SEQUEL TO COLLISION

Successful claim by former hurling star

MICHAEL Curley, who earned the reputation of one of hurling's all-time greats when guarding the net for Waterford twenty years ago, was the plaintiff in a claim for damages which came before His Lordship Judge Fawcett at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday last.

The case arose out of a collision between Mr. Curley's Ford Cortina car and a station wagon driven by Mr. Dan Delaney, of Tallow, at Moorhill, on the Tallow-Kilwaterterry road last June.

Mr. Curley's car was extensively damaged as a result of the collision which occurred on a 121 foot viaduct just beyond the entrance to the estate of Major Maxwell.

Mr. Clarke, B.L., who was instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Murphy, solicitors, Dungarvan, appeared for the plaintiff, and the defendant was represented by Mr. Desmond, B.L.

Mr. Walsh, B.L., produced a map of the area as shown to him by Sergeant Sheehy and Mr. Curley. He estimated that the drivers of two vehicles coming from opposite directions and keeping their own sides would see one another at a distance of 120 feet.

Mr. Curley, the plaintiff, deposed that on 14th June last he was driving from Tallow down the Moorhill road. As he approached the gates at Maxwell's he sounded the horn and was well in on his own side of the road, which he knew well.

When he saw defendant's vehicle approach he moved in still further as he knew from his position that there would be a head-on collision—it was coming straight for him.

Mr. Curley went on to say he stopped his car just at the point of impact. His left front mudguard was more or less buried in the wall and his right side was marked by Delaney's vehicle, which carried on for about three or four lengths of car before coming to a halt. Plaintiff added that he could have done nothing else to avoid the collision.

When he got out of the car he noticed some marks running alongside, which he saw came from his own car, as he had just washed it. The headlamp, fog lamp and front bumper were damaged.

In reply to Counsel for the defence, Mr. Curley said that Delaney's car was about six or seven yards away when he saw it on the bend. He did not, he added, know that there were stones sticking out from the wall at his left-hand side, which he was hugging at the time of impact.

Sergeant Sheehy, Tallow, stated that when he arrived on the scene he found Curley's car faced towards Kilwaterterry with the front mudguard stuck in the wall at the left hand side and the rear wheel eleven inches from the wall on the same side. There was a trail of mud which started under the right door of Curley's car and extended for eleven feet in the direction of Delaney's vehicle. He examined it and was satisfied that it came from Delaney's wagon. With the assistance of plaintiff and defendant he measured the road and found it to be 13 feet wide at the point Delaney's car was 5' 2" and Curley's 5' 8".

Decree for Creamery

The breaking and entering of Grange Creamery last February had another echo at the local Circuit Court on Tuesday last, when, Dungarvan Co-Operative Creameries Ltd. brought a successful claim for £618.0 in respect of malicious damages against Waterford County Council.

Mr. James Prendergast, Manager of the Grange branch, who outlined the nature of the damage, deposed that he saw two men in a strange car approach the vicinity of the Creamery premises at about 9 o'clock on the night of February 9th.

Mr. Prendergast stated that when he arrived there on the following morning he found that a plate glass window on the shop side of the creamery had been broken in. There was a pick-axe lying against the wall, and the door of the coal house, in which the axe was kept, had been forced open. On investigation he found a quantity of cigarettes and cash missing.

His Lordship, Judge Fawcett, agreed to the suggestion of Mr. J. Lovatt-Dolan, B.L., who appeared for the County Council, to have the amount claimed placed spread over the county at large.

Payment Out Of Court

His Lordship Judge Fawcett directed the payment of £10 to Mary Condon, a minor claiming through her father, Timothy Condon, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday last, in which Mr. E. P. Lardner, solicitor, who represented the applicant, stated that the sum of £150 had been lodged to her credit on the

DEATH ON THE SWEEP

The tragic story of Billy Telford

THE tragic story of how Billy Telford of Mount-rath met his death while taking part in a hill-climb at Dungarvan, on Sunday, was told in the course of an inquest held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Saturday, when a verdict of accidental death in accordance with the medical evidence was returned by the jury.

