FIRE BRIGADE ON GRAVEYARD CALL

When Dungarvan's Fire Brigade answered the siren's summons on Tuesday afternoon last, the fire-call led them on a rather out-of-the-usual trip—to a graveyard.

Following the long spell of very dry and warm weather, the tinder-dry grass in the old Protestant Churchyard caught fire about 3.30 p.m. on Tuesday and the fire brigade under the command of Mr. Ned Morrissey, acting fire-chief was soon on the spot.

Water was drawn by hoses from the swimming pool, which is nearby, and in less than fifteen minutes, the blaze was under control. There were, fortunately, no injuries to persons nor damage to property.

WILL WED IN TRAMORE

A forthcoming marriage of local interest is that arranged between Mr. Paul Cassin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cassin, "Eden Court," South Parade, Waterford and Miss Maureen T. Hogan, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Hogan and the late Mr. Thomas A. Hogan, "Rocklands," Tramore. The marriage will take place on the 23rd of next month at the Holy Cross Church, Tramore.

NONAGENARIAN NUN'S DEATH

Sister Mary of St. Dymphna (Fallon), whose death has occurred at the Good Shepherd Convent, Waterford at the age of 99, had been seventy-one years in Religion. She was aunt of Mr. John Cox and of Mrs. Patrick Sheridan of Tallow.

THEIR LUCK WAS IN

Local prizewinners in Gaelic games pools competitions during the week included Mr. W. Power, Carrigamona, Leamybrien, who received a prize of £10, and Miss Kattie Daly, Ballinacourty, Dungarvan, who won a £5 prize.

EXCELLENT WEATHER GIVES FINE HARVEST

With the most unusual run of splendid summer weather which we have had this year, the current year's harvest is bound to go on record in farming history as one of the most outstanding. Everything connected with this year's harvest has run smoothly. Yields have been good, the content of the harvesting has been only a small margin of what it was a year ago, and generally things could not have been better.

TO WED AT ST. JOHN'S

The marriage arranged between Mr. Maurice Heaney, younger son of Mr. John Heaney and the late Mrs. M. Heaney, Otteran House, Waterford, and Miss Elizabeth Mary (Betty) O'Neill, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neill, "Cill Dara," Strandside North, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, will take place at St. John's Church, Waterford, on September 15th.

AN UNLUCKY THIRTEEN

By what for them was an unlucky 13 marks, the team of the Fourth Waterford Troop, St. Joseph's, Abbeyside Catholic Boy Scouts failed to retain the Sir Maritz Melvyn Trophy, premier stoutcraft award, for their third year. They were defeated by a Cork team who tallied 147 marks to the fine 134 total of the Abbeyside lads (73.5% as against 87%), at the annual scouting competitions held at Larch Hill, Dublin from Friday to Sunday last.

WON TRIP TO LOURDES

In a recent draw, held at Arden Hospital, two local patients, Mr. John Kelly, Clashmore and Mr. Patrick Salmon, Grange, won a free trip to Lourdes. Both have been the recipients of many consultations on their good fortune. They will travel with a pilgrimage on the 23rd September.

Austin Cashin, Billy Smith, Liam Kelly.

BRICKEY CAMOGIE TEAM FAILS TO EIRE OG

Eire Og, the Waterford City camogie team, scored a fine victory at Dungarvan's Gaelic Field on Sunday night last, when they defeated the county champions the Brickey Rangers, in the first round. Brickey's have been champions for some three years running. The final scores were: Eire Og, 5-8; Brickey Rangers, 4-4.

NEW POST OFFICE

There have been talks recently of a new post office for the town, and on tomorrow night (Friday) the Urban Council will go into committee at its fortnightly meeting to consider an application for the purchase of a site for a proposed new Post Office.

TO WED IN AFRICA

A marriage of local interest which has been arranged to take place on tomorrow (Saturday) week is the wedding arranged between Mr. James Coluth Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kerrigan, "Shirley," Tramore, and Miss Maureen Foster-Melliar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster-Melliar, "Rutland," Southern Rhodessa.

DUNGARVAN PREMIER H.P.S.

FLEADH CHEOIL NA DEISE

Just six weeks away is the big musical festival scheduled for Dungarvan on Sunday, October 4th. Under the auspices of Comhaltas Cheoil na Deise, a Decades Musical Festival of traditional Irish music will be held at the Town Hall and in the Friary Hall, commencing at 12.15 p.m.

