BIG TURNOUT FOR RURAL SOCIAL

Colonel K. G. F. Chavasse, D.S.O., President of the Macra na Feirme branch at Ballinacree, lunched on behalf of the Club, a hearty Good Will Feast to their guests at the joint Macra na Feirme - Banntracht na Tuaithe Social held in the Vocational School at Ballinacree recently.

Present to guests of honour, were: Very Rev. Fr. M. Hackett, P.P., Aglish; Rev. Fr. D. Slattery, C.C., Aglish; Rev. Fr. J. Callaghan, B.A., C.C., Ballinacree; Mr. D. Cullinan, B.Agr.Sc., Chairman of the Executive Officer, Co. Waterford Vocational Education Committee accompanied by his wife Mrs. B. Cullinan, N.T., Dungarvan.

The President paid tribute to Mr. Cullinan for his invaluable assistance to the rural organisations and for having presided over the social with a school and meeting place.

SPRIT OF CO-OPERATION

"This annual get-together of our two rural organisations, Macra na Feirme and Banntracht na Tuaithe," he said, "is something really wonderful, and a splendid example of the fine spirit of co-operation which exists among us." He paid tribute to the hard work of preparation put in by the ladies of the I.C.A. who had catered so excellently for them at the Social. "We owe these good ladies a debt of gratitude," he stated amid loud applause.

LOOK TO LEAP YEAR

Every year for the past five years it has been their custom to present newly-married branch members with a token of the club's regard. Last year they had given seven presents, and this year there had been only one marriage among their club members. They had a present for the lady Gerry Flynn (Mrs. Hayes) but unfortunately she was not with them that night. He felt that the men were to blame for the lack of marriages. "But," he continued, "I hope that you will take the initiative and that we will distribute lots of presents when we meet here next year."

Col. Chavasse had a special word of praise for the Younger Club Secretary Miss Addie Gee. He complimented her on her position for four years.

TRIBUTE TO SECRETARY

"Miss Gee," he said, "proved to be an excellent branch secretary and encouraged us all by her enthusiasm and capability. She piloted our ship for four years, through all sorts of storms and while that ship had a very capable captain in the branch, it is really what the secretary does which counts in a club." They were all agreed that Miss Gee had done sterling work for Macra na Feirme, and as a token of their esteem he would call upon Rev. Fr. J. Callaghan to make a presentation from the Club to Miss Gee.

RECEIVED GIFT

Amid prolonged applause Rev. Fr. Callaghan presented a beautiful eight-day striking and chiming clock to Miss A. Gee. Receiving the presentation Miss Gee returned thanks to the members for the present and the kind things they had said concerning her work as branch secretary. She would, she said, be happy and willing at all times to do all in her power for the furtherance of Macra na Feirme (applause).

"MARRIAGE BUREAU"

"Guidhim cead míle failte, ar son Banntracht na Tuaithe agus Macra na Feirme, ag gach aonú arís agus aonú arís, agus aithis mor oraim sibh d'fheallachas," said Mrs. B. Condon, N.T., President of the Ballinacree Guild I.C.A., welcoming the guests on behalf of the two organisations. As President of the I.C.A. she was glad to see the members of the two rural organisations together to enjoy themselves in comfortable surroundings after their work for the day was ended.

"What happened, I wonder, to Col. Chavasse's marriage bureau?" she said. "Last year he had a long list of married members and we thought there would be no single people left this year." I.C.A. was not a wealthy organisation but they had three members of their Guild married in the past year, and the eligible bachelors of the Macra branch had let them slip through their fingers.

Included among the three hundred guests at the joint Social were representatives of the National Farmers' Association and Macra na Tuaithe in addition to members of the Dungarvan branch Macra na Feirme, Parish Agent Mr. J. Curran, B.Agr.Sc., and Mr. M. Cullinan, N.T.

