that Mr. Timothy Salmon had passed to his reward—the sad event hapned recently in Italy. Deceased, Liverpool, was only in his 23rd year. A fine specimen of Irish manhood, his height was 6 ft. 21 ins., and he was built in proportion. His untimely demise has come as a painful shock to the members of a very wide friendship circle who admired and respected him highly for the many fine qualities that were outstanding traits of his personality. Deep sympathy is extended to the parents and other members of the arents and other nembers of the amily, including his brothers, Mir. ames Sammon, (a valued claying number of the Stradbally Gaelic otball Club); his grandmother Mrs. Anne O'Leary (widow) Knock: mahon, and his uncle. The others no less bringuished themselves and it could be impossible to write of them coder of merit, for Messrs. John coder, Michael Walsh, Michael over, William Power and Monnie anders portrayed their respective characters to the proverbial veins of nicety, while the Misses Kit Ryan, Mary Tobin, Biddy Tobin and Breda Power were also outstanding. The concert programme was comprised of songs, recitations, violin and accordeon selections and step-dance numbers, and those who contributed to it included the majority of the ar-tistes already mentions and Messrs. LISMORE NOTES.

Late Mr. T. O'Gorman, Cooldelane.

—We regret to record the death of Mr. Thomas O'Gorman, Cooldelane, Lismore, which took place at his home on Tuesday, January 20th, following a prolonged illness. Deceased was a well-known member of industrious disposition and unas-suming ways. His passing now in the fullness of years has aroused feelings of deep regret among his many friends. The remains were removed from his late residence to St. Carthage's Church on Wednesday evening accompanied by a large and representative concourse and were received by the Rev. Fr. T. Murphy, C.C., Lismore. On Thursday morning after the celebration of Requiern Office and High Mass for the eternal welfare of the departed soul the interment was made in the Co. Council table. The first prize was won by partners Michael Dunford, Rathmeaden, Kilmacthomas, and William Dooley, Kilnagrange, do. (subs. for Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Power, Ballyboy, do.); the second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hayden, Grawn, Kilrossanty, and the third to Fartners J. Cusack, Moonminane, and Wh. Whelan, Knockaturney. The drive was a distinct success.

The Late Mr. P. Gibson.—The late Mr. Patrick: Gibson, Emmet Place, Waterford, was a native of the village of Kill. He was an employee of Messrs. M. O'Sullivan and Sons, whelan Knockaturney. The drive was a distinct success.

The Late Mr. P. Gibson.—The late Mr. Patrick Gibson, Emmet Place, Waterford, was a native of the village of Kill. He was an employee of Messrs. M. O'Sullivan and Sons, Wholesale Bottlers and Mineral Water Manufacturers, Waterford, for more than thirty years, during to be described by a large crowd from all parts of West Waterford. The very capable organising committee spared no effort to ensure the success of the ceilidhe and the arrangements left nothing to be desired. The Eire Instrumentalist Ceilidhe Band was at its best on this occasion and discoursed such a deoccasion and discoursed such a de-lightful selection of Irish airs that all which period he made daily deliveries for the firm in Kilmacthomas and district. Deceased was a man to be relied upon, an upright and straightforward man who worthily merited and who received from his employers and fellow-workers and the public generally a measure of regard and esteem that is vouchsafed only to the very few. His good naturedness: showed in the frank and even smile with which he greeted all. he met. He had reached the allotted span and is survived by his good wife and two sons (Billy and Pat) residing in Waterford, and three daughters (Miss 4) and Citison (Citison to be dancing and, as a result, the spacious floor was crowded for each one of the wide variety of dances. A word of praise is due to the courteous and capable master of ceremonies, Mr. M. Ryan, who conducted matters in his usual efficient minner. At the close of the night's dancing, the Hon. Secretary of the County Board, Miss M. Montayne, in a few well chosen words, thanked all those who had attended the ceilidhe, also the Band, the master of ceramonies and all others who helped to make the ceilidhe the success that it was She also paid a cess that it was. Clashmore Card Drive.—What promises to be the biggest and best whist drive yet held at Clashmore will take place on Sunday, 25th inst., and is expected to attract a big crowd to this ever popular centre. There will be a variety of valuable and attractive prizes and the proceeds will be devoted to parochial funds. TALLOW NOTES.

Obituary.—Her many friends in Tallow Parish learned with much regret of the death of Mrs. C. O'Flynn, which sad event occurred at her late residence at Castlelyons, Co. Cork, and to the members of her bereaved ceased was a well-known member of the farming community and throughout his long and honoured life was admired and esteemed by all for his industrious disposition and unasprivileged to be intimately associ-ated with her during the period of her residence locally. The regret felt at her passing was illustrated by the large and representative cortege of mourners and sympathisers who were present at the removal of her remains to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, and at the subsequent interment which took place in the family burial plot in the cemetery adjoining, following the celebration of Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul. Very Rev. Cemetery. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Mary O'Gorman (widow); John and Lichael O'Gorman and (sons); Miss B. O'Gorman and Mrs. J. Coleman (daughters); Mr. J. C. O'Flynn (daughter-in-law);

C. O'Flynn (daughter-in-law); Maire, Gretta, Coleman O'Flynn (grand-children); Patrick and Mrs. Mrs. O'Flynn; Miss Jane O'Mahoney, Mrs. O'Loughlin, Rev. Fr. H.
