

Dungarvan Circuit Court

PAYMENT OUT OF COURT
Matthew Scurry, a minor, who was now reached 21 years, applied through Mr. Sheridan, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. J. P. Williams & Son) for the payment out of court of £59-4-0 in respect of his credit.

His Lordship made the order sought and allowed £3 costs.

SETTLEMENT ARRIVED AT
A settlement whereby the applicant, Pierce Brett, Colligan, Dungarvan, is to receive £45 plus Circuit Court costs against Jeremiah Casey, Thurles, for loss of a milch cow, killed by a lorry, the property of the defendant as the cattle were being driven along the road by applicant's son.

Mr. Sheridan, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. J. P. Williams & Son) was for applicant.

Mr. Morris, B.L. (instructed by Mr. Lavan, Solicitor, Messrs. E. A. Ryan & Co.) was for defendant.

FOGARTY v. MANSFIELD
Mr. Lardner, B.L. (instructed by Mr. Quirk, Solicitor, Carrick-on-Suir) for applicant.

Mr. Clarke, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey, Solicitors, Dungarvan) for defendant.

This was a workman's compensation case on behalf of Denis Fogarty, of Carrickbeg, against his employer, Mr. Mansfield, Cappoquin, in respect of an injury to his foot on the 25th April, 1945, caused by a thorn penetrating the rubber boot which he was wearing.

The case was heard at the previous Circuit Court.

Mr. Lardner, B.L. outlined briefly the facts which are that the applicant entered the Cashel Hospital where an operation was performed on the foot but no trace of a thorn found. He was later operated by Mr. O'Driscoll in the Co. Hospital, Waterford, who removed two pieces of thorn. He is still complaining of pain in the foot and can only work for 2 or three hours.

Applicant said that since July he had made a number of efforts to get work. He spent some days thinning turpentine and could work a full day as he would be on his hands and knees. He could not go back to his pre-accident work as he suffers from pains and stiffness when working for a few hours on his feet.

Mr. Clarke, B.L.—Witness said he did not go to the County Council for work or to the Labour Exchange. He lived 6 miles from Carrick. He has a house for nothing from Mr. John Walsh, but he does nothing for Walsh in return. He has a plot of potatoes, 3 drills, from his brother-in-law John Curry. His wife keeps some pigs but he does nothing about them. He had rather a nice job, a steward with the Mansfields.

To his Lordship—He got an offer of two months' work from

SUCCESSFUL PIONEER SOCIAL
The social held by the Lismore branch of the P.T.A.A. in the Town Hall on Wednesday, Nov. 20th proved a wonderful success and a wonderful night's entertainment was enjoyed by all present. Due to the flu epidemic, the crowd was not as large as in former socials but this in no way detracted from the night's enjoyment. Music was supplied by Pat O'Brien and his band.

DEATH OF MRS. B. AHEARNE
It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mrs. B. Ahearne, which sad event occurred at her residence at Owbeg, Lismore, on Saturday last. The deceased, who had reached a good age, will be missed by her many friends and most especially by her relatives to whom we offer our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement. The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Sunday evening and were received and blessed by the Very Rev. Canon McGrath, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. McGrath, and Rev. Fr. Murphy, C.C. Interment took place in St. Carthage's cemetery on Monday after Solemn High Mass. The same clergy officiated. A very large crowd of mourners and sympathisers were present on both days.—R.I.P.

BUSES TO CO. FINAL
Two buses will leave Lismore for Dungarvan on Sunday, Dec. 8th, for the junior hurling Co. final between Lismore and Ballygunner.

PASSAGE EAST AFFAIRS
At a recent meeting of Waterford Co. Council, Col. Lynch introduced a deputation (Messrs. Connors and Walsh) representing all the residents of Passage East who appealed to the Council to have the street re-surfaced following the water scheme and protesting against the discontinuance of the daily scavenging of the street.

After Col. Lynch and Mr. Connors had put the case to the Council, The Acting Co. Engineer (Mr. J. Ormonde) promised to have the matter of resurfacing the road attended to in the usual manner. He asked to have the question of scavenging adjourned to enable him to ascertain if the conditions were as bad as portrayed by the deputation.

SYMPTOMS
Lameness is usually the first sign noticed and an examination will show inflammation of some part of the foot, probably between the claws, while in more advanced cases suppuration will have taken place leading to separation of the hoof from the foot. In advanced cases new growths of spongy horn may be present in the sole of the foot.

