CO-OP. FRUIT GROWERS BREAK NEW GROUND

Dungarvan's Apple Station has taken the lead again, and plans to give more employment for the town and district.

Into the homes of discerning housewives throughout the County Waterford are currently going handy one-pound tins of delicious strawberries-in-syrup, canned from the garden, and calculated to please the palate of all lovers of this excellent fruit.

OPERATION STRAWBERRY
This new "Operation Strawberry" starts another industry in Dungarvan, and has been planned and carried out by the energetic team who run the affairs of Dungarvan's Apple Packing Station for the Co-operative Fruit Growers' Society.

Man behind the drive is Mr. Tadgh McCarthy, Manager of the Dungarvan Station who told the "Dungarvan Observer" that this year's crop will be the canning of Strawberries in 1 lb. tins for household use, and have purchased from Westford growers over thirty tons of Strawberries, which were processed in a canner, and are now available to the trade.

SHANDON BELLS
Canning is not a new operation at this orchard concern. For the past four years the Co-operative Fruit Growers' Society has been canning apples in 6 lb. cans for the hotel, excursionists and catering trades, and their registered "Shandon Bells" brand is a familiar sight throughout the country.

New nearly are seventy-five thousand tins of one pound weight each succulent strawberries-in-syrup, another proof that this enterprising local firm is not afraid to take the initiative and to do something concrete for both town and country.

WHY?
"We will help town and country," a firm's spokesman told the "Observer". "For the town it means that we have given much-needed employment, and for the country it will mean that they will have an exportable surplus—and it is much better that we should be able to send goods, rather than emigrants from our shores."

In the shops it had noticed that while many brands of canned goods were on prominent display, none of the local canned produce was to be seen.

Enquiries made at many of the wholesale vans from outside the county and the town which are regularly to be seen in Grattan Square, had elicited the replies that they do not carry any of the Dungarvan-produced goods. There was a big WHY?

HELPING THEMSELVES
"Anyway, it is time that we should take pride in a local enterprise," said the company's representative. He urged that support be given for the firm's products, and that our tradesmen and the housewives of the town and country be asked to insist on a home-produced product.

"By doing this," he said, "people are only helping themselves by helping us to give employment at home, by increasing the spending-power of the individual who earns the wages, which in due course will ensure a general increase in income."

FIRST CLASS
During a visit to Dungarvan's Apple Packing Station, an "Observer" representative was enabled to sample "Shandon Bells" Strawberries, which were found in quality and in quantity to be superior to any on the current market.

Asked if the firm intended to concentrate on the canning of Strawberries, Apple Packing Station Manager, Mr. McCarthy said: "We have already put up canned apple, gooseberries, carrots, rhubarb, etc., and the Fruit Growers Society is only starting."

TALLOW NOTES

DEATH OF VERY REV. FR. JOHN HOULIHAN

The death occurred recently in America, of Very Rev. Fr. John P. Houlihan, Pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Waterville, Maine, for the past twelve years. Fr. Houlihan (whose mother, before her marriage was Miss O'Mahony, Main St., Tallow) received his early education at Tallow National School and entered Mount Melleray Seminary in 1907, where he had as classmate Very Rev. Fr. J. Corbett, now P.P. at Stradbally. In the summer of 1912 Fr. Houlihan returned to the States to take up final studies for the Priesthood and was ordained in the Cathedral, Portland, Maine, on June 21st, 1917. By Most Rev. Dr. Louis Walsh, Bishop of Portland, Fr. Houlihan was born in the United States, but owing to his father's death, who incidentally was from Fermoy, he was brought by his mother to Ireland. During his stay here he lived with his grandfather the late John O'Mahony, Main St., Tallow. Two years ago on the 40th anniversary of his ordination he was made a presentation by the Bishop, Priests and faithful of the Diocese of Maine, who spoke in glowing terms of his work for the Church. He intended paying a visit to Ireland last year but his health failed. Fr. Houlihan was first cousin of Miss M. J. O'Keefe, Barrack Street, Tallow, to whom sympathy is extended.

STOCK-JUDGING COMPETITION

Tallow Macra Chairma, Miss Kathleen Barry, proved her ability in the ladies senior stock judging at the first annual Field Day at the Lisamore Branch in the face of keen opposition she annexed first prize. Her success was all the more meritorious when we remember she had to try her skill against the cream of Macra-Peime from over thirty teams from Counties Cork, Tipperary and Waterford.

