The Secretary (Mr. S. O'Murphy) said the actual line-out of the senior team would not be decided until the players completed their training. He said he had been notified by C.I.E. that they would run a special train from Cork to Clonmel on Sunday. It had been definitely arranged that the train would leave Clonmel on the return journey at 7.15 p.m. Tickets would be on sale on Friday.

It was agreed that the Secretary communicate with the broadcasting authorities and ask them to have the match broadcast.

DUNGARVAN COURT
The Dungarvan District Court was held on last Tuesday, before District Justice E. O. Riain.

INSTALMENT ORDER APPLICATION.
The Agricultural Credit Corporation applied on foot of debt of £6 13s. 6d. for an instalment order against John Kiely, Kilbrien, Ballinamuck.

Mr. K. Kenny, solr. (acting for Dr. R. Counihan, State Solr.) for the Agricultural Credit Corporation.

There was no appearance for the defendant.

After hearing the facts from Mr. Kenny, the Justice made an order that the defendant pay 5s. per week, first payment to be made seven days after service of the order. He allowed £1 10s. costs.

AUCTIONEER'S LICENCES.
Licences to practice as auctioneers and house agents were granted to Mr. A. Ballot, Ballinamuck, and Senator J. Butler, Mitchell Terrace.

ROAD TRANSFER A SUMMONS.
In the adjourned summonses against E. O'Donnell, lorry driver, 21 Treacy Park, Carrick-on-Suir, and Messrs. Jas. Walsh, lorry owner, Main Street, do., for alleged breaches of the Road Transport Act, Supt. P. O'Mahony said he had communicated with the Department of Industry and Commerce. They held with him as regards the case against Messrs. Walsh, but he (Superintendent) did not think that there was any case against O'Donnell. He asked for a further adjournment to the next court.

The Justice granted the request and dismissed the summons against O'Donnell.

ALLEGED MALICIOUS DAMAGE.
In the adjourned case against Nicholas Beresford, Glendine; Thos. Beresford, Castlequarter, and James Beresford, do., who were charged with maliciously damaging property at the Model Farm, Lisarow, on a date in September last year, not like Supt. O'Mahony said that one of his witnesses, who comes from Clare, had not turned up and he (Superintendent) could not get with the case without him. He asked for a further adjournment.

Mr. J. F. Kenny (who represented the defendant) said he would like to upset the Superintendent, but on the last day the case was adjourned to this court. The defendants were three farmers who had let their work to come to the court that day.

Supt. O'Mahony—This is the first day I saw two of them here. Nicholas Beresford was here before.

The Justice said that on a previous occasion when the defendants asked for an adjournment to give it, it was rather unfair on them to bring them there again.

Superintendent—I have done all I could to get this man here. In my opinion the prosecution will fail in this case. They cannot prove their alleged offence. The reputation of these men is suffering.

Superintendent—I don't concede that the prosecution will fail at all. Mr. Kenny said that he had consulted with his clients, and following the consultation stated that they had instructed him not to agree to an adjournment. He also called attention to the fact that his clients could not claim expenses against the Attorney-General.

Supt. O'Mahony said the charge arose from incidents which occurred on the 4th September last year and he would prove that the defendants had their work at the harvest on that day.

The Justice thought it would be unfair to the defendants to give a further adjournment and ask them to come back to court again.

Superintendent—I admit that; but they are only living a short distance from the town.

The Justice said he did not like to dismiss the case out of hand owing to the fact that the Superintendent did everything he could to get this witness here. At the same time it was rather unfair to Mr. Kenny's clients asking them to come back again as they could not claim any expenses against the Attorney-General. He proposed to adjourn it to the second court in July and if the witness for the State was not there he would dismiss it. If he was there and if it resulted in a conviction he would take into consideration any expenses that Mr. Kenny's clients would incur. He wished to make it quite clear that there would be no further adjournment after that.

OCCASIONAL LICENCES.
Mr. T. C. Williams (J. F. Williams and Son, Solr.) was granted on behalf of Mr. P. J. Power, an occasional licence for the Town Hall on July 3rd, the hours being 12 to 4.

