SOCCER IN SPAIN YOUGHAL NOTES

As we said last week, bull-fighting is the national sport in Spain, nevertheless, soccer has gained a firm footing there and it has presented the youth of the country another interest. Spain boasts of such renowned teams as Real Madrid, Barcelona, Atletico de Madrid, much to the amusement of the crowd. The attendance at first division games is quite good and for example in San Mames in Bilbao, anything up to fifty thousand would be present at a cup-tie. In Charrmartin stadium, in Madrid, where the Cup final is played it is nothing unusual to see 120,000 at such an event. Soccer is professional in Spain and first division players have quite a remunerative position. They have there also the football pools which are known as Quinielas. On an ordinary Sunday it is nothing surprising to see the fans or 'hinchas' as they are known in Spain, making their way to the football grounds to cheer on their respective equips or teams. Although bull-fighting holds first place in the heart of every true Spaniard, nevertheless soccer has captivated the mind and imaginations of the gay caballeros of this sunny land and especially in the north of the country soccer is a good second and at times a clear first.

No More Dancing in the Dark in Dungarvan

There may be no more dancing in the dark at Dungarvan Town Hall. A member of the Urban Council informed a recent meeting that he had received complaints that it was a very dangerous practice and while there would be no objection to dimming the lights, he did not think it proper to have dancing in the dark.

At the week-end meeting a letter from Mr. William Lyons, man responsible for the hall during dances, stated that the lights were dimmed during dances as the request of those running the dances. He had never put out all lights and denied that it was being done. Mr. Keane said the reason the lights were dimmed was because, when the crowd was small couples were often slow to move out on the floor and when the lights were low it served as an "inducement."

HOW TO MAKE ENDS MEET

TWO SAVING SUGGESTIONS
A pig's head supper followed by a sing-song. Old footballers talk of the days when pig's head was the main dish at the annual get-together of the teams. Pig's head is as good as it ever was. In the matter of flavour and price a nicely cooked pig's head leaves many fancier meat dishes far behind. If you want to make it look less like a head and more like a fancy dish, here is a recipe. You can give it the French touch by calling it 'Tete de porc' as they do in Shannon Airport where it's put up in individual casseroles and packed in the planes to be served hot and high in the sky. After simmering the head, remove the meat from the bones. Discard the skin and some of the fat. Cut the meat into fork pieces. Make a rich, creamy white sauce and add the meat. Finish in a casserole garnished with potatoes and adorned with parsley. Not everyone knows that pig's head has a roasting piece. It's the jaw, the fleshy part on the underside of the jaw. Get the butcher to cut it off, wash well and score the skin deeply for the crackling. Then roast from the raw like a small joint of pork. It is good hot. It is lovely cold with mustard sauce.

YOUGHAL MAN'S DEATH IN NEW YORK

It was with widespread regret that the news was received in Youghal last week of the sad death which took place on January 18th of Mr. James Sweeney of 320 Seventh Ave., Brooklyn, New York. He was the eldest member of an old and respected family whose father the late W. Sweeney of Water St. Youghal was for over half a century connected with the boot and shoe department of Merricks, Youghal. A lover of the Irish pastimes the deceased in the early twenties was popular in the local hurling and football teams. He was one of the first in the formation of the local Volunteers and later if the active service units of the I.R.A. he was a regular attendee at the Sunday G.A.A. Games in Van Cortland Park which later became the Gaelic Field. An ardent supporter of the 'Cork's' Men's Association, New York, he was a well known figure in many Social functions in that city. He and his wife (nee Kelly) also a native of Youghal made several trips to see old surroundings and relatives in their home town, and in fact were to have another trip this coming summer. Many old friends and comrades of the late Vol. Jim Sweeney tender their sincere condolences to his widow Mrs. Nora Sweeney in her great sorrow. A full report of the funeral which took place on Monday last will be published when available.

THE LATE MR DAN BOLAND

The funeral of the late Mr. Daniel Boland, Market Square, Youghal whose death was reported in last week's issue, and who was also one of the first in the formation of the local Volunteers, took place on Saturday last from St. Mary's Parish Church to Nth Abbey Cemetery at 3 p.m. followed by a very large and representative cortege. The coffin was draped with the tricolour and his comrades of the local Old I.R.A. being Sean P. Daly, M. O'Sullivan, Denis O'Sullivan, Joe Packer J. Gleeson, Phil Magner Nick Coleman, James Keogh, John Kelly, E. P. Lynch and W. Duolan formed a guard of honour. The chief mourners were Mrs. Mary Boland (widow), Mrs. M. Charles and Mrs. T. Cooke (daughters), Miss Ann Charles (grand-daughter), Messrs Stephen and William Boland (brothers), Mrs. Collins and the Misses N and M Boland (sisters), Messrs T. Cooke and L. Charles (sons-in-law), Miss C. Connolly (sister-in-law), Mr. D. Connolly (brother-in-law), Mr. J. Curtin, Miss Curtin and Miss Lotty (cousins). Fr. O'Dwyer officiated at the grave-side.

