Death Notices

ACKNOWLEDGMENT DUNFORD—The sister and brother of the late Patrick Dunford, Ballinacree, wish to thank sincerely all those kind friends who sympathised with them in their recent sorrow; those who sent Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy, attended the removal of the remains, Requiem Mass or interment. They trust all will accept this as an expression of their deep appreciation. The late Mr. Flavin, a quiet unassuming member of the farming community, was a general favourite, and his bereaved widow and family have the sympathy of the public at large in their great loss. Murphy, C.C., blessed and received the coffin at the Church Gates. Interment took place in the adjoining cemetery on Monday morning following the recitation of Masses of Requiem, again in the presence of an impressive gathering of sympathisers. Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Ellen Flavin (widow), Mrs. J. Murphy, Mrs. J. Power, Mrs. T. Linnane and Mrs. T. McKee (daughters); Mr. John Murphy, J. CULLINAN—In loving memory of my dear sister, Mary, who passed away 8th April, 1948.—R.I.P. Sunshine passes, shadows fall. But love and memories outlive all. If I could hear your voice and see your smile. Then life to me would be worthwhile.—Bridie.

106 UNFIT HOUSES IN YOUGHAL

—Co. M.O.H.brates
At a meeting of Youghal Urban Council, Senator P. J. O'Gorman presided. PROPOSAL FOR HOUSE SCHEME
The Town Clerk was discussing the erection of 20 houses and had a discussion on sites when it was decided to refer the matter to the County M.O.H. In his report just received, it states that there are 106 unfit houses in the town, the worst of which were in Cork Hill, Ash Street, Windmill Hill and the areas adjoining them.
Mr. Lynch—We are getting no information whatever as to whether we are going on with the 20-house scheme or otherwise. What we want is to erect 20 houses immediately and we are as far away as ever from starting. It is over twelve months ago since we went around the town with the Co. M.O.H. inspecting sites.
Chairman—We would like to erect 100 houses if we could afford to do so. I note there are houses in the Co. M.O.H.'s report which could be repaired and this should not be lost sight of. The best we can do is to seek sanction to proceed with the twenty houses.
Town Clerk—The Co. M.O.H. and the Architect did not agree on the sites.
Mr. Lawlor—Submit that report to the Local Govt. Dept. and await a reply. The Dept. should send an inspector along to inspect the sites.
Mr. Lynch—It seems funny to us that the Co. M.O.H. has a bigger say than the Architect whose job it is. He comes along and has power to dictate to us. I think the Department is taking too much notice of Co. M.O.H.s.
Mr. Daly—I would like to second Mr. Lawlor's proposition that we request the Dept. to send an inspector to Youghal and meanwhile let the Department have a report of the Co. M.O.H. When the inspector comes to Youghal he should be accompanied by our Engineer, Town Clerk and members of the Urban Council.
Chairman—I agree with the proposition and with the suggestion that the inspector should be accompanied by the official named, together with members of the Council.
Mr. Lynch—The previous Co. M.O.H. approved of the sites chosen by the Council; how it is that this Co. M.O.H. can turn down the sites.
Mr. Daly—The inspector who will come down will have the final say.
Mr. Lynch—Will the man they will send down be a doctor?—No.
RECONSTRUCTION GRANTS
Mr. Cole—Are not grants available for reconstruction?
Mr. Daly—Any applicant can get a reconstruction grant.
Town Surveyor—The grant will be one-third of whatever work you do.
CLAYCASTLE EROSION
Town Clerk—We have been hammering at this for some time, we got a verbal promise of a grant of £100 from the L.G.D. and we requested a contribution from C.I.E.
Mr. O'Regan who is in charge of the work, said he would like to extend the promenade as far as the strand gap at far end of Claycastle. He would fill up the space at rear of the sleeper piling and grade down the face of Claycastle. The distance will be 300 yards. We got £500 from the Co. Council and 600 sleepers from C.I.E. but we would require a further 600 to complete the job.
Mr. Lynch—We were out there with the Engineer and the Town Clerk and if we could get old building material, a sound job could be made of the extension. We are lucky, said Mr. Lynch, in having such a man as Mr. O'Regan in charge.
Mr. Daly—The sleepers should be driven as far as they are required.
Mr. Lawlor—I think Mr. O'Regan is to be congratulated, he is doing a job out there that Youghal will be proud of. It will be a wonderful improvement on the strand, especially if the filling to be done will be the height of the existing promenade. Could we erect a shelter out there and toilets.

