A very large crowd was present at the Gaelic Field, Lismore, on Sunday last to see Dungarvan defeat Cappoquin in the S.H. Championship by 6-2 to 1-7. The local club had the pitch in perfect order for the occasion and everything possible was done to ensure the maximum of comfort for spectators. The stewarding arrangements, too, left hothing to be desired, and all concerned are to be congratulated on the way in which the crowd of about 1,500 was kept under control throughout the game. Fast, clean hurling was witnessed in the first moiety, and Cappoquin had somewhat the bitter of exchanges to lead by 1 point at the interval. Cappo-

Cappoquin News. Distinguished Visitors.—At present holidaying in Cappoquin are two distinguished and welcome visitors from Swansea, South Wales—Mr. James Barron and his daughter, Mrs. M. Newport-Black (nee Miss Nora Barron). Mr. J. Barron, a native of Barron). Mr. J. Barron, a native of Cappoquin, is son of Mrs. and the late Mr. John Barron, and brother of Mr. Joseph Barron and Iwiss H. Barron, Cappoquin. Well known and popular in his native town, Mr. Barron's visit is certainly a pleasure to his numerous friends here, and all are charmed to find him in such perfect form also his daughter. Mrs. fect form, also his daughter, Mrs. Nugent-Black, who looks so charmingly well after her many years abroad in North Africa, France and the Middle East, when she held the rank of Communication Officer in the Nursing Service of the Army. Having been in this profession for some years previous to the war, she volunyears previous to the war, she volunteered at the outbreak for service abroad, which showed the great courage and inselfishess she possessed. Now that her duty in the Army has firished, she may feel well proud and happy that she contributed so much towards the relief of human suffering. Her husband, Captain M. Newport-Black, of the Cambrian Highlanders, who has also been in active service through the war, is n active service through the war, is at present in Germany with the Army of Occupation. Another member of the family who should interest many both in Dungarvan and Cappoquin is Mr. Hughie Barron, son of Mr. J. Barron. Hughie is well remembered in both these places, especially in Cappoquin, for although he received his addication in Dungarvan, all his free time and holidays were spent here. As an all-round sportsman, Hughie always shone, but was an outstanding footballer. Certainly his fine display on the football field will not easily be forgotten either in Cappoquin or Dungarvan, and his departure about six or seven years ago was greatly regretted. We now learn that he is in California as Flight Lieutenant in the Transport Command. Having being trained before the outbreak of war he was immediately sent into active service at its outbreak, and in May, 1340, when in comba? over the front line in their first advance into Luzenberg, he received serious head injuries in will act as referee. Objection Appeal.—I have hear, this wae, that Ring Club are appealing the decision of the Objection Committee in turning down the objections to Old Parish on the grounds that the envelope wis 10t trish waterm irked. Rile 8, Page 24. O. G. 1938. says that except he'envelope used when sent by registered post all others must be: Irish water marked. It is quite true that the review issue of 1243 does not fink it quite quar if it is neessary for an envelope to be interested and envelope to be tratermarked, and thus quite a new point is being relied for the County Board to decide 3 n. A Suggestion.—It has need suggested that I should allow at Shall space each week to the doing and happenings of each clib in the division. BIG MEETING AT FORMATION OF UNION BRANCH AT LISMORE. 11th, Mr. T. A. Kyne, Dungarvan, addressed a big meeting of the workers of Lismore in the Courthouse. Mr. Kyne dealt with the advantages of the Trade Union movement for workers. He stressed that while his Union did not want any difficulties with employers, they would go all out to see the men got fair wages and conditions. Mr. Kyne that there was not a single factory of any kind in the town to give employment. He felt the public representatives of the district could have done something about it. Forty-four members were enrolled and an acting Ormonde was appointed acting secretary. At the conclusion, Mr. Kyne thanked those present and told them

Success of former Mercy Convent Pupil.

Miss Ita Condon, B.Comm., H.Dip in Ed., Abbeyside, received her full primary and secondary education at the Convent of Mercy Schools. The excellent training she received there formed the foundation for her subseuent intellectual achievements at University College, Cork, where she secured honours in every examination; won a College scholarship for 1st place in the class, and obtained an Honours B.Comm degree. This year she secured the Higher Diploma in Education with 1st class honours

Apart from her studies this young lady was awarded a diploma, seven certificates and many prizes in Apolgetics, the silver medal for the best Memorial prize, and her stories and poetry were published in the College magazine. She has since been appointed senior teacher in Elmore Green High School, Walsall. Miss Condon is daughter of Mr. Lce. and Mrs. M. M. Condon, of Sexton Street, Abbeyisde. #### The O'Dea Millions.

The legal battle for the O'Dea millions has ended in the American Courts, and a satisfactory settlement has been reached on litigation that lasted for seven years. In 1938 there were approximately 400 claimants to the estate; when the big action entered on its closing stages only about 40 claimants were involved.

The estate has now been valued at 3,742,000 dollars, or approximately £1,000,000, and a certain amount of revenue has accrued to this during the war period. Of the last 40 claimants, at least 12 reside in Ireland, and these will benefit substan-

DUNGARVAN DEFEAT CAPPO-

I was an interested spectator at Lismore on Sunday last where I saw Dungarvan defeat Cappoquin in game that Cappoquin were as fit as the proverbial fiddle and they set a terrific pace for the first half which left the Blues standing and disorgan-ised. The 'Cornerstone' men had Cappoquin could not match the dazzling play and stick work which the Blues had in reserve. Cappoquin were certainly a great first-half team and it was grand to watch their delightful ball control and quick delivery but a one-point lead at half-time was in no way flattering against such an experienced team as Dunsuch an experienced team as Dungarvan. The game at times was up to the best county standard especially when Cappoquin were on top but when Dungarvan took the lead it was only a question of what they would win by and the closing minutes were devoid of thrills. The tainly gave a great all-round display and he was always dangerous when in possession. C. Moylan had a good game for Dungarvan at centre-field and a feature was his great goal from 40 yards out which was unstoppable. Pad Neville gave his best display to date and he was the soundest back on the Dungarvan Clare, in an effort to trace the relations of Mr. O'Dea.

SALUTE THE ARMY.

an expression of the deepest gratitude is due to the Defence Forces for their self-sacrificing work since 1940. To preserve national independance and maintain neutrality, it was necessary to have a strong, welltrained and well-equipped army in the country for the past five years made in 1940 the cream of Irish manhood, conscious of their mational voluntarily submitted themselves to the hardships and rigours of army life. The fact that our country has devastation of war is chiefly due to these men, and the nation is duly indebted to them. The L.D.F. a. Sa manfully played a noble part in the national effort. Thousands of our young men flocked to this branch of the Defence Forces, and in a short time the L.D.F. was a competent and well-trained part of the Forces. Membership of the Force entailed many sacrifices and imp.036d cheerfully accepted for a noble cause. and in the days to come the members of the L.D.F. can look back with pride to the time when they contributed to the preservation of the nation.
