Manager Submits Rate To Urban Council

Townpeople Asked To Pay 33s. In The £

Increase of 7s. Over Last Year

Further Consideration Adjourned.

"RATEPAYERS GETTING BAD VALUE FOR MONEY."

A rate estimate of 33s. in the £ for the year 1948-49 was submitted by the Manager at the estimates meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council on last Friday night.

Following a short discussion, it was unanimously agreed to adjourn consideration to a meeting to be held on the following Thursday, so that the Manager's statement on the estimates could be circulated to the members.

The submitted rate shows an increase of 7s. in the £ over last year, and, according to the Manager, he or the officials who prepare the estimate, could not see how it could be reduced.

A detailed account of the expenditure to be met in the coming financial year was read by the Manager. The Manager said that the Clerk, the Acting Borough Surveyor, and himself had gone carefully through the estimate and they could not see where any cut in the rates could be made. He would like the members to go through the estimate and let him know what items they could strike out.

Mr. Clancy said it was a pity that the statement which the Manager had read could not be sent to such members. It was very hard to go into them when they were read out. He thought the statement should be circulated.

Senator Butler said Mr. Clancy forestalled him as he was going to say the same. He (Mr. Butler) had got a bad statement which was very hard to go into. He was not able to digest everything that the Manager had read out; in fact he did not know what he said. It was a pity that the statement was not circulated by the Clerk. He would ask not to consider the estimates that night.

Chairman—I was going to adjourn it.

Manager—I have no objection. It would be a good thing if the members had the greatest details of the estimates.

Mr. Clancy referred to the contribution to the Tourist Board and said he understood that there was to be no contribution next year.

The Clerk said there was no sum provided for tourist development.

BALL ALLEY SITE NOT YET DECIDED ON.

Mr. Clancy referred to the proposal to erect ball alleys and said the boys had not the money. The ball alley would cost a lot of money. They had not that money to our credit?

Chairman—We have definitely decided on the Marsh.

Mr. Clancy was at a meeting—the first one I was at—and they have not decided on it.

Chairman—That's news to me. We decided here that it would be at the Marsh.

Mr. Clancy—I attended their meeting and they wanted information from me. They have not decided on the site.

The Chairman pointed out that a deputation had come before the Council and they went away satisfied that the ball alley would be built on the Marsh.

Mr. Clancy—That's right. Chairman—They have changed their minds again.

The Manager said that the town planning expert would have to decide if the site would conform to the town planning. He (Manager) did not think that the town planning expert would say that the Marsh was not a place for the ball alley.

Mr. Clancy—They did not agree with it. I am only telling you what decision they came to.

Senator Butler—Are we going to contribute to the outlay for the alley? Chairman—I understood we would get a grant for it.

Manager—I think you will have to contribute a certain amount and I think that you will get a substantial grant from the Department or the Board of Works. It would be a pity not to take advantage of the grant.

have information for the next meeting.

Mr. Veale asked what was the position as regards Quinn's road.

Senator Butler said that at the County Council meeting a sum of £500 was estimated for that road. The members knew what £500 would mean in the rates. He knew that the Urban Council made a recommendation to the County Council to have it done, but when he saw the demand from the County Council he thought it wiser to cut it out and the County Council agreed not to do it.

Acting Borough Surveyor—I put it in because the Council asked to have it done.

Mr. Clancy—Do I understand that certain services are being discontinued?

The Manager, replying, said that under the Public Health Act certain services such as the Free Milk Scheme, the paying of part of the salaries of the sanitary officials, had been transferred to the County Council.

Mr. Clancy referred to the County Council demand of £1,000 for the urban roads and said that the estimate was given by the Acting Borough Surveyor to the County Council without the Urban Council having any say as to the amount to be spent on the roads. He thought that it should have gone before the Urban Council, even though the County Council was the body to deal with it. He thought that only for the good services of Senator Butler the demand would be greater.

