LICENSED PREMISES GUTTED BY FIRE

Three licensed premises, known as "The Thicket" and situated at the upper end of Barrack Street, Tallow, was completely destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning last.

The fire was first noticed by Mr. Bill McCarthy, M.R.C.V.S., as he was returning from a call at about 2.30 pm. He roused the inhabitants—three ladies—named Miss Dolan Sheehan, Mrs. O'Rourke, Misses Mary and Ellen Sheehan.

The first to arrive on the scene were Mr. Dan McGowan and Mr. M. Davis, who together with Mr. McCarthy reconnected the water supply. The Dungarvan and Lismore fire brigades were summoned and the Tallow fire unit arrived on the scene, but owing to the roof being of thatch, little could be done to save the building which was completely gutted.

A cat lost its life in the fire. The cause of the fire is unknown. The Sheehan family have the sympathy of all in their loss.

Friars Inculcate Gaelic Spirit Says Minister

THREE SONS SCHOLARS

Stating that he felt the inculcation of the Gaelic spirit to be present here today at this happy and pleasant function," stated the Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, Mr. Sean Ormonde, T.D., Kilmacthomas, at the Annual Dinner of the St. Augustine's College, who by their presence display their pride in being products of such fine teachers as the Augustinian fathers.

FRIARY PAST PUPILS MEET

In the absence of Dr. John Kiely, Cork, the outgoing President, who was unavoidably delayed, Mr. Michael H. O'Hara, B.A., Dungarvan, presided temporarily for the election of President at the seventh annual general meeting of the St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan, past pupils' Union, held at the Friary Hall on Sunday.

ALL WALKS OF LIFE

The occasion, said Mr. Ormonde, must be one of pride and pride was the Augustinian see around the room, faces from the past people from all over the country, who are but a cross-section of the many thousands who received their education at the Friary in Dungarvan. It is a privilege to find in all walks of life all over the world—in the Priesthood in the Civil Service at home and abroad in all professions and who show those of them who return to have their lives on the land, the mark of the excellent training and teaching they have had at the hands of their scholastic tutors.

TRULY GAELIC SPIRIT

"I imagine it is hardly necessary for me to mention how deeply appreciative all those of games and sport, and especially the G.A., are of the efforts of the Augustinian fathers in building up the bodies of their charges," said the Minister. "They inculcate a truly Gaelic spirit and interest in the games and in particular the development of their Gaelic football ability. I note the Friary in Dungarvan regarded as the nursery of Waterford football. Remarkable return to the name they have made in the College Competitor, where they are regarded as truly formidable opponents by the very best of our Munster Colleges". The mark of their Gaelic spirit and interest in the games and in particular the development of their Gaelic football ability, I note the Friary in Dungarvan regarded as the nursery of Waterford football. Remarkable return to the name they have made in the College Competitor, where they are regarded as truly formidable opponents by the very best of our Munster Colleges".

RECRUITS FOR P.P.U.

Mr. Tadgh McCarthy, Dungarvan suggested that it might be feasible to have the members of the Executive Committee have a talk with the senior Leaving students at present in the College at the end of the year and outline for them the aims of the P.P.U. There might be a psychological aspect that would appeal to them; and encourage them to return, as members of the Union.

CULTURAL FIELD

In the cultural field too, the Augustinians have done excellent work. The boys of the College have on occasions given splendid performances which for their excellence have earned the praise of the most critical of theatre and opera-goers. The concert produced at the Friary Hall had always been entertaining and of great merit. The Hall was also at the disposal of any group which might desire its use for amateur performances.

THE MINISTER RECEIVED A TREMENDOUS WELCOME FROM THE PAST PUPILS WHEN HE WAS INTRODUCED TO THE ASSEMBLY BY VERY REV. FR. BROWNE, O.S.A., PRIOR, WHO PRESIDED AT THE DINNER. SUSTAINED APPLAUSE GREETED THE MINISTER'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Ormonde, "for affording me the opportunity, by inviting me here today, of publicly expressing my gratitude to them for their good work. I wish them every blessing and success in their efforts in the future". The Minister received a tremendous welcome from the past pupils when he was introduced to the assembly by Very Rev. Fr. Browne, O.S.A., Prior, who presided at the dinner. Sustained applause greeted the Minister's address.