KNOCKANORE BOWLING

A very interesting score was thrown on the Killenagh-Knockanore round on Sunday last between Mr. M. Gallagher (Cappoquin) West Waterford Champion and Mr. John Murphy (Youghal) East Cork Champion. The game was won by the former with about two bowls of odds.

BOTTLED MILK

Bottled milk can now be had at Mr. D. Deane's shop at Main St. The milk is delivered each morning from Mr. P. Maxwell's dairy, Meadborough. This fills a long-felt want in Tallow.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN DUNLEY

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Dunley, Becla, Templemeadow, Youghal, which occurred last week. A member of a widely esteemed family, he was extremely popular with all classes. There was a large and representative attendance at the funeral of the remains to the Church of St. Michael, Glendole and at the interment in Templemeadow cemetery. To his sons, daughters and other relatives we tender our deepest sympathy.

ROYAL SHOWBAND AT TEN ARCH

The Royal Showband, Waterford, will be playing at the Arch Ballroom for the first time on Sunday night July 26th.

QUEEN CARNAVAL DANCE

There was a good attendance at the Carnival dance in the Thimbletop Hall, Carrigrohane, on Sunday night. The dance orchestra, Youghal, kept the dancers on their toes all night with grand musical selection. The carnival concludes on this Thursday night with Pony races and a dance in the local hall.

SPORTS

Spending a holiday from England at present are the Misses O'Sullivan, Convent Street, Mrs. M. Sweeney, West Street, Mr. P. Egan, Chapel Street, Mr. O. Fitzgerald, New Street, W. with their all a pleasant holiday.

WINTER FARM SCHOOLS

A new scheme to provide adult education for people living on the land—Winter Farm Schools—will be introduced next winter. The Department of Agriculture, the Department of Education, the County Committees of Agriculture and the County Vocational Education Committees are co-operating to provide a comprehensive course of instruction for people over 18 years of age who are engaged in farming. In special cases boys of under 18 will be allowed to take courses.

The scheme was fore-shadowed in the Government's White Paper on Economic Expansion. The Minister for Agriculture and the Minister for Education expressed the hope that at least one Winter Farm School will be run in each county during the coming winter. Local variations in the general syllabus will be worked out by the committees if they think it necessary. The details of the course at each centre will be decided upon by the Chief Agricultural Officer and the Chief Executive Officer in each county, in consultation with officers of the Departments of Agriculture and Education.

At present it is envisaged that the course would run for a total of 220 hours, made up of four hours of instruction on each of two afternoons per week in two sessions one in 1959-60 and the second in 1960-61. Those who complete the course will be awarded certificates.

The syllabus which has been drawn up in a general way includes basic instruction in agriculture, with sufficient scientific information to give an understanding of the fundamental principles of soil science, agronomy, animal husbandry, animal physiology and health, the life cycles of common parasites and similar subjects. Horticulture, which has become an increasingly important part of farming in many parts of the country, is included and these will be instruction on elementary forestry, building construction, a subject in which farmers have shown an increasing interest, will be included also.

Farm management will play an important part in the course and the instruction in agricultural economics and marketing will include such matters as land tenure, the effect of supply and demand on prices, State and local administration, as well as the more usual type of instruction on marketing farm produce. The sections on farm calculations will take in account-keeping, map-reading and the surveying and levelling of land.

Other general headings for sections of the course are 'Community Affairs', which will deal with rural organisation, agricultural co-operation, farm credit, local and central government, and will be designed to give those attending the course a better view of their own positions in the general community. This is probably the most comprehensive course ever instituted by the Government in Ireland on the land in this country, and it is expected that there will be a big demand for places. Most of the subjects will be covered by members of the advisory staffs of the agricultural committees and the teaching staffs of the vocational education committees. At special instructors may be brought in to deal with some of the subjects. It is being arranged to hold these courses in readily situated Rural Vocational Schools.

Committee of Agriculture's Annual Meeting

Two candidates, Mr. H. Hart (outgoing) and Mr. C. Curran were proposed for position of Chairman and each received six votes. Both names were placed in a hat and Mr. Hart's name being drawn he was declared elected.

INSTRUCTOR APPOINTED

There were eight applicants for the position of Temporary Instructor. Mr. Sean O'Brien, Knockree, Tallow was appointed, he being the only County Waterford applicant.

