Dance Licenses.—Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey, solicitors, were granted a dance license on behalf of the Kilgobnet Handball Club at the Kilbrin Hall.

Shops Early Closing Order.—Prosecution—Supt. O'Mahony prosecuted Michael Doherty, Mitchell Street, for a breach of the above Order.

Mr. Morrissey, solr. (Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey) for defendant.

Guard Deasy, replying to the Superintendent, stated that he visited the premises at 11.45 p.m. Defendant was supplying a number of customers with chips and that he was entitled to stay open for the sale of chips and that he would stay open until after the court.

To Mr. Morrissey, Guard Deasy said that the sales of groceries carried on by defendant would be very small and his main business is chips.

Mr. Morrissey said his client, who is in poor circumstances, admits opening. He had a bicycle shop and then bought a small chip machine, after which his trade improved. Were it not for the groceries, etc., in which he does only a very small trade, he would be exempt from the Act. This is the first prosecution under the Act in Dungarvan.

Supt. O'Mahony—It is the first prosecution, but it is common with all the other traders, was visited by the Guards before it was enforced.

The Justice imposing a fine of 10/-, said that if Mr. Doherty will not comply with the Act, a serious notice will have to be taken.

No Names on Cards.—Guard O'Sullivan, Ring, prosecuted Wm. Flynn, Ballymacart, with having an unlettered card and also no front or rear light.

A fine of 2/- and 3/6 was imposed.

A fine of 2/- was also imposed on J. Lacey, Ring, for not having his name on his cart at the suit of Guard O'Sullivan.

No Lights.—Guard Griffin, Ring, v. D. Hourigan, Barmastock, 2/6; M. Sheehan, Ballintaylor, 2/6; D. Morrissey, Hevick, 2/6 and 1/- for reflector.

Guard Deasy v. Thos. Curran, Gormindia, 2/6; Michl. Flynn, Wolfe Tone Road, 2/6; Thos. Shea, Coolinagour, 2/6; Mary Power, Kilmurray, 2/6; Patrick Kennedy, Thomas Street, 2/6; M. Sheehan, Clones, 2/6.

Guard Farrell v. P. Sullivan, Fitzgerald Terrace, 2/6; J. Halahan, Lacken, 2/6 and 1/-; J. McGrath, Ballinacree, 2/6 and 1/-; James Quinlan, do., 2/6; J. Curran, Ballinacree, do., 2/6 and 1/-; Thos. Fitzgerald, do., 2/6 and 1/-.

Guard Enright v. Thos. Butler, Cappagh, 2/6; Michl. Moloney, Colligan, 2/6.

Cathal Brugha Neighbourhood.—When the case of James Power against James Mooney, Cathal Brugha Place, was called.

Mr. Kenny, solr., said he was appearing for the defendant, Mooney, and as he was only instructed late last evening, he applied for an adjournment for a month.

Mr. Morrissey said he would not object provided an undertaking was given that his client will not be interfered with in the meantime.

Mr. Kenny promised to convey this to his client and the case was adjourned for a month.

Town Hall Dance License.

Mr. Williams, U.D.C. Solicitor, explained to the Justice that at the annual Licensing Sessions further to enable the council to come to a decision as regards the improvements to the hall.

Mr. Williams then went on to explain the present position as outlined in a letter from Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey (Mr. Foley's solicitors) which was in effect that Mr. Foley is prepared to give up all or portion of his premises provided adequate compensation was paid him and alternative premises found. This, said Mr. Williams, was considered at a special meeting of the council on the previous night and a resolution passed by the council recommending to the County Manager that Mr. Foley's offer of portion of his premises be accepted.

Justice—Assuming that this is implemented, will it satisfy the requirements of the County Medical Officer?

Mr. Williams—The members of the council are unanimous in their opinion that they can carry out the improvements necessary to comply with the Dance Hall Act. The council members have no fear but that they will be able to carry this out.

Supt. O'Mahony said the architect has definitely stated that the repairs cannot be carried out without having the whole floor.

Justice—If I adjourn this to enable the County Manager to decide if he will implement the suggestion and to ascertain if Mr. Foley is prepared to accept. It will then be up to Mr. Williams to satisfy him (the County Manager) that the repairs can be carried out in the space. It will then be necessary for the council to submit the improvements to the County Manager.