CATERING STAFF

Members of the combined I.C.A.-Ladies Branch Macra who entered for the supper under the direction of Mrs. B. Condon, President, were: Mrs. M. Fitzgerald, Linda Walsh, Margaret Cashman, Eily Buckley, Kitty Meagher, Mrs. S. McGrath, Yvonne Cliffe, Anna Flynn, Biddy Barron, Ann Roche, Mrs. Hickey, Bridie Fadden, Lal Osborne, Eileen Hallahan, Mrs. B. Stack, Margaret Kenneally, Teresa Walsh, Eileen Hickey, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Power, Mrs. Cullen, Marie Dineen, Joan Conroy, Addie Gee, Mrs. Ryan, Peg O'Donnell, Margaret Coghlan, Alice Fenton, Biddy Scanlon, Mrs. P. ## VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE MEETING

The late Seamus O h-Eochá, "An Fear Mor," had been for many years a valued member of the County Vocational Education Committee and had done a man's part in the furtherance of the scheme of vocational education throughout the county, stated Mr. Tomas O'Faolain, speaking in Irish, at the monthly meeting of the Vocational Committee held on Tuesday at Dungarvan Technical School, Ardsheela De go raibh a anam.

ADJOURNMENT

After having transacted the immediate financial affairs and the making of an urgently-required appointment, the Chairman, Venerable Archbishop D. Power, P.P., V.F., declared the meeting adjourned without transacting any further business as a mark of respect to their former colleague.

"It would be very difficult indeed, to give a detailed account of the amount of the work which the late Fear Mor accomplished during his lifetime," said Mr. Michael Mac Creigh, Kilmeaden, speaking in Irish in the Waterford, Dublin, Cork and Limerick areas.

Under the Bill it is proposed to set up, in each of the four areas, a single health authority, consisting of members of the County Council and County Borough Corporation. The authority will be financed from the rates and by the usual State grants and it will administer all health and public assistance services at present administered by the local authorities.

DEADLINE FOR DEBATING

It was decided by Macra na Feirme Waterford County Executive Committee at their meeting in Dungarvan that the preliminary rounds of the Debating competition should be concluded by all clubs before November 4. TALLOW WELCOME FEE GOALS

Dungarvan man Ned Power, N.T., star goal-keeper of the Waterford victorious All-Ireland senior hurling team, received a tremendous welcome home from the people of Tallow, where he teaches school. When he arrived back in Tallow following victory celebrations in Dublin and Waterford cities, he was chaired and cheered by a large crowd of Tallow people and escorted in triumph to his house, the entire front of which had been tastefully decorated in the blue and white colours of Waterford.

WINTER PROGRAMME AND A RE-BROADCAST

The ladies and lassies of the Ballinacree Branch Macra na Tuaithe have a special treat in store for them at their Club's Friday night meet, October 23rd. They will be able to re-capture all the thrills and excitement of the All-Ireland hurling final in a tape recording of the Radio Eireann broadcast, which will be played back over an amplifier at Ballinacree school. Following the playing of the recording the group will get down to the business of discussing their winter programme. Members of the general public are welcome to attend the re-broadcast.

KILMACTHOMAS AND DISTRICT NEWS

Late Mr. M. B. (Berke) Power, Ballyboy, Kilmacthomas. An exactly congregation assisted at the solemn Requiem High Mass (preceded by the Office for the Dead) offered in St. Anne's Church, Fews, on Tuesday of last week. Celebrant of the Mass was Rev. Fr. Victor Power, C.C., Ring (nephew of the deceased); deacon, Very Rev. Fr. John O'Donnell, P.P., Old Parish (cousin); Sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. James Walsh, C.C., Kilmacthomas (do.).

Immediately after the Mass, interment was made in the adjoining cemetery amidst every manifestation of profound sorrow. All of the priests present at the obsequies again officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Power (widow); Marie and Phyllis (daughters); Mr. Willie Power, Kilmacthomas (brother); Sr. Bernard, Convent of Mercy, Carrick-on-Suir, and St. Margaret Mary, Convent of Mercy, Rosliffe (sisters); Sr. Rosalind, Convent of Mercy, Wexford (niece); Mrs. Hahessy, Mrs. Kimmings, Mrs. Nunn and Mrs. Fitzgerald (sisters); Mrs. K. Morris, Clonmel.

