SEQUEL TO ROW ON THE SQUARE

VAGRANTS SENT TO JAIL.

Application to Estreat Bails.

The Dungarvan District Court was held on Tuesday, before D. J. O'Riain.

BREACH OF LICENSING LAWS.

Supt. P. O'Mahony charged Mrs. Mary Egan, Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan, with a breach of the Licensing Laws on St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. T. C. Williams (J. F. Williams and Son), who appeared for the licensee, and two men to whom drink was served on the day in question pleaded guilty on behalf of his clients.

Supt. O'Mahony said this breach of the Licensing Laws came to light not in the ordinary way but through the death on March 18th of a young man who had taken drink on the previous day. The case could never be able to be brought only for the assistance given by the staff and the people in the bar. He thought there were extenuating circumstances in the case.

Mr. Williams said that as the Superintendent had stated, it was an unusual case. He could have defended the case, but as Mrs. Egan had always received nothing but kindness and consideration from the Guards, she and her son and the people in the bar gave every assistance to the Guards in the case.

The Justice said there were three days in the year the publicans were not allowed to serve drink and one of them was St. Patrick's Day. Normally if any case came before him of a licensing breach on these days he would have no hesitation in imposing a heavy fine and ordering the licensee to be removed from the premises. In this case, however, he must take into account extenuating circumstances. The people who were served with drink on that day entered the premises freely, and he must take into account that the prosecution could not be brought only on the admission made by the defendant in the bar and the staff. If these admissions were not made there would perhaps be no prosecution at all. He imposed a fine of £5 and no endorsement on the licensee and fined the men to whom the drink was served 2/6 each.

"RECORD HARD TO BEAT"

Supt. P. O'Mahony charged Mary C. Curran, Quay, with a breach of the Licensing Laws on last Good Friday by serving drink to two men found on the premises.

Mr. P. J. Morrissey (Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey) for the defendant, admitted the offence.

Supt. O'Mahony said that this offence also occurred on a closing day. He went on to explain that the two men found on the premises were engaged unloading a coal boat near the premises and it was a recognised thing among the dockers that they get "beer-time" or a short time off during the day for a drink. On this day a Guard saw the two men going in during this time-off and he had no other course but to go after them, where he found them on the premises.

Replying to the Justice, the Superintendent said the premises had a clean record back almost for a century. Mr. Morrissey said that the two men had been engaged unloading the boat on the previous day and had started the unloading on the following day—Good Friday. It was a custom from time immemorial that these men get, during the day, time off for a drink. On this occasion these two men rushed up from the boat and saw the licensee's brother. They asked him to let them in for a drink, but he did not want to, but they prevailed on him, and out of sympathy for them he let them in for a drink. This was the first prosecution in respect of these premises for 100 years, said Mr. Morrissey, and the same family was in possession of them all that time. He suggested that the case be held over.

Supt. O'Mahony said that he felt that this was a case in which the P.O.A. if there was power to apply it, could be applied.

The Justice said he could not do that. One of the difficulties was that this happened on a closed day. Continuing he said, that the remarks he made in the other licensing prosecution about the closed days applied in this case also, but there was a difference in that these premises had a record which would be hard to beat in any part of the country. The premises were held by the same family for nearly a century and there was never one prosecution during that time. Surely that must be

LARCENY OF FOWL.

Supt. O'Mahony charged D. Phelan, Carrigmore, Kilkenny, with the larceny of 7 fowl, the property of Mrs. K. Lynch, Killinane.

Mr. P. J. Morrissey for the defendant, pleaded guilty.

Supt. O'Mahony said on March 24th Mrs. Lynch and the members of her family were away from their home, with the exception of one son, a medical student, who had arrived the night before and was taking a rest. He heard a noise in the yard and got up from his bed and went to the window of the room. On looking out he saw the door of the fowl-house being closed and he went down but the man had got away. His brother came along and he told him what happened. They followed the defendant and caught him with 7 hens.

Replying to the Justice, Superintendent O'Mahony said an undertaking was given by the defendant, who is a labourer and was married.

Mr. Morrissey said that the defendant admitted taking them. His (Mr. Morrissey's) instructions were that one of the Lynch's spoke to the defendant and asked him what he had in the bag and he (defendant) said he was taking hens he stole from his (Mr. Lynch's) place. The defendant (said Mr. Morrissey) says that he did not know what came over him that day. He was in bad health and had 18 operations in two years. He regretted very much what happened and was prepared to give an undertaking that he would never do anything like it again.

Superintendent—One of the fowl was suffocated in the bag.

Mr. Morrissey said that was replaced by a live fowl on the following day. The Justice said that the larceny was a mean one because the defendant very probably knew that the members of this family were away that day. Fortunately for this family and unfortunately for the defendant, one of the members of the family was at home and the defendant was caught. He (Justice) did not want to send him to jail, but he felt that he must put a deterrent on him. He has been and the defendant was to be enforced if the defendant was of good behaviour for 12 months.

