CO. WATERFORD ITEMS FROM LONDON

Mr. Frank Rice, Chairman of the Co. Waterford Social Club, London, and a native of Lismore is at present on holiday in his native Deisce. He will take the opportunity of meeting people identified with public life in the county. All here wish him a pleasant holiday with his kin and in the ancient and historic town of St. Charthage.

On his return, Mr. Rice will have a busy period before him. He has been nominated by his branch of the Engineering Union as delegate to represent the British Engineering Union at a conference to be held in the U.S.A. later in the year.

Mr. J. Cremin, late of the Pike, and a prominent Co. Waterford Social worker in London, is at present a patient in a London hospital. All County Waterford people here hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. Michael Dowling, late of the Glen, Tramore, has recently been appointed to a lucrative post in the U.S. base at Ruslip.

Mr. Michael O'Brien, late of the Cove, Tramore and Fenor, footballer of some years past is fit and well again after a protracted illness. Mick, as he is popularly known here, and his wife Chris (nee Hickey, late of Abbeyside), are looking forward to their annual visit to Tramore for August Race week. To both we wish good racing and sunny days at glorious Tramore.

Another County Waterford man on holiday is Mr. Sonny Harle, vice-chairman of the Co. Waterford Social Club. He will be present at Limerick when Waterford hurlers meet the "Tribesmen" in the Munster hurling Championship, which should provide some glorious hurling which we must be content to read about.

Readers of the "Dungarvan Observer" in London should make sure of their copy weekly by going early to Marble Arch on Sunday, as when afternoon comes they are all gone. This County Waterford paper is your link with the homeland.

A former De La Salle student, Thomas Martin is playing rarefooty football with St. Declan's club in London. He looks forward to meeting old boys who were students at the college. He sends regards to Bro. Cornelius and all at De La Salle.

The annual outing of the Co. Waterford Social Club takes place in Limerick on Sunday, July 26th. Coach leaves Marble Arch at 9.35 a.m., Kilmuro Bridge at 9.30 a.m., Camden Town Tube Station at 10 a.m. A few vacant seats remain. The final date for booking seats will be July 1st. Co. Waterford people in London who wish to book a seat should forward a P.O. for 12/6 to Mr. N. Noonan, Hon. Treasurer, 59, Temington Rd., Kilmuro, N.W.6.

This article recently visited a South Coast town here and was attracted by the presence of a schooner at the quayside. He proceeded to explore and duly obtained permission to go aboard where he met the skipper, a Co. Down man, who was conversant in every detail with Waterford Harbour and Dungarvan Bay. He regaled me with stories of ships and the men who manned them in those far off days. He told me that schooners are few nowadays. Our talk turned to the ones which traded from Dungarvan to mention a few: "The Katherine Ellen"; "The Maggie West"; "Pardon Cobden" and the finest schooner of them all, "The Harvey", which I believe originally came from the U.S.A.

The late Mr. Michael Hally, Abbeyside, was skipper of the "Katherine Ellen"; the late Mr. J.P. Curran, Abbeyside, was skipper of "The Parton", whilst the late Mr. George Flynn, Abbeyside, was skipper of "The Harvey". My heartiest thanks go to the skipper for the interesting and most glowing tributes to the schooner mentioned. He told me that the crews were justly proud of them. Finally it was time to part.

With memories of other days and great marines I bid goodbye to this veteran of the sea. A Waterford man residing in London recently spent a holiday at an English seaside resort was apparently annoyed when the landlady told him her place was only four minutes from there. But she was really telling the truth as Roger Bannister's international runner had staged there.

The Social and dance held by the Co. Waterford Social Club last at Crickwood Hotel recently was a most enjoyable evening. All parts of the county were represented in the large attendance, including a party from Tramore on holiday in London, who enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mr. Thomas Wade, Dungarvan has recently engaged in the building contractors business and has secured many contracts despite keen rivalry.

The Co. Waterford Social Club recently sent a donation to Rev. Fr. Walsh, native of Lismore, who is at present working for the African Missions.

