COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE Bring Fethard-on-Sea dispute to just conclusion

The Fethard-on-Sea dispute was the subject of a lengthy discussion at the week-end meeting of Waterford County Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan when a resolution was passed unanimously calling on the Chairman of Wexford Co. Committee of Agriculture "to use his good office to bring the dispute to a just conclusion." The resolution was proposed by Mr. Wm. Foran seconded by Mr. Jim Quirke.

The matter was originally raised at the meeting by Mr. H. Dowd who moved a resolution which referred to the "alleged boycott" taking place in Fethard on Sea and called on the Wexford Co. Committee of Agriculture "to use their wide powers to bring about a just and equitable settlement of this regrettable affair to a just conclusion."

Mr. Dowd's resolution stated that there was "not a shred of evidence to show that certain traders in Fethard on Sea are guilty of the anti-social conduct implied by the activities now being taken against them which are jeopardising their livelihood."

The whole matter was greatly regretted by every decent man and woman in Ireland, in the opinion of the speaker. The lives of certain traders were being jeopardised and the question remained "are we going to punish people without a fair trial?" So far there had not been a shred of evidence against these people, stated Mr. Dowd. The matter had given rise to a lot of nasty comments in the Press and elsewhere and was affecting the tourist trade of the country. "I, as one of the minority," he said, "would appeal for justice and fair play for those in the minority in Fethard on Sea."

Mr. Jim Quirke stated that all they knew of the case was what they had read in the newspapers. It appeared to have had its beginning in a domestic affair, "a family affair," what caused the disappearance of the man's wife and children to one seemed to know. There was something behind it, he believed, as it was commonly held that she had no money to go away. She was being supported wherever she was and it appeared that some people were at the back of it all. Personally, he did not like the case at all.

On the other hand, said Mr. Quirke, if it was a family affair and a family dispute then it could have a very different aspect. Such family disputes often lasted for life, not just among members of a minority in the country but among those of the majority as well and proved to be very difficult matters to get to the root of.

Mr. W. Dower said that by passing the resolution moved by Mr. Dowd they might be renewing the matter again. Right now it seemed to have died down. He considered it a local affair and felt that it might be better to leave it as it might right itself eventually.

Mr. Foran said that the whole case was a tragic one. They should try if they could at all to throw oil on the troubled waters. It was a case that seemed to have gone a bit too far and they should appeal to the people involved to bring it to a speedy solution.

Mr. Dowd said he felt that "this boycott" was repugnant to every member of the Waterford Committee of Agriculture. It was anti-Christian, anti-Irish and it was an injustice. There were some people who felt they were right in what they had done and in what they were doing and that they had the support of the country. It was time that local authorities throughout the country gave "a dignified expression of the country's disapproval." This could be done, he added, through a resolution of the type he had moved before them.

The Chairman (Mr. M. Hart) stated that he had read the case very carefully and had studied statements made by those on both sides. He was not at all satisfied that there was a boycott. It seemed to him impossible that there could be a boycott under the circumstances. The really regrettable part was the disappearance of the wife and children from the comforts of a good home. He did not see that it would serve any great purpose by becoming involved in a matter of this kind. He believed that their best endeavour would be to spread to Almighty God for a happy solution.

Mr. Quirke requested Mr. Dowd to delete the word "boycott" from his resolution and suggested that the whole affair was a delicate one. "Some of us here today are of a different religion. You have your opinion and I have mine. How can we get these people to agree? We don't know what would be the proper thing to do. We, as Catholics, do not like to cause any trouble of this kind and maybe the less we say about it now, the better. The more I think about it the less I want to have to do with it. Silence is golden in a case like this."

Mr. Dowd's silence is not golden in the case of an injustice. This is a case of injustice. At this stage of the members made a move to say anything. Finally, Mr. Dowd spoke: "The best thing I can do is to scrap it and congratulate Mr. Kieran O'Ryan on having the courage to second it."

With that Mr. Dowd took the resolution-sheet and tore it into small pieces.

Mr. Quirke rose saying that Mr. Dowd should not take it like that. The matter was a very difficult one for all of them and it was easy to see what the best line of action was.

Mr. Dowd agreed it was a very difficult matter. "However," he added, "we have now discussed it very fully and the best thing to do is to withdraw it and I have done that."

Mr. Quirke said he would like to pass it but he would be worried that in doing so he would be giving more harm than good.

Mr. Dowd replied that they would be giving an honest expression as honest men and that could do no harm.

Finally, Mr. Foran said he would move a resolution asking the Chairman of Wexford Co. Council to use his good offices to bring the Fethard on Sea dispute to a just conclusion.

This was seconded by Mr. Quirke and was passed unanimously.

LATE MISS H. BOYLE

O'Connell Street, Dungarvan

Dungarvan Urban Council and Waterford County Committee of Agriculture paid tribute to the memory of Miss Hanna Boyle, nee O'Connell Street, Dungarvan, whose funeral took place at St. Mary's Church, Cemetery on Saturday.

Notes of sympathy were passed to each of these bodies when it was recalled that the Boyle family had given long and faithful service to County Waterford.

The late Miss Boyle was one of Dungarvan's best known personalities and carried on an extensive newspaper trade in O'Connell Street. Her late father, Mr. J. F. Boyle was County Accountant and Secretary of the County Agricultural Committee and Technical Education Committee in the early days of these committees. He died in 1916, and the following year, his son, Mr. T. B. Boyle, followed in his footsteps and remained Waterford County Accountant up to last year when he retired.

As a young girl, Miss Boyle helped her father in his office at Dungarvan Courthouse with her brother. She played a faithful part in the struggle for Independence and indeed the home of the Boyles in O'Connell St. was a recognised meeting place for leaders of the movement in Waterford. It attracted the attention of the Black and Tans on more than a few occasions and on one of these, every piece of furniture in the house, including many beautiful statues, were dumped out on the road and smashed to pieces.