The inquest was held by Dr. Daniel Healy, Coroner for West Waterford. Supt. Flanagan represented the Garda Authorities. Miss Feggie Morris, Solr., Clonmel, was in attendance representing the Tipperary Light Car and Motor Club, while Mr. E. P. King, Solr., Dungarvan, was present representing the widow of Mr. Telford, and the family.

Mr. Noel Burke, Clonmel, vice-Chairman of the Tipperary Light Car and Motor Cycle Club stated that he was present at the hill climb outside Dungarvan on the Dungarvan-Youghal road. Witness knew the late Mr. Telford and was aware that he was taking part in the hill climb.

Deceased had taken part in similar hill climbs during the past three or four years. On this occasion he was driving a Triumph TR3. Witness did not see the crash but he knew it had occurred and that Mr. Telford was injured.

Mr. Patrick Lyons, 7 Marion Terrace, Clonmel, stated in evidence that he was a member of the Tipperary L.C. & M.C.C. On the day in question he was outside Dungarvan. It was part of his duties to post marshalls 14 flag marshalls and 31 road marshalls spread around the course which was 17 miles long and which is popularly known as The Sweep.

Witness knew the deceased to see and knew that he was taking part in the hill climb that day. "I actually gave him a hand to start out on the course," he added. "He went off quite normally in a TR3 car which was entry number 10. Within half a minute later I saw No. 2 Red Flag being waved on the bend and knew there had been trouble on the course."

Witness said that he learned that Mr. Telford had crashed and was badly injured. To the best of his knowledge this had taken place on the course. In reply to Miss Morris witness stated that the event is held under R.I.A.C. rules. In further replies he stated that the course was inspected by an official of the R.I.A.C. before the event took place that day and on all occasions. The cars taking part in the event are also examined by scrutineers before the event to ensure that they are in perfect mechanical order. Witness also stated in reply to Miss Morris that it was a condition of entry that a driver's experience must be made known. He added that deceased was a very experienced driver.

In reply to Mr. King witness was aware that both the course and the cars were inspected before the event on the occasion.

Mr. David Tobin, 41, Oliver Plunkett Terrace, Clonmel, said that he was a member of the First Aid unit on the course that day. He was a member of the No. 3 Unit South Tipperary Red Cross and was on duty with six other members on the course. "I was appointed to the bend about 400 yards from the start of the course," stated the witness. "I was standing in a field on the left hand side of the course looking in the direction of the climb and I had a commanding view of the roadway. I saw a TR3 coming round the bend and I saw that it was on the right hand side of the road. I had almost completed the bend and then I saw the right hand side of the car graze the embankment on the right hand side of the road. Apart from being a bit too far out on the road the car was not out of control. I then saw the car somersault. It all happened very quickly. I saw the driver being thrown up into the air and saw him fall on the road ahead of the car. I rushed out to his assistance. He was lying face downwards and was unconscious. There was blood on his head and cuts on his face could be seen plainly. His crash helmet had been thrown off when I got to him. A Doctor O'Brien who was, according to the programme, taking part in the hill climb, arrived on the scene and attended to the injured driver."

Deceased was 41 years of age, single and was a general merchant and garage proprietor in Mount-rath. There was nothing on the road to explain what happened.

Patrick Byrne, 61, Irishtown, Clonmel, stated that he was the flag steward on the bend where the accident occurred. He recalled seeing the TR3 coming round the bend. "I saw it grazing the embankment on the right hand side of the road. I saw the car somersault in the air and then land on the road with its wheels underneath and the driver underneath. It then righted itself throwing the driver into the air. I saw him fall on the road ahead of the car. I raised the red flag immediately and I saw Mr. Tobin go to his assistance as I did also." Witness went on to recall the arrival of Dr. O'Brien and the removal of the injured man to hospital.

Mr. George Gill, Ashdale Rd., Terenure, Dublin, stated in evidence that he knew the deceased very well. He was, in fact, a first cousin of Mr. Telford's. He saw the deceased in Dungarvan on that Sunday. "I saw him coming round the bend and the next I saw was the car turning over. I went down to help him over. I went down and saw him into the ambulance." Witness then recalled how he followed the ambulance to Dungarvan, taking with him Mrs. Telford and her two sons. Witness said he saw deceased in hospital before and after he died.