VANDALISM
Mr. Lynch—I would like to tell you here to-night that we erected a most modern toilet out there within the past few years. It would be worth your while to go out there now and see it. The door of the toilet is torn away, the basin broken and the white tiling on the walls was smashed; the place is simply a shambles.
Mrs. Hurley—Did this happen in the past couple of weeks because a lady out there saw two young fellows leaving the toilet with hammers in their hands, in all probability after having broken the place up. Members deploring this wanton destruction and hoped that those responsible will be discovered.
Mr. Ahern—I am very glad that Mr. O'Regan has taken the job of extending the prom.

TALLOW NOTES
G.A.A.
Tallow junior hurling team, showing some of the old fire for which Bridecliffe hurling is noted. Snatched a two point victory from Cappoquin at the Gaelic Field, Tallow on Sunday before a fairly large attendance and in ideal weather. Tallow, playing with a nice tempo, breeze in the first half, were early away and opened the scoring in the first ten minutes of play with a goal per R. Ryan. This was followed by another goal soon after, the scorer being Char. Daly. James Ballyduff stalwart, Cappoquin were by now setting down and had an easy goal to which Tallow replied with a point by J. McQuinn. The Cornerstone lads were again pressing their efforts, were rewarded by another goal followed by a point. Tallow had two more points by P. Henley and C. Daly before half time leaving the score Tallow 3-8, Cappoquin 2-1. On the turn over, Tallow replaced B. Tobin in goal by J. Power and brought on J. Nicholson. This half opened with determined pressure by the Cappoquin lads who missed many chances. The determined tackling of P. Henley, R. Ryan and J. McGrath broke up many promising Cappoquin raids who now seemed to have the edge on the local forwards. It is significant that Cappoquin had the only score of the second half which was a major and were still pressing when referee Moss Pollard blew the final whistle which left the score, Tallow 3-8, Cappoquin 2-1. The game was of a high standard throughout, both sides giving of their best and was played in a fine sporting manner. Best for Tallow, P. Henley, R. Ryan, J. McGrath, J. Ryan, J. Power, H. Ronan, Paul Curley, D. O'Keefe, J. Hogan and Charlie Daly. Cappoquin's best were M. Sweeney, T. Conroy, E. Costin, N. Mason, J. Meskill, O. Coffey while J. Fraher in goal brought off some brilliant saves.
Tallow: P. Henley, J. McGrath, R. Ryan, J. Power, H. Ronan, Paul Curley, D. O'Keefe, J. Hogan and Charlie Daly. Cappoquin: M. Sweeney, T. Conroy, E. Costin, N. Mason, J. Meskill, O. Coffey while J. Fraher in goal brought off some brilliant saves.
Town Clerk—We have to warn them here every day in the Mail.
Chairman—I would be inclined to suggest that we invite Supt. Hughes of Youghal, present him with those letters and in the matter. We are living in an era of vandalism.
Mr. Cole—A weigh machine, my property, was pulled from the wall and deliberately smashed and look at what they have done in the convent premises and Claycastle.
Mrs. Hurley—The public library was broken into this week.
Mr. O'Regan, B.E.—Yes, they gained access to the premises by forcing the back door.
Finally it was decided to invite Supt. Hughes of the Garda to attend at the Council Offices and with the members of the Council decide what action he proposes taking to curb this wave of vandalism.

ST. CATHERINE'S DEFEAT CASTLELYONS.
At the Sportsfield, Conna, on Sunday, St. Catherine's, Ballynoe, defeated Castlelyons, Ballynoe, in the final of the medal tournament. St. Catherine's went into an early lead which they maintained all through the hour. Some very good hurling was witnessed. Final score, St. Catherine's 4-5; Castlelyons 0-3.
St. Catherine's—P. Buckner, (goal), B. Barry, T. Morrison, O'Keefe, M. O'Brien, D. Flaherty, J. Flynn, J. Healy, B. Caser, O. Flaherty, T. Morrison, T. Dineen, J. Sheehan, J. Hogan, L. Walsh.
DIED IN ENGLAND.
We regret to record the death of Mr. Frederick West, formerly of Kilwatermy, which occurred in England recently. Deceased served in the Irish Guards in World War II and was later proprietor of a licensed premises in England. He was cousin of Mr. Laurence Galvin, Roseville, Tallow, and of Mrs. D. Grey, Moorehill, Tallow, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy.

