'JUST PERFECT'

"O.K." the world over in any language means 'JUST PERFECT'. It means 'Just Perfect' in Sunny Spain where the choicest oranges are picked to make the REAL ORANGE JUICE that is in every bottle of our O.K. ORANGE. And of course, it means that all the other good things that go to make our O.K. ORANGE are 'Just Perfect' too — including the Syrup that is made from pure Irish Refined Sugar.

And it means that the hygienic conditions under which every bottle is filled and sealed in our factory are 'Just Perfect' too.

"O.K." means 'Just Perfect' for us — 'Just Perfect' for you.

Try 'O.K.' ORANGE once, you'll never again accept any other.

O.K. means WHOLESOME—NOURISHING—REFRESHING.

Jury Fails To Agree

Retrial Ordered For Manslaughter Charge

THE FAILURE OF THE JURY TO AGREE ON A VERDICT LED TO JUDGE S. MacD. FAWCETT ORDERING A RETRIAL FOR JOHN EDWARD BONNERE, A 28-YEAR-OLD CARPENTER, RESIDING AT BALLYRAFTER, LISMORE, WHO WAS CHARGED WITH THE MANSLAUGHTER OF PATRICK DAVIS, OF AGLISH, ON THE NIGHT OF FEBRUARY 22nd LAST.

The hearing commenced on Tuesday morning, lasting all day and was resumed on Wednesday.

Mr. James D'Arcy, S.C., and Mr. M. Feelan (instructed by Dr. D. R. Conahan, State Solicitor) prosecuted, and the accused was defended by Mr. Sean Collins (instructed by Messrs Farrell & Morrissey, Dungarvan).

Mr. D'Arcy told the jury that the case was very serious, both for the accused and the State. The facts were that Patrick Davis, aged about 18, walked to Villierstown. There with one of his companions, William Dowling, he went into a public house to buy cigarettes. Davis drank three or four minerals and there was no question of him taking intoxicating liquor. At 9.30 he left the public house with Dowling and went looking for two others who had accompanied them to Villierstown. Having failed to find them, Davis and Dowling set out at 10 o'clock to walk back to Aglish. The road home was narrow with a tarred surface and a margin three feet on either side.

TRAVELLING AT SPEED

Dowling was walking on the inside, Mr. D'Arcy added, and his evidence would be that they were so close to the grass margin on the left that they were almost on it. Suddenly the motor-car came. It was obviously travelling at a very great speed. It hit Dowling and swept Davis to eternity. The car did not brake, but went on, and from what had been discovered later it must have careered along into a fence, hit the bar off a gate and finally collided with a telegraph pole and turned upside-down. It finished up 100 yards from where the pool of blood was found, and there would be evidence that the accident must have happened a little further back from the pool of blood—15 yards back, where some paint flakes from the car were found. The fact, said Mr. D'Arcy, that the car travelled such a distance after the accident suggested that the driver had lost control and was travelling at far too fast a speed.

After a map of the scene of the accident had been proved by Detective-Sergeant Barrett, Dublin Headquarters, Mrs. Nora Murphy, an assistant in a Villierstown licensed premises, said that Bonneré and Laurence Cotter arrived in the bar at about 10 p.m. on February 22. Each of them had a half pint of ale and two small whiskeys. When they left at about 10.15 Bonneré was quite sober.

Corroborative evidence was given by Laurence Cotter, a Villierstown fisherman. He said that when Bonneré left him and drove off at about 10.30 in the direction of Aglish he was sober. The car made a lot of noise as the silencer was gone. The headlights were on.

James Ronayne (18) a farmer's son, of Aglish, said that he met the late Pat Davis and William Dowling in Aglish. They walked to Villierstown so that Pat Davis could buy cigarettes. Pat Davis went into Treacy's shop in Villierstown at about 9.15 and witness did not see him again after that.