Fishery Conservators To Foster Irish Music and Song

At a meeting of the Lismore Board of Conservators, held at Lismore, under the Chairmanship of Mr. R. G. Annesley, there attended Miss Canning, Brig. Popham, Major Maxwell, Captain Black, Captain Clayton, Messrs. H. Holroyd Smyth, S. Jameson, M. Greehy, J. Villiers, Stuart, J. Healy, M. O'Sullivan, F. Cooper, Inspector Woulfe and J. Power, clerk.

Inspector Woulfe reported that he performed the usual tours of protection and supervision and was pleased to state that as far as is known the district was free from poaching with the exception of the seizure of two illegal nets by the waterkeepers at Knockanore. During March salmon fishing showed some improvement on that for February the total catches by rods, nets and weirs was 3,105 salmon, weighing 20,977 lbs. Of this amount 257 were taken by the two weirs, 461 by rods and the balance of 2,387 by nets of various types. This return did not include a very substantial quantity of salmon sold direct by fishermen to dealers carrying on business outside the district. The returns of which will be collected later. Grise showed earlier than usual this year, the first recorded catch being at Ballyduff on April 12th and since then, others have been landed by rod and draft nets. During the first three days of this week officers of the Fishery Department carried out experimental netting of pollack in the Youghal harbor and away with a fairly good measure of success. The object of this netting is to ascertain to what extent pollack feed on smolts on their way to the sea. The report is noted. The Clerk was directed to again communicate with the Department requesting a decision on the proposal to provide four Walkie-Talkie sets to be used in protection work by the Board's staff. It was also decided to ask for a definition of a snap net as operated in this area.

A letter was read from The Malloy Castle Company enclosing Deed of Revocation of Power of Attorney recently granted to Rev. D. Cross of Bultivet. The clerk stated that the same was in order as the company way now represented on the Board by Brig. M. D. Popham.

The Clerk read letters from Dept. of Fisheries (1) sanctioning the purchase of four pairs of binoculars for the Board's staff, (2) purchase of a Briefcase Royal Typewriter and (3) that two illegal nets forfeited at Youghal district court on March 20th be sold and the proceeds less expenses be forwarded to the Department. It was decided to have the binoculars insured against loss of theft and the Clerk stated that the two illegal nets were taken over by the two Department Officers the Messrs Twomey and Hutson.

A letter was read from the Department that the matter of fishing at the mouth of the river Bride where it enters the Blackwater was one on which consultation with the local authority (Cork Co. Council) was necessary, but due to the present staff commitments it may be some time before the question can be disposed of.

A letter from the Inland Fisheries Trust Inc., states that it is hoped to carry out dace reduction operations in some Blackwater tributaries this summer. The electrical fishing programme had to be abandoned last year due to almost continuous floods in the area of operations.

A report from Berry O'Sullivan & Co. Malloy on the result of recent prosecutions for offences against the fishery laws: Patrick O'Callaghan, fined £25 for unlawful possession of a gaff, £10 for unlawful fishing, £10 for unlawful possession of a light, and fined £3 for failing to disclose the name of persons known to him. In addition there was £6-6-0 costs and £3-10-0 expenses. Jeremiah O'Sullivan, Rathmore, fined £1 for unlawful possession of a light and £2-0-0 costs and £4-7-0 expenses. Daniel Kelleher, Rathmore, fined £2 for unlawful fishing with £4-4-0 costs. Patrick McCarthy, Freemount, fined £3-3-0 for unlawful fishing, £3-3-0 for unlawful possession of a can of oil, together with £6-6-0 costs. James Moloney, Tullylease, fined 10/- for unlawful possession of a spear and unlawful fishing, together with £6-6-0 costs. All gear being forfeited by order of the court and detection made by Inspector Woulfe, Asst. Inspector Fanning and Keepers D. Browne and D. O'Callaghan.

A letter was read from the Department of Fisheries enclosing attested Abstract of Accounts of the Board for fishery year ended 30/9/1958 with copy of the Auditors report thereon. This was noted with satisfaction. A discussion took place on the matter of Draft Standing Orders as submitted by the Joint Standing Committee of Boards of Conservators and the copy recommendations to be made to the Minister for Fisheries to be incorporated in the amending legislations. The Board saw no reason to depart from the Standing Orders already drafted and approved by the Board, and on the suggestion of the Clerk it was agreed that the hours for polling in election of Boards of Conservators should be from 5 p.m. to 8.30 p.m., in order to facilitate working class anglers. Mr. Stuart, who was appointed as the Board's representative on the Joint Standing Committee stated that he would convey the Board's remarks to the next meeting of the Standing Committee.

