New Zealand Tribute to Fr. Quealy

There were no shades of truth to Father Quealy, whose Requiem in Wellington, New Zealand, was attended by a hundred and twenty-three of his fellow-priests and large numbers of relatives.

Papa penned the following eulogy in a recent issue of "The Catholic Woman":

Wherever he was known, and that was widely in this country, his integrity was known also, and this searchlight was turned on himself, giving at times startling examples of candour and honesty.

In his panegyric, His Grace Archbishop McKeefry mentioned that through his many years of priesthood the Mass never became usual to him. He had that quality cherished by Chesterton, the rare and innocent power of wonder, and the Mass was, of course, the greatest wonder of his life.

Archbishop Woodcock said once of him: "That is a child-like heart" and child-like hearts are not easy to come by in an increasingly complex world. They presuppose a real simplicity in an age of veneer, when feelings are masked rather than shown.

His friends knew the depth of his fidelity, unchanged by time or circumstances and were always warned by it. They loved, too, the dry little drollery, again sometimes startling, which flashed out over and over in his comments on anything under the sun; sometimes they were apparently irrelevant to the subject but their connection with it was revealed later, for he had that lightning quickness in association of ideas which characterizes his race.

His fidelity to his own country was such that residence so long here changed him so little that he might just have landed to begin his work; but he loved New Zealand, too, and returned after visits away, contented with his task in this part of the general vineyard. And New Zealanders mourn him like his own and are grateful for the memory of a living embodiment of the security never needed: "Blessed are the clean of heart for they shall see God." Birds and children loved him instinctively. May this good priest from Waterford rest in peace!

O'DONNELL-QUILL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Cathedral, Waterford, on Tuesday, October 21st, when the contracting parties were Mr. Liam O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Donnell, Ballingarry, Thurles, and Miss Joan Quill, S.R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quill, The Pike, Dungarvan.

The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Quill, and Mr. Martin O'Donnell, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the delightful ceremony, the newly-weds, who were the recipients of a huge array of costly and servicable presents, left on their honeymoon—a tour of the West of Ireland.

The reception was held in the Grandville Hotel, Waterford.

The bride, a most charming and unassuming young lady, comes from an old and respected family. The groom is attached to the clerical staff of South Tipperary County Council.

IT'S JOHN THE 23rd

THE Sacred Conclave has spoken. Once again the ancient throne of Peter has been filled. And the entire Christian world has rejoiced at the choice of Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, 76-year-old Patriarch of Venice, as Supreme Pontiff and successor to the late lamented Pope Pius XII. The new Pontiff has taken the title of John XXIII.

The 263rd Bishop of Rome, Vicar of Jesus Christ, successor of the Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Elect of the Holy See, Metropolitan of the Province of Rome, and Sovereign of the State of Vatican City, was elected by his fellow cardinals on the 11th ballot.

Shortly after six o'clock local time on Tuesday evening, Cardinal Canali, the Pro-Dean of the College of Cardinals, announced from the central balcony window of St. Peter's to the vast crowd assembled below, using the traditional language of Rome: "Nuntio vobis gaudium magnum, habemus Papam".

"I bring you news of great joy, we have a Pope." Cardinal Roncalli's election had been widely anticipated. The new Pontiff emerged after the 11th ballot gave him the necessary minimum majority of 23 votes, plus a thirty-five-vote margin, but the exact figure may never be known because of the secrecy that surrounds the Conclave.

The choice of the title of John, which had been in abeyance for over 500 years, came as a surprise. Vatican circles said that he chose the name out of esteem for John the Baptist and in memory of his late father.

The last Pope known as John died in 1334. But an anti-Pope Neapolitan noble called Baldassarre Cossa, was declared Pope by a faction in 1400, was recognised by England, France and the greater part of Germany, and took the name of John XXIII. He was formally deposed and declared to be an anti-Pope since then no Pope until now has taken the name.

Roncalli, however, has obviously determined to wipe out the stigma on the name and renew the great tradition of the Johns. When the new Pope later made his appearance at the balcony of St. Peter's he was given a tumultuous reception by a vast crowd of nearly a quarter of a million people gathered in the square below. It was almost five minutes before comparative silence fell and His Holiness Pope John XXIII then imparted the Pontifical Blessing "Urbi et Orbi" (To the City and to the World).

