Dungarvan native held at gun point

Dungarvan-born Mr. John Whelan, a member of the United States Air Force, who drove his car flying two Tricolours from the Republic into the Six Counties the other day, told members of the press in Kells, Co. Meath that he was "treated like a common criminal."

Twenty-six years old Whelan, who now lives at West Hyattstown, Co. Wick, is on a holiday in the country. His parents, Mrs. and Nora Whelan, still live in the Old Borough.

Mr. Whelan, who indicated that he would complain to the United States Embassy in London that after crossing the border a police car stopped him and five Irish friends as they were driving towards Enniskerry. He also disclosed that a plainclothes policeman asked a revolver towards him; that a constable ripped the trousers off his car; that his baggage was dragged from the car and searched; that a constable told him to get out of the car and to get into Northern Ireland flying a political emblem.

That when he complained at Newtownbutler police station, he was told: "You are lucky you weren't shot."

With Whelan in the car were Walter Foley, 16, a London waiter, Frank Shanahan, 17, a waiter, Gerard O'Dwyer, 16, Whelan's student nephew, Michael Franklin, 11, his student cousin, and friend Michael Walsh.

Said Whelan: "Why couldn't they have warned me instead of acting so crudely? I demand the return of my flags."

A spokesman for the Royal Ulster Constabulary in Belfast said: "Newman Whelan ought to have realised the chance he was taking in flying two Irish Tricolours on his car while on Ulster territory."

N.F.A. ANNOUNCE TERMS OF FARMERS' NEW DEAL

THE terms of a new easy-loan scheme, which will enable farmers to borrow money from the banks to increase their cattle herds with no security other than certificates to prove the cattle they purchase are free from Tuberculosis, were announced at a Press Conference held by the National Farmers' Association in Dublin on Saturday last.

The plan, called the Live-stock Credit and Expansion Scheme, will be promoted by the N.F.A. in co-operation with the Banks. It is understood that it will commence almost immediately and that it will not be confined to N.F.A. members.

Briefly, the Scheme will operate as follows:—The Banks will advance two-thirds of the cost of a T.B. tested heifer to the farmer. The only security necessary will be the deposit of a veterinary certificate indicating that the beast has passed one test. The farmer must get this certificate from his Veterinary Surgeon. The certificate for the individual animal bearing the number unalterably marked on the beast's ear gives that beast an identity and therefore becomes security for the loan.

This loan will also be advanced to farmers who wish to retain on their farm breeding heifers which economic circumstances might heretofore have forced them to sell. Once again, when these heifers stand a first test, on depositing the veterinary certificate in the Bank, the farmer will be advanced money on this security.

Repayment of the loan will not commence for two years. The interest will be the normal bank rate.

There will be no limitation of the amount, either for the individual beast or the total.

In the case where the farmer is purchasing breeding heifers, having arranged with the Bank's Manager he will be advanced the money and he will hand in his certificate as soon as possible after purchasing.

Replacement of Reactors

While this Credit Scheme is aimed at encouraging the farmer to increase his numbers of breeding stock and thereby retain in the country the largest possible amount of the heifers were new exporting, the N.F.A. is nevertheless very conscious of the problems and expense that the replacement of reactors means to the farmer.

This is particularly true in the dairying areas where a high percentage of reactors can be expected. In these circumstances the dairy farmer will meet two losses.

The difference in price between the replacement value of the reactor and the purchase price of the replacement.

The loss of milk yield in the interim period, and possibly building costs.

Therefore, in order to alleviate to some extent the financial commitments of the farmer purchasing replacements, the Credit Scheme will be available to those farmers buying replacements for their herd.

The dairy farmer who indicates to the Bank Manager the number of replacements he intends to buy will be eligible to receive two-thirds of their cost without the first repayment on the loan becoming due for two years.

While the N.F.A. feels that the Government has a very definite duty to help the farmers who are undertaking this very costly task, it nevertheless hopes that the availability of this loan for the purchase of reactors will help to bridge the gap during the period that their milk yields are down and assist them in buying their high cost replacements.