The meeting adjourned to Tuesday, May 26th, to be held at the Grand Hotel, Fermoy, at 2.30 p.m.

BLACKWATER HATCHERY MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Hatchery Committee, Inspector Woulfe reported that about 80% of the salmon fry hatched out at Malloy had been released into the tributaries of the Blackwater and the balance would have been released now but for the high level of the rivers. Fry were released in the rivers Fonnog, Cahire, Glen, Clyn, Avweg and Bride.

During the month they received a gift of about 3,000 healthy sea-trout fry from Lismore Estates and these were released in the Cappagh stream at South Cregg and the Glen stream near Ballybooley. The hatching season just past must be regarded as one of the most successful in the long history of the Malloy Hatchery. During the hatching-out period not 2% of the eggs were lost, and after hatching out the loss of fry was next to nothing. There was more fry for release this year than any other since 1940, even though the amount of ova laid down was the second lowest in the period mentioned. The Inspector was certain the change was due to having filtered the water inside the hatchery and before it reached the hatching boxes. The report was approved and the Chairman paid tribute to Captain Clayton, Inspector Woulfe and Caretaker Ed. Walsh for their great work in connection with the hatchery which was now ranked as one of the best equipped in the country.

Their purpose in calling the public meeting was to stimulate the people's interest in the restoration of Ireland's native music and song, stated Mr. James Tobin, Ballymacmaigue, Chairman of the Dungarvan Branch Comhaltas Cheoltoiri Eireann, the association of Irish traditional musicians, at the Dungarvan Courthouse, on Friday night last. Apologising for the unavoidable absence of the National Organiser, Miss Fox, the Chairman said that up to ten years ago there was no group or body in the land to stop the decline of Irish music. Most of the players on the stages had "gone foreign" and it was at this time that Comhaltas Cheoltoiri Eireann was formed in an effort to do something for the decline.

"Up to a decade ago those who remained loyal to our traditional music were often derided and scoffed at as just a group of fiddlers and box-players from the back of beyond," but that position has now changed," said Mr. Liam Comerford, Publicity Officer to the Dungarvan Branch.

Our native music stood in grave danger of being lost entirely to us just a decade ago when we were in the midst of a flood of imported cacophony churned out daily on gramophone records and via the radio. Our own songs and music were almost swamped in the torrent of imported "tribal dirges of the savage tribes of the jungles."

No one seemed to care, said Mr. Comerford, except for a small devoted band who met in Dublin in the post-war years, bearing in their minds the immortal words of Thomas Davis: "Let me make the nation's song and I care not who makes her laws." This was the beginning of the Comhaltas Cheoltoiri Eireann movement for the restoration of the traditional Irish music and song, to that as the patriot Padraig Mac Piarais had said Ireland might be "not only free but Gaelic as well."

THRILLING WIN OVER LISMORE

In a thrill-a-minute first half, Dungarvan, playing with great dash and determination, ran up the convincing score of 5-5 to 1-0 against Lismore, on Thursday last, at the C.B.S. Field. Although the score suggests an easy passage in this half, the big following saw first-class hurling and had not Lismore the misfortune of losing some early goals, the sterling, never-say-die efforts of the losers would have been seen in truer perspective. True they found the full-back line of Sean, Tony and Michael Mahoney a hard nut to crack and the much-improved Paddy Crotty, repulsed them time and again. Ned Wade and Michael Dolan did not give much away either, but it was at centre-field that the losers real trouble started. Tony Hickey and P. J. Kineen are improving with every match. Capt. Tom Cummins used his weight to advantage and his strong ground punks paved the way for many scores. He also took his goals and points very well. Michael Wade and Jim Mulcahy tackled courageously and Eamonn Keyes and Paddy Ivers centred the ball well and had some real good scores.