TREATMENT
Examinations of the flocks should be frequent and the treatment may be begun in the early stages of the disease. Isolation of all affected or suspected animals must be the first care, such sheep being placed in dry sheds or yards, where such are not available, on dry pasture land.

Where the disease affects a large number or where handling of ewes heavy in lamb, a simple remedy is to stand the sheep after removing all diseased and ragged horn from the hoofs, in a foot-bath of some antiseptic preparation, such as copper sulphate. The solution being frequently renewed. Copper sulphate may be used with great success in this way in the proportion of 1 lb. of copper sulphate to 1 gallon of water. The sheep should be put through the bath daily or every second day until recovery is complete.

When individual attention is necessary, it is usual to turn up the sheep, remove the superfluous or diseased horn from the foot with a sharp knife and apply some special dressing, such as the ointment made by mixing together 4 parts by weight of Archaengal tar and 1 part of very finely-powdered bluestone, or one prepared by thoroughly mixing 1 oz. of powdered bluestone, 1 oz. of turpentine and 1-lb. of lard.

In very advanced cases it is necessary, after paring and dressing, to cover the hoof with pledgets of tow and a piece of strong clean cloth in order to keep out dirt and to keep the foot as dry as possible.

In addition to the above methods of treatment, modern drugs are now available which, in the hands of the veterinarian, give excellent results. Further purposes, you will be relieving those farmers and you will be giving much needed employment to roadworkers at present laid off. He proposed and Deputy Ormonde seconded a resolution that the Council approve the expenditure of £1,196 as per the estimate of the County Engineer. This proposal was passed by 14 votes to 1.

Mr. Foran then handed in a motion that the Council ask the Minister for Local Government to transfer main road monies to transfer main road monies to the county council to county rates now it would serve two roads.

SUCCESSFUL BARLEY GROWER
For the second year in succession, Mrs. Margaret O'Halloran, Kinsalebeg, has secured first prize for malting barley supplied to Messrs. J. H. Bennett, Ballinacra. This is a record achievement and Mrs. O'Halloran is to be congratulated on her merited success.

AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTION
The Parish Agent for the areas consisting of Aghlish, Ardmore and Clashmore, Mr. J. Curran, B.Agr.Sc., is at present engaged in a series of lectures in the area. All the lectures are of exceptional interest to the agricultural community and have been well attended to date. It is hoped that even bigger numbers will attend the remaining lectures.

CLASHMORE MAN DIES IN ENGLAND
The death occurred recently in England of Mr. John Patrick Lenane, a native of Clashmore Parish. To his bereaved relatives sympathy is extended. R.I.P.

UNEMPLOYMENT
Present indications are that a big number of men will be unemployed in this area for some months. This is a very unsatisfactory and tragic situation and is mainly due to the decision of the Department of Local Government to withhold this year's Local Authorities Works Grant and to the decision of the majority of the Co. Council to reduce the Roads Estimate for 1957-58. The men affected state that unless alternative employment is forthcoming they will be forced to emigrate to earn a livelihood. It is extraordinary that after 35 years of native Government we cannot find work for a considerably reduced population despite the fact that taxation has reached an unprecedented level.

BOWLING
Due to the flu epidemic the semi-finals of the Clashmore Bowling Tournament arranged for Sunday last were postponed.

O.A.F. MEETING
A meeting of the Youghal No. 2 (Rural) Old Age Pensions Committee was held at Clashmore recently. The members present were Messrs. R. J. Russell (Chairman), W. Dower, K.C.C., K. Coughlan, P.C., J. Cass, Mr. Troy, T. Fitzgerald and Miss E. McGrath, Clerk. All claims were allowed.

ROADS
The following roads in this area have been added to the Five Year Plan:—(1) Pulla to Walsh's Cross (Toor), (2) from Clashmore road at Drumore to Cooneen; (3) Cooneen Cross to Quay at Portnagloagh, with branch to Upper Drumore; (4) Drumore Ferry to Coolree; (5) Lismore Cross near Clashmore to Ballinacra; Quay; (6) Coast Guard Station, Ardmore, to Whiting Bay with branch to Slugga Cross; (7) Between three roads near Ferrypoint and McCarthy's Cove including branches to Mangar's Bay, Springfield Cross and Callis Bay; (8) from Lauretum near Clashmore to Grange R.C. Church; (9) Ardmore Streets; (10) Ardmore Main Road to Ballymore Strand. The addition of these roads to the Five Year Plan will be welcomed by the people of the area.

breaks to which Mr. Foran replied stating that it was his firm belief that there was an undercurrent somewhere in the whole affair in this country. The diseases will finally disappear, he said, when the pigs scarce when they are doomed in this country and doomed they will be at the rate we are going. That was what happened with the outbreaks of foot and mouth disease he added, and now they had it all over again. The awful thing about it now, he concluded, was that no one will take any steps until the pig industry was doomed.