Mr. C. Kiely said that a good press report of the annual meeting and press photographs would call the eye of many a not Friary boy who would be likely to say "I wish I had been there".

From the point of view of interest the Field Day held on Sunday last could be described as one of the best held for a while. There was a very good attendance and a big number of teams competed. Congratulations are extended to the Pilltown Team composed of Cpl. Michael Forrest, Privates Jim Fitzgerald and Bertie Hallahan who carried off the team prize in face of stern opposition from the teams from other Centres. Dungarvan 'D' Team were second and this Team had Privates John O'Dwyer, Gerald Kieley and Michael Foley in their ranks. The individual champion was Private John O'Dwyer with Private Mick O'Shaughnessy runner-up after a shoot off with Private Thomas Egan.

Captain R. Keating, Battalion O/C presented the prizes to the winners and congratulated all on their attendance and the standard of shooting. POTENTIAL N.C.O.s COURSE A course for Potential N.C.O.s will be run in the C.T. Depot, Cork, during the coming Summer Training Period in July. It is the intention of the Battalion Commander to send a big number on this Course and so bring the number of N.C.O.s up to strength in the Battalion. Candidates must be of three Star rank but any one or two star men anxious to do an N.C.O.s Course can do the required star tests at any of their local parades. Anyone who feels he would like a chance to do this course should hand in his name to Battalion Headquarters or to any Officer of the Battalion between now and 1st July. A decision as to who will be sent on the course will be made then.

SUNDAY, 12th APRIL Do not forget Sunday's Field Day, particularly those who may be shooting in the Area Championships on May 3rd. From what we hear there is likely to be very tough opposition on that date. Truck leaves Battalion Headquarters at 11 o'clock and will call to Ring, 11.30, and Ardmore at 11.45 a.m.

CAPPOQUIN NEWS

LATE MAJOR-W. J. CULLINANE

His many friends in this, his native town, have learned with deep regret of the death of Major Walter J. Cullinane, which took place in the South Infirmity, Cork, on last Sunday. Only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Cullinane, who for many years were prominent in business circles here. He qualified as a chemist and went to the U.S.A. He joined the American Army and rose to the rank of Major. On his retirement he returned to Ireland and took up residence in Lismore of which town his wife (née Coleman) was a native. During his frequent visits to his native Cappoquin he renewed his associations with his old friends. He had a particular interest in the Rowing Club of which he was a member in his early years and was one of the club's vice-presidents and a very generous patron. To his widow and other relatives much sympathy is extended on the passing of this very fine gentleman.

BLOOD BANK

Some eighty persons acted as blood donors when members of the Cork centre attended here on last Wednesday night. The medical officer in charge expressed himself very pleased with the wonderful response to their appeal and returned his warm thanks to the members of the I.C.A. who had sponsored the visit.

LUCKY PEOPLE

This week's lucky people include Mr. John Curran, Mass Lane, winner of a prize in a weekly pool and the following whose names were drawn from the drum in the Parochial novena draw: Mr. J. J. McGrath, Campshire, Mother Mercy, Convent of Mercy; Mr. S. Power, Shrough; Margaret O'Donoghue, and Miss Whelan c/o Lenahes, G.A.A. We learn that our senior hurlers will travel to Youghal on next Sunday to meet St. Catherine's in a medal tournament.

Kilmacthomas, Stradbally and Kilrossanty News

Sympathy in full measure is extended to a very gracious and worthy figure in the business life of Kilmacthomas in the person of amiable Mrs. S. L. Batty, general merchant and newsagent, Main Street, on her recent sad bereavement, occasioned by the death of her highly respected father, the late Mr. William Aulde, Fethard-on-Sea, Co. Wexford, a well known and popular personality all over the Model County.