Mr. Veale, referring to Quinn's road, said that when the request was made there were plenty of stones on the road and it would have been cheaper to do it then. The stones were gone now.

The Chairman agreed with Mr. Veale.

INCREASE IN HOUSING RATE.

Mr. Clancy drew attention to the increase in the housing rate and said that in 1946-47 it was only 5d. in 1947 it was 2s. 2d. and for the coming year 4s. 5d. He did not know how that was going to be spent on housing. He asked what expenses were incurred at present?

The Manager said that they had provided for the loan for the Abbey-side houses. The Council had agreed on raising the loan. The Clerk had to put in the item for the loan charge.

Senator Butler said that last year something was put in for this and it was collected in the rates.

Manager—It was a very small item. Senator Butler—Although it was stated at that time that the building of the houses would commence last May or June, I thought it was a very optimistic view to take. We know now the houses were not built and we trust a rate for these houses was not that money to our credit?

The Clerk said £800 was spent on the Abbey-side scheme on the 5d. rate, 4s. 8d. and for the coming year it was 7s. 10d. It was an extraordinary increase.

The Manager said they could not help that as it was in the County Council demand.

Mr. Clancy said there was another item in public health. Last year it was 7s. 10d. and for the coming year it was 10s. 6d. It was an extraordinary increase.

The Manager said they could not help that as it was in the County Council demand.

Mr. Clancy—Which of the charges can we make a reduction for? Manager—You cannot touch the County Council demand.

To Senator Butler, he said this demand was up 3s. 4d. in the £. "AN EXTRAORDINARY RATE."

Mr. Clancy said that if the estimate was adopted they would be putting a week increase on the poor people in the Council houses. He thought that they must be the only Council houses in Ireland that would have a rate of 33s. It was an extraordinary rate. He thought it would not be fair to the ratepayers if they attempted to adopt anything like that. There must be retrenchment. He held that things were not being done as economically as they should be. "I state here in the presence of the officials," he said, "that we are not all fools. We have no idea of what can be done with the money. Things have gone up, wages have gone up. But they are only small amounts. This is an extraordinary increase in the rates. What is going to be done? What about the roads? They are all potholes. Nothing is being done for them. What about houses, we are being asked. The ratepayers are not getting any return. I ask the Manager and his staff to go into the matter again."

Continuing, Mr. Clancy said that hereafter they could question the pay sheets. If they had the pay sheets again before them they could go into them and see what was being done. He and other members had expressed the opinion that nothing was being done; that they were not getting a good return for what was being paid. He was saying these things because he believed he was doing his duty in saying them. He would again ask the Manager and the Acting Borough Surveyor to go into the estimates.

The Chairman agreed with Mr. Clancy. In the past they had the pay sheets before them and they knew where they were. Now they did not know where they were.

"WOULD WELCOME FULLEST INVESTIGATION."

The Manager said he would welcome the fullest investigation into the pay sheets. It would be very pleasant for him to say to the Urban Council that the rates were reduced.

The Chairman said that last year's rate of 26s. the people were crying out against it and the members of the Council were blamed. They did all they could to bring them down below 26s. It was not the Council's fault and they could not be blamed. He thought every member of the Council was trying to do their utmost for the ratepayers of Dungarvan. He believed that 33s. was too much. He was hoping that they could keep to last year's rate. He was going to suggest that if the members came down on the day they got the statement they could sit around the table and see what items they could cut. They would have so much done and there would not be any delay when they came up before the meeting.

Senator Butler said it was a good suggestion. There was one item mentioned by Mr. Clancy—the ratepayers. They were all ratepayers and they would all have to bear the burden. There was an increased demand from the County Council and they must face that fact. If the Council adopted a rate of 33s. they would be doing O.K.

The Acting Borough Surveyor said that Mr. Clancy attributed the increase to his department. His department was only a small percentage of the increase, and that was due to increase of wages. They were giving good value and he had nothing to say against any of the men on the roads.

NO HOPE OF RETRENCHMENT.

