Deceased, in his youth, was a noted horseman and along with his brothers, William and Charles were well known riders at point-to-point fixtures all over the south. Horses bred and trained at Ballytray won many classic races, both in Ireland and across Channel; he was also a well known rider to hounds and the old C.C. Hunt were kennelled at Ballytray for many years. He also acted as judge at point-to-point meetings at Tallow and Killeagh up to a few years ago. Joining the army at an early age he served in the South African War 1899-1901. He was grand nephew of the late Lord Mount Cashell. His first son, Capt. John H. Smyth, was killed in action in Athens Greece, during the communist uprising in that country in 1944; another son Oliver was a prisoner of the Italians during the first world war; his brother Charles was killed in action in the last days of the first world war; he was predeceased by his wife, formerly Miss Alice Ponsobly, Crookley Abbey, Johnstown, Co. Wick and a niece of the late Mrs. Horace Plunkett and the late Lord Dunsany. By about 14 years. A gentle man of many sterling qualities, his death will be deeply felt over a wide area. The interment took place on Tuesday in a brick and moss-lined grave in Templemeachal cemetery. The immediate chief mourners were: Messrs. Horace, Oliver and Brian Holroyd Smyth (sons); Mrs. M. Daughan (daughter).

BALLYNOE BOY IS ENGLAND'S YOUNGEST CHIEF
John O'Keefe of Ballynoe is at the age of 18 years, England's youngest chef. Starting as a kitchen boy about two years ago at Ye Olde, Bulls Head, Aylesbury, he worked his way to the top. He now controls a staff of twelve and cooks upwards of 700 meals a day. He is paid £18 per week and Manager Bill Thomas says "I often give him more, he is worth every penny of it". But John has his eyes on Switzerland for he says "there is nothing more to be learned in England".

Kilmacthomas, Kilrossanty and Stradbally Notes

Late Very Rev. Edmond Canon English, P.P., Stradbally and Ballynaneen — This grand Clogheen (South Tipp.)-born Saggart Aroon, whose demise was chronicled in last week's issue of "The Dungarvan Observer", was a gentle soul whose joy was in his priesthood, for which he lived, and he died as he had lived.

Kind and generous by nature, behind him he has left an immense trail of graces in the arduous work of a devoted life. Following his ordination in June 1901, he spent half a decade of years on temporary mission in the Diocese of Cork, being the curate in Kilmichael parish, the native parish of the present Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, Most Rev. Dr. Daniel Cohanlan, and during the last illness of His Lordship's good father that dear departed gentleman's spiritual requirements were assiduously attended to by Canon English, who had also laboured as curate of Knockanore, Carrickbeg, Ardinnan and Ballydooby, before his elevation to the pastorate of Old Parish and Ring in 1935. He has been Parish Priest of Stradbally and Ballynaneen since 1937 and was appointed a canon of the Cathedral Chapter in 1951. Over the past twenty-one years he was responsible for the extension and renovation of Stradbally and Ballynaneen churches, and for the erection of St. Anne's National School, Seafield (between Ballynaneen and Bonmahon) in the Parish Church, Stradbally, on Friday of last week, His Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. Cohanlan, presided at Solemn Requiem High Mass (preceded by the Office for the Dead). The celebrant was Very Rev. J. Kennelly, P.P., Cappoquin, who there were sixty other priests present.

Immediately after the Mass all that was mortal of the late Canon English, which had rested in the sacred edifice overnight, was borne to his grave in the adjoining necropolis and interment was made amidst every manifestation of profound sorrow.

The chief mourners included two brothers and two sisters of the deceased ecclesiastic.

May the consecrated earth wherein his reverence rests and which he loved so well, lie lightly on him. Peace be his.

Many Expressions of heartfelt sympathy have been tendered to amiable Mrs. J. McLoughlin, Railway-crossing Lodge, Ballylinch, Kilmacthomas, on the death of her mother, the late Mrs. Margaret Hickey, widow, Corofin, Co. Clare, who died on Friday of last week (after Requiem Mass).

Respected Aged Residents who died on Wednesday week, 14th inst. (Feast of St. Hilary, B.) were Mr. Michael Hogan, Stradbally, and Mrs. Fitzgerald (nee Tobin), widow, Ballykerogue, Stradbally.