Had Lismore started as they had finished, the issue would certainly be in doubt. The fair-haired Jerry Ryan started their last quarter rally. G. Howard lashed in a great goal, which umpire Tommy Parsons scarcely saw. The rangy Sean Brady bombarded the backs with fierce drives. Don Savage and Noel Merrin got the upphand at centre-field and P. Pollard (nephew of Moss) won rounds of applause by his brilliant saves in goal. Pat Rafferty, T. Hefferon and P. Kerr were others to shine in this gallant Lismore team that will now be contesting the semi-final.

The final score was: Dungarvan, 8-9; Lismore, 6-3. Referee: Mr. Tom Cunningham.

A special word of praise for the C.B.S. band that gave such a grand recital of music.

The game starts at 3 p.m. Dungarvan have now eight points in this league and are just waiting for their next clash with Mount Sion.

Lismore, too, have a score to settle with the city boys and it looks as the Cup is going to remain with the "Men of the West" again this year.

Late David O'Brien... Deep regret was occasioned throughout West Waterford recently, at the announcement of the death, which occurred at his residence, of Mr. David O'Brien, of Ballinaparka, Aghlish.

The deceased gentleman, who had been in the best of health some time prior to his lamented death, was a front rank member of the agricultural community. He had attained an advanced age when he breathed his last.

On Tuesday afternoon the remains were removed to Aghlish Parish Church, the concourse of mourners and sympathisers in attendance bearing striking testimony with the deceased's popularity with all sections of the community and the burial took place to the family plot, in the adjoining cemetery on the following morning. The attendance of Requiem Office and High Mass was again of considerable dimensions.

The late Mr. O'Brien was father of Rev. Fr. Thomas O'Brien, C.C., Rathgormack, and Mr. Willie C.C. O'Brien, who farms the family holding, who have been the recipients of widespread sympathy in their sad loss.

Among the attendance at the public meeting held by Comhaltas Cheoltoiri Eireann in Dungarvan for the purpose of restoring the traditional Irish music and song to its rightful place, were: Rev. Fr. Bracken, Ballymacmaigue; Mr. Michael Euloo, N.T., Ballinacree; Mr. Eugene Flanagan, Cappagh; Mr. and Mrs. Tadg O'Leinnigh; Abbesside; Messrs. N. Cleary, D. Lynch, H. Kelleher, J. Tobin, L. Comerford, J. Foley, J. O'Keefe, T. Boyce, C. Meehan, M. Conery, M. Hogan, J. Foley, E. Spratt, T. Crotty.

It was pointed out that one need not be a musician to join a branch of an Comhaltas.

Following the business of the musical instruments were produced by many musicians and an enjoyable musical session was held in the Courthouse.

The next Troop Meeting will be at 8.15 on Saturday night. There will be an Inter-Patrol Drill competition for which a special Cup is available and members are urged to bring their own instruments and other items. The meeting will be held in the Westford and the place will be inspected some time this month. T.R.S.

The competition for the Diocesan Cup has been postponed to some date in June and our team are now getting into training by having regular daily practice at Signalling, as well as several meetings for First Aid and other items. A new (to us) Bell Tent is expected which we hope can be pitched to perfection. A Duggan at the moment has his pockets full of General Knowledge information and we hope we will have them fuller the day of the competition. There will also be a hike or Kelly to do his cooking and for Scout K. Mahony and P.L. M. Bullin to learn more of Nature's Half Act.

The Knottling team will probably be practising under the desks in school and at home on every chance they get. Scouts from other Patrols can help by asking some of the team members questions at any old time to give them practice and getting out the answers.

THRILLING WIN OVER LISMORE

In a thrill-a-minute first half, Dungarvan, playing with great dash and determination, ran up the convincing score of 5-5 to 1-0 against Lismore, on Thursday last, at the C.B.S. Field. Although the score suggests an easy passage in this half, the big following saw first-class hurling and had not Lismore the misfortune of losing some early goals, the sterling, never-say-die efforts of the losers would have been seen in truer perspective. True they found the full-back line of Sean, Tony and Michael Mahoney a hard nut to crack and the much-improved Paddy Crotty, repulsed them time and again. Ned Wade and Michael Dolan did not give much away either, but it was at centre-field that the losers real trouble started. Tony Hickey and P. J. Kineen are improving with every match. Capt. Tom Cummins used his weight to advantage and his strong ground punks paved the way for many scores. He also took his goals and points very well. Michael Wade and Jim Mulcahy tackled courageously and Eamonn Keyes and Paddy Ivers centred the ball well and had some real good scores.