Mr. Farrell, solr., who was present on behalf of Mr. Foley, said it would be a great hardship on him if he had to give up the whole floor.

Following more arguments, the Justice adjourned the case for a month and said that if he is satisfied that Mr. Foley can then, if he thinks fit, adjourn for a further fortnight if it will be only a matter of preparing plans.

Kilmore Area Wants Creamery

Farmers of Ballysaggart, Kilmore, have started a campaign to get a creamery established in their area. They have pointed out to the Minister for Agriculture that their area is one of the largest in the county without such facilities, and they have asked him for his co-operation.

In the past Ballysaggart, well known as a buttermaking area, but the farmers now state that buttermaking has stopped and they desperately need a creamery in the district if they are to exist.

Some time ago a Department Inspector visited Ballysaggart and his findings were not favourable to the local Young Farmers' Club states that this was due to the fact that he took into account only what was being produced there at present. They maintain that the possibilities are excellent, and if they get the co-operation of the Department there will be a big change-over to dairying. At the moment the total of 145 farmers have guaranteed their support, and it is expected that many more will co-operate. It is estimated that over 1,000 cattle in the district. Already the local Young Farmers' Club has signified their willingness to establish a creamery there if the farmers guarantee a supply from 800 cattle, and they have given that guarantee. Now all they need is a licence from the Minister.

It is felt locally that the establishment of the creamery would restore prosperity to the district and help to arrest the decline in population and its school attendance.

Deputy Tom Kynne, Dungarvan; Denis Heisk n, Chairman, Waterford County Council, and many others are co-operating in the efforts to have a creamery started.

"MASTER McGRATH"

Now that the open coursing season has come round once again, we will give readers a short account of the great dog-bred at Colligan, Dungarvan, Master McGrath, over the next few weeks. This is made possible by Mr. Galsworthy, Tulla, Co. Clare, to whom we are deeply indebted.

It is doubtful if, since 1869, there has been born in Ireland, a child, male or female, who has not grown up with the knowledge of some story or hearsay that had to do with Master McGrath, the greyhound which was to become a national hero. Practically every son of Ireland is fond of sport, and takes the very greatest interest in the sporting affairs that concern the capabilities of step-chasing or cross-country races, and greyhounds which run out of the slips on to the open country, in pursuit of the swift hare, the self-same animal that is used to test the speed and cleverness of the long dogs down through the centuries of time. Probably no sport has a longer and more venerable history than that of coursing. The modern passion of greyhound racing gives much pleasure to the masses, but hardly the wilder thrill that open coursing excites.

I have lived in the days when country people seldom saw a dog, and a dog was a daily necessity. Even the local weekly was a luxury which few of the labourers or servants could afford. In reality, the weekly newspaper was a dog that only the "master" could enjoy. So the common people, so called, managed to get the news of what was going on in the world, through the medium of the ballad singers who sang their varied narratives or stories in the towns and villages on fair and market days.

On a board were pasted or tacked some highly imaginative and picturesque ballads. The ballad singers described in their songs, the films on which were printed the words of the stories were handed out for a penny or two cents each. As these songs were generally written in the same key and meter, the air of the ballad could be easily acquired, and when taken back into the country, soon became the one and only popular song. In every land where Irishmen have made their homes, McGrath has become a sort of national hero.

It is very evident it was the 69 year that was marked as a great occasion on the part of the career of the great greyhound. It was then the son of Derwack and Lady Sarah divided the Waterloo Cup between the second time. In the 70 season McGrath lost in his first course in the Waterloo, and again won the stake in the 71 year.

The Waterloo Cup is generally run off in February, the place of meeting being at Altcar, outside of Liverpool, England, and not far away from Antwerp where the Grand National Steeplechase is run in March every year. The latter is another event of great international importance, and one moreover, that sets an conditions of men look upon as something more than a horse race, for the reason that, only the best "leppers" and cross-country riders may hope to survive the terrible ordeals of that heroic racecourse.

