CLAIM AGAINST E.S.B.

At the Lismore Circuit Court held in Dungarvan, before Judge Roe, the E.S.B. had a civil bill claim against Hugh O'Connor, Kiltree, Cappoquin, for £13 5s. being, it was stated, for damage to overhead cables, the property of the plaintiffs, due to the defendant's negligence in felling a tree at Cappoquin on May 29, 1947.

Mr. G. Clarke, B.L. (instructed by E. A. Ryan and Co., Solrs.) for the plaintiffs. Mr. J. A. D'Arcy, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey) for the defendant.

Mr. Clarke, outlining the facts of the action, said that the defendant informed the officials of the E.S.B. that he intended to fall a tree at Tivoli Avenue, Cappoquin. On one side of the area were the E.S.B. wires leading to the Boat Club and on the other side the wires were going along Mass Lane. The defendant thought that there might be a danger to the "Boat Club wires," and he informed the E.S.B. that they should remove them whilst he was felling the tree. The E.S.B. decided to remove them, which they did, but when the tree was falling down it was repaired. The "Boat Club wires" fell and damaged them, and the electricity supply was interfered with for over two hours.

On the next day the wires were repaired. Mr. Christopher Coleman, E.S.B. Supervisor for the area, said that on May 29 he was in Tivoli Avenue, Cappoquin, and saw the tree being cut on the net work of wires in Mass Lane. The tree was situated between two roads. It smashed the wires when it fell. They carried out the repairs at the time. It cost altogether £13 5s. between the man's time, wire and fuses, and they were two days repairing the wires. He said when they arrived on the day in question the tree was being cut. Witness had a conversation with defendant and asked him what wires should be removed. He (defendant) said that the ones to the Boat Club and that the wires in Mass Lane would be safe. Witness had the wires to be removed. He (defendant) added that it was only facilitating defendant they were.

Mr. Clarke—How did you facilitate him? Witness—By tapping the mains he suggested.

Cross-examined by Mr. D'Arcy, witness said he was accompanied by another man. When they arrived the tree was ready to be felled and he could not possibly put up a man to remove the other wires. Witness was definite that defendant said to him that there would be no danger to the wires in Mass Lane.

Mr. D'Arcy—Was there any conversation between you and this other man that was with you as to whether the switch was to be at the barracks or any other place?

Witness—No.

Mr. Clarke—If you turned off the switch there would be very little damage done? It would not be very little difference at all; the same damage would be done.

To a further question, witness said he did not climb up the pole to remove the wires and that if he removed to Mass Lane and that if he removed it would be a more difficult job.

Judge Roe—Suppose this tree fell down safely would you have charged Mr. O'Connor for taking down the wires? Witness—No.

Mr. J. Crowe, E.S.B. linesman, said that the defendant met him on the morning of the day the tree was felled and that he showed witness the tree that was to be felled, and in a conversation with witness said that he wanted to get away the Boat Club wires. Witness then went along Mass Lane and witness asked him whether there was a danger to the Boat Club wires. Defendant told witness that there wasn't. Witness asked him to lop the branches off the tree and he said that it would be no danger. Witness was responsible for any damage that might be done and would have to pay the expenses. Witness also told him to get on with the E.S.B. officials in Waterford. Witness met him on the following day and with the foreman witness went up to see the tree, and the defendant again said that there would be no danger to the Boat Club wires. Witness then went on to describe the way defendant told them he would cut the tree. When they were going away defendant told them that the tree was dangerous and that a representative of Cappoquin Estate Co. had asked him to remove it. Witness did not see the tree being felled, but saw the place afterwards. Witness agreed that it would take some time to take down the wires in Mass Lane. Defendant was a professional tree feller and sawyer.

Mr. C. Coleman, recalled, told the court that of the amount claimed £3 11s. was for material and the balance, £7 14s. 5d., for the men's time.

Hugh O'Connor, defendant, said he bought the tree for £10 from the Belmont Estate, and it was in a dangerous condition and he was going to fell it and asked him to come and have a look at it. He told witness that in a fortnight's time some men would be coming from Waterford to shift a pole and at the end of the fortnight the men came. Witness saw them working near the Co-op, and he walked over to them and met a Mr. O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien then came on the scene. Mr. O'Brien and witness did not come with them. Mr. O'Brien told witness that the wires should be removed and did not make any difference to the wires. He looked at the wires and he said they should be removed and that was all about it. He asked witness when he

I COURSED AND TRACKED

GRAND NATIONAL WON BY LIMERICK HURDLER.

THE jumping classic at Kilkenny turned out a great success and, as I pointed out in my earlier articles, we can always produce first-class hurdlers, and it only requires a little bit of encouragement from the backs to once again make the Grand National the premier classic. I remember in the old days on the Dublin tracks to see a far bigger crowd at the National final than any other race. It is an interesting fact that in the final of the 1939 Grand National at Harold's Cross, Lawyer's Bouquet was the winner. Witnessing the race that was between four hurdlers capable of covering 525 yards hurdles under 31.00 sec. The crowd was so big that even with extra turnstiles working in order to get the large crowds into the ground. That alone gives an idea how popular hurdling was in the old days.

THE entries in Kilkenny included dogs from across Channel, and considering the short notice given owing to the date of the season, the Kilkenny management accomplished a great feat.

THE result of the International contest was a disaster for the great disappointment to Irish breeders, the only consolation being an Irish bred dog trained in England was the winner, the sire, being the Easter Cup and St. Ledger, so the breeding tells again. Most people are agreed that we could have sent over a far better team to represent the country, but perhaps next time the selectors will do better, as their present visit to Manchester will have taught them a lesson, and probably next time selectors will be more representative of the greyhound breeders.

I HEAR the Newtown Club are leaving nothing undone to improve the meeting on the 8th December a record one, and with plenty of old coursing men in the district, there is no reason to doubt that this meeting will be a success. The park is nicely situated, convenient to Waterford, Kilmacthomas and Dungarvan, and the day being a Church holiday should draw a bumper crowd.