Similar evidence was given by Walter Dowling, Donegal (William Dowling, 22) said he met Patrick Davis after devotions. They walked to Villierstown and on their way there Bonneré's car passed them. They were accompanied by James Ronayne and Walter Dowling. Witness and Pat Davis left them and went into a public house, where Pat Davis bought cigarettes and each of them had four minerals. They were there from 9 until 9.30. They left Villierstown to go home at about 10 o'clock and had walked for about 1½ miles when witness heard the noise of a car coming from behind. The car came on them "like a shot out of a gun" and struck them. They were on the left side of the road, almost in on the grass margin. They were walking shoulder to shoulder, with Pat Davis on the outside. The moon was shining, the night was fine and the road was dry.

Witness was struck on the right arm, and when he looked to his right to see what had happened to Pat Davis he found he was gone. Witness saw the car going round a bend, and from the shape of the back recognised it as Ted Bonneré's. The car never slowed down. I never before saw a car going so fast," said witness.

The witness next described how he ran back to the cottage of Pat Hayes (postman) who returned with him to the scene and helped him to pull in Pat Davis to the left side of the road. In cross-examination by Mr. S. Collins (instructed by Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey, Dungarvan) for the accused, the witness denied that his evidence was "coloured" by the fact that he himself had a claim against Bonneré. He admitted he had no idea of the speed of cars. He denied that Pat Davis and he were "tricking" out on the centre of the road or that he or his companion tried to stop Bonneré's car for a lift. Dr. M. McCarthy, Whitechurch Dispensary Medical Officer, described the deceased's injuries.

Sergt. J. Cafferty, public vehicles inspector Waterford, said he examined the car and tested the brakes. The foot brake was of a hydraulic type. It had a defective system and was broken. The witness said that the car was travelling at a very great speed. It hit Dowling and swept Davis to eternity. The car did not brake, but went on, and from what had been discovered later it must have careered along into a fence, hit the bar off a gate and finally collided with a telegraph pole and turned upside-down. It finished up 100 yards from where the pool of blood was found, and there would be evidence that the accident must have happened a little further back from the pool of blood—15 yards back, where some paint flakes from the car were found. The fact, said Mr. D'Arcy, that the car travelled such a distance after the accident suggested that the driver had lost control and was travelling at far too fast a speed.

After a map of the scene of the accident had been proved by Detective-Sergeant Barrett, Dublin Headquarters, Mrs. Nora Murphy, an assistant in a Villierstown licensed premises, said that Bonneré and Laurence Cotter arrived in the bar at about 10 p.m. on February 22. Each of them had a half pint of ale and two small whiskeys. When they left at about 10.15 Bonneré was quite sober.

Corroborative evidence was given by Laurence Cotter, a Villierstown fisherman. He said that when Bonneré left him and drove off at about 10.30 in the direction of Aglish he was sober. The car made a lot of noise as the silencer was gone. The headlights were on.

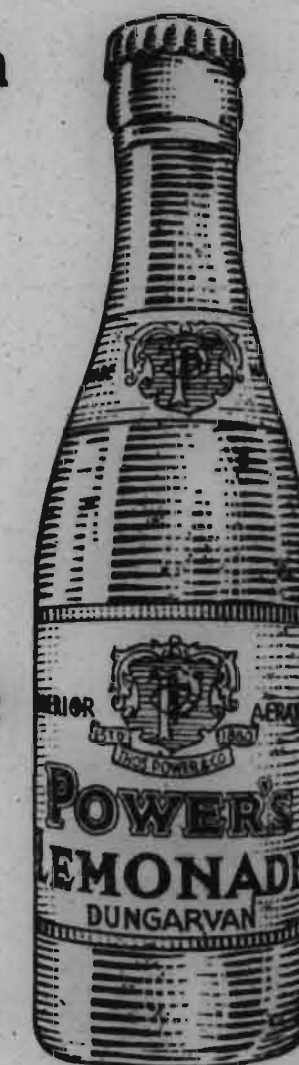

James Ronayne (18) a farmer's son, of Aglish, said that he met the late Pat Davis and William Dowling in Aglish. They walked to Villierstown so that Pat Davis could buy cigarettes. Pat Davis went into Treacy's shop in Villierstown at about 9.15 and witness did not see him again after that.