It is strange but true that the greatest of step-chasing and greyhound coursing events, then as now, run off in the same neighbourhood, were founded by hotel proprietors who organised these sporting events, to draw the custom of the patrons of racing and coursing. The Waterloo Cup, the blue ribbon of the dog world, dates from 1836, when the landlord of the Waterloo Hotel, in Liverpool, improvised an eight mile race, which he called the Waterloo Cup. It was run on the Altcar estate of Lord Seton, who had established the Coursing Club in 1823; and it has been decided on the same ground ever since.

The founder of the event won the first one. In 1837 the stake was increased to £100, and in 1838 to £2, and in 1839 to £4 dogs. It remains a 64 dog stake to this day.

The hares at Altcar are driven by an army of "beaters," who drive the hares so they shall pass a given point where the slips with the two dogs are hidden behind a blind or shelter.

Here the hare passes to be given certain "start" or "start," and is pursued by the greyhounds in the full view of often many thousands of persons who are thus enabled to observe every point and its value during the trial.

Naturally, public courts of opinion provides much opportunity for wagering, indeed, most every body bets on the individual courses. It is a means for quick and ready speculation. The trial is over in a very short time, and there can be no doubt about getting an instant run for your money. Moreover, everything, or nearly at Altcar happens before your eyes. You may see for yourself where and how your money won or lost.

It was about a year ago that I heard the Master McGrath ballad being sung over the WJZ broadcast system—a song that

CARRICK-ONSUIR NOTES

Pioneer Rally at Carrick-on-Suir—Since its foundation over 50 years ago, the Pioneer Club has gone a long way towards driving the evil of drink from the four provinces of Ireland, and Fr. O'Doherty, S.J., addressing 450 members of the Pioneer Association at St. Nicholas' Church, Carrick-on-Suir, on Sunday last. Referring to the Jubilee Celebrations of the Pioneer Movement, which took place in Dublin in 1948, Fr. O'Doherty said that as a result of this great rally, many conversions from the drinking habit had taken place. Later social work was held at the Town Hall Ballroom, when Pioneers from Piltown, Mullinahone, Carrickmacross, Rathfriland and Carrick-on-Suir were present.

The monthly meeting of the Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council will be held at the Town Hall, Carrick-on-Suir, on Monday night at 7 p.m.

Carrick Man's Record—Private John Gilman, a native of Carrick, Carrick-on-Suir, was recently awarded a certificate by the Department of Defence for passing a test of 40 yards swim in full battle dress, with rifle equipment, etc., and is denoted as a Grade 1 swimmer. Last week Private Gilman secured further honours by winning the light middle-weight class event at a boxing tournament at Collins Barracks, Carrick-on-Suir. Master Gilman was the winner of the championship of the Suir swimming event at Carrick-on-Suir last June.

Irish Butter Shipped to France. Five hundred gross tons of Irish crechey butter—the first shipment to France since the war—left Dublin last week in the Dutch vessel "Carpo" for Rouen. The butter was shipped by the Irish Marketing Committee to a number of private French firms. Twelve Million Dollars From Tourists.

"Over the thirty million dollars earned by Ireland in 1949, twelve million had come from tourists, who represented an even better source of dollar earnings than the implementation of the recommendations of the Dollar Exports Advisory Committee," said Mr. E. Cosgrave, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Industry and Commerce, at the Irish Tourist Association's annual luncheon in Dublin.

"honeymoon" period for Irish tourism was now over, he said. The Government would play its full part in the development of the industry by bearing part of the cost of any plan designed to increase tourist earnings. It was not necessary, he said, to have large hotels all over the country. Many of the existing hotels could be improved with comparatively small expenditure.

Mr. Paul Miller, chief of the E.C.T. Mission to Ireland, said that it was desirable for the Irish Tourist Association and the Irish Tourist Board—the two organisations concerned with tourist development—to decide on a unified programme, so that the efforts of one would supplement and reinforce those of the other in a constructive manner. He did not know of any country in which the American tourist got better value for his money than in Ireland.

"An Irishman" Reporting on the dedication of a memorial to the late Field-Marshal Sir John Hill at Arlington National Cemetery, the "Irish Times" quotes General George Marshall, U.S. Defence Secretary, as saying: "Here before us in Arlington Cemetery lies buried a great Irishman." The fact which struggles forth from this is that Sir John Hill was an Irishman and also an Ulsterman, Ulster being an Irish province and the "Ulster" of today being unknown—and unwhistled for—at the time of his birth.