LAND RECLAMATION

A circular was read from the Land Reclamation Association protesting against the termination of section 'B' of the scheme. It was decided to discuss the terms of circular at next meeting.

VEGETARIAN ADVISOR

Mr. Egan suggested that, in view of the importance of the livestock industry, a veterinary advisor be appointed for the county. Following a brief discussion on the matter the matter was deferred to next meeting.

Kilmacthomas, Stradbally and Kilrossanty News

New National School at Knocknahan, Bannahugh.—The Minister for Education (Dr. Hillyar) stated during Question Time in the Dail in reply to Aid. T. A. Kynne, that the Commissioners of Public Works did not provide for the installation of electric lighting in national schools unless a request was made for its provision by the Manager. In the case of Knocknahan School the Manager applied for the installation of electric lighting on April 22nd, 1959. A specification therefore was prepared by the Commissioners and tenders were invited on July 1st, 1959. The latest date for the acceptance of tenders was July 14th. The Commissioners of Public Works expected to have the school completed and the electrical installation provided for lighting and the plumbing of water by August 31st, and so the school should be ready for occupation when the summer holidays expired.

The Youth and Beauty of Comeragh Valley were in their element at the open-air dancing in Leuncybar on Friday night of last week. The capitally conducted affair afforded pronounced pleasure to all participating. The Glennara Ceil band discoursing the music delightfully.

Gaiety was the keynote of the second annual ceil sponsored by Stradbally Football club and the well-organised function attracted a jolly fine company of Gaelic dance-lovers to the CSM Ballroom, Clonra, on Sunday night last, when the popular performing body presented the Gallowglass Ceil band (featuring vocalist Patricia Dwyer), whose feast of pleasing renditions won the noted combination untold plaudits and acclaim. As customary, the Ceolra View Hotel catering and bar service proved superb. Truly, the energetic and efficient committee in charge of the ceil has a right to their credit which they may feel pardonably proud.

Rebroad.—The engagement is announced between Thomas, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. T. Rockett, Ballycurkeen, Carrick-on-Suir, and Maed, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogent, Feidra, Keshmork, Co. Wick.

An Attractive Looking Young Lady, of rare charm of manner is Miss J. J. Fahavan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fahavan, Kilmacthomas (and Glen House, Forth), and she received her B.Sc. degree at the recent conferring at University College, Cork.

Miss Fahavan is President of the Students' Council, Cork, and is the first lady to hold this office in thirty-seven years, and she secured the status of the University College. Now in her second year she will be enjoying the benefits of the scholarship for which she is a deserving recipient in a Waterford hospital.

During the summer months the part of extra hands in the employment of a Kilmacthomas Drainage Scheme contractor, by which they were engaged as bulldozer and excavator-drivers, widely known and the William and James Corbett brothers, of the fine old family stack of the name in the Cove village of Stradbally, certainly have something to their credit to be justly proud of.

And now James is employed by Messrs. N. Cotter and Co., Ltd., Abbeyfeale, Co. Limerick, for whom he is operating an excavator and is faring finely in the beautiful Shannon-veined county.

And William will be operating as hosteler in another Munster part shortly. Continuing increasing success is warmly wished the popular pair by all acquainted with them.

More Luck to worthily well-esteemed Miss Padraig, Kilmacthomas, Kilmacthomas, and Rathmoreak Jervis Draw for week ending the 14th inst.

Announced in New York City U.S.A., are Mr. and Mrs. Horie Walsh, who are now enjoying a holiday in their native Kilmacthomas, and their relatives and friends in and around the little town are thrilled at meeting them again and at seeing both looking in the powerful pink and as friendly and cheerful as ever. They arrived at Shannon Airport one day last week, and will be re-crossing the Atlantic at the end of next month.

Mr. Walsh was a Dr. Hillyar player, member of the Dr. Hillyar Athletic team during the 1920's and 1930's and he is not a whit less keen than was then on the progress of the native games and pastimes.