Dear departed Berke was one of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pat Power, Grangus, and nephew of the late Very Rev. Fr. James Walsh, P.P., Ballyboy and Portlaoise, and the late Mrs. M. Comerford, Mooncoin, County Kilkenny, Beannacht De le'n amam.

Funeral services were extended most cordially to Miss Josephine Cahill, Middlesex Hospital, London, W.1., daughter of Mrs. Mary Cusack, Western Terrace, Kilmacthomas, and the late Mr. Francis Cahill, do., and Mr. Michael Stuart Anderson-Hillis, Ash Tree Close, Leicester, on their marriage, which was solemnised with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing on a recent date at the Church of the Assumption, Warwick Street, London, W.1., by Rev. Fr. Cox, C.C., do.

Have it that Tom Cheasty was made the recipient of a suitable token of appreciation for his outstanding displays in this year's All-Ireland senior hurling championship final—in both the drawn game and the replay, two epic Waterford-Kilkenny mixes—by the members of his native Ballyboy GAA club at their meeting on Friday night of last week.

Within the past few weeks a large number of cow and heifer tractors in the mid-Waterford area have been hired up to the Department under the T.B. Eradicating Scheme.

A Distinct Success was the Terrier Racing Fixture which had a good-sized crowd of enthusiasts to Belmont Park, Mothel, Clonsa-Power, on the first evening of this week.

Kilmacthomas Football Club.—at a specially convened meeting of the members of above sterling Gaelic body, a vote of condolence was passed, in respectful silence, with the widow and family of the late Mr. M. B. (Berke) Power, Ballyboy, Kilmacthomas.

Nice To Note that Miss Kathleen Beatty, J. St. Anne's, Kilmacthomas, was a prize-winner in the Mystery Contest conducted by "The Standard" (a Dublin Catholic weekly), and that Mrs. J. Morrissey, The Hill, Kilmacthomas, won a prize in a crossword test set by "Competitors' Journal" (another Metropolitan paper published weekly).

Worthily Well-Liked Lady's Demise.—Following a protracted illness and in the fullness of her years, Miss Margaret Lalor breathed her last at Woodlock Convent, Portlaoise, on Saturday, 10th Inst. (Feast of St. Francis Borgia), and the news of the sad event has occasioned widespread regret. A member of a highly respected Kilmacthomas family, the late Miss Lalor was, for the greater part of her life, proprietress of a flourishing drapery establishment in the Main Street of her native town, her genial and friendly disposition endearing her to all sections of the community, and the deepest sympathy of all goes out to her nearest and dearest in their sorrow. There was a large and very representative attendance at the funeral from Woodlock

THE 'CAT' SCIENCE AND FARMING FOR DEBATE

Waterford County Executive Committee of Macra na Feirme had such a long and varied agenda before them at their October meeting, held in Dungarvan on Wednesday last that Chairman Mr. Richard Cunningham, Ballysalagh, had to adjourn consideration of a number of important items to the November meeting, after the delegates from clubs throughout the county had spent two and a half hours in hammering out plans for the senior debating competitions which have begun this week.

THE 'CAT' FOR DELINQUENTS?

This local administration has failed in Ireland is the subject for debate scheduled between Ballinacra (who will oppose the motion) and Tallow, the opposers, with the venue Tallow.

Kilmacthomas will oppose the motion in the debate "That large scale farming is better for the social life of the country" at Lismore.

The subject of adolescent delinquency which has been receiving increasing attention lately in the daily press, will have an airing on the debating platform, when a team from Gaultier will propose the motion: "That the 'cat' should be introduced as a deterrent to the 'Tiddy Boy'." This will be opposed by a Butlersown side, with the venue fixed for Butlersown.

FREER TRADE

Dungarvan Macra debating team will oppose the motion, to be moved by Dunhill club "That the Irish farmer would benefit from Free Trade." This debate will be held in Dungarvan. Spatnik, Lunik and Television will come under fire by Cappoquin speakers and will be well defended by Kinsalebeg when these two teams meet at Cappoquin to debate the Cappoquin-moved motion "That modern scientific achievements are not conducive to human happiness."