The Manager said he thought it was not quite right to blame the officials of the Council for the increases. He could not see where they could make any retrenchment. If the Urban Council did not provide the money the services could not carry on. The Council provided the money and the officials spent it as economically as possible. The books were examined by auditors from the Department and the reports came before the Council regularly. He would welcome an examination of the estimates by the Council to see if they could possibly cut them and see where economies could be effected. Needless to say, it was no advantage to him to present a higher rate. He wanted to have a lower rate. They can't have their loaf and eat it.

Mr. Clancy said that he said before that retrenchment should be made. He would say again that it should be done. He was not reflecting on the Borough Surveyor's staff at all, but he did say that bad supervision was a bad thing. He was not blaming anyone in particular. They had more supervision now than they ever had before and still they were told that the working men was the cause of it. He had nothing against the men and he did not say that they were the cause of it. With all the supervision they had they were getting nowhere. What he was saying was that the ratepayers were getting bad value for their money.

The meeting then adjourned to Thursday night, and in the meantime a copy of the Manager's statement is to be circulated to each member.

THE DUNGARVAN OBSERVER

SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1948.

A JUVENILE PROBLEM.

The number of young children who are permitted by their parents to roam about the public thoroughfares every day, and in many cases until a late hour in the evening, seems to be increasing. It seems that as soon as an infant is able to toddle about on its feet, some parents imagine that it is perfectly safe to permit the child to wander out of the home, unattended, into the public thoroughfare.

During the war years, for motor traffic was practically suspended, drivers of horse-drawn vehicles had a very difficult task to prevent many of these children being injured or killed when they rushed or crawled almost under the hooves of the animals. With the return of motor traffic the danger to the lives of these children has been increased considerably.

Another problem has been created by children of seven or eight years of age who usually roam about the streets in groups, defacing the exteriors of houses and shops with various coloured chalk.

These children have no sense and cannot very well be blamed for any damage they may do, but they are not enough to be left in the street. It is the duty of their parents to teach them that they must not deface other persons property. If they are not taught this, they will do so.

One of the favourite pastimes of these children is to trace various designs on the bodies of motor-cars when parked in the street. If the car is left unlocked they get into it and pull every knob and lever and do a great amount of damage unknown to the owners.

Considerable damage is done to the vehicles by this practice. In the appearance of their cars are caused a considerable amount of unnecessary annoyance.

The training of children is essentially a matter for the parents, and no matter what they may be taught in the schools, children cannot be expected to develop into decent citizens if their parents will not co-operate with the school teachers.

To fully appreciate this fact, it is only necessary to compare the children who are nicely brought up with the children of parents who are to be reproached with other matters or too busy to devote the time to the training of their children, which they are bound to do.

If the coming generation is to develop a true sense of civic responsibility, parents must see that their children are given the opportunity to learn the essentials.

DUNGARVAN COURT

The Dungarvan District Court was held on last Tuesday, before Mr. M. Noonan, Acting D.J.

The list was very light and was disposed of in a very short time. Occasional Licences.—Mr. T. C. Williams (J. F. Williams and Son) was on behalf of the applicants granted occasional licences for the following—Dungarvan Point-to-Point Races on April 5th; Race Dance at Town Hall, April 5th/6th; Dungarvan Harriers' Dance on April 28th/29th; and Dungarvan Show Dance, July 29th/30th.

Minor Football Championship, 1948.—Sarsfields (Dungarvan) defeated Cathal Brughas at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last on the score of 2-2 to 2-1 after a good close play by both sides despite the slippery nature of the sod. Paving with a favouring breeze in the first half, Sarsfields were only able to penetrate the Brughas defence on two occasions to secure 2 goals to nil in the first moiety. Contrary to expectations, in the second moiety the Sarsfields more than held their own, and in reply to a score of 2-1 by Cathal Brughas, added 1-2 to their total.

YOUGHAL ROAD GULLEY TRAP. Arising from the minutes, Mr. Clancy referred to the minute in connection with gully trap at Youghal road, said he didn't think that the Council made any suggestion that the Council pay the cost of this. He thought that the landlady was to do it.

