YOUGHAL COURT

Licence to Deal in Fish Refused

Before District Justice Cahill

William Carr applied for a certificate that he is a fit and proper person to receive and hold a licence for sale of salmon and trout under the Fisheries Act, 1925.

Mr. J. R. Barry, Solr. Fermoy, for applicant, and Mr. T. K. Keane, Solr., for the Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators.

In reply to Mr. Barry, applicant said he was engaged in the exporting business since 1946 and in 1950 he started business in Currageless. He employed 12 regulars and 20 extra at night work. He had seven motor vehicles and he held a licence for export of eggs, poultry and rabbits; he also exported blackberries. He proposed to engage in the export of salmon. There's no one in Youghal, said witness, engaged in the trade. He had contacts in England on account of his exporting business. In 1952 he became involved in handling fish that were unlawfully captured. He would say he is in a position to carry on the business of exporting salmon.

Mr. Keane to Applicant—You are applying that you are a fit and proper person to export and buy salmon—Yes.

Mr. Keane—You never dealt in salmon before but you applied for a licence but you were refused. There's no shortage of dealers in Youghal. Mr. McDonnell who lives just across the Youghal Bridge at Ardsallagh is engaged in the trade and you were fined £42 and £10 for handling salmon which were unlawfully captured.

Inspector Woulfe, Fishery Inspector, in reply to Mr. Keane, said he knew all the dealers in his area and he could not recommend applicant as a suitable person and he would ask the Court not to treat him as a suitable person.

Justice—It would mean extra work for you.

Mr. Barry—How long are you an officer of the Conservators, 20 years.

Mr. Barry—And you say he is not a fit person to hold a licence?

Justice—Yes, there were 33 summons against him in two weeks.

Justice—These offences happened some years ago and we cannot hold these offences against him always.

Mr. Keane—All I have to say, and it is up to your Worship, is applicant a fit and proper person in the circumstances and I would ask you to refuse the licence. The other licences he holds are quite different.

Mr. Barry—This man had 3 convictions which occurred five years ago; he is a capable business man and now it is suggested that because he was convicted 5 years ago, he is not a fit and proper person. I think the Inspector is prejudiced. I will ask you to grant the licence.

Justice—I have administered many laws and a person has to be guided to a certain extent, in this case by the Inspector. I agree to a lot of what Mr. Barry states and if a person is convicted of an offence that cannot be held against him all his life. I do not think Inspector Woulfe is prejudiced and I refuse the application.

OCCASIONAL LICENCE

Mr. T. K. Keane applied on behalf of Mr. John Daly, Pearse Street, Fermoy, for an occasional licence on March 9th from 12 noon to 7 p.m., the occasion being the Killeagh Point-to-Point races. The application was granted.

Guard Dempsey summoned Patrick Coffey, no fixed abode (1) for parking his caravan on the side of the road, (2) for junction and (3) for having no identification mark on his car. Fines of 5/- were imposed in each case.

Guard Dempsey summoned P. O'Donoghue, senior, and Patk. O'Donoghue, junior, for parking their caravan on the side of the road.

The Guard stated he would like to be a little more lenient with the defendants as O'Donoghue senior is a little bit blind. A fine of 1/- was imposed.

LARCENY CHARGE

The Attorney General charged William Power, 22, St. Bernard Place, Fermoy, (1) with stealing property from a sleeping van at Fermoy, the property of CIE.

Supt. J. Holland, who prosecuted (said two employees of CIE occupied the van, they went home for the week-end and defendant entered the van and stole certain articles; (2) defendant was also charged with assaulting a young Guard.

Justice—What have you to say this time, you know you have been already before me. I don't like this offence of assaulting a Guard. There's one place for you and that is goal. I will send you to prison for two months in the larceny charge and two months in the assault charge, with hard labour, the sentences to run concurrently.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

STREET TRADING ACT UNDER FIRE

At a meeting of Youghal Urban Council Mr. P. J. Lawlor, Vice-Chairman, presided. Present were: Mrs. Hurley, Messrs. Lynch, Linehan, Cole, Daly, Hickey and Ahern. The Manager, Mr. S. Hayes, was also in attendance.