Mr. Hogan, who leaves a widow and family, was buried on Fri. in the cemetery adjoining Stradbally Parish Church, and Fr. Callanan, C.C., who said the Requiem Mass, again officiated at the graveside.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, who is survived by her family, was interred in Garranbane cemetery, after Requiem Mass in the church there on Friday, and Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C., Abbeyside, gave the closing absolution at the graveside. May their souls and all the souls of the faithful departed through the mercy of God rest in peace.

The Death Took Place with a rewarding speedy grace at his residence early on Saturday morning 17th inst., of Mr. David Butler, farmer, Ballynabogue, Kilmacthomas—a departure hence that must have pleased this valiant octogenarian champion of, and liberal subscriber to, the Foreign Missions, as it must afford abundant consolation and significance to his nearest and dearest. May his reward be a rich and generous one, for to know Davy Butler (as he was affectionately hailed) was not alone to sense the heart and soul of our country, but also a distinctly worthy citizen of the Republic of Ireland.

His remains were removed to St. Anne's Church, Ballynaneen, on Saturday evening and interment was made in the adjoining cemetery on Mon. (subsequent to the celebration of Two Requiem Masses). Rev. M. J. Russell, C.C., do., assisted by Rev. Fr. Callanan, C.C., Stradbally, officiated at the graveside.

Many Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. The immediate chief

TRIBUTES TO THE LATE MR. RODY KIRWAN

(His obituary was fully reported in last week's issue of "The Dungarvan Observer".)

Warm and active member of Mother Church.— Through your fine span of one and eighty years, you neither gained a foe nor lost a friend.

Athleticism stirred your blood like wine, and all exquisite things, awoke your soul.

To mystic wonderment (wherein your own oasis of serenity).

Long will your happy name be mentioned, and— The story of your honour-crowned career. Will still be told in sports scores and board told.

When lesser things have fully faded out.

Now your friends breathe "vale" as they kneel, in union of prayer and quiet grief. — (G. C. K.)

Near Clodagh's wave lies Rody's grave, New made, alas, and trim; As you onward speed give holy heed, And murmur a prayer for him.

At the Chapels end, as your way you wend, A tomb comes into view, His dust to defend till the world's end.

And the Judgement Day's Review.

At games of the Gael he blazed a trail, That knows few rivals yet; As his lines he cleared, spectators cheered, For the standard high he set.

Attack ignored, his drop-kicks soared, Far into the distant blue; And, for green and gold, the scores board told.

He had oft notched a number new. — T. W. Colligan.

Profit from Eggs NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY DAY-OLD CHICKS

Profits from egg-production can only be made, in present circumstances, if most of the eggs from any flock are produced during the second half of the year when prices are good. This means, obviously, that the hens must be in full production during these months, and to ensure this it is essential to have a flock of early-hatched pullets and to feed and manage it efficiently.

Day-old pullets bought now will begin producing in July and can be kept in production until the beginning of 1960 by good feeding and management. Anybody who is anxious to make a profit from egg-production should, therefore, order the necessary day-old pullets immediately.

By ordering day-olds of a good laying strain or cross from a licensed hatchery, producers can ensure that they have the best chance of making their flocks pay. They should on no account buy their chicks from travelling dealers or others who are not in a position to guarantee the quality of the birds.

One of the main reasons for poor production of eggs during the latter half of the year is the failure of flock-owners to remove the unproductive birds when egg prices fall. A flock composed of late-hatched pullets and birds in their second year or older will have little chance of showing profits over the whole year.

The Poultry Instructors are available for all flock-owners and can give advice on how to make returns from eggs greater than the cost of feeding the flock, which is how profits are made.

BALLINAMEELA I.C.A. MEETING
At the December meeting the Guild was very lucky in having Mrs. O'Brien of Lismore who came to instruct us in toy making and in the course of the evening members made a very attractive Teddy from materials that Mrs. O'Brien had kindly cut out; the small sum charged went to the Lismore District Nurse fund. All appreciated the great trouble to which Mrs. O'Brien had gone to make her demonstration helpful and enjoyable.

During December members assisted at the County Home Party which, due to good organisation, was thought to be the best ever and the Guild held a Whist Drive in aid of the After Care of Polio Victims. Thanks go out to all who provided confectionery for both events for sandwiches, sweets, and so on, and a big thank-you to Mr. and Mrs. Hickey who provided a great quantity of milk for the Whist Drive without charge.

The Annual General Meeting will be held on Wednesday 4th February, and we hope there will be a good attendance of members and anyone wishing to join will be very welcome.