Had Lismore started as they had finished, the issue would certainly be in doubt. The fair-haired Jerry Ryan started their last quarter rally. G. Howard lashed in a great goal, which umpire Tommy Parsons scarcely saw. The rangy Sean Brady bombarded the backs with fierce drives. Don Savage and Noel Merrin got the upphand at centre-field and P. Pollard (nephew of Moss) won rounds of applause by his brilliant saves in goal. Pat Rafferty, T. Hefferon and P. Kerr were others to shine in this gallant Lismore team that will now be contesting the semi-final.

The final score was: Dungarvan, 8-9; Lismore, 6-3. Referee: Mr. Tom Cunningham.

A special word of praise for the C.B.S. band that gave such a grand recital of music.

The game starts at 3 p.m. Dungarvan have now eight points in this league and are just waiting for their next clash with Mount Sion.

Lismore, too, have a score to settle with the city boys and it looks as the Cup is going to remain with the "Men of the West" again this year.

Late David O'Brien... Deep regret was occasioned throughout West Waterford recently, at the announcement of the death, which occurred at his residence, of Mr. David O'Brien, of Ballinaparka, Aghlish.

The deceased gentleman, who had been in the best of health some time prior to his lamented death, was a front rank member of the agricultural community. He had attained an advanced age when he breathed his last.

On Tuesday afternoon the remains were removed to Aghlish Parish Church, the concourse of mourners and sympathisers in attendance bearing striking testimony with the deceased's popularity with all sections of the community and the burial took place to the family plot, in the adjoining cemetery on the following morning. The attendance of Requiem Office and High Mass was again of considerable dimensions.

The late Mr. O'Brien was father of Rev. Fr. Thomas O'Brien, C.C., Rathgormack, and Mr. Willie C.C. O'Brien, who farms the family holding, who have been the recipients of widespread sympathy in their sad loss.

Among the attendance at the public meeting held by Comhaltas Cheoltoiri Eireann in Dungarvan for the purpose of restoring the traditional Irish music and song to its rightful place, were: Rev. Fr. Bracken, Ballymacmaigue; Mr. Michael Euloo, N.T., Ballinacree; Mr. Eugene Flanagan, Cappagh; Mr. and Mrs. Tadg O'Leinnigh; Abbesside; Messrs. N. Cleary, D. Lynch, H. Kelleher, J. Tobin, L. Comerford, J. Foley, J. O'Keefe, T. Boyce, C. Meehan, M. Conery, M. Hogan, J. Foley, E. Spratt, T. Crotty.

It was pointed out that one need not be a musician to join a branch of an Comhaltas.

Following the business of the musical instruments were produced by many musicians and an enjoyable musical session was held in the Courthouse.

The next Troop Meeting will be at 8.15 on Saturday night. There will be an Inter-Patrol Drill competition for which a special Cup is available and members are urged to bring their own instruments and other items. The meeting will be held in the Westford and the place will be inspected some time this month. T.R.S.

The competition for the Diocesan Cup has been postponed to some date in June and our team are now getting into training by having regular daily practice at Signalling, as well as several meetings for First Aid and other items. A new (to us) Bell Tent is expected which we hope can be pitched to perfection. A Duggan at the moment has his pockets full of General Knowledge information and we hope we will have them fuller the day of the competition. There will also be a hike or Kelly to do his cooking and for Scout K. Mahony and P.L. M. Bullin to learn more of Nature's Half Act.

The Knottling team will probably be practising under the desks in school and at home on every chance they get. Scouts from other Patrols can help by asking some of the team members questions at any old time to give them practice and getting out the answers.

Revolutionary Plan for Young Farmers

SCHEME FOR THE ELDEST SON

Man with a plan for the young farmer is Mr. Denis Cullinane, Dungarvan, Chief Executive Officer, County Water-Vocational Education Committee. We have pilot farms, he argues, and why not pilot farmers?