Presentation to National Library. A presentation to the National Library of Ireland was three bound volumes of the "New Letters of the Friends of Irish History" issued in 1919, 1920 and 1921. The donor of these documents which stated Ireland's case so effectively during the first independence was Judge Daniel T. O'Connell of the Supreme Court, Massachusetts.

"The South Irish" Significant comment on the political set-up in the Six Northern Counties of Ireland is made in the regional in the Kemsley House newspaper, "The Evening News" of Glasgow. Discussing the possibility that a Scottish Parliament may be brought into existence, the editorial questions the wisdom of such an experiment on the ground that similar experiments had been far from successful.

"The case of Northern Ireland is the nearest parallel to this country, though here the Parliament was set up against the wishes of the inhabitants. In the 30 odd years of its existence it has successfully managed to reduce Parliamentary Government to little more than a rubber stamp, as, owing to the Irish temperament and to the arrangement of the electoral boundaries, the party is always in power at Stormont. The reason for this permanent majority, and anyone who has studied the results of 1951 General Elections, will realise that it could happen in Scotland. It is a very serious matter, and this has been pointed out over and over again throughout Europe and the world, to make democracy work in a unit."

Another Parallel. A recent issue of "Le Drouk" notes the attitude of Mr. Ernest Bevin, the British Foreign Minister towards the Korean question. The statesman declares that there are not two Irelands, North and South, but only one. There are not Northern Irishmen and Southern Irishmen, but only Irishmen. The division is Ballyduff, Moorehill and Knockanore Notes.

FEAST CELEBRATED AT BALLYDUFF. Wonderful scenes of piety and devotion marked the celebration of the Proclamation of the Dogma of Our Blessed Lady in Ballyduff on Nov. 1st, a capacity congregation being present at first Mass, a large percentage of whom received Holy Communion. Another large congregation was present at last Mass and during the day large crowds visited the Church to pay homage to Our Divine Lord and to Mary Queen of Heaven. The day was observed as a general holiday and except for the Parish Church, the village presented a deserted appearance. At night all the windows of the houses in the village were lit up in honour of Our Blessed Lady who in many Our Lady's statue was displayed.

FEAST OF THE HOLY SOULS. On Thursday (All Souls Day) very large crowds attended the morning Masses for the Holy Souls, while all the day the windows of the faithful visited the Church to gain the indulgences for the dear departed ones.

LOCAL BREED HORSE IN THE NEWS. At Naas Races, the Kidangan Plate of 150 sovs was won by Mr. Moloney's "Sike Cottage," ridden by Mr. A. S. O'Brien, a length from Mr. McElharg's "Domat." "Sike Cottage," a five year old gelding by Queen Eyot-Irish Cob, was bred by Mr. Ray O'Brien, Glenbeg House, Mr. O'Brien is a well known breeder of bloodstock and an ardent follower of the Ballyduff Hunt Club. This is but another of the many horses that have left his stable.

IN DRAMATIC CIRCLES. Ballyduff Dramatic and Choral Society are hard at work rehearsing their current season's "Sagart Aroon," which they present to the public early next month. This talented group are no strangers before the footlights and in the capable hands of Rev. Fr. Keating, C.C., the public can be assured of an excellent production. It is good to see amateur dramatic societies flourish in our country, they are a source of recreation to those taking part and provide good healthy amusement for audiences all over the country.

CEILIDH DANCING. Lovers of Irish dancing will be very pleased to learn that classes for school children will be held every Sunday evening at the hall in St. Michael's Hall to give children an opportunity of learning our grand Irish dances. These classes are being conducted by Mr. M. Walsh and should prove a big attraction. The initial class proved very successful and we feel sure the attendance will not only be well maintained but will show a marked improvement from now onwards.

FORTHCOMING WHIST DRIVE. Whist players all over the area will be very pleased to learn that the Monaster whist drive will be held at St. Michael's, on Sunday Night, November 26th, commencing at 8.30 p.m. £20 in prizes are being offered.