A similar application was made by Mr. L. F. Kenny, on behalf of Mr. M. Keane, Friary St., for the Town Hall on July 6th, the hours being from 12 to 4.

Mr. L. F. Kenny was granted on behalf of the Dungarvan Golf Club an extension of the licensing laws from 10 to 4 on June 29th.

LARCENY OF £32.
Two boys under 16 years from the town were charged at the Children's Court with the larceny of a wallet containing £32, the property of Thos. Broderick, Mitchell Terrace.

Supt. P. O'Mahony prosecuted. Mr. J. F. Kenny represented one of the defendants.

Mr. Kenny, on behalf of his client, pleaded guilty as an accessory. The other defendant also pleaded guilty.

Supt. O'Mahony said that on last Sunday (June 22nd) the two boys were employed to take cows to the

GAEIC NOTES
By "TAOBHLINE."

The Waterford senior hurling team seeking to play Cork at Clonmel on Sunday next in the Munster semi-final is the chief topic just now in every corner and, as I said last week, the selectors had an unenviable task but the playing fifteen, published elsewhere meets with general approval and this, in itself, is no mean tribute to the senior selectors. Apart from some platings I was successful with fourteen of my published team of last week and opinions vary as to who would fill the right corner berth but Letty's nomination, be it said to the back stretch. My mail bag was rather heavy this week with tears and remarks but strangely enough the personnel of the teams are nearly the same as the selected fifteen. Some favoured J. O'Connor and J. Good in the half-line of defence and more commented favourably on Mick Moloney between the sticks. Well I remember it well—a young player lined out with the Waterford team at the Cork Athletic Grounds—it was his first final. Imagine the crowd roaring as we—scarcely began when the Cork Fijers merrily tipping "Kelly from Killann," on the soft Lee-side breeze. A word from Big Bill Sullivan, not Campbell, to the young player in question—arc you feeling O.K. No. 10? A bit jittery was the reply. "Get your first ball," said Big Bill, "and after that you will be like Garrett Howard a ways there when the band strikes." Well, no, no, no, got the first ball, to shure my story, and his name loomed largely on Waterford teams for a long time after. He certainly must have got more than his first ball. So the player to whom I refer should keep this in mind on Sunday next. Now, Cork has a song and a chant in their story are the champions; to be candid they are the form team. Even more than a few Waterford supporters are pessimistic about the outcome of Sunday's clash. We have an abundance of material to select from, both seniors and minors. Quick thinking, Cork has a song and a chant and you get there. A Cork correspondent informs me Alan Lott will be fit for Sunday's game and Con Cotterill has signified his intention of playing again. It seems to me Cork are not taking this Waterford challenge too seriously. It's right at Clonmel last year. I hope they get a bigger one on Sunday next. Portlaoise Abu.

Dungarvan Swimming Club.
Seating...—Of prime importance to the supporters of the annual Gala, will be their chances of viewing all the events with ease. Hitherto the club found it difficult to get sufficient seating, but this year, to cope with the large crowds expected, a system of terraced seating will be used. These seats will stretch from the back wall to the pool edge. It is hoped in this way to seat everyone inside the confines of the pool. The prices are 3s. and 2s. reserved seats, first and second row, respectively, and 1s. for the terraced seating. Children will be allowed to the 1/- seats at half-price.

Local Entries.—The men's local 50 yards free-style championship should provide a keen local rivalry as it is a "scratch" event. The entries for this race are so far—V. Aston, A. Lavin, Dr. McCann, F. Hamilton, P. Arrigan, T. Shine, C. O'Doherty. All have in their training covered the distance in or about the same time. However, it is to be expected that some are saving the real stuff for the 6th July.

Senior Squad.—This team will be picked from the competitors in the 50 yards to represent the club in the Inter-Club Men's Junior Squad Race. This event will be a useful rehearsal for the Munster Championship Event, which will be held in Cork.