SOLICITOR WEDS.
Keane-O'Leary—The marriage with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing took place on Tuesday last at the University Church, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, of Mr. Timothy Kevin Keane, Solicitor, Youghal, son of Mrs. F. A. Keane and the late J. L. Keane, to Miss Nora O'Leary daughter of Mrs. B. O'Leary and the late Timothy O'Leary, Bandon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Declan Sugrue, Carmelite, House of Studies, Dundrum assisted by Rev. Fr. O'Dwyer, C.C. Youghal. The best man was Senator P.J. O'Gorman Youghal, and Miss Ellen O'Leary sister of the bride was Bridesmaid. After a reception at the Shelbourne Hotel, the happy couple left for their honeymoon which is being spent in Rome.

MEETING OF OLD I.R.A. ASSO.
At a meeting of the Old I.R.A. Men's Association, Youghal, presided over by P. Magner, (Chairman) held during the week resolutions of condolences were unanimously passed to the widow and family of the late Volunteer Daniel Boland, Market Square, Youghal, with the widow and family of the late Volunteer James Sweeney for both of whom Masses will be offered at the Parish Church, Youghal. Sympathy was also extended to the relatives of the late Sean South, O.C. Active Service Unit and Volunteer P. O'Hanlon who were killed recently while fighting British Forces in the Six Counties.

PIGEON CLUB.

The newly organized Northern Pigeon Club, Youghal, held its first general meeting at the League of the Cross Hall, on Sunday, January 20th. Every one club business was transacted, a vote of thanks was passed to all those non-pigeon fanciers who helped to put the club on its feet by taking membership cards. It was due in no small measure to all those people that the club was able to start the year in such a strong financial position.

The presiding Chairman (Mr. T. Kelly) pointed out that it will take quite a lot of money to equip the club for the coming racing season. As they already know, the Club was affiliated with the L.H.O. and intended to compete in the Cross-Channel races organised by the Irish Union.

Mr. Ahern moved and was seconded by Mr. Foley that all flying members have their subscriptions (30/-) paid on or before February 28th. This was agreed to by all present. The election of officers then took place resulting as follows: President, P. Kelly; Secretary, J. O'Sullivan; Treas., K. Foley; Chairman, T. Kelly; committee, T. Fitzgerald, K. Foley, J. O'Sullivan, T. Kelly.

Chickens, P. Hehir, K. Kelly, P. Ahern, T. Kelly, T. Kelly, F. Irwin, P. Hehir.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Boreenathraw will be Dungarvan's New Residential Area

On the casting vote of the Chairman, Ald. Tom Kyne, T.D., Dungarvan Urban Council decided to seek arbitration in the compulsory purchase of a site at Boreenathraw for the erection of 30 houses.

Before the Council was the offer of two other sites, one at Cloneeey where development costs per house would work out at £205 and another site in the vicinity of Fr. Twomey's Well where development costs would come to £223 per house. In the case of these two sites, the Acting Clerk, (Mr. M. O'Meara) pointed out that the cost of redeeming the annuity would have to be added to the figures already quoted for development.

Development costs on the Boreenathraw site was estimated at £300 per house. The Boreenathraw site would accommodate 30 houses; 75 could be built at Cloneeey and 70 could be put up on the third site.

Mr. T. Lee stated that Boreenathraw was the ideal site. The other two were not suitable at all. Morrissey's site near Fr. Twomey's well was so badly flooded in this kind of weather that one would need a boat to get around it. The other site too, Mr. Lee stated, was not suitable. The number of houses stated to be required by the Co. M.O.

Mr. Keane held that they would be doing a disservice in selecting a site that would mean £95 more per house, in development. They would be throwing £95 away, he said, when the ratepayers of Dungarvan, were already over-saddled. The Chairman pointed out that the other sites offered were not suitable.

Mr. Keane said that the question of a proper entrance to the Cloneeey site would be solved with the cooperation of Mr. J. Hackett who had offered to facilitate the creation of a proper entrance subject to compensation.

The Chairman replied that any change in their proposals now would throw the commencement of the scheme back another year at least, maybe two years.

Boreenathraw . . . Ideal Site

Mr. J. McCarthy said that Boreenathraw was the ideal site for a housing scheme as it was central and in a very good location. He said they should make a start with these 30 houses and in providing them, they would not be doing badly.

