TUBERCULOSIS IN CO. WATERFORD. VIEWS AT DUNGARVAN CONFERENCE.

Mr. D. Heskin, T.D., presided at a joint conference of representatives of the Waterford County Council and the Dungarvan Urban Council, at the Court House, Dungarvan, on Monday last, to consider the question of tuberculosis in the county. Those present were Senator J. Butler, Messrs. J. McGrath, M. Harty, L. A. Veale, M. Morrissey, T.D., T. A. Kyne (who represented both Councils). The medical profession was represented by Dr. M. O'Farrell, County Medical Officer; Dr. M. Casey, M.O.H., Dungarvan, and Dr. D. T. McCarthy. The officials present were Messrs. S. J. Moynihan, County Manager; J. G. Dowling, County Secretary; Michael O'Flynn, Secretary, Board of Assistance, and M. Phelan, Chief Home Assistance Officer.

Following an exchange of views at the outset, it was decided to allow the Press to be present.

Mr. Kyne said that as a national insurance agent he had occasion to come in contact with cases of illness from tuberculosis, and the increase in this disease had been alarming since 1938. He had reported the matter to the authorities without result. He felt that some effort should be made to stop it out, and for that reason he suggested that this meeting should be called. There were some questions asked like to ask the first of which was: Was it a fact that tuberculosis was increasing in the county?

Dr. O'Farrell said that Mr. Kyne had stated that he had got some knowledge as a result of his work and that there had been an alarming increase in tuberculosis from 1938 on. He (Dr. O'Farrell) expected that Mr. Kyne had arrived at that conclusion by figures he had.

Mr. Kyne said that he had 2,000 persons in the National Insurance Society at the start of the year 1938 and the death increase was 100 per cent. in his area.

OFFICIAL FIGURES.

Dr. O'Farrell then went on to give the official figures of insured patients since 1935. The figures were—31 in 1935, 64 in 1936, 79 in 1937, 118 in 1938, 89 in 1939, 71 in 1940, 63 in 1941, 61 in 1942, 64 in 1943, and 65 in 1944. Dr. O'Farrell said that from that he could see that the greatest increase in the number of insured patients was in 1939; since then the figures had dropped.

Mr. Kyne—That bears out my statement that there was an increase when I was working as national insurance agent?

Dr. O'Farrell—Yes.

Dr. O'Farrell then went on to give the numbers of non-insured patients during the same periods. They were: 241, 283, 353, 300, 340, 266, 223, 178, 227, and 231. He also produced a graph showing the decrease from 1939 to 1940.

Mr. Kyne—Is it or is it not on the increase? I would like a straight answer to that?

Dr. O'Farrell—The position is that from 1939 to 1944 there had been a decrease.

Mr. Kyne—I am afraid that I cannot accept your figures for this area. Dr. O'Farrell—I would like to make the position clear. These figures are given by the public health authorities.

Mr. Kyne—The big thing to us as ordinary laymen is that we know that there is an increase. We know that perhaps relatives or friends or acquaintances have gone to tuberculosis clinics. I would like to ask Dr. McCarthy or Dr. Casey if it is not a fact that it is increasing in this area.

"INCREASE IN DUNGARVAN DISTRICT."

Dr. McCarthy—I think there is definitely an increase in this area. It is a hard disease to detect, and for that reason, in my opinion, there are a good number of cases going undetected. I am, of course, speaking unofficially and have no statistics.

Senator Butler said that he had heard statements from Mr. Kyne and Dr. McCarthy that it was on the increase, while Dr. O'Farrell has given official figures to show that it was decreasing. He (Senator Butler) thought that there were a number of cases in the county that the officials had no knowledge of at all.

Dr. O'Farrell said the figures he had given were based on the official figures.

The Department approved of the grant of a scholarship to a second-year student to act as student demonstrator in the school garden at Dungarvan for the remainder of the session.

The scheme submitted for the current financial year was approved by the Department with certain modifications.

Bonus.—The County Secretary wrote stating that the Department had sanctioned the payment of a 1/4-a-week bonus to whole-time officers with salaries under £500 a year.

Mr. P. O'Flanagan, who resigned last year, applied for re-appointment as a part-time Irish teacher.

On the proposition of Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Walsh, he was re-appointed.

R.D.S. Extension Lectures.—The Royal Dublin Society wrote relative to the holding of lectures under the auspices of the Committee, similar to those held last year.

Mr. Clancy suggested lectures for the town in music, which he said, was a very cultural and a very nice subject.

Mr. Harty thought the rural area should get a similar lecture.

The Very Rev. Chairman seconded Mr. Clancy's proposition.

Mr. Butler said the forestry subject was very important and very necessary.

Mr. Harty said a good deal was being done in that line by the County Committee of Agriculture around the county.

Mr. Clancy said the species of timber grown in this country was of little commercial value, but it was well to develop it in some way.

Mr. Harty suggested field drainage as a subject of vital importance in this country, and that the Parish where there is so much bogland, taking into account at the moment the grants for such work under the farm improvement scheme.

Mr. McGrath remarked that there were very few farmers who did not know all about dairy farming, etc., but the ways and means was their great trouble.

Mr. Butler referred to the necessity of a lecture on food and nutrition in the town.

It was decided to hold the following lectures:

At Dungarvan—Sound and Sense (musical appreciation)—Dairy Farming, Food and Nutrition. At Cappoquin—Sound and Sense. At Old Parish and Killyrossan—Field Drainage. At Modeligo and Tallow—Pastures.