MONEY HAS ITS DUTIES

By MYLES NA GOPALEEN

We suppose you did win £50,000 in the Sweep, or just a consolation prize. You would be wealthy then, Money is nice but please remember it hath also its duties. You would be expected to subscribe to praiseworthy objects, for example, it's a point that makes myself a bit nervous. Having to decide just what is praiseworthy could be unerring and lead to loss of sleep.

Now take the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, so very awfully named. I don't object to the Society, of course, and—heavens above!—I am far from advocating cruelty to animals. But why animals? The phrase usually means horses, cows, dogs, cats, and so on—their creation. Why not re-name the Society the Society for Prevention of Cruelty and leave it at that? That would extend protection not only to animals of the usual order but to human beings. Why should cruelty to people be condoned or overlooked? At least they should get the same consideration as cats and dogs.

NEW CATEGORIES
Before subscribing I should like to see protection extended to gay dogs, sad dogs, dirty dogs, dull dogs and shy dogs. I say nothing of those well-moulted frequenters of pleasure gardens, nose park-curs; also underdogs, pups, dogs-in-the-manager and hell-hounds, including news hounds, tea hounds, hounds of Banba, political jackals, lone wolves, dirty coyotes and all similar canine brethren and sistern within the meaning of the dog-eat-dog act. Even dirty skunks should be looked after as well as low rats called burglars, copycats, snakes who frequent gutters, cranks in sheep's clothing, creatures in monkey suits, all who are pig-eon chested or in camel hair coats and also that strange being who is horse of a man.

Success I seek for old horses, dark horses, horses of another colour and nightmares; obstinate mules; silly asses, pishish donkeys, young fillies and fat cows, Irish bulls, mulling-heifers, unsympathetic old cows black sheep honey lambs, road hogs pigs in pokes, sore-headed bears, rice-looking ibexes, literary lions, cranky weasels, quiet mice, and all creatures grey as a badger.

AND A FEW MORE
If cover for all the foregoing were conceded it would be short-sighted and unjust to exclude other beings and creatures just as deserving even if they evoke the sighs and the upper lip. One must acknowledge the merits of all things, alcoholic monsters, the bear sharks, all lame ducks, official seals, grampuses, walruses, jazz alligators, silly old dogs, old trout and all creatures with fish eyes.

In the air one must be kind to all queer birds, firebugs, stock-pigeons, innocent gulls, sparrow hawks, drunken old owls, white old owls, white blackbirds and wild geese; also banty hens, vain peacocks, city sparrows, cocks of the walk, Swedish nightingales, irritating parrots, political doves, old croaking cormorants, news hawks and birds of a feather.

That is a big list of creatures, all animate, and if cruelty to any of them were ruled out, we would have made great progress. I have been looking up this word cruelty in the dictionaries and they all, even the Latin, agree that imposing it is a moral defect in people. The late Mr. Michael Hally, Abbeyside, was skipper of the "Katherine Ellen"; the late Mr. J.P. Curran, Abbeyside, was skipper of "The Parton", whilst the late Mr. George Flynn, Abbeyside, was skipper of "The Harvey". My heartiest thanks go to the skipper for the interesting and most glowing tributes to the schooner mentioned. He told me that the crews were justly proud of them. Finally it was time to part.

With memories of other days and great marines I bid goodbye to this veteran of the sea. A Waterford man residing in London recently spent a holiday at an English seaside resort was apparently annoyed when the landlady told him her place was only four minutes from there. LORRY OWNERS MEET

No matter where a lorry-owner goes now he is halted by the authorities and put through the third degree stated Mr. D. Walsh at the meeting of private lorry owners from Waterford County and City which was held in Dungarvan. They must, if it is thought necessary go to court to prove the ownership of goods. Why, he asked should they have to pay heavy expenses in connection with their livelihood if they were going to be forced out of existence by the existing monopoly of C.I.E.

OWNERS HARD HIT.
Mr. D. Noonan, P.C. Chairman of the Cork branch of the Irish Private Motor Lorry Owners' Association presided at the meeting.

Outlining the aims and objects of the Association, he referred to the recent trends in connection with the Road Traffic Acts which, he said, is hitting private lorry-owners hard, and will hit them harder at a later stage unless a firm front is established at once.