Mr. Lee agreed that the site near the hospital was also a very good dry site and would be ideally suitable for houses.

Mr. Lannon—That is for a new hospital.

Mr. Lee—I know but now it seems there will be no hospital built in town according to the Manager.

Mr. Kelly stated that there was a very definite need for a new hospital in Dungarvan and they should not interfere with the site that had been earmarked for it.

The Chairman stated that they would have to decide on a site at this meeting and asked if there was any amendment to the proposition.

Mr. Keane proposed the site that offered the cheapest development costs—Cloneeey. He was seconded by Mr. Kelly.

For the amendment (Cloneeey) Messrs. R. Keane, N. Kelly and T. Lannon (3), against it Messrs. T. Lee, J. McCarthy and the Chairman (3). The Chairman gave his casting vote against it to leave the voting 3 for 2 to 4 against.

Did Not Vote

Because Mr. Moloney believed he stood to gain personally through one of the sites, he expressed his decision not to take part in the voting at all. (Mr. Moloney's view being that a new housing scheme at Boreenathraw would be in the interests of a family business nearby.)

When it was stated that they should have bought land that would accommodate 75 houses, all of which were needed, the Chairman stated that he doubted they would be able to get tenants, prepared to pay the economic rent for them.

Mr. Keane stated that there were people clamouring for houses and 30 would not be of much use. He believed that those who had voted for Boreenathraw had done a great injustice to all those in need of proper housing, to the large numbers of unemployed townsmen and to the ratepayers.

NO ROOM IN THEIR OWN HOME

A LETTER from Mr. David Riordan, Shandon Street, was read at the weekend meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council in which he set out the serious plight of his family as a result of the Council's failure to provide his next door neighbour with a house.

The case is quite an unusual one. Mr. Riordan owns his house (one bedroom with an extension) and wishes to enlarge it to accommodate his family (nine of whom are at home and two away). To do so, he purchased a house next door occupied by Mrs. A. Riordan and applied to the Council for a small house to accommodate her. She has signified her willingness to move into a better house as her home is in a very bad state of repair.

The Chairman (Ald. Tom Kyne T.D.) stated that the case made by Mr. Riordan was a very reasonable one. He was an excellent type of person who was anxious to do a good job on his own home for his family. The Chairman stated that he understood that one of the small houses in Shandon was now vacant and suggested that it be made available to accommodate the woman.

The Acting Town Clerk (Mr. O'Meara) stated that an order had been made giving the house to the next on the priority list.

Mr. McCarthy agreed that Mr. Riordan's case was one that deserved urgent attention. Some of his children were sleeping in their homes of neighbours as there was no room for them in their own house.

Chairman—That is so. This is an extraordinary position.

Mr. Lannon—And old Mrs. Riordan living in that little house next door is living under appalling conditions.

Mr. Lee appealed to the Manager to make available the next vacant house in Shandon stating that by doing so he would be helping two very serious cases of hardship.

Douglas Hyde to Visit Dungarvan

For many years Douglas Hyde was a prominent member of the Communist Party. He was editor of the DAILY WORKER, the mouthpiece of the Communist Party in England and played a major role in the advancement of their aims in that country.

With the exception of one well known personality, none of those present at the lecture in Cork that night were aware that Harold Connolly's link with Ireland was the picturesque village of Clashmore, Co. Waterford, where the local swimming pool is concerned. I'm told that it is a total loss financially and cost the ratepayers something in the region of £400 last year.

I hope that it would interest three quite distinct types of readers—the political who wanted the 'inside story,' the religious reader interested in spiritual adventure and the ordinary reader of novels and easy read lives.

As will be seen from our news columns, the Chairman, Deputy Tom Kyne made it quite clear that he had no interest in it on the grounds that it was a personal matter.

He also suggested that the latest issue between the parties concerned was one that had arisen from the original motion and had, in fact, no bearing whatsoever, on the Council.

Olympic Champion's Link with Clashmore

Harold Connolly, Olympic Hammer-throwing Champion, was a recent visitor to Cork City where he gave a lecture and film show in the Central Hall. He was brought to the City by the Lee by the Cork City Sports Committee.

It is interesting to record that the champion's grandmother was from Clashmore. She was formerly Bridget Honayne. He was anxious to visit the district but due to the scheduled lined up for him, he did not have the opportunity. He wanted to look up a list of people including: Tom Cunningham (the Cooper), Mary Guiry, the Hickeys and other.

On the Road to Recovery

I called in to see old friend, Mr. P. A. Casey, Managing Director of the Dickens Leather Co. Ltd. and a prominent member of the Dungarvan Urban Council, during the week and found him well on the road to recovery.