YOUGHAL BRIDGE

Mr. Lynch—I was reported as asking when the work on the new bridge was going to start. I never mentioned anything about starting the new bridge and what I did ask for was the costings of the bridge up-to-date and anything I said in that regard I am prepared to stand over it.

Mr. Daly said that was quite right as he seconded the proposition.

PUBLIC LIGHTING

Mr. Daly—In regard to public lighting at Whitehorn, this light should not cost much as all that I asked for was to switch the light from pole 99 to 103.

Mr. Ahern—There is a proposition on the books by me that any extra lights should be done by notice of motion.

Mrs. Hurley—It is only a paltry sum and is not worth talking about, what about all the millions spent all over the country?

Mr. Cole—Mr. Ahern's resolution should be adhered to.

BREAK IN WATER MAIN

Chairman—As regards the break in the 8" water main at Bidda, the staff did all in their power to have the break attended to without delay.

Mr. Lynch—We were all notified.

Mr. Daly—The day before they were not notified at Sarsfield Terrace and the water was off from 12.15 p.m. to 1 p.m.

Mr. Ahern—I think the staff did good work in the circumstances.

STREET TRADING

A letter was received from the Hon. Sec. Association of Municipal Authorities with regard to street trading. The letter suggests that it is generally agreed to give adequate protection to local traders and requesting any submission on the subject which the Council may care to make.

Mr. Daly—There is not such a great deal of street trading except on fair days and I never heard any complaint.

Mr. Cole—For street trading persons must have a licence from the Gardaí and as regards stall trading, from the Urban Council.

Mr. Ahern—That would cover trading by people selling apples etc. on the Strand during the Summer months.

Mr. Lynch—What about people selling agricultural produce in Youghal; these people are an advantage to the town. Such people have been coming to Youghal for generation, are they going to be debarred.

Mr. Daly—People coming from Cork have hawkers licences.

Mr. Cole—The point about people selling fruit etc. on the Strand and in the town is that it is unfair to local traders who are paying rates.

Mr. Lynch—Yes, it is unfair to all ratepayers. After discussion, it was decided, on the proposition of Mr. Linehan, to forward the submissions asked for to the Association of Municipal Authorities in regard to street trading.

Mr. Hickey—What about people selling plants.

Town Clerk—People attending fairs and markets are exempt. At a later stage in the discussion, Mr. Daly said it was a very important matter and would take a little thought and he suggested that it be discussed at a later date. This was agreed to.

ANNUAL MEETING OF U.D.C.

It was unanimously decided that in future the annual meeting of the Council, which usually was held at 12 noon, should be held at the hour for the holding of the Council's ordinary meeting, i.e. at 8 p.m.

DEPT. OF INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE AND CORK AIRPORT

The Department of Industry and Commerce wrote stating that Ballygarvan area was the most suitable site for an airport owing to its convenience to Cork. Noted.

Mr. Lynch—The weight of influence is in Cork.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The following letter was received from the Dept. of Health—I am directed by the Minister for Health to refer to your letter of the 8th ultimo and to say that he has now directed the South Cork Board of Public Assistance to advise the position of temporary M.O., of the Youghal District Hospital. The Minister has approved of the temporary appointment of Dr. E. T. Riordan as temporary M.O. of Youghal District Hospital from 1st November, 1956, until a temporary appointment is made as a result of advertising.

Mr. Daly—Why the second post. I think, live and let live should be the whole point.

Mr. Lynch—Emigration is the greatest boom just now and that applies to young doctors.

Mr. Daly—Freemasons in the North and Knights of Columbanus in the South, everyone should get a chance.

Mr. Linehan—I think we should not speak too much about one man, one job; we have our rate collector who has more than one job.

Mr. Daly—It is our Manager. I asked that the late Mr. Neelan be appointed as gas collector, it is the Manager's function.