WILL DO BATTLE.
They were not going to take things lying down and this had been proved by the spontaneous response of private lorry owners all over the country. In most counties branches had not been formed and numerically and financially they were ready to take up the battle from their God-given rights.

Mr. P. J. Ring, Treasurer Cork Branch said they had a few uninterested parties at the moment, but that time would bring these people in line.

"If some of them are plied owners" he said, they should be made to realise that by 1961, or sooner, they could also be squeezed out of existence."

A DISPARITY.
Reference was made by other delegates to lorry owners from the other Counties who were allowed into the Dublin area, and whose movements were not restricted in anyway. The disparity in prices of road tax and petrol costs between North and South was quoted, but, as one delegate pointed out, "why should there be such a difference in the restriction of movements."

OFFICERS ELECTED.
Mr. Richard Walsh, Abbeyside, Dungarvan was elected chairman. Mr. Patrick Tobin, Canonsford, Dungarvan, was appointed Secretary and the Treasurer elected for the Waterford area was Mr. John Lynch, Ballyduff.

Members of the committee will be selected at the next meeting of the branch.

TALLOW NEWS

AT THE ARCH ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Phenomenal is the only word to describe Nita Norry's success. Concert after concert in almost every County in Ireland has seen "House Full" notices up. Recent months have made this lovely 19 years old one of the best known entertainers in this country. She has just completed a London tour and a Scottish tour will follow in September, while November will find Miss Norry in the U.S. for a three weeks tour where she will appear on Radio and T.V.

Her fairy story of success began only 12 months ago, when Neilus O'Connell took some artists of his to help out a charity concert in Strabane, Co. Tyrone. On stage was a local girl who held the audience enthralled. This was Nita Norry "The Flower of Sweet Strabane."

A down-to-earth sensible girl Miss Norry is a wonderful person to meet. "She has a wonderful knack of getting the audience with her from the start. Don't miss this great treat at the Arch on Sunday. The Clogher Centre will be supplying the music. See advertisement in this issue.

COLLISION
Whist Mr. M. Goulding, Conna, was proceeding on an auto cycle to his brothers residence at Ballymore, Tallow, Tuesday of last week, he was in collision with a tractor owned by his brother. He received facial injuries and shock. After treatment by Dr. Cantillon, he was removed to a Co. Wick hospital, where he is progressing favourably. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McGrath, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGrath, Dunmoon, Tallow, left for the United States on Wednesday evening, Billy, as he was known, was a keen follower of the Celtic Code and played with Tourin and Shamrocks hurling teams. At a meeting of Shamrocks hurling club on Friday evening of last week, the Chairman and members wished him "bon voyage" and the best of luck in the land of Uncle Sam. He has another brother also in the States.

TALLOW COURT
At Tallow court before Mr. W. Cahill, D.J., Denis Murphy, 18 years old, of St. Parahans Place, Mitchelstown, was sentenced to two 3-month terms of imprisonment for robbing a local Post Office Development Association in organising a Fochty, which opened on Sunday last in the town.

The opening ceremony was performed in the hall enclosure by the Very Rev. John Sheehan, P.P., who said his duty in opening the Festival was a simple one. He wished every success to the promoters, who had done so much for the town. It was his sincere wish that the Festival would be a great success.

The Canon, who was introduced by Mr. P. Chambers, then hoisted the Festival flag over the Town Hall.

Prior to and after the opening ceremony, the 85-strong C.B.S. flagpole band, under their director, Mrs. Bro. Cordian, gave a grand display.

ANGLING COMPETITION
This was followed by an angling competition, with 12 boats competing despite the poor conditions. The coolness of the weather was reflected in the catches. The results from this competition were: Heaviest of fish, Mr. C. Roddy (B.D.S.) heaviest single fish caught, Mr. A. Watson (prize presented by Jaymack, Ltd., Dublin); rarest fish, Mr. A. Slatery, with a pouting (prize presented by Mr. D. Mitchell, Adelpi Hotel); greatest number bass and pollock caught, Mr. J. Watson (prize presented by the club); The 12 competing boats raced home from the Eastern Point in the bay, and the winner was Mr. D. Mangar, with Mr. D. Muckley second.