Mr. Kyne asked what do boys in the engineering and woodwork classes eventually gain from their studies at the Vocational School. Was there any system of scholarships by which they could pursue their studies?

The C.E.O. said the boys get a general hand and eye training. There were a few scholarships given such as the A.S.E.

Mr. Kyne then referred to a suggestion made by Very Rev. T. B. Walsh last year, and asked if the Committee had power to assist boys to become apprentices to trades, and if they could give them some subsistence allowance?

The C.E.O. said a scheme for that purpose could be drafted.

Mr. Kyne said a scheme should be formulated, as there was a lack of apprentices in the different trades.

Mr. Butler thought there should be a special class for young fellows who are apprenticed at the moment.

Mr. J. McGrath said there was a special apprentices' class in Kilkenny.

Mr. Kyne referred to the difficulty some boys were faced with. Due to their economic position they could not enter apprenticeship to a trade, but had to become messenger boys, which was just leading them up a blind alley.

The C.E.O. said he would draw up such a scheme.

Mr. Kyne suggested that two of these scholarships should be established locally.

Mr. Clancy said he raised that matter about 12 years ago. It is a pity something was not done to keep the old trades, such as that of the blacksmith, saddler, wheelmaker, etc., alive, as well as the modern trades. He agreed with Mr. Kyne as to the formulation of a scheme.

TIPPERARY WIN MUNSTER FINAL.

Tipperary, 4-3; Limerick, 3-6.

At Thurles on Sunday, before 25,000 (gate receipts £2,200), Tipperary defeated Limerick by three points in the Munster Senior Hurling Final.

Training was a telling factor in Tipperary's victory, many of the Limerick players tiring before the end. In a robust, hard-hitting game with thrills in plenty, there was little to choose between the two sides. Tipperary backs stood well under the pressure in the first half. G. Conroy and John Maher in the centre being well supported from the wings, while Jim Maher was again good in goal.

Wall and Goulsboro, if slow on getting into their stride, had the better of midfield exchanges in the second half. Wall (until he retired injured) putting in some sound work.

M. Ryan gave a brilliant display as right half-forward and contributed handsomely to the Tipperary score, but A. Brennan and T. Doyle also played their part.

The full forwards line of J. Coffey, J. O'Keefe and E. Gleeson allowed few chances to slip, but with a little steadiness might have had a more fruitful return.

Limerick's victory, which brought on the Larkin for P. Cregan, had sweeping positional changes. M. Mackey, J. Power and M. Kennedy were the best of the older hands.

J. Power, P. McCarthy and P. O'Shea were a good half-backline in the first half, but, although the forwards were well fed, they did not turn their openings to full account.

When Limerick brought their lead to four points after the resumption, it looked odds on Limerick, but Tipperary rose to the occasion in traditional style and when they drew level for the third time in the game, they then went ahead they kept their grip on the game and had a reply to every move when Limerick tried all they knew in the closing stages.

As a hurling exhibition there have been better Munster finals, but it was a manly struggle between worthy opponents, and close scoring with the verdict in doubt until the end kept the crowd at the peak point of excitement.

The ball was thrown in by Most Rev. Dr. Kineane, Coadjutor Archbishop of Cashel.

CAMOGIE NOTES.

On Sunday Next, St. Marys will meet Clashmore in the second round of the county championship. If Clashmore maintain the same form as they displayed in the recent friendly match with Knocknaree their followers will have every reason to be proud of them, and a thrilling, rousing game is assured. No words of mine are needed in praise of the callini from Dungarvan—St. Marys (county champions). Their followers are undoubtedly pulling them through to a smashing combination.

Knocknaree v. Tallow, at Cappoquin.—A very exciting game was witnessed on Sunday at Cappoquin when Tallow met Knocknaree in the first round of the county championship. Though Knocknaree won the day by one goal, they were obliged to fight until the final whistle went. Tallow fielded a very good team that showed plenty of skill and practice. It was evident that they were well trained, and the team combined well as a playing unit. Knocknaree refused to be beaten. Their dogged determination and perseverance pulled them through to the final whistle, when they emerged worthy victors, the final score being 2-1 to 1-1.

Vital Final Challenge: County Team v. Waterford Selected.—One of the high-light matches of the season will take place in Dungarvan on Thursday, July 28th—the county team v. a team selected from all the other players in the county. The present representatives of the county (worthy victors over Cork) will be one and all anxious to maintain their places, while their opponents will be doubly anxious to show that they also are worthy of representation in the county. This is one match where each player may be counted upon to give of her best, as on her display will depend her inclusion or exclusion from the county team which will do battle with Tipperary for the Munster final on August 5th. This match has aroused such tremendous interest that a new record attendance seems likely.

Raffle in Aid of Munster Council.—The raffle in aid of the Munster Council will take place on Sunday, August 5th. I would ask the secretaries of the different clubs to push the sale of the tickets and return blocks and cash to the Secretary, County Board, before August 1st.

(From Our Correspondent.)
That the Local Defence Force may soon be disbanded was stated by Superintendent Doyle, G.S., Tramore, during the hearing of a case at Kilmathomas Mooth District Court on Wednesday of this week, in which two young men—Messrs. John Kiely, Carrigcastle, Stradbally, and David Power, Brenan, Kilmathomas Co. The Solicitor for Defence (represented by Dr. D. R. Cummin, State Solicitor, Waterford), prosecuted at the suit of Supt. Doyle.

Both defendants admitted the offences, and after evidence for the prosecution had been given by C.Q.M.S. John Pennelly, D.A.O., Kilmathomas, the Justice dismissed the cases under the P.O.A.