Munster Championships Diving.—Pat Callahan will be able to make the journey to defend this title, which he won last year. Jimmy Lamin, Munster Champion, 1945, has entered for this event, too, in an effort to capture the title, which he held for a number of years. P. Arrigan, who has good experience of diving and gymnastics, should be heard of in this event. Tramore S.C., Blue Star S.C., Dolphin S.C., have each two entries for the event.

Club Colors.—The colours that will be worn by the men will be black trunks with red and white badges. It is hoped that on this first appearance they will get loud applause from Old Broad through supporters. Support from the townspeople for swimmers who will do their best against outside clubs will be an invaluable aid. The committee are decided that the gala will commence at 2.30 p.m. sharp, and officials will ensure that no delay will be possible between events. One would be well advised to go early to the pool as a large crowd from outside Dungarvan is expected for the most outstanding aquatic programme ever to be seen here.

Latest news of entries is that between Dolphin, Blue Star, Tramore, we have 14 ladies and 40 men for the Open Competitions. The Irish Red Cross best life-saving team will give exhibitional in the morning from 12 a.m. to 1 p.m. The team includes many of Lelinst's best swimmers, some of whom sought their places on the Irish Water Polo team to play Scotland on July 10th at Blackrock.

A committee meeting will be held at the Swimming Pool on Friday at 8.30. Classes will be then arranged for bookings and Mr. Riach is expected to-day. It is hoped to give full details of the entries next week.

RECENT TRANSFERS
On Monday of this week Miss Bernie Casey, who for the past twelve months had been in charge of the St. Mary Street office of E. Power, Turf Accountant, left on transfer to the Wicklow branch of this firm. During her short sojourn in the Old Boro' she made many friends and acquaintances. A lady of rare charm of manner, vivacious and ever cheerful, she will be missed by her host of friends from the social and sporting activities of town and by her very large business clientele in Dungarvan. She is replaced by Miss Fitzgerald, who has been transferred from the Tipperary office.

Recently transferred to the Mitchelstown Branch of the Bank of Ireland was Miss Betty Roche, who for some years past had been attached to the staff of the local branch of that bank. She was a kind and courteous official, and while regretting her departure, her many friends congratulate her on her promotion and wish her further success in the near future. She is replaced by Miss P. Stone from Head Office, who is a member of an East Waterford family well known in greyhound circles.

Woman Sentenced at Waterford Circuit Court.
"Even though the doctors have given this evidence, which I accept to some extent, I don't believe that your sense of right and wrong was so affected that you did not know that you were doing wrong. . . I must try to protect the people around the country from being defrauded by people like you."
These observations were made by Mr. Justice Seary at the Waterford (County Criminal) Circuit Court on Monday, when he sentenced Mrs. Mary O'Sullivan, whose original address was given as 29, South Mall, Cork, to three months' imprisonment with hard labour after she had pleaded guilty to four charges of obtaining money, goods and credit by false pretences.

Kilmacthomas G.H. Missing.—Miss Kathleen Power, Carrigan, Kilmacthomas, Co. Waterford, is missing since the end of May. When she left home she stated she was about to catch a post to Dublin. She is 5ft. 6ins., has dark brown hair, pale complexion, medium build, and when last seen was wearing a tweed coat. Any information about her should be communicated to her parents at Carrigan or to the Garda Station.

farm of Mr. Broderick. When they arrived at the farm there was nobody around. Thos. Broderick was out in his coat and before he went to the field he hung up his coat in the byre. In the coat was a wallet containing £32. The Superintendent said that up to the point where the two boys came to the yard, their statements agreed, but as to what happened after that he found the pocket of the coat turned inside out. Continuing Superintendent O'Mahony said that the first boy took possession of the wallet and the two of them left the yard. When the wallet was opened and when they saw that it contained three £10 notes and £2 in single notes the second boy reported to the Superintendent. They went back to the yard and the second boy thought that his companion had put it back. On going back to the road the first boy said he didn't put it back and he agreed to divide the money. His companion would not agree to it. The matter was referred to the Guards by Mr. Broderick and he (Superintendent) and Sgt. Teehan went searching for the boys and they found them walking along the road and the first boy asked were they (Superintendent and Sgt. Teehan) looking for them and said they did not take the money. They were taken to the Garda Station and they made statements after being cautioned, in which the second boy stated that the money had been hidden under a stone in a field where it was got later.