The final of the Senior Public speaking competition was introduced at the Fishermen's Hall, Dunmore East, on Sunday, 13th December next.

KILKENNY v. WATERFORD

Kilkenny has accepted Waterford's challenge and will have a team in the field ready to do battle with a Waterford side, but not yet. No date has been fixed for the Kilkenny v. Waterford Macra na Feirme debate at a Kilkenny venue, and the Kilkenny side are awaiting permission from the County Kilkenny Vocational Education authorities for use of a school for the big verbal clash. The two rival county teams will debate the motion "That the cultural and social life in Ireland today is stagnant." Another detail in the final arrangements is whether the teams are to consist of three or four members.

Waterford Macra County Executive has five representatives lined up and ready for the fray. If the contest calls for three, the county will be represented by Miss Kathleen O'Brien, Stradbally; Mr. Thomas Llewellyn, Kinsalebeg; and Mr. Robert Rockett, Dunhill-Penryn. Mr. Ken Murphy of Kilmacthomas will join in, in the event of the team being a foursome, while Mr. William Flynn, Dunhill has been selected as a substitute.

GAEL LINN CUP SEMI-FINAL

Tomorrow (Sunday) at 3.15 p.m. Leitrim and Munster meet in the semi-final of the inter-provincial camogie championship for the Gael Linn Cup. The game, fixed for Dungarvan, should draw a big crowd. The interest taken in the game was noticeable when London-Irish met Waterford some months ago at the same pitch. The home team was successful but later fell to Mayo after extra time, and a replay. Tomorrow's winners meet Ulster in the final on Sunday week at Casement Park.

TO FINANCE ORGANISER'S TRIPS

Waterford County Organiser for Macra na Feirme, Mr. Thomas Llewellyn, said at the October Executive meeting that Dungarvan had put forward a scheme in connection with Organisers. An approach had been made to the Departments of Agriculture and Education with the proposal that if the Macra organisation put up the sum of £50 for a county that the Department or Department be requested to supplement this with another £50, on a pound for pound basis, to defray the cost of the Organiser's visits to various branches throughout the county area. The total of £100 would enable the Executive to pay travelling expenses to the Organiser for

AN EYE TO THE PAST

By P. C. Power, N.T.

(ARTICLE NO. 9):

A STORY OF BALLYANCHOR

Tales of violence are not unknown in Irish history and the rebellion of 1641 and 1642 in Ireland demonstrates that Irish and English, Catholic and Protestant had nothing to boast of when it came to methods of waging war.

It happened that a Captain Croker was Military Governor of Cappoquin before the rebellion. He was a firm ruler and hanged a man who was a follower of one Captain Fennell of Clonmel. Fennell decided to avenge this act if he had the opportunity.

Fennell's chance came in the great rebellion. He proceeded with an armed band to Cappoquin and laid the town waste but Croker got away unharmed. But if his victim eluded him, Fennell decided that the victim's brothers would not, so he marched to the house of Edward Croker in Ballyanchor near Lismore.

Edward Croker and seven other Englishmen barricaded the house and defended the place valiantly. But it would have been useless, so Fennell agreed to spare their lives and allow them to go to Lismore if they surrendered the house and laid down their arms.

The guns were thrown out the windows, and soon Croker, his wife and children and the seven others walked out. Then Capt. Fennell broke his word. In spite of the protests of his officers, he shot Croker in cold blood. Croker offered him money to save himself but Fennell would not listen. Then the rebels shot two more and hanged the rest on a gallows nearby.

In time, however, there came the reckoning. Captain Fennell was tried by the Cromwellians at a High Court in Cork years afterwards in December 1652. Needless to say he received no mercy but died on the gallows for his deed of violence in Ballyanchor that day so long before.