"UNDERCURRENT-DOOM OF PIG INDUSTRY"
The latest outbreaks of swine fever in the Dublin area provided considerable outspoken comment at the week-end meeting of Waterford County Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan, when Mr. Wm. Foran stated that there was an undercurrent somewhere in the whole affair that would "doom the pig industry" in this country.

The matter arose when questions were asked concerning rumours of an outbreak of swine fever in the East Waterford area to which the C.A.O., Mr. P. Conroy replied that he had no information whatsoever at them.

Mr. Foran said it did not seem fair that because of an outbreak in Dublin, the whole country's pig industry should be isolated. He could not believe that these outbreaks were due to people's failure to report having sick pigs. Such people had nothing to lose and had everything to gain. That was not the root of the trouble.

The Chairman (Mr. M. Hart) pointed out that restrictions were put on to prevent any possible spread of the disease. The number of pigs kept in the backyards of Dublin houses was absolutely enormous. The figure he ran into many thousands, he said, and if they found a pig or two sick in the morning they would soon get rid of them on the market.

There was a discussion then on the question of whether or not... will be the cause of out-

NFA NEWS

CONTAINER TRANSPORT CRUX

The Poultry Committee of the NFA have had consultation with representatives of Trade Unions with a view to having the ban on container traffic for turkeys lifted.

These negotiations have been going on over the past few weeks and the NFA had hoped that the case put forward was sufficiently strong and realistic to merit a constructive approach on the part of the people concerned.

It is regrettable that this approach has not been taken and there is no doubt that the fact that Irish turkeys will once again be shipped in wooden crates and on the open market have to compete against turkeys packed in dried ice in big containers is going to be very detrimental to our trade.

In figures the fact that they are shipped in this manner is estimated to result in an average loss of 4d. per lb.

This is naturally a serious situation for our turkey producers and the NFA feel that it is a matter which merits a serious investigation into container traffic for turkeys and for agricultural produce generally.

The NFA would like to remind all members that this year we are providing an information service on turkey prices on the English market and a general outline of marketing trends.

For this service please ring 55-888.

NEW HOPE FOR WARMLE ERADICATION In a circular issued by the Canadian Livestock Producers we gather that a drug for the eradication of warmle fly is in the offing.

The circular reports the systematic insecticide which can be administered in the autumn and which claims to be 98% effective.

It has its limitations in so far as it cannot be administered to milking dairy cows or to cattle sixty days prior to slaughter and in view of this cannot be regarded as something to replace the ordinary kerosene dressing but rather as being complementary to it.

Should the systematic insecticide prove fully successful it should bring us a long way towards eradicating warmle and consequently increasing the returns from our livestock.

NFA TO JOIN IAP At the meeting of the NFA National Council on Wednesday, the 29th November, it was announced that the Association should join the International Federation of Agricultural Producers.

Dr. Greene, President of the Association had attended a meeting of the 23rd session of the Federation in Rome on the 28th, 29th and 30th of October in the capacity of an observer.

It was the opinion of the National Council that in the interests of agriculture generally the Association should be represented at future meetings of the Federation.

The Federation is arranging a conference of European Milk Producers in the Spring of 1958.

THIRTEEN new outbreaks of Swine Fever have taken place since the 4th November and all of them we understand in the Dublin area.

Between 8th August and 4th November, there was no outbreak whatsoever and we had been optimistically looking forward to some respite from the source of infection. If this can be proven steps should be taken to segregate the area from other parts of the country with the utmost restriction on the movement of pigs. On the other hand it is possible that free movement might be considered from the free areas throughout the country.

A.I. - A BIG SUCCESS Breeding station gives facts

Following criticisms of the A.I. scheme operated in the Dungarvan area by Galtee Breeding Station, Mitchelstown, which were voiced at a recent meeting of Waterford County Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan, a conference took place between the Committee of Management and Waterford C.A.O. Mr. P. Conroy.