The Small Farmer

Mainly this Credit Scheme will benefit the small farmer. For the first time he has the opportunity of retaining his breeding stock, which he might otherwise have to sell to meet his financial commitments. He also has the opportunity of buying in extra heifers. In practice, it will mean that because the first payment will not arise for two years, the call from that heifer should meet the loan and leave him with an extra cow on his farm. It will particularly advantageously in the intensive T.B. eradication areas.

'A Card for St. Francis'

For several years past Brian O'Higgins has been urged by distributors and by purchasers of Irish-made Christmas cards to produce a series larger than the popular 66, once a series that would compete with large cards from abroad. At last he has succeeded in this request and has published eight four-fold cards, measuring seven inches by five inches, that many will welcome.

In this new series (9d. each) one lovely card deserves special mention. It is entitled "The First Christmas" and recalls the Christmas Eve, 735 years ago, when Francis of Assisi showed to the people the first simple and faithful representation of the manger at Bethlehem as we have come to know it, and inaugurated a devotion that has spread throughout the world. The gifted artist, Una Waters, in her design recaptures all the beauty and simplicity of the scene and the verse greeting by Brian O'Higgins is in keeping with the theme and the occasion. In addition to the new series Brian O'Higgins has scores of new designs at prices from One Penny to Sixpence, as well as Calendars, Wall Mottos and Gift Booklets.

A descriptive list (free on application to the publishers) gives full particulars of prices and also most interesting information as to how Christmas Cards can be sent abroad by Air Mail at a moderate cost. The list can be had from Brian O'Higgins, 66 Parnell Square, Dublin.

IRELAND'S PROSPECTS FOR LONG-TERM PROSPECTS FOR CATTLE EXPORTS.

There is a long-term prospect for a considerable increase in most consumption. West European imports are expected to increase 55 per cent by 1975, and by the same date it is expected that U.S. imports will have increased by 70 per cent.

The Argentine, hitherto the great supplier of meat, is at present diminishing her exports. Her cattle stocks were down by 2.7 million head in 1957 and a further 1.3 million in 1958. This position is aggravated by a steadily increasing consumption of meat in the Argentine.

The consumption of meat in Britain is steadily rising and the demand will be for the choice lean and lighter beast. We are in an excellent position to prepare now to meet this British demand and our first steps must be the eradication of bovine T.B. and at the same time increase our breeding stock numbers and consequently our exports.

With this credit freely available to farmers, we are taking the first major step along the road to greater exports and greater prosperity.

ABBESIDE PATTERN

The enterprising committee responsible for the promotion of Abbeyside patterns have, we are told, all arrangements perfected for the Village's day out on Sunday next. Entries continue to pour in for the various events we go to press and the indications are that the Festival's traditional high standard of entertainment will be well maintained. A trip over the bridge on Sunday afternoon should prove a most enjoyable experience.

POPULAR COMBINATION
The increasing popularity of the Comeragh Celli Band was again manifested on Sunday last when an attendance of almost record proportions witnessed a most enjoyable night to the strains of this recently innovated traditional and old time combination. Arrangements were well up to the usual Clonoe standard.

Local admirers will have another opportunity of hearing the Comeragh Valley players when they pay a return visit to the Town Hall to-morrow (Friday) night for a Celli sponsored by the local Pipers' Band.

TIME IS THE ART OF THE SWISS

Even Steel is Too Soft FIND the hardest steel on earth. Take two pieces, knock them together, about half a million times a day, for years—and there are obvious signs of wear.

That's why, at certain vital points in a watch, good watchmakers use jewels. For jewels are harder than any metal.

But here the Swiss watchcraftsman is supreme. His watch will keep exact time year after year only if those tiny jewels are cut, shaped and measured to a hair's breadth. And in this uncanny skill, the Swiss watchmaker is a world leader.

THE HEART OF A GOOD WATCH lead the world.