FEIS FUND

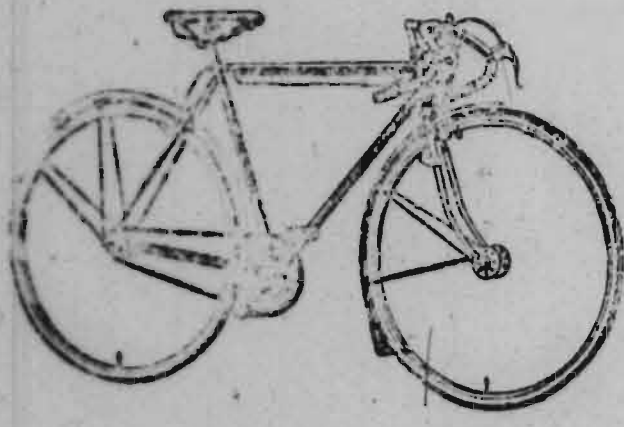

We hope that next Sunday night's cell in aid of the Feis fund will be generously patronised. The annual Feis and Drama Festival, has for years been an attractive feature and support for Sunday night's promotion will ensure that Cappoquin will this year have its great Gaelic week as in former years.

On next Sunday the final of the Ryan Cup tournament will be thrown. The finalists are all bowlers from Seratch. They are Jim Fitzgerald, Frank O'Donoghue and Mick Gallagher. Fitzgerald qualified on Sunday by defeating Denis Hayes by a "howl and odds". The second score between F. O'Donoghue and W. Conway, was a titanic

Fishermen Call For 12-mile Trawl Limit

FISHERMEN at Dunmore East passed a resolution calling on the Minister for External Affairs to introduce immediately base lines drawn between prominent points on the coast to prevent incursion by foreign trawlers and to extend the fishing limit to twelve miles as soon as possible.

The meeting, called by the National Fishermen's Organisation, protested against the depredation of the herring grounds by the concentration of foreign trawlers off the south coast, and asked the Minister for External Affairs to refer a deputation from the organisation to the Government.

Mr. Childers, Minister for Lands, who was invited to the meeting, could not attend. In a letter apologising for non-attendance, he said the decision to call another international conference in 1960 had made it incumbent on the Government to make further decisions in regard to the question of territorial limits and he believed an early decision would be forthcoming in regard to the problem.

RUSSIAN THREAT Mr. Galley, Dunmore East, said the attention of the Government should be drawn to the great danger of foreign boats being registered in Irish names. Russians, he said had been making enquiries about registering fishing boats in this country in the names of Irishmen.

Mr. W. Cleary, Arklow, President, said Mr. Aiken had stated they had power to extend the base line. Why did they not do it long ago? "I regret," said Mr. Cleary, "that Mr. Childers did not attend. During the past week the corvette Macha arrested four ships. The minute she came into Waterford with the arrested trawlers the other foreigners were encroaching inside the three mile limit. We want protection for our livelihood."

Mr. J. K. Clear, Secretary, said he got a telephone message from Mr. Kevin Boland, Minister for Defence, apologising for inability to attend as "he would be out of town".

"WERE LET DOWN" Mr. Clear said the Organisation considered that the Government had let the fishermen and the nation down badly in the matter of base-lines. There was no excuse for the failure to take action before the opening of the present Dunmore season.

"If the Government does not act immediately these foreign fleets will exhaust the Dunmore fishery and continue all round the coast to exhaust the unexploited fisheries of Ballycotton, Kinsale, Bantry and Dingle and all the way along the coast to Burtonport and Downings," said Mr. Clear.

Ald. T. Lynch, T.D., said he was sure there was considerable fishing by foreign trawlers inside the three mile limit at Dunmore East. The Minister for Defence could have been more tolerant to the Deputies who raised the matter in the Dail.

SEA-ANGLING AS A TOURIST ATTRACTION

Mr. Erskine Childers, Minister for Lands, speaking at the first annual dinner of the Rossare Harbour Sea Angling Club on Sunday, 11th January, 1959, congratulated the Club on the magnificent work they had done during the past year. The boat competition off Splaugh Rock organised by the Club on 1st June had been highly successful, being attended by about 80 anglers each of whom had been very well pleased with the sport he had got. As proof of this the special competitions' week held from 17th to 24th August had been even more successful and the catches recorded exceeded everyone's expectations. On one day 1,254 lbs. of bass were landed by 33 rods and on another day 987 lbs. were taken by 28 rods. Off the Tuskar Rock 1,220 lbs. of fish were landed by 14 rods in three hours of actual fishing.