To the "Observer", Mr. Cullinane, who is a founder member of the first National Executive of Macra na Feirme and who was a Vice-President of this young farmers organisation for many years, stated: "Probably the most important single group in the country at the present time, with European Free Trade just around the corner and the vital necessity for greater efficiency of production, are the boys in the 14 to 16 age group who will inherit farms during the next 15 years."

Pointing out that the eldest son, who will take over the farm, is often the most neglected member of the family, since he rarely received a sound education to gear him for success in his chosen profession and serves no proper apprenticeship to his trade, Mr. Cullinane outlined his revolutionary plan for the neglected one, which brings to mind the ancient Gaelic system of fosterage in pre-Christian Ireland.

THE PLAN

When the boy has reached the Primary School leaving stage, place him with a farmer in another area within reasonable distance of a vocational school at which he will attend a special day course planned especially for this type of student. The course would last two years, which would include the eldest son, who will take over the farm, is often the most neglected member of the family, since he rarely received a sound education to gear him for success in his chosen profession and serves no proper apprenticeship to his trade, Mr. Cullinane outlined his revolutionary plan for the neglected one, which brings to mind the ancient Gaelic system of fosterage in pre-Christian Ireland.

The chief mourners were: Messrs. William and Edmond Cronin, Inch (nephews); Miss M. Cronin, Inch, (niece); Lane family, Kilmore (relatives). DEATH OF MRS. H. DONNELLY
We regret to record the death of Mrs. Hannah Donnelly, Curraglass, Tallow, which sad event occurred at Fermoy Hospital, last week. Deceased, who had reached an advanced age, was a highly respected resident of the old stock, now getting so few amongst us. There was a large and representative cortege at the funeral to Mogeely (Tallow) cemetery. To her bereaved sons and relatives sympathy is extended.

SOLID FOUNDATION

The youth school now have his feet firmly planted on a solid foundation of the theory and practice of his chosen profession—farming. He would have received, woven in with the concrete facts of the job, a philosophy of life that is as valuable as his farm inheritance.

He would now be in a position to return to his father's farm where he will merit and gain the consideration which is his due. He will have a small amount saved and should receive full worker's wages at a position to save for marriage and for the taking over of the homestead.

WILL IT WORK?
Asked if he thought the plan would work, Mr. Cullinane said: "The plan I have outlined is workable right now with limited numbers. We in Ireland are always prepared to carry out trials of the tools of the farmer's trade. Tests are made of cattle, pigs, grasses, manures—we have pilot farms—why not pilot farmers? Any departure from the present position of the farmer and his son is worth a trial." All that is a little effort. The co-operation of the Vocational Education Committees and the County Committees of Agriculture can be taken for granted. The N.F.A. and Macra na Feirme are solidly organized. This was not a job called for by any State Department, but willingness of groups and individuals genuinely interested in the youth of rural Ireland. The plan would give the various voluntary rural organisations an opportunity of proving their loyalty to their ideals, as well as showing an acceptance of responsibility for calling and training.

TWENTY THOUSAND
In conclusion, Mr. Cullinane has made a detailed study of some 20,000 boys between the ages of 14 and 16 who will inherit farms. We should think of them as the most important group of their age in Ireland, and make plans, many plan for them. Other plans may be better than mine—we could have these plans evaluated by a small

SALMON FISHING
Since the start of the salmon net season on Feb. 1st, last week was considered to be the poorest week for the season when the catches were very small, and, in fact, some boats did not have one single fish for the week. This in industry very disheartening as the season is now in its fourth month, and usually the month of May is considered to be one of the peak months of the season. In the opening days of this week there was no marked change in catches, and seemingly there is very little sign of an improvement.

Department's Poultry Breeding Plans

The breeding programme with poultry at the Minister Institute, Cork, which is being carried out by the Department of Agriculture...

Three strains of White Leghorns which were imported from the United States are being bred as separate lines, the aim being to maintain the high potential of each and to improve them as far as possible.

The reputations enjoyed by these three strains in the United States indicate that, notwithstanding their performance suffered no setback in this country, they will be a definite asset to poultry-keepers who wish to produce eggs efficiently.

The Rhode Island Red breed is so popular in this country that the programme includes the continuation of breeding the strain that has been produced at the Institute for some years.

The second generation of a meat strain of Light Sussex fowl which is being built up from native stocks, is now available for testing and mating have been carried out for the present season.