Mr. Cole—Why do those temporary posts go on for donkeys years?

Mr. Daly—We have nothing to say in this matter.

REMOVING GRAVEL FROM FRONT STRAND

Mrs. A. Edenborough, Front Strand, Youghal, wrote complaining that gravel, which protected the property on the front strand and which was thrown up by the sea on the main road, should be thrown back on the strand.

Mrs. Hurley—Seafield Fabrics lorry is taking the gravel away by day.

Town Clerk—Got in touch with the Town Surveyor and he went to the factory where he was told they had the permission of the U.D.C.

Mrs. Hurley—But we didn't say it was to be taken away all the time. A man named Roche was taking gravel away all day and the position is that if one gets permission everyone must get it. This gravel should be thrown over the sea wall.

The late Mr. W. Dwyer came here and looked for this gravel.

Mr. Lynch—It would be a God help our town only for Mr. Dwyer.

Mr. Daly—The people in Killrush have the same trouble.

Mr. Hickey—What gravel Seafield Fabrics will take will do no harm.

Mr. Linehan—In fairness to the people on the Strand, we cannot give gravel away if the people's property is going to suffer. Our strand is our front window. If the Engineer is sochie that no harm will be done by removing gravel, let them have it.

Mr. Daly—Time and again everything possible has been done.

Chairman—The gravel which is being taken away is on the roadway and I don't suppose it does a great deal of harm.

Mrs. Hurley—Mr. W. J. Broderick and myself gave gravel away before to Mr. Dwyer.

Mr. Lynch—It was this Council gave it away.

Chairman—Are we going to expend a lot of money throwing it back over the sea wall, we can't say yes to-day and no, to-morrow.

Mr. Ahern—If it is thrown over the wall now, it will be thrown back on the main road again. I have not seen the gravel so high for the past ten years and I would not be in favour of throwing it back over the wall just now.

Finally a vote was taken as to whether the gravel would be thrown back over the wall or given to Seafield Fabrics.

Four voted for throwing the gravel over the sea wall and four to let Seafield Fabrics take the gravel, and the Chairman gave his casting vote in favour of Seafield Fabrics and remarked that ten years ago thousands of tons of gravel were removed from the main road and no harm was done as a result.

Mrs. Hurley protested at the Council's decision.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

In reply to Mr. Cole who asked about the Council's proposed housing scheme, the Manager said he was still awaiting a reply from the Co. M.O.H.

Sympathy was extended to Mr. J. Broderick, Clashmore, on the death of his wife; to Mr. Joe Power, Youghal, on the death of his uncle and to Mr. J. M. Grath Tallow Street, on the death of his wife on the proposition of Mr. Lynch.

Mr. Daly—Have we any report about the dangerous wall at O'Neill Crowley Street.

Town Clerk—The Engineer reports that it is not the liability of the U.D.C.

Mr. Daly—It is dangerous to the health of the people and should be looked after.

Chairman—If the Council are going to take it down, they should take over the property.

Mr. Daly—If anything should happen it would be serious.

Chairman—We should notify the owner to have it taken down. This was agreed to.

YOUGHAL NEWS

MOTOR CRASH NEAR YOUGHAL

About 6.30 p.m. last Monday evening, a car conveying five tradesmen from their employment in Cork was involved in a collision with another car about 30 yards from Summerfield Cross, over a mile from Youghal. One of the passengers from Youghal received slight injuries to his head and after receiving medical attention, was removed to the local Cottage Hospital where he is progressing quite favourably. The cars which were extensively damaged were driven by Mr. T. McCarthy and Mr. T. Harnedy of Youghal, and both drivers were uninjured.

SALMON NET FISHING CLUB

For the past week or more catches by nets in Youghal and adjoining districts have been very poor due, no doubt, to the severe cold weather and strong unfavourable winds. It is hoped that with a change of weather conditions that catches will improve considerably. Some boats have not taken a single fish for over a week.

