Told: 'Get out of office' Deputy Kyne protests against Board official

A STRONG protest was made by Ald Tom Kyne, T.D., against the treatment of people by an official of the Waterford Board of Assistance in Waterford City when he called for an investigation at Monday's Meeting of the Board in Dungarvan.

Mr. Kyne stated that he had received a number of complaints from people in Waterford City that a relieving officer named Power had treated them discourteously and in a manner which would be a disgrace to the name of the Board.

Mr. Kyne stated that the complaints alleged that the official had told people to get out of his office when they approached him seeking advice and information in relation to benefits under the Health Act. These people, stated Mr. Kyne, wanted to know what rights they had but they did not find out from this official. He would not listen to them and told as many as four people in the one day to get out of his office.

Mr. Kyne said he was prepared to submit the names of the people to the Secretary for an investigation and a Report on the matter. He pointed out

Dept's requirements strongly criticised

"WE ARE NOT LIVING IN A FAIRYLAND"

"It is high time the Department got down to brass tacks and realised that we are not living in a fairyland and that our little country is not lined with gold," stated Mr. N. Walsh at a meeting of Waterford Board of Assistance in Dungarvan on Monday last when he strongly criticised the "lavish" requirements of the Dept. of Health in the erection of dispensary doctors' residences.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
VOICE YOUR OPINION

Before the Board was a letter from the Dept. in connection with the suggested purchase of a house in Clashmore for use as a dispensary residence. The Board wished to purchase a recently built house in the village if the Dept. would be prepared to approve of it. They also asked the Department to send down an architect to investigate the construction work done on the old dispensary residence, which they claimed was a "shocking waste of public money."

The Minister refused to send down the architect stating that the matter was one for the Board. He also stated that the

VOICE YOUR OPINION

The Editor, Dungarvan Observer Sir,

I was pained to note that Mr. MacMurchada began his last letter with a slang expression, an expression which he claims "they say in this part of the county." One wonders who are "they" and if Mr. MacMurchada is one of them. However, let that pass and see what follows. "Scrap the medical student's text book and anatomical diagrams," says Mr. MacMurchada. I was always under the impression that those books were supplied by the medical schools and that students did not have to borrow them from public libraries at the expense of the ratepayer.

Further, my learned friend announces that "some years ago the Library purchased an expensive book on Bovine Mastitis." Let me ask him one question. Does he claim that the purchase of this book on Bovine Mastitis justifies the burden placed on the ratepayers of this County, however expensive that book may be. My sympathy goes out to the ratepayers in such circumstances. What next will you have to provide?

Now let me tell you, Mr. MacMurchada, that those misquotations and distortions of facts you mention, are of your own making. I will try and enlighten you. On two occasions you stated you contribute toward the National Health Scheme and not Social Welfare. One is part and parcel of the other and under the same Ministry. Perhaps what you have been trying to say is that you contribute to the Health Scheme which is a different story altogether and under a separate Ministry. You seem to be a bit mixed up on this point. I suggest that you search through some of the volumes in your well-stocked library, perhaps you will find verification of my statement there.

—RATEPAYER.

New Duplicating
Machine
for U.D.C.
Office

Thirty years ago Dungarvan U.D.C. bought a duplicating machine second hand. It was manufactured in 1920. Now its has broken down and has been declared obsolete.

The Co. Manager recommended the purchase of a new machine at a cost of £45 and at last Friday night's meeting of the Council the proposal to purchase was approved.

The members said that the old machine had given excellent service.

I should also desire to make it clear that none of our officials have any authority to negotiate with Mr. Brazil.

I hope you will give this letter the same prominence as a new machine at a cost of £45 and at last Friday night's meeting of the Council the proposal to purchase was approved.

The members said that the old machine had given excellent service.

CO. CORK NATIVE ELECTED LORD ABBOT OF MELLERAY

RIGHT REV. DOM FINBARR CASHMAN, O.Cist., a native of Glanmire, Cork, is the new Lord Abbot of Mount Melleray Abbey. He was elected on Friday last to succeed Right Rev. Dom Celsus O'Connell, Lord Abbot for the past 24 years, who has retired owing to ill-health.

The election, which was held by secret ballot in the Chapter Room, was presided over by Dom Louis Le Penneun, Abbot of Melleray, Brittany, France, and was attended by six other Cistercian Abbots, representing Ireland, England and America.

