Stradbally's Effort To Establish Record Fails.

Dungarvan Defeat The Champions.

GAME UNFINISHED.

Dungarvan, 1-3; Stradbally, 0-1. The new hand-picking rule literally pinned the Stradbally forwards to the ground in the county senior football final at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last, when Dungarvan had a well-earned win over Stradbally, the holders for the past five years. The Blues had undergone a very rigid course of training for the past two weeks and had little difficulty in withstanding a hard hour's football, while the late harvest season and bad weather up to quite recently gave the country team no chance to practice. Lack of practice matches, too, militated against the chances of the village side.

The Dungarvan midfield pair, Hoosey and Goode, gave a great display and held the balance in the Blues' favour all during the hour, their forwards moving and combining excellently against a brilliant Stradbally defence. W. Barron in his new position as left half back played his best game of the season, while P. Daly at centre half was a tower of strength. Daly has played against Stradbally in the '42, '43, '44 and '45 finals, being then a member of the Kilrossanty team. At full back Dec Goode was a master, and stood by far the best full back in the county.

The first half was evenly contested but all during the hour the standard of football was very mediocre. Stradbally's marksmen had an off day on Sunday when they missed two frees in the first half on the 21 yards mark and a golden opportunity for a goal that might have changed the whole run of play in the last quarter of the hour.

An "incident" occurred in the closing stages in which blows were exchanged, and as a result a Stradbally player was ordered off the field, and when he returned the referee declared the match finished, with Dungarvan leading by 1-3 to 0-1. It will be recalled that in 1933, when Dungarvan and Stradbally met, the match was unfinished, and in 1937, when the teams were again drawn, a cross arose when the official appointed referee did not turn up. Dungarvan being awarded the match, which Stradbally won on the field by 3-4 to 1-2. The teams were played on to the pitch by the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band. Mr. Jack Phelan, a former member of the Dungarvan team, here on holiday from the U.S.A., threw in the ball, and the game was refereed by Mr. J. Ahearn, Cappoquin Hurling Club.

THE GAME. Donnelly got possession for the Blues on the throw-in. A free to Stradbally went wide. A free to Dungarvan was taken by Curran for the latter to punch to the net for Dungarvan. Stradbally's marksmen were inclined to fumble and had three wides in succession. K. Phelan pointed from a 33 yards free to Stradbally. N. Connors, P. Kieley and the "Veale" brothers were prominent in the Blues' defence. J. Goode made a good opening for Jack who sent to Moylan but the latter missed narrowly. A 21 yards free at the other end was sent wide. The Dungarvan midfield pair, Hoosey and Goode, were keeping up the pressure on the Stradbally defence, who were standing up magnificently to a terrific barrage. A free from midfield by J. Goode was felled by Curran who sent over the bar. Short goal deliveries were wearing down the Stradbally defence, and in an old Bror's raid P. Butler added a point to leave the Blues in the lead.

Dungarvan, 1-2; Stradbally, 0-1. Stradbally were playing into the road goal in the second half and had the advantage of having a glaring sun at their back. Barron got away on the resumption, and a Red's infringement transferred play to the other end, where Curran was prominent. Two well-positioned frees to Stradbally were sent wide. Dec Goode was outstanding when Stradbally began to attack. Hoosey and Lamm had play transferred to the Stradbally end, where a great effort by Moylan was inches wide. A free to Veale (Stradbally) was well placed for Cummins to make a great breakthrough, but from point-blank range he missed the target, and so Stradbally's record-breaking effort went by the board. From this point the play began to get very rough and the standard of football deteriorated. Dungarvan kept up the pressure and from a free Hoosey added a point.

Following some rough exchanges at midfield, the incident already mentioned took place, thus ending the senior football championship of 1945 with Dungarvan the new county champions.

Death of Mr. Sean Crotty

After an illness of some six months Sean Crotty, son of Mrs. and the late Gerald Crotty, Abbeyside, passed to his eternal reward on Sunday evening last to the inexpressible grief of his mother, brothers and other relatives. Sean, whose 18th birthday was on Tuesday, the day he was buried, was ever bright and cheerful, and his death on the threshold of life is deeply deplored by all who knew him.

An immense cortege of mourners and friends were present at the removal of the remains to Abbeyside Church on Monday morning, every available seat in the church being occupied when Very Rev. Fr. Roche, P.P., assisted by Rev. M. Power, C.C., read the prayers for the dead.