SWIMMING RACE
In the 100 yards open swimming race E. Grace, Youghal, was the winner, with M. Kelly, Youghal, second. The four-oared rowing race was won by D. Mangar's boat, with M. Hickey's boat, second. The open board boat race was won by P. Tobin, with J. Murphy second.

All these events attracted thousands of people and throughout the day the weather held firm, although rain fell late in the evening.

A word of appreciation is due to the Fishermen's Association, who, in all the events, provided boats and gear and were most co-operative with the organisers of the Festival. The Festival continues throughout the week and will be packed with interesting events.

Kilmacthomas, Kilrossanty and Stradbally Notes

Notably Progressive Farmers Of These Parts have now well-nigh completed their hay-making work. Bales are being utilised in the saving of the crop, which is a comparatively easy job in view of the ideal weather conditions prevailing since the cutting season commenced before the day of the Referendum and Presidential Election. Happily the dry weather has no adverse effect on root crops, even those which have been sown since the start of the "scorching" spell, as the proportion of moisture 4 to 5 inches below the surface of the land is not deemed to be on the scanty side. Grain crops are faring finely, too, from the coast to the Comeraghs.

Irish Countrywomen's Association. All mid-Waterford Guilds were represented at the County Federation meeting held in Cappoquin last week-end, at which the Misses Smith and O'Connell (national president and chief organizer, respectively) were present.

Condoleances. His troops and legions of friends and well-wishers up and down the Deices extend to likeable Mr. Thomas Power, farmer Curraheen Lower Leanyrin, and his nearest and dearest friends and relatives their bereavement occasioned by the demise, in the U.S.A., on a recent date, of his brother, Mr. Patrick (Paddy) Power (who was one of the high men). Peace be to his gentle soul.

The Large Numbers of seatrippers seen at Stradbally, Ballydwan and Bonmahon on Sunday last included not a few from Carrick-on-Suir, Clonmel and other Co. Tipperary centres. The Cork-Care S.H. Clash at Thurles last Sunday was witnessed by a good many enthusiasts from the mid-Waterford area.

Kilrossanty Star.—Of a verity, cheery and courageous Jiminey Power's grasp and enthusiasm for the big ball code is unbounded. His gallant father's worthy son, it is heartening to hear that he is maintaining a steady improvement from the effects of the painful shoulder injury he sustained in a recent match. His hopes are high that he will be able to play with his team again within the ambit of the coming month.

By The Way.—The gooseberry strawberry and raspberry crops this season promise to be bumper ones in this section of the fair County. The machinery levelling the meadows on both sides of the Mahon, incidentally, has generally been welcomed the step just taken by the Minister for Lands (Mr. Childers), in putting back the date for the approaching duck season, which will be announced will open on September 1st this year, instead of August 12th. Because of the propitious weather for breeding, it is expected that the pheasant stock of this annum will show a marked increase on those of yesterday.

Congratulations are offered to amiable Mr. T. Murphy, Ballydun, Kilmacthomas, who has been awarded a prize for having been a prizewinner in the Rathgormack and Clonca Parish Draw.

A Native Of Tipperary is was to remedy this situation Sergeant Patrick Quinn, who has been attached to the clerical-augmented last year. Seven section at Adelpia Quay Garda fishermen who recently completed the course of training Kill Baracks has been enacted. The Ballydun fishermen are now qualifying at the latest meeting of the tenancy and are now qualified within certain limits as skippers of fishing boats.

In addition to the pressing need for qualified fishing skippers and second hands there is a dearth of deck hands and engine-men for fishing vessels. As the fleet expands the position will become more acute. A fundamental need is the recruitment into the catching side of the industry of boys of about 16 years of age for training as competent fishermen. With this in mind a scheme for the training of deck hands and engine-men has now been announced.

Boys applying for training under the new scheme do not require previous sea fishing experience. Those eligible will be called for interview. A boy selected may receive an allowance up to £4 per week for a period of not more than two years if training as a deck hand or two to a half year, including six months ashore, if training as an engine-man. It is hoped that many of these boys, when they become experienced fishermen, will go on to study navigation, etc., under the scheme for training skippers and secure certificates of competency.