The name of John the Twenty-Third, then at 5.17 p.m. Irish time, the white-robed new Pope made his appearance on the balcony of the Supreme Pontiff but also as the Supreme Pontiff.

Waves of cheers rolled over the Piazza and it was nearly five minutes before comparative silence fell and he intoned a deep strong voice the Pontifical Blessing "Urbi et Orbi" to the city and to the world.

He raised his right hand in a sweeping sign of the Cross and the masses thousands fell to their knees on the cobbles. Then came another hurricane of applause.

The Pope remained on the balcony for exactly five minutes. AFTER THE ELECTION. Noble Guards drawn from Patricia families marched into the doorway of the Conclave and in their silver helmets, scarlet jackets and long black boots.

They formed up to escort the Pope as he slowly walked from the chapel flanked by crimson-robed prelates across the rickety painted ducal hall through the long hall of Benedicines to the dazzling square of doorway on to the balcony.

The arclights of 100 television and film cameras and the floodlights of St. Peter's dazzled him as he stepped on to the balcony. Below invisible behind the glare Italian and Papal troops presented arms and an army band played the National Anthem. The bells of Roman churches punctuated the waves of applause.

STILL IN CONCLAVE. After giving his Solemn Pontifical Blessing the new Pontiff returned to the Sistine Chapel. As far as known the first order he gave as Pope was that the Conclave should remain closed so that he could spend another night with his Cardinals before withdrawing on Wednesday to the solitude of the private Papal apartment at the top of the Vatican Palace.

It was taken as indicative of the new Pope's desire to have last night the counsel and sympathy of the Princes of the Church who had elected him. Unaware of the decision, Cardinal's cars including an ambulance for the Chinese Cardinal Tien Ken-Sin began streaming up.

Prelates called through the wheels beside the bolted doors for them to return this morning at 10 o'clock.

All schools in Rome and Venice declared a holiday on Wednesday to celebrate the election of the new Pope.

night, the croquet class is reminded particularly to attend. Tickets for the dance may be obtained from the Secretary.

DUNGARVAN I.C.A. (TOWN ASSOCIATION)

The October meeting was held at the Courthouse, on Tuesday (28th) at 8 p.m.

Approximately seventy members attended and heard a very instructive and interesting lecture on "nylon" by Miss Diana Rivington of British nylon spinners, London. This manufacturing company are the sole distributors of nylon in this part of the world, and Miss Rivington, who has vast experience of the growth of this wonderful synthetic textile, told its history, described its manufacture, and explained and showed samples of many beautiful and luxurious fabrics and garments, ranging from the latest stockings to the newest kind of rain-wear, all showing, that although nylon is still a little expensive, it is not an extravagance, as it gives such excellent service.

The competition was won by Miss S. Kelleher. The night finished with community singing led by Miss N. Murray.

"I Was Born Poor"

Many other great men in history have made the same simple statement of fact: "I was born poor." These were the words of the new Pope when he received the red hat of a cardinal in March, 1953.

But not only was the new Pope poor, His father had 13 children to feed and raise from the miserable living he scraped from his tenant farm at Sottomonte (it means under the mountain).

He spent more and more time with foreign dignitaries of the church. His reputation as an imaginative organiser solidified. What was his secret? People who knew him said that he had a marvellous knack of getting along with anyone from anywhere.

His diplomatic career started in 1926 with his appointment as Apostolic Vicar to Bulgaria. It was not an easy job he had in 1931. But he stayed there ten years.

In the distance the lofty Alps climb into the sky. But this big family has given Roncalli what must surely be a modern record for the Sacred College of Cardinals - 35 nieces and nephews.

HIS ARMS. The village in which he was born is small. There are only twenty houses. The Roncalli farmhouse is whitewashed with a small garden and carefully trimmed trees.

Inside large wooden gates on a wall his coat-of-arms bears the motto "Obedience and Peace" is painted.

His family still gather on Sundays in the simple sitting-room. Giltframed photos of his father and mother hang above a small altar with two large candlesticks with a statue of the Virgin Mary and the Child Jesus.

