SEQUEL TO CHURCH ROBBERY

12 MONTHS FOR CITY NATIVE

A total of twelve months' imprisonment was imposed on John Curran, of no fixed abode, but stated to be a native of Waterford City, when he appeared before District Justice Skinner at Dungarvan, on Wednesday last, on a number of charges arising out of the breaking and entering of St. Mary's Parish Church on the night of 29th/30th December.

The defendant, who was not previously convicted, pleaded guilty to:

(1) That at Dungarvan on the night of 29/30th December, 1958 he did unlawfully and maliciously break and enter the parish church, Dungarvan, and commit a felony therein and did steal therefrom the sum of £1.10 and a communion chalice value £2.10.0, the property of Archdeacon Power.

(2) Between 29/30th December 1958 he did break and enter a place of divine worship, St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, and commit a felony therein and did steal therefrom the sum of £1.10 and a communion chalice value £2.10.0, the property of Archdeacon Power.

He was further charged:

That at Ballinacott on 8th January 1959 he did assault, resist and wilfully obstruct Sergeant John Liddane, Dungarvan, in the execution of his duty with intent to prevent or resist lawful apprehension or detention.

In reply to the latter, the accused stated that he had no recollection of the incident - 'I was too drunk at the time', he declared.

Sergeant Liddane, in evidence stated that he took the defendant in custody at Cahir on 8th January for the purpose of conveying him to Dungarvan. On the way Curran, who told him that he had been a commando and was not going to be a sitting duck in Dungarvan, became violent and attempted to overturn the car in which they were travelling.

Superintendent Flanagan for the prosecution read a long list of previous convictions against the accused.

2nd December 1958, Probation Act at Waterford District Court for stealing the sum of £2.10.0.

25th June, 1940, 2 years bond, Waterford District Court for housebreaking and larceny.

24th November, 1949, at Sutton, England, found in an enclosed garden for an unlawful

District Court, two months hard labour for larceny.

23rd August, 1959 Dungarvan District Court, six months hard labour for larceny of bicycle.

4th July, 1952 Youghal District Court, one month's hard labour for being in possession of bicycle without owner's consent.

26th October, 1953 Plymouth Magistrate's Court, 2 months' hard labour, 6 months' imprisonment for malicious damage and larceny.

20th May, 1954, Limerick District Court, suspended sentence of one month for stealing overcoat.

15th October, 1954, Waterford District Court, one month for breaking and entering and larceny, from donation box, two months imprisonment.

6th May 1950, Thomastown District Court, suspended sentence of one month for stealing overcoat.

The Justice imposed a sentence of six months' imprisonment on each count, but ordered to run concurrently for the charges of sacrilege and malicious damage, and the sentence for resisting arrest and assault to run consecutively to both.

Ardmore Motorist Convicted of Dangerous Driving

A collision between a motor car and a seat truck at Kilford cross on the main Dungarvan-Youghal road on the night of November 28th last had a sequel at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday last when the driver of the truck, Mr. Michael Dunne of Youghal Road, Ardmore was convicted of dangerous driving and fined £1 by Mr. Skinner, D.J.

The motorist Mr. P. Sheehan an employee of the Dept. of Agriculture was proceeding from Cork to Waterford and Mr. Dunne was driving from Dungarvan to his home at Ardmore at the time of the collision.

Garda Foley, Dungarvan said that accompanied by Garda Gallagher he visited the scene of the accident at 12.15 am on the night in question. He found the motor car, which was faced towards Dungarvan on its correct side of the road, and sixty-one yards further on in the Cork direction he found the truck on its correct side and faced diagonally across the road. He gave evidence of finding broken glass mud, blood stains and timber fragments and established that the point of impact was 5' to the right of the centre of the road, which was 25 feet wide at the point.

The right front wheel had been shorn off the car and there was a trail of grass from the point of impact to where it was stationed. Stones were knocked off the ditch where the truck was stationed.

He stated that he found the driver of the car very excited. The driver of the truck was pretty badly cut around the neck and required medical attention. He was shocked but perfectly sober.

Garda Gallagher corroborated the evidence of his colleague. Patrick Sheehan said that the accused appeared to cut the bend, then swung straight across the road, narrowly missing the ditch, and then swung violently to the right twice. He (Sheehan) veered to the left and was only two feet from his own side.