LATE MR. ROBERT COTTER.
It is with deep regret we record the death at an early age of Mr. Robert Cotter, Ballyclough, Tallow, which sad event occurred at the Bon Secours Home, Cork, last week. Member of a highly respected family, who renders his death more poignant was the fact that he was pre-deceased by his brother, he was only a few weeks ago. He was brother of the late Mrs. John and James Cotter, U.S., and nephew of the late Rev. Fr. Barrett, O.P., the noted preacher. There was a huge cortege at the removal of the remains to the Parish Church, Tallow and at the subsequent interment in the adjoining cemetery, to his bereaved wife and young family, we tender our deepest sympathy.—R.I.P.

TALLOW I.C.A.
At a recent joint meeting of Tallow Macra na Feirme and I.C.A. it was decided to start a branch of Macra na Tuaithe in the Parish. This is open to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years. At present the local I.C.A. guld are busy preparing their programme for the social half-hour competition, the final of which will be held in Waterford.
LATE MR. P. LANDERS.
The late Mr. Patrick Landers who died at his residence, Corkers Hill, Youghal last week, was native of Glendine Parish and was brother of Mr. Michael Landers, Cherrymount, Templemichan. He served in the Army in his young days. To his bereaved family and relatives, the deepest sympathy is extended.

FERRY BOAT
Mrs. Hurley—What about the ferry boat. I am told although the ferry is running and has not been for some time, the boats are being paid all the time.
Town Clerk—That is not so as the time since the boat has been laid up.
SUNDAY SCAVANGING
Mrs. Hurley—What about Sunday morning scavanging; when will it be resumed?
Mr. Daly—There is no Sunday morning scavanging in Cork and these men are entitled to have Sunday off.
Mrs. Hurley—These men are being paid and why should they be paid.
Mr. Hickey—The money they are getting is very small.
Finally it was decided to discuss the matter at next meeting.

SYMPATHY
Sympathy was extended to the widow of the late Mr. J. Hegarty and the relatives of the late Compt. General Ernie O'Malley.
Sympathy was also extended to the relatives of the late Mr. Wm. Lynch, on the proposition of Mr. Lynch, who said the late Mr. Lynch was a great sailor who sailed the Seven Seas in the old wind-jammers, like many Youghal men, all of whom were first class sailors who trained in wind-jammers. There are only two of them left now said Mr. Lynch.
The Chairman and others present joined in the expression of sympathy.
Sympathy was also extended to Capt. Harold Smyth, Ballynary, Youghal, on the death of his sister, Mrs. Chute, who died in Keyna.

Search for Ireland's best Cobbler
Country-wide competition will give the answer.
Lights are burning well into the night in many a country cobbler's shop . . . and not a few feet and shoe repairing premises in towns and cities throughout Ireland as well.
Cobblers all have one big job in hand—all trying to beat their colleagues on one major repair job—a job for no pay but one that will mean a boost to their reputations, maybe a diploma and for the winner, a handsome trophy into the bargain.
From the village shoemaker to the city's factory near automation system of shoe repairing they're all trying their hardest to win out as the best shoe repairers in Ireland. The repairer's Competition at next month's Shoe and Leather Trade Fair, commencing in Dublin on May 7th, will provide the answer to the big question—"Who is Ireland's best cobbler?"
Each year new methods of repairs and new adhesives appear. The tourist and fashion trade alone bring ideas and new kinds of work and the repairer who wants to meet this demand must keep himself abreast of the very latest developments.
But, as Mr. C. Cronin, Secretary of the Irish Master Bootmakers and Repairers' Association, points out, referring to the Fair Competition, "the basis of any kind of repair work from the simplest to that done by the latest machinery is the skill, understanding and craftsmanship of the individual craftsman."
The forthcoming Leather Fair is being held essentially to increase Ireland's present annual output now well over 5,000,000 pairs of boots and shoes (gross value more than £7,000,000) by a further two million.

Abbeyside Confound Fourmilewater: The Rockies Advance

ABBEYSIDE, conquerors of 1955 title-holders Fourmilewater, turned in what was unquestionably the performance apart of the championship opening on Sunday last. The village men played immaculate hurling as they proceeded to run the opposition into the ground; they outpaced and outthrewed the Ballymac side in all departments and at the end they held a commanding fifteen points advantage.

Another very commendable feat was that accomplished by Colligan Rockies, whose spirited hurling brought the championship aspirations of Brickey Rangers to an unexpectedly early end.

