CO. BOARD RULES IN FAVOUR OF BRICKEYS

Dungarvan Lose Objection.

"Travesty of Justice."

A three-point objection by Dungarvan to the Brickeys Rangers being awarded the S.H. semi-final played at Lismore on September 29th was heard by the Waterford County Board (Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue, chairman, presiding, at a special meeting at Dungarvan on Tuesday night.

Following a long discussion, the objection was declared lost, and the Brickeys Rangers will, therefore, contest the senior hurling final with Erin's Own, the Board fixing the match for Waterford on October 20th at 3 o'clock.

The three-point objection put forward by Dungarvan was: (1) That Bernard Moloney, who took part in the game as a member of the Brickeys Rangers Club, was illegal as he was not registered with that club, contrary to Rule 14, P. 49, O.G. and bye-law No. 23, of the Waterford Co. Board bye-laws of 1934; that the same player, as a member of the Brickeys Rangers Club, was illegal, contrary to Rules 17 and 18, P. 49, O.G.; (2) That B. Moloney, as a member of the Brickeys Rangers Club, was illegal, contrary to Rule 20, P. 51, O.G.

Following the reading of the objection, the Chairman asked the Brickeys Rangers Club delegates what they had to say.

Mr. S. Curran—We got no copy of the objection.

The Secretary (Mr. D. Goode) then made the following statement—Ned Power and Martin Curran, Brickeys Rangers, came to my house on Sunday night, October 6th, at 7.45, and further to a conversation I gave to M. Curran a copy of Dungarvan's objection lodged that day against the awarding of the S.H. Championship match to Brickeys Rangers. He read the objection but refused to accept the copy and informed me it would be no use sending a copy to his Secretary, J. McGrath, who would be going away until Saturday night. He said they were not going to defend the club in the objection, and furthermore any of their players required for the League match on the 13th would not be available.

A copy of the objection was then handed to the Brickeys Rangers delegates.

FIRST POINT IN OBJECTION.

The first point in the objection was then taken.

Mr. P. Lannon (Dungarvan Club) said he went to the Secretary's house on September 21st regarding the player in question and asked if he was registered with the Brickeys Rangers Club and he was told that this player was not on the register that day.

Mr. J. Griffin (Brickeys)—Did you ask for a copy of the register?

Mr. J. O'Dea (Dungarvan Club)—We did not need a copy of the register.

Mr. J. Griffin—Why not?

Mr. O'Dea—Paul Lannon went to the County Secretary's house on the 21st and he told him that B. Moloney was not on it.

Mr. Griffin—That's no proof at all. You should have a copy of the register.

Mr. P. Lannon—The Secretary's word is as good as the register.

Mr. Griffin—Words are not good enough at all.

Replying to the Chairman, Mr. Lannon said he did not ask to see the register, but the Secretary's word that B. Moloney's name was not on it.

The Secretary said that Paul Lannon came to his house on that Saturday and asked him if B. Moloney was on the Brickeys Rangers register. He (Secretary) told him he wasn't registered on that Saturday night. Paul Lannon made the inquiries?

Secretary—I would say he was registered that Sunday morning, but he definitely was not registered on Saturday.

Mr. Griffin said that he went to the Secretary's house on Friday and asked a lady he met there if he could see the Brickeys Rangers register, but she told him she had nothing to do with the B.A.A. correspondence.

He called again on Saturday evening to look at the register and brought it back on Sunday morning.

Chairman—The Dungarvan Club was entitled to make inquiries about the register.

Mr. Griffin—But why didn't they take a copy of the register?

Chairman—It's not necessary. The Secretary is there to give any information like that. They need not necessarily take a copy of the register.

Mr. Griffin—They have not yet proved that he was not on the register.

Chairman (to Secretary)—Did you consult the register on that Saturday?

Secretary—I didn't have to look at it. I knew he wasn't registered on that Saturday.

Mr. Griffin—That's a hard thing to remember—all the names that are on a register.

The Chairman recalled the objection made by Newtown to the Brickeys Rangers after the J.F. final last year, pointing out that the objection was on the same grounds—that a Brickeys Rangers player were registered six or seven days before the match instead of twelve.

QUESTION OF TRANSFER.