As a result of the impact he was knocked out for a few seconds. When he came to he squeezed out at the left hand side he couldn't open the door properly and went down to the other car. Mr. Dunne came out and staggered as he went down the road.

Although he said to him, 'You are an awful man to drive a car in that state', the defendant would not accept responsibility for the accident.

Cross-examined by Mr. E. P. Finn, who represented the accused, Mr. Sheehan said that he had been in Cork that day and had consumed two pints in Youghal on his way back. 'I was very nearly stopped and I could not avoid the accident unless I went through the fence', he said.

He would not agree that the wheel fell out at the point of impact that was impossible.

Miss Mary Cheasty, who was in the car with Sheehan on the night in question, said that defendant's car appeared to be completely out of control and made on zig-zag along the road at it approached them. She claimed that Dunne admitted that he was at fault when he got out of the car.

Mr. Dunne, in evidence, stated that he had been to Carrick-on-Suir with a consignment of furniture of the day of the accident. As he approached the junction where the impact occurred, he was travelling at 35 to 40 miles per hour and was well in on his own side of the road. He felt that he had done everything possible to avoid the accident. He denied that he admitted to Miss Cheasty that he was responsible and stated that he refused to accept liability.

The Justice in his summing up convicted the accused under Section 51 of the Road Traffic Act. He imposed a fine of £1 and allowed £4 expenses.

£10 TO BE CONTRIBUTED

County Waterford Vocational Education Committee's appeal for their monthly meeting held at the Technical School, Dungarvan, on Tuesday, to make a contribution of £10 towards the cost of apprenticeship training for James Burke, Cladagh, Donmore East. This boy had commenced his apprenticeship with the E.S.B. early this month.

It was explained by Mr. D. Cullinan, C.E.O. that though the boy had attended classes at Waterford City Technical Institute, he came from the administrative area of the County scheme, and that the subsidy plan was a long-standing arrangement between the Department and the Committee. The contribution would go towards the cost of specialist training he would receive for five years during the course of his apprenticeship, at a Technical School under the City of Dublin Vocational Education Committee.

Mr. T. O. Faolain — 'It is a fine scheme. It is one means of keeping down the drain of emigration and it is a grand plan to give a boy a future'.

TO BE CONSIDERED

Dungarvan U.D.C. will consider the report on the provision of the New Housing Act which deals with financial assistance to private housing. When the matter came before Friday night's meeting it was agreed to defer a decision.

VERY IMPORTANT

'I consider it very important that instruction in forestry and in tree-planting be given in all schools', stated Mr. Tomas O'Faolain, M.A., at the monthly meeting of County Waterford Vocational Education Committee.

Before the meeting was a letter from the Department stating that arrangements had been made with the Forestry Section of the Department of Lands for the provision of forest-tree seeds for school Nurseries, to aid the drive for afforestation throughout the land, and for the encouragement of school nurseries.

The C.E.O. stated that an order had been placed for different varieties of trees. The seeds would be planted in the school gardens at Dungarvan and Cappoquin. Later, the young trees would be lifted and given in bundles to the students who would take them home and plant them for decoration and shelter on their own lands.

FISHING RIGHTS

Following a complaint by Mr. Moloney that foreign trawlers were fishing within the three miles limit, around the south-east coast, Dungarvan U.D.C. is to request the Department to enforce the regulations against poaching.

U.D.C. Suggest: RATES TO BE COLLECTED THROUGH OFFICE

The appointment of an additional clerical officer to collect the town rates through the Council offices has been recommended to the County Manager by Dungarvan Urban Council.

This decision was taken when the Council considered a motion in the name of Mr. Donal Moloney that a further rate collector should not be appointed and the Manager's proposals for the periodical discharge of duties performed by the late Mr. Michael O'Meara, at the fortnightly meeting in the Town Hall on Friday night.

Under the Manager's proposals, which were discussed by the Town Clerk, Mr. J. Howlett, the salary of the additional collector would amount to £200 a year, or £125 per year of the old system.

The Chairman, Deputy Tom Ryan, who referred to the proposal, said that the E.S.B. and other such bodies, said he could not see the necessity of appointing a Rate Collector.