The remaining tie on the three-match Fraher Field programme saw St. Garvan's, as expected, romp home to a one-sided victory over neighbouring Dungarvan.

Abbeyside hurling, in the dot-drum since their dismal showing in the Sargent Cup, got a shot in the arm when their dash second string over-ran Fourmilewater in unexpectedly decisive fashion.

The winners hurled with remarkable fire in all departments. They were competent in defence and at midfield, while the vanguard, in which former senior stalwart Danny Connor, the saviour of many a Village team in the past, starred, fairly revelled in fast open exchanges.

Fourmilewater have clearly hit a lean patch. This team was but a shadow of the fifteen that carried off the junior crown two years ago and all but caught Abbeyside napping in the senior championship last July.

Set the task of replacing Johnny Whelan and Dan Desjardins—the heroes of many a memorable victory—Paddy Grant and Ned Sheehan among others, they faced the assignment beyond them. But in the best Fourmilewater tradition, they did not go down without a battle.

Pa Foley, Anthony Hayes, Danny Connors, all men of senior experience, Mickey Power, Mick Mansfield, Pat Hogan, Donie Russell and Johnny Enright were the principal contributors to the villagers victory. Abbeyside—P. Burke (goal); M. Organ, P. Foley, M. Power, J. Hayes, M. Mansfield, P. Hogan, A. Hayes, M. Organ; D. Whelan, D. Russell, D. Connors, P. Whelan, J. Enright.

Colligan v. Brickeys. Colligan Rockies hurled with a singleness of purpose that bodes ill for the championship aspirations of the most confident sides, to stop a confident Brickey fifteen in no uncertain manner. The Rockies failed to utilise a first-half breeze to the best advantage but they changed over to take everything the losers could throw their way in a gruelling second period. At the end, thanks to a magnificent defence, they commanded a well-earned two points advantage.

On the resumption, however, the Colligan men again set about their task with commendable zest. The result was that try as the losers would they just could not pull the game around.

Colligan Rockies: E. Quill, M. Flynn, G. Dwyer, S. Power, C. Dover, M. Walsh, P. Tobin; P. Kirwan and T. Byrne, E. Brett, J. Dunford, P. Fitzgerald; T. Tobin, S. Hennessy, J. Quinlan.

All told, the Rockies well deserved their victory, though they could not show a scant two-points margin at the end of the game. In the interim, however, they had done enough to warrant a ticket forward to round two.

At mid-field Tommy Byrnes and Paddy Kirwan struck up a partnership that held the fort throughout the 60 minutes. Eddie Brett, the stylist of the team, had a golden hour on the wing and Paddy Fitzgerald, Sean Hennessy and Jimmy Tobin all performed with much credit.

Brickeys, who battled gallantly to save the day, a feat they almost accomplished in the end, had valiant triers in Pat Spratt, Liam Crotty, John Harris, Bill McCarthy and Mick Baker.

St. Garvan's led at the interval by 4-0 to 1-2. Backed by the breeze on the change around, they tagged on a further seven goals and four points. Their huge total was shared by Jim Conney, Matty Fitzgerald and Gerry O'Connell.

Dungarvan—G. Troy, M. McGrath, D. Spratt, D. O'Brien; T. Buckley, E. McCarthy, T. Walsh, T. Hart, and E. Power; J. O'Flynn, T. O'Donnell, T. McGrath, J. Dee, P. O'Donnell, T. Rossiter. Sub.—J. Beresford.

IMPRESSIVE GARS ROMP HOME

Mick Doherty's charges—all hurlers of the first water—struck friend and foe alike as a right live championship proposition. Dungarvan had the morale uplift of a first-minute goal and point but their sojourn into the front was short-lived and once the winners pulled ahead the result was a mere formality.

The Gars played an impressive brand of hurling. They were yards faster to the ball; there was far greater precision in their general play and they combined movement, speed and superior technique.

The Gars showed several positional alterations from the first team that did duty in the Western final last September. Ned Hayes, a substitute on the occasion, was at full back; Liam Walsh was promoted to centre-back with the former occupant of that post, Johnny Mahony, figuring on the wing. Billy Monahan was restored to centre-forward and Matty Fitzgerald, the team captain, spearheaded the attack.

On the day's play the changes did not appear to hamper the team's hurling one iota but it will take another outing to prove conclusively that they have got the right blend. On this occasion it was simply a case of the opposition being too poor to gain a worthwhile line or their overall strength.