Ask your jeweller to show you some Swiss Jewelled-Lever watches; then take his expert advice.

THE SWISS

What impressed me was the number in which the band made it last. It proved to be a night with a big number of dancers and family established the Comeragh Valley Players as a cell band with a big future. I will not be surprised if I see their services in demand throughout the county and indeed outside it within a very short time.

These men deserve every subscribe for the excellent manner in which they get out some short months ago. They have had difficulties and no doubt, they will face many more but they have what it takes to reach the goal. Every good luck to them and there will be many of us who too happy indeed to see them achieve the highest success in a County Waterford Cell band.

As I told Jack the man of his boyhood memories, Mr. Mick Cleary, known to most people throughout the county as 'Cocktail' is still here in Dungarvan though no longer 'behind the bar' and I am sure he will find a bit of pleasure indeed in the memory recalled by a grand old-time

THEY SCORED THEIR GREATEST SUCCESS
Congratulations to the Comeragh

such a big success at Ocean

DUNGARVAN MAN WHO LOVED OPERA
It was quite a night indeed with Mike Crotty, the man of the house, taking very good care of everybody and his good wife sitting there with the concertina resting lightly on one knee as she played the finest of traditional music. In the middle of the ball-amooch, Jack O'Shea who owns a fine drapery business in Kilrush turned to me
'Tell me, Tom,' he says, 'do you know any man in Dungarvan by the name of Cocktail Cleary. He was a great old friend of mine in our young days when we were apprentices in Midleton. They were the good old days. Himself and myself were a holy terror for the opera. We'd travel to them to Timbuctoo if we could get there. Anyway there was the time that 'The Daughter of the Regiment' was being staged in Cork. Cocktail said we should go and sure I wouldn't object for the world. That night we took out the old bikes and cycled into the city and enjoyed ourselves to the limit. Needless to say we weren't able to be back on time but 'twas worth every minute of the bother we had to face. If you can find him I am sure he will find a bit of pleasure indeed in the memory recalled by a grand old-time in Kilrush.

Faugh's for first

FAUGHS, 6-6; ABBEYSIDE, 6-4

Rovers and Dungarvan hurling with a spirit of resolution that was definitely in contrast to the rather indifferent approach of the losers. Faugh's overcame the upset of the year when mastering Abbesside in the semi-final of the senior hurling championship at the Frater Field on Sunday.

Unlike the hurling encounter, which was almost featureless, the subsequent football battle which involved Emmets and Kill goblins abounded with excitement during the twenty-seven odd minutes that elapsed before the old trouble—the intervention of spectators—called an abrupt halt to the proceedings.

Emmets, leading by 2-3 to 0-4, looked all over winners when the underdog, the line of a Kill goblin player, who was, I thought, the victim of circum-stances, sparked off a near riot, and resulted in the indecisive and unexpected ending.

Apart from the last quarter, during which the Village litters slanted a seemingly unshakable nine-point deficit to the point of danger, the hurling test provided little to write home about.

The underdog conditions heavy and hazy, with the group side, a big-headed combination which hurred with the grit and fury once it was set, and with every team from the old stronghold of Clones and Lower Ballyduff thrown in for good measure it was not surprising that the losers had to tolerate sixty minutes of hard and robust but nonetheless perfectly legitimate tackling.

For three-quarters of the hur-ley, Faugh's were in command.

FARCIAL ENDING TO LOCAL DERBY

The punter who jocosely looked for 1/4 against the Kilgobinet Emmets junior football encounter running its full course had his judgment vindicated in the most conclusive manner imaginable.

But straightaway let it be said that the contestants, whose conduct was most exemplary, were in no way responsible for the calamity that was perpetrated.

On the contrary, for the 27 odd minutes of play every man in view was a model of right good behaviour, so much so that a section of the attendance was obviously disappointed at the orderly trend of the proceedings.