This was announced at the monthly meeting of the county committee by Mr. Conroy when he made a statement on the matter. Among the attendees at the conference were: Dr. Thornton, V.S.; Mr. C. Dempsey, Chairman, Dungarvan Co-Op. Society; Mr. E. Maher, Secretary and Mr. J. Foley, Manager.

The Committee of Management complained of the unfairness of generalisation and unspecific criticism, said Mr. Conroy. "They pointed out that the operators in Dungarvan are doing a difficult and strenuous job and doing it well. Calls from farmers are attended to with great promptness. The Committee of Management investigated every complaint received as far as A.I. was concerned. It must be remembered that every day of failure in conception is not to be blamed on A.I. The farmer's herd of cows may not always be free from sterility diseases. There was a case of a farmer who gave up using A.I. and got a bull but found after a year's use that the bull was no solution to his problems."

DUNGARVAN IMPROVANT Mr. Conroy continued: "Dungarvan is an important sub-station of the Breeding Association. Each branch of the Dungarvan Co-Op. Society is linked by phone with headquarters. A farmer in any area need only contact his branch manager who phones the headquarters to ask if any calls have come in in the meantime. Such calls are attended to on the spot. Sundays and holidays alike these calls are attended to and the responsible personness where they are sent in reasonably early in the day. If a farmer feels he has cause for complaint, he is invited to voice it to the branch manager. Such complaints are referred to headquarters and returned from there to Mitchelstown for investigation."

When an operator has dealt with all the calls in hand in a district, he then goes to the branch manager who phones headquarters to ask if any calls have come in in the meantime. Such calls are attended to on the spot. Sundays and holidays alike these calls are attended to and the responsible personness where they are sent in reasonably early in the day. If a farmer feels he has cause for complaint, he is invited to voice it to the branch manager. Such complaints are referred to headquarters and returned from there to Mitchelstown for investigation."

The Committee of Management has not received a single farmer's complaint this year. A complaint made against A.I. by a member of the Committee of Agriculture will be fully investigated in the same way. Such members are asked to give all the relevant particulars to their C.A.O. for transmission to the Committee of Management.

Dealing with technical control, it was pointed out that a veterinary surgeon is sent by the Department to investigate causes of sterility in problem farms and to prescribe remedies. The inspectors are under the control of the Department who have all the records. If a conception record is low the case is investigated and the inseminator is removed if found to be at fault.

59 CARS ON ROAD A sufficient staff of trained inseminators is engaged. There is a fleet of 59 cars. Despite the fact that the work is seasonal, these men are kept in employment the whole year round which does not make the problem of the Association any easier. Dealing with the actual operation of the scheme, it was pointed out that from the state of pioneering the introduction of A.I. a few years ago, the Galtee Cattle Breeding Association is now covering a total of 70,000 cows and getting an average of 70% rate of conception from first insemination. A.I. repeats are free. "Inex quarters of the total cows in Dungarvan area are in the A.I. scheme. The Committee of Agriculture is aware of the high quality high priced bulls bought by the Department and the Association for the scheme. The average price of the best (coloured) bulls is £500 and of the dairy bulls £1,000 in stock at the station."

Finally, the Association while not claiming 100% perfection, feel they are doing everything, normally possible to foster and promote the dairy and cattle industry of the country. They ask for good will and co-operation from all concerned."

Commenting on the C.A.O.'s statement, Mr. C. Curran stated that it was still his belief that there were not sufficient operators at the peak period.

DRAWING ATTENTION TO A FACT Mr. D. Donohue, speaking in agreement with Mr. Curran, said a lot depended on the operator. Mr. Wm. Dower remarked that the operator could be in hard luck too. They would have to remember there was always two sides to every story.

Mr. Curran said that the Co. adopted the views expressed by the Committee of Management.

Public interest mounts in Sunday's semi-final

The fact that Mount Zion will have to forego the services of such customary pillars as Mick Flannelly, Tom Gallagher, John Quinlan and Jim Hurley—they are currently out of the running for a variety of reasons—has helped to work up rather than diminish public interest in the long-awaited meeting of the champions and Cappoquin at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday afternoon.

MOUNT ZION DEPLETED FOR CAPPOQUIN TEST

MARTIN O'GORMAN (Mount Zion)

IT IS NOW FELT THAT CAPPOQUIN EVEN WITHOUT CAPTAIN MICK O'CONNOR ARE IN THIS SEMI-FINAL BATTLE WITH A REAL CHANCE OF CONFIRMING SARGENT CUP FORM AND ENDING THE MONASTERY'S LONG TENURE OF THE HURLING THRONE.