No doubt about it, though, they have strung together an able side. The defence was never troubled to deal with the sporadic raids of the losers; the brilliant John Kieley—the hurled suggestions about his days of usefulness being at an end here—was the teeth of all would-be lodgers—Mick Delany ordered a skipper, Matty Fitzgerald, had matters well their own way right through the hour. Donal Spratt was a valiant full-back for the losers and Buckley, Ned Power and Thady O'Donnell hurled like trojans, but primarily, through lack of worthwhile support, the winners played for all that were never in any danger of defeat.

St. Garvan's led at the interval by 4-0 to 1-2. Backed by the breeze on the change around, they tagged on a further seven goals and four points. Their huge total was shared by Jim Conney, Matty Fitzgerald and Gerry O'Connell.

THE stirring hurling of every man on view and a final quarter of fluctuating fortunes were the outstanding characteristics of a thoroughly entertaining test of reserve strength between Tourin and Geraldines at Cappoquin.

The losers, who utilised the advantage of a fairly strong breeze in the opening half, turned over with a clear three goal advantage. On the change around, Tourin, the more experienced side, methodically whittled down the arrears, despite the heroic hurling of the English rearward, and five minutes from time finally hit the front.

Geraldines rallied courageously and the Tourin citadel enjoyed a couple of narrow shaves but the winners came again to clinch the issue with a late goal.

The hurling, though never of a classical brand, was always interesting and provided a small attendance, comprised in the main of rival supporters, with first-rate entertainment. The winners, mainly due to the fluent stickwork of Mick Kenefick, Pat and Billy Dooney, Tom Regan and Billy McGrath, all men of senior experience, just about merited the decision. They recovered from a far from encouraging opening half

DECLARATIONS AND REINSTATEMENTS APPROVED

ARRANGEMENTS for the final matches in the Sargent and Phean Cup competitions and dates and venues for the senior championships were approved by Coliste Co. Football G.L.G. at a meeting presided over by Cathalrach Pádraig O'Fáin in the CYMS Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday night. In addition, the seasonal state of transfers and regradings recommended by the Divisional Boards were sanctioned and declarations for the purpose of playing in the county championships from "excited" players noted.

On the Chairman's suggestion it was decided to call together the junior hurling and junior and minor football selectors during the week to make preparations for the forthcoming Munster championships.

The Secretary announced that the county senior hurlers will play the home test in a tournament match at Limerick on 21st April.

Applications for reinstatement by Tom Power (Kilmacthomas); Garry Morrissey (Ballinacorney); T. Power (Kilmacthomas); P. Wells (De La Salle v. Dungarvan); and P. Finucane (St. Mollellers) and M. Connolly (Fourmilewater) were recommended to the Munster Council.

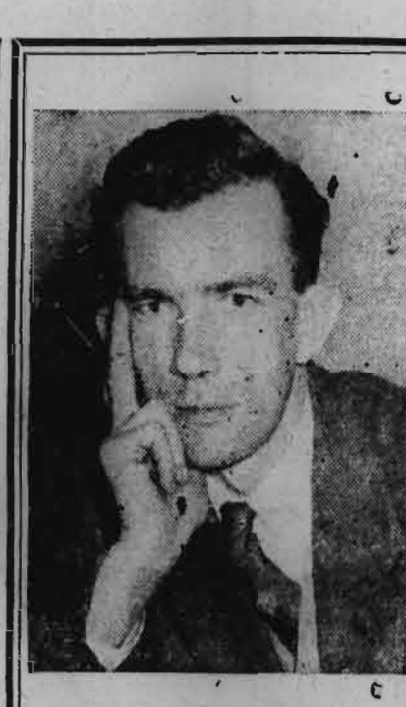

The following players declared their intention of assisting their home clubs in the county championships—

Paul Curley (Tallow); Nick Quill, Moss Qualey and Tommie Dee (Dungarvan); Sean Canning and Pat Rafferty (Ballyduff); Tony Freeman and Eddie Hallahan (Geraldines); Sean Ormonde and Denis Bigley (Kilmacthomas) were given the customary permission to assist Kilmacthomas in the Western junior hurling championship.

Similar applications from P. Crowley and P. Kieley, residents of East Waterford, to assist in the Western championships were granted.