Mr. Clancy's many friends and acquaintances in his native Dungarvan will be especially pleased to learn of his promotion from the position of Deputy Comptroller, Mr. Clancy, who is son of Mrs. and the late Michael Clancy, formerly of Main Street, was educated at St. Mary's College, Rathmines, and also University College, Dublin, where he obtained the B.Com. degree in 1951. He became an associate of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in 1954 and in September, 1958, he obtained a master's degree in Economic science from U.C.D.

Mr. Clancy joined Esso in April, 1954, and having spent some time on special assignments in England, he was promoted accounting assistant in January, 1957. He is married and has one child. While at school, he played senior rugby for St. Mary's.

RECRUITING

Should any Dungarvan boy wish to join the Army, the Recruiting Officer from the Curragh Camp will visit Kilmacthomas Garda Station on next Tuesday, 20th October, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

BALLINAMEELA BANNTRACHT NA TUAITHE

The Ballinameela Guild met after the summer recess which seemed much longer than a month. It was decided to hold a Whist Drive later to help the ISPC and the Polio Remedial Clinic. We were very appreciative of the invitation from Waterford T.A. to visit them but most unfortunately car driving members were not available. A vote of sympathy was proposed by Mrs. Hickey to Mrs. Flanagan and Mrs. Hogan and seconded by Miss May Morrissey. The raffle was won by Linda Walsh and the night ended merrily with games and dancing, not forgetting the tea.

Since this meeting our upholstery classes, by kind permission of Waterford T.A. C.E.O., and under instructions of Miss Kehoe, have been taking place for a week in the Tec. School and it has been wonderful to see old chairs pulled to pieces and built up like new and grand little stools being built up from a plain frame—so that for the eighteen or so members who have taken advantage of this course it has been a week of tapping, stitching, stuffing, covering and the result, great reward for the work which has gone on in the most friendly and happy atmosphere.

Ballinameela are going to plan with Dungarvan T.A. to do something to raise funds for the Federation to help meet the costs of the Council meeting in Waterford on 29th Oct. If you haven't been to a Council meeting before now is your chance—there is one so near again. It is in two sessions, the morning starting at 11 a.m. and the afternoon at 2.30 in the Municipal Theatre.

Ballinameela are to cater for the Federation meeting in Dungarvan in January also.

The joint social with Macra was a great success and £4 was raised by the raffle of a basket of varied household goods provided by the ICA Committee for the Wireless for the Blind Fund.

As a result of the upholstery class we are thinking of having a weekly work meeting if the Tec. would be available and you can bring your darning or your knitting, or your embroidery and we could start a rug for the Guild's benefit, each doing a 1/4 to it—now come along; once a month isn't too much to ask of you if not once a week and there

TALLOW NOTES

ALL-IRELAND VICTORS WILL VISIT TALLOW

The All-Ireland hurling victors will visit Tallow in the near future. Let us hope they will get the welcome they deserve and that the Brideside town, which has an honoured name in the Gaelic arena, will surpass itself in its welcome to the team. They have won undying fame for the Deeds.

THE RAINS GAME

The rains of last week have eased the problems of farmers and others in this locality who had difficulty in providing water for stock and household uses. Many had to travel long distances for water. It has also helped livestock, for even though it is too late for grass growing, it moistened the pastures which were arid and burnt up with the long spell of drought.

BLAZERS DANCE

Kilwatermoy Blazers Harrier Club will hold their annual dance in the Arch Ballroom on Tuesday, October 20th. Previous functions by the club have been a great success. This year the club has secured the services of Maurice Mulcahy and his orchestra.

MACRA NA FEIRME DANCE

Tallow branch of Macra na Feirme held their annual dance in the Arch on Sunday night. There was a very good attendance and all enjoyed a first class night's dancing to the music of Johnny McMahon and his orchestra. At the conclusion of the night, Mr. J. Cotter thanked all who helped to make the dance a success.

LOCAL TALENT COMPETITION

The George McFerran Road Show concluded a six day visit to Tallow on Sunday night. During their stay they ran a local talent competition. Mr. R. Ryan won the singing competition with a very good interpretation of Elvis Presley.