The members of the British sea angling club invited to Rossare Harbour last year had been boundless in their praise of the sport available. He had been informed that the number of tourists who came to Rossare Harbour in the summer of 1958 was in the region of 2,500. The unflinching efforts of the club were largely responsible for this magnificent achievement.

Mr. Childers said he had no doubt that sea angling would play a most important part in attracting tourists in 1959 and in future years. The successes achieved by the Club in 1958 should encourage the members to maintain their efforts which he felt sure would be fully rewarded.

The Minister proposed the toast "The Rossare Sea Angling Club".

LISMORE NOTES

DUNGARVAN BEST IN LEAGUE GAME Playing at the Soccer Grounds Lismore, on Sunday last, Dungarvan Celtic defeated Lismore Athletic in their League clash by 2-0, after an exciting and entertaining game. Great fighting spirit by the Lismore side, who, incidentally, were short some of their regular players, kept the game at fever pitch throughout. The game was played under appalling conditions and the pitch assembled a sea of mud. The game was refereed by Mr. W. Collins in his usual capable manner.

BUS TO LEAGUE GAME The Lismore Soccer club are to decide at their next meeting, the question of running a bus to the League game between Shamrock Rovers v. Waterford; at the moment Shamrocks head the League table, but the 'Blues' are on their heels and will be likely to knock the 'Hoops' for six in their forthcoming clash.

TWO MEMBERS OF THE LISMORE A.C. RUN FOR WATERFORD Mr. P. Whelan and Mr. T. Cahill, both members of the Lismore Athletic Club, were chosen to compete in the Munster Novice Championship which were held in Tramore on Sunday. It is indeed an honour for the club to have two of its members on the Co. team. In a field of 60 competitors, both boys done well, P. Whelan being 19th and T. Cahill 29th.

MACRA NA FEIRME The meeting held in St. Carthage's Hall on Friday night last to form a branch of Macra na Feirme was very well attended. Rev. Fr. McGrath presided, and among the speakers was Mr. Llewelyn, County Organiser of Macra na Feirme. A list of officers elected will be given later. A further meeting will be held on Friday, January 30th, at 8.45 p.m., and all are invited to attend.

BALLINWILLIAN BOWLING CLUB The newly formed Ballinwillian Bowling Club are sponsoring a bowling tournament and the first score will be thrown on Sunday next. DIPLOMA IN DAIRY SCIENCE The examination for entry to the course for the Diploma in Dairy Science at University College, Cork, will be held in March at a number of centres throughout the country. Entry forms may be had from the Department of Agriculture, Dublin, and should be returned before February 18th.

The examination will be in two parts, written and oral. The written part will consist of a test in the mathematics of National University matriculation standard, a paper on elementary farming and an essay on a subject of an agricultural or rural nature. The oral test will be held at a later date and will be designed to determine the candidates' general suitability. Prospective students of the course should be between the ages of 18 and 30.

The course consists of 20 weeks technical training at U.C.D. starting in October next, 10 weeks practical work in the college creamery and finally a further 20 weeks technical training in the college. The Department of Agriculture is offering a number of bursaries to be awarded on the results of the examination. These bursaries do not cover the University fees but aid the holders to pay their board and lodging while they are studying or doing their practical work in a creamery.

The Diploma in Dairy Science which is awarded to those who complete the course successfully, qualifies the holders for the position of manager or assistant manager of a creamery or cream separating station. There are about 100 creameries and 440 separating stations in the 26 counties, and people holding the Diploma are often employed by semi-state and private firms on managerial or testing work.

CAMBODIAN PILE HOUSES

Thousands of Cambodians spend most of their lives on water. They are born, play, work, eat and sleep and eventually die in the cramped space of their pile houses or floating house boats. The Tonle Sap river plays curious tricks: in the dry season it drains the lake of Tonle Sap into the Mekong river and when the wet season arrives the Mekong river overflows back into the great lake which is swollen to four times its normal area. Here millions of fish spawn and grow fat on the submerged land. From October to January the fishermen glean a rich harvest as the yield of fish per square mile is probably the greatest in the world. The houses of the fishermen are made of wood, thatched with dried grasses and reeds, some are built on piles high above the water and are reached by ladder. Others are built on bundles of branches tied together which act as crude floats when the waters start to rise.