THE official track season is now closed, and during the next couple of weeks each track will run a few benefit meetings, so from now until March the longhairs will be enjoying their natural sport, coursing, and some lucky owners will be looking forward to the time-honoured event of filling the cup.

was going "to operate" and witness said he would be able to do it that evening, and he said to witness could he "operate" in the morning and witness said he could. Witness was then told by Mr. O'Brien that on going back that night he would get two men in Dungarvan to remove the wires and if they wouldn't be able to come he (witness) would be phoned about it. On the following morning witness and his brother went to fell the tree and they met Mr. Crowe, who told them it would be all right, that the men were coming. Witness commenced "to operate" and cut some of the tree and then went to their dinner. When they came back the two men arrived after a while and they went up on the tree to take down the wires. Witness then went on to describe how the tree fell after "one of them had said to leave down the tree." The tree fell and cut the branches which broke the wires. When the wires broke Mr. Coleman said it was a pity, and that it would only take a few minutes to get the wires up. Witness said that Mr. Coleman told him that it did a lot of damage up the town and that he (witness) would have to pay for it. He asked witness for his name and address. Mr. Crowe said going away that "a couple of bullocks would pay for it."

Mr. Clarke—If the tree was dangerous when it was standing would it not be twice as dangerous to cut it half way when you went to your lunch? Witness—I could cut it down to the size of a match and it would stand.

To further questions, witness said he did not cut it to fall in the direction of any of the wires. Witness cut it to fall between the wires and road. The tree was 75 feet high.

Raymond McCarthy said he was present when the tree was felled and saw the two E.S.B. men go up pole nearest the tree and take down the wires to the Boat House.

Mr. D'Arcy—Did you hear either of these men ask Mr. O'Connor if there was any danger to the Mass Lane wires? No.

Richard O'Connor, brother of defendant, said he was present when the tree was felled and saw the E.S.B. men arrive. Witness saw them go up the pole and remove the wires. Witness heard a conversation between them about switches and one of them said that it was at Mason's corner now. Witness heard a witness say that there was no guarantee about the tree falling as nothing might happen.

Michl. Byrnes was also present at the felling of the tree, also gave evidence.

Judge Roe said he was prepared to accept the evidence of Mr. Coleman and Mr. Crowe rather than the evidence of Mr. O'Connor that the defendant did say that there would be no danger to these wires. He gave a decree for the full amount claimed.

DUNGARVAN U.D.C.

Mr. T. McCarthy, chairman, presided at the meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council on last Friday night. Also present—Messrs. A. A. Kyne, T.D.; M. Clancy, Senator J. Butler and E. Deery, clerk.

Water Cut Off Without Notice. Mr. Clancy raised the matter of the water being cut off last week without notice. He didn't know what was wrong or why it was cut off. It was a hardship on the people that got no notice of it.

The Chairman said that Mr. Brown told him that it would not happen again. They were getting hoses and it did not turn out as he thought it would as they had not the hoses ready and it wasn't until the following Monday that the supply came through.

Mr. Clancy—it seems to be all right since, but I think notice should have been given.

Chairman—I agree with you that notice should be given. If it happens in the future notice should be given.

Local Authorities (Superannuation) Act.—The question of the adoption or not of the Local Authorities (Superannuation) Act, 1946, was next considered by the meeting. The Clerk explained to the members the purpose of the Act and its application.

Mr. Kyne said that the Act was brought in by the last Government and it was one of the best social Acts they brought in.

Replying to Senator Butler, Mr. Kyne said that most of the employees of the Council to whom he spoke about it were in favour of it.

Mr. Clancy said he fully agreed with the Act. At the moment a man would get nothing for his time, but this Act would give him something for his time.

Senator Butler said that under the Act a man paying for insurance against old age.

Mr. Clancy—I wonder how is it received all over the country?

Mr. Kyne—Dublin Corporation adopted it. I propose that we adopt it. It is a good thing for the men, because they will take an interest in their work when they know they will get a pension.

Mr. Clancy seconded.

The following resolution was passed: "That the Council do recommend the Local Authorities (Superannuation) Act, 1946, be adopted as from November 20, and that a committee be appointed to consider the effect of the Act on the Council's permanent servants is 9."

Emergency Housing Association.—The Emergency Housing Scheme, a report of the Emergency Association setting out their aims and objects and their efforts to solve the housing problem. Senator Butler said he thought that the Minister in charge was doing very good work. He was taking great interest in housing and was spending it up all over the country.

Mr. Kyne said he saw little point in joining this Association.

The circular was marked read.

Abbeyside Housing Scheme.—A report on the progress of the Abbeyside Housing Scheme by the Acting Borough Surveyor was read.

Mr. Kyne said that even since the time the report was made things had gone further ahead. The work done there was excellent.

Senator Butler said that they were all anxious to know what the houses would cost when built.

The Clerk said that the estimated cost of the houses was £106,202, which included cost of land, preliminary expenses, legal fees, etc.

Senator Butler—That covers everything? Clerk—Yes.

To a further question by Senator Butler the Clerk said that they had acquired some of the sites in Gallops Hill and negotiations were going on about the others.

Mr. Clancy raised the question if the whole scheme of houses was to be completed first or if 48 houses were to be completed first and the rest of the scheme continued after that. If the 48 were finished first they would know where they were.

The Clerk said that all the houses would not be completed at the one time.

Castle Street Residents' Complaint.—Writing in connection with damage to the gable end of a house in Castle Street referred to him for legal opinion, Mr. T. C. Williams, solicitor to the Council, stated that in view of the fact that the adjoining houses were knocked down by the owners of the houses and not by employees of the Council, he did not think the Council was liable for repairing the damage done.

The Chairman said that the Council made the order for the houses to be knocked, and only for the Council making that order the houses would not be knocked and Mrs. Kely would not suffer.

Senator Butler—Is he (solicitor) aware that it was on an order from the Council that the people who owned these houses knocked them down?