Macra na Feirme-At the annual general meeting of the progressive Kilmacthomas Branch of above flourishing national organisation the following officers were elected for the ensuing twelve months: President, Mr. D. J. Coughlin; vice-presidents, Messrs. Michael Harney and Michael Quail; Chairman, Mr. Patrick Wall; vice-Chairman, Mr. Ken Murphy; Hon. May Their Good Luck Never Desert Mr. Edmund Shanahan, Bridgetown, Clonea-Power (winner of 1st prize, £5); Miss Marian Moore, Munbrough, do. (2nd prize, £3), and Mr. J. Carey, 3, Keane's Road, Waterford (3rd prize, £1)-the successful trio of ticket-holders in the grand drawing of prizes under the aegis and in aid of Clonea-Power Cumann Fianna Fail-the Committee and members of which are truly thankful to all and sundry who helped in any way towards making the draw the great success it proved to be.

Gaelic Garneries-An Eastern Divisional Minor Football championship first round tie decided at Newtown on Sunday last lay between Portlaw and Newtown with Jim Allen (Dunhill H. and F. Club) in charge of the whistle. Onlookers saw the nipper, better combining and more polished than any other team convincingly ranney town participation in round two of the competition. Also decided on Low Sunday was the meeting of Stradbally and Kilrossanty in their initial minor footballers of the Western Divisional minor football championship, 1959. Played at the Stradbally venue, spectators witnessed the rivalling fifteen giving of their very best, sounded the long whistle emerged from the encounter well ahead of the homesters on the score-sheet.

The subjoined brace of 1st championships in Eastern Divisional championships are down for decision tomorrow (Sunday). Junior hurling, Clonea-Power versus Ballyduff Lower, at Newtown, 3 p.m.; Mount Sion v. Kilmacthomas, at Dunhill, 3 p.m.; in connection with the latter requested to be ready with burleys and tops to board the bus to leave the town at 1.30 p.m. punctually for Dunhill. By the way, it is generally expected that the winners of the Newtown mix will not be worsted in any final. Of course, the Cnoc Sion standard-bearers will field out favoured favourites against the nevertheless, this hardy young team should not be easily eclipsed.

Have it that the members of the Ballylonean Cumann Fianna Fail, will be concerned with not a few matters of local importance at their meeting to-night (Saturday, 11th inst.), at 8 o'clock. Unforgettably Enjoyable was the very very largely attended tenth annual dance sponsored by the Kilmacthomas Guild, Macra na Feirme, held in the Rathbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, on the first night of this week, it was commencing at 9.30 and was a rollicking 9 to 3 affair from The Blue Aces Showband and the dancers entering fully into the spirit of the post-Lenten function. As usual, at the hands of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Casey, Grand Central Shop, Kilmacthomas, the catering was all that could reasonably have been desired.

EXAMINER WILL CALL Youghal Harbour Commissioners expect a visit soon from a Department Inspector to examine the project of extending the quay wall to protect fishing craft.

SALMON NET FISHING Towards the close of last week a few boats operating in the harbour had good results while the boats in the bay and upriver had a fair catch for the week. At the opening of the present week salmon were said to be rather scarce in all parts of the district. Last week some boats at Ballinacash area did very well in the early part of the week. So far the results have not been startling but they are definitely an improvement in comparison with the same two months February and March of last year. There would want to be a stir up as the season is now entering into the half way mark.

DEEP REGRET WAS FELT IN THE town at the announcement recently of the sad and unexpected death of Mrs. Nora Wandle of 6, Clifton, Youghal, which took place at Youghal Cottage Hospital after a few days illness, formerly of Nenagh, the deceased was a great favourite in the town being a wife of Garda Denis Wandle. She survived by her two sons and three daughters to whom sincere sympathy is extended. The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church, from where the funeral, which was both large and representative, took place at North Abbey cemetery. The chief mourners were: Mr. Denis Wandle, G.S. (husband); Mr. James Peg and Andy Wandle and Mr. Finn Denis Wandle (sons); Mrs. W. Mackay, Nenagh, and Mr. Mar. Mackay, London (brothers); Joyce, Louisa, Youghal and Mrs. Michael Wandle (brothers-in-law); Mrs. Terry Finn (son-in-law); Mrs. W. Mackay, Mr. S. McGrath and Mr. Egan (relatives); Rev. J. O'Connell, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir, 1942 was a year of national emergency in Ireland and many of the old soldiers of the War of Independence again stood to arms. Some of them conceived of an Annual Commemorative Dinner in which all men and women who had taken part in the fight during the years 1916-1921 should be invited.