Mr. Tom Lannon concurred with the Chairman's remarks. He left it to the appointment of an additional clerk of the Town Clerk's office would meet the situation.

Mr. Moloney spoke on similar lines and suggested the appointment of an additional clerk to the Clerk's office.

At this stage Mr. Moloney proposed and Mr. Lannon seconded that the Council should not appoint a further rate collector.

The Chairman suggested that the present clerk would be recommended to the Manager that the rates be collected through the office and that an additional clerk be appointed for the purpose.

The Clerk recommended the appointment of a clerical officer in the circumstances. He told the members that the maximum salary payable to a clerical officer under the present arrangement would be £812, but the maximum salary would be much smaller.

After a further discussion, Mr. Moloney proposed that no collector be appointed, that the rates be collected through the office and that an additional clerk be appointed as a salary not to exceed £500 per annum.

Mr. Lannon seconded. The Chairman proposed that they recommend to the Manager that the rates be collected through the office and that an additional clerk be appointed for the purpose at the appropriate salary.

The Chairman's motion was carried by four votes to three. Mr. Lannon supported it in addition to the proposer and seconded. Mr. Moloney's proposal was supported by Mr. Lannon and Qualey.

Mr. Lannon remarked: 'It is a useful thing if an organisation like the E.S.B. can collect their dues with one clerk, while it costs us something amount. There is something wrong with local administration.'

The Chairman agreed to include in his recommendation a proposal from Mr. Moloney that a new appointment be made to the post at the minimum commenting salary.

Chairman: The only thing I can say with all sincerity in the world is that I am delighted we have nothing to do with the appointment.

The appointment will be made by the Special Appointments Commission.

ALL QUALIFIED

When a circular from the Department regarding the holding of an examination at Dublin, Cork, Limerick and Waterford on 8th April next for teachers who desire to obtain qualification of the Ceard Teastas, was read at the monthly meeting of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee on Tuesday, it was stated that it did not apply to the staff as all the teachers had full qualifications.

SYMPATHY

The Council voted sympathy to the relatives of the late Ned Whelan, Ballyduff, Rody Kirwan, Waterford, and Mrs. N. Shanahan, Abbeyside.

One Of The Greats Passes On

FULL of years at the advanced age of 81, Kilcanavee (Kilmachormas) born Mr. Roger (Rory) Kirwan, died rather unexpectedly at the Adelphi Hotel, Waterford, on Thursday morning of last week.

The sad event removes an outstanding gentleman who was a front rank figure in national and international sports spheres. Attached to the staff of the National Bank Ltd., for approximately fifty-five years his professional career was punctuated by a continuing series of highly varied preformances. He occupied the position of manager for a very long period prior and up to his retirement from the branch in New Ross, at the Castleland (Co. Kerry) branch during the first decade of this century when the Gaelic football code had scientifically developed into the immensely popular game it is today. A really magnificent player proved the variable speed anchor of the fine team then to the fore and the Island Club was able to put him and Breen O'Connor, McCarthy and others in the first championship line in the Kingdom. Rory started on the great Kerry combination that took the All Ireland title in 1903 and 1904. Rory also was a notably successful all-round athlete, annexing numerous trophies as weight thrower, jumper and hurdler in the course of the finest team then to the fore.

An ardent admirer of all forms of athleticism he travelled to the four corners of the world to attend at the Olympic games held since the turn of the century and in connection with same it must be mentioned that the autobiography he always had with him at these events is festooned with the names of famous names and consequently cannot but be deemed an exceedingly valuable compilation.

Of a variety few Waterfordians can correctly claim to have more friends and acquaintances than Rory had. He was one of those rare souls who seem to have a sincere love for their fellowmen and it was impossible not to like and admire him. His sense of humour especially made him a most desirable companion and colleague. No one could recount a dull story with more effect and his bright, happy disposition made him welcome everywhere and though a warm and active member of the Mother Church, he knew no creed, when need knocked all were alike to him. Yes, Rory was one of those who not alone made no enemies but one who made everyone with whom he came in contact his firm friend and the heartfelt sympathy of all is with his sorrowing brother Messrs Percy Kirwan, Kilmachormas and James Kirwan, Kilcanavee, do, and neices Miss Maureen Kirwan, Dublin, Mrs. Alice Nicholson, Alberta, Canada, Miss K Kirwan, M.P.B. J. Kilmachormas and Sr. M. Catherine, Convent of Mercy, do, and nephews Mr. Paddy Kirwan, Dooleys Hotel, Waterford, Mr. D. Kirwan, Kilmachormas, and Mr. Patrick Kirwan, Kilcanavee.