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT. On Sunday afternoon a very large audience enjoyed the grand programme presented at Conna Hall, St. Colman's Dramatic Society, which was a very popular and successful production. The Cobb Vocational Choir drew round after round of applause. The production entitled "The Shadow of a Pen" proved high class entertainment, the respective performers being excellent and brought forth loud and spontaneous applause. Before the close the company thanked all who helped to make the function such a success.

PROCLAMATION OF ASSUMPTION. The dogma of Our Blessed Lady's Assumption into Heaven was observed with religious fervour in Knockanore. Large numbers received Holy Communion in the morning and the afternoon devotions of the Holy Hour were held, the church being packed. At Kiltwater special devotions were held in the Mass and concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Glendine Church. Holy Hour devotions were held in the afternoon before a crowded church.

DEATH OF MISS M. FLANAGAN. It is with deep regret we record the death of Miss Mary Flanagan which sad event took place at her parents' residence at Kiltwater, Knockanore, on Tuesday of last week following a contracted illness, fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church. An assuming and kindly, she was a general favourite and all unite in tendering very deep and sincere sympathy to her bereaved parents, brothers and sister. WEST WATERFORD TALLOW NOTES

DOGMA OF ASSUMPTION. Wednesday, Nov. 1st, the day on which the Dogma of the Assumption was proclaimed to the world by the Supreme Pontiff, was observed as a day of special devotion in Tallow. At first Mass the spacious church was crowded with devout worshippers the majority of whom approached the altar rails in continued devotion to the day and the evening devotions were attended by large and devout congregations. Shrines and miniature altars were displayed in the windows of several houses, while in many instances Papal flags were flown. The faithful made the day one of devotion to the Blessed Virgin and the occasion of a great public demonstration of loyalty to the faith.

Clashmore Meeting.—Under the auspices of the local Fianna Fall organisation a large and enthusiastic public meeting was held at Clashmore on Sunday morning to protest against the very bad condition of the bye-roads in the area. Mr. Sean Ormond, T.D., attended and addressed the meeting. The Chairman of the meeting, having welcomed Mr. Ormond and thanked him for attending, said that the bye-roads in the county were in a state of such a state that those who had to travel on them were very little better than "mountain passes." They demanded the attention of the Government and the County Council put the roads in decent condition. Mr. Ormond, who received a very enthusiastic reception, said that the protest being made that day had his sympathy. The people were entitled to make that protest as they were paying large sums in rates and should get a proper return. The whole trouble was scarcity of money, due chiefly to the action of the present Government in cutting road grants by £2,900,000 per year. Curiously enough this action of the Government had been approved by the Labour Party and would have caused considerable unemployment only that the County Council had raised money by other means to offset the deficiency. He assured the people of Clashmore that their efforts to secure an improvement in the condition of the roads in the county is the full support of the Fianna members of the County Council. Subsequent to the meeting Mr. Ormond received a number of deputations and discussed with them a number of local grievances.

Old Age Pensions.—A meeting of the Youghal No. 2 (Rural) Old Age Pensions Committee, held in Clashmore during the past week, discussed a report which appears in next week's edition.

Late Mr. Keane.—We regret to announce the death which occurred at the Cottage, Youghal, at a comparatively early age, of a man who was well known in the area and followed a prolonged illness of Mr. Michael Keane, Monaster, Kiltwater, Youghal. A popular figure, deceased was of a quiet and unassuming nature and his demise is much regretted. To his relatives deep sympathy is extended in their loss. The remains were removed to Kiltwater and interment in the cemetery was held in the afternoon. Deceased was of large and representative proportions. Very Rev. W. Flynn, P.P., Clashmore, and Rev. D. Slattery, C.C., officiated. R.I.P.

The Football Revival.—The recent revival of Gaelic football in Co. Waterford has occasioned general satisfaction. For some years football has been at a low ebb in the county, and the improvement is very pronounced. With careful handling and proper training and encouragement the present young county team is quite capable of maintaining the feat of the senior hurling team in 1948. For the past ten years no emphasis has been placed on the game, but with the revival of the game, which has been at a low ebb in the county, and the improvement is very pronounced.