For some 30 years or more, Miss Boyle was organist at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, and many were the memories recalled on Friday night last when her remains were borne into the Church as the organ echoed its mournful Dead March.

At the Church gates, the remains were received by her nephew, Rev. John Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Boyle, Dungarvan, who is at present home from England on holidays. Assisting him were Ven. Archbishop D. Power, P.P., V.F., Dungarvan, and members of the clergy from several parts of the county, every representative attendance was present at the interment on Saturday which took place following the celebration of Requiem Office and High Mass.

Beautiful Weather Favours Dungarvan Show

Glorious summer-like weather favoured the annual Dungarvan Agricultural Show which opened in the sylvan setting of the Gaelic Field this (Thursday) evening. The big crowd present enjoyed the brilliant sunshine, tempered with a soft breeze to caress heated brows, as they viewed the impressive display of exhibits, ranging from the lordly horse to the elaborate display in the various agricultural, horticultural and arts and crafts sections. On all sides the exhibits won the praise and admiration of an interested gathering and, in particular, the Judges, who had an invidious task in placing the various awards.

The organising arrangements, which were in the capable hands of Miss Kathleen O'Brien and an energetic staff of assistants, were well nigh perfect.

WATERFORD-CORK WEDDING

The marriage was solemnised at the Church of Our Lady of Ransome, Grange Rd., Eastbourne, on July 18th. The contracting parties were Mr. M. Guiry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guiry, Dromore, Villierstown, Co. Waterford and Miss Ellen O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Keefe, of Rathoreax, Dangoortey, Co. Cork. Mr. Wm. Guiry, brother of the groom was bestman. The bridesmaids were Miss Kay Walsh and Miss E. O'Connor, niece of the bride. Rev. Fr. Curtin officiated. A reception was held at the Sussex Lounge Hotel, Eastbourne. The honeymoon is being spent in London.

WARM WELCOME FOR NEW TOWN CLERK

Dungarvan's new Town Clerk, Mr. J. Howlett, received a warm welcome at his first meeting of the Urban Council when he was introduced by Mr. M. O'Meara who had acted as clerk for some months past.

Mr. N. Kelly, who presided in the absence of the Chairman, Ald. Tom Kynne, T.D., stated that it was a great pleasure for him to welcome a Waterfordman to the post.

Mr. J. McCarthy and Mr. J. Lannon also spoke in association with the welcome stating that it was their wish that Mr. Howlett would be happy in Dungarvan.

In reply, the Town Clerk, stated that he would certainly do all he could in the interests of Dungarvan. He was grateful for the welcome extended by the Council and he appreciated the welcome he received from the staff on his arrival to take up duty.

With only three members in attendance the business on the agenda was dealt with in a short time.

Mr. Lannon referred to the difference of opinion which was stated to exist between the Borough Engineer and a local builder in the erection of houses under the Small Dwellings Act.

Mr. Lannon said that as a result of this difference an independent engineer was brought in to give an opinion. Mr. Lannon stated that he would like to know the exact nature of the difference in this matter and he wished to know why the second engineer was called in. He asked to have the information made available at the next meeting.

This was agreed to.

Mr. McCarthy stated that a warning notice to swimmers in the area of the Abbey Point, Abbeyside, should be erected. The particular area was a dangerous one for all swimmers, he said, and while locals might well be aware of the fact, visitors would not be. A notice would warn them of that danger and might be instrumental in preventing the loss of life.

Mr. McCarthy also complained of the manner in which seats were being thrown about in the local Park by teenagers. He asked if the seats could be fixed to the ground.

The Council agreed to refer this matter to the Engineer for his attention.

Dealing with the suggestion to erect the warning notice to swimmers, the Harbour Master, Mr. James Curran, stated he had already mentioned the matter to a Co. Council engineer. He was not sure if this was a function of the Co. Council, though he believed it was. However, he would make immediate inquiries and have the suggestion attended to.

Mr. McCarthy said it would be well to put a lifebuoy on the wall somewhere in the vicinity of the Abbeyside Church.

The Council also agreed to have this attended to.

The Chairman, Mr. Kelly, referred to complaints registered concerning the storage of timber on the quay and stated that while it was all very fine to say it should not be stored there, they should bear in mind that many a man in the town earned a few pounds shipping out the timber. He did not think that the position was as bad as the complaints suggested.

Mr. Lannon replied that they could not have the timber sticking out over the quay wall as was the case. They should be a fairly wide margin on the edge of the quayside to enable men attend to boats coming in and going out.

The Harbour Master stated that he was always trying to keep a margin of 3-feet clear of any obstructions.

BOARD'S PROTEST TO DEPARTMENT

MR. M. J. CORRY, T.D., was unanimously re-elected Chairman when the South Cork Board of Assistance held its annual meeting during the week. There was a division on the election of Vice-chairman, Mr. J. Galvin, T.D. being elected by five votes to three for Mr. John Bermingham, T.C. The voting resulted—For Galvin: Messrs Corry, J. Moynihan, H. Murphy, A.A. Healy, T.D. and Galvin. (5). For Bermingham: Messrs M. Creed, D. Desmond T.D. and Bermingham.

GRANTS TO DISPENSARIES

The board strongly protested against a decision by the Department not to advance grants for ten dispensaries in respect of which the Board had sought compulsory purchase orders. The Department letter said the grants could not be given in view of the present financial difficulties and the need for economy. Grants would be given however for dispensaries on which the work had already begun.

The Manager (Mr. Williams) told the meeting that the grants for the dispensaries would be £6,000 in all.

Mr. D. Desmond, T.D., said the Department's decision was to be deplored. Conditions in dispensaries were such that the rural people would not go into them. It was sheer fantasy to suggest that money could not be provided for the dispensaries.

Mr. Sean McCarthy, T.D., who seconded said that the present dispensaries were unfit for the preservation of sensitive medicines.

Aid. S. Casey, T.D., said that they should protest in the strongest possible manner against the Department's letter which was in effect that they should stop and do no more.