There was an extremely large and representative attendance at the removal of the remains to the Parish Church, Clonoe, Power where the coffin was placed on a catafalque before the high altar. Following office and Solemn Requiem High Mass on Saturday, 10th inst interment

Enjoyable Night at Coursing Social

The Affic weather which prevailed throughout the week failed to dampen the spirits of the hardy coursing enthusiasts and their friends who packed the Ocean View Hotel, Clonoe, on Tuesday night last. And right well was the big mustering of longtail lovers rewarded, for the occasion, the annual social of the local club, was voted the most enjoyable in the colourful history of one of the Old Boro's most popular organisations, Life of the party, which went with a swing from 9 p.m. was the Club Chairman, Mr. Michael Fives, who performed his onerous duty as master of ceremonies with typical tact.

HALF HOLIDAY TRANSFERRED

The Council has agreed to a request from the Harrier Club that Monday, February 2nd—the date of the annual point-to-point fixture—should be a half-day in town.

POINT-TO-POINT MEETING

Arrangements are well in hand for the annual point-to-point fixture which takes place at Kilosserra on Monday, February 2nd. The Urban Council has already acceded to a request from the Point-to-Point Committee that the usual weekly half-holiday should be transferred from Thursday to the occasion, co-operating as usual, to the full in helping to organise what has come to be regarded as one of the big sporting events of the year locally. The organisers have secured the services of Joe McGinty and his Orchestra, which made such a tremendous hit on its last appearance in town, for the annual race dance which takes place on the same night in the Town Hall.

Recovering from injuries he sustained when involved in a car accident on Monday last in the popular West Waterford Insurance office Mr. Liam Liddy, Aragon, who is well-known throughout the county as Secretary of Comhairle Contae of Connaught na Gaeltige and as an Irish teacher. When the car in which he was travelling from Cork, with his brother and a friend, struck an icy patch on the road, the vehicle got out of control, skidded into the ditch and overturned. While his two companions were unhurt, Mr. Liddy received severe scratches on face and hands as well as considerable bruising.

TALLOW NOTES

DEATH OF OLDEST RESIDENT
The oldest resident passed away at her residence, Convent Street, on Tuesday, January 13th, in the person of Miss Annie Arnold, daughter of the late Mr. W. F. Arnold. She had reached the ripe old age of 97 years. The deceased lady was a member of one of the oldest families in Tallow and was of a most amiable disposition. She resided in Cork for a number of years. On the death of her sister, the late Miss Fanny Arnold, she came back to the town on her birth. She had been in ill-health for some time. The interment took place after service in St. Catherine's Church conducted by Rev. Mr. Foster. Mrs. M. Matthews Arnold and Miss Lottie Arnold sisters of the late Mrs. William Arnold (brother of Mr. T. Field, Youghal) survive.

THE LATE MR. P. KELLEHER
It is with deep regret we record the death of Mr. Patrick Kelleher, County St. John, who died at Waterford on Thursday, January 15th. Deceased was a bitter opponent and had reached an advanced age. Member of a well-known family, his death is regretted. The remains were removed to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery.

SHIMROCKS 45 DRIVE

N.F.A. News

POSTPONEMENT OF PAYMENT OF A.C.C. INSTALLMENTS

In the autumn of 1958, the N.F.A. made representation to the Agricultural Credit Corporation and asked that in view of the bad harvest and consequent heavy losses to farmers, where desired the instalment on the principle of a loan would be postponed. The Agricultural Credit Corporation gave favourable consideration to this request and agreed to postpone the current instalment on the loan provided the farmer so desires.

We understand that some farmers now feel that this arrangement is automatic and we would like to take the opportunity of pointing out that any farmer who wishes to avail of this concession should first write to the Agricultural Credit Corporation and make his own individual arrangement.