Clerk—He did. I said that in my letter to Mr. J. McGrath and Dr. Casey could be acquired by the Council as derelict sites.

A report by the Acting Borough Surveyor stated that the sites at Abbeyside and Gallops Hill were not sufficient to meet the housing needs of the town.

Mr. Clancy said that the Boreenara site was the only residential area in the town and he would like to see the houses built there. They should however, prevent any further buildings being put up there. He thought they had that power.

It was agreed that the Manager be requested to prevent owners from

Late Mr. Thomas Ryan, Aglish.

The death of Mr. T. Ryan, Aglish, Cappoquin, which took place at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, at the age of 54, was learned with deep regret in his native parish of Kiltrossanty. Son of Mrs. Ryan, Frisky Street, Dungarvan, and the late Mr. Roger (Roddy) Ryan, Leamybrien, Kiltrossanty, the deceased was employed by the Waterford County Council in the capacity of overseer. A lifelong staunch supporter of the games and pastimes of the Gael, he was in his earlier years a brilliant exponent of the big ball code and captained the notably formidable Kiltrossanty team of that period, which combination, incidentally, also included his equally good brothers, Mattie and Paddy and his brother-in-law, John Power (whose son, Jimmie, is an outstanding player on the present Kiltrossanty senior set). The possessor of many fine qualities of head and heart, he lived for his family and his work and was held in the highest regard by all who had the pleasure of knowing him, and the sincere sympathy of all goes out to his amiable wife (nee O'Brien) and family in their sad bereavement.

About 25 years ago he was very seriously injured in an explosion during the course of his work at Clashmore quarry, injuries which were a telling factor in his all-too-early demise. He was a member of the Old I.R.A. and played an active part in the Fight for Freedom.

The funeral to Aglish Church on Monday evening was of huge dimensions. On arrival at Aglish Church the remains were received and blessed by Rev. D. Power, C.C. Requiem Masses were offered up for the happy repose of his soul on Tuesday morning and at 2 p.m. that day interment was made in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of another large gathering. Rev. D. Power, C.C., again officiated.

The immediate chief mourners were—Mrs. Margt. Ryan (widow), Roger and Margaret (children), Mrs. Alice Ryan (mother), John, Paddy, Matt Ryan (brothers), Mrs. J. Power, Alice Ryan (sisters), John Power, Ter. O'Brien (brothers-in-law).

Wedding Bells.—The wedding took place at St. John's Church, Waterford, on last Friday morning, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, of Mr. John J. Moloney, Ppke, Dungarvan, and Nurse Eileen Drea, District Hospital, Dungarvan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. T. Ahearne, C.C., The Cathedral. The best man was Mr. Patrick Moloney, brother of the bridegroom, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mona Drea and Miss Mai O'Sullivan. Believe me, Waterford Nurse Drea, who was given away by her brother, wore a navy two-piece with accessories and headress to match. Following the reception, which was held in the Granville Hotel, the happy couple left on their honeymoon in Dublin and London.

He thought it would be an injustice if this woman had to pay for the work.

The meeting agreed that the Manager be recommended to pay Mrs. Kely compensation for the plastering of the gable.

Repairs to Houses.—The Clerk informed the members that notices had been served on certain landlords to carry out repairs to certain houses.

Arising from this, the Chairman said that tenants of houses in Shandon had informed him that the agent of the landlord of the houses had told them that the Council was in respect of a clerk's works on the excursion train service on Sunday, September 5, All-Ireland Final day. The letter stated that seven specials were dispatched from Kingsbridge on that Sunday to the Waterford area. Passengers in excess of the seating accommodation, notwithstanding the fact that announcements were made over loudspeakers at the station that other trains were to follow. Numerous spare seats were available in the last two trains.

Mr. Kyne said there was one point he would like to know from C.I.E. and that was why was Waterford Station left in darkness.

Deelish Main.—The Council agreed to additional expenditure of £26 for the employment of a clerk's works on the cleaning of the Deelish water main.

Boreenara Sites.—A letter from the Council's solicitor stated that in his opinion the sites owned by Mr. Ballot, Mr. J. McGrath and Dr. Casey could be acquired by the Council as derelict sites.

A report by the Acting Borough Surveyor stated that the sites at Abbeyside and Gallops Hill were not sufficient to meet the housing needs of the town.

Mr. Clancy said that the Boreenara site was the only residential area in the town and he would like to see the houses built there. They should however, prevent any further buildings being put up there. He thought they had that power.

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT

The Dungarvan Circuit Court was held on Wednesday, before Judge Roe.

Wife's Action Against Husband.—This was a civil bill under Married Woman's Property Act, 1884, at the suit of Mrs. Mary Frances O'Neill, 28, Tara Road, Dublin, against her husband, John O'Neill, farmer, Ralph, Glencairn, claiming an injunction against him to restrain him from trespassing on the plaintiff's lands at Ralph, and from selling the stock, chattels and farming effects thereon.

Mr. J. A. D'Arcy (instructed by E. A. Ryan and Co.) for plaintiff.

Mr. T. C. Williams (J. F. Williams and Son, Solrs.) appearing for an adjournment, said that defendant came to him that morning and asked him to appear for him. He (Mr. Williams) told him that he would appear but that it would have to be adjourned to the next Circuit Court sitting.

Mr. D'Arcy said he would strenuously oppose any adjournment and if the case was to be heard he would apply to have it heard in camera.

His Lordship said he would adjourn it to the Waterford Circuit Court on next Friday to give the defendant an opportunity of filing a defence; if that were filed he would adjourn the action to the next Circuit Court.

Payment Out of Court.—Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., on behalf of Philomena Flynn, Finnisk Bridge, Cappoquin, applied for the payment out of court of £46 16s. 10d. (National Loan) and £32 5s. 6d. in cash lodged to the credit of the applicant. The application was granted.

National Bank v. Foley.—An application was made by the National Bank, Ltd., in the mortgage suit against the late Leo Foley, Ballinacorney, to appoint Senator J. Butler, Dungarvan, as administrator ad litem for the purpose of the suit and to appoint a person to execute a copy of the inventory of the premises at O'Connell St. to Mr. Jas. Kely, Undertaker, Dungarvan, the purchaser.