They were: Dom Phillip O'Connor (New Mellifont, U.S.A.), Dom Malachy Brazill (Melleray for secondary and philosophical studies, and during this time he won distinction on the Jurling Field.

In his younger days he was prominently associated with Sarsfields hurling club, Riverstown, Co. Cork.

During the years since then, he has retained a lively interest in fostering the traditional Irish games of hurling and football at the College.

He entered Melleray as a novice in 1924 and was ordained to the priesthood in 1931.

Last year, he celebrated his silver jubilee.

In 1931 also he was appointed to the College as Dean of Discipline, and later of studies, replacing Fr. Canice Maher, whom Abbot Stanislaus Hickey had chosen as Prior.

Fr. Canice was later elected Abbot of Mellifont in 1946, but he declined to accept.

Fr. Canice became gravely ill towards the end of 1946 and died in the January of the following year. Strangely enough, Fr. Finbarr still followed in his footsteps, for Dom Celsus O'Connell appointed him prior as successor to Fr. Canice.

Since then, he has endeavored himself to the community by his kindly and courteous attention and by his fidelity and self-sacrifice through long busy days.

Visitors too, have found him kind and post people will recall the courteous manner in which he managed their and the affairs of the College.

Consequently, it is obvious that the renowned abbey of Melleray has been placed in the care of a pastor who will uphold its traditions as a centre of religious life and an abode of kindly welcome.

The retirement of Dom Celsus marks the end of a long and distinguished career with the famous abbey. Born seventy five years ago at Mounse Abbey, County Cork, he first joined the community in 1902.

He was elected Abbot of Melleray in 1933, a position he followed with vigour and zeal until his retirement.

Since the foundation of Mount Melleray Abbey there have been two abbots from Waterford, two from Cork, two from Tipperary, two from Westmeath and one from Carlow.

TENTH HOLDER OF HALLOWED POST

Mr. Walsh then made the statement quoted at the outset, adding that if they were to comply with the Department's requirements, the house would be far too big and costly for all concerned.

Mr. Walsh added that they should stop building palaces and be reasonable about meeting their bare requirements.

Mr. Curran said that only recently the Minister had stated publicly that the country would have to economise and improve in the provision of health services. This was one case when they could do both.

Mr. D. Fitzpatrick proposed they buy the house at a price to be negotiated in view of the statement made by Mr. Curran, that the doctor was satisfied with it as it stands.

The Secretary stated that he would like to have the doctor's statement in writing before he could accept it for submission to the Department.

Finally, it was agreed to get a statement from the doctor and that the Secretary and Mr. Walsh negotiate with the vendor's solicitor as the price. A report on the matter will be placed before the next meeting.

New Councillor Welcomed

Mr. Peter Quailly, who was recently elected a member of Dungarvan U.D.C. was welcomed to his first meeting last Friday night.

Mr. J. McCarthy, in proposing the welcome said that it was their hope that Mr. Quailly would prove a worthy successor to their former colleague, the late P. A. Casey.

Mr. N. A. Kelly seconded the welcome.

The Chairman, (Ald. T. A. Kyne, T.D.) also spoke in association with the proposal.

The Editor, Dungarvan Observer A. Chara,

Mr. Tobin takes me severely to task for attributing certain statements to him which he says were quotations from an interview with Mr. Bob McGrath. As quotation marks opened the passage in question and were not closed, it was not really clear what was Mr. McGrath's composition and what was Mr. Tobin's. In any event I take particular exception to the passage and regard both parties as being equally responsible. A columnist has the responsibility of seeing that the truth is printed and the placing of blame on other shoulders does not exempt him. He holds equal responsibility with the author. It is really laughable to see Mr. Tobin giving all the 'credit' to Mr. Bob McGrath and the latter literally patting Mr. Tobin on the back.

He asks me to point out the lies and inaccuracies one by one. I will deal only with matters which concern me personally and which are as follows:

(1) Anyone reading the following could only draw the conclusion that Mr. George McGrath and myself indulged in fist fights. "Last year George had a difference of opinion with the referee in the whole issue during the interview of the Sargent Cup game in Cappoquin. The difference led to blows." The question of a difference of opinion between George McGrath and myself never arose as we had no conversation whatsoever on that occasion. Mr. Tobin admits he was a witness. I repeat that one blow only was struck and that was by Mr. George McGrath.