Applications from boys of not less than 16 years of age must reach the Secretary, Department of Lands, Fisheries Division, 3 Canal Bridge Street, Dublin, not later than 7th July, 1959.

The foregoing has been issued by the Government Informator Bureau on behalf of the Minister for Lands.

ROAD RECONSTRUCTION. Great progress is being made by County Council workers, equipped with the most modern machinery, in the reconstruction of the road leading from Coffey's main road, Reinadampna, to the main road at Touraneena. The work is being carried out in stages, with the grass margins removed, which gives ample width for two cars to pass abreast, and the road levelled off and resurfaced. It will be a great boon to the users of this lane, who often had to take a devious route when travelling to and from the main road at Touraneena, owing to the untractable condition of same, especially during the winter months.

Work is being carried out under the direction of Council overseer, Mr. Mattie Ryan.

Notes

Volunteered for Missionary Work. Rev. Robert Downey, C.D.B., son of Mrs. B. Downey and the late Pts. Downey, Woodhouse, Ballinacree, who is attached to the Salesian Missionary College, at Pallaskerry, Co. Limerick, is now making final preparation for his journey to South America.

He will leave early next month with two other Irish priests who have volunteered with him for Missionary work in Rio Negro Amabonas, in the West Indies. Ministering in this diocese is arduous work and calls for great courage and endurance as it is jungle country and on the equator line, with no proper roads which makes travelling a difficult and dangerous task.

THEY BOUGHT A HOUSE WITH THEIR WINNINGS. A young couple in Wales have just won enough money to buy a house, and so they say it is conclusive proof of the Legend of the 300 years old Wishing Cork Tree. Another couple had a piece of Lucky Cork sent them by a relative and later left for their honeymoon in London. A lady in Doncaster sent for a piece and won £3,000 on a penny points pool. A wife gave her doubting husband a piece of Lucky Cork for his birthday and two weeks after he won £1,500. A mother sent each of her sons a piece and one of them won £4,000 in a sweepstake. If you would like further particulars, send stamped addressed envelope to Wishing Cork Tree, Combe-in-Teignhead, Devon.—Advert. (11-7) bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth O'Donoghue, sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Quirk held their reception in the Grand Hotel, Fermoy, and later left for their honeymoon in London. The groom is a very prominent member of the Ballyduff G.A.A. club and has the distinction of never failing to turn out for any match in which his club was engaged. He is equally good as a footballer and a hurler and has represented his county in the latter code in many occasions. Congratulations to the newly-weds and may the light of God's graces always shine brightly on their home.

BALLYDUFF PULL THROUGH

The second round clash of Ballyduff and Cappoquin hurling was in many ways a duplication of their meeting at the same stage last year.

Once again the Blackwater side rivals served up a tough, relentless exhibition. And once again the considerably more experienced Ballyduff men had to pull out all the stops to put paid to a young but exceptional game Aglish second string.

The game yielded little in the way of classical football. But it was a tough, almost vigorous encounter, into which every man of the thirty on view put his very all.

Galway were the faster to settle down and had notched 1-1 before the winners raised their first flag, a rushed goal following an all out schlemiel which ended with the parrallelogram. The Aglish men tagged on a second minor and the winners concluded with a like score before the short whistle.

On the resumption Ballyduff were into their stride almost immediately. In a twinkling they had levelled up and taken the lead. They stretched the advantage and then proceeded to hold out in the face of a series of full-blooded Galway assaults. At the long whistle they were three points to the good.

Of the two, the Aglish men probably played the more stylish football. But the superior strength of the more seasoned winners, which they used to good effect, was a decisive factor and took an obvious toll of the lighter Galway during a grueling second period.

The winners fielded a hard-tackling defence in which Mick Quirke, Richie Tobin, D. Conners and goalkeeper Barry were outstanding. The Barry, Davis and Johnny, played a lot of the ball at mid-field, while Mickey Fenealy, who opened out the game when he moved to centre-forward and Joe Daly took the honours in attack.