Judge Roe said although Senator Butler was a proper person to appoint as administrator, he thought there should be some information about the members of the family of the late Mrs. Foley if they were willing to accept administrator or not.

His Lordship adjourned the suit to November 12th at the request of the defendant and in the meantime directed that notice of case be served on the next-of-kin (if any).

Mr. G. Clarke (instructed by J. F. Williams and Son) for plaintiffs.

F. Williams and Son) for plaintiffs.

Knockmeal v. Kate Power.—This was an application for a conditional order of attachment and garnishee in respect of a debt of £47 11s. 5s. due by Kate Power, Kiltrossanty, Ballinacorney, to the plaintiffs.

A certified copy of the judgment by default in respect of debt was produced, dated July 28th, 1940.

It was stated that Kate Hickey, Kiltrossanty, was indebted to defendant Ellen Power for the sum of £100, together with interest by virtue of an indenture of transfer and release dated 2nd November, 1946 by which Kate Hickey covenanted to pay the sum of £30 to defendant and Ellen Power.

His Lordship granted the order to be made absolute at the February, 1949 Circuit Court.

Mr. E. W. Bacon, B.L. (instructed by J. F. Williams and Son) for the plaintiffs.

Ejectment Suit Settled.—A settlement was announced and made a rule of court in the ejectment case in which claim of the plaintiff against the defendant, and until such time as this sum is paid, the decree is to be issued. Mr. G. Clarke, B.L. (instructed by Mr. Kely, solr., Waterford) for plaintiff; Mr. J. A. D'Arcy, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey) for defendant.

TALLOW NOTES

Successful 45 Drive.—Despite many counter-attractions a very successful 45 Drive promoted by the committee was held at the Temperance Hall on Sunday night, and the patronage recorded reached a higher level than on previous occasions, and it is hoped that throughout the card season the same lively interest will be maintained. As is customary at this centre very keen and close play was in evidence from the first deal at the various tables, and similar close play developed throughout the second and third rounds, the semi-finals and finals reaching a new highwater level in which quite a few thrills were shared by the contestants and on-lookers. The eventual winners were Messrs. M. Curley, Convent St., and J. Leahy, Parkdolia; 2nd prize going to Messrs. P. Hogan, Chapel Street, and J. Griffin, Carraglass; 3rd prize-winner being Messrs. J. Conroy, Kilmacow, and Matthew Tobin, Tallo Hill.

WATERFORD BOARD OF ASSISTANCE Report On Conference With Minister.

HOSPITALISATION SCHEME. The Minister for Health received the deputation appointed by the Board in connection with the Hospitalisation Scheme at the County Hospital, Waterford, on the 21st October, 1948.

The following members of the deputation were present—Senators Butler and Goulding, Mrs. Redmond, T.D.; Messrs. P. Caulfield, chairman; T. A. Krone, T.D.; S. J. Moynihan, C. Manager; M. Flynn, secretary; Dr. D. T. McCarthy and the Mayor, Chairman of the Waterford County Council, J. G. Dowling, Secretary, and Dr. V. J. White, Surgeon, County Hospital were also in attendance.

Mr. Caulfield, chairman, having extended a welcome to the Minister on his visit to Waterford, put forward the claim of the city to a new County Hospital. He said the present hospital was erected over 100 years ago as a workhouse hospital and very little improvement had been made in it since, with the result that it had to be run on the lines of a modern hospital and was entirely unsuitable for catering and for the needs of the population.

McCarthy stated that now that the Minister had been through the hospital, he would see the necessity for having a new hospital erected at Waterford, and that while he was in agreement with the chairman as to the necessity for a new hospital at Waterford, he was particularly anxious to see that a new hospital at Dungarvan, where a site had been acquired many years ago and the plans were drawn, was not abandoned. He failed to understand the cause of the delay in proceeding with the work of building the hospital which was so urgently required.

Dr. McCarthy stated that the Dungarvan District Hospital had 32 beds and those were always occupied and it frequently happens that applications of patients for admission have to be refused through want of accommodation. This, he said, could be easily understood when it is remembered that this hospital serves the whole West Waterford and a good portion of East Waterford and that the amount of surgical work that there is done there is greater than most District Hospitals, the number of operations performed there annually being between 500 and 600. Sometimes in order to admit urgent cases, he had to discharge convalescents before he would wish to do so if he had sufficient beds. At one time he was able to transfer such cases to the County Home Hospital, but that avenue was now closed as the County Hospital was overcrowded. The Minister said that a new hospital, with a much larger number of beds and proper provision for maternity cases, was urgently required.

Dr. White, surgeon to the County Hospital, said that he was in favour of a new County Hospital, but he was not in favour of the proposal that the County Home Hospital should be converted into a new hospital, which he thought was entirely inadequate. In his opinion, provision should be made for at least 200 beds.

In reply to the deputation, the Minister stated that applications for new hospitals had been received from every county, and if all of these had been granted the cost would be about £17,500,000 whereas the money available from the Sweepstakes Funds would be only about £2,000,000, and it was necessary, therefore, to proceed with the urgent cases only and to defer the present applications from counties in which the hospital conditions, though not all that might be desired, were such as would enable the responsible to carry on until the advent of better times. Housing, too, was, he said, the most urgent problem at the moment and must be given to work of this nature. He pointed out that an hospital of 200 beds such as had been proposed for Waterford would have cost £250,000. Proceeding, he said, that he had just been through the County Hospital and with regard to some of the remarks made by members of the deputation as to its backward condition, he would like to say that he had seen many hospitals which would not compare with the standard of his institution. He thought that with certain improvements in the kitchen and in the heating of the hospital, together with the provision of a suitable X-ray plant, the hospital would be able to carry on until conditions had so much improved that the erection of a new hospital could again receive due consideration. An application for a grant for these improvements would, he said, be favourably considered. He also stated that he would like to give further consideration to the question of erecting a new hospital at Dungarvan in view of the statement of Dr. McCarthy as to the present conditions in the existing hospital there. The County Manager informed the Minister that the reason more extensive repairs and improvements were not carried out all along in the County Hospital was due to the general assumption that a new hospital would be erected after the emergency and now that the position had been clarified by the Minister, steps would be taken to have a survey made of the hospital's requirements so as to have the building put in the best condition possible.