In a large and ambitious day-long programme there will be competitions in Fiddle, Accordion, Tin Whistle, Mouth Organ, Concert Flute, Choirs, Solo Singing, etc.

There are many attractive prizes available in the various competitions, and among the Perpetual Trophies for Competitions are: Celtic Blaise Mhic Caidre—for Miscellaneous Instruments; the Smithwick Cup—for open competition in Senior Accordion; the Phoenix Cup—for open competition in Senior Fiddle; the J. P. Kelly Cup for Senior Fiddle in the Confined section. For the Supreme Champion of Fleadh Cheoil na Deise 1959, there is a handsome silver trophy, the Deise Cup, which opens to the first prize winners of solo instruments in Deise competition.

OUTBREAK OF FIRE AT KILBRIEN

An outbreak of fire on the premises of Mr. Patrick Kelly, Kilibrien, Ballinacourty, caused extensive damage to the dwelling house and adjacent outbuildings. Shortly after dinner hour on Friday last week, smoke was seen coming from the roof of the dwelling. The alarm was immediately raised. The Knocknagall Central Creamery was contacted and lorries laden with buckets of water arrived with the scene of the burning. The Dungarvan Fire Brigade were also prompt to the scene and were greatly hampered by lack of water supply.

The continuous ringing of the nearby Church bell—by a residential neighbour—had the desired effect of attracting the notice of the thickly populated neighbourhood who hastened to the spot and who in a short time had all the furniture and contents removed to safety.

Great credit is due to two men—Patrick Crowley and Paddy Crotty, Kilibrien—who were doing a job of repairs to the schoolhouse nearby, and who, with great courage, and knowing all danger of their own personal safety, climbed up on the burning building and hacked away part of the roof, to prevent the flames from spreading to the newly constructed half of the dwelling.

The excellent all-round team work of the fire-fighters, carried out with military-like precision, prevented what might have been a disastrous and awe-inspiring fire, and are deserving of the highest of praise.

DUNGARVAN PIPERS WIN TROPHY

Members of the Dungarvan Pipe Band were jubilant on their return to town on Sunday night last. They were among the nine bands who competed in the South of Ireland Pipe Band Contest, held at Youghal Greyhound Stadium, which, sponsored by the Youghal Hoteliers, was an unqualified success, and the Dungarvan lads brought home a trophy with them.

With a score of 78 1/2 points the Dungarvan Pipe Band won the Hoteliers' First Cup, presented by Youghal Hoteliers in the bands contest. The judges were: Mr. T. J. Keogh, Dublin and Mr. F. Saunders, Dublin. The prizes were presented by District Justice Gordon Hurley and Mr. Michael Delahunty.

VISITED THE FLOATING SWEET SHOP

Members of the staffs of a number of Dungarvan retail firms were among the attendees of public representatives, wholesalers and retailers who visited at Waterford the "Chocolate Showboat," which has been chartered by Messrs. Rowntree and Co., Ltd., the chocolate and sweet manufacturers to display their wares with those of Messrs. Mackintosh & Sons, Ltd. The showboat which is a novel advertising medium is a ninety-ton yacht "Ritsey" eighty feet long which has been specially converted to act as a floating shop for the candy firm's standard lines and their special range of goods for the coming Christmas trade. The vessel spent two days at Waterford last week as part of a six-week tour around the Irish coast, and ties up at the Duncannon Hulk.

A GREAT SEND-OFF

There were plenty of tears among the large attendance of townspeople who gathered at the Dungarvan railway station last week to give a send-off to Rev. Brother M. Perkins of Dungarvan Christian Brothers Schools, who has been transferred to Dublin. Members of the school league teams, which he helped to create, took their farewells with them to give the Rev. Brother a "guard of honour" to the station, and members of the school flagellat band brought along their instruments to provide an impromptu farewell on the crowded railway platform.

WEDDING BELLS

The marriage took place at St. Mary's Church, Cappoquin, between Mr. Michael Crowley, second son of Mr. Michael and the late Mrs. Crowley, Glounthaun, Lismore and Miss Hanna Power, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Power, Coolishogue. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Very Rev. Canon Moffitt, P.P., Lismore, assisted by Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P., Cappoquin and Rev. Fr. O'Keefe, Kilkenny.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Mrs. Cecelia Maguire, Matron of Honour, and the best man was Mr. Thomas Crowley, brother of the groom. Miss Malina, A.C.L.M., presided at the organ. The reception was held at the Ocean View Hotel, Clonca, and the honeymoon is being spent touring Ireland.