ON HOLIDAY

Mr. Thomas Geary, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Geary, Moorehill, is on holiday at his parents home. Mr. Geary, who is employed in the Customs and Excise, was before his departure, captain of Shamrock's hurling team and was also on the Waterford Junior selection.

MINOR FINALS POSTPONED

As a precaution against the spread of para-typhoid, which has afflicted Abbeyside, the divisional minor football final between the Villagers and Balinameela, which was arranged for Sunday last, was postponed. It will now take place on Sunday, October 24th. The football decider, in which the same sides are involved and which was originally scheduled for Sunday next, has also been postponed to a later date, probably November 1st.

BRICKEYS ON TOP

Brickey Rangers, in preparation for their championship test with Colligan, Rockies, made a successful trip to Dunhill on Sunday last, overcoming the home team, who are senior semi-finalists, after a hard-fought challenge encounter.

ARDMORE FOOTBALLERS PREPARE

Ardmore, who have qualified for the divisional junior football final, scored a ready victory over Ring, their third round championship victims, in a challenge run at Ardmore on Sunday last. The winners and mentors were, it is said, quietly satisfied with their performance.

OLIVER NUGENT (Valley Rovers)

black and amber are by no stretch of the imagination a non-hurling outfit. One will find a junior championship in the code to their credit as far back as 1945 and with the exception of a brief interruption half a dozen or so years ago they have ever since been hurling conscious.

LONG AWAITED

Of the two, the clash of Colligan Rockies, the reigning divisional kingpins, and Brickey Rangers, which is billed for Cappoquin, will probably attract the greater throng.

LONG SERVICE

Veteran, Nicholas McGrath was a member of the successful team of fourteen years ago—a wonderful record of service—and is still hurling with the veve and enthusiasm of a youngster. So, too, is Patsy Donnelly, who has rendered yeoman service without achieving a whole lot of success over the years, and so are the Spratts and Walshes, Frankie Ryan, John Curran and Peter Fennell.

ENTHUSIASTIC

These Rockies are as wholehearted and enthusiastic a bunch as they come. The majority of the side are identified with both codes, a decided asset when one steers clear of conflicting interests and with a couple of tough championship campaigns behind them they are one and all pretty seasoned performers.

HURLING

It is as a football force that Brickeys are generally regarded. The big ball is their forte by tradition. But the wearers of the

HURLERS OPEN LEAGUE ACCOUNT

GRIMES IS DOUBTFUL

It was learned during the week that Phil Grimes, who fractured a finger during the course of the All-Ireland replay the other Sunday, is unlikely to be able to take his place for the League game with Kilkenny at Nowlan Park on Sunday week. The absence of the Mount Sion man would be a severe blow

CONVINCING VICTORY OVER WEXFORD

WATERFORD 6-10; WEXFORD 2-7.

RIGHT well did the men of Waterford live up to the wonderful welcome they received from an enthusiastic following at the City Gaelic Field on Sunday last.

Once again they turned in a most satisfying performance, at times even touching the form that stamped them as champions of All-Ireland as they comprehensively overcame the Waterford team in a challenge run at the City Gaelic Field on Sunday last. The weather was summerlike, the home following were in excellent mood and the hurling approached championship form. Conditions were ideal. The weather was summerlike, the home following were in excellent mood and the hurling approached championship form.

Waterford played with the cohesion and confidence of a winning side from the outset. They jumped into an early lead, reeled for a time, survived a determined Wexford fight-back and eventually won Dilling up as it were.

THE GREYHAIRED KIELY He hails from Dungarvan and is the star of the fray. He is low of stature, a pity some say. But still he comes out in the thick of the fray.

He talks about Mackey, they shout about Ring, and down through the years their praises they sing. But take it from me, in a year from today, it's Kieley they'll yell for, the man going gray.

Now 'tis many an honour he has gained with the stick, and many a goal he got with a flick. And wherever he roams, the backs seem to say, "Beware of that Kieley, that man going gray."

New his ambition, his dream, has come true, He has won an All-Ireland with the white and the blue. And up in Croke Park on that October day, 'Twas he thousands who cried for the man going gray.