REMUNERATION FOR MEDICAL STAFF

The meeting discussed a Manager's Order fixing remuneration to the medical and surgical staff at St. Finbar's at £750 in respect of five doctors and £500 in respect of two others. A bonus sanctioned in 1956 also to be paid and the revised salary to take effect as from April 15, 1955.

The Manager said that these doctors attended every day and sometimes had to attend at night.

The Chairman, at the outset, said that whatever decision arrived at, he would move that it be not retrospective. He was not going to ask the ratepayers to pay two years' arrears.

Aid. J. Galvin, T.D., said he wanted to know how many hours these doctors worked. Weren't they also attending other hospitals, at which they had to be present each morning.

Chairman—The increase is £4,383 a year, gentlemen, plus a lump sum of £10,000 arrears on top of that.

Mr. M. Creed said that he would agree to the increase only if it would be sanctioned for to-day.

Mr. Bermingham said that as long as they were forced to stop building dispensaries, they should stop paying the doctors increases.

The Chairman said that he did agree that the doctors were tip-top and were giving first-class service. But an increase from £461 to £800 was too much. He would propose an increase of £100 a year for each to date from to-day.

The Manager said that these men were top-level men of consultant status and could command more in private sessions. After further discussion the matter was adjourned for one month.

YOUGHAL NEWS

NET FISHING

With only three fishing days to go before the commencement of the close season for netting, the catch of grise and odd salmon is reported as being satisfactory in Youghal and surrounding district. Upriver the draft nets are said to be doing extra well while drift nets are faring badly. In Ardmore very little net fishing is being carried on due to the presence of sharks in the Bay. When the final returns of the season are available it will be interesting to see how they compare with last year. Certainly, the salmon returns will be down very much but the grise should show a substantial increase even though their appearance in large numbers was late in the season.

VANDALISM

From time to time we have seen and read of the destruction especially by children, to property. Last week-end when local netmen had hauled out their nets for repairs for drying they found in less than a half hour afterwards that the craft of nets had been cut up. The nets belonged to the Hickey brothers and Murphy brothers at the Burnt Stores Quays. In addition, an ornate, costing £2-10-0 was broken in Hickey's boat while moored in the Mall Dock, consequently the fishermen are now obliged to moor their boats outside the quay instead of in the dock. This is indeed a sad state of affairs as fishermen have sufficient set backs without being obliged to repair nets practically every time they take them off the crib. This is one of the instances of lack of parental control and the injured party has no comeback, as should he administer a few slaps he finds himself prosecuted and fined for assault at the suit of the parents.

SEA-ANGLING

Local sea-anglers are this week-end overhauling gear and boats for the sea-angling competition to take place on Sunday next, the first of which some week's ago was a great success. The competitive Committee are doing great work in getting persons interested in this form of sport and it is expected that a large number of crews will participate. The boats will leave the Ferry-slip at 5.30 returning there at 9 p.m. For the heaviest fish caught (individual) the prize is a spinning reel, and for the heaviest catch per boat there is a cash prize. Types of prohibited baits are (1) any live bait; (2) multiple bait; (3) feathered bait; (4) any bait capable of hooking more than one fish at a time. The weigh-in on arrival of the boats will take place at Linahan's, Market Square.

MISS HARTLAND'S APPOINTMENT

We would like to congratulate Miss Veronica Hartland, member of Cobh Urban Council and Cork County Council, on her appointment to the Visiting Committee of the Youghal Mental Hospital. Miss Hartland is the first lady ever to hold this appointment which was held by the late Mr. Wm. Broderick for the past thirty years. We are sure this appointment will be a popular one and feel sure this lady will do her best for all concerned.

Enjoyable Concert

A first class concert was held at the Strand Palace, Youghal in aid of the Church of the English Martyrs, Biddulph, Staffordshire, Rev. Fr. Mooney, P.P. of the church was present and he thanked the audience. Dr. T.C. Murphy, Youghal, who had organised the concert aid the artists who had taken part. The Children of Mary Choir under Mrs M. Tagney, gave a wonderful performance with Miss M. Crowley as accompanist. Billa Connell, the Cork comedian had the audience convulsed with his witty impressions. Charlie Kelleher regaled the audience with some fine billed singing while Laura Dalton was in fine voice when rendering some beautiful songs. The St. Mary's troupe delighted all with a fine exposition of Irish dancing while Mary Wallace provided an unusual but entertainingly enjoyable community singing.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT

DISTRICT Justice MacFionnlaich granted Cork County Council a decree for the full amount involved, with a stay, provided the defendant pays the current rent in addition to 7/6 per week arrears, a total weekly payment of 13/7, in an action brought against J. Murnane, Killeagh on Friday last at Youghal Court.

Mr. Macnamara—This man is prepared to pay the current rent of 6/1 and 5/- a week off the arrears. Justice—Could he raise that to 7/6 a week, making a total weekly payment of 13/7. Defendant said he could. Justice—I will give a decree for the full amount due with a stay provided the defendant pays the current rent in addition to 7/6 a week off the arrears, making a total weekly payment of 13/7.

Assault case

Pk. Crotty, Junior, by his father, Pk. Crotty, Cork Hill, Youghal, charged Jas. McCarthy, game warden, with assault on the 8th July. Evidence having been heard, the Justice fined defendant 20/- and allowed £2-2-0 costs. In a second case, Mrs. B. Crotty, game warden, charged J. McCarthy, game warden, with assault on the 8th July. Evidence having been heard, the Justice adjourned the case with leave to re-enter. Mr. Macnamara for plaintiff, and Mr. Maguire for defendant.

TOURANEENA... PRETTY WEDDING

Well-known and highly idolized members of popular Touraneena families were united in holy bonds of matrimony at the Mary's Parish Church, Touraneena, on Tuesday, July 23rd...

Miss L. Brown, one of the outstanding camogie players attached to the Bricey Club, was an interested spectator at the Ballinamult-Kilbrien game...