The production of a white-skinned strain of the imported Dominant White Cornish fowl, for broiler production, is a long-term part of the programme.

These birds for crossing with the yellow-skinned strains to produce white-skinned chickens with fast-growing qualities derived from both parents.

The fifth part of the programme is the production of a broad-breasted bronze strain of turkey by crossing the broad-breasted imported white stock with bronze strains and selecting bronze birds from the progeny for further breeding.

It is hoped to develop a bronze strain of turkey which will meet the modern market requirements in conformation.

The turkey breeding unit at Athenry Agricultural School is working on the breeding and propagation of broad-breasted white turkey stock originally imported from the U.S.A.

Already the work done here has afforded considerable improvement in the meat quality of turkeys produced in many parts of the country and the work is being continued.

Mr. Liam Reynolds, Mount-rath, said he was in the employ-ment of the late Mr. Telford for the past six years. He recalled Sunday, April 28th, stating that he had been in the company of Mr. Telford when he was then in his usual good health.

Witness said he was familiar with the car driven by Mr. Telford at the time of the accident and actually drove it to Dungarvan that day. As far as he knew it was in sound mechanical condition before the hill climb.

Witness went on to say that he was at the bend standing in a field overlooking the spot where Mr. Telford was thrown from his car. He saw the car turn over and he saw Mr. Telford on the road. He also took a car and followed the ambulance into Dungarvan where he saw the injured driver in hospital.

Sergt. J. Caffery, Inspector of Vehicles, Adelphi Quay, Waterford, gave evidence of examining the damaged car on the evening of the accident. "It was in practically new condition and well maintained and appeared to have been in good mechanical condition before the accident."

The brakes were in first class order, capable and effective. The steering was effective and responsive. There was no indication of the components and no evidence of excessive wear.

The tyres were in good condition and were well threaded and all inflated with uniform pressure. The car was extensively damaged on the right out-side with tearing and crushing of the right front wheel and buckling and displacement of the bonnet cover. The right front wheel was slightly out of alignment due to the impact which would result in the weakening of the suspension.

The body work showed considerable damage which would be consistent with overturning. There were tearing and crushing of the right front wing.

In reply to Mr. King, witness said that the brakes in the car worked without trouble when he tried them.

Garda John Holland, Dungarvan Station, stated in evidence that he was on duty at the bend at which the accident occurred. "I heard an impact and went to the scene almost at once," he said. He saw the injured driver on the road and saw the car, a Triumph sports car lying across the fence.

Witness was present when Mr. Telford was removed to hospital and when the damaged car was taken off the road.

Dr. Brendan McCarthy, M.O., Dungarvan District Hospital, stated that he saw the deceased when he was admitted to hospital. He had the following injuries: a deep scalp wound; a deep penetrating wound on the jaw; a fractured dislocation of the right wrist, and injuries to both sides of the chest. He was extremely shocked condition. He had great difficulty in breathing and died shortly afterwards. A post mortem revealed that the chest injuries consisted of fracture of five ribs (on left side) with penetration and collapse of the left lung. The right lung was completely collapsed as a result of injury. The cause of death was respiratory failure due to crush injury of the right lung and the collapse of the left lung. These were consistent with being crushed by the car in an impact.

In an address to the jury, the Coroner said that the whole affair was a very tragic accident. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death in accordance with the medical evidence. The Coroner expressed his very sincere sympathy with the widow and sons of the deceased and stated that the case was a very sad one indeed and placed a gap in their lives which would be very hard to fill.

Supt. Flanagan spoke in association with the expression of sympathy as did Mr. G. Goode on behalf of the jury and Miss Morris on behalf of the Tipperary Light Car and Motor Cycle Club.

Acknowledging their expressions of sympathy on behalf of the widow and family, Mr. King said that he would like to take this opportunity to return thanks to the Tipperary L.C. & M.C.C. for the First Aid Unit and to any others who did all they could to make the best of a tragic situation.

Mr. Hulse, wife and family following Rossell the anti-aircraft bellion four years played as a Joseph Power, neil Street, Dungarvan, and his wife had knowledge of the gauge, and he was a pupil at the of Mercy School, quite fluent in Hurling, Gaelic. They left by for the United States where they are Hudak's brother-in-law.