It was stated that one of the boys had been convicted of breaking into a fruit store and had got the benefit of the P.O.A.

Attesting Mr. Kenny on behalf of his client, the mother of the other boy and the other boy himself, the Justice said to him that he wanted him to understand quite clearly that this would be his last chance, and if he came before him again he would send him to a reformatory, and if he was over 17 he would send him to prison. He (Justice) was inclined to send him to a reformatory straight away, but he would give him this last chance on his promising that he would not get into any further trouble.

On the boy in question giving this promise, the Justice applied the P.O.A.

In the second case against the other boy he also applied the P.O.A.

CLARION PRINCE WILL BE LET FOR SERVICE AT £1 PER COW. DAVID MCGRATH, KNOCKENPOWER, COLLIGAN.

Monday evening the remains were removed from the residence to Faha Chapel, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. T. Draper, C.C., Stradhally, who also recited the prayers for the dead. The accompanying cortege on the occasion proved a most magnificent and a touching tribute of public respect to the memory of the departed soul. Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Mass for her soul on Tuesday, the funeral took place in the adjoining cemetery, her grave being beside that of her husband (Mr. Patrick Barron), who passed hence just over three years ago. Fr. Draper pronounced the final Absolution at the graveside. Numerous Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. The chief mourners were—Mrs. J. Power, Garranurton (daughter) and (son); Mr. Michael Barron, Watford, Middlesex (son); Mrs. P. Kieley, do. (daughter); Mr. Martin Powell (son); Mr. Keith Barron, London; the Misses Kathleen and Philomena Power, do.; Mrs. W. Gray, do. and Mrs. G. Keane, Dublin (great nieces); Mrs. J. Barron, Fahafeelagh (nephew-in-law) and wife and family. A banquet, a loss Delis, dem. treatore. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. John Kent, Undertaker, Kilmacthomas.

In congratulating her on her achievement, we heartily wish her continued increasing success. Gaelic Games.—Two junior grade challenge games staged at the Kill venue on Sunday last were witnessed by a good-sized crowd. Their last round tie in this year's Western Divisional Junior Football Championship Competition, and a routing trophy for supremacy is well deserved. May Waterford's ashen-baldie winners "do the big thing" in Clonmel tomorrow. Members of the Tallow Athletic Club figured prominently at two sports held on Sunday last, viz. We are pleased to record that Mr. Sidney Fraser, who met with an accident at Malloy Sports, is making steady progress towards complete recovery. Potatoes were planted this year later than usual owing to unfavourable weather. Conditions in the early spring and in order to safeguard the crop from blight attacks in the early stages of growth, prompt and repeated spraying is advised. Blight has already appeared, over a wide area, including Counties Cork, Mayo, Offaly, Waterford, Wick, and Dublin, and the various damp conditions existing favour its spread. Farmers therefore should take immediate preparations for spraying. Equipment should be overhauled, and spraying materials purchased at once where this has not already been done. Copies of leaflets on "Potato Blight and its Prevention" can be obtained free of charge. An application to the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Dublin.

Cappoquin Slander Action

The case was historic in that it was the first one in which a civil jury had been requisitioned since the re-organization of the Emergency Powers Order dispensing with them but it was also historic in the fact that a case of this type had never been before a Waterford county court jury before, said Mr. J. A. Darcy (instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Morrison, Dungarvan), addressing the jury in the case. The case opened before Judge Sealy at Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, in which Garda Sergeant John Browne, Cappoquin, claimed damages against Thomas and Bridget Uniaicke, husband and wife, also of Cappoquin, for alleged slander and libel.