Explaining the second point of the objection, Mr. O'Dea said that Bernard Moloney had been transferred to Wicklow. They had asked for information on 10/10/46 regarding (1) date on which he was registered member of the Brickeys Club; (2) particulars of his transfer from Waterford to Wicklow, and the date, if any, when he was transferred back to Waterford; and (3) copy of letter sent to B. Moloney and reply to being asked to declare for Waterford in the 1946 championships.

Chairman—What is the allegation in point 2?

Mr. O'Dea—It is contrary to Rules 17 and 18.

(Mr. O'Dea here quoted the rules.)

Mr. O'Connor (County Board) asked if they were entitled to ask for information as to when the player was transferred to Wicklow and when he left.

Chairman—You are. The objection is to produce that information.

Mr. O'Dea—Are we not entitled to get it?

Chairman—You are, but have you it available?

Mr. O'Dea—We have asked for it to-night.

Chairman—To be candid with you, I don't see any point in this at all.

Mr. M. Cullen (Erin's Own)—I appeal to Dungarvan to withdraw the objection because Brickeys Rangers are the better team. It's only making a farce of the G.A. and the championships. The Brickeys Rangers have beaten Dungarvan twice.

Chairman—We must go through the objection properly. I see nothing in point 2.

Mr. O'Dea asked if they could get information about the transfer of B. Moloney. The Chairman had said they were entitled to get it and they were waiting for it now from the Secretary.

Mr. Cullen—Dungarvan are throwing the onus on the County Secretary.

County Secretary—Not on me. The Chairman is the man here and if he wants the information I will get it.

Chairman—They are entitled to get it if you have it.

PARTICULARS OF TRANSFER.

The Secretary then gave the required information and produced the records of the transfer granted by the Waterford County Board on March 14th, 1944, and the sanction of the Central Council on 8th April, 1944.

Mr. O'Dea—He was transferred from Waterford, but was not transferred back to Waterford. That settles point 1.

Mr. Griffin—It's up to Dungarvan to prove that he played with Wicklow or not.

Chairman—A transfer does not become effective until the player takes part in the championships to which he is transferred. A transfer is only permission to play with a new club and a player can exercise that or not.

The third point of the objection was then taken up (Rule 20, page 51). It being stated that as the player in question did not make a declaration of residence where he was employed he would not play with the Brickeys Club.

Mr. Cullen said that this man was not employed; he was a student at Avonbeg Training College.

Mr. O'Dea—He is employed there.

Mr. Griffin—What is his occupation, 86? He is in a training college.

Chairman—There is no allegation that he was in a training college. It is only a question of where he was employed that this player took part in any game.

Mr. O'Dea—These 86, but we cannot prove it with such a nature.

The Chairman said that the Board was only concerned with evidence regarding the objection.

Mr. O'Dea again returned to the first point in the objection pointing out that the Board was stated that a player must be registered 12 days before a match.

Chairman—I wish to point out that the Board only checks as to the evidence put before it, and on nothing else. There is no evidence to show that this man played outside this county. If he has, it has not been stated.

SHAW DESMOND INTERVIEWED

(SPECIAL TO "OBSERVER.")

Dungarvan-born Shaw Desmond, novelist, lecturer and dramatist, who has been holidaying in his native town for the past month, has returned to his home in England. During his stay here he has been renewing old friendships and visiting the haunts of his boyhood days. Prior to his departure, Mr. Desmond gave an interview to a representative of this paper.

Mr. Desmond began by saying that this was the first visit he had made to Ireland without experiencing a heart-pang at the end of it, except the pang of leaving his native Dungarvan, which for him was always "the home of dreams and a spiritual bath."

"GREAT IMPROVEMENTS."

"Great improvements," said Mr. Desmond, "have taken place since I was here eight years ago. The men and women are better dressed than their opposite numbers on the other side of the Irish Sea, the cleanliness and neatness of the girls in particular being a delight for a war-torn Irishman who has been under German bombing for six years. Dungarvan, in the view of one who has lived in many wonderful countries, is not only the loveliest spot in Ireland but, also, anywhere. It has an atmosphere—what the Germans call stimmung—peculiarly its own, and if the English tourist ever discovers it, the problem will be to find hotel accommodation. The people are ever gentle to the stranger within the gate and are always anxious to make him or her happy."

Mr. Desmond then went on to refer to his old school, the Christian Brothers, who, he said, were doing excellent educational work in the schools provided, but as it was to them the prime education of the day of the nation was entrusted and would be entrusted, he was sincerely hoping that a still more modern and improved system of education might be available.