Remember, though we made light of grand distinction on the occasion of our last meeting, it may not be too much to expect a repeat performance now.

Waterford: D. Corcoran (De La Salle); W. Smith (De La Salle); S. Roche (De La Salle); M. Prendergast (Kilrossanty); T. Cunningham (Dungarvan); S. Power (Mount Sion); J. Power (Kilrossanty); P. Walsh (De La Salle) and M. White (Dunhill); R. Ryan (Geraldines); F. Ryan (Brickeys); M. Guiry (Kil); N. Dalton (De La Salle); T. McGrath (Kil); J. Whyte (Kilrossanty).

Footballers travel to Clare

THE County footballers, who won out divisional honours for the first time twelve months ago, commence their defence of the title in far-away Kilkee on Sunday next.

And a tough proposition they face, for Clare, who provide the opposition, have named what is regarded as the most formidable fifteen to wear the saffron and blue for many a long day.

Just how capable this Rannoch county side is is reflected by the failure of men of the accomplishment of Fran Meaney, Jimmy O'Neill and T. Griffin to earn recognition. As three, hitherto regarded as automatic selections are listed amongst the substitutes.

Waterford's mentors—Paul Lannon, of Dungarvan; Paddy Fitzgerald, of Kill Nicky Power of Dunhill, and De La Salle's Basilus Power and Tom Fitzgerald—have named a fairly useful side.

The defence, to which Tom Cunningham returns after a long enforced lay-off, had a particularly stout appearance. Denis Corcoran, of De La Salle is in the top flight of goalkeepers, and he is flanked by an experienced, uncompromising duo in Sean Roche and Kilrossanty's Mick Prendergast. One wonders, though, if Pender, who has played magnificently throughout the year, would be more advantageously placed on the fringe of the "square."

The halves, too, have a formidable appearance. Tom Cunningham is very rightly regarded as a better footballer than he is a hurler, and Seamus Power is almost as effective, while evergreen Jimmy Power has enjoyed more than twice the average man's success at club and county level. As to the case of the inner line, however, one is apt to question the actual placings, the feeling being that Power, Cunningham, Power and Pender would play to better effect.

BIG DELAY

The delay in finding a date for the fixture will not be to the advantage of a side whose resources are so widely distributed and it is scarcely reasonable to anticipate their state of fitness being on par with that of the Cappoquin men, who should be in pretty first-class trim as a result of their hurling exploits.

Cappoquin are probably the fastest side playing in either code within the county. They are no mean footballers to boot, a fact that makes Rovers task all the more difficult. All in all, it is a most intriguing clash.

Ballyduff await the winners, ready and eager to dispute their passage to the divisional final, at which stage Ardmore, who have already qualified in right convincing fashion, will provide the opposition.

THE ALL-IRELAND REPLAY

(Air to Master McGrath) The fourth of October was the date of the year. When Waterford and Kilkenny once again did appear, in the All-Ireland replay, they marched to the fray, and Waterford took the honours of that glorious day.

The game started off with excitement galore, and in less than a minute Kilkenny did score. Both teams settled down and they played gallantly. When a bullet shook the net by that famous Mick Flannelly.

Oh! but loud were the cheers as each hurley sparked fire, and there goes a point by Billy Dwyer, and on went the game 'twas the match of the year.

Each man played his part without flutter or fear. Soon after the restart Waterford increased their lead, Kilkenny fought back but failed to proceed.

And close to the finish of that game of renown. The honour and glory went to famed Waterford town.

Here's a health then to Waterford the champions again, We must congratulate them on their very fine win; Each man in the team is a great star of the game, So three cheers to Waterford and long live their name.

Ned Power in the goal made some brilliant saves, and the wonderful baseline put Kilkenny to shame. The victory was laid by mid-fielders Power and Grimes, and the forwards' onslaught with their goals and their points.

Then back to the 'cats' we must turn and say, You've all done your part on this very fine day, Though Kilkenny were beaten, we can certainly say, They're in with the champions in a very big way.