APPROACH ROADS TO NEW BRIDGE WELL ADVANCED

Work on the approach roads on the Cashmore side of Youghal bridge is now well advanced. To make way for the new road two houses have been demolished. Work on the new bridge is expected to commence as soon as the approach roads are completed.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are most cordially offered to Master Nicholas O'Mahoney, a student of De La Salle College, Waterford, on his having passed, with honours, the Leaving Certificate Examination of the current year.

They from Ballingown, Kilmacrossa, Co. Waterford, Michael Walshe tells me that although he never had the privilege of meeting Teresa Brayton, he considered her a friend of his because he had had several letters from her as well as an autographed copy of her poems.

"I am happy to say that I am one of them, and even happier to say that matter that appeared about Teresa Brayton in this column was one reason why the Muintir na Tire people in England decided to build a memorial to the gentle poetess of 'The Old Bog Road'."

"They from Ballingown, Kilmacrossa, Co. Waterford, Michael Walshe tells me that although he never had the privilege of meeting Teresa Brayton, he considered her a friend of his because he had had several letters from her as well as an autographed copy of her poems."

"A poem in memory of Teresa appeared in the Irish World in New York in 1926. The author was Michael Walshe. I quote one verse: 'She sings of our heroes and martyrs, Of Emmet, Lord Edward and Tone, How the Wild Geese across the blue ocean Forever from Erin have flown. She sings of each beautiful river, Of heather-clad mountain and glen, Till the heart of the exile is longing, For green-bosomed Erin again.'"

Blackberrying.—The blackberry harvest is in full swing in this part, and the price per stone is 2/6. Besides seasonal pickers large numbers of school children are availing of this year's bumper crop to provide themselves with appreciable pocket-money.

Following a protracted illness and in the fullness of her years a grand old neighbour of her generation answered the Great Call at her residence. She was Mrs. Higgins, wife of Mr. Thomas Higgins, Aughlahan, Kilmacrossa, an exemplary Christian—calm, unassuming, hospitable and helpful always. She was respected by all sections of the community for her many womanly traits. In their affliction, her good husband and family have the whole-hearted sympathy of their neighbours.

Accompanied by a cortege of imposing dimensions, the remains were removed to St. Anne's Church, Fews, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. Fr. Beecher, C.C., Kilmacrossa.

Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Mass in the sacred edifice on Wednesday of last week interment was made in the adjoining cemetery. Fr. Beecher officiated at the graveside.

Many Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. May she rest in peace. 1940, '41, '42, '43, '44.—These years in Co. Waterford Senior Football Championship Roll of Honour show Stradbally's star span on the Gaelic gridiron so far. John Kiely, who filled a half-back berth on the starting side responsible for this fine five-in-a-row feat, migrated in the mid-forties to the Land of the Rose, where he took up employment with an international contractor, the late Mrs. Kiely, do., here's warmly wishing continuing increasing success to talented Master O'Mahoney.

"Teresa Brayton".—Last Saturday's number of "The Irish Press" carried under the above caption, the following from its columnist, Patrick Logan: "Brother Columba, of Ballylunin, Co. Galway, reminds me of the Teresa Brayton Memorial Fund and of the fact that there are only a few living now who knew her personally."

"I am happy to say that I am one of them, and even happier to say that matter that appeared about Teresa Brayton in this column was one reason why the Muintir na Tire people in England decided to build a memorial to the gentle poetess of 'The Old Bog Road'."

"They from Ballingown, Kilmacrossa, Co. Waterford, Michael Walshe tells me that although he never had the privilege of meeting Teresa Brayton, he considered her a friend of his because he had had several letters from her as well as an autographed copy of her poems."

AN EYE TO THE PAST

By P. C. Power, N.T.

THE MONUMENT IN THE PARK

Dungarvan people are familiar with the handsome monument erected in the Park, near the swimming pool. It was erected in memory of Edmund Power, who was hanged in Dungarvan in 1798.