Mr. Darcy, who appeared for the plaintiff, said that his client was a Sergeant in the Civic Guards and had been in the town of Cappoquin since he was stationed in Cappoquin as a Sergeant. Altogether, he had been 22 years in the Civic Guards, the last 10 as a Sergeant and the last nine years as Sergeant in Cappoquin.

During that time, said Counsel, Sgt. Browne had borne a very high reputation and a very good character. The defendants were husband and wife and up to and about the war period they had lived in West Waterford where Thomas Uniaicke worked as a labourer in some factory. During the war, they went to Northern Ireland where they got into some trouble with the authorities there and in 1943 made arrangements to come back to Cappoquin. In August, 1943, continued Counsel, they were tried in the North of Ireland for offences of which they were found guilty. Sgt. Uniaicke was given five months hard labour and fined £1,000 and his wife was fined £1,000 for being in possession of uncut tobacco.

These fines were paid, said Mr. Darcy, and in or about the same time they decided they would buy a public house in Cappoquin. There was at that time in Cappoquin a public house belonging to Mr. Meekill and the Uniaickes bought that for £800 and they went into business there in February, 1944. There being an existing licence, the house was transferred to them on the grounds of their history in the North of Ireland and the District Justice granted the licence and from 1944 on, said Counsel, he thought he was not over exaggerating when he said that they had been in constant trouble with the licensing laws and the Civic Guards in Cappoquin, in charge of Sgt. Browne, had to prosecute them on numerous occasions.

Both husband and wife, said Counsel, seemed to develop an animosity towards Sergeant Browne and the other Guards as a result of that because they thought they were being unfairly prosecuted but, in actual fact, it would be proved that other licensed houses in Cappoquin were prosecuted just as much as the Uniaickes were.

In all, said Mr. Darcy, the defendants were prosecuted in the District Court for breaches of the licensing laws about 6 or 7 times since 1944 when they bought the public house. In 1945 things began to get a bit worse and the Uniaickes began to develop a definite animosity towards Sgt. Browne and the slanders alleged dated from that date on.

In September, 1945, Counsel continued, the Uniaickes brought an action in the ordinary way in the District Court and there was an objection to the renewal on the grounds of the way the premises had been conducted. Obviously the District Justice concluded that the Uniaickes were not proper persons to have a licence and he refused to grant it. From that the Uniaickes appealed and the appeal came before His Lordship, sitting in Dungarvan, in November, 1945, and his Lordship was evidently of the same opinion as the District Justice that the licence should not be renewed but, said Counsel, he was real staggering to think that any man would stoop as low as Uniaicke has done in this case.

There was Counsel's own evidence in the case, said Counsel, that the Uniaickes were in partnership with a man named Meekill. He ended up his speech, said Mr. Darcy by saying "an old man broke the sergeant's motor when it will cost me. I will follow him to the end of the earth."

That was what he declared Counsel, "show exactly what is that man's frame of mind. He has been vilifying the sergeant by a long series of slanders in an attempt to break the sergeant's licence."

That in 1944, the Sergeant had summoned a fisherman for committing a nuisance in Uniaicke's yard and that the whole reason the Sergeant prosecuted him was that the fisherman in question refused to give him (Sergeant) a fish.

In fact, said Counsel, the Sergeant never asked him for a fish. The next allegation, that document, said Mr. Darcy, concerned an incident which the (Counsel) would have to explain to the jury but beforehand, Uniaicke, evidently, was always saying that the Sergeant and the other Guards were down on him and in favour of the other publicans in Cappoquin. On a Sunday in March, 1946, there were a number of Civic Guards stationed in Cappoquin on duty in the village and Uniaicke saw Garda Thorne coming along and accused him of having been in another public house during prohibited hours and of being drunk. Uniaicke actually attempted to arrest the Civic Guard and then went to the street and then went to the barracks to the Sergeant complaining that Garda Thorne was drunk and demanded that the Sergeant phone for a doctor to examine Garda Thorne. The Sergeant, said Counsel, tried to phone but the telephone wires were broken but, in actual fact, he put the Guard in a car and drove him to Dr. White who found that there was no trace of drink on Thorne. That was all past history, said Counsel, but arising out of that, in one of his complaints to the Chief Supt., Uniaicke said that the Sergeant deliberately broke the telephone wires from the barracks on that Sunday morning.