The first Dinner was held in the Gresham Hotel on the 30th April, 1942. It was the first time in twenty years (after the division caused by the Civil War) that so many old comrades met again in social reunion, and it was an enthusiastic success, nearly 500 guests attending. Reunions have now been held and they have been a marked contribution to the cause of national unity.

The 18th Annual Dinner will take place in Clery's Restaurant on Thursday, April 23rd, at 7.00 p.m. Comrades from all parts of Ireland are particularly invited. As the numbers have to be limited the Dinner Committee may not be able to issue tickets to late applicants. This Committee is self-constituted and is not attached to any institution whatsoever. Tickets are 17/6 each, and all correspondence should be addressed to: The Hon. Secretary, T. R. Atkins, 70, South Circular Road, Portobello, Dublin, Phone 51426.

BOXING NEWS

Connacht defeated Munster by five contests to four in the Provincial Duggan Shield Competition, in Sarsted Barracks, Limerick. Of the four contests won by Munster two of the winners were from the Dungarvan club. These were F. North and T. Sheehan. Best bout of the night was that between Noel Leonard, Irish International and Junior Champion, and Tommy Sheehan, Munster Senior Champion, in a light welter contest. Unfortunately Sheehan's eye was badly cut in the fourth round and he being well ahead of points, was awarded the decision, Sheehan has never boxed as well and gave a great display against a seasoned opponent in Leonard, who holds two wins over M. Harvey, who won the Irish Senior Championship, recently.

F. North, Dungarvan, beat D. Murray, on a k.o. in the second round. North was recently defeated on points after a great fight against C. McCoy, Irish Champion and International.

BUILT TO LAST

Belvedere House in Great Denmark Street was built in the latter half of the 18th century for the second Earl of Belvedere. At that time the city was comparatively rural, but its proximity to the city, particularly to the fashionable Rounda gardens, made it a most desirable situation. A splendid example of Georgian building, Belvedere House incorporates some of the most elaborate and beautiful plaster-work in Dublin, executed by native craftsmen. It continued as a centre of fashionable society until the death of the Earl, and after one or two subsequent tenancies came into the hands of the Jesuit Fathers in 1841. By that time it had suffered the dilapidation of neglect, but after careful restoration it reassumed its former grace and dignity. Today, after more than a century, it remains a seat of learning with a fine tradition, and a noble history.

THEY BOUGHT A HOUSE WITH THEIR WINNINGS

A young couple in Wales have just won enough money to buy a house, and so they say it is conclusive proof of the Legend of the 300 year old Wishing Cork Tree. Another couple had a piece of Lucky Cork sent them by a relative and got an empty house two days afterwards. A piece of Cork was sent to a young man in Doncaster for a penny and won £3900 on a penny points pool. A wife gave her doubting husband a piece of Lucky Cork for his birthday and two weeks after he won £1500. A mother sent each of her sons a piece and one of them won £4003 in a sweepstake. If you would like further particulars, send stamped addressed envelope to Wishing Cork Tree, Combe-in-Teignhead, Devon.

GREETINGS TO AUSTRALIA

From the far-off Antipodes a regular reader, Very Rev. Fr. J. Foley, P.P., at Walgett, Australia, who is a native of Affane, and who has been absent from his home district for over fifteen years, wrote recently asking the Editor for news of Affane and friends. About the same time an "Observer" reporter turned in the story of the Affane Dramatic Society, which we now print in this issue with our compliments. We hope the mention of familiar names and districts in the article will evoke pleasant memories for Father Foley.

OUT OF ADVERTISY A DRAMA GROUP IS BORN

When the members of the Affane hurling and football club found themselves hard hit for funds they turned, not to the sunlit green sward of the playing pitch—but to the blaze of the footlights on an indoor stage, for their fund-raising campaign. Lacking a suitable venue they were unable to rely on matches to raise funds. That was back in 1954, and now the Affane Players have concluded another successful year of dramatic productions.