MEETING OF YOUGHAL GREYHOUND WELFARE CLUB

A large and representative meeting of the Youghal Greyhound Welfare Club was held at the Town Hall, Youghal, at which Youghal and surrounding Coursing Clubs were represented as well as the directors and shareholders of the Youghal Greyhound Track. Mr. James J. Ahern, who presided, welcomed all present especially those who came long distances and outlined the purpose of the meeting which was to discuss ways and means of making greyhound racing at Youghal Track more attractive to both the dog owners and the general public.

SHOWS I HAVE SEEN

4.—THE MIKADO.

We again open the lid of the box of programmes and we find the programme of one of the most popular operetta's of to-day. It is the programme of "The Mikado". There is little need for me to say that "The Mikado" is perhaps the finest work of the combined genius of Gilbert and Sullivan. Gilbert or shall we call him William Gilbert got a really great idea when the plot of "The Mikado" came to his mind. He set to work writing the libretto of this new show and when after some thought and sweat he sent his piece to Arthur Sullivan who was at that time far away from Gilbert. At this period of their lives they had a tiff and "The Mikado" was the cause of the re-unification of the two masters.

The Japanese setting had appealed to Gilbert and, of course, Arthur Sullivan had the music ready for the opening night with all that finery which was one of his musical characteristics. Poor Sullivan had a hard time setting the music to this libretto because the world of classical music was waiting for his oratorio which had to be done in a very short time. So Sullivan stayed up until the early hours of the morning trying to have both "The Mikado" and the oratorio ready for the opening nights. In fact he did, and in spite of his run against time, "The Mikado" swept the world with renowned success and had exceptionally long runs everywhere it was produced.

This opera was bound to have an appeal for Irish audiences and so it found itself being the most popular of G. and S. shows. Many colleges produced this show and in 1952 the Rockwell College Musical Society produced the operetta in the College Theatre. Need I add, that it was staged to packed houses every night.

That year, Mr. Xavier Gibson who is organist at St. Peter and Paul's, Clonmel, was the musical director and he did a great job with the comparatively green cast. However, with expert Herbert Hanna, son of Mr. Fred Hanna, of Nassau Street, Dublin, in the part of "Poo-Bah" and English born Paddy Baynton as the immortal "Ko-Ko" the production was on the way to success. Rev. Bro. Benedict, C.S.Sp. was producer. The Cork Gilbert and Sullivan Group are staging the operetta at Fr. Matthew Hall on March 11th for a week.

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING

same councillors have voted against providing the money to meet the supplementary estimates because to vote for it now would be most unpopular. Let us be honest about it.

Mr. T. Lannon said that their trouble was in that they provided £10,000 for doctors' and officials' increases in salaries but there seemed to be no talk about that.

Manager—Not for the officials of the County Council.

NO WATER FOR KNOCKLUCAS

Mr. John Fahy said that in the estimate as recommended by the Estimates Committee, the sum of £208 was provided for a water supply extension to Knocklucas outside Clonmel.

The beginning of the end came when rates on the house and lands began to soar until they reached the present figure of £1,235 per annum. In November 1955, Mr. Villiers Stuart made his big decision.

was too drastic. The Library service had already been reduced by £800 and he had always looked upon it as the poorest man's university. To hit at this service would be to hit at the people who needed such a service most of all.

Senator Butler said that the library service would be the greatest luxury of all if they were to abolish it. They would have to continue paying the Librarian and his assistants for doing nothing as they were permanent employees.

Mr. Sean Ormonde informed the meeting that he would not take any part in any divisions that might be made at this meeting. He had been approached by a deputation representing a certain body and they alleged that it was his vote that influenced a certain number of votes on the last occasion.

The Chairman stated that he was very glad Mr. Ormonde had stated this as he had been told that it was his intention of taking part in any division on this occasion.