Here is what happened: Ned Power was born and reared in Ballygagin, west of Dungarvan. His people were Catholics, but yet managed in those hard times to keep their lands from falling into the grasp of the Protestants.

Young Ned went abroad to study for the priesthood. After some years he left the college and came home without being ordained and at once joined a rebel organisation. His father did not approve of his activities but Ned had a will of his own and continued his rebel work.

Then the great rebellion flared up in 1798 in County Wexford. Reinforcements were sent by the British to Wexford and Power organised a band of guerrillas to harass those passing through County Waterford.

His biggest effort was an attack on an artillery group which came from Youghal via Clashmore to Dungarvan. It was led by Lord Loftus.

But a spy named Dugan betrayed Ned Power and he was captured on a visit to his aged father. Bound in chains the rebel was conveyed to Dungarvan and was sentenced to the gallows.

He died on the gibbet in the present Main Street—opposite Merry's warehouse. Power's last words were "Beidh in eile ag an tPaoracht"—"Power will have another day"—a saying which has passed into the Irish language.

The corpse was loaded into a cart by the Redcoats, but some friends of Ned Power enticed them into a public house and others stole the body. The wake was held in Kilmacrossa where his aged and sorrowing father paid his last respects to his fallen son.

It is fitting that Edmund Power's memory be held in honour and that the fine monument to him erected near the place where he held down his life for Ireland in 1798.

LEFT £3,645 Mrs. Margaret Power of Dualla House, Cashel, who died on March 3rd last, left estate in England and the Republic of Ireland valued at £3,645 (duty paid £700). Probate has been granted to her sons, Robert Power of Ballynah, Clonea, and Maurice Power of Ballygarrett.

Late Jeremiah Harty Hackettstown, Old Parish To the deep regret of his immediate relatives and wide host of acquaintances, the death occurred recently of Mr. Jeremiah Harty, of Hackettstown, Old Parish. A member of the farming community and a well-known racehorse owner in his time, the late Mr. Hackett had reached an advanced age, when he answered the Great Call, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan.

There was an imposing attendance at the removal of the remains to Old Parish Church on Saturday week. Very Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, P.P., blessed and received the coffin at the Church gates and again officiated at the interment which took place in the family plot on the following morning.

The deceased is survived by a brother in the U.S.A., nephews and nieces, with whom sympathy is universal in their tribulation. (Funeral arrangements were carried out by James Kiely and sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.)

TALLOW ANNUAL HORSE FAIR

Tallow's great annual horse fair will be held as usual on Thursday, September 3rd. Despite the disappearance of the horse from many farms and the advent of the tractor and motor car, the horse fair has lost none of its attraction for young and old and horse fair day is regarded as a holiday in the district.

Maybe it has lost some of its glamour due to the fact that the travelling fraternity do not attend in such numbers as formerly. Their gaily-painted caravans would, in years gone by, converge on Tallow from all over the country.

Today they travel in smart vans or cars. Tallow horse fair is very well known and had the unique distinction of being the first horse fair in Ireland to appear in British T.V. To round off the Arch on Sunday night for a real Irish night.

NITA NORRY AT THE ARCH Nita Norry will be singing at the Arch on Horse Fair Night. Also appearing will be the well-known Regal Dance Orchestra. CLOUGH CELL BAND ON SUNDAY NIGHT

The Clough Cell band will be appearing in the Arch on Sunday night, August 30th. Led by Pat Daly, this outfit is rapidly making a name for itself in the cell world. Leader Pat Daly was voted No. 1 Irish vocalist in London in 1957. Come to the Arch on Sunday night for a real Irish night.

SHAMROCKS LINE GUT AGAINST TOURIN On next Sunday, Shamrocks take on Tourin in the third round of the junior hurling championship. This should prove a thrilling encounter between two well-matched teams, with such hefty hurlers as: Frank Cooran, Johnny McGrath, Mickey McGrath, Paul Allen, J. J. Murphy, J. Callaghan, W. O'Keefe. We feel that Shamrocks should carry the day. Tourin easily disposed of Lismore at Cappoquin on Sunday and they were not underestimated or passed over lightly. D. Ducey, Fives brothers and Coy are sturdy-battlers with a long list of wins to the credit and are a force to be respected.

Shamrocks are, at the moment, fighting fit; they have trained hard and will definitely be in top gear on Sunday. They are a more youthful side than their opponents and the evidence they get an even break of the ball, should see them victors.

