New Pontiff Enthroned MILLIONS SEE VATICAN CEREMONY

HIS HOLINESS POPE JOHN XXIII on Tuesday morning prayed: "May the Holy Apostles Peter and Paul, in whose power and authority we trust, intercede for us with God" at the conclusion of the solemn yet colourful ceremony in which he was crowned "Father of Princes and Kings, Rector of the Universe and Vicar of Jesus Christ on Earth."

The crowning, which took place on the central balcony of St. Peter's, was the climax of a four hour ceremony in the Basilica, which began early in the morning.

Inside St. Peter's, Cardinals, high prelates and clergy, as well as royalty, statesmen and diplomats from all parts of the world were amongst the thirty thousand who attended the Papal Mass and saw the Princes of the Church pay homage to the Pontiff.

The actual crowning of Pope John was witnessed by close on half a million people gathered in the vast St. Peter's Square outside. Television and radio brought the scene to millions of others throughout the world.

When the Pontiff appeared on the balcony high on the face of the Basilica, wearing the triple tiara, the ocean of people below broke into enthusiastic cheers, waved handkerchiefs and then sank to their knees as he gave his blessing "Urbi et Orbi" — to the city and world.

As the heavy, three-tiered Papal tiara was placed on his head, hundreds of thousands of watchers below in St. Peter's Square cheered and waved handkerchiefs.

Flights of white doves, released at the moment of crowning, circled above the crowd and the bells of Rome's churches pealed out.

The Pope, seated on a gold and crimson throne in the central balcony of the Basilica, at once prayed: "May the Holy Apostles Peter and Paul, in whose power and authority we trust, intercede for us with God."

Rising from the throne, the Pontiff chanted the solemn Pontifical blessing "Urbi et Orbi" to the city and world. As the words of apostrophe surged up, the Pope stepped forward to the edge of the balcony and waved, then he turned and walked back into the Vatican Palace.

CORONATION CEREMONY

The crowning was the climax of four hours of solemn rites, which began early in the morning as crowds thronged through the streets to St. Peter's Square. T.V. brought the final moments to an estimated ten million people.

The newly enthroned Pontiff appeared for prayers to obtain for him perfection in meekness and humility when he addressed the assembled Cardinals, the Bishops and all Catholics after the Gospel in the Coronation Mass.

"The text of the sermon, which was delivered in Latin, is: 'Venerable Brothers, Cardinals of the Holy Roman Church, Archbishops and Bishops, wherever they are present or participating in spirit in this solemn rite which places the seal on the initiation of Our humble person into the great duties of the Sovereign Pontificate—and all of you, Our most beloved children of every part of the world and of every rank of society, who, though occupied by a thousand cares for the interests of this present life, yet do not forget the spiritual rites of the life to come, towards which we must fix our gaze—We send to you all Our greetings from a heart filled with paternal affection.'

We see gathered together near the most sacred memories of the Prince of the Apostles, succession to whose lofty ministry has been entrusted to Us, and it would seem to Us, in this memorable hour, that We hear the voice of Peter which reaches Us, passing over the course of the centuries, as well as the voices of the saints John who were closest to Christ, and whose sweet and honoured name it has pleased Us to assume.

In these days of great mystery and trepidation, however, as We strain to hear the voices of the earth, while, on the one hand, We are comforted and encouraged by the universal joy and exultation which greeted Our elevation to the Sovereign Pontificate, on the other hand We are made anxious and perplexed by the variety of the immense duties which burden Our shoulders; those duties, We mean, which are attributed to Us on one side and the other, in various ways, each individual taking it upon himself to entrust Us with 'power' according to his own personal aptitudes, his own experience, his own peculiar way of conceiving individual and collective life.

There are, in fact, those who expect of the Pontiff that he be a statesman, a diplomat, a scholar, an organiser of collective life or, in fine, one whose mind is open to all the forms of progress in modern life, without any exception.

THE RIGHT PATH

Oh Venerable Brothers and beloved children, all such persons are outside the right path to be followed, since they entertain a concept of the Supreme Pontificate which does not fully conform to the true ideal.

In fact, the new Pope, passing through the various events of life, is like the son of Jacob who, meeting his brothers in their human tribulation, discloses to them the tenderness of his heart and, bursting into tears, says: 'I am your brother, Joseph.' (Gen. XIV 4). The new Pontiff also says, incarnates in himself, above all that splendid image of the Good Shepherd, as it is described to us by the Evangelist St. John in the self-same words which issued from the mouth of the Divine Saviour (John X, 1-21). 'He is the door to the sheep-fold: Ego sum ostium ovium (John X, 7).