THE BRIDGE OF ABBEYSIDE
By the late Padraig O Milneatha, Gaelic scholar and poet

I stood on the bridge of Abbesside,
At midnight, and alone,
And watched the moonbeams on
The hills,
As I heaved with a drowsy
sigh,
Below me stood an old grey
tower,
A relic of Norman pride,
And its shadow dimmed the midnight hour,
On the bridge of Abbesside,
It seemed to speak in a whisper
low,
With a tremor of vanished
power,
I am the shade of your fallen brother,
From yonder lonely tower.

I once subdued the Deise clan,
And ruled from Suir to Bride,
For centuries long, before this time,
Appeared at Abbesside,
But my star has set, o'er the western main,
I've played and lost the game,
The clans have come to life
again,
And I am but a name,
And slightly there I stand and
sigh,
To the wind and the passing tide,
As I watch my conquerors go by
On the bridge of Abbesside.

The moon passed gently on her way,
The shadow disappeared,
And my mind went back to the distant day,
When that old "Pike" was feared,
That bulwark tower of foreign
power,
That scourged the country side,
And hissed a curse of that
tower,
From the bridge of Abbesside.

I stood on the bridge of Abbey-side,
When the sky was clear and blue,
When the sunbeams danced on every side,
And no shadow marred my view
I watched the heirs of a noble race,
Go by with an easy stride,
Yet that shadow seemed to haunt the place,
By the bridge of Abbesside.

When our sires were free,
As the winds that blew,
Along this native shore,
Their arms were strong and their hearts were true,
They were Gaelic to the core,
They played the music of the bard,
And sang his songs with pride,
But today, I fear, we've lost the trail,
By the bridge of Abbesside.

That lonely ghost in yonder
tower,
Has still a card to play,
Think yesterday we broke his
power,
Our minds are his today,
And that man's stare who led to year,
From the pastels path aside,
And there's food forthcoming
in the atmosphere,
Round the bridge at Abbesside.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Michael Tobin, Steady, Ballynamult, on his recent win in a Sunday newspaper X-Word Competition.

THE LAND OF THE MID-NIGHT SUN
At the summer solstice—about June 21st—the sun does not set, but sinks to the north point of the horizon at midnight at the Arctic Circle.

At the North Cape in Norway the sun is visible at midnight from May 12th to June 29th. This phenomenon is called the "land of the midnight sun".

Due to the inclination of the rotational axis of the earth, the sun is constantly visible for a period of four to eight hours to six months, according to the distance from the poles. At the equator, day and night are nearly equal—twelve hours light and twelve hours darkness.

BOUND TO PEACE
Thomas Loughlin, of Redburn Youghal, charged Thomas Fleming, of the same address, with using abusive and threatening language on December 26, 1958. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant threatened to kill him thereby provoking a breach of the peace.

After hearing evidence, the Justice found the defendant in this case, bound to keep of good behavior for six months, or in default, fourteen days imprisonment.

CIVIL BILL
Maurice Sipple of Ballymaddock, Youghal, was appointed in a civil bill in which Edmond Foley, Cashmore, Youghal, claimed £27 in damage to wheat and beet, caused by the defendant's cattle and horses.

Having heard the evidence, the Justice granted a decree for £7 and costs.

Fatal Crash Near Youghal Recalled

A fatal accident at Ballymacoda, Youghal, on September 19 last, had a sequel at the local Court last week, when James Cronin, Knockavary, Youghal, was summoned for dangerous driving. He was also charged with failing to yield the right-of-way at an uncontrolled road junction to a motor cyclist who was approaching from the opposite direction.

Mr. J. Kavanagh (Bass and Co., Cork) (for the defendant) and Supt. M. Staunton prosecuted. Mr. E. Finn held a watch in chief for an interested party.

Opening the case, Supt. Staunton said it was a sequel to a fatal accident, on September 19th last the defendant was driving towards Gortree, and had to cross an uncontrolled junction. In order to get back to Gortree he had to turn to the right and as defendant entered the junction, a motor-cyclist driven by David Irwin, of Ballymacoda, with his sister as a pillion passenger, went into the van. David Irwin sustained fatal injuries as a result. There was a high hedge at the Ballymacoda side which obscured the view.

In reply to Supt. Staunton, Miss Nora Irwin said she was a pillion passenger on her brother's motor cycle. At thirty or forty feet from the bend just as they came to the triangular patch, a van came from the Youghal direction. Her brother braked hard. She heard no horn sounded, and saw nothing until they were into the van. She thought their speed was normal. Mr. Kavanagh (to witness)—was it not 3 p.m. when the accident occurred and did you not know you would be late for work?