NUN ON VACATION Sister Martha (Malone) of the Sisters of Mercy Order, daughter of Mrs. E. Malone, Ballynah Tallow, spent a short vacation at her mother's home last week. She left Cahir 25 years ago with three other members of the Order to found a house of the Order at Havertford, West Pembroke, Wales. They found it hard at first as there were very few Catholics but by degrees barriers were broken down so that today they are a happy family.

PRIEST RETURNS AFTER HOLIDAY Rev. Fr. Lavigne F. Murphy, on holiday at his country home—Mr. P. Murphy, Kilmore, Tallow, for the past two weeks—has returned to Rome where he is studying for a degree in Theology. Fr. Murphy is at the North American College, Rome, where he was ordained two years ago. He is nephew of Mr. P. Murphy, Ballyhamlet, Tallow.

PASSED LEAVING CERT. We wish to congratulate Mr. Sean Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sheehan, Convent St., on passing the leaving certificate at Castlemartyr College. Sean will leave on this Friday for the noviate of the Carmelite Order, where he will study for the Priesthood.

BALLYDUFF OUST TALLOW At Lismore on Sunday last Ballyduff ousted Tallow in the third round of the junior hurling championship. The game was a mild affair with some good passages here and there. Tallow seemed rather unlucky as at one stage they seemed likely to pull the game out of the fire, but Ballyduff held on to run out winners.

Harvesting operations are now well advanced in this area. While growers are pleased with both yield and quality they are very dissatisfied with barley prices.

Some of the world's treasures come to us by chance. Ambergris, a product which we owe to the whale, is usually found floating on the sea or washed up on the seashore. It was highly prized by the ancients who used it in the preparation of medicine and attributed magical properties to it. To-day it is still worth its weight in gold as it is a valuable ingredient in the manufacture of high-class perfumes.

So, if by chance, you happen to find a lump of grey, fatty substance, streaked with amber, when next you stroll along the seashore treat it with respect—it may be ambergris. Why not buy a chance in the Cambridgehire Sweepstakes? You might be one of the many winners of £50,000.

CAPPOQUIN NEWS

DEPARTURE OF MR. J. LANE
Mr. John Lane, who, for the past three years, has been manager of the Bacon Factory, left on Saturday for Cork, where he is opening a business. Lane's popularity with all was shown when, before he was shown when, before he was shown when...

Gifts from employees
That Mr. Lane was popular with the Factory employees was shown by the parting gifts they made him. On Saturday morning prior to his leaving, he received a mantle clock and wristlet watch from the cellar hands and a canteen of cutlery from the office staff. Both presentations were formally made by Mr. J. Flanagan, who expressed regret at the departure of Mr. Lane. They were losing a kind and considerate manager, who always had the welfare of his subordinates at heart.

Car stolen
A local motorist had the distressing experience of having his car stolen while in Cork on Wednesday. He had parked the vehicle, in which he had left his pet dog, in one of the principal streets and on his return found that it had been removed. The vehicle was not recovered until Friday. It was undamaged but the dog was missing. A man arrested in connection with the offence told the Garda who had abandoned the dog. On Sunday the owner found the dog in the area.

Late Mr. T. O'Brien
We record, with regret, the death of Mr. Thomas O'Brien of Limerick, which took place in Dunamary Hospital on 19th August. He was in his 76th year and was for many years resident in this district, where he was a deservedly popular figure. The remains were taken to the Parish Church on Thursday evening and the interment took place in St. Declan's Cemetery. Very Rev. J. Kennelly, P.P., officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners, included: Mr. John O'Brien (son), and Mrs. M. Kieley, Ballinacree (sister).

Rowing
At the Clonmel Club's 'At Home' on Sunday, the Cappoquin crew, having successfully come through the early heats was beaten in the final by a Gaiway crew.
Home from U.S.A.
At present on a holiday from the U.S.A. are Mr. Sean W.J. Kirby House and Mr. Michael Cahill, Mill Street. Old friends are glad to see that both popular figures are in the best of health.

Hard-breaking cell
The cell held in the Boat-house, on Sunday night, August 23rd, has been described as the hardest merriest and gayest held in aid of the I.R.A. Memorial, Cappoquin. It has been conceded on all sides that there was not a dull moment for young or old, from the signature tune of the white feather Cull band to the closing with the National Anthem. Despite rumours that the cell had been postponed and counter attractions in Aglish and Dunamary, patrons flocked in from all over West Waterford.