A TRADITION

Five years ago when the Affane group began their amateur dramatic careers they had the distinction of being the only hurling and football club in the county to have a drama section—and they only thought of moving stagewards because the club's kitty was nearly empty. On Wednesday before Christmas Day 1954 they started what has since become a tradition when the new play company produced their first play—a two-act comedy—appropriately enough entitled "The Hurling Final", at the Desmond Cinema in Cappoquin. They have staged a new show there on the Wednesday prior to Christmas, each year since.

WEDDING BELLS

The marriage, with Nuptial Mass and Paeal Blessing, took place on Easter Tuesday, March 31st, at St. Declan's Church, Ardmore, of Mr. Dennis Gibson, B.A., B. Comm., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibson, Swansea and Miss Phyllis Browne, elder daughter of Mrs. J. Browne and the late Patrick Browne, Mitchell Street and O'Connell Street, Dungarvan.

LAST MOVE

Pauline McGuire's "The Last Move", which went into rehearsal early in 1957 for the 1957-'58 season, was Father Callanan's last move with the Affane group as their producer, as he left to take up duty in Ballinacourty that year. New players who joined the group that year were Mary Noonan who works on a farm, and Joan Scanlon who helps in her father's butcher-shop. The play was staged as usual at the Desmond Cinema first of all, and later at the Cappoquin Drama Festival, Ring Hill and at Leamybrien. With no book of the play available the group had to type their own scripts. A presentation was made to Father Callanan by the plays in London club hurling. An in-form Kiely—and by all accounts he is playing as well as ever—could mean a world of difference to our prospects...

HURLERS FOR FINAL

Waterford victory, as expected, proved for the formidable...

Indeed, the general reaction among members, I'm told, is that there will have to be a hundred fold improvement if we are to have any hope of successfully challenging champions Tipperary in the decider.

Waterford played without F. Walsh whose place was taken by Ballygunnary's Troy.

The half-time score saw Waterford leading 2-4 to nil.

KILKENNY IS THE VENUE

NOWLAN Park, Kilkenny, has been agreed on as the venue for the final of the National hurling league.

The panel of players from which the Waterford team will be selected, will be announced this week-end. It is understood that an intensive course of preparation has been blueprinted—it will probably be carried out under the direction of John Keane, who has acted as team trainer for the past couple of years.

Incidentally, Tom Cunningham, who sustained a nasty hand injury during the National football league game against Tipperary on February 1st, will not be available for May 3rd.

More encouraging are the reports of John Kiely's great desire to go ahead with that new house of reconstruction of your home, ask Ed O'Brien and Sons for a Free Estimate.

Stradbally Concert

The Old Parish Players, who have had such a successful winter season, will present their record breaking play "Dream of the Greenhills" in Stradbally on Sunday night.

Margaret Barry

Margaret Barry, the famous singing tinny-lady, will be with the Comeragh Valley Cell Band at the Ballyhugh Hall, Kilmac on April 23rd.

Colleges Hurling

The CBS Rice Cup team travel to Waterford on Thursday next (10th) to play Cross Blinn. Ballyhugh beat them in the final last year by two points, and with a better team this year, the hard and fast ground hurling of the local boys should bring them the points.

POSTPONED

The first round clash of Af-fane and Ballinacorney junior hurlers which was arranged for Cappoquin on Sunday next, has been postponed at the request of the latter club. It is understood that the re-fixture will be for April 20th.

BOBO SCANLON REINSTATED

BOBO SCANLON, of Geraldines, who incurred a six months suspension as a result of having played illegally in the Phelan Cup last February, has had the sentence struck out by the Clermency Council of the Association.

The Council, which met in Dublin prior to the Easter Congress, upheld Scanlon's appeal and agreed that he had been the victim of extenuating circumstances. The appeal was circumstanced by the Co. Board.