ARMORE "PATTERN"—The annual "Pattern" in commemoration of St. Declan, Patron of the area, will be held in Armory on Sunday next and devotees of the same will flock to the historic and picturesque scene to witness the "Pattern" and the "rounds" in the grounds of the old cathedral situated to the east of the village. In Armory and the surrounding areas the name of St. Declan is held in great veneration and many spiritual and temporal favours are attributed to his intercession. It is generally accepted that St. Declan introduced the Faith to Ardmore, Clismore, Old Parish and other parts of West Waterford before the advent of St. Patrick. In support of this viewpoint historians point out that St. Patrick never visited West Waterford, the reason being that the residents of that area had already been converted to Christianity.

Popular Monnie and his equally likeable life's partner will be amongst the multitude of Waterfordians cheering and encouraging Frankie Walsh and Co. to victory over Cork in Thurles tomorrow (Sunday).

The tremendous attendance was representative of many parts near and far, and the eclectic event panned out a real regatta social in the entertainment annals of the holiday season.

Ballinameela Boy for 'Young Farmer of the Year' Title

Seventeen years old Tom Browne, Cappagh, is Waterford's choice for the title of Young Farmer of the Year in the forthcoming national contest for Junior Young Farmers.

A member of the Ballinameela Branch of Macra na Tuaithe, he is busy at present putting the final touches to his farm records, account books and stock report in preparation for his challenge, against very strong competitors, to be held as the No. 1 Junior Young Farmer in Ireland.

The Young Farmer of the Year competition, sponsored by Macra na Tuaithe organisation for the David Brown Scholarship—an annual award which consists of an educational trip abroad, a cash award of £100, and a perpetual trophy—is now approaching its final stages. The individual branch winners have competed in their county finals and the provincials will take place shortly.

CLOSE FINISH At the recently held Waterford county final, adjudged at Ballinameela by County Chief Agricultural Officer, Mr. Patrick Murray, B.Sc., there was a finish of twelve put forward on the final analysis of contestants, which was conducted by Macra na Feirme liaison officer Mr. James McGrath and Mr. John O'Donnell. These had been selected after careful tests put to the full thirty-six members of the active youth club at Ballinameela.

After a detailed and personal interview by the judges, and with only a dividing mark of 24½ separating him from the runner-up in this very keen contest, Tom Browne was declared the county winner.

This ambitious youth will be the sole Waterford representative in the national contest and will compete with entrants from Tipperary, Cork, Kerry, Galway, Roscommon, Louth, Leitrim, Carlow, Kildare, Wexford, Donegal, and Dublin.

ACTIVE MEMBER

Great credit is due to this teen-age youth, who, having lost his father by the latter's death, when Tom was very young, turned in with a will to aid his elder brother John, now 19 years old, in running the farm for themselves and their widowed mother. In 1956 he joined the Ballinameela Branch of Macra na Tuaithe and as one of the most active members in this most go-ahead and enthusiastic youth group, he was appointed Treasurer in 1957. The following year he was appointed Vice-Chairman and at the recent annual general meeting for the current year he was elected Chairman of the Branch.

Though kept busy on the farm Tom took time off to study the technical side of his trade and attended a special Agricultural Course held at Athlone, Co. Galway Agricultural College. His early schooling was obtained at the Ballinameela National School. He is an active member of the local hurling and football club.

WON PRIZE

Last year Tom won what may be proved to be a very valuable prize indeed. Following a special club competition he won the Townsends-Flahavan prize for the best all-round member of the Macra na Tuaithe Club. This prize, for which the adjudicator was the then National Chairman of the Macra na Feirme, Mr. D. J. Coughlan, Rossmore, Kilmac Thomas, was awarded by the Killthomas seed firm and consisted of two five pounds £5 National Prize Bonds which stand a chance of a big prize win in one of the bi-annual draws.

Young Tom Browne has three practical projects on hands at the moment. He has his incalculable heifer for the competition, a plot of beet entered for the Conhugh Suite Eriason Tea contest and a plot of potatoes lined up ready for the Tayto competition.

CAREFUL RECORDS

He has his record books well written up and preserves a carefully compiled scrapbook of the news items dealing with farming, rural youth organisations, sport and general information. He has carefully entered detailed accounts in a special account book relating to his projects and these items will be taken into account in the adjudication of the finalists in the Young Farmer of the Year competition.

The provincial finals in this competition will be on an interview basis and the reports of the judges of the county finals, who interviewed entrants on the various projects undertaken will be taken into account in deciding the Munster champion. The projects which have been undertaken by contestants range from cultivation of field crops, rearing of animals, recording of milk yields, weeding, to attendance of club meetings and the keeping of farm accounts and records.