JAIL SENTENCES FOR VAGRANTS.

Sentences of one month each were imposed on four members of a family (including a woman) of the vagrant class, who were convicted of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. These were P. Connors, D. Connors, J. Connors and Margaret Connors, stated to be of no fixed abode.

Guard D. Begley said that on April 2nd defendants were fighting on the Square and he went to make peace between them but did not succeed. Witness tried to bring one of the defendants to the station but the other members of the family crowded around him, and if Sergt. Liddane had not come on the scene they would have assaulted him. Witness said that this was not the first time the Guards had trouble with defendants.

Sergt. Liddane bore out last witness's evidence and said that if he had not arrived on the scene there would have been a more serious charge against defendants. Witness added that the woman was worse than any of them, shouting and roaring.

P. Connors said he had only two drinks on the occasion and was not fighting.

Justice—So the Guards are only just imagining all they told me! Witness—I had no more drink than I told you.

D. Connors said he had a few drinks and was drunk. An argument started on the Square and he tried to make peace between them. He denied he was fighting.

Sergt. Liddane—What gave you that mark over your eye? Witness—I fell on the street.

Sergt. Liddane told the Justice that on several previous occasions the defendants had been fighting and rowing on the street, and the townspeople were tired of seeing them around the town.

Supt. O'Mahony said that one of the defendants had done a term in jail for breaking up a public-house in Ring some time ago.

The Justice then imposed a month's imprisonment on each of the defendants.

APPLICATION TO ESTREAT BAILS.

Supt. O'Mahony applied to estreat the recognisances in the case of N. Kennedy, Glendine, Dungarvan, in which Mr. N. Beresford had interinto recognisances in his own behalf of £200 with two sureties—Mr. E. Maher, Ballygavin, and Mrs. E. F. Denny, Flord House, Dungarvan—of £100 each.

Mr. P. J. Kenny (E. A. Ryan and Co.) for Mr. Beresford; Mr. A. R. Farrell (Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey) for Mr. Maher and Mrs. Denny. Mr. Kenny said that on the last occasion he did not appear for Mr. Beresford. He (Mr. Kenny) felt it his duty to speak on Mr. Beresford's behalf on this occasion. They had heard the evidence on the last occasion and there was no question about it but the defendant was totally incapacitated from appearing before the court. He (Mr. Kenny) need not go back on the case, but he did want to say that it seemed now that the actions of the defendant were of a serious nature, that he did not know at that time he had, and the few drinks he did take made him do a blackguardly act. It seemed that he should have taken steps to avoid drink, for the man was certainly ill and he had not the control of himself that a normal man has. He had an operation and that he was unable to work again. He was a small farmer and he had a wife and family to support.

Mr. Farrell said that the bails were £200 in Mr. Beresford's name and £100 each for his (Mr. Farrell's) clients. Mr. Farrell then referred to the question of bails and said that Mr. Maher was agreeable to go bail to save Mr. Beresford from gaol, and Mrs. Denny, who came into his office, when she heard of the present arrangement Mrs. Beresford was in she spontaneously said that she would go bail. Continuing, Mr. Farrell said that both of his clients knew the risks they were running. Mr. Maher often gave warnings to Mr. Beresford about drink and what would happen if he did not leave it alone.

Justice—Did they know of the risk? Mr. Farrell—Yes, they did know it. Justice—It was with that in view that I made the bails so high. I hoped that they would keep him straight.

Supt. O'Mahony said that this was the first application of this kind he had experience of. The State solicitor was unable to be present at the court, and the only point he wanted him (Superintendent) to stress was the precedent and that applications of this kind were not to be treated lightly.

D. O. P. Gordon gave evidence that Mr. Beresford was taken into custody in July last and brought to the court. He (Justice) then broke 12 panes of glass in a cell window. Witness was present in the District Court when the defendant was convicted, and witness was aware that he appealed to the Circuit Court and the District Court decision was affirmed.

Mr. Kenny at this stage pointed out that Mr. Beresford did not ask anyone to go bail for him and on that evening he went away to jail.

Mr. Farrell said that night to get two bails for him; that was done at his own request.

Mr. Kenny—I was not aware of that at all. The Justice said he had a certain amount of difficulty in this case. When Mr. Beresford had been charged before him some time ago he (Justice) deliberately fixed the amounts of the recognisances at a very high figure in the hope that Mr. Beresford would realise the seriousness of committing any future offence. That was the reason he fixed the recognisances at £200 in Mr.