On Tuesday morning Solemn Requiem Office was sung and holy Mass offered for the eternal welfare of his soul. The celebrant of the Mass was Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., Abbeyside; deacon, Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., Dungarvan; sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. Brennan, O.S.A. In the choir were—Rev. Fr. Roche, P.P., Abbeyside; Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C., Dungarvan; Rev. D. Power, C.C., do; Rev. Fr. Geary, R.S.A. Immediately afterwards the funeral took place to the family burial ground at Kilrossanty, where interment was made in the presence of a very large assembly of mourners and friends.

The chief mourners were—Mrs. K. Crotty (mother); Mrs. J. Crotty (brother); Mr. and Mrs. J. Crotty; Bohadon (uncle and aunt); John Flynn, Clonca (uncle); Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Sexton, Durrrow (aunts); Mrs. B. Flynn, Clonca (aunt); Mrs. J. Crotty, Leamybrien (aunt); Cousins—John, Gerald and Kevin Crotty, Leamybrien; Thomas, Macknow and John Cummins, Stradbally; Sean Crotty, Bohadon; Thomas, Patrick, John and Mary Flynn, Clonca; Thomas and Alice Walsh, The Burgin; M. Whelan, Tramore; Michael and Mrs. Connolly, Feddins; Thomas Power, Powers-town, Clonmel; Mrs. J. Kirby, Knockturney; John and Mrs. Hassett, Killooney; Michael Hassett, Coolnahorra; Alice Hassett, Glens-town; Mrs. Butler, Ashton; Mrs. M. O'Loughlin, Bonmahon.

Mass Cards—Mother, Thomas and Seamus, Uncle Jack and Auntie Mabel; Sean, Bohadon; the late Mrs. Crotty; the Flynn family, Clonca; Rev. Mother and Community, Convent of Mercy, Carrick-on-Suir; Miss Nell Connolly, Feddins; Supt. and Mrs. O'Mahony, aunts in Durrrow, Mr. and Mrs. Gurnly, Augustine Aherne, Touraneau, Byrne and John, Abbeyside; the Daily Mail, New Line; B. and K. Mulcahy, the Elsted family, Ballinacourty; John and Patrick Humber, Catherine Murphy, New Lane; Dalton family; Thomas and Alice Walsh, Paddy and Alice O'Connor, Mrs. O'Connor and family; Clonca; Nick and Mary Shanahan, Queally's; Colagh; Thos. and Matthew Cummins, Bridg Conolly, Cissie, Mickie and Annie, Clonca; Mrs. Mary's Villa, Tramore; Uncle William, Julia and John, Cullinane family, Burgery; Hassett family, Ash-ton; Ellen Piggott, Waterford; Leahy family, Abbeyside; John Joe and Nan, Newtown; Mary Walsh.

Telegrams—Thomas Flynn, Munster and Leitner Bank, Castlebar; Jim and Elsie Doyle, Shillagh; Ely O'Loughlin, Bonmahon; Bridie Flynn, Bonmahon.

Letters—Mother Alphonsus, Mercy Convent, Carrick-on-Suir (aunt); Rev. Mother Peter, do.; Rev. Mother Josephine, do.; Rev. Mother Paul, do.; Sister M. Michael, Convent of Mercy, County Hospital, Wexford; Sister M. Josephine, Mercy Convent, Ennis; Mrs. Free State, who sent their country rapidly becoming an American Dominion.

Mr. Ivor Thomas—I could not agree. We have had recently very friendly conversations with Mr. Lemass.

GAEILTACHT SCHOLARSHIP. We congratulate Master Thomas Spratt, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, a pupil of the Dungarvan C.B.S., on securing a Gaeltacht scholarship as a result of the Primary Certificate examination—entitling the winner to one month's free tuition in the Gaeltacht.

Death of Miss A. Dunne, DEVONSHIRE ARMS HOTEL.