THE OATS MARKET

After discussion with the Race Horse Trainers' Association last September, the N.F.A. agreed to the importation of 1,000 tons of oats. It was made clear by the discussions that there was a necessity for an undertaking was given by the Race Horse Trainers' Association that the imported oatmeal of oats would be retained in proportion to the horses in training.

The Department of Agriculture issued permits for the importation of a further 4,000 tons for the Easter Festival. Brokers' Association. We do not know if this was necessary because this year the quality of the oat crop is very good. There has been an excellent crop in Co. Donegal, a reasonably good one in Co. Louth and even in Co. Galway there is a saleable surplus.

However, we assure merchants who have bought up stocks of home grown oats that we will not agree to any further imports. The N.F.A. Grain Committee has discussed this with Officers of the Department of Agriculture and this agreement has been reached in principle.

Under these circumstances, merchants can safely continue to buy up stocks of native oats, and be reasonably confident of a keen demand.

FARMERS BUY FAIR GREEN

In Co. Carlow, the Committee of the Co-operative Auction Mart has purchased the fair green from the Urban District Council. The farmers of the district are now the Fairing Authority and this must be the only place in Ireland where such a situation exists. We must of course compliment the Carlow U.D.C. for their progressive attitude in selling the fair green and passing the authority to the farmers' committee.

The green will be the site of a co-operative auction mart. We understand that there has been a very favourable response to the collection of share capital. The first contract for the installation of a water supply has been given out and tenders will soon be given out for the construction of the mart premises and the pens.

In the West of Ireland, the collection of share capital for the formation of a water supply has been given out and tenders will soon be given out for the construction of the mart premises and the pens.

STATE MEETING IN DUBLIN

A meeting under the auspices of the N.F.A. in Dublin on January 7th has resulted in a unified line-up against the proposed increase of 4/6 in the 2/6 Representatives of 16 organizations were present and a Committee was elected. The Secretary of this Committee is now writing to County Councilors and it is proposed to put forward a strong case as to why there should be no further increase in value in that County.

INCREASED MOTOR TAX

Complaints are being received from the Headquarters of the N.F.A. because of the Government decision to regard the remainder as being part of a motor truck. In one specific case, a 3-ton Austin truck with a platform body has for the previous three years been taxed at £76. It had a livestock container with floor fitted last year and the tax has now been increased to £132. The fact that this tax is now being demanded means that this individual may have to go out of business because private hauliers are granted licence only up to a certain vehicle weight.

It would appear that the State has taken these steps in the name of the possible general use of container traffic in the near future with a view to making it a C.I.E. monopoly. The decision is also of course a further means of collecting revenue.

The whole question requires a thorough investigation and we must have a definition of the term 'container' if it is a common practice for private hauliers to have a special livestock floor and

Libraries Committee Ask For £9,287

The County Libraries Committee has asked the County Council to provide £9,287 for the purchase of books for the year ending 31st March, 1959, totalling £2,287.

The present estimates are far below the amount actually required to remedy the situation created by last year's drastic cut of £1,000.

During the period in which the cut has been effective the total value of books purchased has been reduced in a general way. The total value of the County Libraries Committee's purchase of books, instead of increasing to meet the needs of a service in a phase of expansion, decreased by 2,000 copies to 10,000. The total value of books purchased has been reduced by approximately 50% by the end of the year. Book costs are still rising. A modest estimate of almost required to purchase 3,000 books would be £2,500. Therefore that sum should really have been added to the purchase fund for this year were we to make good the deficiency incurred last year. In 1957-58 we spent £2,812 on books. For this year I have budgeted for £3,106 under this heading in an endeavour to offset to a small degree last year's decline.

It is my duty to warn the Committee that a repetition of last year's failure to provide adequate funds for the County Library will result in a further deterioration of the service and entail a further depression of the level of efficiency and of the facilities offered to borrowers. No estimate, therefore, can be entered under this heading.

Though the ultimate decision rests with the County Council, my Committee has the responsibility of recommending adequate provision which will at least ensure the continuance of the level of service attained in 1957-58.

"As the Committee will readily understand a library service is as dependent on book-supply for its operation as is the maintenance of roads on stones, cement and machinery. A policy of restriction of book-purchase and funds would inevitably entail the Archdeacon Power, P.P., V.F. Rev. M. Power, C.C., E. Dean of Carlow, Mrs. C. Griffin, Thomas Brotnac, Mr. N. Kelly, Mr. M. J. McCarthy.