Into this fold of Jesus Christ no one can enter if not under the guidance of the Sovereign Pontiff—and men can securely reach salvation only when they are united with him, since the Roman Pontiff is the Vicar of Christ and represents His person on this earth. How sweet and how consoling it is to call to mind the image of the Good Shepherd as it is described in the Gospel, with such richness and tenderness of detail.

SHEPHERD OF ALL

Venerable Brothers and beloved children, We repeat to you as Our own the admonition and the invitation of the Roman Pontiffs of every century, and in particular of our predecessor Pius XII, of immortal memory, and on this avowal We wish above all to insist: namely, that We have our heart in a very special manner Our task as shepherd of the entire flock. All the other human qualities—learning, diplomatic perceptiveness and success in embellishing and complementing the reign of a Pontiff, but they cannot in any way serve as substitutes for this.

The central point, however, is the zeal of the Good Shepherd, ready for every sacred undertaking, no matter how daring, straightforward, constant, even into the supreme sacrifice: 'The Good Shepherd lays down his life for his sheep' (John X, 11). How beautiful is the Church of Christ, the sheepfold. The shepherd 'goes before the flock' (John X, 4), and all follow him. If necessary he engages in combat with the wolf to defend his sheep.

Then the horizon broadens: 'And other sheep I have that are not of this fold; them also I must bring and they shall hear my voice and they shall be one fold and the shepherd' (John X, 16). Here is the missionary problem in all its vastness and beauty. This is the solicitude of the Roman Pontificate, the primary duty, even though not the only one; it blends with many others of equal importance.

SPRIT OF ACTION

But of greater interest than mere acclaim in itself is the spirit of the action. Every pontificate takes on a particular feature from the character of the person who represents it. And certainly all the features of all the Popes who succeeded each other down through the centuries are reflected and must be reflected in the face of Christ, the Divine Master who trod the paths of this earth for the sole purpose of spreading His beneficial teaching and the light of His wonderful example.

How His Divine teaching and His great example are summed up in his words: 'Learn of me for I am meek and humble of heart' (Matt. XI, 29). Hence the spirit of great meekness and humility.

Pious and fervent souls throughout the whole world. We beg of you to pray to Our Lord the Pope, with the intention of obtaining for him the exercise of perfection in meekness and humility. We are quite sure that many rich graces will follow from this exercise, and the confidence of the faithful will render an immense service also to the entire social order in the temporal and earthly field.

During the ceremonies of the Solemn Rite of Pontifical Coronation, it is permitted to add, in a special litany, the names of some saints to whom the new Pontiff is particularly devoted. When you come to the invocation: Sancte Carole, Tullium adjuva (St. Charles, help thou him), kindly utter with ardent hearts your unanimous prayer in favour of pledges of those graces which St. Charles will give Us, Our protector as We now call him, and as he will design to be for us, now and always. Amen.

The first meeting of the newly elected Board of Fishery Conservators was held last week at the Lismore Hotel, Lismore, when there attended Miss S. Canning, Rev. Du Cros, M.A., Major Partridge, Colonel Slocock, Messrs R.G. Annesley, M. O'Sullivan, J. Kent, E.P. Lynch, J. Healy, S. J. O'Meara, W. O'Neill, J. Villiers Stuart, M. Greehy, S. Jameson, H. Holroyd Smyth, Inspector Woulfe and Joseph Power, Clerk.

The Clerk taking the Chair (pending the election of Chairman) informed the meeting that he had received three powers of attorney appointing Rev. Du Cros to represent Moyola Properties Ltd., D.J. O'Mara, Solr. Mallow representing Major Hirsch and Major E.P. Maxwell representing Moorhill Estates Co. Also revocation of Power of Attorney granted by Major Hirsch to Col. Grehan of Banteer and that all four documents were in order.

The Clerk informed the meeting that he would accept nominations for the chairmanship and it was proposed by Mr. O'Neill, seconded by Mr. Kent that the outgoing chairman Mr. Annesley be elected. There being no other nomination Mr. Annesley took the chair and returned suitable thanks for his election. The outgoing vice-chairman, Mr. E.P. Lynch, officers of the Board, Licence Distributors, solicitors and Treasurer were unanimously re-elected for the ensuing three years. On behalf of the members of the Board the Chairman welcomed the three new Conservators Miss Canning, Rev. Du Cros and Mr. O'Meara.