With deep regret we record the death of the above highly-esteemed lady, which took place on Tuesday night, 9th October, after a somewhat protracted illness. A kindly charitable lady, she was a most devout Catholic, and her generosity to the poor and needy, who will now sadly miss her, was immense, though unostentatious. The deepest sympathy of the populace was extended to her bereaved brothers and other relatives in their great loss. A very large and representative concourse of mourners and friends attended at the removal of the remains to the Parish Church on Wednesday evening, when, on arrival at the church, the coffin was received and blessed by the Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., assisted by the Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C. On Thursday Requiem Masses for the eternal welfare of her soul having been offered, interment was made in the family plot adjoining the church in the presence of another large and representative cortege of mourners and friends. Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., assisted by the Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were—James and Patrick Dunne (brothers); Mrs. E. Maher, Mrs. A. Terry, Mrs. Patrick Dunne (sisters-in-law); Mrs. W. Kelly, St. Thomas's Terrace; Michl. Whelan, Carlrow; Martin Whelan, Tramore; James Whelan, Mountrane; William and Nicholas, Michael, Liam, Joe and Vincent Kelly; Mrs. Pat. Morrissey (aunt).

Mass cards were received from—Mrs. and Mrs. J. Crotty, Stradbally; the Kelly family, St. Thomas's Terrace; Martin Whelan and family; Frances, Michael, Whelan and family; Carlrow; James Whelan, Mountrane; Nicholas Kelly, St. Thomas's Terrace; Michael and Alice Kelly and family, St. Patrick's Terrace; Mrs. M. Morrissey, O'Connell Street; Margaret Murphy, Mount Odell; Bridie Crowley, Hotel; Lillie Lennon, Hotel; Mary O'Connor, Hotel; Margaret O'Sullivan, Hotel; Mary Power, Hotel; Mrs. Sarah Murphy and family, O'Connell Street; Mary Ormond, Mitchell Street; Nurse Mary Linnan, Phil Jordan, Hotel; Sam Power, The Spring; James and Mrs. Power, Mitchell Street; Nellie Power and family, St. Patrick's Terrace; Bridie and Jerry, Moloney, John and Carrie, Sean, do.; O'Connell Street; Angela Lannon, Sisters of Mercy, Dungarvan; Paddy and Annie Morrissey, Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey, soles, applied on behalf of Mr. E. Fleming, Grattan Square, for a transfer of the premises at Devitt's Quay to his premises at Grattan Square.

The applicant said he was the holder of a six-day licence at Grattan Square for a number of years. He was also the holder of a seven-day licence in respect of premises at Devitt's Quay. He wished to have the seven-day licence transferred to the premises at Grattan Square and was willing to have the six-day licence forfeited.

There being no objection to the transfer by the Garda authorities, the application was granted.

Breach of Licensing Act.—A local publican was charged with a breach of the Licensing Act at 9.50 p.m. on Sunday, September 9th.

Mr. J. C. Williams (J.P., Williams and Son, Soles), who represented the defendant and a number of men found on the premises said he was pleading guilty to the offence. The offence occurred on the evening of the Patron Day of Abbeyside, for which there was an early exemption order in Abbeyside on that day, and some of the defendants were at the Patron and some others had been at a hurling match in Cappoquin. All the men had been perfectly sober and there had been no unpleasantness of any kind.

Supt. O'Mahony said that the sergeant had been passing and found the men on the premises.

A penalty of £3 was imposed on the publican and 2/6 on the 11 found on the premises.

Dungarvan District Court.

At the Dungarvan District Court on last Tuesday, before Mr. Ryan, Acting J.P., Mr. J. O'Donovan, Fermoyle, Mitchelstown, with an 24th September at Loughkent, New Inn, County Tipperary, unlawfully and maliciously wounding Margaret Carey, same place, with intent to do her grievous bodily harm, was brought on for trial.

The accused, who appeared in custody, was not professionally represented.

In a deposition Supt. MacNamara said he was still making inquiries into the case and asked for a remand to Cashel District Court on 17th inst. when he would be in a position to produce evidence.

The application was granted, and the accused was remanded to Cashel District Court.

Dungarvan-Born Pastor

APPOINTED DOMESTIC PRELATE TO THE HOLY SEE.

American exchanges to hand convey the pleasing tidings that the investiture of the Right Rev. Monsignor John M. Kieley, P.P., Albert Lea, Minnesota, as Domestic Prelate to the Holy See, was performed by His Excellency Most Rev. Leo Binz, S.T.D., Coadjutor Bishop of Winona and Apostolic Administrator, on Thursday, September 27th last, in the beautiful Church of St. Theodore at Albert Lea.