The average everyday followers of the games, not to mention Cappelquin folk, are also encouraged by the announcement that Billy Conway, who fitsness gave rise to a lot of concern prior to the postponed fixture—it will be recalled that they were originally scheduled to meet a fortnight ago—is almost certain to take his place on Sunday's line out.

Then again there are many who hold that Mount Zion's energy-sapping encounter with Kilrossanty in last Sunday's football decider will not be to the advantage of their hurling aspirations. In addition, the strain of the almost continuous match-a-week programme in which several of their most notable men have participated since last September must inevitably impair their customary game, be it sooner or later.

All this, of course, paints a picture Cappelquin supporters find greatly sustaining during these anxious days of waiting.

But, then, even those who see every match through red and black coloured spectacles cannot close their eyes to the fact that the Cornerstone side has achieved little of real note since their great victory in the Sargent Cup last May. Indeed, last time out, they were downright fortunate to prevail against Geraldines.

Equally Fortunate
Against the hard-hitting Aghish men, Cappelquin looked anything but the part of potential champions. But those who incline to write them off as a championship proposition on that showing should not lightly discount the fact that they were equally fortunate to pull through the same opposition a bare month before their triumph over the champions in the secondary competition.

It almost goes without saying that the pulsating fare that characterised their last meeting should cause hurling followers from far beyond the confines of the rival camps to await with mounting impatience another test between the Monastery and the Cappelquin which relieved them of the Sargent Cup.

Leading Contenders
The convincing manner in which Cappelquin won through on that occasion must in consequence cause Monastery mentors to do a lot of serious thinking in their present dilemma. Easter, fitter and hurling confidently in every sector, of the field, Mick O'Connor and his colleagues won a victory that they and then stamped them the leading contenders for the champions' crown. This, then, is their opportunity to capture real greatness. And the signs are that it is not beyond them.

Certainly the morale uplift of the replay of the Kilrossanty-Mount Zion senior football final will take place at Waterford on Sunday, December 22nd.

Other fixtures are: M.F. Final—Ring v Mount Zion, and J.F. Final, Stradbally v. Gaultier or Ballyduff Lower, at Waterford on December 24th.

S.H. Final—Mount Zion of Cappoquin v. Abbeydale at Dungarvan, on Dec. 15th.

Mount Zion were visibly toiling. The confidently playing Kilrossanty men were in complete control. This was the second-half pattern, until the 20th min-

SUNDAY'S PROGRAMME

AT DUNGARVAN—
S.H. Semi-final—Mount Zion v. Cappoquin at 2.30 p.m.; ref., D. Whelan.

Scoreboard

S.F.—Kilrossanty, 0-7; Mount Zion, 1-1
M.F.—Tramore, 0-5.
J.F.—Stradbally, 2-5; Cappoquin, 0-2.

Eastern Football Final

Gaultier and Ballyduff Lower the surprise packets of the championship, do battle for the right to carry the Eastern Stradbally into the county final, on Sunday next. Despite the fact that Stradbally will be an odd-on choice to prevail when the ultimate issue is joined, these Eastern rivals are capable of turning in a spirited bout for divisional honours.

Gaultier, the stylists, are the popular choice, but Ballyduff have traditionally been dour battlers and it's unlikely that they will go under without a stern fight. Hard put to pull through against second-rate opposition in earlier rounds, however, they will have to step up immensely to halt the polished Gaultier side.

STALEMATE!

Kilrossanty robbed in dramatic finish

Mount Zion 1-4
Kilrossanty 0-7

BELIEVE me when I tell you that the big Kilrossanty contingent which swelled the attendance at last Sunday's senior football final had every reason to feel frustrated as they wound their way homewards from the City of the Decies. Almost to a man, Comeragh folk must have felt that they had "lost" a game they should have won hands down.

Superior in every phase of the game and commanding a seemingly decisive advantage entering the final five minutes, they had victory snatched from them in the most tantalising manner imaginable by a Mount Zion team that fought with traditional fury.

The better side in every phase of the game and in a seemingly commanding position with less than five minutes remaining, Kilrossanty had what might have been a really decisive victory snatched from their grasp in the most tantalising manner imaginable.