Patrick White, who was a passenger in the van, said, in reply to Supt. Staunton, that as they approached the cross they were travelling at 20 miles per hour, but at the bend they slowed to 12 miles. He saw no traffic until the van had almost cleared the bend, when he saw a motor-cyclist coming from the left-hand side. He could not say at what speed it was travelling, but he was near the centre of the road.

He heard a crash, the driver of the van braked and stopped in four feet.

In his statement, read by Supt. McCarthy, the defendant stated that as he was rounding the bend going left and right, he looked both right and left and saw no traffic. At from four to five yards from him he suddenly saw a motor-cyclist coming at a very fast speed and crashed into his van. There was nothing he could have done to avoid the accident. He got out of the van, and sent for a priest and doctor.

Giving his decision the Justice gave a direction on the dangerous driving charge, and on hearing the defendant's evidence, he dismissed the charge under the decausation fund.

We hope that Dr. Andrews is going to push ahead with the project as soon as possible.

COUNTY INSTRUCTOR IN LONGFORD
Our attention has been drawn to the views expressed by the Longford County Committee of Agriculture when they discussed the appointment of a County Instructor with an N.E.A. delegate, which met there recently. The County Committee made the point that they had no objection to appointing an Instructor provided it was clearly understood that there would not be any complaints because of a further increase in the rates.

Let us clarify this situation. The rate in Co. Longford is 1/4-1/2 in the £. Of this, 8d is devoted to providing the vital facilities and services for over 7,000 holdings. Of this 7,000 agricultural holdings in Longford, 5,000 are under 30 acres of land and the farmers are sorely in need of the best advisory service available.

It therefore is not a question of rate but a question of proper allocation of monies collected. In these times 8d out of every 4d is devoted to agriculture in a County such as Longford does not seem fair.

In conclusion, let us quote from the Programme for Economic Expansion passed before the Dail and the document which introduced the White Paper.

There is at present most for appointment of an additional Agricultural Instructors and the County Committee concerned will be encouraged to recruit more advisory staff until at least this number has been attained.

CATEL MORT FOR IDONEGAL
Almost 100% of the farmers on the Inchisheen Peninsula in Co. Donegal are members of the N.E.A. and on January 20th, they will open their Co-operative Livestock Mart in Carradough.

The mart, accommodation while not very large is nevertheless adequate for this rather small area of very small farms. There are 25 pens accommodating 200 cattle and an avery dial weigh-

N.F.A. News

BLACK DISEASE CONFIRMED
We have now received confirmation that the disease that is taking toll of large numbers of sheep, particularly in the West of Ireland is "Black Disease". While there have been occasional outbreaks of this killer in the past, it has never before been so prevalent as this year.

The disease is caused by the combined action of liver fluke and microbes and occurs in fluke infected areas. While many deaths in sheep may be due to acute fluke infestation, it is nevertheless true that a Veterinary Practitioner has succeeded in saving sheep from Black Disease by the use of the prescribed antiserum. This disease is painful but highly infectious and with such speed that animals apparently in good health in the evening may be found dead the following morning.

Some days ago, reports of deaths and complaints began pouring into the Veterinary Research Laboratory and our Veterinary Practitioners to do their best in the crisis and we are quite confident that this will be done.

FERRY SERVICE
Patrick White, Chairman of C.I.E. in his address to the Dublin Chamber of Commerce referred to the N.E.A. application to examine the feasibility of a ferry service from this county.

Ferry service, more commonly known as "Roll-on, Roll-off", is in fact a vessel on which loaded trucks can be driven from a specially constructed ramp. The boat then pulls out with the loaded trucks and on reaching its destination, the trucks drive off, hence the term "Roll-on, Roll-off".

The initiation of such a service between this county and Britain would mean that our farm produce, such as bacon, etc. would reach the market in the best possible condition. This would bring better prices and a higher reputation for our produce.

A problem immediately raised of course is the question of redundancy at our ports because ferry service obviates the necessity of the present quay-side man power. This has been overcome in British and European ports both with regard to container traffic and ferry service through the establishing of a decausation fund.

The Committee's conclusions were that:

1. Drinking water containing about 1 p.p.m. fluoride has a marked caries-preventive action. Maximum benefits are conferred if such water is consumed throughout life.