Mid-fielder Scanlon lined out with Geraldines against St. Vincent's in the second round of the Phelan Cup on February 14th, one month after he had received "marching orders" in a hurling match against Cappoquin, believing that the customary suspension of twenty-eight days had expired.

It subsequently transpired that referee Donal Whelan, who was in charge of the Geraldines-Cappoquin clash, had reported Scanlon for striking an opponent, an offence which carries a minimum sentence of two months.

This, in effect, meant that he was still under suspension when he returned to the Phelan Cup tie. As a result, he automatically incurred a further suspension of six months.

The County Chairman, Padraig O'Fainin, who said his hands were tied by general rules, suggested that the case should be appealed to the Clermency Council, which meets annually, in view of the circumstances.

The result of the appeal was learned with considerable satisfaction by Geraldines supporters who have long regarded near-veteran Scanlon as one of the most wholehearted players in the game. And his return to duty will certainly strengthen their hand for the vital engagement with Brickey Rangers in the semi-final of the Phelan Cup on June 7th.

MOTION REJECTED

Waterford's motion which called for the formation of two separate divisions for the National football league competition—a long felt want—was rejected by a single vote when Congress met in Dublin on Easter Sunday.

SHANDON WIN STREET LEAGUE

The Shandon team (Na Plundreidh) defeated the Square (Na Piarasigh) in the final of the Minor Football Street League on Sunday at the Christian Brothers Sportsfield, Dungarvan. It was a good, well-contested match from the start, with a high standard of football and played amid high enthusiasm in a good sporting spirit of friendly rivalry.

The winners will receive a set of barleys presented by Dungarvan H. & F. Club.

AGLISH GYMKHANA

A first-class course, three jumping competitions and a novel addition, a trotting contest, should make for an exceptional afternoon's entertainment when Aghish Harriers stage their annual gymkhana at Aghish on Sunday.

HURLING AT AGLISH

Ardmore outplay Ring

BETTER all-round balance, an advantage that was most pronounced in front of goal, was probably the really decisive factor in this hard-fought junior hurling battle which was waged under ideal weather conditions at Aghish on Sunday last.

Although Ring, who were making their first ever appearance in the competition, were well served individually, they were, in sharp contrast to the well-knit Ardmore fifteen, also burdened by a good deal of "dead weight".

The result was that the plucky Gaeltacht side, after a promising enough start, faded steadily and were to all intents and purposes completely out of the picture when the big guns finally ran out of gas.

Ardmore, though by no means a great side, played the more methodical brand of hurling. Their backs always appeared to have the measure of a disjointed opposition, and at the attack, after a first half of squandered opportunities, finished the hour on a high note.

Although the standard of performance was no more than mediocre at the best of times, the exchanges were most earnestly contested and the man to man clashes, positively gruelling at times, were of such a nature as to maintain the interest of a small attendance to the very end.

The winners had a first-rate net-minder in Murphy, whose good deliveries were perhaps the outstanding feature of the game. Eddie Mooney, Mossie Hallahan and Mick Carlon were supreme in defence. Tom Power and John Joe Carlon maintained an even keel at mid-field, and Jim Cullen, Pato Keevers, Tommy Hallahan and Kevin Gallagher were largely instrumental in running up the winning total.

In a Ring side which did its best work in defence and at mid-field, the Hartly brothers, Tommy McGrath, Silvester Murray, Jimmy Walsh and Eamon Meehan were most conspicuous.

Ardmore had the only score of the first half, a goal that was finished by the net by Tommy Hallahan after fifteen minutes play. Jim Cullen landed a point ere the second period was a minute old; Kevin Gallagher added with a goal, which was supplemented by further 2-1 before the long whistle. In between Murray was responsible for the losers 1-1.

Ardmore: L. Murphy (goal); J. Morrissey, M. Hallahan, P. J. Lenane, M. Maguire, E. Mooney, M. Carlon, T. Power, J. J. Carlon, J. Cullen, K. Gallagher, D. Hallahan, P. Keevers, D. O'Brien, Sub. F. Hallahan (for Morrissey).

Liam Croty handled the game in his usually capable manner.