We noted Mrs. T. Walsh, Cahernaleague, proudly displaying the Ballinamult colours. Mr. M. Condon, Ballinamult, and Mr. P. Ryan, Kilbrien were ardent supporters of their respective clubs...

Despite an injury received early in the game, Miss C. Curran, Kilbrien, continued until the finish. Misses McCarthy and Noble were in charge of finance.

A young energetic Ballinamult man who sought work as a Co. Council worker had his services terminated after two weeks. We wonder why?

Dame Rumour seems to say money for cottage repairs is running out. If so it's hard luck on those who were only half completed.

We have been informed that Ballinamult were awarded the match and now meet Bricey Rangers at a date to be announced. Here again we have two evenly matched teams and there is every indication of a thrilling final which should not be missed.

POPULAR BALLINAMULT GENTLEMAN During the week we saw the regretted departure for England of a very popular Ballinamult gentleman, Mr. Patrick O'Connell. Prior to his departure, Mr. O'Connell was an esteemed and valued employee of the Knocknecolm Creamery...

FROM U.S.A. Mr. D. O'Connell, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. O'Connell, Knocknecolm, Co. Wick, who has been resident in U.S.A. for a big number of years is now enjoying a well-merited holiday at the parental residence.

FROM NEW ZEALAND After a sojourn of 18 years in New Zealand, Mr. Michael O'Donnell, a native of Knocknecolm, Ballinacorney, is now enjoying a well-merited holiday in his native district. Prior to his emigration, Mr. O'Donnell was an outstanding member of the Nire football team. He is brother of Mr. John O'Donnell, Knocknecolm, and Very Rev. Wm.

Board of Public Assistance Meeting HEALTH ACT CRITICISED

At a meeting of Waterford Board of Public Assistance in Dungarvan on Monday week, Mr. T. Lannon stated that as far as he could see, the new Health Act meant nothing "but more and more increases for the officials administering it while the public had to pay dearly for it."

Mr. Lannon was opposing an increase of £100 in the salary of the Supt. of Home Assistance in the County. An application for an increase of £150 had been received from the officer but the County Manager, (Mr. S. J. Moynihan) recommended the payment of £100 subject to the sanction of the Board.

The increase was proposed by Colr. Tom Gallagher and seconded by Ald. Tom Kyne, T.D. Mr. Lannon proposed a direct negative stating that it seemed to be a case of increase after increase which the ratepayers could not afford. It would have to stop, he said. Officials getting £900 a year could not be regarded as badly off.

The Secretary (Mr. Hynes) had stated in reply to Mr. Lannon that the Supt. was already getting £910 a year inclusive of temporary bonuses. The Manager stated that what Mr. Lannon had said was not true. Increases paid to officials were due to the increasing cost of living and were not confined to public officials only. This was easy to appreciate when it was borne in mind that the £100 a year was worth one-third of its value in 1939.

Mr. Lannon asked "and where does the value of the pound come in where the poor man is concerned? What is he to do?" Ald. Kyne stated that he wished to speak in defence of the Health Act and in particular in relation to that part of it dealing with maternity services. No one could deny that this was an excellent service and that mothers and their babies would greatly benefit by it. It was a well known fact that the rate of infant mortality in Waterford was high in the past, one of the highest in Ireland, but already the benefits of the new Health Act had brought about a much happier position altogether. Mothers were entitled to and were enjoying the very best of care and attention at no expense.

Mr. Lannon pointed out that doctors were now getting £7 for attending at a confinement which clearly showed the increased expenses incurred through the new Act. Mr. Walsh—Any money now? Secretary—No. Mr. Walsh—There's no good in discussing it so. The Secretary said that since last meeting there was an offer of a house by Mr. Styles with 2½ acres of land at £3,000. Mr. Lannon—We should not discuss the question of buying a house, if we had the money we should build a house. Mr. Walsh—The money is not available so there is nothing we can do but defer discussion until such time as the Secretary informs us that the money is available.

UNTAXED MOTOR CYCLE A fine of £20, mitigated to 10/- was imposed on Kevin Shochan, Fenor, Tramore, for whom Mr. M.L. Morrissey, Solr., Tramore, appeared, when he was charged by Sgt. Deaxy, Cappagh, with using an untaxed motor cycle and failing to produce his driving licence or insurance. The Justice after hearing explanations from Mr. Morrissey imposed the fine stated above.

CIVIL BILLS There was an unusually large number of undefended civil bills before the Court in which decrees were granted by the Justice.

AD INTERIM TRANSFER Mrs. Ellen Scanlon was on the application of Mr. King, solr., granted an ad interim transfer of the licensed premises at Mary Street, Dungarvan, from Miss Kathleen O'Neill.

UNLICENSED DOGS A number of residents of the Cappagh Garda Area were prosecuted by Garda Burns and Sgt. Deaxy with keeping unlicensed dogs. The Justice applied the P.O.A. in all cases as licences had been since taken out, with one exception where he imposed a fine of £2 mitigated to 10/-.

Wholesale Beer Dealers' Licences were granted to Messrs. P. J. Power, R. A. Merry and Mary Keane, on the application of Mr. V. Maher, Solr. Mr. Maher was granted an occasional licence on behalf of Mr. P. J. Power, for the night of August 1st, on the occasion of the Dunarvan Show Dance. Miss Mary Keane was granted an occasional licence for the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on the night of the 5th August.

CAPPOQUIN... POPULAR OFFICIAL RETIRES

This week, Mr. John E. Crowe, retired from the post of district representative of the E.S.B., an appointment he has held since the establishment of the Board. Down through the years he has given loyal and devoted service and users of electricity who have always found him courteous and obliging have learned with regret of Mr. Crowe's retirement. He is being succeeded by Mr. J. Devine, of Ballyduff, who has taken up residence here.

WATER CARNIVAL Quite an elaborate programme have been arranged by the Rowing Club for the Water Carnival to be held on August Monday when the support of many of the leading clubs has been assured. The events will be run in the vicinity of the Boat House and spectators will be able to view the proceedings from the grounds or the bridge. The day will conclude with a dance which visiting crews will attend. The music will be supplied by Mick Fogarty's Orchestra. Details will be given in our advertising columns next week.