Beresford's name and two sureties at £100 each. The Justice then referred to the previous sentence he imposed on Mr. Beresford if the sureties were not forthcoming. He appealed against it in the Circuit Court, but his (Justice's) decision was affirmed. The defendant had not served that sentence because of the state of his health. At the last court he heard the evidence of the doctor and it seemed now that he would never have to serve that sentence. The two sureties were fully aware of the evidence of the doctor and it seemed now that he would never have to serve that sentence. The two sureties were fully aware of the evidence of the doctor and it seemed now that he would never have to serve that sentence.

At the Children's Court, Supt. O'Mahony summoned a number of young boys with the larceny of tin-ber from Carriglea. One youth aged 17, was sent to jail for one month.

Superintendent O'Mahony said that the defendants were found by Guard Lacey with the tin-ber in their possession coming from Carriglea. The Justice said that steps must be taken—if necessary drastic steps—to stop this larceny of tin-ber from Carriglea. After imposing the sentence on the youth, the Justice warned the other defendants that if they came before him again he would send them to a reformatory. He fined them 5/- each.

I Coursed And Tracked

(By "DICK THE LIAR.")

DUNGARVAN dogs were in the limelight on Tuesday night week and my remarks on Mr. Jas. Fitzgerald's "Future Billy" were justified by his brilliant win in the Waterford Slakes. After a very moderate start he forced his way through to get up to win a great race in the last few yards. As I said in a previous issue with a bit of experience and faster trapping this dog will beat the best of them for he is a good game one. Another that ran well and in my opinion unlucky not to beat the hot dog "High Sport" in the Ballybricken Slakes is "Mahon Benks." But for getting into trouble after the third bend this one would have hotched another win for Dungarvan, but better luck next time, and one for your notebook.

On Saturday night it was strange to see "Wing Commander" actually thrown out the first race and, as it happened, he won by a "mile," but I don't think he was much benefited by his connections as the books were wiser "Snake" and his price 2 to 1 on did not encourage much business. Races of this kind are of no benefit to anyone and show a lack of judgement or just an unconcerned outlook by the handicapper. On Tuesday night week this dog was backed by a very shrewd crowd to beat an odds on favourite, "Single Station," and only for being badly interfered with would have won easily. Even the bad lights did not prevent most people from seeing this, but perhaps the handicapper was not looking.

I would like to see an improvement in the lighting system as it is almost impossible to follow the colours of the dogs on the back straight. Track lights should be hung across the track so as to throw the light downwards and not as at present around outside the track. Now the lights are outside the track and the lights are in the light as when the dog are in the traps ready to start all the lights are switched on the track surface and the result is perfect vision for the dogs and spectators. I may add that during the race every light around the stands are switched off, in fact, just like the picture house system. However, as time goes on let us hope to see big improvements all around.

"Bawndaw Blackie, 30.45 secs, and "Bilinski," 30.30 secs, proved themselves on Saturday night. I particularly liked the way the latter went about his business. After being left about four lengths at the break he came on well and had the race won at the third bend. It looked at one stage that "Great Ranger" was going to make a light finish but on the final furlong he could not cope with the winner's pace. Again the old saying "you can't beat breeding" (Smyth's Pergus-Katinka) proves itself. Another one to note is "Whit Wind." This dog, on his first trip around Waterford, "moved" useful when finishing three close up in 31 secs and is sure to win in that class next time.

The draw for traps before racing is a moving very popular amongst racing fans and I am looking to see that the form given on cards a little more helpful to backers by stating the number of the trap in previous outings. For example, "Bilinski," trap 5, all from "Great Ranger" in 20.45. This would give the card reader a better further help to spot a winner. So here's hoping.

It is with deep regret we record the death of Mrs. Dillon, Mitchell Street.

"THE RIGHTEOUS ARE BOLD"

MASTERY PRODUCTION BY LOCAL CLUB.

The Dungarvan Dramatic Club scored their most notable triumph to date with the production of "The Righteous Are Bold" at the Town Hall on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights of this week.

In her characterisation of "Nora Geraty," the possessed girl, Miss Betty O'Neill reached heights that stamps her as an actress of which any Dramatic Society, amateur or professional, could proudly boast of.

Next Sunday.—At Faha the home team play Coher Rangers, and the result is one which I would not care to forecast.

At Dungarvan there is only one game, as Kinsaleigh claim to be the second round and will not play Kilrossanty in junior hurling.

There are no championship games in the Lismore area, as Lismore Club stage an inter-county game between Sarsfield's (Cork) and Erin's Own (Waterford).

West Div. G.A.A. Notes

By An "RUNAIDHE." Last Sunday's Games.—The tilt-bit of the day was at Aglish, where Clashmore beat Finisk Hovers by 4 points to 3.

"Flitz" has not come to the turn of the road yet, and went down by a large margin. The football game was closely contested and some bright play was seen at times, but on the whole the standard was not good.