(2) The original article stated, "the officials in charge of the game were questioned by responsible gentlemen. Mr. Bob McGrath, who states that he ques-

The Inside Story

A meeting was held

We had a meeting of the Co. Council in Dungarvan last Monday. It was the greatest waste of public money I have seen in a long time. I blame the Chairman, Mr. M. Morrissey, for this. He allows the members too much freedom — freedom that is badly availed of.

The affair became such a bore that I picked up and walked out. A few members did so too. And this meeting cost the ratepayers of Waterford a very considerable sum of money.

The great event was timed to commence at 2 p.m. A few of us were there on time but at 2.10 p.m. only three officials had turned up. At least seven members were outside on the street enjoying the little bit of sunshine. Eventually, close on 2.25 p.m. the meeting got under way and Tom Lannon voiced the thoughts of many of us when he protested against the failure of starting the meetings on time.

The Chairman seemed to think being made to solve a very serious and tricky problem is a stupid one. It seems to me that the blame is being thrown over on one section and this section is being made the victim. I suggest that the members of the Council should ask for a full statement on this aspect of the case. They will soon see how point take this particular meeting, for instance. Ten minutes after the announcement time of the commencement of the quorum present. Fifteen minutes passed and still there was no quorum. The question is shown-down. Let us have no more dodging the issue.

Nurse Guiry to retire

Nurse May Guiry, Park View, Dungarvan, has spent the past 35 years nursing at the local District Hospital. In that long period, she has seen many changes in the medical profession and she has tended the needs of many of her townfolk. Now she is to retire. She will be remembered for her kindness, her efficiency and her excellent attention and many will forever remain grateful to Nurse Guiry.

Arrangements are in hand to present her with a token of appreciation. No tribute could be too great to a lady who sacrificed so much for so many for so long.

She helped Waterford to progress

Another lady widely known in the public life of Waterford has submitted her resignation at the end of a long and faithful term of office. She is Mrs. Walsh, who many will remember as Lena Keating, a lady who did much for the good of Waterford County in the administration of its affairs.

Lena worked in the general office of the Co. Council. She knew something about everything and everything about something. She worked with the County Secretary and in her own efficient way, Lena participated in much of the development that has marked the progress of Waterford over the past 50 years.

they will never get the story from me and it will do no good putting this question forward within the walls of Dungarvan Courthouse.

It has been suggested that a certain party slipped it to me and that it came from inside the Council Offices. Those people can keep on making suggestion. They will enjoy their guessing will be missed in the office of members of the County Council. I am anxious to dodge a question on the report. The County Manager could not be present at the two meetings at which consideration of the report was shelved but the Co. Accountant was in attendance and I know that he was most anxious to get the whole thing over and done with. This gentleman, by the way, is one who has won the admiration of all for the brilliant manner in which he is tackling the whole thing.

For the past ten years or more, as a newspaper, have known Mrs. Walsh. She was always there at meetings of the Co. Council looking after things. Whatever copies of correspondence you needed in your work, Mrs. Walsh provided them and helped in no small way to make our job easier. She will be missed in the office of members of the County Council.

THE HOUSE THAT NEVER FELL

Remember all the fuss and bother caused by the falling down dispensary residence in Bonmahon that we fell. The end of the story was written this week when it was announced that the doctor concerned was leaving Bonmahon to take up an appointment elsewhere.

And now the Board of Assistance will be advertising the vacancy they will declare the post "without accommodation." Simple solution to a thorny problem, you will agree.

STILL WITHOUT AN ANSWER

I have a few comments to make, however, on his report, in reply to that made by the Auditor. A lot of it was sound and certainly made sense but far too many questions still remain without an answer. They will have to be answered.

Down in the Council yards today, one cannot get a nail without having to fill up forms galore. There has been a thorough check set up there but I make no apologies for suggesting that there is plenty of room for a better tightening up elsewhere in the offices.

THE HIGH AND THE MIGHTY

There seems to be a wild idea in the minds of those running the various Government Departments that their officials are high and mighty. Take a look at the report appearing in this issue about the now famous Clashmore dispensary residence.