Sitting comfortably by a rosy fire in a real homely setting, we discussed everything that was news and much of what would be, and as usual, he was well on the mark.

Usually, I do the interviewing. On this occasion I was the one being interviewed. My host wished to be informed on all recent developments and certainly covered a good deal of territory with a spatter of questions that 1956 Olympics which he took would make any professional inand also a film of the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki. Dr. Pat O'Callaghan, holder of the title in 1928 and 1932 had a very interesting discussion with him during which they compared notes and conditions.

With the exception of one well known personality, none of those present at the lecture in Cork that night were aware that Harold Connolly's link with Ireland was the picturesque village of Clashmore, Co. Waterford, where the local swimming pool is concerned. I'm told that it is a total loss financially and cost the ratepayers something in the region of £400 last year.

Bring in the Ladies

Time and again a good deal of time is devoted to discussing poultry affairs at meeting of the Waterford County Committee of Agriculture, yet the people concerned in this particular branch of the agricultural industry have absolutely no say whatever in the decisions reached.

The poultry industry is mainly the women's responsibility and the menfolk on the Committee would be qualified to speak with authority on that industry.

Some time ago there was an application from the L.C.A. for representation on the Committee. What became of that application I cannot recall but I have been approached by ladies interested in renewing such an application.

It Proved Interesting

Last Friday's meeting of the Urban Council proved interesting in many respects but particularly in the case of what has now become known as 'The Lee Affair.'

As will be seen from our news columns, the Chairman, Deputy Tom Kyne made it quite clear that he had no interest in it on the grounds that it was a personal matter.

He also suggested that the latest issue between the parties concerned was one that had arisen from the original motion and had, in fact, no bearing whatsoever, on the Council.

New Directors

Information to hand states that Mr. John J. Moloney, 'Clonsa,' Ashfield Park, Stillorgan Road, Dublin, has been appointed a director of the Dickens Leather Co. Ltd., Dungarvan.

Also appointed is Dr. Michl. J. O'Shea, Cork, nephew of the late Dr. M. A. Casey, and of the present Chairman and Managing Director of the Company, Mr. P. A. Casey.

On the Road to Recovery

I called in to see old friend, Mr. P. A. Casey, Managing Director of the Dickens Leather Co. Ltd. and a prominent member of the Dungarvan Urban Council, during the week and found him well on the road to recovery.

The Border Heroes

(Air: 'The Wearing of the Green') 'Twas on a dreary New Year's Day, As the shades of night came down, A lorry load of volunteers, Approached the Border town, They were men from Dublin and from Cork, Fermanagh and Tyrone, Their leader was a Limerick man, Sean South from Garryowen.

And as they moved along the street, Up to the Barrack door, They scorned the danger they would meet, The fate that lay in store, They were fighting for Old Ireland's Cause, To claim their very own, And the bravest of that gallant band, Was Sean South of Garryowen.

Great Strides of Progress have been achieved—I feel great stride of progress have been achieved in the past year. In these words Miss Addie Gee, Secretary, presenting her report at the Annual General Meeting of the Ballinacree Branch, Macra na Feirme, summed up the year's work; and that was putting it modestly because the report reveals a year of extraordinary intense activity. In passing, we might mention a few functions, lectures, film shows, outings, stock-judging competitions, debates and question time, and study circles.

REPAIRS AND PURCHASE

A number of cottiers are now about to embark on a Cottage Purchase Scheme, which means that part of the cottage be put into a proper state of repair. For such repairs, it should be implied that only competent and qualified tradesmen be entrusted with such work. What happens when the work does not meet the requirements of the tenant, but satisfies the 'Boss.' We are of the opinion that regardless of the 'Boss,' the needs of the tenant should be satisfied within reason as the tenant will be the person who will have to foot the bill for future events. We forecast a spot of trouble where such work does not meet the requirements of tenants, a grievance that can be alleviated by putting tradesmen on the work.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

On reading about resolutions and counter resolutions at a recent meeting of the Waterford County Council concerning recent unhappy events in our country, are again reminded that Ireland shall be free from the centre to the sea, and we'll fight for liberty says the 'Shan Vich.' But then hope springs eternal in the human breast.

LEFT FOR ENGLAND

During the past months emigration has been taking its toll of residents in the Ballymacarbray area and during the week we saw the departure of yet another of the district's most popular gentlemen in the person of Mr. Todd Keane, who left for England where he will take up employment with a large British business concern.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Such well-known gentlemen as regards the election of officers. Much progress is noted in providing the people of the Fourmilewater area with a water supply. Nothing is easy which we are not happy in doing. There is no happiness in having and getting, but only in giving—half the world is on the wrong scent in the pursuit of happiness. There is no lack of good maxims in the world, all we need is to apply them.