Big Jovial 76 year old Roncalli came from a happy family, hard working thrifty. His next birthday on November 25th, will be celebrated in the Vatican. Roncalli left home with his father's blessing to enter the seminary at Bergamo. He did not.

COMMITTEE MEETING
A special committee meeting of the above Association was held at the Irish centre, 54 Camden Square, Camden Town, N.W.1, on Friday evening last, 17th October. The following members attended: Col. E. W. Flynn, Chairman, presiding and William Barron, Vice-Chairman; J. Griffin, Hon. Secretary; J. Madigan, Hon. Treasurer; T. Cahill, W. Scanlon, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones and Mrs. J. Griffin.

The principal business was the consideration of the items proposed to form the Agenda Paper for the Annual General Meeting, which will be held, by kind permission of the proprietor, Mr. Pat Whitty, at 'The Lord High Admiral', 145 Vauxhall Bridge Road, Victoria, S.W.1, on Friday, 31st October, 1958, commencing at 8 p.m. precisely.

INTER-COUNTIES' QUIZ

Teams and supporters are requested to attend for a 'get-together' at 7.30 p.m.; the contest will commence punctually at 8 p.m. The final selection of the members (5) to form the Waterford team has not been determined at the time of going to press. May good luck attend them.

T.B. Eradication in Co. Cork

A rapid extension of the intensive measures to eradicate bovine tuberculosis in Co. Cork herds will be possible from November 1 when a new office will be opened by the Department of 'Agriculture in Malloy. The office, which is situated in the West End, Malloy, will have a staff of five, with the county scheme of eradication under the direction of a veterinary officer, and all inquiries after the opening date should be directed there.

Intensive measures were started by the Department in Co. Cork earlier this year, but owing to lack of a suitably-placed office, they had been directed from Tipperary. The opening of the Malloy office will enable the staff to be more closely in touch with the work and to speed things up.

In Co. Cork the eradication scheme is being worked on the basis of the creamery areas, of which there are 26. When it was decided to bring the county under the intensive part of the eradication scheme the creamery committees were invited to cooperate by organising the farmers in their area and inducing all herd-owners to have their cattle tested. All of the 26 agreed without hesitation and 19 of them have completed a full canvass of their areas. It is expected that the other 7 will have completed the job in a short time.

Testing is going ahead at maximum speed in those which completed the canvass, and it is expected that the 40 veterinary surgeons in the county as well as a number of others whose practices spread into the county from outside, will soon be working full time on it.

The clearing of bovine tuberculosis from Co. Cork is a big one, as the county has about 500,000 herds which include about 500,000 cattle. Of these, 170,000 are cows, many of which will have to be removed from the herds and replaced. The incidence of bovine tuberculosis in the cows of the county, as is the case with other intensively dairying districts, is high, about 42 per cent though it is under 10 per cent in the dry stock.

The Department of Agriculture is already buying reactors from farmers who have their herds tested, and this facility will be spread over the whole county as rapidly as the necessary staff can be made available for the purpose.

The opening of the new office will make this extension more rapid than it otherwise would have been.

As a general guide for farmers taking in the eradication drive the Department of Agriculture advises the following steps:

1. Apply for admission to the scheme and have your herd tested.
2. Isolate all reactors from the rest of the herd immediately after the test.
3. Remove these reactors from the farm as soon as you can a Department buyer will call to value cow reactors.
4. Disinfect all your farm buildings immediately after removing the reactors.
5. Replace the reactors with clean stock.

C.I.C.A. SPECIAL COMMITTEE MEETING

A special meeting of the Council of Irish County Associations was held in the Irish Club, Eaton Square, S.W.1, on Tuesday, 14th instant when representatives of 17 of the 21 affiliated counties were present, the Waterfordmen's Association delegates being Councillor E. W. Flynn of Tallow, Chairman; J. Griffin, Hon. Secretary; W. Barron, Vice-Chairman and J. Brendan Drea, Mr. J. Madigan, Hon. Treasurer was unable to attend owing to duties elsewhere. Mr. Tadgh Fethan occupied the Chair and Mr. Frank Biggar, Councillor at the Irish Embassy, Grosvenor Place, Victoria, S.W.1, representing His Excellency the Irish Ambassador, Mr. Hugh McCann, were also present.