"Do something..." said the managing director PANIC! The new boiler, needed urgently to step up production, was stranded in Dublin. We had to have it here—quickly! So I phoned C.I.E. Their Heavy Haulage section took the problem out of my hands—told me not to worry. In less than 24 hours the boiler was installed... thanks to C.I.E. by chance... We are indebted to chance for a great number of the world's most important discoveries. Strange as it may seem, the discovery of America happened by chance. In August 1492 when Columbus set out on his momentous voyage he was seeking a short route to India. When he landed on the island of San Salvador he was unaware of the fact that he had discovered a new continent—America. That is why the original inhabitants are, to this day, called Indians and the islands that Columbus joyfully sighted after weeks at sea are known as the West Indies. BALLYDUFF NEWS

EDUCATIONAL TOUR

On Monday last the pupils of Glenclara, Shan, Ballyduff and Mocollop Schools set out on their educational tour. Their first stop was at Mitchelstown where by courtesy of the management of the local co-op creamery the children were taken on a tour of the cheese factory. Both boys and girls took a deep interest in the various processes and before departing each student was presented with a variety pack from the Home of Good Cheese. A stop was made at Kilcullin, where an appetising meal was served. The tour got underway again and at Ardacrusha the children were the guests of the E.S.B.

Shannon Airport was next visited. Here they were given special permission to observe aeroplanes from close range and they also witnessed planes taking off and landing. Tea was served at the Airport and then began the long journey homewards via Limerick, Tipperary, The Vee and Lisburne. The couriers pointed out prominent land marks and gave historical sketches that could be seen from the buses. For both teachers and children the long journey was most enjoyable as well as educative.

CARNIVAL We are now over the half-way stage with all things going well. Last week Ballyduff seven-a-side footballers were unlucky to be beaten by Mitchelstown by only 2 points. The local boys put up a magnificent fight with B. Cougan and R. Ryan the stars. Araglen hurlers qualified for the semi-final by victory over a depleted Glen Rovers team. On Wednesday the Bricksies senior footballers never struck true form and were well beaten by a good Fermoy side. The toddlers football match which followed was a hilarious affair. Sandals were in the air as often as the football. It was full-blooded stuff all the while and the boys did the crowd enjoy it. Every toddler played a man's part with Master's Feeney, Tobin, Fitzgerald, Collins and Canning outstanding. Master Cocoran the youngest of the tots was the idol of the crowd. On Sunday night the road-cycle race from Fermoy was won by our own M. Toomey. This up and coming cyclist also took the field-cycle event.

Geraldine qualified for the football semi-final by defeating Castletownroche and Fermoy advanced in the hurling tournament by overcoming Kilmoghney. And now, what of the future? Friday next Shamrocks take on Fermoy at 7.30 in junior hurling. This will be followed by a drag hunt with 27 in prizes and lastly we will have the first semi-final of the football. Unfortunately the carnival cannot be continued on Sunday because of championship games. All will come to an end next week so watch out for further announcements. The draw for the Kossan-Gas Cooker will take place at the close of the carnival. G.A.A.

On Sunday next at Lismore our junior hurlers take on Cappoquin. We cannot afford to take this game lightly as we hear that Cappoquin have a useful second string. Nevertheless the greater experience of the village boys should bring them victory. Our under 16 hurling championship game versus Cappoquin has not been played yet but must take place before Monday next when second round fixtures will be made.

WEST WATERFORD JUVENILE BOARD will take place in Cappoquin, on Monday, July 6th at 8 p.m. AGENDA: (1) Referees' Reports; (2) under 16 hurling second round fixtures; (3) under 16 football fixtures. All first round matches of the under 16 hurling must be played before July 6th. M. O. Finneadha (Runal).

SALMON FISHING

Fishing by nets improved somewhat last week, his applied only to a few boats but not to all, as some crews are still having a very lean time and it is not for want of trying hard. The same applies to the surrounding districts with the exception of the drag nets river which still continue to make good hauls. With only four weeks to go to the close of the season it would seem that results will improve very considerably.

BRITISH YACHT AT YOUGHAL

The ten ton Bermuda Cutter "Barbara" flying the Blue Ensign arrived in Youghal last week from Kinsale where she arrived from the Hamble River, Southampton in 48 hours. This fine Royal Artillery Yacht remained overnight in Youghal at the quayside and was captained by Brig. General T. G. Morris. Her next port of call being Dunmore East before her return to England to take part in a Regatta for ten ton craft. Large crowds assembled at the upper quays to view this craft of quays to view this craft the likes of which was not seen in the harbour for many days.