SALMON NET FISHING

We are again pleased to report that the catches of salmon in all areas are considered to be most satisfactory and with now only one week to go to July 31st it is hoped that this will continue. In the Ardmore area fishermen are hampered in their operations by shoals of sharks. At a glance it would seem a strong fishery, and this year was an improvement on last year, but the grise catches would hardly come up to that of last year. However the final returns for both net and rod fish will not be available until October.

SEA-ANGLING COMPETITION

On Sunday last in rather sultry weather the third of five sea-angling competitions took place under the auspices of the Youghal Sea-Angling Club. A large crowd assembled at the market Dock to see the teams off at 2.30 and again to know the result at 5.30 p.m. In view of the large number of anglers and the total record catch of over 600 lbs, this was the most successful competition so far. In all there were 18 boats and 62 rods but due to a strong NW wind many of the smaller craft were unable to get very far out to sea, and in this respect the larger boats had a greater advantage.

In reply to Mr. Lynch the Secretary stated that boats would not all be afloat Mr. Lynch pointed out that one of the walls of the proposed structure would, according to the plan, go right up to the Ferry slip, and would preclude the ferryboat landing at the slipway? It was agreed to forward the plan to the Department of Fisheries for the information of the Minister.

The art of lithography, one of the most important of the printing processes, was yet another chance discovery. Alois Senefelder, a poor Bavarian student had been seeking an inexpensive method of printing his compositions. One day, at the end of the 18th century, his mother asked him to note down a laundry list. Not having paper to hand he wrote the list on a piece of Kelheim stone which he used for mixing ink on, then just by chance, he found that he could take an impression of his writing and that Kelheim stone possessed special qualities which were eventually to revolutionise the printing industry and make a fortune for Senefelder. Why not buy a chance in the Cambridge Sweepstakes? You might be one of the many winners of £50,000.

LATE MR. N. CONNORS

PARK, STRADBALLY

Early on last Monday morning (24th inst.) (great of St. Jerome Ave. (C.C.)) happened the death at his home, following a comparatively short illness, of Mr. Nicholas (Nick) Connors, Park, Stradbally, one of the most prominent farmers in the county, and a prize-winning exhibitor of thoroughbred horses and livestock at the leading Agricultural Shows in the county since the turn of the century.

The late Mr. Connors, who had attained to the nonagenarian span, was the longest living member of the team of 21 players that led by Patsy Wall, of Ballinacorney, took its first County Senior Football Championship title to historic Killooney parish in 1888; no score was registered against the side from start to finish of the competition—a veritable record in its way. He was a man of extremely upright character, and was admired and respected by all who knew him, kindly and courteous in his manner, he won many friends in all sections of the community. With his children and grandchildren since sympathy is widespread in their tribulation.

On Wednesday, after Requiem Masses in the Parish Church, Stradbally, the remains, which had lain in the sacred edifice overnight, were conveyed to his grave in the cemetery adjoining St. Brigid's Parish Church, Killooney, and the funeral was the largest and most representative seen in the district in living memory. Very Rev. J. McCauley, P.P., Killooney, gave the closing absolution at the graveside. Sheaves of spirituous requests and messages of condolence were received.

BALLYDUFF VISIT AGLISH NOTES

G.A.A.

Ballyduff cleared their second hurdle in the current minor hurling championship by defeating Tallow in their own grounds on July 16th. It was a dour struggle without reaching any great heights.

The lighter Tallow boys kept our lads at full stretch until the last quarter but the village boys ran out worthy winners.

Both teams were given to lifting the ball when first time pulling would have played better dividends. If our team is to advance further they must learn to play the ball on the ground and selfishness and purely individual effort must give way to proper team spirit. B. Coughlan was the outstanding man on the winners side. His long taking drives went deep into enemy territory. T. Murphy's presence was felt in the back-line when he came on after the resumption. J. Allen, the Murphy brothers, Power, Flynn and Kennedy and Scallion were also prominent.

FIXTURES.

On Friday, July 24th, our minor hurlers take on Cappoquin in Lismore. On Monday, July 27th our under 16 foot-balls play Cappoquin in Lismore in the group final.

Next week, when the fury of the Munster final will have died away we will be in a position to make the closing fixtures for our carnival.