SENATOR PATRICK MURPHY (Waterford) was also present.

WATERFORD BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

Councillor P. Caulfield, chairman, presided at a special meeting of the Waterford Board of Assistance at Dungarvan, on Tuesday. Also present—Messrs. M. McGrath, M.C.C., M. O'Ryan, M.C.C.; Senator J. Butler, M.C.C.; T. A. Kyne, T.D.; Mr. C. Aid. Kennedy; Waterford Corporation; Councillors "Fad" Brown and P. O'Connor, do. Mr. M. O. Flinn, secretary, was also present.

Hospitalisation.—The Chairman said he had called the meeting in view of what happened at the conference with the Minister and the promises made by the Minister in connection with the County Hospital and the Dungarvan Hospital. They should go straight away and try to get something done. He didn't know if these were the plans for the Dungarvan Hospital. They have them years ago.

Councillor O'Connor said he protested emphatically against this circular in connection with the hospitalisation scheme. He for one believed he was voicing the views of the majority of the citizens of Waterford. Twenty years ago, as Ald. Kennedy pointed out, Waterford was getting a new hospital, and from the suggestions that they could see that it would be 20 or 30 years before they would have a new hospital in Waterford. In connection with the visit of the Minister, he thought it was a pity that the Minister was unfortunately away that day, but he had visited the hospital since and he was amazed at the work done there. The dirt and filth of years had been swept away for the purpose of the Minister's visit to camouflage the whole idea that Waterford did not need a new hospital. He thought it was a pity that the Minister was a doctor he (Minister) was pandering to some interest not to have a new hospital in the city.

The Chairman said that after the Minister's visit to the County Hospital he said it was a pity that it was necessary to have a new hospital in Waterford City, but said a new hospital in Dungarvan would be given consideration.

Councillor O'Connor agreed that a new hospital in Dungarvan was necessary, but he would insist that there was a need for a new hospital in Waterford City and now was the time to build it. It was being said that materials were scarce, but he (Mr. O'Connor) thought if steps were taken by the Government and those concerned it could be built. They could see certain building materials being devoted to certain buildings. Mr. O'Rourke said that materials were scarce, but he held that the people were fooled by the promises last February of all the things that would be done for them and now nothing was being done for them. They made promises about building hospitals, but they were not being fulfilled.

Senator Butler—they are definitely going on with the building of hospitals. Mr. O'Ryan—they made all kinds of promises and it is clear now that they are not being fulfilled. Senator Butler—There will be a hospital in County Waterford next year. There is a big hospital at Ardkeen with 200 beds. The hospitals are going up. Mr. O'Ryan—I'm not blaming them at all about the scarcity of materials. I believe there is a scarcity. But the people were fooled with all the promises.

Senator Butler suggested that a survey be made of the County Hospital by a competent person. Mr. O'Ryan said that the County Hospital there was plenty of accommodation, but in Dungarvan hospital it was the very opposite, where patients have to be sent away. Senator Butler pointed out, to make room for surgical cases. Councillor O'Connor said that he came to the conclusion that the representatives of the city put up a bad case.

The Chairman has read a list of impressive names for the County Hospital and these included a new kitchen, central heating, new bedrooms and annex for patients, new X-ray department, etc. Ald. Kennedy thought that Senator Butler's suggestion about a survey was a good one. Senator Butler—There seems to be no hope of a new hospital there. Chairman—No, he said that. Councillor O'Connor—I would like to point out that what the Minister saw was the hospital at its best. Senator Butler then proposed, and Ald. Kennedy seconded, that the Board recommend to the Manager that Messrs. Cunningham Bros., architects, Waterford, be asked to make a complete survey of the County Hospital in conjunction with the County Manager with a view to having it put into proper repair and to carrying out necessary improvements.

The resolution was unanimously passed. Dungarvan Hospital.—The Secretary said that he regards the Dungarvan Hospital he didn't think that they could consider anything about that that day. The Minister said he would consider it, and he (Secretary) thought that when he had considered it he would let the Board know. To Mr. O'Connor, the Secretary said that Dr. McCarthy had made a detailed report to the Manager. Mr. Kyne said that he understood that from what the Minister said at the conference that he was to get further information about it. Dr. McCarthy had now made a report and that would go to the Minister. Senator Butler—The only thing about Dungarvan Hospital is to ask the Minister to give it his immediate attention.

Chairman—He must have an estimate of what it will cost. Senator Butler—they have an estimate in the Department since a number of years ago and the engineers there know how to bring that up to the moment. Mr. O'Ryan said that the position as regards Dungarvan Hospital was not able to walk around as in other places. They were not going to do anything that was not the most necessary cases that could be treated. Senator Butler agreed. He said that they should compliment Dr.

People who travel by C.I.E. bus are affected, particularly as they have to walk across the full length of the structure in all weathers. On all sides one hears criticism of the fact that proper attention is not given to the bridge for these people. It is a matter which should receive immediate attention by those responsible.

McCarthy on the case he made for Dungarvan Hospital to the Minister.—The Chairman said that he had told him that the Minister had seen the map of the above area and he was really horrified that people had to travel 15 miles to the dispensary. Dr. Shipsey's Report.—A report from Dr. Shipsey, County Hospital, relative to the report made by Mr. Kyne regarding the refusal of T.E. patients in the male ward, County Hospital, to take their dinner on July 6th as a protest against the food served, was read. In the report Dr. Shipsey said he had little to add to the report of the matron (read at a previous meeting). Mr. Kyne said he was satisfied that his complaint was all right and it had not been denied in any form. Since he made his report it had cleared the air and improved things there. Chairman—I visited the hospital since and I can assure you that everything is well looked after.

