The Summer Jumping Trials under the auspices of the Ballinamult Show Jumping Society on Sunday jast were a huge success and well above the standard set at similar events held in the country with the exception of Dublin. The arrangements were perfect and the jumping enclosure was a treat to behold, while the judges were loud in their praise of all that came before them, and the stewards, who were experts at their job, earned the heartiest appreciation. The 234 entries included Miss Iris Kellett's Rusty (winner at Dublin and Belfast Shows), Dublin, and Mr. A. Scannell's (prizewinners) Fermoy, together with several other winners at gether with several other winners at Shows in Munster and Leinster. During the evening the Touraneena Fife and Drum Band contributed a choice selection, which put the cap on an all-round perfect day. A feature of the day was the introduction of a new type of Jumping Competition to Ireland—the Continental Competition, which was the first of its kind ever held in this

Death of Miss Maureen

Slattery, Cork.

The death took place at her residence, "Glendine," Mount Pleasant Avenue, Friar's Walk, Cork, on last Monday morning of Miss Maureen Slattery at the early age of 26. She had been in indifferent health for some time, and her passing, in the bloom of her young womanhood, though not entirely unexpected, was, nevertheless, a grievous and severe shock to her parents, relatives and friends.

She was the only daughter and child of Mr. J. Slattery (the popular and efficient Manager of Mr. M. Roche, jeweller, Patrick Street, Cork) and Mrs. Slattery, "Glendine," Mount Pleasant Avenue, Cork, and a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Gorman, St. Mary Street, Dungarvan.

Although she was born and lived in Cork City, she had as much love and veneration for the "Old Boro'" as for her native city, and because of that she was a frequent visitor to Dungarvan, where she had many friends.

friends.

Miss Slattery was a young lady with so many admirable and attractive traits of character that it would be difficult indeed to single out any for particular mention. One, however, cannot readily forget her affectionate and kindly nature, her sincere honesty of purpose and deed, her wholesome veneration for the beautiful things of life, and her scorn for anything that was spurious or false Her kind and generous heart was ever open to anyone in trouble or faultless and always won the unstinted praise of everyone who had the pleasure of listening to them. She was equally at home in the playing of light music, dance music, etc.

The remains were removed to Christ the King Church, Cork, on Monday evening, and on Tuesday, after Requiem Mass, the funeral took place from Cork to St. Mary's Parish Church Cemetery Dungarvan, where the remains were intered. ### CAMOGUIDHEACHT Clashmore Cailini had a rather easy victory over Cappoquin in the Divisional Championships at Cappoquin last Sunday. The Cappoquin girls were very impressive early on in the game and Clashmore must certainly have had some anxious moments. About the middle of the first half, however, the Clashmore girls, who combined betten pressed home two goals in rapid succession. This seemed literally to knock the wind out of the Cappoquin girls; yet they played on gallantly and though they falled to register a score they failed to register a score, hey prevented their opponents from getting any further scores during the first half.

On resuming the Cornerstone cailini made a gallant effort to make a comeback but the Clashmore defence held out well while their forwards had a goal and a point.
