Monsignor Kiely is son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Kiely (licensed vintner and general provision merchant), No. 1, Shandon Street, Dungarvan. Educated at the Christian Brothers' Schools in his native old Borough, he was one of its most or lliant pupils, and had an equally distinguished career as a student at Mount Melleray and at Louvain (Belgium). On the completion of his ecclesiastical studies he received by his wife, was his ordination, being then only in his 23rd year. Monsignor Kiely celebrated his first Mass at the Ursuline Convent, Forest Gate, London, where his sister, Mother M. Ursula (R.I.P.) was then member of the community. rap from Dun-when a lorry Sunday was certainly a day of surprises, but the greatest of all was the defeat of the County Champione (Army) by Erin's Own in the Senior Hurling County Championships. The game, I understand, was by no means brilliant. But a feature was the extraordinary come back by the ex-champions, who by their display surprised their most ardent supporters. This set-back will surely put the Army on their toes and eity followers are already looking forward to the Mount Sion-Erin's Own clash, which will be staged at the re was no ligh Monsignor Kiely is a most saintly priest and gifted man. His know-ledge of art is reflected in the beauty of the churches and schools he re-constructed or had erected. His name is also well known in literature, for he is a frequent con-tributor to Catholic papers and periodicals. The fruit of his labours is evident in Albert Lea to-day. He knows his people both young and old, and is universally loved by them. And it is not the love of a pampered child for an indulgent parent, but the discourage love of a pampered child.

child for an indulgent parent, but the discerning love of a very Catholic flock. He seeks no cowardly popularity by silence, but knows like St Paul, when to restrain and rebuke a disobedient child of the Church. The good works of his people are evidenced by a wonderful generosity in the cause of religion and education. Their faith is manifest in the number and quality of the candidates they are giving to the sanctuary and cloister. Never, perhaps, was a priest more loved and revered than Monsignor Kiely in Albert Leafeel the power of his honesty, his manliness, and that sternness which but masks the softest of hearts. Loyal to the Church in every detail of his career to date, the Right Rev. Monsignor John Kiely is equally loyal to the land of his birth. His triennial visits home—broken at the outbreak of the greatest Great War ever—were always eagerly looked forward to by his multitude of friends and well-wishers here in the fair and fertile Decies. CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

N.A.C.A.—Our local athletes are N.A.C.A.—Our local athletes are still in winning mood, and again we had the pleasure of recording yet more successes of their scores at Castlemagnar Sports on Sunday last. J. J. Foley recorded a cycling double in the half mile Munster Championship and three mile race. This was certainly a unique achievement—winning two such races on one day apart from his achievement—winning two such races on one day, apart from his series of recent success. Mr. W. J. Sargent also upheld the honour of the club when he came second in the 100 Yards Open Handicap.

Sparts Meeting.—At a special meeting of the N.A.C.A. Club held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall on Monday night last, final arrangements were made for the sports meeting to be held on Sunday, July 15th. A very attractive programme has been prepared. Many brilliant athletes and all the leading cyclists in the county shall take part, so that very keen competition and very big fields are assured.

The sportsfield is being splendidly prepared by the energetic committee, who mean to leave no stone inturned to ensure the success of the sports meeting. A Grand All-Night Dance will be held on sports night, the tickets for which will be 24. 6d each. Fuller particulars of sports programme and dance will be found in advertising columns.

respectful silence:-At this specially convened meeting of the Rathgormack Parochial Conmittee we, the members, on behalf of the parishioners and ourselves. place on record our deep regret at the death of our beloved parish priest. Very Rev. James Nugent, P.P., the loss of whose able and levng guidance we keenly feel, and as a tribute to his memory we promise to redouble our efforts to further the project of a new churchm in Rathgormack, a project which he initiated and by his untiring work brought to its present degree of success. We tender to His Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Cohalan and the clergy our sympathy in the loss sustained by the church and to the relatives in their bereavement.

whist Drive.—A very successful whist drive under the auspices of the Ballyduff Red Cross was neld at St. Michael's Hall on Sunday night week and proved to be an outstanding success. The proceeds were in aid of the Irish Red Cross Society, and to say it was well supported would be to put it mildly, as supporters of this laudable object were present from far and near, and one and all were loud in their praise of the way all the arrangements were carried out. the arrangements were carried out. During the interval teas were served by members of the Red Cross, while a grand variety programme of music and song was presented by the members of the Ballyduff Choral Society, under Mrs. B. Prior, which helped to make the night more enjoyable for one and all, and was much appreciated. The whist drive proved very interesting and all games were closely contested, and the ultimate winners were :—Ladies: 1st. Mrs. T. winners were:—Ladies: 1st, Mrs. T.

Camogie Club's Victory—The mambers of the local Camogie Clab world their tie in the second found of the West Waterford camogie championiship when they flefeated the march fancied Camphire team by a confortable margin, and thus earned the right to contest the final of the Lismore area at a later date. A Very large large clowd was present when Referee Cunningham threw in the by her father, and wore a navy and white ensemble, and was attended by her sister, Miss Joan Byrne, as bridesmaid, who ware marine green. Mr. J. Geary, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was keld at the Imperial Hotel, Fermoy, and was attended by a large number of guests, after which the happy couple travelled to Tharmore, where the honeymoon was spent. A number of valuable presents was received by both bride and bridegroom to mark the auspicious occasion. We join with their many tent with overs. Pauline McGrath occasion. We join with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Geary all the best.

Camogie Challenge.—The Knockanore camogie team have led to Kinsalebeg on Friday evening week for a return friendly with the local team. After a fast and closely contested game the visitors were victors by a small margin. When the teams met some weeks ago at Raven's Rock the Knockanore team had an easy victory, but in the meantime the Kinsalebeg team have improved wonderfully, and the Knockanore team had to fight hard for victory. After the to fight hard for victory. After the game the visitors were entertained to tea by the Kirsalebeg Club, and a very enjoyable evening followed.

Sunday Next.—The chief topic in camogie circles is the meeting of Knockanore and Tallow, in the first round of the camogie championship, at Camphire on Sunday next, and all there are to Camphire on Sunday next, and all there are to Camphire are to contain the topic to the first to the first to the first to contain the topic to the first to ther goal. A free to Camphia, was wided after a hard clash in which few weeks both teams have trailed hard, and on Sunday will line out as fit as possible. When the teams met in the championship last season, standard, and while Camphite failed Knockanore had an easy victory, but this year Tallow are more than hopeful of reversing the verdict. Donning the green and gold colours of Knockanore on Sunday will be such well-known players as Mary Landers, Peg Neville, Teresa Hynes, Giggins Murphy, and May Moloney—to mention but a few will as well as well as well as well as well as the colour than the second season, standard, and while Camphile failed to score, Ballydur had two further goal; to leave the score; Ballydur had two further goal; to leave the sco