The Manager stated that he would like to make a point in reply to certain arguments put forward at an earlier stage. According to the Statistical Abstract of Ireland 1954, the income from agriculture, forestry and fish in 1938 was 388 million. In 1953, the figure was £116 million. Four times as much. Wages paid in 1938 amounted to 5.9 million and in 1953, £16 million — which amounts to two and two-thirds the 1938 figure. No further comment was necessary on that point.

Mr. Foran's proposal to reduce the library service by £4,000, was defeated by 16 to 6 votes.

THE VOTING
A proposal by Mr. Curran that a rate of 38/ in the £ be struck which was seconded by Mr. D. Montayne, was also defeated.

Mr. Curran—You will have many comrades. Mr. Curran—it is ridiculous; it is simply evading our responsibilities.

Senator Butler—This Council is following in the same footsteps to-day. Finally after a number of other matters were dealt with the Council adjourned.

Waterford County Council adjourned for a period as a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. P. A. Casey, U.D.C., Dungarvan, a leading Co. Waterford industrialist, after several members paid high tribute to the work he had done for his native town.

TIME OFF TO VOTE
The Co. Manager agreed to consider the application of Mr. T. A. Kyne made at a meeting of Waterford County Council on Monday. The application was to grant time off to road workers so that they and their families could register their vote on polling day. Mr. Kyne pointed out that many of the workers had to travel a considerable distance to and from their work and if they were tied to their usual working hours they might not find it possible to register their votes.

Mr. Kyne's application was supported by Mr. Sean Ormonde and other members.

The Inside Story

By Tom Tobin

His day is done . . . but the effort was worthwhile

He was one of the few. He looked ahead, resolved to succeed and pressed onward. He was not afraid to take a chance, and even when the odds were much against him, he gambled and won. But it was shrewd thinking, careful planning and the will to pioneer the product of his own faith that made "Perce" Casey of Dungarvan one of Ireland's most brilliant businessmen and one of her leading industrialists.

Yet, he remained a man of the people who always found time to stop on the street to talk about the little things that fill the chapters of human interest in the lives of all of us, whether we work in the factory, on the land, in the office or in the shop. Each story had an interest for Perce and every person had an interest in him, in his efforts and in his advice.

Not many years ago, he became a member of Dungarvan Urban Council representing the "Knappeys" Association. Perce took a very keen interest in the administration of local affairs. He criticised and objected; he condemned and obstructed, but he beheld every move he made. And, at all times, he was fair.

Time and again we crossed swords. How often I wished I could say to him, "You're being unfair." But I could never say it. Certainly it often seemed that what he had said or done was unfair, yet on analysing his statements or his actions one had to admit in all honesty to the fairness that was typical of this man who never feared the expression of his view no matter how unpopular it might have been.

There was nothing small about Perce Casey. He was mainly in his business and personal dealing. He listened to the other side of the story before he made up his mind on any issue. If he was wrong and indeed that was seldom, he was the first to admit it. If he was right, and usually he was, then nothing would change his mind. But Perce Casey was always ready to help. As a person, as a businessman and as a councillor, he helped many. Few of them know of that help even to this day. In his home life, he was happy and content; his wife and five young children had much to love and be happy in him.

Today, there are many homes in Dungarvan that have a warm fire, a comfortable and secure future due to the efforts of this man. He was one of the few to risk whatever money he had in a venture that promised a new life for Dungarvan and the people in it. But the venture could also fail. Perce Casey, however, was not the kind of man to allow good money rest in the cold vaults of any bank, unproductive, valueless, except to his own person. He had faith in local industry and confidence in the future it offered. He sacrificed much but he was not alone. That was twenty-one years ago. To-day we remember Perce Casey, his brother, the late Dr. M. Casey and the late Mr. Moloney, and we say, thank God they were not afraid, as so many are in a nation that deny men of courage and foresight in this era of hampered enterprise . . . an era of restricted credits . . . of a Government interested in the industrialising rule of the industrial efforts, large and small, of an Ireland that is dying in despair.