Here is a case where a bungalow has been offered to the Board at a price. The Board is anxious to buy but the Dept. of Health is slow to comment. Members of the Board feel that the purchase would save a considerable sum of money taking into account that by purchasing the bungalow at a price of £2,500, and selling the land on which the old dispensary residence stands at a certain price, the ratepayers would fare out nicely. I don't doubt it.

RECENT DEATHS

Edmond Power (86) Glendaligh, Kilrossanty, who took place on Tuesday 23rd and whose remains were interred in Kilrossanty Churchyard, on Thursday 25th, was a well-known and popular member of the farming community. (Funeral arrangements were by P. G. Kinneen, Undertaker, Square, Dungarvan).

An old complaint

Deputy Tom Kyne mentioned an old complaint at a meeting of the Board of Assistance when he stated that while people had been waiting for dentures for long as two or three years, some who had been waiting only three months had received theirs. He was told that as far as the office was concerned the dentures were issued strictly in line.

Looking Very Fit and Well

Very Rev. Fr. Michael Foley, Chaplain, Sandhurst Military College, England, who has just concluded a happy holiday amongst the "scenes of all his childhood joys." During the break his reverence was the guest of his most affectionate sister and brother, Miss Joan Foley and Mr. Edmund (Neel) Foley, of Shanakill House, Kilmaclomas. The estimable ecclesiastic said the early Mass at St. Anne's Church, Ballylansan, on the first day of this week (Low Sunday). Fr. Foley is also brother of Mrs. Dr. C. A. McDermott, Dalguise, Monkstown, Dublin. Mrs. W. Fitzgerald, Cremona, Dungarvan; and Mrs. J. J. Ryan, The Gables, Kilmac.

THE BUDGET

The Budget will be the big news event of the coming week. There is a hint from people in the know that food subsidies will go up. Other social allowances will be slightly increased and at a moderately advanced age, Mrs. Ciss O'Donovan breathed her last at her home to the inexorable grief of her respected husband and family, sisters and brothers and nieces and nephews.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Stack, Riverside Terrace, Mr. Michael O'Donovan, Rathmore, do, and mother of the Misses Mary and Josephine O'Donovan, do, and Mr. Brendan O'Donovan, do.

Deceased enjoyed the esteem and goodwill of all sections of the community during her lifetime and was a most devout and exemplary Catholic wife and parent. Her premature passing is deeply deplored and with all the bereaved ones sincere sympathy is general.

The remains were accompanied by a big concourse of relatives, friends and sympathisers, when they were removed to the Convent Chapel, Kilmaclomas, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. M. Wall, C.C., do, who was celebrant of the Requiem Mass there for the repose of her soul the next morning.

On Thursday week, 25th ult., at 2 o'clock p.m. the funeral took place from the Convent Chapel to the cemetery adjoining the Parish Church, Newtown, where Very Rev. H. Synnott, B.A., P.P., do, gave the absolution at the graveside in the presence of another large and representative attendance.

A number of beautiful floral tributes were placed on the grave and numerous Mass cards and messages of condolence were received.

In addition to the spouse and children, the chief mourners were: Mrs. M. Cashin, Western Terrace, Kilmaclomas; Mrs. E. Walsh, St. Anne's, do; Mrs. F. Morrissey, The Hill, do; Mr. Patrick Stack, Riverside Terrace, do; and Messrs. Sean and William Stack, London (brothers). — R.I.P.

In connection with the death of Mrs. Mary (Minnie) Deegan, Graigarrish Lower, Kilmaclomas, which was chronicled in last week's issue, the chief mourners were: Michael, Patrick, Thomas, James and Mike (sons); Mrs. Ed. Joyce, Mrs. Ellie Dee and Mrs. Ed. Lyons (daughters); and Mr. James Power, Ballylansan (brother).

Kilmacthomas, Kilrossanty and Stradbally Notes

Stradbally Church was the centre of a fashionable wedding on Wednesday last week. The bride, Miss Patricia Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell, Seafield, Kilmacthomas. The service was conducted by Canon F. H. Burkill, Portlaur, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Briscoe, Comeragh Rectory, Kilmacthomas.

The bride wore a full-length white tulle gown, cut on classical lines with a short train and she was given away by her father. Her veil, which was of fine white tulle, was arranged over a headdress of orange blossom and pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white lilies and white hydrangeas. Her bridesmaids, Miss Jenny Hunt (cousin of the bride) and Miss Fiona Taylor, who wore full-length pink and white dresses of lilies of the valley and white hydrangeas, were two bridesmaids, Miss Jenny Hunt (cousin of the bride) and Miss Fiona Taylor, who wore full-length pink and white dresses of lilies of the valley and white hydrangeas.