The purpose of this meeting was to give the constituent Associations' delegates an opportunity to render an account of their respective stewardships and to formulate plans for the future to publicise and progress the aims and objects of the Council of County Associations organisation. Many suggestions were made including the formation of a special committee consisting of two representatives from each of the four Provinces to co-ordinate Liaison between the latter was urged with a view to recruiting new members of the respective Associations. Col. Biggar convincingly disposed of a suggestion that the Government of the Republic of Ireland should, instead of spending £300,000 a year on publicising the Tostal, should subsidise the immigrants in Great Britain with a view to the London Associations thus securing funds to secure hostels similar to those of the Kerymen's Association and others. The Councillor said he was not convinced that the Irish immigrants now in London were any worse off than their relatives at home in Ireland, but the problem of the young boys and girls who, despite the advice of their bishops, priests and welfare societies in Ireland, still persist in coming to England without any previous plans for work and suitable accommodation on arrival was constantly in the mind of the Ambassador. He paid a tribute to the efforts constantly being made by all the affiliated Associations to alleviate the loneliness of all Irish emigrants no matter from which county they came.

KERYMEN'S ASSOCIATION HOSTEL

The Blessing and Official opening of the above which is situated at 145, Castlenau, Barnes London, S.W.14, by the Most Rev. Dr. Denis Moynihan, Bishop of Kerry, took place at 8.30 p.m. on Thursday, 16th October, The Most Rev. Dr. Cowdroy, Lord Bishop of Southwark in whose Diocese the Hostel is situated, Mr. Hugh McCann, the Irish Ambassador in London, and the acquisition of this property and grounds, now known as 'St. Brendan's House', was between £7,000 and £8,000 and was made possible by the generosity of the Irish in New York, Boston, Ireland and England and elsewhere and the determination of the members of the organising Committee. Only a debt of £2,400 remains, and all present at this function pledged themselves to help to liquidate this amount at an early date. The aim of the project was to give young Irish immigrants a temporary home during their first and most difficult days or months in London, while in quest of suitable homes and work. Rev. Father John Cremin, P.P., Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, is the Chairman of the Kerymen's Association.

THE LATE POPE PIUS XII—WATERFORDMEN'S ASSOCIATION PAYS TRIBUTE

Col. E. W. Flynn, Chairman, sent a letter of condolence on behalf of the membership to their Pastor, Most Rev. Dr. Daniel Cahill, D.D., Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, on the death of our Holy Father. A most impressive scene was witnessed at a largely attended Social organised by the Association for welfare purposes, when Col. Flynn asked the patrons to observe a two minutes silence in prayer for the peaceful repose of the soul of this revered Supreme Pontiff who was such a great friend of Ireland.

It is with deep regret we record the death of Mr. Patrick O'Neill, Carrigeen, Youghal, which sad event occurred at Youghal Cottage Hospital, on Saturday October 25th. DANGER SIGN WANTED AT KILWATERMOY N.S.
The erection of a danger sign at the approaches to Kilwatermoey National School is an urgent necessity. Many near accidents have occurred at this place. The school stands at the junction of the roads and with the ever increasing motor traffic on the road these days, there is nothing to warn motorists that they are approaching a school. Let us hope that a danger sign will be erected there as soon as possible, before some serious accident occurs.

THE ROAD TO LEAMYBRIEN
Lines to James J. Veale, 41, Adlington St., Chicopee Falls, Mass., U.S.A.
An exile on a foreign shore, in dreams I oft times stray, Across the broad Atlantic, to my own land far away. And then once more I'd travel on, with dear old friends of mine. That pleasant road I knew of old, The Road to Leamybrien.
When the reaper Johnny Wharton would call along our way, We'd stroll on to the Weaver's Bridge and cross the winding Tay. And further up along the way, we'd meet with Tommy'Brien. Then we'd step it out together, on the Road to Leamybrien.
Though forty years and maybe more, it seems but yesterday, Since with song and rhyme and story, we trod that pleasant way. And my thoughts are ever wandering, to that dear old land of mine. To each bush and hedge and burren, on the Road to Leamybrien.
And that road was never lonesome, for all along the way, You'd meet some kindly neighbour, to pass the time of day. Then we knew not care or sorrow, and the sun would always shine. On those days of youth and glory, on the road to Leamybrien.
O'Brien is still in Erin's Isle, myself's far, far away. And the reaper now (God rest his soul) is laid beneath the clay. But in my dreams I'm always back, amongst those friends of mine. On the road of golden memories, The Road to Leamybrien.