Uniaicke got a doctor quickly to examine Garda Thorne. Of course, said Counsel, that was a very serious complaint to allege that the Sergeant deliberately broke the telephone wires from the barracks, because for instance, there might be very important messages coming through from headquarters. It was, of course, a false statement and evidence would be given by a telephone linesman who would explain to the court how the lines went out of order on that Sunday.

There was a long list of these complaints went on Mr. Darcy, any one of which would be enough to damage the sergeant for ever if they were true. Garda Thorne brought a slander action against Uniaicke against Uniaicke for publishing the slanders but he was drunk and guilty of a breach of the licensing laws. The action came on in the Circuit Court in Dungarvan, but Uniaicke denied the case with Garda Thorne for £50 on the morning of the case was to be tried.

The second chapter of slanders, said Mr. Darcy, occurred on March 23 of this year. On that day Uniaicke made application for the renewal of his licence came on in Cappoquin and was refused. Uniaicke also had an application to get a hackney driver's licence granted. When the case in the District Court was over and the whole thing was being dealt with, said Counsel, stood up in the courtroom and shouted out for everybody to hear words purporting to state that Meekill (who had sold the house to him) and the Sergeant were in league together and that the Sergeant was just raising Uniaicke's house and getting an application that Meekill could come along and rebuy the house for £200 cheaper.

His allegation, said Counsel, was that Meekill was in partnership with dogs. He ended up his speech, said Mr. Darcy by saying "an old man broke the sergeant's motor when it will cost me. I will follow him to the end of the earth."

That was what he declared Counsel, "show exactly what is that man's frame of mind. He has been vilifying the sergeant by a long series of slanders in an attempt to break the sergeant's licence."

On the libel part of the case, said Counsel, it was real staggering to think that any man would stoop as low as Uniaicke has done in this case.

There was Counsel's own evidence in the case, said Counsel, that the Uniaickes were in partnership with a man named Meekill. He ended up his speech, said Mr. Darcy by saying "an old man broke the sergeant's motor when it will cost me. I will follow him to the end of the earth."

Counsel, they had the temerity to come in and place on the file of the court at that late stage the plea that that affidavit was true in substance and in fact. In other words, said Counsel, instead of admitting and apologising, Uniaicke was still persisting by his defence that the Sergeant was guilty of the offence. In actual fact, the Sergeant was not guilty of immorality and it was for the Uniaickes to prove the acts alleged.

All the charges, Counsel concluded, were made from a warped mind in an attempt to break the Sergeant out of motives of sheer spite. The jury would be satisfied, having heard the evidence, that there was no foundation, in fact, for any of those charges.

The first witness called on behalf of the plaintiff in the action was Chief Supt. M. A. J. O'Reilly, Waterford. Answering Mr. Darcy he said Cappoquin was in the division of which he had charge as a sergeant in the Waterford division. Sergeant Browne was in charge of the Cappoquin Station. Witness knew Sergeant Browne since he came to the division in 1941. Sgt. Browne was in charge of Cappoquin during that period.

Continuing his evidence Supt. O'Reilly stated that in October, 1946, the defendant came to visit him (Chief Supt.) by appointment. That was on October 23rd. Defendant then saw him in Waterford. "He had," said witness, "written previously asking for the appointment." He first of all told witness he was going to see him to try and save his licence, and told witness about the way he had been treated. Witness replied that he thought he knew the position as regards his licence but he would investigate the matter. He would be glad to do anything about it if he could help in any way. He had already been in trouble regarding allegations about Garda Thorne, but added that if Uniaicke wished to make any complaint he should do so in writing and take it to the Chief Supt. (Chief Supt.) was willing to take it and investigate it.