REPORTS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE DISTRICT

The Mid-Waterford area show the late local coroner, Arnd-Roland, was seen plainly from about 9.30 until 12.30 on Tuesday night. Wednesday and Friday nights of yesteryear when the sky was perfectly clear. Neighbours who had the aid of binoculars said they viewed the celestial object with remarkable interest. Observers who "know their onions" state that Arnd-Roland has a tall measuring apparatus, approximately fifteen million miles and they reckon and calculate that the comet is thirty Sol is to terra firma. And well, that's that!

WEDDING BELLS

Power-O'Keefe—The marriage took place on Wednesday in St. Mary's Church of Mr. Michael Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Power, Strough, and Miss Eileen O'Keefe, eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph and the late Mrs. O'Keefe, Boola, Cappoquin. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dress of lemon lace with matching headgear and carried a bouquet of red tulips and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid was Miss Pauline Colender (cousin of the bride) who wore Rose Nylon with headdress to match. Mr. Liam Power was best man. The reception was held in Conway's Hotel after which the happy pair left for a tour of the South Coast on their honeymoon.

FEIS CEAPACH CHUINN

The Feis and Drama Festival was formally opened on Sunday night when Very Rev. Fr. Kenneally in a short address to the capacity audience in the Boat-house, stressed the cultural advantages of the Feis, commended those associated with its organisation and extended his good wishes for the success of the undertaking. The plays produced at the opening were "The White Dove of Erin" (Hull Convent Group) and "The Righteous are Bold" (Modeligo). Both presentations were excellent and gave much pleasure to the audience. There was again a good attendance on Monday night when two Tipperary groups, Ardinhinn ("The Clock Ticks Dusk") and Newcastle ("When a Man Marries") were very well received.

NEXT SUNDAY'S PROGRAMME

Next Sunday promises to be a big day in the town and the district learned with deep regret of the death of Mr. James Crotty, Lower Main St., which occurred at his home on Thursday, 25th April after an illness of some weeks. Aged 83, the deceased was one of the old stock of the town and a very popular and well-known figure. He had a remarkable knowledge of local history and the genealogy of old families of the area and liked to recall events of former days. To his widow, sons, daughters and other relatives, sympathy is extended in their bereavement. His passing was shown by the very large numbers present when the remains were taken to St. Mary's Church on Friday evening and at the funeral to the cemetery at Affane on Saturday, Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P. and Rev. M. O'Moira, C.C., officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mrs. J. Crotty (wife); James, Patrick, Arthur, Terence (sons); Rita, Nellie, Florence, Bridie, Tessie, Agnes (daughters); William (brother); John Crotty (nephew) and grandchildren.

CONCERT AT HAPPIDROME

On Friday night last the Ballymacbray Dramatic Club presented George Shield's "Professor Tim" in the Happidrome and a rather small crowd were treated to an excellent night's entertainment. For an amateur company, the acting was very good and a special feature was the perfect diction of the whole cast, each word and syllable being heard even at the end of the Hall.

The play was preceded by concert items which included Mr. P. Kenneally's grand rendering of "Bonnie Mary of Ardingry"; Michael Ryan singing "Can I Forget You"; Pat O'Sullivan in a calypso mood with "Jamaican Farewell"; and a selection of popular tunes from Jas. J. Mulcahy on the sax and from the band (which included Rev. Fr. Bracken on the accordion), as well as five of the cast. The only disappointing feature of the night was the small crowd.

CRICKET

Lismore v. Mount Mellery (English Students XI)—The return game between the above sides was played in Lismore on Sunday last when the home side won by a margin of 5 runs, the score being 41 to 36. The students batted first and were well served by M. Gilgannon (14) and Florin (8). Lismore can thank a fine innings of 18 by J. Crotty and 10 from the bat of T. Anderson, who was soundly out. Once again Coleman showed his prowess as a bowler for Mellery and had 7 wickets for 16 runs. J. Feeney and W. Mullins were Lismore's best bowlers. The Mellery boys in their two matches won the admiration of all for the keen yet sporting manner in which they play the game. It is fitting that both sides won a game each and we hope this fixture will become an annual.