And then it happened. A hard man-to-man clash—there had been several similar exchanges hitherto—and for no apparent reason, Ballymacarbery-domiciled Sergeant Whyte, who otherwise did a grand job of work, gave marching orders to a Kilgobinet player. The man concerned, tho' obviously flabbergasted, trooped off only to be pushed back to the field of play by a spectator.

In the subsequent hold-up as Referee Whyte attempted to restore law and order, Mr. James Maloney, the Western Board Chairman, made an effort to push back the steadily encroaching crowd, and in less time than it takes to relate, was engulfed by rival and even casual followers who virtually descended on the field of play. The abandonment was a foregone conclusion.

This it was a game which provided precious little in the way of good football, but endless excitement, ended in anti-climax.

Up to the time of the abandonment the Colligan combination had monopolised the exchanges. They played the better brand of football and seemed set for a recent victory. Yet there is no gaining the fact that Kilgobinet's game had displayed a decidedly upward trend during the five minutes preceding the unexpected end. What with the inter-dogs to utilize the breeze during the second period, there was even good prospect of a real humdinger of a final half.

Colligan who were particularly strong down the centre were J. Hennessy, Gerry Dwyer, Nicky Quill and Cyril Power operated, also enjoyed a vital mid-field, gull thanks to the great holding of Eddie Brett, Dick Tobin took Rovers were quicker to settle down and B. Hewitt, one of the five brothers on the team was prominent in the forward line. He scored three points, the third from a free, a spell of attacking by Ballyduff followed and many scoring chances were missed through faulty finishing. Their one score in this period came when a ball cleared by a Rovers defender rebounded off O'Connell and went over the bar. B. Hewitt was again on the target with a point and scoring closed with a well-taken goal by J. J. Nugent.

Half-time : Valley Rovers, 1-4; Ballyduff, 0-1.

For twenty minutes of the second half there was no score. Finn was very even with both defences on top. Ballyduff per O'Connell scored a point and this was followed by a ceaseless barrage of the Rovers goal.

In the closing minutes M. Feeney sent to the net. With time running out Ballyduff attacked again but the Rovers defence prevailed and they ran out winners with the final score 2-4 Valley Rovers, 1-4, Ballyduff, 1-2.

Valley Rovers : J. Walsh; J. Cleary, T. Ryan, L. Walsh; N. Quill and Cyril Power operated, also enjoyed a vital mid-field, gull thanks to the great holding of Eddie Brett, Dick Tobin took

Brickeys and Kill to triumph

SUNDAY'S PROGRAMME

AT DUNGARVAN — S.F.C. — Brickey Rangers v. Avonmore, 2.30, referee J. Veale; S.F. semi-final. Kill v. Seaside Rovers, 3.45, ref. L. Crotty.

J.F. Emmets 2-5; Kilgobinet, 0-0.
Abandoned.

POSTPONED

A torrential downpour which flooded the City Sportsfield caused the postponement of the Mount Stion - Ballygunner senior hurling semi-final on Sunday last. The re-fixtures has been made for Sunday, September 14th.

The hurling programme now reads:
Semi-final, Mount Stion v. Ballygunner, at Waterford, September 14th; Final, Faugh a Bealagh v. Mount Stion at Ballygunner, at Waterford, September 28th.

Melvin Cup Cup

On Wednesday morning our eight men Patrol set off to Dub-ling to do battle again to hold the Melvin Trophy, having spent many hours of training since return from Camp. The team members were: Patrol Leader Sean Brown, Assistant Seamus Duggan and Scouts M. Regan, J. O'Dea, Garvan Kyne, K. Mahony, P. Langan and Brian Morrissey.

The weather did not treat them too badly at Larch-Hill camp, ground and at 8 p.m. on Friday 28th August the competition began with teams representing the Diocese of Dublin, Cork, Down and Connor and Waterford. On the 29th August the competition began with teams representing the Diocese of Dublin, Cork, Down and Connor and Waterford.