2. There is no evidence that water containing this percentage of fluoride impairs the general health.

3. Controlled fluoridation of drinking-water is a practicable and effective public health measure.

NINE TENDERS FOR YOUGHAL BRIDGE

The rebuilding of Youghal Bridge, closed to heavy traffic for more than twenty years, was taken a stage further on Monday when the Cork County Council, the body appointed to rebuild it, received nine tenders for a new bridge from local contractors.

The Chairman (Mr. M. P. Murphy, T.R.) said that of the nine tenders received two had been late. One of those two had been posted in good time, January 13th, but had not arrived until this morning.

The Manager and all concerned were anxious for everything to be in order legally. He thought all nine tenders should be examined, the people feeding with the tenders were satisfied that the Council would not disclose the figures yesterday and that the tenders be handed over to the Consultant Engineer.

DUNGARVAN MACRA ANNUAL DINNER

Over seventy members of the Dungarvan branch of Macra na Feirme attended the annual dinner and social of the club which was held at Egan's Hotel, and which proved to be very enjoyable.

Mr. Thomas Llewellyn, Kin-salebeg, the new organiser of the County, who was accompanied by his wife, was the guest of honour. The toast "The President of Ireland" was proposed by Mr. Patrick Morrissey, Ballycove, who is President of the Dungarvan club. Mr. Cyril Power, Chairman, proposed the toast "Our Guests".

Mr. Llewellyn replied to this toast and said that it gave him and his wife great pleasure to attend this club function. He praised the Dungarvan branch which had been one of the best in the County, and hoped that in the near future the club would regain its former status. He congratulated the members of the club on their successes during the past year when they won the county championship in Public Speaking, and had many successes in Stock Judging competitions.

Mr. W. O'Toole, who was present as a guest, said that with reference to a recent complaint concerning the award of marks in the Public Speaking competition Tallow versus Dungarvan, that he and Mr. Hogan of Moor-coke had been adjudicators. He was not a member of Macra na Feirme nor was he a native of this county. His colleague adjudicator was from County Kerry. He felt that there could be no doubt as to their neutrality in the competition. Marks had been allotted fairly in accordance with the rules.

The evening's entertainment ended with a dance and a general sing-song.

NEW ON THE BEAT

A new member on the staff of the Garda Síochana at Dungarvan Garda Barracks is Guard G. P. Quirk, who comes from Clare. He has just completed his course of training and was one of the fifty-one newly-trained guards, who took part in the passing-out parade, inspected by Mr. D. Costigan, Garda Commissioner, at the Training Depot Phoenix Park, Dublin. He was then assigned to the Dungarvan station for a year's duty, following which he will return again to the Depot Training Centre to complete the training, in company with his fifty colleagues who have been assigned to various stations throughout the county.

I.C.A. FEDERATION MEETING

The Dungarvan Technical School will be the focus of attention for all I.C.A. members in County Waterford on Saturday 24th at 3 p.m. The three-monthly Federation Meeting will be held, attended by the President, Miss N. Hynes, the Organiser, Miss Ann Roche, and the Secretary, Mrs. A. Bryghy, and several members from each of the twenty-one guilds in this area.

The meeting will be for the election of a new president, (Miss Hynes retires after three years), and the agenda will include a resolution from Waterford T.A. regarding Cancer Research, and an address from Mr. Roche.

Handicrafts will be on display, contributed by each Guild, and an attractive tea supplied by the members of the Dungarvan Town Association.

Another Saturday is expected to be a busy and interesting day for the I.C.A.

Water Fluoridation: EXPERTS' VIEWS

In view of recent and current controversies on the value of water fluoridation, it is felt that the findings of an Expert Committee which met under the aegis of the World Health Organisation may be of general interest.

The Expert Committee was composed of specialists from the fields of public health, dental research, toxicology and dental surgery, representing England, Brazil, Switzerland, U.S.A. and India.

The Committee pointed out in its Report, published by the World Health Organisation, that regional fluoridation programmes are already in successful operation in the following sixteen countries: Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Western Germany, Britain, Japan, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Panama (Canal Zone), Sweden and Venezuela. Fluoridation programmes have been planned for Norway and Switzerland, and will soon be in force.

In a summary of their report, the Expert Committee found that:

1. Dental Caries is one of the most prevalent and widespread diseases.

2. There is no hope of controlling the disease by present treatment methods alone.

3. Among the numerous preventive methods, the fluoridation of drinking-water supplies is the most promising.

4. The effectiveness, safety, and practicability of fluoridation as a caries-preventive measure has been established.

The Committee's conclusions were that:

1. Drinking water containing about 1 p.p.m. fluoride has a marked caries-preventive action. Maximum benefits are conferred if such water is consumed throughout life.