Final on Sunday night, August 16th.

LOCAL EFFORT

On Sunday evening last, a very old sport was revived in the village when our hurlers took to the road. M. Barry, P. Barry, P. O'Neill, M. Whelan, showed that they can still throw a long one. We beat the Tuomecha and were led by N. Fennessy and E. Scallion have been quietly practising for the last few weeks. Now, how about a competition between the two groups? It would certainly draw the crowds. Then a team could be chosen from the stars of both groups with a view to taking on Tallow, Lismore, Tourin, Cappoquin, etc.

The spirit of revival was also evident in the musical world when some local lads got together to form a dance orchestra. D. Tolain, D. Barry, L. Farrell, K. Barry, D. Roche and P. Fennessy, etc., should prove a lively lot of musicians for the weekly dances which the Parish Council intend to run during the winter. Maybe these lads would go a step further and revive the Fife and Drum band. Local effort and co-operation are all that is needed to provide entertainment for our people.

Fleet Blessed and Safe-Driving Scheme Inaugurated

At a brief, but impressive ceremony held in the Machinery Yard of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan on Monday last thirty-one drivers of the County Council's fleet of lorries, trucks and road repair machinery and plant were enrolled in a special Road Safety Plan, which will bring them special recognition and awards for safe driving.

The scheme was inaugurated by Rev. Fr. D. P. Kennedy, S.J., President of the Safety First Association of Ireland, who attended the ceremony.

HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY

"One of the reasons why the accident rate in Ireland is today one of the highest in the world," said Fr. Kennedy, "is because drivers do not realise their responsibilities to other road-users.

The principal reason, stated Fr. Kennedy, for the existence of the Safety First Association of Ireland, which was now established for twenty-one years, was in regard to the sacredness of human life.

"Drivers should remember," he continued, "that every time they sit behind the wheel of a vehicle, they are shouldering a very moral responsibility."

Drivers who were guilty of downright carelessness were committing a mortal sin.

MEALS AND CASH BONUSES

Mr. J. D. Healey, B.E., County Engineer, who initiated the scheme in County Waterford, said that the rates levied on the men will mean certificates and medals for safe drivers. A silver medal will be awarded for five consecutive years, a gold medal for ten consecutive years, and a gold star for twenty consecutive years, and a gold star with a reward certificate for a period of five years.

There will also be bonuses awarded as an encouragement to the drivers, sums of £2, £5, and £10 being awarded respectively to certificate-holders, silver medalists, and gold medal recipients. The sum of £25 will be paid to the holder of a gold star.

Mr. Healey said that this would impress on the public that they were taking their responsibilities seriously.

UNION SUPPORT

Mr. Thomas A. Kyne, T.D., said that as Chairman of the Drivers' Union he could promise that any trade union driver who received an official award under the Safety First Scheme would find the Union's encouragement in the form of a award of a similar nature from them.

Rev. Fr. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Dungarvan, blessed the County Council's fleet of lorries and road-plant which was drawn up in the yard.

The attendance included: Mr. S. J. Moynihan, County Manager; Mr. Michael Morrissey, Chairman Waterford County Council; Ald. William Keenleyside; Mr. P. A. Kyne, T.D.; Mr. C. Curran, Chairman Waterford Board of Public Assistance; Mr. J. D. Healey, B.E., County Engineer; Mr. J. O'Connell, B.E., Assistant County Engineer; Captain M. J. J. Kyne, T.D., County Officer; Mr. J. Dowling, County Secretary; Mr. J. A. Hynes, Secretary Board of Public Assistance; members of the Waterford County Council and other public bodies.

Brickies Hit Back After Early Shocks

Despite the discouragement of lightning opening—they were ahead by 1-1 within minutes of the throw-in—Fourmilewater finished their junior hurling encounter Brickey Rangers at Lismore on Sunday last, a well-beaten side.

The Brickies, recovering steadily from their early set-backs wound up with the comfortable winning margin of five points to their credit.

At the end they were full value for a victory that entitles them to a crack at Ardmore or Culligan in the semi-final of the club's championship.

The hurling, which was punctuated by a couple of blood-curdling clashes was always interesting and with scores coming at the rate of one just over every two and half minutes, spectators were kept on their toes throughout.