Galway had in Ned Mernin who turned in a tireless performance, easily the outstanding man on view. Veteran Mick Keating had a capital hour at full-forward, notching a brilliant 1-1 and Jack O'Neill, Ned O'Connell, Jim Mernin, L. Lee, J. Davis, W. Downing and D. O'Neill were others to catch the eye.

Ballyduff: J. Barry, P. Flynn, M. Quirke, P. Quirke, D. Conners, R. Tobin, C. Fitzgerald, D. Barry and J. Barry; L. Farrell, J. Daly, S. Twomey, J. Quirke, S. Fuller, M. Fenealy.

TO THE COUNTY'S HURLING MEN FALLS THE DISTINCTION OF PROVIDING RECENTLY-ADMITTED GALWAY WITH THEIR TENTIAL TASTE OF THE THUNDERBOLTS THAT ARE TRINITAL TASTE OF THE MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIP ON SUNDAY NEXT.

The novelty of the occasion which marks yet another milestone in the history of the Association, is such that there should be a great mustering in attendance when the Decies standard-bearers and the Westmen again get to grips at the Emis Road, Lismore.

Of no less significance is the fact that this first round clash carries for the survivors the right to a crack at the cherished championship crown of Tipperary.

Neither side has been over impressive in their most recent engagements. Waterford, after scoring a decisive victory over "Kilkenny the previous week, fell heavily to Wexford on Thursday night and Galway's capabilities have been the subject of much cross-fire since they crashed to Munster in the Railway Cup final three weeks ago. The rivals are, however, such in and out performers that their meeting is brimful of possibilities.

At presently constituted the sides appear very evenly matched. Waterford reply on fourteen of the team that contested the league final—Charlie For Letter Troy is the only change in personnel—but Galway seniors have taken the bold step of introducing two complete newcomers to the team for the occasion.

BRICKEYS FOR ROUND TWO

Unexpected though it was, Ballyduff's victory over Ballinacorney at Cappoquin on Sunday night was nonetheless thoroughly merited on the day's play.

The Rangers' second string, supplemented by the presence of a couple of seasoned senior campaigners, played by far the most purposeful brand of football. Their approach work was first class and their all-round cohesion and teamwork proved superior to anything the fancied Ballinacorney man could muster.

Senior callings within the next couple of weeks will, however, in all probability leave the winners considerably depleted for their next engagement in the competition.

Ballinacorney, who fielded what on paper appeared to be a first-class side, did not enjoy the best of good luck. Best sector of the team was up front, their 8 points being well-taken efforts, but their defence was always playing second fiddle to the fast-

Shamrocks and Tallow Advance

THE extremely close nature of the exchanges and the fact that the outcome of both games hung in the balance until the closing stages were far and away the most noteworthy features about last Sunday's double-decker at the Castle Farm, Lismore.

From the point of classical hurling the programme yielded but little to enthrall or, though it was hall-marked by a spate of dour, determined endeavour.

As expected, Shamrocks disposed of Glen Rovers, encountering a far sterner test than anticipated in the process, and the Tallow neighbours made it a day of dual victory for the Brideside valley, scoring an unexpected but nonetheless merited victory over Affane. Both games were second round junior hurling tests.

It looked for a long time as though Shamrocks had caught a tartar in the battling Glenmen whose spirited display surprised all but their most ardent supporters.

They set the pace and shocked the obviously complacent opposition by staying in front until well into the second half. Shamrocks eventually prevailed by a considerable enough margin, but they will, one feels,

The winners deserve full marks for a wholehearted performance in circumstances that were far from favourable. It can be taken, too, that they will with the benefit of match experience, have developed into a first-class, compact unit by the time the next round comes up.

Affane were to an extent unfortunate. They conceded a couple of "soft" goals, but in the long run Tallow's greater spirit was probably the really decisive factor.

CAMOGIE FINAL

Cahir, conveniently situated on the homeward journey from Limerick, should house a big Waterford contingent on Sunday evening for the clash of the Decies ladies and Tipperary in the final of the Munster camogie championship.