A letter of apology from Charlie Daly, the former Ballyduff hurler, was read. The Chairman then declared the case closed and ruled that Daly could assist Tallow in the championship on Sunday. It will be recalled that a referee alleged that Daly held up play by refusing to hand over the ball during the Ballyduff-Mount Sion hurling test last July.

Frank Foley, a minor and colleges star of some years ago, was recommended for reinstatement under the foreign game rule.

BY TOM TOBIN

The gallant little hurler from Touin

This is the story of George ("Haudles") McGrath, one of the finest hurlers Touin has yet produced. It is the story of a young man who is today in a hospital ward while his wife and four-year-old child wait hopefully at their home in Main Street, Lismore. It is not a very nice story.

The future of the gallant little hurler from Touin is not a very rosy one. George will never take his place on the playing field. He will be lucky if he can take a seat among the spectators. He lost his future as a working man that day in August two years ago when he received a terrible injury on the playing field of Cappoquin.

And now what is to become of him and his family? George first played the game way back in 1943. He played for his county in many a good game, his latest being against Kerry in junior hurling in 1955. He was one of the stars of that great victory in the County Final of 1950 when Tourin brought off the senior hurling title and 'his well I recall the views of some shrewd judges who stated that had he been given the position occupied by Mick Hayer in that exciting Munster Championship tie at Cork in 1951, Waterford would have beaten Tipperary.

HE CANNOT FORGET

George McGrath can look back on many exciting games—

The Inside Story

games he played with a style all his own, for his club and county. However, he can never forget that day the end came. It was the third Sunday in August, '55. The Touin fifteen were drawn against Avonmore at Cappoquin and he was in the best of form.

In the course of play, he got a crack of a hurley in the head. Those who attended to him on the sod knew right away that he was seriously injured but few could imagine the real seriousness of that injury. Rushed to hospital in Waterford, it was found that the skull was fractured and a piece of hurley had penetrated the brain.

"A MIRACLE"

Surgeon O'Reilly, one of Ireland's most brilliant men, having performed a most brilliant operation, paid tribute to the gallant struggle of the Touin hurler. It was a miracle, many thought when he pulled through. It was then that the hurlers and footballers of Waterford rallied to help the injured player. After ten weeks in hospital he came home to find a fund which provided him with £4 weekly. This he set up through the efforts of the club backed by the co-operation of every club in the county. The Munster Council contributed £25, the Co. Board gave £10, and the Western Board gave £10, but in January '56, the fund became exhausted. Payment ceased completely and George was left penniless.

THIS SET BACK

It is how his brother Bob, well-known for his sound views at the Co. Board, told me the story: "Last year, we took him fishing with us and we gave him some of our shrewd judges. We took him working but he was unable to bend down and we continued giving him some of the share. After Christmas last on Dec. 28th to be exact, he had his first real set-back when he had a black-out which caused him to fall. He had a serious haemorrhage and was removed to Ardkeen Chest Hospital. Here, his health was found to be all right and he was discharged after a week. Then on March 10th last, he had another serious black-out and was removed to the County Hospital, in Waterford. On March 26th he was transferred to the Richmond Hospital in Dublin.

WAIT AND PRAY

Bob told me that his brother's condition is still serious and all they could do now was wait and pray. Wait and pray! How these words ring out in one's mind. They are not easy to forget. People do take notice when a person finds himself in distress and the great majority try to help but few remember, however, that distress can linger on long after the wounds have healed. . . . long after the sympathetic friends have gone, long after the excitement of the incident and the curiosity have faded. Eventually, the person in distress is forgotten in the rush of life and few bother to enquire. George McGrath, the gallant little hurler from Touin, is forgotten by many now.

"SILENCE"

"What is the Co. Board doing in the matter," I asked Bob McGrath. "Nothing," he replied, "absolutely nothing. I'm fed up with the lot of them. You see, certain amount of silence shrouded the accident but I have no doubt that was because of the seriousness of it, the officials in charge of the game were questioned by responsible gentlemen. The referee stated he never saw it happen but no one knew better than he or his umpires of that day how serious it was. Last year, George had a difference of opinion with the referee on the whole issue during the interval at the Sargent Cup game in Cappoquin. That difference led to blows and as a result George was prosecuted by the referee and a counter prosecution followed. I have a feeling the Co. Board was behind the original prosecution. However, as George's condition became worse we were forced to have the case adjourned. I took a very poor view of the whole thing. I paid the costs but I would much prefer to have seen the case go into the Court.

IS IT RIGHT?