Kilmacthomas Notes.

Happy Event.—Very esteemed figures in the business life of Kilmacthomas are Mr. and Mrs. David Power, and their many friends and well-wishers on both sides of the Mahon now unite in cordially congratulating the estimable pair on their recent happy event—the birth of a son.

By the Way.—Garda Michael O'Sullivan, who replaces Garda Patk Russell (retired) at Kilmacthomas Station, belongs to Kilmacthomas, Co. Kerry.

Festivals.—Sunday (Festival of Christ the King) and Monday (Feast of All Saints) a holiday of obligation, and here in mid-Waterford, as elsewhere in the diocese, Masses in the churches were at the same hours as on Sundays, and there were large numbers of Communicants at the earlier Masses. Capacity congregations also assisted at the Masses on Tuesday (All Souls Day).

Postponed.—Owing to unforeseen circumstances, W. Heppstow's 2-act comedy titled "To-day and Yesterday" which the Comersgh Amateurs Dramatic Society intended staging at the Cinema Hall, Kilmacthomas, on Tuesday night last, will not be presented at this popular centre until Saturday night of next week.

From the Past.—The "Waterford News" issue dated October 29, 1896, carried the following account of a meeting of the County Waterford Board, G.A.A., the semi-final between Erin's Hope (Dungarvan) and Kilmacthomas was arranged to be played in Cappoquin on Sunday next. Mr. Tracey referred.

R.I.P.—Mrs. Ellen Barry, relict of the late Mrs. Garrett Barry, farmer, Stradbally, died at Dungarvan Hospital on Monday, 25th ult., after a protracted illness and in the fullness of her years. A member of an old and highly respected family—the Harneys of Knockeylan Upper, Kilmacthomas—she was a fine type of Irish Catholic womanhood, and worthily enjoyed a most expansive circle of firm friendships. Deceased was sister of Mr. Patk. Harney, Knockeylan Upper; Mrs. B. Hayes, Ballyduff, Kilmacthomas; and Mrs. A. Cunningham, Canada, to whom many expressions of sincere sympathy have been tendered. Her funeral to the family burial ground in the cemetery adjoining St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilmacthomas, took place on Wednesday evening week, and was large and representative. Very Rev. M. J. Hackett, P.P., do, officiated at the graveside.

Death of Mrs. Walsh.—We regret to record the demise of Mrs. Catherine (Kate) Walsh, relict of the late Mr. James Walsh, licensed vintner and farmer, Stradbally, which happened at her home after a short illness borne with true Christian fortitude and resignation. Because of her many kindly and generous acts, which were in keeping with her naturally pleasing and hospitable nature, the deceased lady was much loved and esteemed by all who knew her. On Thursday evening week (29th ult.) the remains, accompanied by a cortege of immense proportions, were removed to St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilmacthomas, where, on the following morning Requiem Masses were celebrated for the eternal welfare of her soul, and the burial took place afterwards in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers, and amid every manifestation of profound sorrow. Very Rev. M. J. Hackett, P.P., Kilmacthomas, and Rev. D. Dawson, C.C., do, officiated at the graveside. Many Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. The late Mrs. Walsh was sister of Mother Alphonsus, Convent of Mercy, Carrick-on-Slipe; and of Mrs. Margaret Sexton Darrow. R.I.P.

Dixie Y.M.C.A.—That the youth and beauty of the Baronies are on the qui vive for the grand dance (in aid of School Funds) taking place at Kill on Sunday night, 21st inst., the arrangements for which are

Feast of Christ the King.—The Feast of the Kingship of Christ was observed with great devotion last evening on Sunday last in the church of Fourmilewater and Nire. At the Masses celebrated in the respective churches sermons by the officiating clergy on a moderate subject were listened to with rapt attention by the large congregations present. Many of whom approached the altar to receive their Eucharistic Lord in Holy Communion. The sight, a truly edifying one, bespoke of the homage paid to the King of Kings by the faithful of those two parishes. Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was also imparted.

Death in Exile.—The news has just come to hand of the death, which took place recently at the home of his adoption in U.S.A., of Mr. John Whelan, a most estimable gentleman aged 80, after a brief illness. Deceased was a native of Kilkenny Gap, Ballymacarbery, from where he emigrated to America. He was brother of Mr. Patk. Whelan, Barrack Street, Ballymacarbery; and Mrs. Patk. Fennessy, Reendunbeg, near Cappoquin. Mr. Whelan was born in Nire Road, do., to whom as well as other relatives in the district we extend our very sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement. R.I.P.

All Saints and All Souls.—Monday and Tuesday of this week past All Saints Day and All Souls Day, respectively, were days of special devotion throughout the area. In the churches of both parishes Masses and devotions were attended by large congregations, to whom All Souls Day has a very special meaning, a day which commemorates the memory of loved ones whom death has taken from our homes but never from our hearts.

Sympathy.—To Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ryan, Newtown, Ballymacarbery, we unite in extending our deep and sincere sympathy in their recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of an infant child of theirs, which sad event took place recently.

To the family and relatives of the late Mr. Patrick Downey, Woodhouse, Ballinacat, also goes out a great word of sympathy on the occasion of their sad bereavement and loss. R.I.P.

Halfway Calling.—All roads lead to the halfway on Sunday night when a grand dance under the auspices of Knockmeal Race Committee will be held at this very popular dancing centre. All arrangements are now completed, and a splendid night's entertainment is assured to all patrons. Jackie Murray and his famous dance band will supply the music for the occasion. All are welcome.

in the hands of a live-wire local committee, who will leave nothing undone to provide for the comfort and enjoyment of their patrons.

That the newly-formed Newtown, Kilmacthomas and District Open Coursing Club, initial meeting has been fixed for Wednesday, December 8th next, in a suitable field kindly lent by the well and popularly known Newtown sporting farmer, Mr. James Wall.

That the best growers of these parishes are now busily engaged in getting out the crop.