2. There is no evidence that water containing this percentage of fluoride impairs the general health.

3. Controlled fluoridation of drinking-water is a practicable and effective public health measure.

Hurlers open on winning note

Waterford senior hurlers opened the new year on a winning note when full value for their rather easy victory over a depleted Wexford fifteen in a challenge test at the City Sportsfield on Sunday last.

The opening exchanges were of an even nature. Wexford were to the homesters' 1-2, but were to the homesters' 1-2, but Wexford finished the stronger to register a further 3-4 against their opponents.

Despite the unfavourable conditions—a blinding rain and pitch that resembled a quagmire—the home fifteen remarkably fit for this time of the year gave further evidence of the seriousness with which they view their February 8th encounter with old rivals Kilkenny.

Joe Harney, who played at full-back in the absence of Austin Flynn, was the outstanding man in the rearward that was also brilliantly served by Jackie Conboy and Martin O'Grady. Grimes and Power combined to perfection at mid-field and generally had much the better of the exchanges with their Wexford opponents. Larry Guilin, a Frank Walsh and Tom Cheasty were the pick up front. Waterford's scores came from Guinan (2-0), Walsh (1-3), S. Flavin (1-0), Cheasty (0-2), P. Grimes (0-1).

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

A motion calling on the Minister to allow them to divert 50% of the main road grant to the county road improvement scheme has been adopted by Waterford Co. Council.

The matter arose as a result of a circular from the Minister setting out details of the road grants for 1959/60.

When the Council considered it in Dungarvan on Monday last, Colr. Norman Walsh described the Department's decision to transfer £2,600—out of a grand total of £26,908—as a step in the right direction.

Colr. M. Harby said that it was only right that the public should realise the Council had no say in the matter of grants.

The Chairman agreed that it was a step in the right direction and said that they might get a lot more next year.

Colr. Moran—it is a scandalous gesture, we should be entitled 50% at least.

Colr. Quirk—I think the best thing we could do is to take what we have been offered and fight for more next year.

Colr. Moran pointed out that they had over 1,000 miles of county roads in a scandalous condition. He then proposed the resolution referred to at the outset, from which Colr. Dowd dissented.

CLASHMORE TO HAVE EXTRA LIGHT

Waterford Co. Council, on the proposal of Colr. Charles Curran, seconded by the Chairman, agreed to put up £20 for the provision of an additional light in Clashmore village.

PUBLIC ADDRESS AT CO. HOME

The installation of the new public address system at the County Home, Dungarvan, was again raised by Ald. Tom Kynan T.D. at Monday's meeting of the Board of Assistance in the Courthouse, Dungarvan.

Ald. Kynan who was told by Mr. J. A. Hynes, Secretary, that the contractors were awaiting the arrival of the necessary equipment, urged that there should be no further delay in dealing with the matter.

TELEPHONE FOR KILBRIEN

Waterford Co. Council, on the proposal of Ald. William Kennelly, T.D., seconded by Mr. Kieran O'Ryan, agreed to adopt a motion tabled by Mr. John Faby, which requested the Department of Posts and Telegraphs to instal a public telephone at Kilibrien.

CALL FOR RESTORATION OF ROAD GRANT

Waterford Co. Council at a meeting in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Monday, unanimously agreed to request the Government to restore the Local Authorities Road Grants.

The resolution was proposed by Mr. Quirk and seconded by Mr. Michael Harby.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Celtic 2; Lismore 0

Although compelled to play out the final period with ten men—centreforward Mick Singleton retired with a groin injury at the halfway stage—Dungarvan Celtic very deservedly collected the points from their trip to Lismore on Sunday.

On a veritable quagmire the Boro side outplayed and outmanoeuvred the homesters, being full value for their convincing win at the end of a game that was as much a test of stamina as it was of pure ball play.

In the opening half Mick Singleton grabbed his usual goal and the second period saw John Noble repeat his effort of the previous week—converting a penalty when—invisibly right O'Brien was brought down in possession.

In addition to the loss of Singleton, Celtic had full-back Curtin a passenger on the wing for the final half an hour.

Armore, by their return supplemented by the resurgence of Eddie Mooney, Tom Power and Mossy Hallahan, will have Geraldines as visitors to the seaside venue on Sunday next.

The English men, with an eye to the coming Phelan Cup engagements, are sending their strongest available side for a test that should certainly be productive of most instructive fare. The game is timed for 2.45.