Bob went on to say: "George played for his club and county all along and if he was not injured on the pitch it was not his fault but that of the officials. It is right now that he should be the one to suffer? In an Association so big, where so many big games are taken, the Central Council should, if the proper approach was made, help one needy case in a million. His wife gets no insurance of any kind and it is no fun to try and make ends meet for herself and child. George's wages were £7 a week prior to the accident. And now what? That is a question I cannot answer."

As I was leaving Touin that evening during the week, Bob McGrath added: "I would like it if you would convey the sincere thanks of my family to the clubs of Touin, Cappoquin, Fourmilewater, Abbeyside, Ballyduff and Tallow for all they did for us through benefit matches. I would like to say however, that the incident which won my admiration above everything else was the way the Mount Sion hurlers paid at the gate the same as the spectators when they were going in to play their match. It was something very touching and, though we, of the Touin team, played a very tough match against them that day in Cappoquin, I will always remember their spirit. . . . and be proud to say I played against such a team."

That is the story of George McGrath who is now out of the game for good. The gallant little hurler from Touin will play no more. The question is now: WILL HE BECOME OF HIM AND HIS FAMILY? My only comment is to say that he cannot be ignored any longer. He deserves a better deal.

Junior Football Campaign Opens on Sunday

The feature of Sunday's comprehensive football programme promises to be the clash of Stradbally, last year's beaten finalists, and the Pike at Dungarvan. The Reds are again the popular fancy to win through in the West. With recollections of the narrow shave they had 12 months ago, it is unlikely that they will take the Pike challenge for granted.

Ring, one of the outstanding combinations of last year, will be hard put to overcome the Emmetts if form in challenge outings is an indication of the newcomers' strength. The Emmetts are expected to have got together a first rate fifteen but Ring are still the popular fancy.

The Dungarvan-Old Parish match has been postponed. The Old Boys' Club has agreed to this course in order to facilitate the Seana Phobul men.

Cappoquin should carry too many big guns for St. Patrick's at Lismore and Sliah gCua will be fancied to win through from Geraldines second string at Cappoquin but a surprise is not impossible in either case.

Kilrossanty, with home advantage, look capable of accounting for Ballinacorney — no longer the force of other days — at Leamybrien.

Dungarvan Urban Council

Christi procession every year were completely gone and needed replacement. They knew also that the decorations would be replaced for this year's Procession. Aid. Kynne went on to state that as Chairman of the sub-committee responsible for decorating the town for the Festival he agreed to put the matter before this meeting because by getting the decorations now, they would greatly help to brighten up the town for the festival. The committees working for the Festival had done a great deal for the town and while the Council was under no obligation to help them, the members would have to bear in mind that if they were serious that night long ago when they promised to co-operate, they should at least be serious in fulfilling that promise now.

An Unjust Burden
Mr. Keane proposed that the sum of 3d. not be provided in the rate for decorations, stating the people of the town would be paying for something they would gain nothing out of and it would be unjust to burden them in this way.

Mr. J. McCarthy said in view of the fact that they had promised to help the Festival Committee, they should do so now when it was possible.

The Chairman stated that the business people of the town would be asked to put up their own special lighting arrangements. These things would be useful also at Christmas time. There would be a general effort to organise all the business people of the town to carry out a plan of street decorations. It was now up to the Council to indicate what it would do if anything. The festival would mean a great deal to the town and if they were to accept the manner in which it scored such a success in 1955 last year they could expect 40,000 people to visit Dungarvan. If each person spent £1 in the three days of the festival, it would mean £20,000 to the town which was not to be laughed at.

Mr. Keane said if everybody put up his own buildings and other decorations, the Council would have nothing to pay for. Mr. Lannon said that these decorations of the town should be done on a voluntary basis. To get support in the manner proposed would take the road out of the effort and he did not see the need for it because people would be prepared to contribute to their own free will.

Mr. Kelly said that there were would be every opportunity for people to contribute apart from this one item. They should not forget that the festival would mean a lot to the ordinary man in the street. It would mean overtime for many workers in local industries and in the final analysis it would be found that all would gain.

The Chairman said he would not like to say what they had on hands at present through voluntary effort but it would not cover much. The Committee were working on plans for financial arrangements which would be put into effect soon. The point was that all sections are being asked to help as much as they could in the easiest possible way.

Aid. Kynne proposed that 3d. in the 2s be struck to provide decorations for the town which would be the property of the Urban Council for use at various functions for many years to come.