THEY BOUGHT A MOUSE WITH THEIR WINNINGS
A young couple in Wales have just won enough money to buy a house, and so they say it is conclusive proof of the Legend of the 300 year old Wishing Cork Tree. Another couple had a piece of Lucky Cork sent them by a relative and got an empty house two days afterwards. A lady in Doncaster sent for a piece and won £3000 on a penny points pool. A wife gave her doubting husband a piece of Lucky Cork for his Birthday and two weeks after she won £1500. A mother sent each of her sons a piece and one of them won £400 in a sweepstake. If you would like further particulars, send stamped addressed envelope to Wishing Cork Tree, Comb-in-Teignhead, Devon. (24-10)

Opening of Turkey Hatching Season

The 1958 hatching season for licensed turkey hatcheries will commence on the 1st February, 1959. Applications for provisional permits to supply hatching eggs to such hatcheries should be made to the Department of Agriculture as soon as possible. Application forms have been sent to persons who held provisional permits last season in respect of turkey egg supply farms. Others interested poultry breeders may obtain forms from the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Poultry and Eggs Division, 16, Upper Mount St., Dublin. Provisional permits will not be granted for the maintenance of a turkey egg supply farm and a duck egg supply farm on the same holding.

A fee of 10/- must be sent with each application form. Only persons who hold provisional permits are allowed by law to supply eggs for hatching to a licensed poultry hatchery. The principal requirements for obtaining a permit to supply turkey eggs to a hatchery are: (1) all turkeys on the farm must have been selected and leg-banded by an officer of the Department or a County Instructor in Poultry-keeping; (2) all turkeys on the farm must have been officially tested and found free from B.W.D. disease; (3) housing, management and husbandry methods at the farm must be of a satisfactory standard and (4) the farm must be prepared to comply with the Regulations made under the Poultry Hatcheries Act, 1947.

Dungarvan Boxer Selected on Irish Team

More honours have come to the Dungarvan Boxing Club through Freddie North, Munster Senior Champ, who has been selected to fill the Lt. Heavy-weight berth on the Irish team v. Germany at the National Stadium on to-night (Friday).

Freddie is a former member of the Father Murphy Club and has been with the Dungarvan Club for some time now. During this time he has won two Munster Senior Titles and richly deserves this chance to prove his worth, as he has been knocking on the door for the past two seasons and should do well on his first appearance on a representative team.

T. SHEEHAN'S FINE DISPLAY

Tommy Sheehan had his first bout of the season in the National Stadium on Friday night last against J. Cooke, Chester, who recently beat D. McTaggart, Olympic champ 1956, and was beaten on points. He travelled in a couple of hours notice and showed great courage against Cooke, who did all in his power to finish him off but Sheehan was still on his feet at the finish.

A first class tournament will be held on Friday, 14th November, in Cork, and will feature several well known boxers, including A. Reddy, who needs no introduction to boxing fans, C. Kelly, Irish International, Limerick, and E. Teidt, brother of the famous Fred, who meets T. Sheehan. Full details will be made known later. Other Dungarvan boxers who will appear on this programme, those who are not training will not be considered. The Dungarvan club will run a tournament in the near future.

HARVEST DISASTER - N.F.A. Proposals to Government.

The disastrous harvest and the chaos that has been a feature of this year's grain marketing necessitated a meeting between the Taoiseach, the Minister for Agriculture and the N.F.A. The meeting took place on October 28th. The N.F.A. delegates outlined a scheme whereby the estimated £7 million loss to farmers on the wheat crop could be alleviated.

It was particularly emphasised that the marketing of wheat was so badly arranged that it allowed for high profits by a small section concerned in the industry.