Lismore... A PAIR OF THRILLERS On Sunday next, two attractive games are scheduled to take place in the Gaelic Fields, Lismore. The first game, junior football championship, is between Cappoquin and Ballyduff and is timed for 2.30. The second game (junior hurling) group semi-final will see Tallow engage Ballinamult in a game which should prove a thriller.

ACCIDENT On Friday last Mr. J. Daly, Ballysaggart, had a rather nasty accident. From accounts to hand, it seems that the horse which Mr. Daly was trying, suddenly took fright and bolted. One of Mr. Daly's fingers got caught in a harness ring and got badly strained. At present Mr. Daly is in Waterford Hospital and reported to be progressing favourably. We wish him a speedy recovery.

DEATH OF MR. J. STAPLETON. It is with regret that we record the death of Mr. J. Stapleton, Leamington Spa, Warwickshire, which sad event occurred on Friday last after a brief illness. The deceased who formerly resided at New Street, Lismore, prior to his departure for England 48 years ago, was a member of that famous old-time football team, Ballyn Rovers. He was also an all-round athlete in his young days. Since emigrating, Mr. Stapleton made regular visits to his hometown and was last home two years ago. To his sorrowing family much sympathy is extended.

CHIEF mourners were: Jack (son); Mrs. T. Halford (daughter); T. Halford (son-in-law); John and Michael (brothers); Bridget Stapleton and Mrs. J. Daly (sisters); Patrick Stapleton (nephew); Maureen and M. Halford (grand-children), etc.

WEST WATERFORD... BUS FOR FINAL A special bus will travel from Clashmore to see Waterford contest the All-Ireland senior hurling final and seats should be booked as soon as possible. CATTLE INSPECTION At the annual inspection of cattle, the property of the members of Clashmore-Aglish C.T.A. the following owners secured awards: Messrs. E. O'Donovan, L. Hayes, F. Curran and B. Mooney. The inspection was carried by Mr. E. Moore, B.Agr.Sc. Department Inspector, who commented favourably on the quality of the stock shown.

ARMORE PATTERN The annual Pattern to commemorate St. Declan, patron of the area, was held at Ardmore, on Sunday last. There was the usual big influx of devotees of the Saint and big crowds performed the 'rounds' in the grounds of the Cathedral which is situated on the hill overlooking the Atlantic and at the east end of the historic village.

ROWING SUCCESSES Local oarsmen had two outings during the past week. On Wednesday at New Ross, the first of second senior fours were successful in their respective races and both crews again recorded victories at Waterford on the following day. At each venue the Maiden Four reseeded the finals only to have victory snatched from them. These youths have had a vexatious run of ill-luck as in six consecutive outings they have qualified for the final without winning a trophy. One of the greatest races ever seen on the Suir was that between D.U.B.C. and Cappoquin senior eights. The crews rowed practically bow to bow for the entire course with Trinity winning by half a length.

Smart Capture by Tallow Garda The vittalling premises of Mr. John Ryan, situated at Springfield, Tallow, was broken into during last week and a quantity of meat stolen. The matter was reported to the Garda at Tallow Station and following a clue, Garda Michael Lyons apprehended an itinerant named Rupert Keating near Cappoquin, against whom were previous convictions and charged him with the offence. He was brought before a special Court and remanded in custody to Limerick Prison. The stolen meat was recovered. Garda Lyons is to be congratulated on his smart capture.

C.B.S. CENTENARY REGALLS :
 Glorious Heritage Of Brothers in Youghal

IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT THE PEOPLE OF YOUGHAL PROPOSED TO APPROPRIATELY HONOUR THE CENTENARY OF THE YOUGHAL CHRISTIAN BROTHERS IN NOVEMBER NEXT, IT MAY NOT BE OUT OF PLACE TO GIVE A HISTORY OF THE COMING OF THE COMMUNITY TO YOUGHAL.

Rheumatoid Arthritis

So little is known of the disease, Rheumatoid Arthritis, by the newly qualified practitioner in medicine and numerous drugs that are available for its treatment and the sad, hopeless appearance of the patient after the administration of drug therapy, over a period, that we are forced to conclude, either that the so-called "rheumatic specialist" knows nothing about the condition or complaint which he treats, or that his training is inadequate. It may not be realised by the doctor or the patient that drugs have a lowering effect and this is contrary to nature. Man exists through vibration and each organ has its own particular vibratory force. If the vibratory force is lowered then the health of the body is lowered also.

It was in the year 1800 that Beauvais described Rheumatoid Arthritis. But we can rest assured that it existed long before that period for indeed, animals suffer from it and it was known in Egypt centuries ago. Some effort was made by Heberden in 1804 and Haygart in 1860 to classify this disease and to clarify it somewhat, for they went on to describe Osteo-Arthritis, showing that it differed from Rheumatoid.

In a sunny climate the incident is low, in a damp climate it is high. If the health of the population be high there is very little Arthritis. But let the health be lowered by any reason, such as the strain of war there will be an immediate rise in the incidence. Mental strain will cause it to flair up and emotional disturbance.

In August, 1856, Very Rev. T. Canon Murphy, then Parish Priest of Youghal, realising that educational facilities in Youghal, especially for the youth of the town, were not as good as they might be, wrote to the Superior General of the Christian Brothers, asking him to send four Brothers to Youghal and guarantee a school, residence and £25 a year to each Brother. The request was granted, consent of the Bishop having already been obtained.

The Brothers arrived in January, 1857, and took up residence for the time being in South Abbey. About this time the Rev. John Wiseman, a noted mathematician, a noted mathematician, a noted mathematician, noted however, being until the end of February, as the existing school needed repairs and furnishing. When the schools re-opened after the summer vacation there were 450 boys on the Register. About this time the Brothers changed residence from South Abbey to Marina Terrace, the present Monastery, and this cost £750, of which £200 was subscribed by Mr. Patrick Kennedy, a civic minded Youghal man, who had already given £400 immediately before the arrival of the Brothers in 1857.