The Solemn High Mass on the occasion was celebrated by Monsignor Kieley; deacon, Rev. Bernard P. Mangan, sub-deacon, Rev. John P. Daly, master of ceremonies, Rev. W. D. Sullivan.

The large attendance of the clergy assisting in the choir was representative of every parish in the Diocese of Winona. A special sermon was preached by the Right Rev. Louis D. O'Day, V.F.

Monsignor Kieley is son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Kieley (licensed vintner and general provision merchant), Shandon Street, Dungarvan. Educated at the Christian Brothers' School in his natal Old Born, he was an exceptionally brilliant pupil, and had an equally distinguished career at Mount Melkerly (Cappoquin) and Louvain (Belgium). On the completion of his ecclesiastical studies he received his ordination, being then only in his 23rd year, and offered up his first Mass at the Ursuline Convent, Forest Gate, London, where his sister, Mother M. Ursula (R.I.P.) was then a member.

Monsignor Kieley is certainly doing the work of an apostle in that field afar. He is also a very distinguished preacher and conversationalist, and preaches a facile pen. Right rightly does he deserve the esteem and affection of his parishioners, for never could Pastor sacrifice himself more for his charge, and he never misses an opportunity to testify his great love for the land of his birth.

We take this opportunity to offer Monsignor Kieley our felicitations on the ecclesiastical honour graciously bestowed upon him by the Pope in recognition of his sterling worth.

Incidentally, the Monsignor is brother of Mrs. Thomas O'Mahony, N.T., Abbeyside; Mrs. Patrick Daly, N.T., Ballyduff; Mrs. Mary Tobin, licensed vintner and provision merchant, do; Mrs. Madge O'Hanrahan, Docks' Post Office, Limerick; Mr. James Kieley, undertaker and coachbuilder, Dungarvan, and Mr. Edmond Kieley, storekeeper, County Home, do.

Late Mrs. J. Power, Carrigenageragh, Kilrossanty.

It is with deep regret we announce the death of Mrs. John Power, Carrigenageragh, Kilrossanty, which sad event took place on last Sunday night, October 1th.

The deceased (daughter of the late Patrick and Mrs. Dunford, Pike, Dungarvan) had not been in the best of health for some time past. She was a devout Irish and Catholic mother and has brought up an exemplary family, who, with her devoted husband, Mr. John Power, and relatives, mourn her untimely passing—R.I.P.

The removal of the remains took place to Ballinacourty Church on Monday evening and there was a very large and representative cortege of mourners, sympathisers, friends and the general public present. Very Rev. Fr. Roche, P.P., Abbeyside, received the remains at the Church gate and recited the prayers for the dead. Following Requiem Masses by Very Rev. Fr. Hackett, P.P., Kilrossanty, and Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C., an interment was made in the adjoining cemetery at which there was another large gathering present.

The chief mourners were: John Power (husband); Michael and Patricia (sons); Kitty and Maureen (daughters); Nora, Kate, Nellie, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Dunford (sisters); Ml. Dunford, U.S.A., and Patrick Dun-

"VERY FRIENDLY."

COMMONS REFERENCE TO LEMASS VISIT.

In the House of Commons, London, Mr. Lennox Boyd (Con. Mid-Bedford), stated that "confidence is not shared by our friends in the Irish Republic, Deputy D. Heakin, Senator Sean Goulding, Lizzy Quailly, Stradbally; M'ghreath, Clonmel, Dublin; Nellie Power, Glasgow; Chapman, Waterford.

Letters of sympathy were received from Sister M. Teresa, Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan; Mr. Leo, Manager Munster and Leitner Bank, Dungarvan.

Deaths of Mrs. M. Trilby, Clashmore.

The death occurred this week, at her daughter's residence in Youghal, of Mrs. M. Trilby, of Coolbagh, Clashmore. A member of a well-known and popular family, deceased was a general favourite, and her demise, at an advanced age and following a long illness, has caused much regret. To her bereaved daughter, son and other relatives deep and widespread sympathy is extended. R.I.P.