The proposals put forward were as follows:-

1. That the levy of 5/9 be immediately returned on No. 1 wheat.
2. That the Government issue a directive to Millers that no cuts be made for screenings. This will require a slight alteration in the Wheat Order.
3. That the Grain Board finance the restoration of screening cuts on all wheat out of its expected income.
4. That the Grain Board be authorised to arrange the marketing of native feeding barley. (Co-operatives and Merchants who bought barley might otherwise suffer loss which would not be incurred by those interests who did not enter the market earlier in the year).
5. That the price of feeding barley to the pig producer be reduced after a due interval.
6. That the remainder of the Grain Board funds be employed for the restoration of the levy or part of the levy on Class 11 wheat.

This scheme put forward by the N.F.A. can be operated without injuring the interests of either pig producers or grain growers and will not curtail the normal profits of the Millers. The scheme, if operated, could release the Government from its commitment to the Grain Board.

The delegation however pointed out that because the Government could thereby be released from this commitment that the money they had originally set aside for this purpose be used as a "disaster fund" for all farmers.

Several proposals were made to the N.F.A. as to how this "disaster fund" should be increased including a strong recommendation for a 10 per cent reduction in Rates this year. An undertaking was given by the Taoiseach and the Minister that sympathetic consideration would be given to the proposals. The Association expects a Government statement shortly.

The delegation was led by Dr. J. N. Greene, President of the N.F.A. and included the Vice-Presidents, Representatives of the Grain Committee, the General Secretary, Economic Advisor and the Secretary of the Grain Committee.

C.Y.M.S.

There was a large attendance at the Annual General Meeting of the C.Y.M.S. held on Wednesday night. Very Rev. J. Kennedy P.P. presided and also in attendance was Rev. M. O'Meara. In his report Mr. J. P. Olden, Hon. Sec. said that the year under review had been one of the most successful in the history of the Branch. The medical assistance being investigated by an inspector of the Department of Health.

This was disclosed to members of the Waterford Board of Public Assistance on Monday by Mr. G. Glanville (Treasurer) after Mr. Charles Curran had read a letter which he said had been signed by the woman's husband. The woman died shortly after being admitted to hospital.

HUSBAND'S STATEMENT

The statement read: "On Sunday, September 14th, Mrs. Matthew Donohy, Ballyboy, Kilkenny Co., Waterford, fell ill. Her husband sent for the local M.O., Dr. Quinn. He was away, so the M.O., Bonmahon was telephoned for at 5 p.m. and arrived at 6.30 p.m. He gave the patient an injection, and shortly afterwards the patient began to vomit. REPAYMENT OF LOANS

The National Farmers' Association has written to the Agricultural Credit Corporation and has asked that where farmers so desired it only the interest will be collected on instalments on loans falling due within the next twelve months.

Most farmers who have borrowed money from the A.C.C. will be presented with a demand of an instalment on the 1st November and again on the 1st of May. In view of the bad year it is deemed reasonable that the Agricultural Credit Corporation should make this gesture to Irish farmers and postpone the payment of principal on the loans affected.

T.R. DRIVE IN OFFALY GAINS MOMENTUM

400 farmers were present at the Court House, Tullamore, on October 20th when N.F.A. speakers and a representative of the Department of Agriculture outlined the urgency of T.R. eradication in that County. There was an unanimous decision to proceed immediately with a canvass which will be directed through the County Committee of Agriculture and the Advisory Service. Full and practical assistance was pledged by the N.F.A. and all other rural organizations.

Orthopaedic Unit for City

DOCTORS in Waterford city and county will be asked to attend the next meeting of the Waterford Board of Public Assistance to give their views on the latest statement from the Health Department in connection with the Orthopaedic unit controversy.

The Minister for Health last week decided that while plans to make the £300,000 hospital at Kilkenny, Co. Kilkenny, the regional unit for the South-East were still going ahead, an independent orthopaedic section would also be maintained in Waterford.

The Board regarded this as a signal victory for the doctors and members who fought the Minister's proposal to transfer the unit completely from Waterford.

THE NEXT MOVE

But they are wary about the next move. They have two alternatives: (1) Maintain the present excellent facilities at St. Patrick's Hospital; or (2) Transfer the whole unit, of a least 40 beds, to Arkkeen Hospital two miles from the city. This is where the doctors' advice will be sought.

"They are men well acquainted with the follies confronting the people and their advice would be invaluable," said the Mayor, Councillor Denis Fitzpatrick, at the Board's meeting of the 24th.