The Chief Supt. went on to say that he told Uniaicke he would have to be careful as he might be laying himself open to an action for slander or libel. He said that anything he would say or had written was his truth.

CHARGES AGAINST THE SERGEANT. This document said Mr. Darcy continued, was a long list of charges against the sergeant, and against other guards in Cappoquin. The witness added that the document was so long that it would take hours to read it. In further reply to Mr. Darcy, the witness said that the document in question contained charges, some of a specific and others of a general nature, in reference to the taking over of the defendant's house from Denis Meekill a paragraph stated when we took over the house from Meekill it was in a very bad state and the defendant was in possession of the house and getting an application that Meekill could come along and rebuy the house for £200 cheaper.

On the libel part of the case, said Counsel, it was real staggering to think that any man would stoop as low as Uniaicke has done in this case.

There was Counsel's own evidence in the case, said Counsel, that the Uniaickes were in partnership with a man named Meekill. He ended up his speech, said Mr. Darcy by saying "an old man broke the sergeant's motor when it will cost me. I will follow him to the end of the earth."

That was what he declared Counsel, "show exactly what is that man's frame of mind. He has been vilifying the sergeant by a long series of slanders in an attempt to break the sergeant's licence."

Witness added that he decided to prosecute Uniaicke personally. "NOT OPEN TO A BRIBE." Continuing the Chief Superintendent said the defendant on that occasion said there had been some delay and offered to pay expenses. "That," said witness, "was the first time in my life that I was ever offered a bribe."

Asked the result of his investigations, the Chief Superintendent said: "I could find no foundation for these charges."

Asked what effect such charges would have on an ordinary sergeant, apart from Sgt. Browne, the witness replied that would depend very much on the circumstances. If, said witness, he thought there were any foundation for these charges, he would advise a court of inquiry or that disciplinary proceedings be taken against the sergeant.

DIFFICULT TO ANSWER. Further pressed on the point of a specific charge of a Civic Guard sergeant, the witness said it was a difficult question to answer. It would, he said, to a great extent depend on the nature of his mind and the circumstances generally.

He would be glad to do anything about it if he could help in any way. He had already been in trouble regarding allegations about Garda Thorne, but added that if Uniaicke wished to make any complaint he should do so in writing and take it to the Chief Supt. (Chief Supt.) was willing to take it and investigate it.

The Chief Supt. went on to say that he told Uniaicke he would have to be careful as he might be laying himself open to an action for slander or libel. He said that anything he would say or had written was his truth.

LISMORE NOTES

Late Mr. R. Walsh, Main Street.—The death took place at the District Hospital, Lismore, on Sunday last, of Mr. Richard Walsh, Main Street, Lismore, following protracted illness. Mr. Walsh was an advanced age. A member of a well-known and respected family, deceased was held in high esteem throughout the district and his demise is much regretted. A man of many admirable qualities, he was well-known for his ready wit and kind nature in every company. Proof of his popularity was shown by the very large and representative attendance at the removal of his remains on Tuesday morning and the interment was subsequently made in the district cemetery, Rev. Fr. McGrath, C.C., officiated at the obsequies.

Big Football Game For Lismore.—The news that Lismore had been selected as the venue for the junior football inter-county game, Kerry v. Tipperary on July 2nd, was a source of much interest. With a pitch second to none it is only fitting that the fixture should have been made for this venue and the local hurling and football clubs are doing their utmost to have all arrangements perfect to the last detail. A celtic mass in two parts will be given at 8 p.m. and the second from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. The music will be supplied by the popular Eire Instrumentalists' Band.

Dungarvan Defeat Avonmore.—Weather conditions were ideal for the meeting of Dungarvan and Avonmore in the senior hurling championship at Cappoquin on Sunday last. The attendance was on the small side and the standard of hurling was only fair. Dungarvan pressed from the start and were rewarded with a goal in the first few minutes. From the outset Avonmore forced a seventy which R. O'Donnell pointed. The Avonmore forwards got plenty of the ball at this stage but wild erratic shooting spoiled several scoring chances. Liam Power had a further point for Avonmore before Dungarvan got going again, and it was soon apparent that Dungarvan were the better balanced side, combining better and making the most of their opportunities. After a point from Christy Moylan Dungarvan took over and the game was a very one-sided affair up to half-time. Dungarvan scored two further goals and a point without reply from Avonmore leaving the half-time score: Dungarvan 3-2 Avonmore, 0-2.