Brother Wiseman died in Nov. 1856 and the funeral expenses to P. MURPHY, Main Street, Whitegate.

Our Lady's Mount, Cork, were borne by the P.P. Canon Murphy. In 1867, a successful bazaar was held and the funds realised enabled the Brothers to give the school a complete overhaul. At this time, too, a public examination of the public was introduced with great success, the subjects being, Astronomy, Geography, Navigation, Mathematics, Languages and Commerce. It is generous co-operation and well up to the demands of modern standards. The whole story of the Brothers in Youghal for the past century is one of good will, attention in good repair and well up to the demands of modern standards. The whole story of the Brothers in Youghal for the past century is one of good will, attention in good repair and well up to the demands of modern standards.

Notwithstanding the successes which crowned the efforts in all fields of education and religious and cultural pursuits over the century, there were periods of difficulty. On one occasion there was a possibility that the Community might have to leave Youghal because of financial troubles. These difficulties were overcome through the wholehearted co-operation of the Clergy and townspeople, just as they are co-operating now to making the forthcoming centenary of the Brothers an event that will live in the memories of the people whom they have served and are continuing to serve so well and so unselfishly.

Redwater or Blood-Murrain in Cattle

This disease is unfortunately very common in many districts and frequently causes serious loss to owners of cattle.

Symptoms

When the animal is attacked by this disease the following symptoms are plainly noticeable: As the disease advances the animal is unwell—such as loss of appetite; the inclination of the animal, if at grass, to separate itself from its companions; the urine is usually dark in colour, varying from light red to chocolate or even approaching black; the animal is not passing a proper quantity of dung and if this condition continues, so that there is great constipation, stock owners frequently speak of it as "dry murrain". This condition is not afforded with the urine is dried by experience.

Nature of the Disease

"Redwater" is a blood disease which consists of a fluid in which very small red bodies float, known as "red water", however, some of these bodies have been destroyed, and being no longer viable, they are thrown out by the kidneys. It is their red colour which gives the urine of affected animals its characteristic colour.

It may be asked, What destroys these red bodies? It has been proved that they are attacked by small creatures of a parasitic nature, and that these parasites get into the blood in a very surprising manner, namely, by the bite of the common ticks, which are, however, only carriers of the disease. Before a tick is capable of producing the disease, it is necessary that it should have been on an infected animal.

Ticks are frequently found on large numbers about the lower parts, thighs and udders, of cattle on grass. Such cattle are not always effected with "redwater" because the ticks may not be carriers of the infection, but if "redwater" exists amongst animals on a pasture, it may be spread by means of these ticks since healthy ticks are able to get the infection from a sick or recovered animal and convey it to others.

In the past, certain kinds of soil and certain herbs were regarded as the cause of "redwater" but it is now definitely known that the disease may be met with on any pasture where suitable shelter for the ticks which carry the infection, in cows after calving are in nature.

Precautionary Measures

From what has been said, it will be understood that, in order to banish this disease from a grassland farm, it will be necessary to pay special attention to the care of the land.

On rough and stony land, where mallowing is not practicable, bushes and brambles and rank spots should be removed. The straying of sheep on land where "redwater" is prevalent offers the advantage that, by dipping the ticks which carry the disease and which have attached themselves to the sheep can be destroyed, and so the risk of cattle becoming infected is greatly reduced. The dipping should be done during spring and autumn, when the disease is usually most prevalent.

If ticks carrying the parasite are present on a pasture, the palatability through appropriate mowing and liming. Selective weed-killers have also a very special value as a means of eliminating rushes, buttercups, thistles and such rough weeds, while the judicious use of the mowing machine is also therewithout much risk.

Treatment

Cases of the disease can be successfully treated. Successful treatment depends on immediate attention owing to the serious complications which so frequently arise. Modern specific drugs are now available in these drugs effect a noticeable improvement in a few hours and a complete cure in 24 hours. Stock owners will, therefore, be wise if they seek veterinary advice as early as possible.

If the disease has not been detected in its early stages treatment which is not satisfactory is aimed at correcting the complications, chiefly constipation. Violent and repeated doses of purgative medicines should be avoided.

An old remedy which has occasionally been found successful is to give half a pound of common salt as a drench dissolved in water, not less than one quart of fluid there being used with good results.

EXTENSION OF LICENSING HOURS Liquor Commission in favour

The abolition of the bona-fide trading, an extension of week-day and Sunday opening hours, St. Patrick's Day opening, but a few of the twenty-six recommendations made by the Commission set up in July, 1956 "to inquire into the operation of the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating liquor" and issued on Monday last.

The Commission recommended that the general hours of opening should be (a) Week-days: 10.0 a.m. to 11.30 p.m. all the year round; the existing provisions for closing between 2.30 and 3.30 p.m. in the county; (b) Sunday: 12.30 p.m. - 2 p.m. no area exemption orders; (c) St. Patrick's Day same as Sundays.

Clubs should be placed on the same footing as licensed premises with regard to hours and Gaedra supervision. They should have the same facilities as hotels for the supply of drink with meals. Club extensions should not extend after 12 midnight.

Went out in a boat : were walking home

After 24 hours of anxiety for their parents and adventure for themselves two young brothers for whom the Garda at Cobh, Cork and Middleton had been searching, returned home yesterday evening.

Patrick and Leo O'Connor, aged 13 and 10 respectively, of Belmont Cottages, Cobh, had put to sea in a rowing boat from Cobh on Sunday afternoon. Later, the boat was found pulled up on the strand at Whitegate, on the opposite side of the river.

When the boys had not returned by midnight the Garda were told. Inquiries revealed that they were seen in Middleton late on Sunday night. The boys began to walk towards Cobh, about 15 miles, in the hope of thumping a lift.

They were picked up by a Garda patrol car at Lurblime yesterday and brought home. They explained that the boat began to take water and they decided to come ashore at Whitegate and walk home.