The letter from the Department told the Board that while the Minister remained firmly of the opinion that the best orthopaedic service for the region as a whole could be secured by concentrating operative work in the Kilkenny hospital, he was prepared, in deference to the request, to consider the continuance of a small unit at Waterford city.

"Accordingly," the letter went on, "he would be prepared to examine any detailed proposals for a similar unit which may be submitted in the immediate future. Any such proposals should indicate: (1) Number of beds estimated to be required; (2) The operative X-ray and physiotherapy facilities needed now and where they could be provided; and (3) The staffing of the proposed unit."

"It looks like we have reached our goal," commented the Mayor. "I'm not so sure," said Councillor Tom Gallagher. "What does the Department mean by a 'small unit'?"

Councillor Fitzpatrick said that the Medical Council required at least 40 beds and the doctors expected that they would get that.

Alleged Delay in Moving Sick Woman

An allegation that a Kilmacthomas woman who was seriously ill had to spend a night at her home before being moved to hospital the following evening is being investigated by an inspector of the Department of Health.

This was disclosed to members of the Waterford Board of Public Assistance on Monday by Mr. G. Glanville (Treasurer) after Mr. Charles Curran had read a letter which he said had been signed by the woman's husband. The woman died shortly after being admitted to hospital.

The statement read: "On Sunday, September 14th, Mrs. Matthew Donohy, Ballyboy, Kilkenny Co., Waterford, fell ill. Her husband sent for the local M.O., Dr. Quinn. P. King for plaintiff, Mr. J. Hally for defendant.

The claim arose when two drivers (Mr. Hickey and Mr. White) who were travelling in the same direction in a car which collided with the defendant's car, caused damage to the extent of the amount claimed.

The Board of Public Assistance has been asked to examine any detailed proposals for a similar unit which may be submitted in the immediate future. Any such proposals should indicate: (1) Number of beds estimated to be required; (2) The operative X-ray and physiotherapy facilities needed now and where they could be provided; and (3) The staffing of the proposed unit.

A SHAKE UP

There will be a big shake up where housing in Dungarvan is concerned. A matter was raised at the meeting of the union (Dungarvan) in Keanee last week.

It seems strange that there should be such a shortage in getting on with the work of new houses but we are glad that the Government Department will give Dungarvan a o.k. sign in the morning to supplies to meet the need of the new houses are getting on. Colr. Keane was the first home to all concerned the need for a proper water supply for Dungarvan. But it is the desire of some to have the work of almost everyone in the scheme of houses which commenced with a Government consent which is a definite plan of housing to be prepared when the supplies are concerned. Then there may be a shake up early start to the scheme but until the little or no hope of commencement.

THE QUESTION OF GRANTS

It is likely that the Council will consider the question of whether or not to provide housing and reconstruction grants also to assist in the work at the new town. It seems a pity that Dungarvan people should be deprived of opportunities, that are able to many other opportunities that were denied the benefit of the people and will help people to see the

SEQUEL TO ACCIDENT NEAR BALLINAMULT

HOW one of the cars was lying on its roof with the wheels in the air, when he came on the scene, was described to Justice Skinner by a Garda witness during the hearing of a dangerous driving case at Ballymacarbary Court. Before the court were the drivers of the vehicles involved, Kevin Kenny, 2, Old Bridge, Clonmel, and Bridget Walsh, Clonradon, Ballinamult. Both were charged with dangerous driving at Caherbrack, Ballinamult, on July 12th last.

WHEELS IN AIR

Garda Fahey said that when he came on the scene he saw the van lying on its roof with the wheels in the air. The second car, which was also damaged, was diagonally across the road. Visibility was good and each of the drivers should have seen the other approach for a distance of 80 yards.

WHEELS IN AIR

Kevin Kenny said that he left Clonmel around 10.30 that morning. Approaching the cross he was travelling at from 30 to 40 miles per hour. He did not see the other car at all until the collision occurred.

CARRYING BREAKABLE EQUIPMENT

Michael Wyse said that on his instructions his car was travelling fairly slowly as they were carrying certain equipment that could easily get broken. The van was about 18 feet from the junction when he saw the car driven by Miss Walsh. This car came out like a bullet.

