Sliabh gCua Jottings.

Scrap the Old Calendar.—SUabh gCua was very much alive on Tues-day night at 12 o'clock. Happy faces saw Touraneena fife and drum band parade through the village ringing out the old and ringing in the new.

1946 had come to an end, a year of peace. In contrast with its immediate predecessor years of war and december, at the age of 76 years.

points of view. The space building was filled to capacity, and under the glare of the electric light local artists and artists from the adoining parishes produced on the stage a drama and variety pro-gramme which left little to be desired. Mrs. Hallahan's Dance Troupe and young violinists gave as usual a very creditable display, which was much appreciated by the audience. The dramatic side of the programme, which consisted of two one-act sketches, "An Uacht" and "The Counter Charm," produced by Buidhean Dramaiocta, Sliable gCua charmed the audience and all the oung actors-and for some it was their maiden voyage on the set of drama-are to be complimented on their performance. We think it should now encourage others in Sliabh gCua who have not yet given their services to the parochial move-of our popular young men left the parish to spend their holidays in Dublin. They are 7 adrais Millea and Paddy Hallahan. So let us laope they will enjoy themselves and be much the better of their stay in the Death of Mrs. Norah Hickey,

The deceased, of a quiet and retiring disposition, was held in the highest regard by all who knew her, and here the angle of peace has not yet made his appearance. But 1944, while possessing aspects the absence of which would have been welcomed by a war-weary world, has, all told, made life a good deal happier flow everybody. To conclude, we wish a happy and prosperous New Year to each and everyone in Silabh gcus.

Stradbally crossroads was the meeting place of the above on Monday, 23rd ult., when a fair-sized crowd turned out. Hounds soon found in the gorse covert nearby, the fox going away at the top end led hounds at a good pace to the cliffs at Ballyvooney, where they we re stopped. Another fox, found in Carrigarea, took an almost straight line to ground at Kilminion. This was a very fast 20 minutes with hounds outpacing the horses all the way. The best hunt of the day was had from Glen Bog. Drawing Gown towards the road a couple of hounds had a line back for Drumlohan and soon the whole pack were screaming.

Nearly 80 years after Canada's Confederation as a Dominion, Canadians for the first time became legally fully-fiedged "Canadian citizens," and not merely British subjects.

The Dominion's 12,000,000 people will retain their status as British subjects, but will now also be able to carry passports designating them as Canadian citizens. This will be done under the terms of Canada's new Citizenship Act, which comes into effect with the New Year.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.

On the 6th inst. there will be staged at the Regal Cinema Hall, Tallow, a dramatic entertainment of a high order, featuring two well known comedies, together with musical and concert items contributed by local and other well known artists.