It was agreed to hold monthly meetings at Lismore, Tallow, Fermoy and Mallow when necessary.

WESTERN CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT

The decision of the N.F.A. delegates from the five Connacht Counties and Co. Clare who met in Ballyhaunis on last Saturday to form "West of Ireland Co-operative Livestock Marts Ltd.", marks one of the most important steps in marketing in this country.

It is envisaged that this Central Co-ordinating Co-operative will eventually have within its aegis up to 18 individual Societies operating Co-operative Marts throughout Connacht and Clare. The newly-formed "West of Ireland Co-operative Livestock Marts Ltd." will administer a very considerable sum of money which represents the financial backing given to the Society by a Commercial Bank. However, each Society within the Central Co-operative will have its own autonomy and will use its own cheques.

This Central Co-operative will play a very big part in ensuring that too many Marts will not be built in the six Counties concerned or that they will not be too close proximity to each other. It will assist in the formation of the individual Societies and above all, it will provide the opportunity of availing of the many numerous advantages which a combined group has as distinct from individual Co-operatives.

It is expected that 18 Western million cattle and one-and-a-half million sheep which are fed in the Counties concerned and which represents 25 per cent of the country's total of cattle and 40 per cent of the sheep.

The necessity for these Marts is particularly urgent because of the Minister for Agriculture's recent announcement indicating that Sligo will be a fully stocked area next May and that in a further twelve months, all Connacht and Clare will be cleared.

The cattle in these Counties have a very high reputation and it is hoped that West of Ireland cattle and West of Ireland Co-operative Livestock Marts will be synonymous.

The Secretary of the newly formed Society was instructed to contact the L.A.O.S. and affiliate the Co-operative immediately. The Committee was elected on the basis of two representatives to each County.

WICKLOW OFENS T.B. ERADICATION PROGRAMME. The Minister for Agriculture Mr. Patrick Smith and S. A. Sheehy, Secretary of the Livestock Committee, addressed a meeting under the auspices of the N.F.A. in Co. Wicklow to open the T.B. Eradication Drive in that County, on Thursday, October 2nd.

The meeting which was attended by over 100 farmers was representative of the rural organisations in the County.

A Committee has been established to canvass all the farmers and to ensure their support in the T.B. Eradication Drive. Wicklow, a late starter in this Drive in Ireland, has now been estimated at 30 per cent for all animals.

Mr. P. Byrne, the popular Hon. Sec. of the C.I.C.A.

which is fairly high. The breakdown of this figure shows cows 20 per cent re-actors; breeding heifers, 12 per cent and other stock, 6 per cent.

N.F.A. DELEGATES AT INTERNATIONAL MILK CONFERENCE

On Monday, November 3rd, Jerome Buttler, Chairman, National Dairy Committee and Sean Healy, General Secretary N.F.A. left Dublin Airport for Cremona North Italy, where they will represent Irish dairy producers at an International Conference there.

The conference is being organised jointly by the International Federation of Agricultural Producers and the European Federation of Agriculture. Therefore, the delegates will be representatives of all the milk producer interests in Europe.

The discussions on Free Trade and the possibilities of breaking down on the Free Trade talks and the fact that we are limited to an export quota to Britain of 14,000 tons of butter annually and the vital importance of our dairying industry to the economy of the country renders it imperative that the N.F.A. would have a broad picture of the international situation in relation to dairying.

The consumption of butter has been going down in European countries and farmers now have a positive challenge from margarine producers, who through high-power advertising, that this commodity is comparable to butter.

If therefore becomes incumbent on the N.F.A. to formulate a policy to protect our farmers and to provide them with room for expansion and a greater income.

Our attendance at this conference should provide us with a knowledge of potential markets and also the degree of efficiency of our competitors. On this basis a long-term policy can be formulated.

GUN CLUB

There was a large attendance at the 10th Annual General Meeting of the above Club, which was held at the Literary Club, Church St. The Bazaar Sheet showed that the affairs of the club were in sound financial position and the Secretary's report covered a wide range of activities, dealing with the propagation, protection and restocking of game.

After many years of representation the Minister now seems sympathetic and anxious to assist Gun Clubs generally. This is to be appreciated and a recognition of the role which is played through the medium of organised Gun Clubs can the game stock of the country be maintained and improved.