BRIDGET WALSH SAID THAT SHE DID NOT SEE THE OTHER CAR AT ALL UNTIL THE COLLISION OCCURRED. SHE HAD EIGHT YEARS DRIVING EXPERIENCE AND WAS FAMILIAR WITH THE ROAD JUNCTION IN QUESTION.

JUSTICE SKINNER, DISMISSING THE CHARGE AGAINST KEVIN KENNY, SAID THAT MISS WALSH SHOULD HAVE STOPPED AND HAD A GOOD LOOK ROUND BEFORE SHE CROSSED UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, IN HER CASE, HERE WE ARE WITH ONE SECTION OF ONE CARELESS DRIVING HE IMPROVED A FINE OF 5/- WITH £1-10-0 EXPENSES.

SALE OF COUNCIL HOUSES

At the meeting of Youghal Urban Council Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C. Chairman presided. It was decided to forward to the Department further particulars as requested including full plans in connection with a proposed scheme of ten houses four of which are to be erected at Catherine Street, two in the Mall, two at the north side of O'Brien's Terrace and two in Windmill Hill.

Removal of Protection Chains

At the meeting of Youghal Harbour Commissioners, the Chairman Mr. P. O'Gorman P.C. presided. Mr. E. P. Lynch drew attention to the fact that a number of the protection chains had been removed from the posts on the quays. These chains said Mr. Lynch were put there to prevent persons falling over the quays and their removal could mean a loss of life.

Chairman - It is a terrible thing to see these chains removed. We have been renewing them, but still they are being taken away. We appear to be fair game for everyone. At the moment any person could walk over the quays and life could be lost.

Acting Secretary Mr. Liam Lynch - A short time ago we spent £60 replacing chains, 50 chains were missing or stolen and some of them were removed from the dock where they had been duped by unauthorised persons.

Chairman - We want to see the quays protected. M. P. J. Linehan - How many protection chains would we now require? Acting Secretary - We would require thirty and the cost would be £1 each.

Following further discussion, it was decided to refer the matter to the Garda, and in the meantime the chains are to be replaced with the least possible delay.

ALL SMOKE

A complaint was made at a meeting of Dungarvan U.D.C. by Col. R. Keane that a tenant of a council house stayed at home from work for half a day to seek the attention of the council staff to a fault in the chimney of his house. Because of the fault in the chimney, he could not light a fire and dampness had set in to such an extent that he had to remove his children to another house. The tenant having made an approach to the authorities got no satisfaction something which I consider a disgrace, added Mr. Keane. Here we are with one section trying to do away with T.B. and yet we have another encouraging it. I wish to protest very strongly. I feel that the complaint should be investigated, at least.

Mr. Lee Haven't we an engineer who is getting £500 a year to attend to these matters. We had a man before him who was getting £200 and such a thing would not happen.

Mr. Keane You would still have him only for politics. Mr. Lee I don't know any thing about that.

Mr. Keane Well, I do. It is costing the ratepayers of Dungarvan £300 a year for remarks that were passed here in this council.

Mr. Lee All I can say is that Gerry Ormonde was the best engineer we ever had.

The Council decided to avail of the same land for the allotments scheme of 1959.

Col. Lee made a complaint about flooding at the Spring stating that the drains in the nearby bog were blocked.

Council's Sympathy

The tragic death of Mrs. Elsie Morrissey, The Hermitage, Abbotside, was mentioned at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council when the acting chairman, Mr. N. Kelly paid tribute to her memory and expressed sincere sympathy with the relatives.

She was widely known as Elsie O'Shea, he said, and was known for the national and Christian ideals. Her brothers, both priests in America were two of Co. Waterford's finest sportsmen who helped in no small way to put Irish games on the map in America. They were also ever mindful of Ireland's struggle for independence and did a lot to raise funds in America to help that cause.

All members spoke in association with the proposal of sympathy which was passed standing in silence. A similar vote of sympathy was passed with the relatives of the late David Murphy, Connolly Row, Dungarvan, a well known local sportsman who died recently.

It was stated that on April 17, 1957, while Mr. O'Malley was cycling at Cappagh on the main Cappoquin to Dungarvan road, he was struck by a motor car owned by Mr. Bell, and that he suffered injuries to his chest, left wrist, left thigh and other injuries.