Today there is a vacant chair not only in his home, but in the boardrooms of the Dickens Leather Co. Ltd. and Irish Galvanic Ltd., Dungarvan. Perce Casey, one of those responsible for the successful industrial revival that has kept mass unemployment away from the Old Boro, now rests in the shadow of the bellry of St. Mary's Parish Church. He died peacefully in his home last Friday morning and Dungarvan mourns his passing. Perce was really everybody's friend and we will miss him, in many ways. We have lost a character as well as a friend, a man of courage as well as one of goodwill. . . and Ireland has lost a son she can ill-afford to lose. Perce Casey was a pioneer. He pointed the way for many. He opened up new markets in far away lands and when no other Irish company thought it worth while to exhibit their produce at the World Trade Fair, Perce Casey went there and set all Canada, in fact, many other nations too, talking about Irish leather. His new-found export trade provided employment when it was hard to find. He made Dungarvan, his hometown, world famous for its leather. And now his day is done . . . But his effort was well worthwhile.

Club score a big success

On Wednesday night last at Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan, the Brickey Camogie Club held their first annual dinner and social which proved an outstanding success. It was attended by over 100 friends and supporters from all ends of the County. Fr. J. Murphy, C.C., Ballinacree, presided. (Full story next week).

The end of a story. The Villiers Stuarts have left Dromana

The great door is closed. An empty champagne bottle stood on the step — a poignant reminder of the past that was glorious and gay. The brittle twigs, shaken off leafless trees by the winds that sweep over the river Blackwater, lay scattered about the neglected driveway. Except for the song of the thrush on a nearby elm, the scene was deserted at Dromana House, outside Villiersstown.

It was the end of an era. The last of the Villiers Stuarts had left Dromana. And I stood alone on the driveway recording history. Twenty-eight year old Mr. James Henry Ion Villiers Stuart and his wife, Emily Constance had gone to live at Renville, Oxanmore, Co. Galway, and Dromana House with 2,000 acres of land are up for sale. High taxation wrote the final chapter in 700 years of Irish history.

Recognised as one of the finest demesnes in Ireland, Dromana was the seat of the Lords of the Decies who derived their descent from James, the Seventh Earl of Desmond. The Villiers Stuarts were descendants of the original Lords of Decies. It was at Dromana, Sir Walter Raleigh was received in Ireland when he introduced a fine species of cherry which he brought from the Canary Islands. The cherry was domesticated at Dromana where it still continues to flourish.

Further down the river, all Youghal, Sir Walter planted the first potato in Ireland and introduced the first pipe of tobacco to these isles. The Villiers Stuarts received kings and queens at Dromana House and much of the history of Munster was planned within its walls. But the great doors of Dromana House was always open to the workers of the neighbourhood who were well paid and comfortably housed on the extensive estate. The Villiers Stuarts contributed much to the development of Co. Waterford's industrial, social and educational life. Even the renowned College at Ring, where leaders of Church and State learned their native language, stand on a site provided by the Villiers Stuarts. It was a great-grandfather of the present owner of Dromana who rejected the title of Lord of the Decies when he successfully stood for Catholic Emancipation beside his old friend, Daniel O'Connell. Yet, Villiers Stuart remained a Protestant.

And now the great house is silent. Beautiful paintings rest on the floors awaiting their removal. Books in their thousands, antique furniture and a comprehensive variety of valuables are curiously arranged awaiting the auctioneer's hammer.

Election activity keeps men busy

Old as it may seem, one would never think that we are on the eve of a General Election. Things have been very quiet in the Old Boro of course. However, the road workers are reduced to the county districts from all I can gather.

That "Certain Body"

Sean Ormonde caused some surprise at the meeting of the County Council last Monday when the same rate as last year 38/9 in the £ was adopted. (See the full report of the lively meeting in this issue). Sean said he would not take a part in the voting. He suggested that his part on the previous occasion had provoked the wrath of a "certain body".

He never disclosed the name of that certain body—publicly, that is, but he did disclose it. It does not seem fair to an able representative of his standing to call an open with his type of ultimatum. I admire the manner in which he spoke out on the matter but I do think he would take a further step in the right direction if he named that "party" publicly, no matter how much it hurts.

