Mr. Clancy said he could not see what the Council could do when the other landlords had not submitted any inflormation of what they intended to do. Mr. Clancy also raised the question of what could be described as reasonably fit for one person to live in. Lots of people living in these houses were quite satisfied to live in them, and the Council was now compelling landlords to do something for these houses which was fifther went on with the building of the new houses and rehouse young married people then they would see who wanted houses after that.

GALLOWS HILL SCHEME.

In connection with the Gallows Hill Compulsory Order for the purchase of land and the Gallows Hill Compulsory Order for the purchase of land and the Gallows Hill Compulsory Clearance Order, the Acting Borough Surveyor's report showed that the total amount of land involved was 14a, 3r, 32p, Mr. Hassett said that 9a, 2r, 28p, had been acquired at the moment.

After a short discussion it was decided that the Compulsory Clearance Order be left alone for the present.

Mr. Kyne—I don't want to shift him. My personal feeling is put on the rates. If there was a way of raising money by a long term loan it might be worth it.

Mr. Kyne agreed as regards the raising of a loan and added that the Council would not then have the responsibility of removing the tenants. He thought that the Council should

In addition to the feature event there will be four Trial Stakes (sixteens) for dogs and bitches and the usual Stakes for duffers, so I am certain the Dungarvan men will spare no efforts to cater for dog and it. Mr. Clancy said it happened across the road from him. He didn't think there was anything wrong about the way the Guards approached the case. REPAIRS TO HOUSES.

In connection with the making of grants to persons required to carry out repairs to houses that could be rendered fit at reasonable cost, the Clerk explained that grants amounting to one-third of the cost to a maximum of £80 were available from the Department. The Council, if they liked could also make a grant.

Senator Butler thought they could deal with cases as they came up.

Mr. Clancy thought they should know the landlords first on whom the notices were served and also the number of houses. He asked would it be advisable for the Council to take over such houses. There was also the question of the Rent Restriction Act and if it applied.

Clerk—I don't know how the Act applied to landlords but it does not applied to landlords but it does not apply to the Council.

GREAT PROGRESS BY DUNGARVAN CLUB.

Though the weather was not all that could reasonably be desired, coursing of a high order and a splendid attendance were features of the Newtown, Kilmacthomas and District Coursing Club's initial meeting (under I.C.C. Rules), brought off at Newtown on Wednesday, 4th inst. In the comparatively short time at their disposal the Organising Committee had all arrangements ship-shape, and the venue (grounds kindly lent by Mr. James Wall) afforded a fine test of longtails. GAELIC NOTES

SUNDAY'S GREAT COUNTY FINAL
The meeting of Avonmore and Mt.
Sion in the Senior Hurling County Final at the Sportsfield, Waterford, (postponed from Sunday last, due to rain) on Sunday next will bring to a close this year's Senior Competition. So far it has been an eventful year for the Gaels of the Decies, who now can boast an All-Ireland double in the one year a great feat no doubt the one year, a great feat no doubt. However, winning All-Irelands is not the main feature of our games, and the County Championship, which create so much interest from year to year, takes pride of place in our minds just now. Avonmore, the shock team of the season will be making their initial appearance in the Senior Hurling Final on Sunday next against Mt. Sion, who have five championships to their credit. This Avonmore team cannot boast of any star players but on the whole they Avonmore team cannot boast of any star players, but on the whole they are a well-balanced fifteen and formidable enough to take county honours, despite the fact they will be up against Mt. Sion, renowned in song and story, on their way to the final. Avonmore met and defeated Clonea, Brickey Rangers, St. Patricks. They met their only defeat at the hands of Dungarvan, which resulted in a play-off between the pair. The result left no question in the minds of our patrons, as Avonmore giving their most impressive display to date, won in convincing fashion against a Blues 15. which included four of the All-Ireland team, Mt. Sion started off in 1938 in quest of the Hurling Blue Riband and their first success spurred them on to greater efforts in the lerans went down to Mt. Sion in the Eastern area but it was a near thing when they met the latter at Portlaw, a point in the closing stages giving them victory in a sparkling set-to. Avonmore will have the backing of the Western area behind them as their team is drawn from the Ballyduff, Lismore (Cappoquin and Tourin areas, and with the Fives brothers (4), M. Beecher, J. Farrell Jimmy Lacey, W. Lee, T. McCarthy T. Lonergan P. Moore, G. McGrath, they will not readily bow to defeat. they will not readily bow to defe Michael O'Connor and Mick Kel-leher of the All-Ireland Minor team. will fikely figure in the line out also. and the Galway man, Joe Keller, expect will fill his customary postion. Paddy English, who starred against Mt. Sion in the Junior Final. may be called on as well, and it would not surprise me to see the fair-haired C. Daly of Ballyduff on the travelling panel.