On the day's play and in the circumstances, Kilrossanty, playing a brand of football that had five city men in queer street for long periods, would not have been flattered by a victory margin of five or six points.

In arrears by four points with a minute to go, Mount Zion struck back with traditional fury to steal a draw that fairly mocked the overall character of the exchanges. All credit to the champions, though, for the courageous manner in which they battled back against the odds to level up—in a finish of high tension.

The Comeragh men turned in a tremendous second half after surrendering an interval advantage of two points within minutes of the resumption. Four minutes tacked on in a series of raids that had the champions floundering set-supporters of the green and gold aghast as time sped on. The result, it now appeared, was no more than a temporary reprieve.

Mount Zion were visibly toiling. The confidently playing Kilrossanty men were in complete control. This was the second-half pattern, until the 20th min-the Purification of Our Lady, Feb. 2nd, 1857, the two upper rooms were opened as their school. The three Bishops of Cloyne had at different times stated that Youghal CBS in variable took first place in religious knowledge. In speaking of the different Superiors of the Schools mentioned, Brother John Wiseman, Richard V. Harold (who spent 30 years in Youghal), Downey, Maher, McKenna, O'Donnell and then Brother Luke Ryan whom many remembered with affection. Among the lay teachers he chose Mr. William Lehane who now has a half century's devoted service behind him. Concluding Fr. Cashman said that the Brothers could hardly realise the esteem and affection in which they were held by the people of Youghal. It was his wish and prayer that when some past pupil should speak on the occasion of the bicentenary, he would be able to record not only the greater success of the Youghal School but also to say that the relations between the Brothers and the people of the town were as deep in 2057 as they were in 1857. After Mass His Lordship officiated at Benediction.

The Church ceremonies were followed by a brief but pleasant one on the laws of the Brothers' Monastery. Here Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, Chairman of the Celebrations Committee and the Local Urban Council presented to the Superior of the Community, Rev. Brother T. A. O'Callaghan, a cheque for £1,100. This fine gift was made up of subscriptions of past pupils from near and far and its purpose is to enable the Brothers to renovate their Monastery. At a subsequent luncheon Rev. Bro. Callaghan read a telegram conveying the Apostolic Blessing on those who took part in the Centenary Celebrations. The Superior General Rev. Bro. E. F. Clancy proposing the toast of the Bishop and Clergy, assured His Lordship that the Brothers who were privileged to work under him, would serve him faithfully and well. He knew well the great record of the clergy of the Diocese from his early days spent in Fermoy where he had met Canon Sheehan and Fr. M. Kennedy. He had also been privileged to meet another Cloyne man, Archbishop Mannix, now aged 93, but still full of vigour. The Christian Brothers had now six communities in the Diocese.

His Lordship, replying to the toast spoke of the changes in the history of Youghal and the fact that the Brothers had been in the town for over 150 years. He mentioned the fact that the Brothers had been in the town for over 150 years. He mentioned the fact that the Brothers had been in the town for over 150 years.

They bought a house with their winnings

A young couple in Wales have just won enough money to buy a house, and so they say it is conclusive proof of the Legend of the 300 year old Wishful Cork Tree. Another couple had a piece of Lucky Cork sent them by a relative and got an empty house two days afterwards. A lady in Doncaster sent for a piece and won £3000 on a penny points pool. A wife from her doubting husband a piece of Lucky Cork for his Birthday and two weeks after he won £1500. A mother sent each of her sons a piece and one of them won £4003 in a sweep-stake. If you would like further particulars, send stamped addressed envelope to Wishing Cork Tree, Combe-in-Teignhead, Devon. (911) to mid-field had a tremendous influence on the struggle and Pete Gough, who caught some great balls at left corner back, to complete a quintet that did enough to bring the title to Kilrossanty.

Jimmy White, although not the man he can be, Ben Prendergast, Jimmy Maher, Denis Begley and Michael Kirwan, all left an imprint on the game.

I find it hard to fathom the decision to transfer Mici Prendergast who had a good first half at centre-back, to full-forward on the resumption.

Seamus Power, one of the few Monastery men who could field the leather on equal terms with the opposition, was probably Mount Zion's most consistent performer over the hour. Phil Grimes turned in a great first half, while Billy Mulcahy, Frankie Walsh and Larry Guinan, in addition to goalie Roche, whose last-minute save bordered the miraculous, were others to catch the eye.