Going on to express his views on education in general, with particular emphasis on the teaching of Irish, Mr. Desmond said: "As a loyal believer in the Irish language, I would still suggest that somewhat less time is given to Irish in the schools and much more time outside the schools. That no child should open a grammar or text-book in Irish until she or he can speak the language fluently, learning as the child learns from the mother. This is the system universally followed now on the Continent. Next, it is as easy to teach a young child three languages as to teach one, and I would suggest that some of the side languages to be taught should be English, Spanish and German. The importance should be given in the Irish schools the study of world problems which may have a distinct bearing upon Ireland (I say Ireland rather than Eire as I want to see Ireland united, and I am quite sure that this will enable us to own our life-time).

LOCAL PROBLEMS.

Dealing with local problems, Mr. Desmond said he was deeply concerned to see that the Vicarage meadow wall and St. Peter's head wall had no, been repaired, as he suggested in the "Observer" eight years ago, when he said that what would cost £50 then might cost £2,000 in ten years' time. It is a dreadful scandal, he continued, that even the Abbeyside cemetery is now threatened. For that, and for many others, the Abbeyside Cemetery is being around the town. I have down 100 of the preparation for my own back and over in Ireland. The sacrifice of the destruction of the old Dungarvan is still ranking in one heart at least."

LOCAL MUSICIANS LAUDED.

The musical ability of the people of Dungarvan was singled out for special praise by Mr. Desmond. Here is what he says: "It was delightful for me to listen to the excellence of the Dungarvan Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. O'Hara, daughter of my old friend the late Edmund Keohan, and the boys which once had the best silver band in Ireland. When I was a child here, has reason to be proud of its orchestra, its singers and its actresses."

On the subject of agriculture, which he said he always maintained to Arthur Griffith in the old days was the focus of Ireland—Mr. Desmond expressed some very interesting views. He said that as the result of visits to various farms and conversations with them around Dungarvan, he felt that there was much to be done in improving agriculture in this country. "Briefly," he said, "the young farmers should be educated in elementary soil-chemistry and bacteriology, and in afforestation, which could bring much into the Irish Exchequer." Mr. Desmond then went on to talk on farming in Denmark and urged that the best employed there should be adopted in Ireland. "Every cow in this country," he said, "should have a chart over its head in the stall, showing what went into the cow and what came out. The manure could run down outside to a central trough and then into the manure pit. Cattle should be bred for meat and milk and the breeds rigidly segregated."

Mr. Desmond was not very enthusiastic about the cattle he saw around here. "The cattle," he said, "which I saw at Dungarvan fair were of all breeds and were often very old and in poor condition. In my talks with the older farmers around here I discovered their leading motive to be—'What is good enough for my father is good enough for me!' In the young farmer the hope of not only the future of Dungarvan, but the future of Ireland."

DUNGARVAN DISCUSSION SOCIETY.

Concluding, Mr. Desmond said that he had started the Dungarvan Discussion Society, which was for its object, the discussion of world problems which will ultimately have a bearing upon Ireland.

West Waterford News.

Following practically two months tedious labour harvesting operations have been completed in this area. Considering the very bad conditions losses are small—probably less than 10 per cent.

The assistance given by the townspeople and the voluntary workers in general was considerable and is much appreciated. It augurs well for future relations between the rural and urban residents and is a good sign of the times.

Threshing operations have commenced and the yield is stated to be very satisfactory. The potato crop—one of the best in recent years—is now being lifted.

A number of local young girls in employment across Channel are now on holidays in their native Clashmore.

This is a day of remembrance. Sad and bitter to recall. When the one we loved was taken. By a short, bright, shining day. And lonely do we wander. To your grave not far away. We will be with you in our hearts. Just one year ago to-day.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by her husband, sons and daughters.

Carroll—As may be seen from our advertising columns, a monster carnival in aid of Christian Brothers' School Renovation Fund will commence to-night and continue till Sunday week, the 20th. Nothing has ever been done by a committee to make the Carnival a success. In addition to the amusements of the fair, there will be a display of aeroplanes, aerobics, etc. There will be dancing sessions and concerts nightly.

The Larkspur Cup. It is hoped to arrange a match between Fermoy (Cork County Champions) and Bricey Rangers for the Larkspur Cup in aid of the Clashmore Parochial Renovation Fund. This game should attract a record crowd to the popular Clashmore venue.