That the beet crop is a particularly good one this year, and excellent financial returns are expected.

Felicitations.—Bantry (Co. Cork) born Mr. Peter J. O'Sullivan is a horticultural instructor (under the Waterford Co. Committee of Agriculture) covering the heart of the date and fertile Deise country, and in warmly congratulating the genial official on his marriage to Miss Anne O'Callaghan, Youngals, which took place in Cork last week—we wish him and his charming life-partner all prosperity and happiness for the future.

Ballyduff, Knockanore and Moorehill Notes.

Feast of the Kingship of Christ.—The Feast of the Kingship of Christ was observed in the usual solemn manner in Ballyduff on Sunday. A large number received Holy Communion in honour of the feast day. After second Mass there was Exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament, which continued until the evening devotion, which concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. During the devotions of the Act of Consecration of the human race to the Sacred Heart was read. All day large numbers of the faithful visited the church to pay homage to their Lord and Master. The high altar was artistically decorated for the occasion by the appropriate hymns were rendered by the Church Choir in a very devotional manner.

Why No Light at Station House?—The Blackwater village has been chosen one of the six areas in the country which is to have a residential agricultural expert under the Agriculture Department Scheme. The scheme is being administered through the local Guild of Muintir na Tíre and all farmers in the Parish Council are waiting to see whether they want an expert who will advise them on all problems connected with the farm. It is not likely that the Agricultural Department man will come to stay to the village. Ballyduff is rapidly becoming a model co-operative village. The village committee must be attributed to Muintir na Tíre. For years the villagers groped their way through dark winters until the Guild brought light and power, but C.I.E. abstained and the villagers are very disappointed. Passengers and goods lorries leave the village, and many of the villagers are very disappointed. Passengers and goods lorries leave the village, and many of the villagers are very disappointed. CAPPOQUIN NOTES

Feast of the Kingship of Christ.—Vespers and Masses were witnessed in St. Mary's Church on Sunday last when the usual sacred ceremonies in connection with the Feast of the Kingship of Christ were celebrated. Huge numbers of the faithful attended both Masses and received Holy Communion. Following the second Mass the Blessed Sacrament was exposed on the high altar, which was beautifully decorated, and adoration continued throughout the day till evening devotions. On Monday, the Feast of All Souls, huge numbers again attended the three Masses and received Holy Communion.

Late Mr. Wm. Bolger.—It is with feelings of deep regret we record the death of Garda Wm. Bolger, which sad and unexpected demise occurred at St. Patrick's Hospital, Waterford, on Friday morning, 29th October. Although deceased had not been in the best of health for some time, his death was by no means expected, and therefore came as a great shock to all particularly to his bereaved wife and young family, who are now left to mourn his loss. A deceased had given over 25 years of faithful service to the forces and was in the prime of life when his untimely death occurred. To his bereaved wife and family our very deepest sympathy is extended in their great sorrow and loss. On Friday evening the remains were removed to St. Mary's Church, followed by one of the largest and most reverent processions ever seen in Cappoquin for many years. A Guard of Honour of over 30 Guards was formed in Waterford under Inspector Bolger's direction. The cortege proceeded to the outskirts of the city. Before entering Cappoquin it was again met by another Guard of Honour under the direction of Mr. Bolger. Huge crowds from the town and district were also present to meet the sad procession. Rev. Fr. McGrath, P.P., received and blessed the remains. On Saturday morning the Requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul and the funeral took place to St. Declan's Cemetery at 11 o'clock, when the interment took place in the presence of another huge and representative gathering. The coffin was draped in the Tricolor and a Guard of Honour of a large number of his comrades in the Garda Force was assembled at the graveside. Mr. McGrath, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. Dumphy, C.C., headed the cortege and officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were—Mrs. Mary Bolger (widow); Tony, Gerard, Charles, Joseph (sons); Frances, Loretta, Teresa, Stella, Philomena (daughters); Thomas Bolger, Kiltigan, Co. Wicklow (brother); Laurence Bolger, do. (brother); Edward Bolger, California, U.S.A. (brother); Miss Mary Bolger; Miss Margaret Bolger (daughters-in-law); Mr. Michael Murphy, Rhode, Offaly (brothers-in-law); Miss Bridie Murphy (widow); Miss Teresa O'Neill, do. (cousins). Also present at the funeral were—Chief Superintendent Inspector Hayes, Waterford; Mr. Bolger, Kiltigan, Co. Wicklow; Mr. Bolger, Kiltigan, Co. Wicklow; Mr. Bolger, Kiltigan, Co. Wicklow.

County Committee of Agriculture.

Mr. P. R. Power, chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the County Committee of Agriculture at Dungarvan on Saturday. Also present—Messrs. M. McGrath, T. Morrissey, W. Norris, J. Quirk, D. Leamy, R. Barton, T. Power, D. Coghlan, M. Hart, D. Heskin, W. Dwyer, T. Fives, J. Mansfield, M. O'Ryan, P. Conroy, C.A.O., and the committee's instructors.

Plan for Disposal of Oats.—Replying to the committee's proposal to fix a minimum price of 30s. per barrel for oats, a letter from the Department stated that the question of controlling the price of oats had been carefully considered by the Minister and he had come to the conclusion that effective control would be impractical. The letter added that it was the Minister's view that any farmer not in a position to dispose of his oats immediately at a remunerative price should consider feeding the crop and retaining it until the next spring.

Mr. Heskin said he would refer the Minister the statement he made that there would be a market for oats and if it was not available, to get in touch with the Department. The individual farmer was not in a position to walk his oats off the farm. Why not ask the Minister to have an admixture of, say, 10 per cent. of his surplus oats with maize for this year? The County Council and the rate collectors would be making demands on the farmers for money in the near future, and on their hands could not dispose of it. He had 270 barrels of oats in his hands and he couldn't dispose of them. Would the Minister be looking for money from him soon? He could hold the oats, but what could he do about the man that had it in a bag and could not get rid of it?