B. Kirwan (0-4), and T. Timmons (0-3) scored for Kilrossanty. Mount Zion's total came from S. Power (1-0), P. Walsh (0-2), P. Grimes (0-1), and L. Guinan (0-1).

Kilrossanty fielded without Colum Cunningham and Mick Flannelly was absent from the city side.

Liam Froty, who was in charge, gave general satisfaction. Kilrossanty—S. Ormonde (goal), J. Maher, M. Loneragan, P. Gough, D. Begley, M. Prendergast, J. Power (capt.), J. Whyte and B. Prendergast; M. Kirwan, B. Kirwan, M. Kirwan, T. Dolan, J. Timmons, T. Kirwan.

Mount Zion—D. Roche (goal), J. Hurley, R. Culleton, W. Mulcahy, S. Hayden, M. Healy, P. Grimes, S. Power and M. O'Gorman; L. Guinan, F. Walsh, A. Richards, C. Crowley, F. O'Brien.

Although they never functioned with old-time smoothness, the Stradbally Reds cruised into the junior football final for the second successive year with an eight points victory over Cappoquin at the Fraher Field on Sunday 24th. Despite the fact that the losers were in the hunt for more than half the journey one always had the impression the Reds would prevail. But this was not one of Stradbally's best performances.

A Fraher point gave the losers their first blood after three minutes. Stradbally levelled per Cappoquin and Billy Bony pushed them ahead with a well-taken goal. On the turnover, Sargent pointed but the Reds hit back to dominate the closing stages. Walter, Guiry and Casey were responsible for the scores that gave them a convincing margin to show at the goal.

The Reds were remarkably served by the usual pillars—Murphy, Barry, Foley, Casey, Dunphy and Walter—who substituted Eugene Casey who was introduced during the second half, was there to turn in a promising performance.

Cappoquin's most notable performers were Mick Sweeney, the Lacey brothers, Jim Sargent, veteran E. Scanton, G. Kelleher and F. O'Donoghue.

FIVE YEAR PLAN

And what of the present?

ASKS COLE, TOM LANNON

Nothing was being done about the county roads where a person was likely to find himself up to his neck in mud and dirt while thousands of pounds were being spent on the main roads which were already in excellent condition. This was stated by Mr. Tom Lannon at a meeting of Waterford County Council on Monday last when he called for greater expenditure on county roads and less on main roads.

Before the meeting was a "Five Year County Road Improvement Plan" which was adopted by the Council.

Replying to Mr. Lannon, the Acting County Engineer, Mr. J. Ormonde, B.E., stated that the £26,000 in grants provided for roadwork, a total of £26,000 was allocated to main roads while the balance was spent on county roads. This showed in no uncertain manner that the county roads were far from being neglected but every road in the county could not be done all at once.

Mr. Ormonde went on to point out that it was Government policy to improve the main roads and the scheme dealing with that provided a 100% grant. There was nothing the Council could do to change that policy. The final say in the scheme rested with the Department.

Mr. C. Curran—Trying to change it is like hitting your head against a stone wall. When Mr. Ormonde stated that if they kicked up a row about the main road grants, the Dept. might withdraw them, Mr. Lannon said that such a statement was only an attempt to drag the red herring across their path.

Mr. Curran pointed out that the Council had sent a resolution to the Department expressing the views now being put forward by Mr. Lannon.

"NOT COSTING THE RATE-PAYER A PENNY"
The Council members expressed the view unanimously but so far there had been no word on it from the Dept.

Mr. D. Healy said they should make it quite clear that the scheme for improving main roads was not costing the rate-payers a penny. It was, as Mr. Ormonde had stated, a 100% grant scheme. The Dept. of Local Government backed by the Government were trying to do their best to make the country attractive to tourists and the tourists industry was one to be considered very seriously in view of the fact that it was nearly as good to the nation as agriculture. It was the duty of the Government, he added, to do it in its power to satisfy the tourist.

Mr. Lannon—Our county roads are the best in Ireland but now we are putting bumps on them. Messrs. Seamus Lynch, Wm. Dwyer and Wm. Moran said that where the Council had removed some bumps they had made such a crater on the road that any vehicles with high loads were inclined to topple over.

Ald. T. Lyons, T.E., said that the reason their main roads were receiving such attention should be obvious to all. They were the arteries of the nation particularly now with the diversion from rail to road transport.

Mr. Moran referring to Mr. Healy's case for the tourist trade remarked: "Tourists come here to see the country and not to enjoy speeding."