Honour System Praised

Those of you who were here last year were told that we had introduced a new system of discipline - the Prefect System - stated Rev. Fr. C. Butler, O.S.A., Rector of St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan.

District Justice Skinner, at Dungarvan Court on Wednesday adjourned for six months the case against 17 year old Patrick Costigan, Cathal Brugha Place who was charged with unlawfully assaulting another youth, George Wright, also of Cathal Brugha Place by striking him with a hurley on the head and occasioning him actual bodily harm.

Inspector Spellman, who outlined the case, stated that the incident occurred at the local ball alley on March 17th. During the course of a game the ball went out of play and was thrown back by the defendant Costigan, passing Wright's face as it did so. Wright took exception to this and as a result of some words passed between them, the defendant went outside the alley, picked up a hurley, came back and struck Wright on the head, knocking him unconscious for a time. As a result he was detained in hospital.

There was, continued the Inspector, a certain amount of bad feeling between them, but there was no justification at all for the assault. They were not, however, pressing the matter.

Mr. A. V. Maher, Solr. (Messrs Farrell and Morrissey) who appeared for the defendant, said it was his intention to strike Wright on the legs. The latter, however, saw him coming, ducked and dived at his legs and as a result received the blow on the head. Costigan was, he said, otherwise very well behaved and he wished to assure the Court that he would do nothing like it again. There was a certain amount of bad feeling between the parties, the defendant never intended to strike Wright on the head.

The Justice, after stressing the seriousness of the offence—youths could have killed him, he told the defendant—adjourned the case for six months to see how he behaves in the meantime. Fines of 10/- per summons on a number of charges involving failure to file returns as required by the Companies Act, 1908, brought by the Minister for Industry and Commerce against Lawlor's Hotel, Hurley, 30, Cathal Brugha Place, and John Burke of no fixed abode, who were charged with being drunk and disorderly, the complainants were Garda Griffin and Holland.

Garrett Moylan, of Cathal Brugha Place, who was charged with dangerous driving of a pony and cart at Grattan Square on March 6th, was given the benefit of the P.O.A.

AGLISH GYMKHANA

A first-class course, three jumping competitions and a novel addition, a trotting contest, should make for an exceptional afternoon's entertainment when Aghish Harriers stage their annual gymkhana at Aghish on Sunday.

Department syllabus, such as debating, how to conduct meetings, verse-speaking, production and organization of concerts and plays, even the writing of scripts for such concerts - all of which were an essential part of modern school life.

Prepared for every calling

"Though the primary aim of this college is to get vocations for the Order, said Fr. Butler, it is not by any means exclusively for that purpose. It is open to all boys whether or not they have a vocation. Boys were prepared for every calling, he said, and they were fully aware that they had in their hands the moulding of the material that will go to make not only future priests but also future citizens of the state and of the world.

A big percentage of their boys had chosen the priesthood over the years. The percentage had risen to 60 per cent. In one year they had 10 out of 15, in another 15 out of 25 choosing the priesthood. They also sent a small contingent steadily year-by-year to St. John's College, Waterford. I am glad to take this opportunity, said the Rev. Rector, of welcoming five of the students of our past-pupils from St. John's here today. We have had them at present, with one in Maynooth and perhaps half a dozen in other colleges for the secular priesthood. I think you will agree that it is a healthy sign of our college to have so many of its pupils think of St. Priesthood. There were many influences at work in a vocation, but environment and example play a big part. Edmund Burke said of his pupils that "the school of mankind and they will learn of no other".

Parents demand too much

I think that parents demand too much of a school, said Fr. Butler. They are inclined to leave to the school authorities what only they themselves can do, in this matter of character-formation we can only improve on the home influence the first and primary influence on the child's mind. Where the child's character is formed, it remains for the teacher to direct and perfect it, but when it is warped by bad home training, the teacher can help very little to undo it.

He was glad that the Government had seen fit to restore the capitation grant to its original estimate, stated the Rev. Fr. Rector. They felt that parents are burdened to the breaking-point as far as paying for their child's education was concerned. Fees were already high enough, but the price of school books was prohibitive. Only that the Government comes to the rescue schools could not carry on. It could be a great relief if some-thing could be done to make books available to schools at a cheaper rate.