Brickies, who appeared none the worse for their unexpected failure in the big ball championship, served warning notices on all would-be rivals that they are serious candidates for the hurling laurels. On the day they certainly looked capable of making a bold bid to join their football brethren in the upper grade.

Fourmilewater, though well served individually, have still an amount of leeway to make up before meeting up with the high standard they set in the early years of the decade.

The winners led by:

Ballinacorney and Tourin Finish Level

Ballinacorney, 1-3; Tourin, 0-4

Ballinacorney, fielding a little fancier side that contained several of the club's all-conquering minor team, went despatched close to championship Tourin from the junior football championship at the Stradbally, Cappoquin, on Sunday last.

The young Ballinacorney lads, who were making their debut in the junior grade, had their bigger and more experienced opponents on a merry dance for most of the hour and were only ultimately despatched in unexpected victory by reason of the inability to maintain an all-out effort against rested, experience-copping rivals.

Ballinacorney: P. Cahill, P. McCarthy, J. O'Donnell, John Killgrew, J. McGrath, L. Curran, W. O'Keefe, F. Conroy and J. Brown; P. Cushman, M. Kelleher, P. O'Keefe; R. Walsh, D. Twomey, T. Reynolds.

Mr. Maher (senior) told the "Observer" that he has spent over forty years attending Shows, stock-judging competitions, etc., as Judge throughout Ireland, and including the Royal Dublin Society Shows at Ballsbridge.

OFFICIALS

County Agricultural officials who were present to assist at the adjudications were: Mr. Patrick Conroy, B.Sc., County Agricultural Officer; Mr. Thomas F. Maher, B.Sc., Vocational Committee Rural Science Instructor; Mr. Matthew Dromey, Cow Teaching Association Inspector.

Macra teams which consisted of two ladies and three men—24 in all—were divided into one under 24 years of age, one under 25-29 years, and one over 30 years.

The ladies were judged on dress, hair, and face, and the men on physique, strength, and endurance.

Prizes were awarded for the best of each sex and for the best of each age group.

At a specially convened meeting of the Show, Committee on Wednesday evening sympathy was voted to the relatives of the late Mr. Nicholas Connors, Park, a life-long member of the Show Committee.

Ballinacorney and Tourin Finish Level

Ballinacorney, 1-3; Tourin, 0-4

Ballinacorney, fielding a little fancier side that contained several of the club's all-conquering minor team, went despatched close to championship Tourin from the junior football championship at the Stradbally, Cappoquin, on Sunday last.

The young Ballinacorney lads, who were making their debut in the junior grade, had their bigger and more experienced opponents on a merry dance for most of the hour and were only ultimately despatched in unexpected victory by reason of the inability to maintain an all-out effort against rested, experience-copping rivals.

Ballinacorney: P. Cahill, P. McCarthy, J. O'Donnell, John Killgrew, J. McGrath, L. Curran, W. O'Keefe, F. Conroy and J. Brown; P. Cushman, M. Kelleher, P. O'Keefe; R. Walsh, D. Twomey, T. Reynolds.

ALL IN READINESS FOR THE SHOW

Arrangements are now complete for Dungarvan Show on Tuesday next, July 30th. Entries in all sections have been excellent this year. The usual colourful parade of Hounds by the Dungarvan Harriers, Hunt and Club will be an attractive feature of the programme and the Dungarvan Pipers' Band will supply the music.

Brickies Hit Back After Early Shocks

Despite the discouragement of lightning opening—they were ahead by 1-1 within minutes of the throw-in—Fourmilewater finished their junior hurling encounter Brickey Rangers at Lismore on Sunday last, a well-beaten side.

The Brickies, recovering steadily from their early set-backs wound up with the comfortable winning margin of five points to their credit.

At the end they were full value for a victory that entitles them to a crack at Ardmore or Culligan in the semi-final of the club's championship.

The hurling, which was punctuated by a couple of blood-curdling clashes was always interesting and with scores coming at the rate of one just over every two and half minutes, spectators were kept on their toes throughout.

Brickies, who appeared none the worse for their unexpected failure in the big ball championship, served warning notices on all would-be rivals that they are serious candidates for the hurling laurels. On the day they certainly looked capable of making a bold bid to join their football brethren in the upper grade.

Fourmilewater, though well served individually, have still an amount of leeway to make up before meeting up with the high standard they set in the early years of the decade.

The winners led by:

Carrick Team Bring Home the Laurels