The original proposal that a sum of £9,287 be provided for 1958-59 was then put and carried by 7 votes for to 2 against.

A letter from the Minister for Lands, Mr. E. Childers was read. It outlined the intensive campaign for private free planting and listed certain books on the subject which it would be desirable to start in public Libraries. The Committee decided to defer the purchase of the books until they know what the financial position would be for the coming year.

Mr. N. Walsh, M.C.C., proposed and E. Dean U.D. seconded that the Libraries Committee to attend the Estimates Meeting of the Co. Council. The resolution was passed unanimously.

It was decided in the interests of economy, that no delegate other than the Co. Librarian be appointed to attend the Annual Conference of the Library Association of Ireland meetings, as the Committee felt that the Co. Librarian was quite capable of looking after their interests and watching developments.

SEMPATILY

Mr. N. Kelly proposed and E. Dean U.D. seconded a resolution that the Committee extend their sincere sympathy to Mrs. A. Scannell and family on the death of the late Mr. Andrew Scannell, Clonsilla. The resolution was passed in silence.

The order made by the Co. Manager since the last previous meeting were available for inspection.

Memorial To Atlantic Pioneers

A memorial to Atcock and Brown, the first men to fly across the Atlantic, is being erected at Clifden, Co. Galway, near the Lifford Aerodrome. The memorial, which will be situated at the Errislane Road about two miles south of Clifden, will be unveiled on June 15th, 1959, the fortieth anniversary of the flight. The Atcock and Brown flight was made in a log cabin Clifden on June 15th, 1919.

The memorial will be erected on a high ground overlooking the point in the bog one and a half miles away where the aircraft first landed, and a signpost will be erected on the edge of the bog within a few hundred yards of the point of the landing. The soil ground at the actual landing spot would not support such a permanent structure.

The cairn of remoted stones will be fifteen feet high with a ten foot wide base and will be clearly visible from the aerodrome. That viewers will get a good impression of what these pioneer aviators as they circled to land. The site selected for the cairn is solid rock and in line between the landing place and the memorial. At the top of the cairn will be a flagpole and a signpost pointing to the landing place. The design of the memorial, itself, is still being considered by the Corporation.

Atcock and Brown left Clifden, Newfoundland, on the evening of June 14th and on the first land the sight was an island in the Galway coast. Ten minutes later the masts of Clifden's Marconi Station appeared through the low cloud and rain. The Atcock circled the station and then landed on the island but no sign appeared to see them. They flew over Clifden town and fired their signals, again without reply. Turning back to the wireless station, Atcock spotted what appeared to be a suitable field for landing. The ground 'field' turned out to be a bog. The wheels of the aircraft came to a standstill with its nose to the ground, sixteen hours and twenty-eight minutes after taking off from Newfoundland. The Vimy was slightly damaged but neither of its occupants was hurt.

The first to arrive on the scene were the wireless operators from the Marconi Station, who immediately dispatched messages telling the world that an aeroplane had flown non-stop across the Atlantic Ocean.

Wolf Tone Annual

Readers will welcome the announcement that the entire 1958 issue of the 'Wolf Tone Annual' is a salute to Peter Coakland, about whom there has been much controversy in recent years. Young people who have not had the opportunity to read about the gentle, generous, unselfish patriot and martyr will find the true story of his noble sacrifice for Ireland in the pages of the Annual and will come across truths that have been hidden from many eyes.

St. Patrick's Day Cards

The exchange of greeting cards at the National Festival and at Easter is not a custom here in Ireland, but thousands of people send cards to exiles in all parts of the world. Our people abroad even those who have never seen Ireland love to get cards that are written, designed and printed entirely in the homeland and convey in words that stir the heart a genuine message of Irish love and remembrance to those who are far away, particularly to the missionary exiles for God's Kingdom and lonely souls of the Easter Cards.

The cards published by Brian O'Higgins, 56 Park Square, Dublin, are always welcomed by the exiles.

All this year's cards for St. Patrick's Day can be had for 6/- and all the Easter Cards for 6/-, but lesser quantities of cards at 8/-, 10/-, and 15/- can be bought in shops or direct from the publisher by post. They are all most artistic and are produced in bright colours.