Waterford Hurlers played the game and won

Waterford are in their third All-Ireland and seem all set to bring off their second title. They beat Galway in the All Ireland senior hurling semi-final at Croke Park last Sunday and they beat their opponents.

They took command of the situation early in the game and through sheer determination, they held on to it and nothing could take it from them. But it was a game that kept one's nerves on edge.

From the throw-in, it was a lively game but fouls were far too many. Then shortly before half-time, Joe Salmon went down with an injury which was a genuine accident. Apparently a certain Galway player took exception to what had happened and began needing Frankie Walsh.

Waterford were all wrong, in their eyes, and Galway could do no wrong. But Galway showed in no uncertain manner that they could do wrong early in the second half.

The Inside Story

very pleasant experience indeed and those behind the tremendous arrangements so necessary to stage out big games are to be congratulated. But then, General Secretary, P. O'Keefe and his staff are experts who have led the way long before now.

I saw many faces I knew in Dublin and in Croke Park but two, in particular, stood out among them. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Kieley, parents of our Waterford's brilliant full-forward John Kieley, sitting in the New stand and there was Johnny O'Connor, out of the game because of his hand injury, on the sideline like "a bee in a bottle".

Back on the centre of the field referee, the photographs were taken and the parade moved off to the strains of the De La Salle Bays Band of Ballyfermot.

It was an omission anyone might well be guilty of. However, the boys from Ballyfermot played the National Anthem at half-time and for the first time since the outbreak of the war, the boys from Ballyfermot played the National Anthem at half-time and for the first time since the outbreak of the war, the boys from Ballyfermot played the National Anthem at half-time.

Kilmacthomas, Kilrossanty and Stradbally Notes

Late Mr. Wm. Keating, Farmer, Carrigeenagrath, Kilrossanty.—The death of this worthy well-esteemed Mid-Waterford gentleman, which took place in St. Patrick's Hospital, Waterford on Wednesday of last week, deprives the historic parish of one of its finest sons. He had been in failing health for some time.

On the sick list during the week was Mr. Pat Fanning, chairman of Waterford County Board G.A.A. Pat has been working in preparing the county senior hurling team for the championship and few apart from those directly connected with it, know the extent of the effort required.

Pat is on the mend again and hopes to be out and about in a day or two. And knowing him as I do, he will not take the rest he should but will be back in the office in the Town Hall next week when I found that he had been working as hard as ever in preparing the county senior hurling team for the championship.

Our new town clerk Through this column I would like to welcome our new Town Clerk, Mr. M. Howlett. At his office in the Town Hall we met last weekend when I found that Dungarvan had been really lucky in getting such a capable young man to take over his affairs.

Willierstown people are grateful Letters to hand clearly show that the people of Willierstown are grateful to the Dungarvan Observer for exposing the seriousness of the plight of their village.

Dungarvan lady's appointment Congratulations to Miss Anne Sheridan, Kilrush, Dungarvan, being appointed N.T. at the Presentation Convent, Waterford. Miss Sheridan is a very popular Dungarvan personality and comes of a widely known and respected family.

TALLOW NOTES HOUSE BROKEN INTO: £30 TAKEN The dwelling-room occupied by two brothers, Messrs. Maurice and Patrick O'Keefe, Newport, Knockmore, was broken into on Sunday, 28th July, whilst the owners were at Mass. £30 was taken. Gardai are actively investigating the robbery. Up to the time of writing no arrests have been made.

Waterford on the air Friday night's Sports Stadium from Radio Eireann, 9.15 to 10 p.m. will feature a special interview with members of the Waterford senior hurling team and mentors when Sean O'Connell will bring to the microphone some of those who made last Sunday's victory possible.

Local Happenings

DUNGARVAN HARBOUR BOARD

At the usual meeting of Dungarvan Harbour Board it was disclosed by the Harbour Master that during the month of June there was no arrivals or departures at the port.

It was also stated by the Town Clerk that an overdraft of £2,070 was needed to carry on the harbour account to September next. The Council voted in favour of raising it. The Harbour Master and members agreed that the position was in a very bad way and there were hopes that it would pick up as the year progressed. Mr. J. McCarthy stated that the prospects were also very bad. Coal was coming into town mainly by road from other ports such as Cork.

After some discussion the Council agreed to make an all out effort to attract more trade to their port.

CATHOLIC SCOUT NOTES

4th. Waterford Troop Abbeyside in Camp at Bunclody. GOING! GOING! GONE! After all the preparation of camping gear with our scouts we got all the equipment away by C.I.E. on Saturday and then all the boys roamed around in their Sunday clothes waiting for Monday morning. Soon after 10.30 a.m. the blue and white diesel bus came and we filed in to fill it to the roof. Then with blowing of bugles we moved a way from Abbeyside leaving many small children and mothers waiting nearby. The journey was well known to some of the Scouts who had been up there in 1952 but to most it was strange. We nearly missed Ennisceary but a little bus reversing brought us back and we moved out of the bus and into some grub. After this we got on the move again and after what seemed a short trip we pulled up a mile beyond the town. We found that we were to take over a bigger field than originally selected and nearer to the road.

There is a water tank in one corner and beside this our kitchen is fixed up with Marquee nearby and tent facing out in a semi-circle. The weather is a bit wild but it has been dry most of the time and we got all tents up without a drop. Today (Tuesday) has been occupied by mostly fixing up camp gidgets and doing other jobs to make routine run smoothly, with an odour of hurling and football still in the air. We have all had a rowing down the river, but so far no swimming. This afternoon uniformed scouts wended their way into town to survey the scene and buy delicacies. By tomorrow we shall be fully settled down and then the days will run by all too quickly. Does anybody know what became of our pickaxe? Has it been there and every where but nobody can put a hand on it. No doubt it is still at home in the Den. The 'sky hook' trick has been worked out a few new Campers whose turn will come some day. The musicians had a short practice after tea a mixture of bag-pipes, mouth-organs, flutes and accordions. Hago having almost blown his head off at the bugle and needing a days rest is off to Aughrim tomorrow, to see Geaird and the 17th Tipperary camp, etc. To the few members of the Troop who could not come and the 'candidates' we send greetings and hope they are keeping the Den tidy. Perhaps now that Duncas has no one to play cards with he might finish the door of the press in the Committee Room.