The Phelan Cup goes back to Kilrossanty

Kilrossanty 1-4 De La Salle 0-2

KILROSSANTY'S streamlined football machine added yet another title to their trophy-laden sideboard when they stopped junior champions De La Salle by 1-4 to 0-2 in the final of the Phelan Cup at the Sportsfield, Waterford, on Sunday last.

The triumph, Kilrossanty's second in the competition, gave them the first leg of the cup-championship double every wearer of the green and gold has set his heart on achieving.

GREAT CAPPOQUIN RECOVERY SNATCHED HONOURS

CAPPOQUIN, 2-4; GERALDINES 2-4.

ALTHOUGH one must hasten to pay tribute to a tremendous Cappoquin recovery—there were seven points in arrears at one stage—I consider it no disparagement of the victors to say that Geraldines inexplicable second half crack-up in the Sargent Cup semi-final at the Castle Farm, Lismore, on Sunday last has been the talking point of every post-mortem ever since the long whistle found the Aglish men a goal behind their great rivals from the Cornerstone.

Geraldines appeared virtually home and dry when they proceeded to supplement their inter-val advantage of four points with a further goal minutes after the resumption of hostilities. Then the Aglish men made their comeback, recovering from a goal behind to a 2-2 tie, and finally snatched the honours with a goal in the final minute.

Abbeyside, Ring and Old Parish Advance

Old Parish, Abbeyside and Ring ran out convincing winners of a three-match football programme staged under cool but pleasant conditions at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last.

In the middle match of the afternoon Abbeyside's well-balanced under eighteen team followed their hurling competitors into the second round of the championship by way of a well-earned victory over a gallant St. Garvan's fifteen. Their attack, as a grand total of four goals and seven points would suggest, produced some delightful bouts of football, individually and collectively they were first class and the long whistle found them worthy winners of an interesting if not great encounter.

Dungarvan Golf Club.—Friday, 3rd May—Member's (Mrs. J. Kenny's) Prize, 9 holes stroke.

Waterford Juniors at Kilmallock. Waterford junior hurlers and footballers are set a brace of difficult tasks when they travel to Kilmallock to oppose the home county's representatives in the opening round of the Munster championships.

Waterford travel out without the benefit of the customary trial matches on this occasion, a fact that leaves one scarcely any worthwhile line of form to go on.

The Shannonsiders, however, if only by virtue of their commanding home advantage, are the popular fancy.

Despite the slippery state of the ground and the consequently unmanageable ball, Kilrossanty played some delightful football. They led throughout and would in all probability have a greater margin in their favour were it not for a magnificent set piece stand by full-back Sean Roche and goal man Corcoran in the losers' regard.

Kilrossanty, by virtue of their successful defence of the cup, are once again the popular favourite to regain the championship which has eluded them since the peerless Dick McGuire led them to victory back in 1932. And with the lesson of last year's unexpected reverse still fresh in their memories it is unlikely that they will again take the knock-out competition for granted.

Many hold that the present side does not measure up to the great Comeragh teams of other days, a fact that has yet to be refuted, but it has certainly done all that has been asked of it up to this.

Dr. Kiely Addresses Annual Friary Re-Union

The urgent need for stopping the serious growth of emigration from Ireland was stressed by Dr. John Kiely, Cork, in his Presidential address at the annual re-union of past pupils of St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan, which was held in the college hall on Sunday.

Dr. Kiely referred to the political unrest in the country and stated that it was a national difficulty that called out for very serious consideration. It was one of the great evils that Ireland was suffering at the present time, he said. The other was emigration which had reached very serious proportions also.

Dr. Kiely stated that he would like to see the day when a boy could be placed in a college for a period of five years in the knowledge that the college could take its time in developing the capabilities of that boy. As matters stand a college has no time at all. Education was all a rush because of the intermediate examination and it would be a great thing for education if teachers and students could relax in their studies, relax in their dash to get through them in a specified time and be able to give them the full attention their deserts.

He would appeal to all who would do anything to leave no stone unturned in an effort to see that teachers are given the capabilities and that students are given the opportunity of getting through their studies without having to pass through a cloud of frustration. Very Rev. N. McCarthy, O.S.A. Fr. Funguran, welcomed the large number of past-pupils and guests.