Mr. Clancy—Other landlords were compelled to install sanitary accommodation and after all why should one person get away from the regulations.

It was agreed to alter the minute to read—that the work be done by the Council provided the balance of the money is paid by the landlady.

Mr. Clancy—As far as I know the Minister knows nothing about it. Mr. Kynne said that he had been in the Local Government offices and asked if a communication had been received from the Council about the situation.

HE STOLE £400 RING

HEID UNDER HOTEL BED

A TRAVELLING SHOWMAN WHO WAS DEPORTED FROM A BRITAIN TO THIS COUNTRY LAST YEAR WAS SENTENCED TO A TOTAL OF TWENTY MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT BY DISTRICT JUSTICE IN THE DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT FOR LARCENIES FROM THREE DUBLIN HOTELS.

He was Patrick John Cregan (22), a native of Lismore, Co. Waterford, who pleaded guilty to stealing a lady's dress ring, value £400, a gent's silver pocket watch, value £5, a pocket wallet, value £2, and a containing £3 in the property of Pat. and Eleanor Boyer, Ferns, Co. Wick, from their bedroom in the Shelburne Hotel, temporary 1st class, on the 19th of February 1947, and an English ration book, the property of Sydney E. Edwards, 63 Wykegreen Road, Sutton, Birmingham, on the 19th of February 1947, and an English ration book, the property of Sydney E. Edwards, 63 Wykegreen Road, Sutton, Birmingham, on the 19th of February 1947.

On each of the first two charges he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labour, and on the third charge, to run consecutively, and on the fourth charge, to run consecutively with the two others.

Mr. Conway (Chief State Solicitor's Office), who prosecuted, said the ring, which had been sold by the defendant to an English jeweller visiting Limerick, and the watch, which had been recovered, but the £19 taken from Mr. Bolger's wallet was not. The £37 belonging to Mr. Edwards was not recovered either.

Mr. Conway said that Cregan made a statement in which he set out the details of how he effected the larcenies.

Accused asked was it necessary to read the statement which he had pleaded guilty to the charges. The reason he did not want to read, he said, was that some of the people mentioned in it might be present in court, and he did not want to embarrass them.

The justice directed that it be read. The statement read: "I resided at Newcastlewes until 1943. In that year I left home and went to work for McAuley's Amusements, Kilkenny. I remained working with McAuley until the month of January, 1948, when I left and came to Dublin. I went to reside at the Padua Hotel, Lower Mount St., and remained there for a week.

"About 8 p.m. one evening, after I had been about three days in Dublin, I went into the Shelburne Hotel and had a meal. I stayed downstairs until about 9.30 p.m. Then I went upstairs to the first floor, where I went into the gent's toilet. I went out through the window of the toilet on to the roof and I got in from the roof through a bedroom window which was open."

He went into another bedroom and hid under a bed in the statement continued. He stayed there until the occupants came in, went to bed and fell asleep.

He then came out from under the bed and took the watch from the inside pocket of a man's coat.

"I took a ring and a gent's watch which were on a dressing table in the room," the statement said. "I then left the room and stayed in a bathroom until morning. About 8 a.m. I came downstairs to leave the hotel. The porter said something to me, and I told him I was stopping in room 27 and I was going for a walk.

"A few nights afterwards," the statement went on, "I went into the Shelburne Hotel. I had a meal there at about 8.30 p.m. and then I went to the hotel and I got through a window on to the roof.

St. Patrick's Day.—It is a common belief amongst the older inhabitants of these parts that St. Patrick's Day always brings in its wake a change in the existing weather conditions. This year our beloved Saint exercised his privilege in no uncertain manner, as the dawn of the 17th appeared with a veritable downpour of rain, which continued in a cold drizzle for the greater part of the day, bringing to us, at the wildest and sunniest spring weather experienced in living memory.