LECTURE—YOUGHAL OIGE GROUP

The beauty spots of Cork and Kerry was the subject of a lecture and film at the Town Hall, Youghal, under the auspices of Youghal Group of An Oige. The Lecturer, Mr. Hildon, brought his listeners on an imaginary tour of Kerry and Cork, and sketched the history of many old castles in that area. A vote of thanks to the speaker was proposed by Mr. Tarrant, Chairman of An Oige, Cork and Kerry and seconded by Mr. Youghal. The speaker was introduced by Mr. D. O'Connell of the Cork Group.

LORETO CONVENT

The annual re-union of past pupils of the Loreto Convent, Youghal, took place recently at the convent grounds when over 70 members from all over Ireland attended. They were entertained by Rev. Mother and Sisters of the Community and later attended Benediction imparted by Very Rev. Canon Sheehan, P.P., Youghal. The following is a gallant bid for the coveted honours by securing 7th and 8th place in the competition. They were: Master Tony Nagle, Knockmeal, Ballinamut and Master David Flynn, Kilmoney, do.

ALTHOUGH they did not win a scholarship, they deserve to be complimented, considering the keen competition they had to combat, as this competition is open to all Ireland, to boys under 14 years of age.

WE wish them better luck next time.

LATE MRS. C. RYAN

RICES STREET

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Catherine Ryan, Rices Street, Dungarvan, which took place on Saturday last. Deceased had reached a fairly advanced age. At the removal of the remains to St. Mary's Parish Church on Sunday evening and at the interment in Stradbally on Monday, there was a large attendance present.

Wonderful Waterford

waltz by Galway HURLERS RETURN TO OLD-TIME FORM

WATERFORD, 7-11; GALWAY, 0-7

WATERFORD, PRODUCING A RUTHLESSLY-DEVASTATING BRAND OF OLD-TIME MUNSTER HURLING, SHATTERED GALWAY'S HIGHLY-REGARDED CHAMPIONSHIP ASPIRATIONS WITH JOHANSSON-LIKE FURY WHEN THE COUNTERS CLASHED AT THE ENNIS ROAD, LIMERICK, ON SUNDAY LAST.

It was said that the fare was moderate in the extreme by the accepted Munster championship standard. It was far too one-sided to be otherwise. But for Waterford folk at least, the occasion was memorable in as much as it heralded the long-awaited return to the form that made our representatives a match for anything in the game two short years ago.

It was, of course, a most amazing hour for neutral spectators, relieved only by the power-packed effectiveness of the rampant Deise men.

For Galway, testing the might of Munster championship fare for the first time, it was a bitterly-humiliating experience, a rout that had developed into complete annihilation long before the Shanonniders' sun had set on the utterly one-sided hour.

For Waterford, however, it marked a new juncture, the greatest performance since we waltzed Westford in the O'Roches of '57 and an indication beyond yea or nay that on their day and in the mood our standard-bearers are still fit com-

CONDON OUT

It was learned during the week that Jackie Condon, who received a nasty crack on the hand in the early stages of last Sunday's game, will definitely miss the semi-final against Tipperary on Sunday week. X-rays have disclosed that the Erin's Own man in fact broke a bone.

SEMI-FINAL FOR CORK

The semi-final of the Munster senior hurling championship between Waterford and Tipperary will take place at the Cork Athletic Grounds on Sunday week. This was decided at a meeting of the provincial fathers in Limerick on Sunday evening last.

Ballinameela Crush Ring's Title Hopes

Ballinameela, the bigger and more methodical side, played a grand brand of football. Of the two they clearly adapted themselves better to the prevailing conditions, gearing their game in defence and attack to get the most out of the heavy ball.