The Secretary of the club was re-elected and the chairman introduced his address to all present stressed the importance of all members co-operating fully with the G.A.S. and the Gamekeeper. The report of the club was read and the minutes of the last meeting were passed. The President, the Very Rev. D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan.

TALLOW MACRA NA FEIRME

For the next few weeks, Tallow branch of Macra na Feirme embark on a very heavy programme, in conjunction with the N.F.A. at the Regal Cinema, on November 14th, Dr. Louis Smith Economic Adviser to the N.F.A. and Mr. Dennis Cullinan, B. Agr. Sc., C.E.O., will be giving an address, open to the public, which will be of paramount importance to the rural community. It is hoped to have a film show in the last week of November, from a well-known Irish Film Company. On December 8th the Club again joins the N.F.A. on an outing to Malloy Beet Factory and a visit to Messrs. Gouldings, Cork. So it can be readily understood that the coming months will be busy ones for the Club. In Macra's first decade it has trained men sufficiently competent to found and effectively run who promise to be a lasting and united farmers organisation. It must continue to supply the early training for the farmers of the future, who will man the organisation. This it will undoubtedly do, and this instance of the proposed outing on December 8th is proof of the spirit of organisation that exist between Macra and the N.F.A. Over the past ten years Macra has left its mark on Irish farming. It has instilled a new vitality into the rising generation of farmers.

The Tallow Branch wish to extend their sincere thanks to Cappoquin Club for the excellent manner in which they presented their prize-winning play 'Springs', which was held as part of the programme on the night of the 'All-Ireland' Question Time and to all the other artists for their contributions all of which helped to make the night a memorable one in the annals of Macra na Feirme, in Tallow.

At a monthly meeting of the Club held last week, a letter was read from Macra Headquarters, conveying its sincere thanks to the Tallow Club for the excellent arrangements it had made for the Question Time semi-final and stating that Tallow would again be considered as a venue for the staging of future inter-county contests.

The visit of Alma Cogan to the Arch Ballroom promises to eclipse all former functions held in this lovely ballroom. It is the year's outstanding attraction to Tallow, all arrangements are perfect to ensure that all present will hear this lovely singer who has just completed a tour of South Africa and as she herself put it "had only just time to pack her bags for a tour of the Emerald Isle." On her return to England she will be going on a tour of Australia. With her Sunday night will be a famous English pianist, as well as the famous Chris Lamb Orchestra of Theatre Royal fame, featuring V. star May Nolan and Jack Kelly, the 'Irish Al Jolson'. Don't miss this stupendous attraction on Sunday night. You will carry away memories of a night of song and dance, which promises to excel, any yet heard not alone in Tallow but we would bold to say in Waterford.

HONOUR FOR DUNGARVAN BOXERS

History was made for Dungarvan Club, when on Sunday last two of its members boxed an Irish selection against a German selection in Portlaoise. The two boxers T. Sheehan, J. Weller and F. North, L. Heavy, even though beaten they put up a very good show.

Tommy Sheehan never boxed better than he did against the German Lt. Weller Champ. E. Johannpeter, and after an excellent bout, which went the five rounds, Sheehan lost what had been a very close decision. In the first two rounds Sheehan was behind on points and with two great rounds in the third and fourth he seemed to be on top and in the final round in which both lads went all out the German though seemed to be in front but again Sheehan came back towards the close of the decision went to the visiting champion.

F. North in his bout was rather unlucky to get an eye injury in the third round and to retire, the referee stopping the fight in the third round. As already reported last week a first class Tournament will be held in Cork, on Friday next, 14th November and the following Dungarvan boxers are expected to have bouts. T. Sheehan F. North (if recovered from eye injury, which needed to be attended to), M. Walsh, juvenile, and E. Bluet, who is expected to make a welcome return to the game after a long lay off.

GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE YEAR

Once again the Dungarvan newspaper were present in their forenoon when they were broken at the hall of the County of Cloncha, on Monday night for the personal appearance of the greatest of all Irish stars, Miss Bridie Gallagher. An early hour start was made to get to Cloncha and the night would be broken by the pouring in from all over the county and the night with young and old were all right to schedule. As an interest, in view of the fact that I have stated that the former in the past has been present in Dungarvan on the occasion of the presentation of the award of the Order of St. Patrick to the late Lord de la Roche, it is only fitting to the fact that they handled a very big crowd of people and that the night was a most successful one. The arrangements were made by the Dungarvan newspaper and the night was a most successful one. The arrangements were made by the Dungarvan newspaper and the night was a most successful one.

GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE YEAR

Once again the Dungarvan newspaper were present in their forenoon when they were broken at the hall of the County of Cloncha, on Monday night for the personal appearance of the greatest of all Irish stars, Miss Bridie Gallagher. An early hour start was made to get to Cloncha and the night would be broken by the pouring in from all over the county and the night with young and old were all right to schedule. As an interest, in view of the fact that I have stated that the former in the past has been present in Dungarvan on the occasion of the presentation of the award of the Order of St. Patrick to the late Lord de la Roche, it is only fitting to the fact that they handled a very big crowd of people and that the night was a most successful one. The arrangements were made by the Dungarvan newspaper and the night was a most successful one.

EFFICIENT ARRANGEMENT

I have never seen anything like the fine event of the night. It was a most successful one. The arrangements were made by the Dungarvan newspaper and the night was a most successful one.

The Inside Story

Then we had the Comeragh Valley Ceili Band with Sean Murphy as M.C. and here again the attendance gave them a hearty welcome and despite the fact that the crowd out on the floor was exceptionally big, people danced and enjoyed every minute of it. There was no complaints.

Then came the big item of the night the personal appearance of Bridie Gallagher. She sang as only she can her selection of 12 songs met the requests of many of those present but as she said, if she should sing in response to all the requests received and I know because most of them were handed to me, then she would be on stage for the night.

Among the audience that night was Mrs. Mai O'Higgins whose new song, 'Moonlight on the Shannon River' has been recorded by Miss Gallagher. To mark the release of the new recording I presented a cheque to the 'Girl from Donegal' on behalf of the Dunganvarn-born song writer. The huge audience heard the song that night and they showed their delight in a manner that left no doubt in the mind of anyone. There was a representative of a well known music publishing house among the attendance who later told me that this was a song that really reached the top of the Irish popularity list. We said this in this column when we first heard the song some time ago.

BRIDGE CLOSED DOWN. I am asked to mention here that it is regretted that the bridge on the road through Dromana Estate has been closed to the public which is causing much inconvenience in the area. The estate has been taken over by the Irish Land Commission. People in the area have asked to say that they are hoping something will be done soon to reopen the bridge.

FACTORY WORKER'S CLAIM DISMISSED. Before Mr. Justice Dixon S.C. in the High Court in Cork Jeremiah Kelly Church Street, Youghal sued John Maguire, Woodpark, Kildrop for damages claiming that after his motor cycle had collided with a lorry on December 22nd 1956 he had suffered very severe injuries including a severe fracture of the skull and even after an operation in which attendants transplanted had not normal nerve function he still had not normal nerve function of his left wrist and fingers. Kelly alleged negligence in the driving of a motor lorry and the defence was a general denial of the plaintiffs claim and a plea that the plaintiff had been guilty of contributory negligence. After a hearing for two days the counsel for the defendant asked the Judge in the absence of the jury to withdraw the case from the jury. On the grounds that the plaintiff had failed to discharge the onus upon him to proving negligence on the part of the defendants lorry driver. He pointed out that everything showed that the impact had taken place in the plaintiffs incorrect side of the road. His Lordship acceded to the request and when the jury returned he told them that he had with reluctance to withdraw the case from the jury. He withdrew it because he could not find that the defendants driver alone had been guilty of negligence and the jury would have to find that the plaintiff had been guilty of contributory negligence that would disentitle him to recover damages. He had every sympathy with the plaintiff but there was no other course open to him. He accordingly dismissed the claim and gave costs to the defendant.

APPEALS AGAINST ALL SENTENCES. At Youghal Circuit Court Stephen Hogan and his son John of Adraclough Youghal appealed against prison sentences of four months each for assaulting Maurice Walsh, Sandfields Terrace, Youghal and Patrick Hogan also of Youghal. The two assaults took place at night and as a result one of the men had a head wound which was sutured. After the hearing of lengths evidence on both sides His Lordship confirmed the conviction and sentence on the father and that the son had not been a trouble before and as he was still a young lad he did not have to be too harsh with him. There was only dim hope of improvement and he had apparently involved himself in further assault since the proceeding in the District Court. Before I heard that His Lordship said I was prepared to see what I could do about suspending the sentence. Never the less I think it might be too harsh to send him to jail on the first offence and a fine I will do is to increase the sentence in each case against him for four months but labour him concurrently and bind him to the peace for two years.