ST. MOLLERAN'S FAIL IN REPLAY. In the replay of the junior hurling final at Dungarvan on Sunday St. Patrick's (Knockanore) had a point victory over the Eastern side, St. Molleran's (Carrickbeg). For three-quarters of the hour Knockanore were definitely superior in every department. Then came a terrific St. Molleran's offensive which almost took the game out of the fire, but the final whistle came too soon.

I Coursed And Tracked

(By DICK THE LIAR). (All Rights Reserved).

I was pleased to see that the I.C.C. have granted a licence to Youghal and I am sure that this track will be a great benefit to West Waterford and Co. Cork owners, situated as it is in one of the best breeding centres in Ireland. With proper management it should be a great success. It is to be hoped, however, that the controlling interests will be in the hands of local sportsmen and not run in conjunction with any other track, because, from experience, we are all aware that tracks do better—and as far as owners are concerned more satisfactory—if run independent of each other. Where two tracks are managed by the same directors the tendency is to keep all the good things for the home-town track and use the other just to keep up opposition. It is hoped to see an up-to-date track at Youghal with a good type hare, and not a glorified rabbit like most provincial tracks are using at the moment. Any new track now in the course of construction has no difficulty in being equipped with the latest type of material and money spent on up-to-date equipment is money well spent as the days when anything would do are gone and the present means of transport owners will go where they get most satisfaction. The Waterford track is now in full swing but so far the racing is very moderate and I haven't noticed many promising young dogs in action. It is rather early in the season yet but from now on we can be looking forward to seeing some of our future champions showing their paces. Perhaps when the prize money is increased some of the good ones might appear. It is interesting to note that Mr. Paddy O'Donoghue, of Shelbourne Park is now confining certain sales to good class dogs. This will, no doubt, help to check the breeding of useless greyhounds. At some of the recent Dublin sales the dogs offered were so bad that sixty per cent of them were not worth a bid of one guinea each. In fact I heard people remark they would not take them as a free gift. Something will have to be done to check the breeding of useless dogs, otherwise our export trade is in danger. Furthermore, a more open market will have to be encouraged at sales as at present there are a lot of shady transactions carried on with no benefit to the actual breeders and doing a lot of harm to the honest breeders. The time has come for a general overhaul of the greyhound industry as the honest breeders and sportsmen are being forced out of the game and, as I said before, some of the newcomers are not a credit to it.

LISMORE NOTES

THE NATIONAL FESTIVAL. St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in a truly fitting manner in Lismore and unusually large crowds began the day by receiving Holy Communion at the early Mass in St. Carthage's Church. Following the late Mass there was a band parade through the town, and despite the rain large numbers of the townspeople turned out to listen to the delightful selection of appropriate songs rendered by the Accordion Band. The children's ceilidhe and concert, which was held in the Courthouse at 7.30 p.m., was an unqualified success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The bilingual sketch presented by members of the Irish Class, was very well received, as also were the vocal items and exhibitions of step and figure-dancing. The attendance at the Ceilidhe Mor in the Happydrome from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. exceeded the most sanguine hopes of the promoters, and the function was one of the most successful ever. Despite numerous counter-attractions in the neighbouring towns, huge crowds from widely-scattered parts assembled at the Happydrome to enjoy a truly Irish night. During intervals there were further exhibitions of step and figure-dancing and numerous songs in Irish were contributed. The atmosphere of gaiety was heightened by the inclusion in the programme of some novelty dances for which many prizes were given. At the conclusion Mr. Tierney, on behalf of Cumann Gaedhach, thanked all who had attended, and paid a high tribute to the Lismore Ceilidhe Band for the excellent music supplied. The playing of the National Anthem brought to a close a night's enjoyment which will be remembered by all with pleasure.

F.C.A. DANCE.—A grand dance, under the auspices of the local F.C.A., will be held in Clashmore on Sunday night next. Music will be by Steve Sheehan's Aces and a great night is assured to patrons. For full details see advt. in this issue.