BALLYDUFF NOTES

G.A.A.
On Wednesday, August 19th, at Lismore our minor footballers went under to Ballinacree in the semi-final of West Waterford. The winners proved themselves a powerful combination, being well served in all sectors. The lighter Ballyduff boys strove manfully to the end and some very creditable performances were turned in. Brendan Coughlan was the hero of the losing side and played himself to a standstill. Michael Toomey proved a capable full back. He got backing from T. Bright and D. O'Neill and S. Flynn. Best up forward were S. Sheehan, A. Canning and M. Nugent.

Returned to Boston
Mrs. Josephine Holt, who had been holidaying for the past three months, in her native Touraneena, left Shannon Airport on Thursday night for her home and family in Boston, U.S.A. Our Second Band
When it was decided to revive the band a new Committee was formed who engaged Mr. Matthews of Cork as instructor. A new teacher was a Drum Major in the Munsters, and it was agreed that he would be paid £1 per week for his services to the Ballyduff Band. When he accepted the funds consisted of just enough to pay him one week's wages, but the members agreed to contribute 1/- weekly and so Mr. Matthews remained for three months, and was kept in the village for 9/- per week. Very Rev. Fr. Moran, P.P., very kindly consented to give the basement of the Parish House as a band room.

At the close of the Competition at Larch-Hill on Sunday last, 21st Cork Troop were declared winners of the Melvin Trophy for 1959 with 4th Waterford (us) second, Dublin 3rd, and Dundalk 4th. Our team led by P.L.M. Biffin and A.P.L. Kevin Mahony did great work with the other members of what was a "new look" competition in operation and result. At the presentation the Chief Scout speaking on the question of getting a member of Troops into the contest said he hoped that "it was not the fame of Abbeyside 4th Waterford that was keeping them out."

CUSKINNY CAMP DIARY
Tuesday: Immediately after Reveille we had a fall-in call and an inspection of scouts took place. Nobody was sick or hurt or missing or anything like that—just a matter of breaking the routine. After this some chaps gave themselves the good washing they couldn't avoid and then the day was fairly busy. We had left the camp at 6.0 and were in the village by 6.30. The weather was wonderful, the sunshine was just grand, and every scout who camped with us, came home well brown and tanned.

Well now we're home again alas our camp this year has passed into the history of the Troop. In memory it will last; So back to camp those memories fly, the scout's "mind's eye" is there.

He's lying on his bedclothes neat, his back is bare and brown. He's looking round the campsite and the sunshine makes him frown; So let's all join him for a while and see just what goes on. In the Scouts are camping far away from homes where they belong. (To be Continued)

WEST WATERFORD NEWS
UNFOUNDED POLIO SCARE
Last weekend two Dublin papers published a report that there had been an outbreak of polio at Ardaraigh, Co. Waterford. Ardaraigh, it should be noted, is in the parish of Clashmore and adjoins Youghal. The report, which appears to be entirely unfounded, caused a mild scare in the area.

Also on holidays in his native district is Mr. Sean Bagge, who is attached to the staff of the G.P.O., Dublin. Sergeant Gerald Fitzgerald, G.S., brother of Capt. KILGOBINET FOOTBALLERS ADVANCE

Kilgobinet, as expected, proved for the second time a combination for Brickey's second string when they clashed in the area semi-final of the junior football championship at Lismore on Sunday last.

The winners, without being over-enthusiastic, let no doubt about their superiority, enjoying the better of matters right through the field and very decisively outplaying for a date with Ardmore in the divisional semi-final next month.

But Kilgobinet, who were expected to be served by the Lane brothers, Roger McCarthy, Steve O'Leary and Noel Hanley, will have to step up on the field if they are to stand up to the highly accomplished side.

The Brickets, though virtually unbeaten by a whole state of defections from the side which did battle in the opening round, looked heavily and disputed the fall of every ball until the very end when the first score was somewhat unkind to them. They lost to the misfortune to lose a penalty wide of a crucial stage.

The announcement that Billy Kirwan was back in training during the week has caused those who know their football to regard Sunday's second round clash of Killrossanty and Kill as the most intriguing game of the championship to-date.