Exceeded Expectations of most Ardent Followers

THE VICTORY OF THE COUNTY HURLERS OVER GALWAY, THE QUALITY OF THE RESERVE SUPPLY OF HURLEYS, TIPPERARY'S REFUSAL TO COME TO WATERFORD FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP SEMI-FINAL AND THE STATUS OF THE CITY SPORTSFIELD WERE THE BIG TOPICS OF DISCUSSION WHEN THE MEMBERS OF THE COUNTY BOARD MET UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF PADRAIG O'FAINNIN IN DUNGARVAN ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The display of the senior hurlers, Mr. Fanning said, had exceeded the expectations of even their most optimistic supporters and indicated that they would face any opposition with reasonable confidence in the future.

It was, he added, a great boost to the players, who had responded to the challenge to a man. He extended to them the best wishes for their clash with Tipperary on Sunday week.

Mr. J. McKenna, who concurred with the chairman's remarks, proposed a vote of congratulations to the county camogie team on their great victory over Tipperary in the Munster final.

The Chairman agreed that it was a fine performance and said that a number of people who had stopped at Cahir on the way from Limerick had told him that they had been very favourably impressed.

Arising out of a complaint by Mr. S. Power on the quality of the reserve supply of hurleys available to the county team, it was decided to procure the sticks from a variety of makers for future games.

Mr. Power said they hurleys were too fresh—he had been informed that they were only purchased during the previous week. He suggested that they should be purchased at least three weeks before being put into use.

Mr. E. Cheasty remarked that the main trouble appeared to be

GERALDINES ON TOP

Three goals and one point, crashed home during a hectic finishing burst, just about redeemed an otherwise listless football challenge in which Geraldines and Emmets were in opposition at Aglish on Thursday last.

The visitors, who led by 1-4 to 0-2 at the interval, were six points clear with as many minutes remaining. In the dying stages, however, Geraldines pulled themselves together, clicked into action and finally pulled away in a manner that was nothing short of amazing.

The position at the call of time was: Geraldines, 3-6; Emmets, 2-5.

Apart from the remarkable turn in the closing stages pursued, the game, for which both sides were considerably under-strength, yielded little of note.

BALLINAMEELA FANCIED

Ballinameela minors, who put paid to the big ball titleholders last week, change codes for tonight's engagement with the local under eighteen combination at Ardmore.

Although the homesters can be relied on to offer stern opposition, Ballinameela must be odds on to take the points from this second round test. It is timed to commence at 8.00.

BUS TO LISMORE

A special bus will leave Fews on Sunday next at 1.15 p.m., in connection with the senior football match between Kilrossanty and Brickey Rangers at Lismore.

CORRECTION

Due to an error in transmission the scoreline for the Brickey Rangers - Ballinacourty junior football game was inadvertently given as 2-4 to 0-8 in last week's issue. It should, of course, have read: Brickey Rangers, 1-8; Ballinacourty, 2-0.

Great rivals clash at Lismore

ALTHOUGH THE SWITCH FROM THE FAMILIAR SETTING OF THE FRAHER FIELD TENDS TO ROB THE FIXTURE OF A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF ITS CUSTOMARY GLAMOUR, IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING THAT THE CASTLE FARM, LISMORE, WILL BE PACKED TO CAPACITY ON SUNDAY NEXT FOR THE LONG-AWAITED CHAMPIONSHIP CLASH OF KILROSSANTY AND BRICKEY RANGERS.

With the Dungarvan arena nursing a broken collar bone, Comeragh mentors would dearly love to have Kirwan and Power back on duty, but my information is that they are most unlikely to turn out, great and all as the urge to do so may be.

Kilrossanty, however, can still command the nucleus of a first-class side and they have in skipper Jimmy Whyte, Colum Cunningham, Miel and Ben Prendergast, Jim Timmons, who is making the journey from England for the game, the younger Kirwans, Pete Gough and Jimmy Maher, men who will spare no effort to see the green and gold through to the second round.

MINOR HURLING REPLAY

The fact that they were in possession of a most commanding lead when the original fixture broke up in chaos most of necessity entitle Ballinameela to a confident vote for Thursday night's championship replay with the Colligan based St. Anne's.

Powered by Patsy Donnelly, the Spratts, Frankie Ryan, Tom Beery, Nicholas McGrath, the Walshes and company, Brickeys must be fancied to advance to the second round.