Mr. Norris said the Minister had promised a market for oats and that the Minister would think of the man, asked Mr. Norris, "who would tell you he was driving a bus to Cork and then decided to drive it to Dublin?"

Mr. Heskin said that if they took the statements of their instructors as correct, oats was a first-class feeding stuff for poultry, while maize often was responsible for the prevalence of T.B. in poultry. Why not have a reasonable mixture and then "we'd not only walk the oats off the land but fly it off for the poultry?"

Mr. Norris said that the farmers had been left down for their oats for other produce. They had been left down before and now they were going to be left down again. Why could not the Minister ask the storekeepers to pay 30/- for the oats and if they lost they could be recouped.

Mr. T. Morrissey said that the Minister told the Young Farmers' Club at Clonmel that it was not the farmers he was trying to beat with the stick but the merchants because they charged excessive prices last year. He thought that the Minister was not responsible for what he said at all.

Mr. Heskin said he was not beating the merchants. The Department of Industry and Commerce increased the price of oat meal and increased it to such an extent that it went off the market. He could not get it last June or July when he was looking for it.

Mr. T. Morrissey said they were importing 5,000 tons of Canadian oats and they had a discussion about it in the Midlands.

Chairman—Don't think that is true.

Mr. Heskin said that the position was that if they had a small admixture of oats and maize this year it would help to dispose of the oats. He proposed that they ask the Minister to make arrangements to have an admixture of at least 10 per cent. of oats with maize.

The Chairman suggested 124 per cent. and Mr. Heskin agreed. Mr. J. Leamy seconded.

Mr. Hart said he agreed that there should be a fixed price for oats. The Minister in Clonmel said that it would be 30s. a barrel in the spring time.

Mr. Heskin—What good is that? Continuing, Mr. Hart said he agreed that there should be a fixed price for everything on the land as well as in factories. Agriculture was superior to any industry; it was their greatest factory in the country. He asked Mr. Heskin if he would include in his resolution that maize in its purity be available as well as the admixture of oats and maize for any farmer that wanted it.

Mr. Heskin—You can't have reservations; it must be general.

Mr. Leamy—You must cater for the many.

Chairman—The great objection in the past was that inferior oats were used in the admixture.

Mr. J. Mansfield said that farmers in the old days got permits to crush oats. If they got permits again it would cover Mr. Hart's point.

Mr. T. Morrissey said that he would not agree except the oats were dehusked.

Mr. Heskin said that would be a costly experiment. An admixture of 124 per cent. oats with the maize would be a reasonable one and nobody could grumble at that.

Mr. O'Ryan—A resolution with reservations would not have any effect.

Chairman—Mr. Heskin's resolution is the only alternative.

Mr. Hart held that there should be maize in its purity for any people that wanted it and let the people who wanted the admixture get it too.

A man who sold his oats and then bought the admixture was paying a higher price for his oats than he got and it was penalising him.

Mr. Norris said the position was that they must consider the majority of the farmers that had oats as a cash problem. While a man was not in that position they must try and get some satisfaction for him to pay his rates and rent. It was no good for him holding his oats until the spring to get 30s. for it because 124 per cent. maize was better.

Mr. Hart—I am in favour of a fixed price. Let the people who want the admixture get it too, but also the people who want the maize in its purity let them get it too.

Mr. Heskin said he would suggest that the man who wanted it had ample time to get it.

Mr. Leamy—Too many people are buying maize in its purity and very little will be left for an admixture.

Mr. Hart—I am in your opinion that there is not enough oats in the country.

Mr. Norris—Come down to me and I will give you plenty of it.

Mr. Heskin's resolution was then put to the meeting and carried with a division.

Appointment of Temporary Instructor.—There were nine applicants approved by the Department for the position of temporary instructor in agriculture. Two applicants—Messrs. Philip Ryan, Tipperary, and David Walsh, Kilmacthomas—were proposed and accepted. The voting resulted as follows:—Walsh—Messrs. O'Ryan, Leamy, Quirk, Mansfield, Norris, Hart, Pines, Power, T. Power, and the Chairman—10.

Ryan—Messrs. Heskin, Coghlan, Barron, McGrath, Morrissey—6.

Mr. Walsh was declared appointed to the position.

Clerical Assistant.—Miss Carmel O'Sullivan, Western Terrace, Dungarvan, who received first place in the recent examination for the position of clerical assistant in the committee's office, was appointed to the position.

Lectures.—The C.A.O. said that as it would be out of the question for Mr. M. O'Sullivan to give lectures to the Dungarvan Young Farmers' Club, he would give the lectures himself. This decision was made in reply to a request from the Club.

Next Sunday's Matches.—At Lismore venue on Sunday next Cappoquin and Tallo meet in the Divisional Final. Semi-final (bye) and a thrilling contest is assured. There will be a re-play, and as both teams are in training hard and are all out to win a great game is anticipated. The home team take back the laurels.

Stewarding at Dungarvan.—The complete lack of stewarding in the Dungarvan field has brought complaints and protests from a number of clubs. It is surely an anomalous position that there are now stewards in the principal venue in the county. It is, however, a position which cannot be allowed to continue, as eventually no team would agree to play there. An effort is being made to supply a number of stewards for the Slabh Gúas-Old Parish match on Sunday next, and an appeal is made to the spectators to co-operate and avoid encroachments on the playing pitch.

Departure of Poppo Official.—The departure of Mr. P. Ryan is regretted by all the Gaels of the West. As Chairman of the Western Board since a most capable officer with a great sense of fairness. This year he served the Board as Secretary and in that position he again gave splendid service and carried out his duties in a most competent and satisfactory manner. The Gaels of the West join in wishing him success and happiness in his new sphere. As already announced, Mr. Declan O'Sullivan, 29 St. Mary Street, Dungarvan, will act as secretary for the remainder of the year and all correspondence should be addressed to him.

Sympathy.—The sympathy of the Gaels of West Waterford is extended to the Ryan family, Kilmacthomas, on the death of Mr. T. Ryan, Aglish.