They will be named anyway.

LATE MISS MARY (POLLY) GILLMAN, BALLYMAC-ARBERY.

Deep regret has been expressed over a wide area at the announcement of the death of Miss Mary (Polly) Gillman which took place at the residence of her sister at Castlhill Road, Clonmel, on Saturday, Feb. 16. Member of a much respected and widely known Ballymacarbery family, deceased lady for a big number of years had been attached to the postal staff at Ballymacarbery Post Office and up to the time of her illness filled a similar position at Irish-town Post Office, Clonmel. In this sphere she made innumerable friends amongst all sections of the community, mainly due to a disposition that was kind and unassuming and to a courtesy and efficiency that made her one of the most popular of her generation. Deeply religious, her many kindly and charitable acts made for her many lasting and appreciative friendships and amongst her ever-expanding circle of friends her passing is deeply and deservedly regretted. Proof of the popularity of deceased and of the sympathy entertained for her bereaved relatives, were in evidence by the large cortege which accompanied the removal of the remains to Fourmilewater Church on Sunday evening, 17th inst. On Monday following, Requiem Office and High Mass interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Celebrant of the Mass was Very Rev. Canon Meskill, P.P., Fourmilewater. Other priests in attendance were Rev. Fr. Bracken, C.C., Fourmilewater; Rev. Fr. Cahill C.C., St. Peter and Paul's, Clonmel; Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, C.C., Ardhanan; Rev. Fr. PEN PICTURES.

The name Tom Kyne which is now a household word holds wide place in the hearts and minds of many of the electorate of Waterford whom he has served well and truly over a long period. For many years Mr. Kyne has enjoyed the confidence of a large section of the people by returning him as a Dail Deputy. In this respect the confidence is justified and justification that has its roots in serving many sections of the community in a manner not heretofore enjoyed. Looking across the chain of years we recall Mr. Kyne as a teenager working as a dock labourer in his native Dungarvan. Since then his rise to fame has been rapid and today he is recognised as one of Ireland's leading Labour leaders. In the forthcoming Election he is again chosen for Waterford as the standard bearer of the Labour Party. More popular and none more worthy.

MR. NORMAN WALSH, P.C.

Popular choice of the Fine Gael Party in West Waterford is none other than that very respected and unassuming gentleman, Mr. Norman Walsh, M.C.C., Cappoquin. Member of a family whose name speaks for itself in the Western Decies, yet the yardstick by which we measure Mr. Walsh's popularity is not based on a family name but rather on the services rendered to the people in general as a representative of the County Council and its subsidiary bodies. An extensive, practical and hard-working farmer, a section of the community he serves best by the mere fact that his experience in this sphere make him better acquainted with their needs and requirements and in the Council Chamber their interests are served by him in a manner second to none. A young man of dynamic energy in County Council affairs whose first interest is that of the ratepayer, this coupled with his straightforwardness in all matters make him a popular choice in the forthcoming election. Keen in debate, he never plays to the gallery, not a yes-man to party, individual or official, he always stands on the side of justice, and fairplay for all regardless of political affiliation. For all this lay the foundation of his political greatness, a greatness done up in a matter of the number of votes that he is recorded for him on Tuesday next and which may further elevate him to a higher plane of political greatness.

IS THE BORDER CLOSED AT BALLINAMULT?