Come to think of it, Geraldines, too, must be secretly satisfied with their performance. Defeat, rue enough, was a bitter pill to swallow, but to run the course finalists to a single score was no mean achievement for a side in its first year in senior hurling. Yet, believe it or not, every Aglish man I met after the match made no bones about the fact that the white-jerseyed fifteen just were not on speaking terms with their hurleys until they mounted that heart-warming final rally.

There were, of course, a couple of notable exceptions but by and large the zeal and fixity of purpose which has hallmarked Geraldines march to the semi-final was conspicuous only by its absence.

It was certainly a peculiar match. Cappoquin, although they literally owned the ball in the opening quarter, could show a goal, a goal to two points reward, yet the two from the Cornerstone winning the right to oppose Mount Sion in the final on May 28th.

The winners' defence played exceptionally well. Goalman O'Donoghue had a couple of grand saves to his credit and outside him Noel Mason, Liam Dooney and Jimmy Lacey were well-nigh unyielding.

Tom Coffey, after a juicy opening in the centre, hurried a great second half on the left flank and Carlie Cullen was equally sound on the left. Mick Lacey, who moved to centre-half bag, in the second period, was always prominent, but above all was the transfer of captain, Michael O'Connor, that influenced the Cappoquin victory.

The inter-provincial man caught a tartar in the opening 30 minutes. Operating at mid-field on the left-over he shot the point that set his colleagues aflame and his nuisance value generally contributed to losing the match. It is possible to say that the most of its opponents' 1 was most impressed by the speedy Jim Sargent, the Fraher brothers and Tom McCarty, a hard-working centre-forward.

Left-full-back Tom O'Connell was without question Geraldines' man of the match. He had a variety of opponents in his pocket over the hour and in the second period came up-field in a grand bid to save the day. Eric Sheridan put in his usual earnest hour at right half-back; Dunny Ronayne was a committal figure in the centre and left full-backs Mick Hallahan was another to emerge from the hour with untarnished reputation.

Faide Hallahan, who had terms both in defence and attack; the indefatigable Bobo Scanlon and Edie Mullahan, making his first appearance since a broken leg put him out of commission last February, all battled valiantly to save the day.

Cappoquin.—F. O'Donoghue (goal), N. Mason, L. Dooney, P. Lacey, M. O'Connor (capt.), T. Coffey, C. Cullen, M. Lacey and E. Costin; J. Sargent, T. McCarthy, M. Fraher, T. Hickey, P. Fraher, T. Loneragan, Sub.—J. Mason and R. Shea (for Hickey and Costin).

Geraldines.—L. Lee (goal), M. Hallahan, E. Hallahan, T. O'Connell, S. Piarahan, B. Ronayne, J. Hallahan, P. Kennedy and E. Scanlon; R. Hallahan (capt.), E. Hallahan, A. Freeman, T. McCarthy, J. Loneragan, R. Ryan, Sub.—J. Osborne (for L. Hallahan).

The Aglish boys attacked that they were again by a force in the competition. They shot two goals and six points and conceded one goal and two points. Figures that are fairly representative of the superiority they enjoyed.

Old Parish Juniors were rarely out of second best to reach the second round at the expense of an inexperienced Dungarvan fifteen.

The books opened with their traditional dash and zest but they had no occasion to sustain their effort as from early on it was apparent that the losers were out of their depth.

Old Parish, though, are not without a hope in the championship race. Five more than one of the side may have passed the highest waters of life football days but the spirit is still as virile as ever and there is still a lot of good football in men like Tom Veale, Mervyn Hallahan, Jim Cullen, the Howesians, Eddie Moorey and Dempsey.

HURLING, AT CAPPOQUIN

Cappoquin's senior hurlers play hosts to Abbeyside in the feature event of the hurling programme run in conjunction with the local Feis on Sunday night. In certain, raise the junior hurlers of Fallow and Newcastle are billed to try conclusions.

Cappoquin, even with home advantage and fresh from last Saturday's triumph, will be hard put to gain an overdue victory over the Village men.

Last time out, Abbeyside were considered a little unfortunate to go under by a goal to the Cornerstone. The more determined to set the record straight. The knowledge, also, that several of their junior competitors are on the fringe of gaining senior recognition, adds to the stakes. They will be all the more determined to set the record straight.