Revolution in Irish

Referring to a statement made by the new President of the Association of Secondary Teachers of Ireland in her congress address in which said Rev. Fr. Butler she advocated the abolishment of examinations. Person-substitute. Boys will not exert all that they are capable of unless they are not examined.

themselves to study unless there is a definite test ahead in the shape of an examination. He believed that the recently introduced oral examination in Irish will revolutionise the speaking of Irish. It had started a new enthusiasm for the language already. What is being done for merely academic purposes may blossom out into a sincere love for the language among the younger pupils. The very fact that so many are anxious to go to the Gaeltacht every summer may be the turning point in the language revival. Their aim should be to make their secondary schools more nationally minded. Their support so far has been confined to games. If they could imbibe some of the spirit of the folk-schools of Denmark and Sweden, by encouraging Irish music, dances, folklore and local history, a knowledge of and pride in the history and lore of their own townland, parish, county where every field and old abbey or castle offers an inexhaustible source of knowledge, it would also help the language movement of the state and of the world. They also sent a small contingent steadily year-by-year to St. John's College, Waterford. I am glad to take this opportunity, said the Rev. Rector, of welcoming five of the students of our past-pupils from St. John's here today. We have had them at present, with one in Maynooth and perhaps half a dozen in other colleges for the secular priesthood. I think you will agree that it is a healthy sign of our college to have so many of its pupils think of St. Priesthood. There were many influences at work in a vocation, but environment and example play a big part. Edmund Burke said of his pupils that "the school of mankind and they will learn of no other".

Fr. Butler said: I would like to say a word of special thanks to our very energetic local committee. They have been tireless in their efforts to organise concerts and public entertainments in our hall for the Friary Deb. We in the community appreciate those efforts. Next I must say how much we are indebted to the good Sisters of the Convent of Mercy for their excellent catering. He also thanked the Minister, Mr. Sean O'Riada, T.D. for his attendance and address.

FRIARY PAST PUPILS UNION

Good Counsel College, New Ross, suggested publication of the school annual, the formation of strong regional groups, a link with the new boys and contact with the pupils of '56, '57, and '58.

Rev. Fr. Coffey, suggested the holding of the annual general meeting during the school year as a College without pupils seemed dead.

Mr. Eddie Spratt, M.L.A.A., Dungarvan, asked if any of them did anything during the year to encourage new members. If each one of his respective county got one other they would have thirty or more new members next year. "I do not agree with this pessimistic outlook," he said. "We should just keep going and I predict that in ten years time this hall will not hold the attendance we will have."

Fr. O'Shaughnessy, O.S.A., Dungarvan, asked what does the Union do all the rest of the year. He suggested that the members might try to secure employment for the College boys, as their Union should be more than a social event. The pupils of the College should attend the annual meeting as guests, an inter-college game could be arranged and a show in the hall that night.

It was finally unanimously agreed that an experiment for the third year, the balance of the Loan can then be repaid over a period of ten years by equal half-yearly instalments.

Farmers to get more credit

The shortage of credit for capital investment in agriculture has been a major obstacle to agricultural development in this country. Short term credit for manures and seeds has been freely available from merchants each spring on the undertaking that it will be met in full when the crops are cashed in the autumn. Merchant credit for fertilisers is, therefore, mainly confined to fertilisers for grain and root crops, being restricted generally to a figure which the farmer can reasonably expect to meet on the sale of his crops. Heavy purchases of fertilisers to an extent necessary to satisfy the deficiencies in our grass and marginal land are not possible under ordinary trading conditions. Nor should a farmer be expected to meet in one year a large capital outlay, the fruits of which will not be reaped in full for three years or maybe longer. This is only one form of investment for which credit facilities are urgently needed. It is necessary to emphasise that no money expended on the farm will bring a better return than that invested in fertilisers.

Every farmer in need of credit for any productive purpose is invited to consult the Manager of the nearest branch of the National Farm Credit Office who will assist and advise him in confidence on his problems.