Old Parish Conquer the Gars

First Quarter Effort not sustained

Old Parish, 3-7; St. Garvan's 1-2

Everything pointed to another shock result when St. Garvan's led Old Parish by 1-2 midway through the opening half at the Fraher Field on Friday evening.

The score line does scant justice to St. Garvan's determined challenge. Mick Doherty's progress turned in a devastating first quarter and was a shade unlucky to fall so far into arrears in the minutes preceding the break.

Old Parish appear to have strong together a very capable combination. Their backs, strong and rugged, did not stand on ceremony, midfield, too, was above reproach and the attack took its chances in encouraging style.

Stradbally-Ring clash holds pride of place

ATRACTIVE AFTERNOON PROGRAMME

Pride of place on the attractive junior championship programme listed for Sunday afternoon goes to the football clash between divisional champions, Stradbally and the stylish men of Ring at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan.

Well Matched Last year Ring were scarcely as well armed—certainly they appear much more experienced and composed these days—it took Stradbally two hours to shake off the tenacious challenge.

Better Armed Whatever way one looks at this game it would appear that both sides are now much better armed to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

SUNDAY'S PROGRAMME

AT DUNGARVAN—

S.F.C.—Geraldines v. Kilrossanty, 8 o'clock, ref. Con Crowley.

J.F.C.—Stradbally v. Ring, 3 o'clock.

AT LISMORE—

J.F.C.—Ballyduff v. Cappoquin; J.H.C. Ballynamutt v. Tallow.

TOURIN FOOTBALLERS ADVANCE

Tonin 1-3; Valley Rovers 1-3

Tourin turned in a typical hard-hitting performance to overcome Valley Rovers in the second round of the junior football championship on Sunday afternoon.

The final stages were unfortunately marred by a series of regrettable incidents.

Facilities for Girls

Attention is directed to the facilities which exist at schools of rural domestic economy for the training of girls in poultry-keeping, dairying, gardening, household management, cooking, laundry work, needlework, etc.

Courses of practical and theoretical instruction in these subjects are provided at the under-mentioned schools of rural domestic economy:

Ardsah, Co. Longford; Clonsilla, Co. Mayo; Clifden, Co. Galway; Navan, Co. Meath; Portumna, Co. Galway; Tullamore, Co. Wick; Swinford, Co. Mayo.

VOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT

Driving uninsured tractor

Guard Nevin charged with driving uninsured tractor.

Pomphrey, Ballyshannon, Ballyshannon, charged with driving uninsured tractor.

Mr. J. Maguire (Mosses, J. J. Keane & Son) for defendants stated that the tractor was a very wet day and no work could be done on the farm.

In charges (1) and (2) a fine of £10 was imposed and in charge (4) a fine of £5.

The Justice applied the P.O.A. in the remaining charge.

HURLERS BLAST WAY TO FINAL

WATERFORD 4-12; GALWAY 0-11

THE white and blue jerseyed men of Waterford must have convinced friends and foes alike about their right to do battle for the blue riband of hurling at Croke Park on Sunday last when they led outclassed Galway from trap-to-line, as the saying goes, in an All-Ireland semi-final that was disappointing in as much as the stalwarts from the Decies county had matters very much their own way and that men from West of the Shannon showed an obvious disregard for the canons of good sportsmanship once the tide of battle tended to go against them.

Rampant Waterford outclass Galway

Believe me, Waterford's superiority was every bit as pronounced as their decisive winning margin of thirteen points would indicate. The Westeners were never in the hunt with a chance against a Deise fifteen that again hall-marked this game with all the hurling artistry and tenacity of purpose that had swayed Limerick and Cork in the qualifying Munster tests.

Galway had no qualms of conscience about the tactics they employed to stop the rampant standard-bearers. Time and again our men, who showed themselves worthy representatives of the premier hurling province, were the victims of dubious tackling and deliberate charging, but always they showed a capacity to accept the rough with the smooth that is the lot of the underdog.

Never Challenged The superiority of the Decies county men was never seriously challenged. They were yards faster to the ball, pulled harder and they general play was characterised by a purpose that was lacking in the opposition.

Points from Play Waterford won the toss and elected to play into the breeze. The Westeners immediately took up the offensive but the effort was beaten back by a vigilant Deise defence.

Indifferent Affair It is significant that Galway's plight was impossible—they were arrears 4-0 to 0-8—when mid-fielder Kelly was sent to the midway through the second half. Five minutes later he was followed by Duffy, who had operated between full and centre forward.

United Effort Although there were the usual outstanding individual contributions to the victory effort, Waterford's march forward, in keeping with the county's progress through Munster, was hampered out on all fronts. Again it was a tribute to the teamwork and the new spirit of the "securit" Deise.

Number Eight? Kilrossanty, champions in 1923, 1919, 1920, 1924, '26, '27 and '32, are bidding for their eighth success in the competition while Geraldines will endeavour to further their challenge for a title that was won by their great predecessors in 1923, 1915, 1922 and again in 1923.

Two Fives will leave Leary's on Sunday evening 7 P.M. for match v. Geraldines who will travel via Kilmacshannon and Fews.

Yet there is no denying that Kilrossanty's game had shed some of its old-time luster. The Comeragh men played grand football to retain the Pictan Cup, but in subsequent outings, and particularly a gainst Bricey Rangers last time out, they had not nearly measure up to the standard they had set in earlier engagements. In each instance, however, they were as good as the circumstances warranted.

The exhilarating fare the men of Comeragh and Blackwater-side served up in the semi-final of the Phelan Cup last April has stimulated public interest in the forthcoming championship favourites.