It has also helped to greatly accelerate public interest in a test that has all the trimmings of a mighty football war. With De La Salle, the reigning titleholders, none to impregnable of late and the remainder of the field of a more or less unknown quantity there is, it will be conceded, a solid basis for the ever-mounting feeling that Sunday's encounter will provide the eventual county champions.

These factors should help to swell the attendance at a fixture that has been a big ball talking piece ever since the rivals and near neighbours qualified for the showdown.

The news that Kirwan, the best forward to put on a Waterford jersey in the writer's experience, is back in circulation, will be welcomed by all who were thrilled by his brilliant ball play during the great days of Killrossanty football that stretched from 1949 to 1957.

His return to action has also helped to strengthen the Comeragh men's resolve to regain the championship they surrendered during his enforced absence from the playing fields just over twelve months ago.

It means too, that Killrossanty can now call on fourteen of the men who won the club's eight championship crown on a dreary December day back in 1957. The lone absentee is full-back Matty Lonergan, who is nowadays a resident in the land of Uncle Sam.

That the Comeragh men are not unmindful of Kill's strength is indicated by the decision to again recall Jim Timmons from across-channel for the occasion. Timmons, who played the Brickets out of the championship in the opening round as sure as any one man ever won a game, will make the homecoming journey on Friday night. His presence will, it goes without saying, be a decided asset to the ex-champions.

Killrossanty folk are, of course, also encouraged by the thought that evergreen Jimmy Power, who missed all but a few minutes of the Brickey game, has played better than ever since his return to the game after sustaining a serious shoulder injury.

The return of Power and Kirwan and the fact that the up-and-coming Roger Connors, who must surely get a forward berth, will be available for his first championship game of the season is an indication of just how good the material at the moment.

To those outside the camp, at any rate, the big problem would appear to be who to leave out rather than who to include.

On the debit side of the picture is the news that skipper Jimmy White was assailed by a brain stroke during the week and Sean Ormond's shoulder injury which was sustained in a fall during training on Tuesday evening. It is understood, however, that both men will take their places when the issue is joined, though the nature of their respective injuries must cause one to doubt their ability to play with customary effectiveness.

Kill, having lost the Bermingham brothers, full-back Irwin and Gerry Donoghue, who had some great goals from the edge of the square during last year's campaign, are not quite so happy about their prospects. But Tom McGrath and his colleagues have done all that has been asked of them to-date. In the opening round they accounted for Stradbally, no mean feat and they have emerged with marked success from a series of tournament and challenge encounters.

Kill were generally regarded as the unlucky side of last year's championship. They played first-class, orthodox football right through a hectic campaign and only lost ultimate honours by the tantalizing margin of two points. The experience reaped should make them all the more formidable now.

Team mentors have courageously grappled with a variety of problems. And their efforts, too, have enjoyed a fair measure of the success. Noel Power has developed into a centre-half back of the first water; Tom McGrath has taken on a new lease of life, and Monty Guiry is said to be again playing with the verve and dash that characterised his game in the early days of last summer.

Lismore Test is Wide Open

With the rivalry intense and a place in the semi-final of the divisional junior championship hanging on the outcome, there is every reason to anticipate an hour of action-packed hurling when Shamrocks and Tourin get to grips at Lismore.

For good, open hurling in the interim. When they routed what was regarded as a useful Tallow side in the opening round of the 1956 championship it was felt in some circles that a county title was within their grasp. They failed to realise the expectations of their followers, however, and again in the following years they flattered only to deceive.

But there is no gainsaying the fact that the Moorehill men look a much more experienced bunch these days. Despite the loss of Tommy Geary, who was a member of the county senior panel last year, and doubts about the fitness of Mickey McGrath, who has been out of commission for some months back with a badly smashed knee cap, their present setup appears useful in the extreme. It contains a fair quota of speed, hurling and enthusiasm right through the field and is powered by men of exceptional individual merit such as Frank Corcoran, the former Ballyduff defender, John Joe Murphy, Billy O'Keefe, Paul Allen and Bonzo Tobin.

Given the breaks they may be capable of neutralising the greatest all-round experience of the Tourin men. The issue is, however, very open.