Valley Rovers for Western Final

By the narrow margin of two points Valley Rovers defeated Ballyduff at Cappoquin on Sunday. The match was character-ized by rough tackling through-out and there was little spectacular in the movements where "playing the man" was the order of the hour.

The opportunity of running the rule over Kill and Seaside Rovers and the fact that Brickey Rangers will be again in view should entice a big football musing to Sunday's double-header programme at the Frater Field. In the opening encounter Brickeys take on Avonmore, and the tilt-of the afternoon brings Kill and Seaside Rovers into opposition at 3.45.

The Brickeys, with team spirit and combination at a new level, form Paddy Fitzgerald, the veteran captain, stylish Tom McGrath, Monty Guiry, Tom Bermingham and Noel Power have displayed on their every run to date. With former inter-county minor Paddy Finucane, Ned Bermingham, full-back Irwin, and Kirwan, a top-class pair, also hitting the high spots, Kill should pull through to the decider with something in hand.

The group side, however, remains unperturbed by Kill's mighty reputation. They, too, have their quota of men whose standing is well above the average, every way run of footballers being built around Aoin O'Faolin, Dick Tobin, Tommy Power, Eddie Brett, Mosaic Halahan, Bobby Curran, Cristofir Kennealy and Eddie Mooney, and their overall balance supporters maintain will be good enough to earn them a final appearance at the first time of asking.

But Kill strike me as the more accomplished side and with their undoubtedly clever football finally accelerated by a determination to win a county medal in the company of Tom McGrath, one of the sweetest ball players the game in the county has known, one cannot but accord them the vote.

What a thriller is in store though, if the Rovers really hit it off!

Steadfastly John Veale will have control of the opening game which is scheduled for 2.30 and Liam Crotty will hold the whistle during the second test.

JOHNNY O'CONNOR LEAVES FOR CANADA

Johnny O'Connor, who served the county so well for the best part of a dozen years, boarded an airliner on route to a teaching appointment in Canada last Saturday. One of the most colourful characters ever to grace the hurling of O'Connor, he was commonly agreed to be at his best, when the going was hardest. A strong durable player, he graduated almost overnight from College ranks, in which he started with the local C.B.E., to the hush-hush of senior inter-county competition. At All-Ireland honours in 1948 and still to the fore when we returned to headquarters almost a decade later, the big-hearted Abbesside man packed a world of good hurling into the interim. All-Ireland, Munster, Railway Cup and County trophies came his way during a colourful career.

Johnny carries with him to the new world, the best wishes of the many hurling fans who so often thrilled to his dashing game.

LISMORE NOTES

Lismore Cricket Club met Clontarf C.C. at Cahir grounds in the final of the All-Ireland Junior Cup on Sunday last. Clontarf emerged victors on the score of Lismore (44) all out, Clontarf (45) all out.

It was a game brimful of incident and interest. Lismore battled first and had had luck in losing J. McCarthy when only a single had been scored—a mis-understanding between himself and J. Crotty resulted in a run out, Crotty and J. O'Brien made a good effort to redeem the situation but both were out with the score of 30. Their steady influence was sadly missed as a rot set in and wickets tumbled in bewildering fashion. P. Feeney did his utmost to put the two sides together, but the off-break bowling of R. Buckley who had 6 wickets for 7 runs proved too much and the last wicket fell with the score of 44.

The many Lismore supporters present were dependent as the fully realised that the number of runs on the board gave little chance against a first class team. Nevertheless the match was by no means over and to their credit the Lismore bowlers strove with all their heart to achieve the impossible. P. Coleman used his pace and accuracy with deadly effect and J. Peeney gave little away. M. Cahill one of the Clontarf opener scored 14 and B. Lavin who hit the winning run scored 11 net out. Five wickets had fallen at this time. Clontarf C.C. thus add the All-Ireland Junior Cup to the many Leinster trophies they have already won this season. Lismore are to be congratulated on their sufficient light. They won Munster Honours, beat the Connacht champions, Galway and were the first ever Waterford side to appear in a final.
