Senator Butler said that before Mr. Morrissey's amendment be put as a motion, he should draw attention to the fact that the Government had no intention of paying for it, only Kilmacshomus. He proposed that the Council give a grant of £5,000 to the Committee to build a school at Kilmacshomus, provided the Minister for Education gave 54 per cent of the cost.

The Chairman accepted the resolution and a vote resulted: For—Messrs. Butler, O'Connell, McGarvey, Morrissey, M. Walsh, Against—Messrs. Butler, F. FATEFUL SUNDAY FOR POLAND Irish Reporter Flies to Cover Elections

THE peace of Europe may well depend on the result of the fateful Polish elections to be held this week-end. They follow the holding of the Katowice trial at which four men, said to be the high command of "W.I.N.", anti-Government secret organisation, were sentenced to death. While the treason trial brought forth the allegation that the British Ambassador was involved in the "Incidents" Europe's diplomatic offices were excited by an announcement that the United States had delivered a Note to Poland alleging foul play in the election preparations.

This was followed by the Polish Premier's statement that the Government was doing everything possible to stamp out terrorism and insure peaceful elections. So Europe waits till his news trickles through. Following its policy of getting the Irish Press-8E news right from its source THE IRISH PRESS has sent by plane to Warsaw Alan Bestic, its staff reporter, whose recent articles straight from Europe were so widely read. Bestic's despatches will come from the troubled Polish capital direct to Dublin.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Gallium—and you'll have to get it in the morning!—it's not a good idea to have a liver that's not working properly. It's the liver that should pour out its bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just sits in the bowels. Can't sleep? Can't eat? You get constipated. You feel bloated and you feel your stomach, and the world looks pink.

Ballyduff, Knockanore and Moorehill News

G.A.A. Down Ballyduff was much activity is noticeable in Gaelic circles and the hon. secretary and club officials are busy putting everything in readiness for the forthcoming championship season 1946 certainly proved a very disappointing year for the wearers of the red and white, as its hurling team, after beating all comers in the West and looking all set for county honours, were, following an objection, beaten in the Western final replay by a small margin. But the motto of the Blackwater village Gaelic is 'never say die' and this year, led by that sterling sportsman, Mr. Jim Quirke, finds them again in the running for the 1947 championship and few Gaelic there are all over the Decies but with their usual vigour. From reports to hand a very formidable fifteen will don the familiar red and white jerseys this year.

ENTERTAINMENT. A very successful repeat entertainment was presented at St. Michael's Hall, Ballyduff, on Sunday night week by the members of the Ballyduff Choral Dramatic Class and despite very inclement weather was favoured with a very large and enthusiastic audience. The programme which included songs, music, choruses, Irish step-dancing and a grand three-act comedy was a very elaborate one and the various artists were loudly applauded. Before the final curtain the master of ceremonies thanked the audience for their attendance, the various artists for their grand performances and the L.L.C.M., under whose personal supervision the entire programme was carried out. THE FLIGHT FROM THE LAND. As time goes on more and more of our young men and young women are leaving the shores of Ireland daily to cross the seas to a foreign land, where they say "there's bread and butter for the boys and girls of other areas" their passports. What a pity some remedy could not be found to stem this flow of the cream of youth from our shores. This country of ours possessing such a wealth of God-given resources, which if only properly developed and utilised would bring untold wealth to three times the present population. The geographical position of the soil, the climate—all combine to favour this viewpoint. True, we lack mineral resources and factories, but to counterbalance this deficiency, our agricultural land can be compared successfully with any on the Continent, but we do not use it to advantage, and so every year we send thousands of our people to seek out an existence in the land of the stranger, carrying with them their national traditions, which a large percentage fail to maintain in the alien atmosphere. It is a serious and far-reaching problem, the farming industry is bound to suffer and as a result the entire community will be victimised. Hundreds of thousands of pounds are expended yearly on schemes of less importance to the national and economic life of our nation. Why not try to find some way in which to improve the social status of our farmers and rural dwellers, and so, even in a small way, prevent this mass flight from the land.

Farmers, traders, etc., while it is the main entrance to a number of farms and holdings, the owners of which find it now simply impossible to travel. It is hoped that under the circumstances the County Council will see their way to have this roadway repaired as soon as possible.

Galvanized Wire Netting is indispensable where protection is needed.

Whether it be to save window glass from being broken or as a protection against the ravages of animals, birds or rabbits, no safer or cheaper method of protection can be adopted. It is also invaluable for enclosing Dog Kennels and Fowl Runs and indeed for a thousand and one other uses. During the war years it was impossible to obtain supplies of this much-needed article, but now we are happy to be in a position to offer the public unlimited quantities of Highest Quality Galvanized Wire Netting in every size, gauge and width. No matter what you require from 12 inches to 6 feet wide, or from half inch to 3 inch mesh, we can supply you with the latest, new, clean netting that will withstand the weather for years. Fabulous prices were paid for wire netting during the late war and only now can we afford to purchase it, but to-day prices are so much reduced that it is within the means of everyone to procure their requirements. To further reduce cost, we will pay carriage on all orders of 1000 lbs and upwards.—Harpur Brothers, 48 Quay, Waterford.

Kilmacthomas Notes.

ALTHOUGH READY AND TRAINED. A service about which very little is heard is the Irish Coastal Life-Saving Service, which, although not often called on, is at all times ready and always perfectly trained to perform the noble duty assigned to it. Periodically a superintendent visits each unit, where they are stationed under their No. 1 man; they give demonstrations of life-saving with the cork and brecheast buoy. Should the Bonmahon unit of the Service be ever summoned it will surely acquit itself with credit and distinction.

STILL IN ITS WORST BEHAVIOUR!

The weather continues pronouncedly on the bitter side. Since the appearance of the previous issue of the 'Observer' mid-Waterfordians have experienced a series of heavy frosts, torrid winds and light showers. The weather has been very variable, and it is hoped that the weather will be more settled in the future.

GAELIC GARNERINGS.

THE SHADY THAT BEGINS AT HOME IS VERY apt to be out when it is abroad.

That, though 'twere all the uses of adversity, it is not even Annesley's. The weather is very variable, and it is hoped that the weather will be more settled in the future.