The Waterford ladies, who scored a resounding victory over Clare in the opening round, will be contesting the final for the first time within the decade.

Tipperary's defeat of Cork and their great record in the competition must, of necessity, entitle them to a vote of favouritism. But those close to the Decies challengers are quietly confident of recording the county's second-ever triumph. The game is set to commence at 7.30.

KILGOBINET ON TOP

Kilgoibinet, who did not touch their real form at any stage, had their hands full to repulse a determined Old Parish side in the second round of the junior football championship at Cappoquin on Sunday evening.

The Shocks, already badly hit by the defections of several of their regular stalwarts, had the misfortune to lose centre half-back Michael French within minutes of the throw-in. They played for a time a man short before the position was balanced when the winners J. Walsh also received "marching orders."

With both sides left to battle it out with fourteen men the game developed into a dour, hard-hitting affair in which there was a conspicuous absence of good football.

Kilgoibinet, whose performance left room for fairly considerable improvement, were best served by Roger McCarthy, the Lanes, Steve Kelliher and Jim Whelan. Old Parish, though defeat was their portion, deserve full marks for a spirited showing in adverse circumstances.

Kilgoibinet: T. Curran; L. Fitzgerald, J. Walsh, J. Cooney; J. (0-1) and J. Whelan (0-1). Whelan (0-1) Kelliher and V. Daly; M. Woods, D. Lane, J. Whelan, E. Hanley, R. McCarthy, N. Keating.

Mr. J. Moloney, N.T., the Western Board chairman, had charge of the whistle.

Kill quality for second round

KILL - 0-7; STRADBALLY - 0-3

ONLY those who basked in the sun-scorched Sportsfield, Waterford, on Sunday last can appreciate just how close Kill, last year's championship finalists, were to defeat.

Until almost the last kick of the game the outcome hung in the balance and the eventual margin of Kill's victory was, to say the least of it, more than a trifle flattering.

On the day's play challenging Stradbally were their equals in every phase of the game. They matched the Kill men overhead and produced a brand of teamwork that had them floundering early and again. But the Reds' finish was not on par with their excellent outfield work. Accordingly, they could muster but a meagre three points over the hour, two of which were kicked while playing into a fresh first-half breeze.

Played before a good-sized attendance, the game did not entirely live up to expectations. It was, however, a sternly fought encounter, punctuated in turn by sporadic passages of open football and over-robust exchanges.

Kill, playing with the breeze, enjoyed the better of the first-half exchanges. They deservedly led by 0-5 to 0-2 at the short whistle and would surely have been in a more commanding position had they not frittered away some golden opportunities.

On the turnover Stradbally assumed almost complete control. Playing dashing, determined football, they dominated the third quarter and appeared for a time on the threshold of victory. But faulty shooting took its inevitable toll and their great-hearted effort eventually petered out.

Noel Power, who played steadily, consistent football at centre half-back, was Kill's outstanding man, and he was very capably supported by Monty Guiry, who was his usual energetic self at mid-field, Paddy Fitzgerald and Tom Whelan in defence, and the evergreen Tom McGrath, Martin Kennedy and Tom Kirwan in attack.

Playing purposeful, intelligent football, Ken Murphy was the big man of the losers' challenge and in his own way the equal of the winners' Power. Tom Foley was outstanding in a defence that disputed every ball, while Paddy Galvin, Eddie Dunphy, John Cunningham and Billy Barry helped to cause Kill folk no end of worry, particularly in a blistering third quarter.

McGrath (0-5), M. Kirwan (0-1) and J. Whelan (0-1) shared the winners seven points and K. Murphy (0-2) and J. Cunningham (0-1) contributed to the losers' account.

Popular Dungarvan and racehorse owner-trainer Mattie Kieley, Lisdowney, Dungarvan, had a second at Paddy's last week-end. His "Sham" (Pearl) Orient—Chin O'Kieley ridden by his son Mr. John Kieley was narrowly defeated in the 2200 Slievenamon Handicap over a three furlong course. In the closing stages the race jockey Paddy Power the winner had to keep his work to fight off a very close challenge by "Sham".