WEST DIVISION G.A.A. NOTES (By "AN RUNAIDHE"). Fixture at Lismore Cancelled.—The junior football fixture between Blackwater Rovers and Tallow, at Lismore, is cancelled. Tallow Football Club have decided that they cannot fulfil the football engagement in view of the six month term of suspension imposed on the Tallow Hurling Club being confirmed by the County Board Chairman in a ruling given at the special County Board meeting held in Dungarvan on last Wednesday night. The match will not take place under the circumstances. Tallow Juniors' Harriers Gone.—The junior divisional final will not take place unless Tallow Hurling Club appeal against the County Board Chairman's ruling. An effort was made to have Tallow hurlers reorganised in like manner to Clonca last year, but the County Board Chairman refused to accept this proposal. So unless an appeal is lodged, the Brickey Rangers are divisional champions. Pending an appeal, the Chairman refused to accept this proposal. RECENT AUCTIONS. Last week, Messrs. John Condon and Son put up for sale at the Auction Mart, Youghal, the fee simple interest in 14 acres of land, without buildings situate at Inchiquin, between Killybeg and Youghal. Much interest was manifested and there was brisk bidding between six competitors, the property being knocked down to Mr. Edmond Foley of Knockmonlea, at the sum of £235. On Thursday, Messrs. Condon offered for sale on the lands at Ballynane, farm of 54a. 1r. 13p., Old Parish, near Dungarvan, for Mr. Martin Hurley, annuity, £10 11s. 10d., P.L.V., £41. After brisk competition this lot was sold to Mr. John Tobin of Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son, Solicitors, Dungarvan, in trust, for the sum of £1,250. On Friday the same auctioneers offered for sale on the lands at Tallow Bridge a small farm of 23a acres with attached house for Mr. Michael Quinlan, annuity, £10 13/10, P.L.V., £17. There was a large attendance at this auction and bidding opened at £100 and after a very brisk contest the holding was knocked down to Mr. E. Carroll, Solicitor, Fermoy, in trust, for the sum of £535. Messrs. J. Hodnett and Son, Solicitors, Youghal, had carriage of sale for vendor.

LISTEN TO THIS (By "Q.")

When returning from the football match at Shandon Field last Sunday, a couple of youngsters on the road shouted "Who won the match?" "Dungarvan," "Och!" was the comment in tones of disappointment and surprise, for the little shavers were boosters for Stradbally. "But" we shouted back, "the game ended in a fight." "And who won the fight?" they asked. "Stradbally," "Hurrah!" and they were still cheering and waving their arms as they faded from view. If Stradbally lost the game, they won (?) the fight, and that was a feather in their cap. That was the way the little lads looked at it, judging from their joy. Anyway the "fight"—at least the climax of the fracas—was just a "flash in the pan." A Stradbally player's right shot out and connected with the jaw of his blue-jersey opponent. Instantly he dropped. The red scored a knockdown. On both sides the hot blood of youth was tingling. This applied especially to the Stradbally stalwarts, for the score the Dungarvan were rolling up made the redmen's hold on the championship a bit shaky. But the tap on the jaw was a good one for it sent the game young Dungarvanian hors de combat to the greensward; only for a second, for he was on the job again in a jiffy, and none the worse for the wear. Excitement ran high and when the crowd rushed in, it spilled first into the football match. There was a big gathering, for the reputation of both teams seemed to guarantee that football fare of the first order would be dished out. That's the reason everyone was trying to peer through the heavy mist Sunday morning, hoping the sun would shine. It did, just in time, notably did it dispel the foggy dew and kiss—the cold, cruel mist into dancing showers of diamond dew," as the song of the day says, but, by the time the players entered the arena, everything had been dried and freshened up. Indeed nature had dressed the stage with its most attractive gala late summer scenery and all settled down to see this "classic" for county championship laurels. It didn't all come up to expectations, however, nor did it tally with the line day or the spectacle in general. The game was of anything but championship class. And the reason? Solely because of the players' lack of practice. I was sitting beside Ned Morrissey, there isn't a twist or turn in Gaelic football that he doesn't know—and Ned was a rattling good player in his day. "Wasn't long after the ball had been kicked that he sensed what was coming—that Stradbally was playing a losing game, especially after the scoring rush of Dungarvan. Ned tried to console himself with the comment that, sometimes, such a sudden score was set to be chalked up against the best of teams, but he broke down as he saw the ball booted toward by a Stradbally kicker, and there was discouragement and a world of meaning in the way Ned said that word "But." Then came another high kick. "Look at them rizers!" he cried. "If they keep the ball down as aimed at the goal instead of the sun, they'll be gettin' somewhere—maybe 'is goals and points they'll have by now." Ned was disgusted but not enough to prevent him shouting now and then a word of encouragement to a friend. Sometimes, when a true sportsman, even though the player was on the opposing side, he'd shout a word of appreciation, and he would be right. His comments were certainly refreshing and enlightening. "Was 'good boy, Percy' keep it up, Andy" or "good man, God; you were always a good man!" etc. The playwright, Bernard Shaw, received some magazines from a friend. When he opened the package he found that all the advertisements had been cut out and only the bare reading matter, or literature left. The friend thought that this would save Shaw a lot of trouble, that he didn't want to see the ads. Shaw thanked his friend but said that he cut out, he'd have enjoyed more than what he left in. This may be looked at in the light of an analogy to Shandon Field last Sunday. The advertisements, viz. the outing in general, the weather, the scene, the music, the colourful crowd, everything, seemed to be enjoyed more than the "literature," or the game.