Cricket.—Lismore v. Cahir. Lismore was the venue of a very interesting and entertaining cricket match on Saturday last, when the home side showing much improved batting form ran out winners by 51 runs. Cahir batted first and due to a display of brilliant batting by J. J. J. (12) put on 65 runs. The remaining batsmen, however, were unable to cope with splendid bowling by J. J. J. When you investigated the charges, and against other guards in Cappoquin. The witness added that the document was so long that it would take hours to read it. In further reply to Mr. Darcy, the witness said that the document in question contained charges, some of a specific and others of a general nature, in reference to the taking over of the defendant's house from Denis Meekill a paragraph stated when we took over the house from Meekill it was in a very bad state and the defendant was in possession of the house and getting an application that Meekill could come along and rebuy the house for £200 cheaper.

On the libel part of the case, said Counsel, it was real staggering to think that any man would stoop as low as Uniaicke has done in this case.

There was Counsel's own evidence in the case, said Counsel, that the Uniaickes were in partnership with a man named Meekill. He ended up his speech, said Mr. Darcy by saying "an old man broke the sergeant's motor when it will cost me. I will follow him to the end of the earth."

That was what he declared Counsel, "show exactly what is that man's frame of mind. He has been vilifying the sergeant by a long series of slanders in an attempt to break the sergeant's licence."

Dungarvan Defeat Avonmore.

Weather conditions were ideal for the meeting of Dungarvan and Avonmore in the senior hurling championship at Cappoquin on Sunday last. The attendance was on the small side and the standard of hurling was only fair. Dungarvan pressed from the start and were rewarded with a goal in the first few minutes. From the outset Avonmore forced a seventy which R. O'Donnell pointed. The Avonmore forwards got plenty of the ball at this stage but wild erratic shooting spoiled several scoring chances. Liam Power had a further point for Avonmore before Dungarvan got going again, and it was soon apparent that Dungarvan were the better balanced side, combining better and making the most of their opportunities. After a point from Christy Moylan Dungarvan took over and the game was a very one-sided affair up to half-time. Dungarvan scored two further goals and a point without reply from Avonmore leaving the half-time score: Dungarvan 3-2 Avonmore, 0-2.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS.

ARMORE DISTRICT COURT. The June session of the Ardmore District Court before District Justice D. P. O'Donovan, B.L., was of short duration. A number of persons from Clashmore area were summoned for being in possession of unlicensed dogs and for having no lights on cycles and the usual fines were imposed.

POPULAR GARDA TO BE TRANSFERRED.

The intimation that Garda Denis Fitzgibbon, Clashmore Station, is to be transferred, has caused much regret in Clashmore area where he was a general favourite, being popular with all classes. During his stay in this station he provided himself an efficient and courteous peace officer. An all-round sportsman he was associated with the local G.A.A. Club. He is to be succeeded by Garda Robinson, Knockanore Station.

HAIR A.C. SPORTS.

The recently formed Harp A.C. held their sports meeting on Sunday last and the event was a great success. With weather conditions ideal there was a big attendance. There were good entries for the different events all of which proved close and interesting. The capital and energetic committee in charge had all arrangements perfect and are to be congratulated on their success. Their initial effort, Mr. J. J. McGrath, Chairman, Waterford Co. Board N.A.C.A. (1) fulfilled the duties of handicapper and starter in his usual efficient and impartial manner.

During the war Mr. Murphy served as an officer in the Royal Navy and saw service in all parts of the world and had many thrilling experiences. He is many times with himself and Mrs. Murphy all the best and every good luck.

His many friends wish him every happiness in his well-earned retirement on his part.