From Ballinacult, that pretty Waterford village on the Waterford-Tipperary border comes a strange but true story. Some time ago an esteemed and hard-working young man of the district whose family connections with Co. Waterford had been centuries old and who has constant employment in the area, made application for a labourer's cottage. Circumstances which had their root in lack of housing accommodation compelled this man and his wife to seek temporary residence across the fence at the other side of the neighbouring County of Tipperary, where they were waiting their new home. In recent weeks, to their great surprise, they learned from a certain unaffiliated source that they were being refused a cottage. Being informed that their cottage would not be built as they were residents of another county, strangers in their own land. Their present house in a state of decay and not fit for habitation, therefore inspection is invited, as seeing is believing. We are told that the case will be probably the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Waterford Co. Council on March 11th when perhaps right will prevail. We hear much in the past about the light from the land; it has proved an interesting topic for some of our politicians. There is a case of one being driven from it, through no fault of his own, all because a public body did not see fit to provide him with a home. We wish to see justice meted out in this case, and that official or otherwise will not be allowed to deny the right of this gentleman to be provided with a home in the county of his birth and in which he has lived and worked during his lifetime.

PRETTY IRISH WEDDING IN LONDON

A very pretty and picturesque wedding comprising well-known members of Irish families, took place recently at the Church of the Most Holy Trinity, Brook Green, London, when the contracting parties were Mr. Patrick Kieley, son of Mr. and the late David Kieley, Derra, Modeligo, and Miss Mary A. Frawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frawley, St. Mary's Park, Limerick. The ceremony with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing was performed by Rev. Fr. Bishop.

Dungarbarhan Theas (4-0); Ridiri na Rinne (2-1)

Ridiri na Rinne, after a great first half, faded somewhat from the picture towards the end. Liam O'Donchu had a great goal within the first five minutes. Great work, however, by S. Breanach (in goal), P. Dunsmeach, P. MacCarthaigh and R. Mac Uateir from the town side kept the heavier Ring boys at bay, though S. O'Conchubhair, S. MacLochlainn, P. O'Flathabhain, L. O'Droma and N. O'Dochartaigh kept them all the time on their toes. L. O'Meachra had the winner's first goal and five minutes later P. O'Riain, sweeping up along the wing shot a great goal to leave the sides level at 2-0 each at half-time.

Urban Council Adjoins as Mark of Respect

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late Colr. Pierce A. Casey, the usual meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council was adjourned on Friday, March 1st. There was a full attendance except for the vacant chair, Mr. Tom Lannon, who with the late Colr. Casey, represented the Ratepayers' Association, proposing the vote of sympathy to the widow, family and other relatives of his colleague. It is with the deepest personal regret that I propose this vote of sympathy. Pierce Casey was a great friend of mine and the news of his death this morning came as a great shock to me. He was an outstanding man in every respect and was held in the highest esteem by all, and in particular by the people of Dungarvan where his name will always be remembered. Pierce Casey and his brother, the late Dr. Michael Casey, were instrumental in starting the great leather and glue industries in this town, which since their inception have provided employment for hundreds and have proved a boon generally for the town. Without their courage and foresight, Dungarvan would not be what it is today and the town owes a lot to the Casey family. Continuing, Mr. Lannon said: As a colleague on this Council, Pierce Casey always played his part for the betterment of the town. His wise counsel and straight approach to all matters pertaining to the Ratepayers' Association, on whose behalf he unselfishly gave his time and attention, will be greatly missed and will leave a wide gap in the ranks. The people of Dungarvan deeply mourn the passing of this outstanding Dungarvanite. On their behalf and on my own, I tender to his wife and family, a sincere and sincere sympathy. Mr. Casey was a great industrialist while he was the Chairman of the Trade Union movement. Mr. Kyne said that it was a great privilege to pay a high tribute to Pierce Casey for his part in the industrial revival in Dungarvan. The Casey family would forever be associated with that revival. Colr. Casey was a great loss to himself as well as to his town and did all he could for its advancement. In industry, in tourism and in every way, he was at all times to be found in there advocating the advantage his town had to offer. As a councillor he was always fair and just. While he was there looking after the interests of those he represented in the Ratepayers' Association, he was ever ready, prepared to look at the other side and to listen to the case made. He was always prepared to be reasonable. On the proposal of Senator Butler, it was agreed to have a Mass offered for the repose of Colr. Casey's soul at the Parish Church, Dungarvan, on a date to be arranged later. The vote of sympathy was passed with all members standing in silence. The meeting then adjourned.