ANGLO-IRISH TRADE

TIME FOR FULL-SCALE TALKS NOT RIPE. A short general review of Anglo-Irish trade took place on Friday night, October 6th, Mr. M. O'Donoghue, Chairman, presided and there was a good representation present. The Secretary reported on the matter of the Dungarvan v. Tallow S.H. match at Lismore and gave a full explanation of what led to the abandonment of the championship fixture and the playing of a challenge match. W. Henley said he was representing Tallow and was prepared to make a statement on the matter and stand over it and he took all the responsibility for what happened. Thomas Osborne Davis

HONOURED IN NEW YORK. Three programmes honoured the memory of Thomas Osborne Davis, Irish poet-patriot, on the centenary of his death. At Hotel Empire, New York City, the Irish Cultural Forum honoured Davis in a programme featuring the choral speaking, reading and singing of his work. Also brief tributes in song, verse, and prose were offered by Seamus O'Doherty, Irish tenor; John B. Byrne of D. Hill, bard of the Columbia University Irish Society; William W. Williams, a Welsh scholar, and Prof. Collins Healy, past teacher of Irish culture and drama at Columbia, Fordham and New York Universities, on Saturday evening, September 15th. The audience was largely university graduates. The second programme was given over WYNC, New York's City Radio station, on Sunday evening, Sept. 16th, at 6.30 p.m. with Josephine Patricia Smith, harpist; Seamus O'Doherty, tenor; and Prof. Collins Healy as director and speaker. Among the airs heard on that programme were "A Nation Once Again," "Cuckoo's Call," "Eibhlinn Arson," "Jimmy Mc Mahon A Star," "The Fairy Tree," "The Coulin," with special arrangements by Miss Smith. The third of the events was a Clann na nGael meeting at which resolutions were presented by J. J. Sheahan (Chairman of the St. Patrick's Day Parade); Davis poems were recited by Mrs. John Jerome Rooney, diocesan; eulogy in honour of Davis by James McGurragh, president of the American Irish Historical Society; a poem in honour of Davis by A. M. Sullivan, and songs by Walter Kennedy, at Hotel Astor, Sunday evening, September 16th.

Gaelic Notes: Senior Clubs

(By "TAOBHLAINE.") I wish to extend congratulations to the Dungarvan senior football team who, ably captained by P. Stack, once more have brought the championship back to the Boro. Sunday's final may have been a disappointment to a large attendance but nevertheless some sparkling play was witnessed in the opening stages. From the start it was evident Dungarvan were all out and as the game advanced the Blues maintained their superiority, being faster to the ball with first time methods. Really it was a pity the way the game finished, up but the referee who is to be complimented on his handling of the game had no alternative but to award the match to Dungarvan. The uncalculated attack by a prominent Stradbally player on one of the Dungarvan stars was the cause of the incidents which led to the final being unfinished but I understand the County Board will deal with the matter at their next meeting. I was not at all pleased with the Dungarvan forwards on Sunday last; they allowed some golden opportunities flitter away particularly at the start and toward the end and were they a bit steeper they would have won by a bigger margin. Jackie Good and Willie Hoosey dominated at centre-field and they continuously fed the forwards who did not take the passes as they should have done. Ter. Donnelly, Jim Mountain, Paddy Daly, E. O'Brien were a good tough back quartet and the palm goes to Willie Barron who played the best game of his career. Ter. Donnelly, Jim Mountain, Paddy Daly, E.