Colligan Rockies Should Advance

With last year's most successful fifteen still intact, and probably all the better for the experience, Colligan Rockies should be capable of advancing their defence of the divisional junior hurling championship a stage further when they encounter Ardmore at the Sportsfield, Cappoquin.

All in all, Colligan, who have set their hearts on bettering last year's great effort, would appear too formidable a proposition. Mossy Pollard of Lismore, will have charge of the game, which is timed for 3.30.

Tourin Hurlers Overcome Lismore

The opportunity of Tommy Geary when moved to corner forward provided the turning point in the clash of Tourin and Lismore junior hurlers at the Sportsfield, Cappoquin, on Sunday last.

After a quiet-enough opening half, proceeded to capitalize on the openings hammered by his forward colleagues to such good effect that Tourin was as good as through to the next round within ten minutes of the second period resuming.

The winners too, owe much to captain John O'Rourke, who brought off a couple of great saves when Lismore turned on the pressure nearing the end of the first thirty minutes.

BRICKEYS WIN AGLISH TOURNAMENT

For half an hour of this tournament final at Aclish on Sunday evening the big attendance had every reason to anticipate an exciting finish. The exchanges were close and uncompromising and the short whistle found but a single point between the rivals.

Half-way through the final period the result was a foregone conclusion, the winners having turned an interval deficit of one point into an advantage of five points by the end of a hard rather than spectacular hour's football.

Bricketts were exceptionally well-served by Nicholas McGrath, Francis Ahearn, Paul Kilegrew, Kevin Walsh, Tom Foley, Frankie Ryan and Paty Murray.

Best on a Geraldine side that never reproduced the form displayed against Killrossanty in the qualifying round were Steve Riosway, Larry Lee, Billy Hallahan and John Longan.

ABBEYSIDE DEFEAT DUNGARVAN MINOR FOOTBALLERS

Abbeyside 3-6; Dungarvan 1-2. After an opening half that was nip and tuck right through, Abbeyside turned over to run up an impressive total against Dungarvan in a hard fought and at times thrilling minor football battle at the Fraher Field on Friday evening.

At the end of the first thirty minutes the old rivals were all square at 1-2 aside. But he stronger and better balanced villagers had much the better of the exchanges when play resumed. In a ten-minute spell they virtually tied the game up, shooting a total of 2-2 that knocked all the wind out of the Old Boro' side's sails. Before the end they tagged on an additional brace of points without reply from the losers.

The final score was, however, more than a trifle unkind to the Dungarvan side that played a fair amount of right good football. Abbeyside undoubtedly deserved to prevail. Better balanced all round, they played the more effective brand of football; they used their superior strength to great effect in the close exchanges. On this showing, the village boys stand an excellent chance of at least regaining the divisional title.

The winners, who were well served in all sections of the field had brilliant performers in Mick Kiely, a powerful defender, Peter Power, Jack Elstead, Liam Enright, M. Brennock, Jim Cullinan, Albie McGovern and M. McCarthy.

Paddy and Raymond Lannon, Owen Goode, Jim Harkins, Johnny Murphy, Mutt Whelan, J. Meehan and Denny Quarry were the outstanding men on a gallant Dungarvan fifteen.

LOCAL RIVALS CLASH ON SUNDAY

There should be thrills aplenty at the Fraher Field on Sunday morning when the old rivals, Dungarvan v. Abbeyside (set to grips in the minor hurling championship. The game, which carries a ticket to the divisional final, is timed for 11.30 so as to avoid a clash with the Pattern of Abbeyside.

Kilkenny retain '57 rearguard

The defence which helped Kilkenny to victory two years ago was retained intact when the Ossory mentors announced their line-out for Sunday week's decider. Mick Brophy has again been entrusted with a mid-field berth and three of the winning '57 forwards will also do duty.

The Colours Blue and White . . . Now gallant Deise hurlers since you have swept the field. Hold the ground that's nobly won and never fall or yield. Show to all that now at last the onward march begins. The march that until victory's won will never, never end; There's one more step yet to be trod, then 'twill be a lovely sight. To see O'er all and floating high the colours blue and white.

For years the struggle's going on but victory n'er seemed near. And now at last you've touched the cup the counties hold so dear; All, all along, the fight went on, you never showed despair. It took Irish blood to keep it up, with one object "we'll get there." Now after all the day has dawned, it was earned with a fight. Hope never failed the men who wore the colours Blue and White.
